TEEN-AGERS' COURAGE FOILS GUNMAN

CATCHING CRIMINALS OR TROUT is all one to Police Constable Louis Rodregue, Left, who spins a fishing tale to sexton Dick Ford on St. John's Church grounds. The eight beauties they are talking about were taken during two evenings of fishing "somewhere in Haliburton." Sgt. Detective Bud Clarke was PC Rodregue's fishing partner and the latter, admitting he originally comes from Haliburton, proves that he knows some of the better fishing spots. —Examiner Staff Photo

Buffalo Girl Describes Beach Murder

Wounded Boy Tricks Attacker, Grabs Gun Trio Escapes In Car

WELLAND, June 1 —(CP)— George J. Szendrey, 28, of Humberstone village today was committed for trial on a charge of murder.

Szendrey will be tried at the Fall Assizes slated to start here Sept. 12.

Szendrey is charged with the weiner roast murder of 18-year-old Harold Snetsky, Buffalo high school student at Pleasant Beach last May 15. Snetsky, Richard Joseph, 19, and two girl companions were accosted by an armed man who said he wanted the girls. Joseph was wounded in the shooting that followed.

First witnesses was Dr. Lorne Whitaker, St. Catharines pathologist, who said Sneztsky died of a large wound in his right forehead.

Geraldine Firoito, 18, Buffalo, said the group arrived at Pleasant Beach around 11 p.m. May 14 in a car owned by Joseph. They stayed about an hour and at 12.15 started towards the car.

Leaning Against Gate

"Dick Joseph and I walked ahead of Lydia Luisi and Harold Sneztsky. I started around the back of car and I looked up and saw this man leaning against the lodge gate. I went back to Dick Joseph and told him a man was there. Dick said not to get excited. We didn't say anything and the man didn't either."

"I was putting the radio in the car and I saw something long and glittering in his right hand. I thought it was a knife. I got off the running board and told Dick Joseph 'he has something in his hand.'

"The man came over and stood within two feet of Harold. The man raised his arm and shot. I saw flashes, Harold fell. He shot again. Dick shoved me behind the door. Lydia hid beneath the car. The man shot again and Dick fell. Three shots were fired in all. The third one hit Dick. There was hardly any interval between shots."

Refused Requests

"The man ran from where he was standing around the car to where I was hiding behind the door. I saw his shoes and felt something cold against my forehead. I thought it was a gun. I thought he was going to shoot me and I fell to the ground.

"Lydia got over to where Dick was lying and she was crying for Harold. The man walked around to where Lydia and Dick were. The man said 'Come with me' and Dick Joseph said 'No, leave her alone. We didn't do anything. Let us go. Why did you do it.'

"The man said again: 'Come with me.' I walked over. We asked him if we could go for a doctor. He said 'No.'

"I had a flashlight and saw Harold bleeding profusely.

"Dick asked the man if he would leave us alone. The man said no. He was in too much trouble already.

"I asked him if he knew how old Harold was. I said he's just 18 and you're letting him lie there and die. Harold was making a

Lowly Hockey Puck May Get New Look NHL Considers Changing To Orange Color

MONTREAL, June 1 (CP)—The National Hockey League annual meeting to-day considered orange-colored pucks.

Three samples were on hand. One had a large orange circle on both sides, another had ½-inch cross bars in orange and the third an orange centre and orange rim.

Although the present black puck can be seen plainly on the ice, orange was said to provide better visibility when the puck is in the air.

There was corridor gossip that to fit in with the visibility idea the present blue lines on the ice should be changed to red, and the centre red line made blue. Proponents said offsides could be called better at the defence red lines.

One rule-change suggestion was that the penalty shot imposed when a goalie is guilty of a serious infraction of the rules be replaced with a major penalty to one of his teammates.

Most Revolting Hearing Ever Presided At Judge Tells Asbestos Union

SHERBROOKE, Que., June 1—(CP)—The preliminary hearing of three Asbestos union officials ended today and Judge Irenee Lagarde of Montreal commented that he had "never presided at such a revolting hearing as this one." The three were ordered to stand trial at the next fall assizes of Court of King's Bench. The Judge also ordered three additional charges laid in addition to those of conspiring to incite illegal assembly and of resisting police.

Judge Lagarde fixed property bail at $10,000 for Rene Roch of Montreal, a union organizer. Bail of $2,000 each was continued for Rodolphe Hamel, president of the Federation of Asbestos workers, and Armand Larivee, head of the Miners' Syndicate in Asbestos, Que., scene of a riotous outbreak the strike of 5,000 Asbestos workearly in May in connection with ers.

Judge Lagarde said the evidence heard was sufficient to send the ment to trial on these additional charges, which he formally ordered laid:

Conspiracy to intimidate, assault on the persons of officers, carrying illegal weapons which could become dangerous to the public.

"The violence which flared was directed not only against the laws of the province but also in defiance of the federal law, Judge Largarde said.

"Not only were representatives of authority molested and disarmed but they were beaten and imprisoned in a manner which is completely revolting."

Judge Lagarde complimented provincial police on their conduct at Asbestos.

"These men were wise in not resisting and in not using their arms during this rebellion. If, as they had the right to do, they had made use of their weapons, what would have happened? There might have been bloodshed and sad consequences for many, particularly the little man who sometimes suffers for those who are behind the scenes pushing him on.

"In addition to the criminal law which says picketing should be peaceful, there is also the declaration of the rights of man, which says that every man is free to work when and where he wishes. This law exists not only here but in all peaceful countries and those who brought about this present situation have done a very sorry piece of work."

Steel Shortage Ended For Canadians

By HAROLD MORRISON.

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP)—The steel scarcity in Canada is over.

Trade officials said today steel bottlenecks, which held up home construction, shipbuilding and Hydro development, are a thing of the past.

For the first time in the postwar period, Canadian fabricators can get all the steel they need—without permits.

The break came as a surprise to Canada where stringent control has been kept over the flow of steel from the United States and allocation to Canadian industry.

It started with a softening in demand in the US and trickling indications came more than a month ago that Canada could get as much steel from the US as she wanted.

Now American steel is flowing into Canada at the rate of about 100,000 tons a month. Canadian producers, however, still are working at peak capacity.

There is no slide expected in the Canadian steel price picture, this year at least. Canada still is producing her 3,200,000 ingot tons a year.

But across the border the picture is not as bright and trade officials believe that it may prove an indicator to the Canadian price level within the next 12 months.

While demand in the US is slackening, it is still keeping up in Canada. Many fabricators still are working on a backlog of orders. Hydro and petroleum development is continuing at a high level and such developments mean continual orders for more steel.

However, shipbuilding and rolling stock for railways appear to be falling off. Railways are looking for another boost in freight rates before they put more money into new equipment.

Should a slight falling-off of Canadian demand develop, all Canada would have to do is stop buying American steel, while the chimneys of Canadian mills still would be puffing some.

Immediate Dismissal Urged By Windsor Judge Of Hospital Business Chief

Cannot Condemn Him Too Strongly For Acts At Detroit Ball, Court Told, Blast Comes As Surprise As Inquiry Ends

WINDSOR, June 1—(CP)—Immediate dismissal of Horace Atkin as business superintendent of Metropolitan General Hospital was recommended today by Judge Eric Cross as evidence in a Royal Commission probe into affairs of the hospital concluded. Actions of Mr. Atkin at a ball in Detroit Feb. 18 "reflected unfavorably" and "I cannot condemn him too strongly" Judge Cross said.

Judge Cross' blast at Mr. Atkin came as a surprise. It was previously announced by commission counsel George Mitchell that hearings would be adjourned today until possibly the middle of this month during which time written testimony would be considered. Formal recommendations were expected at that time.

Mr. Atkin has been under fire during the nine days of evidence 30 witnesses gave before Judge Cross, one-man Ontario Royal Commission.

Nurses testified Mr. Atkin and other prominent Windsor men accompanied them to a press photographer's ball in Detroit. Other nurses said Mr. Atkin tried to date them on numerous occasions.

Establishment of facts that there was a party in Detroit to which Mr. Atkin had invited nurses led Judge Cross to make his dismissal recommendation

Quite Improper

It is evident that Mr. Atkin invited four nurses to accompany him and certain others to a press photographers' ball in Detroit," he said.

"These nurses were invited to go unchaperoned with married men. According to evidence they went to a bedroom and later to a hotel suite from which they made frequent excursions to and from the ballroom."

Judge Cross said the evidence failed to disclose any improper conduct but "it placed everyone in a position where criticism could arise."

Nurses identified (on a Royal Commission ruling) as Miss D, E, F, and I testified Atkin asked them for dates at various times.

"This was denied by Mr. Atkin but his denial lacked conviction," Judge Cross said. "On the other hand I am bound to say the evidence of these nurses had the ring of truth."

Judge Cross commended the nurses "for having the courage to come forward and tell what they believe is the truth."

Kidnaps Baby, Threatens Stab Policemen

MONTREAL, June 1 (CP) — Gordon Holden, 28, was taken to police cells Tuesday night after he kidnapped his 17-months-old baby from his estranged wife's home and threatened to kill the child with a dagger if police attempted to enter his one-room flat.

He faces arraignment on charges of disturbing the peace and threatening police with a dagger and an open-razor.

Police reported Holden and his 26-year-old wife, who has been living with her parents in suburban Verdun since they separated two years ago, were not legally separated. No charge of kidnapping is expected to be laid against him.

Police said Holden visited his wife's home Tuesday night and asked to take the baby, Wayne, in his arms.

Then he suddenly ran out of the house and escaped in a waiting taxicab, taking the child with him.

Police found him locked up in his rooming house and said he refused to allow them to enter.

When police pounded on the door, he is reported to have yelled "If you come in here, I'll kill this baby and use the razor and this dagger on you too."

Police entered the room with a pass-key.

The razor was found on the top of a bureau while the dagger was found planted in the door.

Canada Protests Treaty Violation

OTTAWA, June 1 — (CP). — Canada and other Commonwealth countries have joined with the United Kingdom in further protests to the governments of Hungary and Romania on violations of peace treaty pledges to ensure religious and other freedoms for their population.

It was the second protest delivered to the two iron-curtain countries and noted that replies received to a protest made April 2 were "highly unsatisfactory, and did not answer the charges made."

The protests followed the imprisonment of Cardinal Mindszenty and the Lutheran Bishop in Hungary.

Since Canada has no diplomatic representatives in these countries, she "associated herself" with protests made by the United Kingdom. Also associated were Australia and New Zealand.

Wheat Board To Market Coarse Grains

OTTAWA, June 1 — (CP). — The Trade Department to-day announced the marketing of oats and barley will be undertaken by the Canadian Wheat Board August 1, a move which may eventually eliminate speculation on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

An agricultural official said that the entry of the board into the business of buying and selling coarse grains is expected to have a "stabilizing" effect on the prices which may help the farmer obtain greater security.

There was no immediate indication how the Wheat Board will go about marketing arrangements. An official said it may either take over complete handling of coarse grains or may simply enter into the business of buying and selling, along with the exchange.

If the marketing of coarse grains is taken away from the Exchange, it will mean that the men in the pits will be able to trade only in rye and flaxseed—two commodities already in surplus.

The Wheat Board was established in 1935, when it started buying and selling wheat along with the Grain Exchange. In 1943, when the price of wheat was frozen by the government, the board took over the complete marketing and the Exchange found its business diminishing.

Crack Down On Drug Ring 8 Arrested In Big Raids

VANCOUVER, June 1—(CP)—The R.C.M.P. said Tuesday night it has carried out its most extensive crackdowns on illicit narcotics combines and has made five arrests in Vancouver A statement said six months' investigation was climaxed Tuesday with surprise raids here and in Toronto and Hamilton. At least three more arests are expected in Vancouver.

The R.C.M.P. said all eight arrested Tuesday have been charged with conspiring, combining and confederating to distribute heroin to persons unknown.

Charged in Vancouver in the widespread investigation led by Cpl. Joe Atherton are: Mike Cushman, Benny Ugar, Nick Agostino, John Smokler and Harry Pearl. The latter two are serving prison sentences for narcotics convictions.

Cpl. Atherton said Frank Smokler and Carman Chiovitte were arrested and similarly charged Tuesday in Toronto. The eighth man, Dan Gasbarini was arrested in Hamilton.

Seizures of narcotics were made but their quantities were not unusually large.

At Toronto, Smokler, Chiovitte and Gasbarani were taken by air Tuesday night to Vancouver where they will be tried on charges of conspiracy to distribute narcotics.

CAN APPLY FOR MONEY

OTTAWA, (CP)—UK authorities announced they are ready for applications from Canadians who served in the Royal Navy and are eligible for prize money.

500,000 Gallons Lost In Oil Fire

OMAHA, June 1 (AP) — A roaring fire which had burned 500,000 gallons of oil today threatened to destroy still more at the Searle Petroleum Company here.

The fire started Tuesday afternoon when a blast of undetermined origin rocked the distributing and refining plant and sent a huge tank rocketing 50 feet in the air.

Explosions wrecked other tanks and made an inferno of the Company's storage yard. The 12th of 33 tanks in the yard began to blaze early today.

Weary, oil-blackened firemen abandoned efforts to control the fire in smaller tanks in the yard and concentrated on trying to keep the blaze from spreading to a huge 500,000 gallon tank.

H. A. Searle, head of the petroleum firm, estimated that from 500,000 to 675,000 gallons of oil had gone up in smoke.

Lee Huff, Omaha municipal airport manager, who was flying over when one of the tanks exploded, said flames leaped to the level of his plane at 1,200 feet.

Student Saves Man 94 In Fire

SUDBURY, Jnue 1— (CP). — One of the oldest residents of Azilda, a village 10 miles from here, George Marier, aged about 94, almost lost his life in a fire which destroyed his farm home Tuesday afternoon. A 17-year-old boy is credited with getting the aged farmer out of his upstairs bedroom before the log house collapsed.

The boy, Norman Gauthier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Gauthier, operators of a general store in Azilda, was playing in the yard at St. Mary's Separate School, several hundred feet away from the farm house, when he noticed the building on fire.

Accompanied by his teacher, Tyne Castonguary, and other students, he rushed to the house and went upstairs for Marier eH helped him out of his room and down the stairs. With the assistance of the teacher, they managed to get the badly frightened man out of his burning home. Marier suffered burns to his forehead and cheek.

Marier's son, Palma, and a daughter Eva were downstairs when the fire started. Both in ill-health, they also were assisted out of he building.

Discuss Secret Session

PARIS, June 1—(AP)—The three western foreign ministers met again today to discuss their diplomatic campaign against Russia in the Foreign Ministers Council.

The three western ministers conferred for about 75 minutes. It was understood that one of the questions discussed was whether the four-power council should go into 'restricted' session.

Eel With Port Hole Caught By Angler

RIDGEWOOD, NJ, June 1 (AP) —A fisherman on the Saddle river here pulled in something out of this world last night.

The beast is about 16 inches long, vaguely resembles an eel, and has a row of portholes on each side, like a new automobile.

It has a hole on top of its head, too, and spouts water. The mouth is verticle, shaped like a buttonhole, and opens like the pages of a book, to each side.

To prove his fish story, Navy veteran Robert Dunnenberger has the thing contentedly and phlegmatically swimming around in a tub of water at home.

Local salt and fresh water fishing experts examined the "eel" and declared it genuine, if heretofore unknown to them. Attempts to reach an expert at New York's Bronx Zoo were unsuccessful.

Manitoba Asks Freight Rate Be Equalized With East

WINNIPEG, June 1 (CP) — Removal of freight-rate inequalities between western and eastern Canada was urged by Manitoba today in the opening public submission to the Royal Commission on national transportation.

Premier D. L. Campbell of Manitoba presented to the three-man body a list of prairie grievances and proposed remedies as the Commissioners opened a five-week western swing touching off a far-ranging inquiry expected to last more than a year.

To the Commission charged with looking into every phase of transportation under Dominion jurisdiction Premier Campbell submitted:

1. Western Canada is at a disadvantage because its average level of freight rates is higher than in the east, and this disadvantage should be eliminated.

2. Tighter regulation should be imposed on the railways in rate-setting.

3. Certain "transcontinental" rates, claimed by the Premier to give an unjustified advantage to shippers on Canada's two coasts, should be hoisted or eliminated altogether.

Another proposal of the Premier was that the Hudson Bay Railway a short-rail-haul outlet for western grain and other products by way of Churchill, Man., should be developed to the maximum.

From here the Commission goes to Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Victoria, Vancouver, Port Arthur and Fort William before moving into the Maritimes, Newfoundland and later Ontario and Quebec.

Berlin Rail Strikers Vote On Russ Offer

BERLIN, June 1 (AP)—Leaders of the Berlin railway strike said today the 12,000 strikers will hold a vote on a Russian compromise offer—but added they expected the men to reject it.

The vote on whether to end the 12-day walkout by accepting an offer by the Russian-controlled railway management to give the men 60 per cent of their wages in west marks will be held Thursday.

Strike leaders said they expected the offer to be rejected but they wanted to be certain they had the support of all the strikers in their adamant refusal to accept anything less than their full demands—100 per cent of their wages in west marks, reinstatement of men fired for political reasons and recognition of the union.

Four Countries Prepared To Recognize Chinese Reds

NANKING, June 1 (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today most countries—including Britain, France, Russia and India—favor recognition of the Chinese Communists when their new National government is set up.

United States officials here, these sources said, are urging that recognition be used for bargaining with the Communists for better treatment of non-Soviet interests. The United States has less immediate need for formal relations than Britain, France and India.

The western powers are in contact on recognition of the Red Chinese regime and probably will work together. But Britain and France are likely to act sooner if the United States delays too long after the Reds establish an eligible government.

France's prime concern is Indo-China.

Chinese Red armies soon will reach the Indo-China border. The French need a Chinese government to protest to if either troops or war material begin crossing this border to aid Communist-led Vietnamese Nationalists. The Viet-namese have been fighting the French since the last war ended.

Britain is eager to do business with the Chinese Communists.

The British Crown Colony of Hong Kong depends upon trade with the Chinese mainland. Hong Kong shipping already is calling on north China ports. British business men are well ahead in the scramble for trade.

Commercial interests could be served through de facto recognition. But the Communists have carefully avoided the customary de facto recognition of consulates —something the western powers obviously desire.

Talks Bogging Down On Return Of Sloop

SHANGHAI, June 1 (AP) — British naval sources said today negotiations for the release of the sloop Amethyst from Communist-held Yantze river waters had bogged down.

The sloop was damaged last month in a two-day battle with Chinese Communist shore guns between Shanghai and Nanking. Some 44 British sailors aboard the Amethyst and three other British ships, including the cruiser London, were killed in the running battle.

It is not known here whether the Communists near the grounded sloop had the authority to release her. British sources said Communists in the area had been demanding reparations on behalf of the families of 254 Red casualties of the battle. The Reds claim the British fired first.

Believe Marshall Plan Aid Still Insufficient Farmers Told At Guelph

Agriculture Facing Difficult Period
Buyers Market Arrives
Fear It May Undermine World Economy

By CAMERON JAMES

GUELPH, June 1—(CP)—A spokesman for United States farmers' organizations said today that isolationism is dead. James G. Patton, of Denver, Colo., president of the powerful National Farmers Union, told delegates to the Third International Federation of Agricultural Producers' Conference here that aid already given the world by the United States is not enough.

He said America's four greatest farm organizations—The American Farm Bureau Federation, The National Council of Farmer Co-operatives, The National Grange and his own body—would support still greater aid.

Earlier Sir James Turner, head of the National Farmers' Union of Great Britain and president of the I.F.A.P., warned that a difficult period for agriculture was approaching.

The buyers market has arrived, Sir James said. If it should develop to the point where it undermines world recovery, the effect on all trade and employment would be disastrous.

Mr. Patton said the program of the United States government for European recovery "now seems to us to be far too limited."

It was necessary to supplement it increasingly by private capital and by other resources, perhaps including the international bank.

Some observers interpreted the declaration to mean that any objections to ECA off-shore purchases of Canadian wheat for Britain would be eliminated.

"To members from others nations who sometimes may be misled by sensational newspaper headlines in our country, or who may be puzzled by official actions, we say there is no doubt whatever that the rank and file of the American people are deeply committed to the ways of peace," he said.

"The United States has turned away from isolationism for good and all," Mr. Patton declared. "It understands full well that it has acquired the responsibilities that go with its tremendous concentration of economic power."

Raise In Pay Too Big Court Rules Illegal

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—A wage increase bigger than a labor union demanded was declared illegal Tuesday by the United States Supreme Court because the employer failed to notify the union of the raise.

The court ruled unanimously that when an employer is negotiating with a union on an increase, he cannot grant a general increase without consulting the union, under the National Labor Relations Act. The act guarantees the right of collective bargaining.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Get To Root Of Root Trouble!

Are you planning to build this year? Or making property improvements such as an underground sewer line? If so, make sure you buy a sewer pipe that has tight joints. If the joints aren't tight, tree roots may force their way into the pipe and clog it.

Johns - Manville Transite House Connection Pipe was specially designed to avoid this trouble. It has a factory-made "Taper-Tite" joint which keeps roots out. Made of asbestos and cement, Transite is tough and strong—yet light and easy to handle. Long ten-foot lengths make it easy to lay—with minimum disturbance to property. Wheel On Spree Smashes House

BELLEVILLE, June 1—A free-wheeling wheel that parted company with its truck on No. 2 Highway, six miles west of here, did this Tuesday:

Ripped out four guard rails.

Bounded off a cement culvert and took to the fields.

Leaped twice and whammed into the house of Mrs. A. Henderson.

Smashed in a window sash and caved in a part of the frame dwelling.

Sent a buffet clattering across a room inside, spilling Mrs. Henderson's best chinaware as it went.

Ricocheted off the house and came to rest in a lilac bush.

Wakened at 5.30 by the noise and the shaking of the house, Mrs. Henderson at first believed her home had been hit by an aeroplane.

"Had the truck wheel bounced three feet higher," she said later, it would have landed in my bedroom window."

Firming Tendencies Appear On Markets

TORONTO, June 1 (CP) — Firming tendencies appeared as the session progressed here today. Activity tended to slacken as many issues began a slow recovery movement. Industrials continued to show a slight easier tone while junior gold producers made the best recovery. Base metals were tighter.

Industrials opened on a continuation of Tuesday's sharp break but firmed as buying support slowly entered the market. Many early fractional losses were reduced and gains began to appear, especially in the paper list. Several issues touched new lows at the opening.

Today's slight firmness halted the six successive sessions of declining prices. Changes were held to fractions in the industrial board.

Gains in junior producers ranged up to about 15 cents while senior golds were quiet.

Consolidated Smelters, an early loser in base metals, climbed upwards in mid-session to show a mild gain. Waite Amulet was strongly ahead and Labrador, Pend Oreille and East Sullivan advanced.

Grade 8 Pupils Hear PCVS Ways, Means

Pupils of the Grade VIII's in the Public Cchools are being prepared this month for the change from Public School to High School. Starting today, Howard Mosbus, teacher at PCVS and head of the Vocational Guidance Department, is making a tour of the public schools in the city telling the pupils of Grade VIII about the Collegiate. From June 1 to June 10 the pupils will visit the Collegiate.

Teachers of Vocational Guidance call this part of their program, the "orientation." Pupils about to enter the Collegiate are made acquainted with the organization and curriculum of the school system. Thus the department attempts to close the gap which has always seemed to exist between public school and high school.

Say Devaluation Of Dollar Election Issue

By The Canadian Press.

Prime Minister St. Laurent challenged George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, Tuesday night to make Mr. Drew's proposal for devaluation of the Canadian dollar the main issue of the campaign for Canada's June 27 general election.

In an address broadcast from Cornwall, the Prime Minister said the Liberals would like "nothing better" than to have the Progressive Conservatives take that step. Devaluation would hamper Anglo Canadian trade, boost the general cost of living and benefit those gold mines which needed help the least.

As Mr. St. Laurent swung into a tour of Eastern Ontario, Mr. Drew concentrated his election ammunition on the Pacific coast, speaking at New Westminster, B. C., while M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, reached the half-way mark of his Ontario campaign with two public addresses in Toronto.

Mr. St. Laurent campaigned in southwestern Ontario today after a day in eastern Ontario which saw him greeted both in a Roman Catholic Church and by kilted Highland pipers. He appears in Guelph, Owen Sound and a number of smaller communities today. Tuesday he spoke in Casselman's Church, in Alexandria and Cornwall and six other towns and villages.

Tuesday night he told a capacity crowd that George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, has indicated he will try to expand Canadian markets in Britain by devaluation of the Canadian dollar.

Difficult Task

Mr. St. Laurent said devaluation would "make it harder than ever for us to buy British goods, and it would be harder than ever for the British people to get dollars to pay for our farm products."

Devaluation would hurt the farmer, raise the general cost of living and aid these gold mines which need help the least. The Liberal party "would like nothing better than to have the Conservatives come out openly and make devaluation the main issue in this election."

Mr. St. Laurent noted that Mr. Drew had promised to promote the St. Lawrence seaway if his party formed a government. He said the Liberals have pressed Washington steadily for a joint navigation and power project and has even gone so far as to say it will back the power project alone if the dual program doesn't get Washington's approval.

Mr. St. Laurent said "the tax cuts contained in the recent budget—they were not passed before dissolution of parliament—"will be quickly approved" by the new parliament.

Forget Responsibilities

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader charged Tuesday night that the Liberal party has "abdicated its responsibilities" and said that Liberal cabinet ministers are evading issues developing in the general election campaign.

Addressing two CCF rallies in this city, he said Liberal promises are "not worth the paper they are written on" and accused Liberal candidates of making promises which contradicted each other.

He cited Liberal promises of consumer prices at 1941 rates, national health insurance, homes at $9.58 a month and old-age pensions at 65 without a means test, and said none of these promises has been fulfilled.

"Promises are being made once more," he added, "but in each case they are being made by some one who has no responsibility in the matter while the Minister who is responsible hides his light under a bushel of constitutional difficulties."

No Coalition

The Progressive Conservative party will not coalesce with any political party if it fails to win a majority in the June 27th federal election, George Drew said Tuesday night.

In an address at New Westminster, B.C., on the second day of his British Columbia campaign, the Progressive Conservative leader said he is leading a fight for return to responsible government and real democracy, and that "there is no compromise in that right."

At a Vancouver rally Tuesday night Mr. Drew called for free nations of the world to trade among themselves.

He deplored the fact that current exchange problems had led some free countries to trade with countries behind the Iron Curtain, and said:

"Canada is anxious to trade with all nations, but I think we should make it clear that we will deal with those countries... When they are prepared not to undermine our economic strength."

He said the Liberal government had imposed restraints on trade "such as no party had dared impose in the past."

Canada had lost $67,000,000 worth of trade to Britain, while Britain has increased trade with Russia.

Mr. Drew reiterated his stand that a government under his leadership would take steps to make the dollar and the pound convertible, enabling Canada to regain lost markets and expand present ones.

Tied To Painter Cottager Saved As Boat Upset

The summer cottage of Arthur Chartren, Water St., near Crowe's Landing, will have to remain in a state of disrepair a little longer. And after Mr. Chartren's recent adventure who can blame him for the delay?

His cottage is on an island in Stony Lake about two miles from Crowe's Landing. On Saturday night he loaded his hammer, saw and other repair equipment, as well as week-end camping gear, into his boat at Crowe's Landing and started off for the cottage.

The heavy weight of the boat-load together with the vibration of the motor are believed to have combined to cause the substantial leak in the stern of the craft. Water poured in, the boat began to sink, and Mr. Chartren realizing he was about three quarters of a mile from shore began to shout for help.

Finally the boat capsized spilling its heavy contents but it remained buoyant, in a semi-submerged condition. Mr. Chartren took no chances of drowning and tied himself to the painter of the craft. He continued to shout for assistance.

Leonard Whetung, 30, of Crowe's Landing heard his cries and together with his brother Don, 21, who runs a water taxi business there, set out for the scene of the mishap.

They found him still tied to the painter and calm and collected after his half-hour stay in the water.

"I think he was more calm than we were," commented Don Whetung. A canoeist had reached the overturned boat first but was at a loss to know what aid he could give.

Mr. Chartren was lifted into the Whetung boat and taken to their residence, where Leonard gave him a change of dry clothes. Then he got into his car and drove home.

Meanwhile the repairs can wait till Mr. Chartren acquires a new boat and some new tools.

PC Candidate Quits In Quebec

MONTREAL, June 1 (CP) — Terming the Progressive Conservative campaign in Quebec against Prime Minister St. Laurent 'cheap and revolting," Jean-Paul Chauvin Tuesday withdrew as Progressive Conservative candidate in Montreal Hochelaga constituency in the June 27 general election.

He said in a statement that he was withdrawing because he disapproved of recent dealings between leaders of his party and Premier Duplessis' Union Nationale party.

Several other Progressive Conservative candidates in Quebec have withdrawn since the campaign got under way. Donat Potvin retired in Lotbiniere constituency in favor of J. Emile Rousseau and J. A. Marquis withdrew in Quebec West in favor of E. Paquette.

Progressive Conservative party spokesmen said Mr. Potvin and Mr. Marquis never were official candidates and nominated themselves before the party's regular machinery was set up.

New Dutch Folk Admire Our Ways, Except Drinking

Acceptance of liquor and beer drinking as a normal social habit is something which Canadians have not mastered as well as Europeans, thinks Yan Pieter Moes, 307 Pearl Ave. Mr. Moes came from Holland to settle in Peterborough 18 months ago. "In Paris people can drink wine morning, noon and night without any unseemly behaviour, but in Canada there seems to be no happy medium between prohibition and drunkenness," Mr. Moes says. "As one Canadian put it, we are not yet educated to drinking." Mr. Moes said in a discussion on social habits in Canada and Europe.

Mr. Moes is no harsh critic of Canada or Canadians, but one of the problems which this country must overcome, he thinks, is to learn how to take a drink without resorting to drunkenness.

If liquor laws were less restrictive, drinking would probably take its place in society here just as it does in Europe, he thinks, without unseemingly behavior.

Admires Enthusiasm

In spite of this observation, Mr. Moes is a strong advocate of many Canadain customs. The energy and enthusiasm with which Canadian are building up their own cultural and social life while developing the material resources of the country at the same time, is the most refreshing aspect of Canada for Mr. and Mrs. Moes.

Glowing accounts of life in this country sent home to Holland by the Dutch couple have lured Mr. Moes' parents here for a six weeks holiday in Peterborough, Hamilton and New York.

Only 10 days after their arrival in Canada Mr. and Mrs. Moes Sr. are full of admiration, not only for the magnificence and beauty of the country, but also for the Canadian people.

"You get a feeling of being in a young country, where the people are still working energetically to make their own history," Mrs. Moes Sr. said when asked about her impressions on her first visit to the American continent.

Schools Compared

Mr. and Mrs. Moes Jr., who have two young children, think highly of the education system of Canada. "The school curriculum embraces so many aspects of life," they said, "and covers a much wide field than most European schools."

Mr. Moes Jr. is full of admiration for the encouragement given to young musical aspirants. "It is a very good thing to have young musicians broadcast on the radio as they do so frequently here," he said. "Music is still very young in Canada, but they are going the right way to establish their own national school," he thought.

Like all newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Moes Sr. are greatly impressed by the vastness of the country and are elated by the beauty of the lakes. "We have plenty of water in Holland" Mrs. Moes said, "but lack the beauty of the hills.

The absence of large numbers of cyclists on the roads is a contrast from the Dutch scene, where "everybody rides a bicycle".

Mrs. Moes thinks Canadian women are industrious in their homes. Houses are kept so clean and tidy and the women prepare their meals attractively. She is also thrilled with the beautiful dresses worn by Canadian women terrible sound. I convinced him he should let me see Harold.

"I got behind the man and was going to hit him with the flash light when he turned. He told Lydia and I to come with him to the lodge. Dick insisted on coming and Lydia and I on either side of Dick. Dick kept putting his weight on us so we couldn't walk too fast.

Grabs Gun

"We came to a fence and asked the man if he would lift the cable. As he did this, Dick grabbed the gun and shot twice. The man ran over a sand dune.

"We got to the car. Dick was trying to steer with one hand, holding the gun in his right hand. I took the gun and tried to shoot but the gun wouldn't work. When I turned the flashlight on Harold I flashed it across the man's face. He was that man sitting there.

She pointed to Szendrey and said there was no doubt he was the man.

"I had the gun in the car as we drove up the road. We got to a farmhouse and knocked on the door. The farmer (Claud Sider) took the gun out of my hand and put it on a shelf. He helped Dick from the car and called police.

Dr. E. A. MacKenzie, Port Colborne, said he was called to the Sider farmhouse at Pleasant Beach around 2.30 a.m. He picked up the two girls and a Provincial police officer and drove to the Beach. Snetsky was unconscious, with a bad wound in the head. "He was doomed from the moment he was shot," the doctor said. He died around 5 a.m.

Find Baby's Body

OAKVILLE, June 1 (CP) —The body of a newly-born baby was found Tuesday under the Bronte bridge on the Queen Elizabeth Way here by George Stewart, a truck driver. Police said the body was in a sack placed in a cardboard box and hidden under a raincoat.

Father, Child Die In Flames

DIXIE, Ont., June 1—(CP)—William Belford, 26, and his four-year-old daughter Sharon were burned to death Tuesday when fire destroyed their home here, 10 miles west of Toronto. Belford's two sons, Ronald and Melville were severely burned but Mrs. Belford and the baby, Nancy, three weeks, escaped unhurt.

The boys were taken to hospital and operated upon today. Ronald, the most seriously injured, is almost encased in bandaged. Doctors used the new "aluminium foil" treatment on his burns. Melville, burned about the arms and head is reported able to sit up.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than two hours before they were able to look for the bodies. Belford was burned to death when he ran back into the flaming house to rescue his daughter Sharon. Their bodies were found in the kitchen.

Firemen said they were hampered in fighting the fire by lack of water. The well they were using went dry shortly after they arrived necessitating trips to a hydrant about a quarter of a mile away.

Can't Bring Son Out

TORONTO, June 1 (CP)—Phil Waddington, an auto mechanic who came here 18 months ago from England said Tuesday immigration "red tape" is keeping his six-year-old son, Nicky, from joining him. "I've done everything to co-operate with the Canadian immigration people, but they send me from one office to another to fill out forms," he said. Waddington and his wife applied to have Nicky sent over in January.

Call Up Troops To Quell Bolivian War

LA PAZ, Bolivia, June 1 (AP)—Reports reaching here today said the army was "in control of the situation" in Bolivia's strike-torn tin mine region, scene of bloody rioting for the last four days.

Army reservists from 19 to 50 were ordered mobilized Tuesday night as the cabinet met in emergency session to cope with what it calls a "state of civil war."

The government said the mobilization was justified by the gravity of the present situation in which striking tin miners have seized mine officials, including Americans, as hostages and fought bloody battles against troops sent to the area.

Two thousand dynamite-hurling miners Tuesday battled 200 roops for control of the Patino-owned Huanuni tin mines. The mining area is in the high Andes, about 200 miles southeast of La Paz.

The government previously had decreed a state of siege, suspending normal civil rights for 90 days under semi-martial law.

Railroads throughout the embattled country meanwhile halted service, threatening a grave food shortage.

The government charged the violence, which broke out over the week-end at the Patino group's Siglo Veinte mine, was inspired by a group which wanted to turn the strike into a full-fledged revolution. The government said both the Rightist National revolutionary movement and Communist elements were involved in the plan.

United Counties Council Defers Cash Requests

COBOURG, June 1 (ENS) — Yesterday was deputation day at Northumberland and Durham Counties Council June meeting with several groups on hand to speak on behalf of their requests for grants. The controversy was whether Concession No. 1 or No. 3 road in Percy Township should be taken into the counties road system. A deputation from Percy Township asked the Council to repeal the bylaw that had authorized No. 1 being taken into the system. Council decided to go out and look both roads over.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter, who is judge of the Family Court, presented a budget for $4,000 for the ensuing year. He pointed out that last year the budget was $3,300, but the counties granted $2,300. This year it would take $4,000 to operate the Family Court, and he expressed the hope that the Council would grant the full amount. This would be made up of $2,500 for the probation officer, H. D. Bigelow, $500 for Arthur Finnie, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, $200 for printing and clerical work and $900 for travelling expenses.

The request for tahe grant of $4,000 was referred to the finance commitee.

During the seven-month period ending March 31, 1949, 46 family cases were investigated and 18 juvenile cases. Of these, 12 family affairs cases and 11 juveniles were before the Family Court. In connection with family affairs, there were 441 visits and 225 juvenile visits, 327 interviews took place by letters, phone or office visits, 127 children were involved in the family cases, 33 in the juvenile cases, 4 children were admitted to the lodge, two went to the training school for indefinite stays.

Institute Asks Grant

A delegation from the Women's Institute of East Durham asked that the $25 grant be raised to $50 as the work and expenses of the organization were increasing. The request was referred to finance committee.

H. J. Brown of the National National Institute for the Blind addressed the Council. There had been a deficit for the past three years in Northumberland and Durham Counties due partly to increased costs of services. In 1948 the deficit had been $1,000 and this year it was expected to be greater. Accordingly a $500 increase in the grant was requested for this year.

Campbellford Hospital

Mayor H. Donald of Campbellford introduced the deputation from Campbellford seeking assistance in the cost of the new hospital there. The institution would accommodate 38 adult beds and was going to cost $229,000. There was the sum of $43,000 still to be raised and a further grant from the counties would be appreciated. In 1946 the Council granted the hospital fund the sum of $5,000. The request for further assistance was referred to the finance committee.

Charges Lack Of Co-operation By Provincial Police And Crown

COBOURG, June 1 (ENS) — Peterborough Provincial Police and Crown authorities at Cobourg had not co-operated with him in connection with his client Harry Ketchum, charged with assault, it was claimed by Emmett Sheehy, Peterborough barrister, in magistrate's court here yesterday. Mr. Sheehy is defending Harry Ketchum of Percy Township, who is charged with assaulting Provincial Constable D. E. Coffey of Peterborough.

Referring to a series of charges against Ketchum, Mr. Sheehy asserted that there was a "lack of co-operation from the police who apparently have a feud on with this man". Mr. Sheehy went on to say . . . "Ketchum was lodged in the Peterborough jail and later whisked away to Cobourg with no notification being made to me as counsel. He was in custody for over a month, though subsequent-

Rule Contract Legal Won't Upset Will

TORONTO, June 1 (CP)—Mr. Justice G. A. Gale ruled Tuesday that the Sick Children's Hospital here could enter into a contract with the Toronto General Hospital without contravening the will of the late John Ross Robertson.

Mr. Robertson, founder of the Telegram, left most of his estate to the hospital with the stipulation that the instituion be kept clear of domination by other establishments. The hospital asked to enter into a contract with general hospital for a supply of heat from a co-operative heating plant.

The heating plant, which supplies four Toronto hospitals, is expected to cut the annual fuel bill of the institutions by $70,000.

Playgrounds To Have Art Instructor

Stafford Collie has been employed by the Recreation Commission as the art specialist for the summer program in the supervised parks of the city. Mr. Collie has been studying art the last eight years. This year he was a student of the industrial design at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York. In 1947-48 Mr. Collie attended the Ontario College of Art in Toronto.

Beginning July 1 Mr. Collie will instruct on the eight supervised playgrounds. The program will last for ten weeks, a five-day week. He will be at each playground at least two times a week, three times on the larger playgrounds.

Jack Dane, recreation director, hopes to divide the children into age groups. Three groups will be formed and more if time allows. The age groups will be (a) up to seven years, (b) eight, nine and ten year olds, and (c), 12 and 13-year olds. Mr. Dane said no one is barred from taking the courses providing Mr. Collie has enough time.

Crafts and Clay

A fine arts program is being organized. Crafts will be gradually worked into the course. Mr. Dane said sketching would probably be first taught to the children. Then as they become more experienced they will be allowed to work in water colors. Designing will also be taught by Mr. Collie. For the younger classes courses will be held in plasticine and clay.

Mr. Dane said the children will be allowed to take their work home to show their parents. At the end of four weeks he plans to hold an exhibition of the work up to that point. At the end of the ten-week course a grand exhibition will be held, with prizes being awarded for the best work in the age groups. All materials for the course are being supplied by the Recreation Commission.

Eisler To Sue U.S.

PRAGUE, June 1 (Reuters)—Gerhart Eisler, German-born Communist who arrived here from London Tuesday after a British court turned down a United States application for his extradition, said today he will sue the United States government for $25,000. This would be an indemnity for bail forfeited when he left the United States, he said in an interview with the Communist paper Rude Pravo.

Garage Burglarized

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1 (ENS). — Entry was made through a rear window of Uptown Motors early Sunday morning and a small amount of cash, several truck and car keys, flashlights, tape, sunglasses and other small articles taken. The cash register was almost completely wrecked.

The owners discovered the break-in late Sunday afternoon. Chief Constable George H. Hardy is investigating.

Says War Taught Men Discipline

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1 — (ENS) — Rev. James Ritchie, Presbyterian minister in Warkworth, was guest speaker at the monthly luncheon of the Kinsmen Club. Introduced by the president, Dr. Bruce Brintnell, he told of his experiences while serving for 18 months in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Unlike other services, the padre had no particular rank. This was an advantage, stated Mr. Ritchie, because it made it easier to get closer to the men.

Problems at home such as unfaithful wives or financial difficulties hindered the war effort of the men of the sea.

Ports Temptation

Ports caused unpleasant problems, he said, because many men, yielding to temptation, looked to the padre for advice and guidance.

He attested to the general honesty of even the most humble seamen. "The tragedy of war has not been in vain," he concluded, "because it has taught men discipline and better fitted them for the hardships of life."

The date of the annual summer carnival was set for Thursday, July 14. A donation of $10 was made to the Salvation Army Red Shield campaign fund.

The speaker was thanked by Gordon Walroth.

At Alderville Indian School Formally Opened

ALDERVILLE, June 1 (ENS) —Less than one hundred years ago the Canadian Indians were referred to as primitive, but progress has made most of them self-supporting, declared Major D. M. Mackay, Director of the Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, at the official opening of the new school at Alderville yesterday.

He praised J. D. Loukes, the teacher, for the progress he had made. A number of years ago, the better elements of white society ostracized the Indians, but now there is much evidence of closer relations. In officially opening the new school, Mr. Mackay said, it was one of the best one-room Indian day schools he had ever seen.

Introduced By Pupil

Mr. Mackay was introduced by Herbert Beaver, a 13-year-old Indian boy, pupil of the school.

V. M. Eastwood, Indian agent, was chairman, and on behalf of the Mississauga Indians of Alnwick township, welcomed the guests.

Pupils Present Play

The program was under the supervision of the teacher, J. D. Loukes, with Mrs Norman Marsden as pianist. A playlet, "Playmates From Fairyland," was put on by the school pupils. Misses Roberta and Carol Smith, granddaughters of Chief and Mrs. Norman Marsden, danced the Highland Fling.

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare, spoke of the long, historic background of the Indians and said "we the white people, are the foreigners." He paid tribute to the loyalty the Indians exhibited in two world wars.

J. E Morris, supervisor of Indian agencies for Ontario, said this was the fifth new Indian school opened since last September. He paid tribute to Mr. Eastwood, Flex McMillan, contractor, and others.

Prominent Guests

Among the prominent guests present were: Major R. E. Drope, M.P., and Mrs. Drope, Harwood. Dr. D. E. Robertson and Mrs. Robertson, of Cobourg; A. A Martin, I.P.S. and Mrs. Martin of Brighton; Inspector of Schools W H. Carlton and Mrs. Carlton of Cobourg; Mrs Benson Grant, convener of the Homemakers' Clubs of Canada; Reeve O. J. Robins. Messrs. Fred Broadworth and Fred Murphy, representing Alnwick council; H. Sander and Mrs. Sander, of Coldsprings.

PARDON our pointing . . . with pride.

But it's an event when the number of bank workers passes the 40,000 mark — as it did last year. That's 65% more than before the war.

It's an event, first, because it shows the increased use of Canadian bank services . . .

More deposit accounts: now over seven million. More funds: customers' deposits now reach nearly seven billion dollars. More services: to farmers; to personal and small-business borrowers; to war pensioners; to people receiving Family Allowances.

It's an event, too, because of the kind of men and women who have joined our ranks. Eager to get ahead, they are finding in banking an interesting job, a challenging career. They can tell you how important privacy in banking is to the Canadian way of doing things.

The Real Extent Of Public Ownership

We have received a C.C.F. election pamphlet which contains the usual party charge that what we have in Canadian business is not free enterprise but "monopoly enterprise controlled by a few men—Canada's Fifty Big Shots". The pamphlet continues:

> Why should these men have such power? Why shouldn't ownership and control of our major Canadian assets be ours, through our democratically elected government?
> That's one thing that Socialization means: That we, the Canadian people, will have economic democracy as well as political democracy.

The plea ends: "We, the people, are the producers; we, the people, should get the benefits."

* * *

The truth is, of course, that there is already a degree of public ownership in Canada about which a majority of Canadians appear to know nothing. But business men, from the smallest storekeepers to the largest industrialists, know about it, for it affects them directly. Its official name is the Corporation Tax. It empowers the Dominion Government to take 10 per cent. of the gross profit of corporate business up to $10,000, and 33 per cent of the gross profit above that sum. What this tax means in effect, is that the government of Canada is a sleeping partner in every business in this country, taking a large share of the profits, but without any responsibility for management, and without any obligation to share business losses. In addition to this tax every business pays seven per cent. of its profits to the provincial government, pays a tax of $50 for operating a business, and pays a small capital tax, as well.

* * *

Where does the money from this taxation go? It goes to the Government of Canada, which uses it for its own purposes—that is to say, uses it in the service of the whole population, and sometimes returns it directly to the population in such forms as Family Allowances.

* * *

Could public ownership go further? Let us emphasize once again the fact that the people of Canada, through their government, are sharers in the profits of every business in this country, but are not called upon to make good any business losses. Does the C.C.F. think that by a nationalization of some big industries it could do better than that? We do not think that it could get a bigger slice with so little trouble. The present plan means, in effect, that a Canadian business of moderate size works approximately two days of a six-day week for the Canadian people, and not for its ostensible owners.

* * *

Profit is not by any means a large part of business operation. The following computation represents the approximate charges against every dollar a Canadian business of medium size makes; we think that thousands of retailers and manufacturers in Canada will find that these figures fit their business, with a few cents difference one way or another:

Wages	31 cents
Materials and Upkeep	43 "
Income Tax	11 "
Profit Before Taxation	15 "
	$1.00

And of the 15 cents of profit a considerable portion goes in the taxes that we have named above. Many businesses think themselves lucky if 5 cents out of the 15 remain as net profit.

* * *

Out of these profits some men grow well-to-do and a few become wealthy. They are the men who bear the heaviest responsibilities and who will feel the pinch most if losses take the place of profits. And they are the men whose ingenuity provides the millions of dollars in taxes which keep the country going and make it prosperous for everybody, and not merely for themselves. A few of them may become puffed up with their own importance, but no more, we think, than in any other class. "We, the people, are the producers", says the C.C.F. Yes, and among the biggest producers in the Canadian population are these men of business who produce so much of the money that keeps Canada going. The amount that they keep for themselves is a trifle compared to the amount which they provide for the use of their fellow citizens. We have, in Canada today, a very large measure of socialism, and The Examiner, for one, finds no fault with that. But we must impress it upon those whose socialism is of the airy and impractical kind that the employers and managers of this country are, to an extent which is but dimly realized, public servants, working for the good of everyone.

Garbage Pick-Up

The city's Sanitation Department has again given public notice of the regulations about garbage collection, and we hope that they will be heeded. But in these regulations, as in all else, common sense and discretion must be used.

We must face the fact, first of all, that the system of garbage collection used in Peterborough and in most other Ontario cities is unsatisfactory, insanitary, and nasty. To put refuse along the edges of the streets in pails, waiting for a cart to empty them, is to turn every street in the city into a back alley two days in every week. In better designed cities alleys are provided for this purpose. Eventually this system will have to be changed. In Brantford, by some magic which we do not understand, the garbage men are persuaded to pick up the cans from behind each house and replace them when they have been emptied. So far as we know, Brantford is the only city which provides this sensible, cleanly type of service. But in Peterborough the cans are set out, often the night before in case the collection should be early; they look ugly and often they smell ugly. Dogs root in them for tidbits, and schoolboys kick them over for fun. Very often the cans have no lids, and we see that the Sanitation Department says that lids must be provided; no doubt citizens will provide lids when the garbage carts are provided with the tarpaulins which, by city regulation, they are supposed to carry as covers for their load.

It is requested, also, that garbage should not be put out in cardboard cartons for collection; we cannot see that a carton full of garbage is worse than a carton which is put out, empty, to be taken away. We assume that citizens are considerate enough not to put cartons out in the rain, or to fill them with unwrapped and soppy refuse.

But what we really need is a gentleman's agreement between citizens and garbage collectors to make the best of our bad system until a better one replaces it.

Export Increase

Canada's export business is not bankrupt. In fact, despite the gloom in some quarters during the last two months when figures showed that there had been a decline, our export trade has increased this year to the end of April by $12,280,000. The increase was acounted for by a jump of 25½ million dollars in April's trading, which more than compensated for the slight declines in the first months of the year.

The increase was chiefly in wheat sales; nevertheless the new contracts which Mr. Howe, Minister of Trade, brought back with him from London last month point to brisker business in other commodities as well, for instance in lumber, salmon and flour. Export sales to the United States, through which Canada obtains the American dollars so much needed, increased only slightly. It is satisfying to know that there was an increase, and not a decrease.

Canada's export problems are not unique though they are perhaps more important to us than to some other countries because such a large part of our economy is dependent upon export markets. The problems are world-wide. There is a notable difference between the approach to them now and the way they were handled in the early 1930's. Today there is more sanity, less prejudice, and a greater general willingness to share rather than hog the markets, to free trade rather than tie it up in bilateral deals, to extend it rather than restrict it by high tariffs.

At the opening of the second Canadian International Trade Fair in Toronto on Monday, Mr. Charles Sawyer, U.S. Secretary of Comerce urged the reduction of trade barriers as well as a closer integration of Canadian and American economies. At Guelph on Tuesday (at the World Farmers' Conference) a British spokesman proposed a plan to extend international agreements to staples other than wheat. At the same conference the Indian delegate spoke of his country's desire to buy Canadian farm machinery.

It is through such mutual good will and sanity in trading methods that Canada and the world's trade will flourish.

A London Letter

From CONRAD FROST

"OH, bother the bomb!" said old Mrs. Hutson—and thereby, at the age of 79, became rather more than heroine of the week. Mrs. Hutson's Dagenham home was uncomfortably close to a 2,000 lb. German bomb with which the disposal squad were dealing. Undetonated Nazi bombs are still every week occurrences to the anti-bomb unit commanded by Major S. F. Knight. There are still a lot around, but they account for by no means all the explosions that are happening around here.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. Bevan, for instance has been having an explosive week. First the Norfolk Tories, organizing a fete at the euphoniously named village of Diss, planned an "Aunt Sally" sideshow called, for very obvious reasons, "Have A Bash At Bevan." Foreign Undersecretary Mayhew, a brick-dropper himself, flew from Geneva, to persuade the Tories not to be so unkind. Then Bevan found himself a cockshy for the people of Arundel, whose neat, fourteen bed cottage hospital, taken over by the Health Minister with a sound bank balance, is now to be closed.

"Oh, bother Mr. Bevan," old Mrs. Hutson might equally well have said.

THIS is, of course, the time of the year when the scars of war seem to heal over a little. Many of the city bomb sites are now being taken over temporarily by landscape gardeners and turned into show displays. In others, self seeded shrubs and trees, some eight years old, greenly screen the architectural intestines of buildings horribly exposed by the blitz bombers.

It all looks very innocent and even pleasant now, but the bombers still claim victims unexpectedly. High gales and heavy rain only today caused the collapse of a bombed out shop shell in Stratford, burying three passing women.

But these same rains, undermining the tottering walls and bringing them crashing down, have been generally welcomed. The farmers are delighted at a "wonderful night" which doubled the entire month's rainfall and which will increase the strawberry crop by half a ton to the acre. And at the Chelsea flower show, previewed by the Queen today, the rain freshened up "the best exhibition since pre-war days."

AS jealously secretive as Dior about his autumn fashions is the War Office, about to unveil a new walking out uniform for the Women's Royal Army Corps. It is green and glamorous, but not too saucy. First designs were scrapped by brass hats as being too musical comedy!

Nobody curbs the Nationalized railways from going gay and this week main line expresses streak across the country a speeding blur of crimson lake, cream and gold.

THE "Rainbow Special", crack Newhaven-Dieppe electric Express is pulling out of Victoria nightly packed with continent-bound holiday makers. Many are taking a dog with them, neatest new wangle to increase the £50 spending allowance. A cocker spaniel bought here for £8 fetches £30 in Paris.

A stay-at-home holiday suddenly in vogue is to charter a Thames cruiser. Seeking one this week-end, I visited all boat yards within twenty-five miles of London. The only boat not booked solid, I got as a gamble. Only the hull frame exists today. If it's finished it's mine, £30 a week, petrol allowance for 150 miles. (The non-tidal Thames is navigable for 124 miles.)

Rank unkindness!.... Oddest shortage: pins! Although the Export-Import gap jumps to £44,600,000 a month, Birmingham pin manufacturers have captured German's Middle and Far East markets, so 75 per cent. go for export.... Vanishing, too, are the tag days. With so much nationalized, London now has only 20 a year. A good day's yield: £12,000 .... 70,000 paid to see Gracie Fields during her eight night show at the Empress Hall, during which she got £6,500 plus a percentage on the takings. Night I saw her, Gracie cartwheeled twice, wisecracked: "Don't encourage me."

SIR Stafford Cripps, in 1945 before the last election: "We believe the land must be nationalized. We can never get our agriculture on the right lines until we have nationalized the land."

Mr. Tom Williams, Minister of Agriculture, in 1949 (just?) before the next election: "If the Socialist Government is returned to power at the next General Election, we pledge ourselves not to nationalize the land...."

Mr. Coldwell's Style

Having said something here about the respective radio styles of Mr. St. Laurent and Mrs. Drew, it is only fair that we should say a word about the radio style of Mr. Coldwell.

It is a very good style. Indeed if the people of Canada on June 27 were selecting a radio broadcaster instead of a Prime Minister we are inclined to think they would select Mr. Coldwell. Mr. St. Laurent has a chatty radio way with him, very pleasing and Mr. Drew has a fine voice and excellent diction. But Mr. Coldwell really has the microphone "know-how", talks to his air audience as though he were sitting down with them in the parlour. His chief weapon is plausibility; and we feel sure that had Mr. Coldwell not left school teaching to take up politics he could have left it to take up salesmanship and made a comfortable fortune.

Regarding what Mr. Coldwell said, that is another matter—Ottawa Journal.

"Not By Bread Alone"

(MONTREAL STAR)

DR. Cyril James' baccalaureate address to the graduating class of McGill yesterday was a plea for the pursuit and preservation of an ideal in human society as it has evolved into states with varying and often conflicting interests.

The speaker gave his audience a high ideal toward which to strive: a state maintaining its own conception of a civilization, preserving always the "just mean" between the reign of reason and the reign of force. Neither the one nor the other is alone capable of maintaining a civilization such as we believe contains within it the things worth preserving and passing on. As Dr. James well put it, "walls are the symbol of lost enthusiasm," but Dr. James would, we are sure, agree that a certain security which walls provide is essential to the preservation of much that we find most worth living for—and if necessary dying for—in any civilization, not only in our own. It is no doubt true that in the judgement of the centuries it was not Sparta but Athens which "won the war" but we shall never know what the loss to humanity has been because the "walls" of Athens were not stronger then.

But where the "wall" conception becomes most dangerous is when it is accepted by all men as the panacea for their survival. It is then only a question who can build the highest and thickest walls with the most and best sally-ports; the biggest bombs and the fastest planes to drop them from. Dr. James urges, and with him we are sure most thinking men and women will agree, that "the good, the beautiful and the true" cannot be given universal acceptance by disseminating them through the instrumentality of material conquest. "At this moment" — to quote the speaker "when our own civilization is faced by a crisis that may well determine its ability to survive, we dare not respond to that crisis with nothing more than larger planes and better bombs."

We must, Dr. James believes, return to a truer conception of spiritual values. We have become half blinded and almost wholly confused by our very successes in material achievement, and whatsoever runs counter to this has come to be counted retrogression among us. He does not find in the shibboleth of "more goods and less work" the right approach to the attainment of an ideal of human dignity upon which for a thousand years western civilization has been founded. His appeal to the young men and women who are leaving McGill today is equally valid far beyond its walls and to all those of riper years from whose hands these young men and women will take over and carry on the tasks and responsibilities of tomorrow.

Financing A Student

A father and his son home from college were hard at work putting in a new fence in the farm. A neighbouring farmer passing by with a load of feed, stopped and shouted: "Does it take a university education to dig post holes!"

Glancing admiringly at his son, the father shouted back: "No. But sometimes it takes digging post holes to get a university education."

Right now thousands of university students are knuckling down into a Summer of hard labour to enable them to finance their studies next Fall.—Summerside Journal.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake. (John 14: 8-11.)

I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit....

Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples. (John 15: 1, 2, 4-8.)

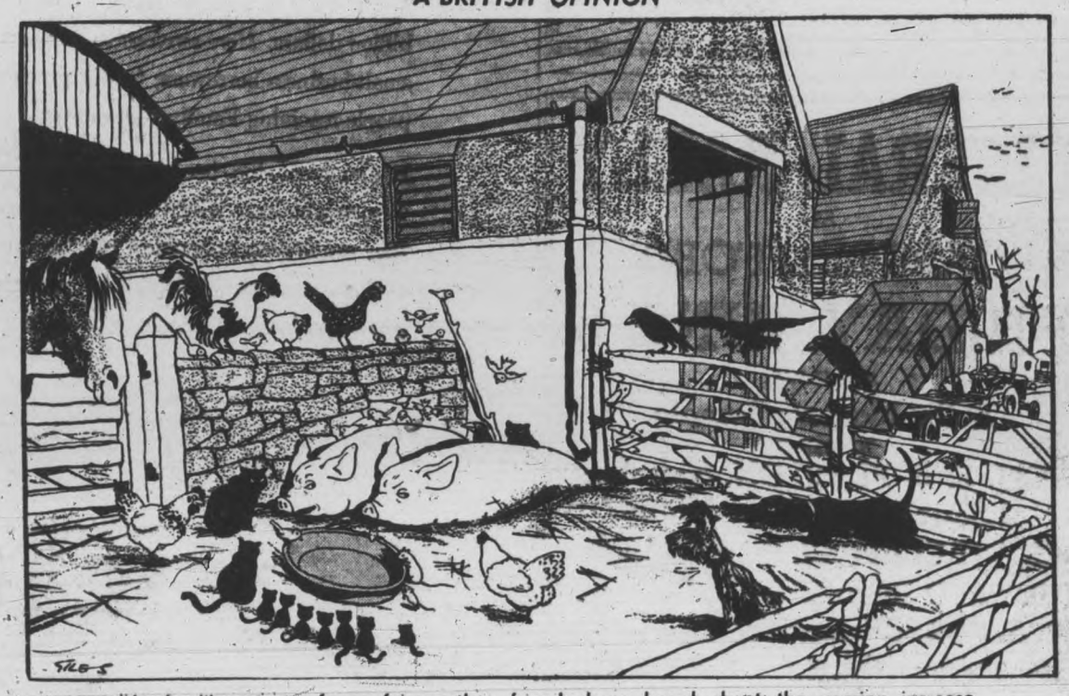
Some time after the last war, several men in a bar room were discussing one of the battles. A lieutenant, telling his version of it, was interrupted by a former captain, who corrected him on several points. He, in turn, was contradicted by a man who claimed to be a major and told a different story. Presently a fourth man spoke up.

"Gentlemen, I was in that fight. Perhaps I can refresh your memories a little."



And he gave a quiet but precise account of the action.

"What was your rank, sir?" asked the bartender.

"I was a private," he replied, preparing to leave. "How much do I owe you for the drinks?"

"Not a thing, sir, not a thing," said the bartender. "You're the very first private I've ever met."

Doctors Hold Conference On Rheumatism

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, June 1—(AP)—The seventh International Congress on Rheumatic Diseases, one of the greatest causes of sickness in North America, now is in session here.

Attending are 150 foreign and about 400 United States doctors, all experts on rheumatism, arthritis and other pains that are vaguely classified with these two.

In the United States, the conference was told, there are 7,000,000 people who go to doctors because of their intense rheumatic and arthritic pains. A far larger number suffers silently. The numbers exceed heart disease, cancer and tuberculosis combined.

The conference is a get-together of doctors who want to learn from each other's experiences. The best agreement is that in many people these diseases are due to wear and tear on their joints, naturally expected with increasing age.

But young people are crippled by the hundreds of thousands, without any good explanations.

Doctors S. H. Bensley and Arthur W. Ham of Toronto said the worst forms of arthritis originate in the connective tissues, the strands which form sheaths and which bind muscles and other tissues together.

Doctors Henrik Seyffarth and Kirsten Moinichen, Oslo, Norway, reported that faulty posture and nervous tension in work account for about half the pains of women clerks who seem to have rheumatism. These pains hit especially in those muscles whece work requires an unchanging position.

Movie Stars Pick Out Best Acting

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 1 (AP)—What was the greatest performance in the history of motion pictures?

This is a question that draws sharply divided opinion in Hollywood. I have asked more film stars for their verdicts, since they should be expert on the subject. Here are some of the latest answers:

Claudette Colbert—"I'll never forget Helen Hayes in 'The Sin of Madelon Claudet.' I cried and cried."

Robert Young—"John Barrymore was outstanding in anything . . . to name one, 'Topaz.' And Laurence Olivier's job in 'Hamlet' was one of the best of all time."

Joan Bennett—"Vivien Leigh in 'Gone With The Wind.'"

Irene Dunn—"Diana Wynward in 'Cavalcade' stays in my memory as the best. She was fascinating."

Allan Ladd—"Clark Gable in 'Gone With The Wind.' That was the most perfect casting in history."

Jimmy Stewart—"I think maybe Fredric March in 'Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde.' It was a frightening thing to watch."

Erich Von Stroheim — "This may sound like immodesty, because I directed her; but I would pick Zasu Pitts in 'Greed.' A great tragedienne."

Gregory Perk—"Charlie Chaplin in everything; he's the greatest of actors. He can make you laugh one minute, cry the next. For the actresses, Garbo—especially in 'Camille.'"

Maureen O'Hara (who didn't see a movie until she was 18)—"I'd select three: Bette Davis in 'Dark Victory.' Frederic March in 'Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde' and Charles Laughton in 'Mutiny on the Bounty.'"

Jewellers Win First One From Knights

Peterborough Credit Jewellers edged out the Knights of Columbus 8-7 in a good Softball League tilt at the Bowl last night to break into the win column. Though having fewer hits and more errors, Stan Houlihan's squad cashed in on walks and timely hits to get the nod as Knights left many runners stranded. Guilfoyle took over from Hinton on the Russelle slab in the last inning while Peters went the route in fair style for the winners. Bill Lewis led them at bat with a homer, double and single in four as well as fielding good. Woods led the losers with four for five, Evans hitting a homer and double.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

In fancy the other night we visited some Valhalla of departed athletes. Recent deaths of friends must have induced this dreamlike detour across the line. We seemed to see vaguely a pleasant gathering of those who had oft decorated the local sports' scene in one capacity or another. Some we saw and heard so plainly, others faded fitfully into the background from mortal gaze—others must have been there, too, many others, but dreams are deceptive. They don't last long enough to etch a clear-cut picture. Of course we saw Phil Lawson plainest. The man of a few words (a few million, that is) was holding forth as usual. Mainly on boxing and wrestling, and in humorous vein. A great card, Phil.

* * * * * *

There was Josh Craig, too, recalling athletic events in all fields. Chuck Kearns kidded about rugby and baseball, and Shrimp McDougall talked mainly of hockey when he was starring. Ernie Legon dealt chiefly with coaching of clubs, Harold Ralph fondly recalled managing minor ball teams, and Curly Lebarr dwelt learnedly on rules of the game. Abbie Rose and Shiner Johnston discussed many noted diamond duels of the past, and Ken Colling was there to speak as an umpire and commentator. Ab Delahaye spoke of softball. Eric Howe talked hockey with Harold LaPlante, who once managed the arena here. Fred Hickey was another baseball enthusiast, while Jack Deannard liked his ball, rugby and lacrosse. Freddy Williams was one more grid enthusiast. Others, too, hovered in the background and talked sports.

One Misses Them

It was a pleasant if wraith-like picture with a nostaglic tinge. One found it good again to see—though unseen—those fine friends of other days in athletic circles, those who have gone before. So many went so young, and all went too soon. The sports' setup here was the loser, but then these chaps enjoyed life while it lasted. Each one was missed, not only by families, but by sports' organizations of Peterborough. They contributed their parts to the brighter side of the community, and that is a very good thing to do. As our fancies faded and the workaday world emerged again, one felt that they were all happy over there where time stands still. But enough of fancies for now . . .

Getting back to more prosaic things, we hear that the Industrial Softball League has re-organized with these officers: President, Bill Gunn; vice-prexy, Bun Simpson; secretary, Horace Fisher; treasurer, J. Crompton; with team managers on the executive. Teams in are Quakers, Woollens, Westclox and Raybestos, and they'll go two or three nights weekly, starting right away, on the Quaker diamond and possibly at Brinton Field. Play will start with softball rules, but if the streamlined fastball rules can be obtained shortly, the loop will switch to the fastball brand. A bit of an experiment which should prove interesting.

Ah, Sweet Victory

At the Bowl last gloaming, Jewellers broke into the victory column with an 8-7 nod o'er Knights, while Cosmos took a 10-4 triumph from Uniteds. Fair-sized crowd saw a good game to open it with the nightcap draggy. Jewellers continue to show improvement and should go places yet. Bill Lewis sparked their attack. Two twirlers toiled for Knights, and Woods led 'em at bat. Each side reeled off a double-play. Parsons pitched steady ball for Cosmos as two flingers were used by Uniteds. Phil Pryde topped the Dalton guys at bat and Spin Spencer was best for Uniteds. Jake Wade pulled off a nifty grab. Another men's twin bill there on the morrow.

Deotch Vitarelli and Rowan Chute have been out with the Peles' lacrossers in practices, and the club drills at eight again tonight. Getting ready for the loop-leading Brampton Excelsiors here on Friday. Locals go away for two tussles next week and have one at home—a busy session. Season is young yet but some feuding is developing already among several senior "A" squads and the race will likely be warmish all through. Pete King will have schedules for fans at the next home game. Minor gutted-stick prospects were out in force last eve under direction of Jack Foote, and they'll be in early action.

A team match and two other bouts listed for the pro mat card at the Brock tonight; Fred Scates paid his last respects to the late Phil Lawson yesterday in Toronto. . . . Young Petes play Trenton at 6.15 tonight in Riverside, a Lakeshore Baseball League fixture; locals need a manager—anyone interested might contact Ed Murphy. . . . Dit Clapper is calling an executive meeting of the City Ball Loop for seven p.m. Thursday in the "Y"; coaches and prospective ones invited also. . . . Northend juves drill at 6.30 Thursday night in Riverside. . . . Lloyd Grose sauntered out Sat'day to Riverside's outfield and sold game ducats among parked cars. . . . Petes go to Oshawa tonight; we hear Catcher Ticonny will be playing manager, and Red Jubenville may turn out for Oshawa. . . . All-Stars took up a bench collection of $7.00 Saturday for Jake Jaquith when a small crowd showed for the benefit. . . . COF plays A & P tonight and the latter meets Post Office next eve. . . . Church loop managers meet at seven tonight in the "Y". . . . TJW: Run does not count as the final batter did not reach first safely. . . . Girls' games here tonight: Ashby's vs. Lock Co., and Westclox vs. CGE. . . . Men's tomorrow: Knights vs. Cosmos, and Outlaws vs. Uniteds. . . . S'long.

Cosmos Take 10-4 Win Over Uniteds

Cosmopolitans copped a 10-4 City Softball League win over the United (Babe's Place and East City Motors) at the Bowl last night in a so-so struggle. Both sides were a bit loose in the field, and Cosmos earned the win with fewer hits due in part to free bases. Reid started for United and Greenlaw went to the mound in the third but had two wild streaks later. Tom Parsons pitched steady ball to whiff seven. Pryde topped the victors with the willow, cuffing out two doubles and a single in four appearances. Spencer led the losers at bat with a two-bagger and a pair of singles in four. A running catch by Wade in left centre was a defensive standout.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

At Fairmount Park, Ill., long shots ruled in the Grand Circuit before 3,085 harness racing fans Tuesday night. The heavy payoffs began in the third race as Guy Happy Thoughts, driven by J. Beasley, scored a two-length victory over General Degaulle, paying $20.40. Vologda Dale paid $11.40 for first in the fourth race; Big Girl returned $21.80 in the sixth race and Joseph Johnson paid $19.60 for a seventh-race victory.

Bill Holland's victory Monday in the 33rd annual 500-mile automobile race at Indianapolis was worth $51,575 to him and Lou Moore, owner of Holland's Blue Crown Special.

The only bigger winner in the Memorial Day race was Billy Arnold who collected $52,100 in 1930. Arnold led in all but three laps of the race that year and a big chunk of his earnings was made up of lap prizes.

At Vancouver, Al Hardy, for 30 years associated with thoroughbred horse racing, Tuesday announced his retirement as managing director of the British Columbia Turf and Country Club. The club operates Vancouver's Lansdowne track. Hardy said he plans to go into the Cariboo country, and may buy a weekly newspaper or ranch. He is a former sports editor of the Vancouver Sun.

Toronto's Bobby Keane has been garnted a probationary jockey's licence by the International Canadian Racing Association committee, it was announced Tuesday at Toronto. He was set down in Florida and on the Quebec circuit and was refused a license earlier this season.

Henri Buser, former Swiss Davis Cup player, has entered the Ontario tennis tournament, to be held the week of June 20 at the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club. The Ontario tourney and the Quebec meet, which will be held in Montreal the following week, are considered Eastern Canada trials for the Davis Cup team.

Fishermen spend more money on equipment than do any other sportsmen in the United States.

So says the census bureau in Washington in a report Tuesday on its 1947 census of manufactures it said the factory value of fishing tackle amounted to nearly $58,700,000, or more than one-quarter of the $210,000,000 worth of sporting and athletic goods of all kinds turned out.

Conn Smythe, general manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs, said Tuesday night in a telephone interview from Montreal that there would be no increase in admission prices to National Hockey League games following the adoption of the 70-game schedule. The schedule was increased by 10 games.

Smythe made the announcement a few minutes after league owners had decided on the schedule during a day-long meeting in Montreal.

We believe that the ladies' bowling stole the spotlight yesterday. Each of the seven games played was interesting, same being decided on the last end.

To Mrs. P. Moore's rink goes the honor of scoring the first 7-end of the season. We were told it was only an inch short of a possible 8 end.

As far as we know, tonight is an off night.

By now all of the members should have their schedule books. The number printed was limited and the committee asks if any bowler has more than one book will he kindly return them to A. Black.

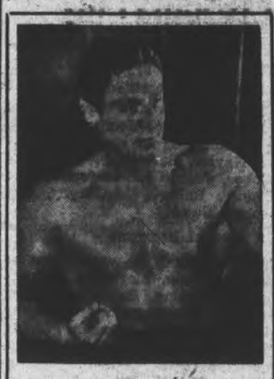
Six NHL Clubs Approve 70-Game Plan

MONTREAL, June 1 (CP) — The 70-game schedule, long a bitterly argued topic in National Hockey League circles, Tuesday was approved in principle by the owners of the six NHL clubs.

But there still may be a few problems to iron out before the league actually increases regular season games by 10. Several clubs have arenas tightly booked with non-hockey dates and some owners are not in agreement on the issue.

A number of hockey men argue that the increased schedule would be too hard on the high-speed athletes who make up the teams. Others maintain that present day teams, with plenty of replacements, wouldn't have any trouble with the longer season.

The owners met before the League's annual meeting, which takes place today and will see coaches and other officials meeting with the owners and with NHL officials.



The all-day meeting Tuesday also decided that the opening date next season will be Oct. 12, one day earlier than last year.

All-Star Game

The all-star game against Toronto Maple Leafs, Stanley Cup winners this year, will be played Oct. 10 in Toronto with coach Tommy Ivan of Detroit Red Wings coaching the all-stars.

With most of the top NHL brass in Montreal, along with many officials from clubs in other leagues trade talk was flying but nothing official was announced.

Rumors that goalie Frankie Brimsek of Boston Bruins would be traded to Chicago Black Hawks were not immediately confirmed and president Bill Tobin of the Hawks insisted that "nobody wants to sell me any players."

AT THE BROCK TONIGHT—Tug Carlsen, pictured above, who takes on the Cardiff Giant in the semi final bout at the Brock Arena tonight. Carlsen made a very impressive showing here last week and it will be interesting to see how he fares against a much larger opponent tonight. Chief interest is in the tag team match which brings together Sliding Billy Hanson and Pat Flanagan on 'one side and Wee Willie Davis and Sandy O'Donnell on the other. All four men are experienced team wrestlers and fans are anxious to see Hanson go against the villainous pair of Davis and O'Donnell. It should be a red-hot match. Jimmy (Red) Sims and Al Korman start things off.

THE CHASE—Nicholas Ruiz Gainazu of the Tortugas Club of Argentina had quite a time during pre-game warm-up at Golden Gate Polo Field in San Francisco. Blackie was in hot pursuit at every turn until cornered and driven off by a mounted policeman.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Carl Furillo, Dodgers—hit homer in 14th inning to give Brooklyn 6-4 edge over New York Giants.

Pitching—Jack Banta, Dodgers—hurled 5 2-3 scoreless and hitless relief innings in the Brooks' 14-inning victory.

REMEMBER WHEN—

Lou Gehrig, then 21, took over the first base sack for New York Yankees 24 years ago today to begin an iron man record untouched in modern baseball. In 14 years after 1925 Lou played 2,130 consecutive games for the Yankees. Gehrig died June 2, 1941, but his skill has been immortalized on stage screen and radio.

Brooks Shade Giants 6-4 In Four-Hour Marathon

BY JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Carl Furillo, the fellow Leo Durocher said couldn't hit righthanders, is making his old boss eat his words.

The Brooklyn rightfielder hit a 14th-inning home run off righthander Larry Jansen in the wee small hours this morning to win the "big game" of the young season for the onrushing Dodgers.

Furillo's second homer of the year, both off Jansen, enabled the Brooks to shade Leo's New York Giants, 6-4, in a three hour and 57-minute marathon at the Polo Grounds.

As a result of the homer and a spectacular job of no-hit, no-run relief pitching of Jack Banta, former Montreal strikeout ace, the Dodgers entered June in a two-way tie with the Boston Braves for the National League lead.

The Giants, who were partners in a triple tie Tuesday morning, now are third.

It was a toughie for Jansen who faced four Dodger pitchers during the long evening. He blew an early 3-0 lead and another 4-3 advantage. Then in the 14th he dished up the homer to Furillo. A triple by Roy Campanella sent the tiring Giant ace to the showers. Dave Koslo yielded the extra score on Banta's single, his first hit of the season.

Second Victory.

Banta's top-drawer bullpen job was his second victory within a week. Only two men reached base against the lean righthander. One walked and the other was hit by a pitched ball. Both were erased on double plays.

Jansen was three outs from victory starting the ninth. Gil Hodges opened with a home run. Then they went into their long overtime duel.

The big crowd of 43,922, best of the Polo Grounds night season, knew they were watching a battle for first place. The final of Boston's 7-6 afternoon victory over the Phillies was posted on the scoreboard.

Boston had to come from way back to take that one. Trailing 5-0 going into the fourth inning, the Braves finally pulled it out when reliefer Jim Konstanty walked Clint Conatser with the bases full in the ninth.

The Phils hung up a big five in the third, routing Johnny Sain. Seminick added the final score with a homer in the sixth.

Nels Potter, with two shutout relief innings, earned his fourth victory at Rowe's expense.

Other major league teams were not scheduled.

Tomasic Gives Giants 1-0 Win Over Chiefs

By The Associated Press.

The folks back home in Hokendauqua, Pa., should be mighty proud today of pitcher Andy Tomasic, of the Jersey City Giants.

Tomasic, a former football star, chalked up his second straight International League victory Tuesday night—a 1-0 shutout over Syracuse.

Tomasic's four-hit job dumped the Chiefs into the cellar and boosted the Little Giants lead to 2½ games over the idle Buffalo Bisons. He struck out eight and walked only two.

It was the second victory for Tomasic since he was farmed to Jersey City by the parent New York Giants two weeks ago.

Steve Gerken's single, following Neal Watlington's double, produced the only run off Harry Perkowski in the sixth inning.

Edge Bears

Johnny Maldovan came back to haunt Newark Bears, who sold him to Baltimore last winter, as he pitched the Orioles to a 4-3 decision over Newark. He allowed 10 hits but left 11 Bears stranded.

A homer by Ken Woods, down from the parent St. Louis Browns, won the game for Baltimore in the eighth, breaking a 3-3 tie. Newark held a 2-1 lead until Hank Arft's homer tied the score in the sixth. Lou Novikoff hit a 425-foot circuit smash to regain the lead for Newark but Bingo Binks of Baltimore again tied it up with his seventh-inning round tripper. Woods then won the game, handing Bill Woop his fifth loss.

Other teams were not scheduled.

Lacrosse Officials Have Junior Division

TORONTO, June 1 (CP) —Ontario Lacrosse officials last night said arrangements had been completed for a four-team junior division with the possibility Brampton may round the league out to five clubs.

Owen Sound, Mimico, Weston and St. Catharines are listed as definite starters.

The opening game in the League begins when St. Catharines meets Weston June 15 and then Weston clashes with Mimico and Owen Sound plays St. Catharines June 17.

Samuel Snead Takes Golf Title

RICHMOND, Va., June 1 (AP) —Samuel Jackson Snead—at 37—today is king of North America's professional golfers.

The slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., earned that distinction Tuesday when he came from behind to defeat Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., 3 and 2, for the 1949 championship of the United States Professional Golfers Association.

Snead's brilliant victory over Palmer distinguished Sam as:

1. The only golfer in history ever to win the Masters Tournament and the PGA crowns in one year.
2. The leading money winner in the United States for 1949. Sam has earned $12,610, $3,500 coming from Tuesday's triumph. Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago is second with $11,457 and Palmer third with $10,050.
3. A pretty fair country putter.

Snead's putting had always been the subject of criticism. Folks said if Snead could putt like he can drive, he'd win tournaments. Since he began using a borrowed putter, Snead has won three in a row—the Greensboro Open, the Masters and the PGA.

Snead moved around the 6,677-yard Hermitage Country Club course Tuesday in six-under-par to best Palmer. In the morning round, Snead carved a 69 for the par 71 layout.

Gets 2 Holes-In-One In 18-Hole Round

DETROIT, June 1 (AP)— Ray Maguire, smooth-stroking Birmingham, Mich., pro wrote a new record into golf books Tuesday when he scored two holes in one on an 18-hole round.

The amazing performance of the 35-year-old Maguire came in the Michigan sectional qualifying play for the United States Open Tournament.

Oddly enough, Maguire—despite his two aces—did not qualify for one of Michigan's 11 berths in the open but squeezed in as an alternate.

Maguire, who has been playing golf since he was 11, made the first hole in one of his career on the 205-yard fifth hole on his afternoon round.

Increase Salary Of Principal

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1 (ENS).—Appointment of Ernest Morrow as assistant principal of the Public School at an annual salary of $2,100 brought a written protest from a group of women teachers and a verbal protest from Principal Charles Haig at the monthly meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Principal Haig claimed that the difference of $300 between his salary and the assistant principal's stipend was too low. He said that the assistant principal had no more extra duties to perform than any other teacher. Maintaining discipline and running the school were the principal's responsibilities, he stated.

After a brief discussion Mr. Haig's salary was increased to $2,500. No action was taken on the women teachers' request that an adjustment be made in the salary schedule.

A grant of $100 was made to the High School library and the same amount for science equipment.

H. R. Hendershot, principal of the High School, addressed the board regarding redecoration of the gymnasium, removal of the partition in Room Three and the construction of a fume cover for the science room. He informed the board that Miss Doreen Jarvis was taking a summer course in home economics and recommended that she should be given some financial consideration.

Asked For Report.

The property committee was instructed to present a report on the redecoration of the gymnasium and the removal of the partition at the next meeting. The question of the construction of a fume cover was left over for further discussion. In consideration of Miss Jarvis' expenses in preparing herself to teach home economics next year her salary was increased to $2,500, beginning next September.

Russell Ayrhart heading a deputation representing the town softball association, asked the board to construct seats at the ball diamond on the High chool grounds. The board informed the deputation that plans and the estimated cost would have to be presented before further action could be taken. However, the association was given permission to erect temporary seats, providing the association met all expenses and carried the necessary insurance.

TVL Sets Rulings

HASTINGS, June 1 (ENS) — At a recent meeting of the Trent Valley Softball League it was decided that June 15 be the deadline for signing players with each team being allowed 20 players, including the coach and manager. The OASA ruling regarding the boundaries on signing players will be followed.

All games will commence at 8.30 p.m. with 15 minutes grace being granted and the team unable to start being given a penalty of $5.00.

The deadline for a home team to call off a game was set at 6.00 p.m., with all postponed games being played on the first available night.

Visiting teams are to bring an umpire-in-chief with the home team having a base umpire available.

A Goodfellow-Drope Trophy is being presented to the league.

The following schedule was drawn up:

Don't Dump In Smith, Residents Plea

Residents of Highland Rd. in Smith Twp. are up in arms over thoughtless motorists who strew garbage and rubbish along the road. Strict enforcement of a law prohibiting this practice is promised.

When the Smith Council meets again on June 6 the matter will be discussed at some length. Offenders are warned that there is an existing law with a penalty of $50 fine for those violating it.

Two years ago Smith residents were bothered by motorists dropping their garbage from passing cars but an intensive campaign against this habit and strict enforcement of the law all but eliminated it.

Signs are to be posted reminding that dumping garbage is an offence.

"Some people will have to learn that this is not a dump," one angry resident told the Examiner today. "Most of them are from the city—they're thoughtless," she said.

Keene Church Plans 116th Anniversary

KEENE, June 1 (ENS).—Keene United Church will celebrate its 116th anniversary on June 5, when Rev. J. Verner McNeely, M.A., B.D., of Oshawa, a former minister of Keene charge, will be guest minister. The church will welcome Rev. Mr. McNeely also as president of Bay of Quinte Conference. Special music will be provided by the choir and visiting soloist, Mrs. D. Jackman.

One of the church's first ministers, Rev. Francis Andrew's was minister of Keene Presbyterian Church for 52 years. It was during his ministry that the church was firmly established and the present Gothic-type building stands as a monument to faithful and efficient service both by minister and the congregation. A glance at the membership roll today shows names of families who were leaders in the Presbyterian and Methodist churches in those early days.

At the first communion 38 partook of the Sacrament; membership now is 391. The present minister is Rev. Geo. Murray.

Owing to the anniversary services at Keene United Church, there will be no services at Bethel and Zion next Sunday. These congregations will attend the services at Keene.

Fails To Win Hearing

WASHINGTON, June 1 (CP) —Dawn L. Allen, an unwed mother, Tuesday failed to win a Supreme Court hearing on efforts to recover her two-year-old son from a couple who adopted him. She based her action largely on a plea for the court to consider the stigma under which her son would be raised in the small town of Tappahannock, Virginia.

Fair Costs $750,000

TORONTO, June 1 (CP) —The Canadian government has spent $750,000 on the 1949 Canadian International Trade Fair, Bert Butler, publicity director for the Trade and Commerce Department, said Tuesday. "We hope to get half of it back from rental and admission fees," he said.

Stamp Collector Dies

MONTREAL, June 1 (CP) — Dr. Lewis I. Reford, 71, Montreal neurosurgeon and one of those who contributed to the founding of the Montreal Neurological Institute, died Tuesday. He was considered one of the country's foremost philatelists and had a rare collection of Canadian stamps.

Announce List Of New Charges

TORONTO, June 1 — (CP). — The Settlement Committee of the Toronto Conference of the United Church of Canada to-day announced ministers settled in new charges. They are:

Fear Trade Stagnation

GUELPH, June 1 (CP) — A "very real" threat of trade stagnation exists at present, a British delegate to the third annual meeting of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers said Tuesday. J. K. Knowles told delegates at the conference's plenary session that lack of purchasing power and currency problems were cutting off areas of plenty from their traditional export markets.

FRIENDLY SALT

Orientals still regard the use of salt at a meal as symbolic of friendship and hospitality.

Plan To Make Ajax Model Industrial City

AJAX, June 1 — (CP). — A community planned as a model industrial city of 30,000 persons is rising here on the site of a wartime munitions-making town which for the last few years has housed a division of the University of Toronto.

Transformation of Ajax, 24 miles east of Toronto, is being undertaken by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation with co-operation of Ontario planning experts, the Toronto Industrial Commission, and Prof. Kent Barker of the University of Toronto.

The new town will be built in about five residential areas, each with 1,000 homes, shopping districts and schools.

Radio and television sets will soon be produced by Pye, Canada Ltd., a subsidiary of Pye Radio of Cambridge, England, one of the first industries to start operations here.

Pressure Groups Hampering Law

SARNIA, June 1 — (CP). — Slow enforcement of the Lord's Day Act at Western Ontario summer resorts last summer was blamed on Tuesday on "elections and pressure groups" by R. S. McGrath of St. Thomas, in addressing the London Conference of the United Church.

After some controversy, Provincial Police halted Sunday amusements at the lake resorts of Port Stanley and Grand Bend. Operators re-opened on following Sundays and court charges resulted.

Mr. McGrath, who is Western Ontario representative of the Lord's Day Alliance, said: "If action was tardy, as it was last summer at resorts, it was not because the Alliance was not active. Elections and pressure groups make it exceedingly difficult for people to do their plain duty."

He said that those who wanted "a different type of Sunday seek o advance their own selfish interests . . . We live in an atmosphere of materialistic living and secularism."

On the eve of his 19th anniversary as minister, Rev. D. D. Gaynor of Chalmers United Church, Woodstock, was elected President of the Conference, which is in annual session. He succeeds Rev. Stanley M. Sweetman of Hyatt Avenue United Church, London.

Injured By Shotgun

SARNIA, June 1 (CP) — Ten-year-old Jimmie Sisler of nearby Forest is in hospital here with severe injuries received late Tuesday when a shotgun exploded while he and a friend were scuffling for it. His condition was reported Tuesday night as critical.

Present Gifts To Two Teachers

LAKEFIELD, June 1 (ENS).—Students of Lakefield High School presented gifts this week to two members of the staff who are leaving the school at the close of the term.

Miss Margaret Balfour, B.A., whose marriage takes place at the end of June, was recipient of several lovely gifts. Form X of which she was form teacher for two years, gave her an electric sandwich toaster and waffle iron. Dick McCracken made the presentation and Marie Henry read the address. Accompanying this was a miniature vase on which were painted the students' names, the lettering being done by one of her students.

Forms XI, XII and XIII presented Miss Balfour with an electric tea kettle. The address was given by Alta Bullock and the gift was presented by Derry Wilford.

Mrs. Mildred Corneil received a cosmetic set from Form 9A, presented by Roderick Earnshaw, with Alma Cherry reading the address.

Form 9B presented a casserole and a hand-painted water set. Marie Tucker read the address and Mary McManus made the presentation.

Receives Thanks For Clothing Sent To Greece

HAVELOCK, June 1—(ENS)—Mrs. William Rice, when sending a contribution of clothing for Europe through the Havelock Women's Institute about a year ago, placed her name in the pocket of a coat. Recently she received a letter of thanks from Apostolos Papadopoulos, King Konstantina Street 22, Kilkis, Macedonia, Greece.

The letter is in rather broken English, but it stated that Greece had suffered much destruction from its two conquerors, Germany and Bulgaria, which had created many needs and the coat Mrs. Rice forwarded was gratefully received.

Have Greater Evil

After all the destruction wrought by the two conquerors, the letter stated Greece has now a greater evil—Slav Communism—which has destroyed anything that was left from the others.

The writer of the letter belongs to the family of an army officer, in which beside himself are his aged parents, a brother, and three sisters.

An appeal was made for clothing and shoes and the letter closed with the following: "If you have the pleasure please send a parcel by the post, and our thankfulness will be in all our life. Thank you with all my heart."

Library Featuring Hither-Britain Books

Ten books on England, Scotland and Wales are being featured at the Public Library this week, Come to Britain Week. William Graff, Librarian, reports excellent informative books are at the Library on London and other literary places.

On England Mr. Graff recommends Sidney Clark's "All the Best in England". This book is a guide book especially for the traveller who has never been to England. It gives suggestions on transportation, what to see and how to get here. Mr. Clark includes Peterborough, England, as one of his sights to see. Clara E. Laughlin has written a book called "So You're Going to England". This book gives detailed information for the tourist on hotels, money difficulties, sight-seeing tours, times of trains.

For London Mr. Graff suggests the book, "City of London." In it are the landmarks of London, the historic markets, churches, guilds and city buildings. "London" by H. V. Morton gives the legend, fact and history of London. Mr. Graff recommends the book for pleasure reading rather than consulting.

On Scotland and Wales

"The Lowlands of Scotland" by George Scott-Moncrief describes the border country for the traveller. The countryside, villages, historic towns and buildings are all covered in the book. "Edinburgh" by the same author gives an illustrated description of the city as well as some history of the city.

Wales' quaint towns and modern villages are described in H. V. Morton's book, "In Search of Wales". Other books recommended by Mr. Graff are "Shakespeare Country" by C. Showell on the country around Stratford. Books have also been written on the lake country of Wordsworth, Scott's Scotland and other countries famous for their authors and poets.

All these books may be borrowed at the Public Library.

Ladders Test Superstition Of Shoppers

Are you still superstitious? Do you walk under ladders if you don't have to?

Two ladders dropped side by side against a downtown store so that one covered one half of the sidewalk and the other almost the whole pavement put shoppers to the test Tuesday morning.

Almost 25 per cent of those who walked along the street in a 10 minute period avoided the ladders as if they were the plague. Several more examined the ladders closely, braced themselves for the ordeal, then resolutely plunged under. One girl refused to take any chances. Twice she stepped down into the curb to avoid the ladders. Of the five who shyed away from the ladders, four were women, yet only about half of the total passersby were female.

Two mothers led their children under without a quiver of excitement, but another wasn't as daring. "Come on," she said to her child, "I'm not going under that ladder."

Benny, the Beaver, Returns To Old Haunts In Chandos

The tale of Benny the Apsley Beaver has another chapter following his story in the Examiner a week ago. Game Warden Robert Trotter took him from his crate last Sunday and let him loose on Eel's Creek, near the village cemetery.

Four days later, and three miles away, a road worker reported the same old trouble, a portion of the highway flooded on the Coe Hill road. Game Warden Trotter investigated and set his wire mesh trap. On Friday he found the trap sprung and nothing in it, but on Saturday there was Benny, looking very unconcerned.

The beaver was taken back to his temporary home in the crate and on Sunday morning was taken by car to Haultain, ten miles below Apsley, and let out at Eel's Creek at the tourist park. The Game Warden watches him as he slid into the creek and went down stream. But he soon got his bearings and started north again in the general direction of Apsley and the Coe Hill road.

"I hope he makes a new home on the way this time or we will have to move him out of the county altogether as an undesireable character," said Mr. Trotter.

Lusty London Limehouse Ghost of Its Former Self

LONDON, June 1 (CP)—Limehouse, once notorious for its ready fisted dockers, slant-eyed Chinese and sinister opium dens, today is little more than a ghost of its former self.

It's a pretty respectable ghost, too. Touring London's deckland from east to west, two Canadian Press reporters found nothing more exciting than a tumbledown waterfront pub, wherein a blue-jerseyed seaman sat on an empty beer barrel pounding a piano.

Leaning heavily on the swilly bar, a black-bearded first mate talked of other cities and other climes. An ancient mariner sat in one corner reminiscing over his pint, while in the other a fiercely-respectable landlady, hands folded primly in her lap, surveyed the customers with evident disapproval.

The only bad language came from a parrot, caged above the bar, which at frequent intervals told everyone to "go to hell."

Chinese Disappear

Most of the Chinese have gone from Limehouse and few Chinese sailors come here nowadays,' said the jovial landlord, Limehouse born and bred, lustily pulling a mild-and-bitter.

"Where they've gone to, heaven only knows. I think a lot of 'em went back to China, and a good many spread out over Britain during the depression. This ain't Limehouse any more. Why, in my young days it weren't safe to walk down the street by yourself o' nights. . . "

One famous pub originated by Charlie Brown, one-time unofficial "Mayor" of Limehouse, now is little more than a peepshow for tourists. The waterfront toughs and the dope-peddling Chinese have gone with the renowned oriental treasures that once adorned its bars.

In their place are streamers and pennants and framed photos of stage artists, while its clientele consists largely of west end "toffs" and their girl friends out for an evening's "slumming." There is even an American jukebox in the saloon.

Make Plans For Sale

HASTINGS, June 1 — (ENS) — The Catholic Women's League of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church held an executive meeting on Wednesday in the Parish Hall when the Hastings C.W.L. Diocesan nominations were made. Final plans were also approved for a sale of home baking being held on Saturday, June 11, in the old Bray baking shop. Mrs. J. Powers and her committee will be in charge of the sale.

GOING TO THE U.S.A.?

To avoid possible delay and embarrassment at border crossing points, be sure you have met the foreign exchange requirements before you set out. The travel ration of $150 per person for the period November 16th, 1948, to November 15th, 1949 is to ensure the fairest distribution of the U.S. funds available. For children under 11 years of age, the amount is $100 U.S.

If you are taking a trip to the United States, you need to secure a Form H permit to take out of Canada any amount exceeding $10 U.S. or more than a total of $25 in U.S. and Canadian Funds.

Form H can be secured quickly and easily from branches of any Canadian Bank.

This is "COME TO BRITAIN" Week in Peterborough

This week local merchants are displaying products made in Great Britain. They are good products... made from the finest materials and with that meticulous attention to detail so typical of British craftsmanship. Many of these products reflect traditions which are centuries old . . . traditions which make Britain the fascinating land it is — a place of scenic and historic beauty second to none in the world—truly a grand country to visit.

Remember that when you visit Britain you spend Canadian dollars that will eventually find their way back to Canada — purchasing the goods that we make and sell.

Britain needs our dollars now more than ever, so that she can buy much-needed Canadian goods. Therefore, when you visit Britain, you are helping to boost Canada's export trade. But more important to you personally . . . you will be travelling in a charming, hospitable land where history greets you at every turn in the road.

31,355 Lists Being Mailed Through Riding

The unrevised voters' list for the riding of Peterborough West has compiled 31,355 names, Mr. A. J. McClellan, returning officer informer the Examiner today.

The City of Peterborough total was previously announced at 23,361, and the townships and village of Lakefield contribute 7,994 names.

"We are posting and advertising the details for the sessions of revision," Mr. McClellan said. "The enumerators in the country will be at their homes on June 9 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. (standard time) for corrections and omissions That provision also applies to Lakefield."

Subdivisional voters' lists are coming daily from the printer. All the city list has been delivered to the returning officer, and many of them have been sent through the mails to the individual elector.

Thus each individual elector is supposed to receive a printed copy of the list of names of the voters in his or her subdivision. That list should include his or her own name. That is the reason for the delivery by mail.

Apparent Duplication

One of the postmen this morning said he had delivered ten lists at one house. It appears to be duplication of the process of informing the electorate, but it is evidence of the planning to bring to every elector the opportunity of getting his name on the list and thereby assuring him of a ballot on election day.

The fee to the city enumerators was eight cents a name, and to the rural canvassers 10c a name, with a minimum of ten dollars to each enumerator for his work in the township.

Lakefield Liberals Name W. E. Leonard

Preparing for the coming federal election the Lakefield Liberal Association Monday night elected an executive headed by W. E. Leonard who became president.

The well-attended meeting, which gathered in the Legion Hall also elected W. Frankish vice-president; G. Tanner, treasurer, and G. Chappell, secretary.

Chemong Turn Smash

Two cars collided at the intersection of Chemong Rd. and Reid St. Tuesday at 1:20 p.m. causing more than $100 damage to the two vehicles, but both drivers were uninjured. John W. Ramsay or Belleville, was driving south from Chemong Rd. to Reid St. and Jim Bingham, Indian River, was proceeding in the opposite direction. Constable Sherman Kellele says Mr. Ramsay's car skidded 44 feet, 3 inches.

KING'S BIRTHDAY HOLIDAY

Monday, June 6, has been proclaimed a national holiday by the Dominion government celebrating the birthday of His Majesty King George VI. It will be observed by government offices and banks.

EXTRA LARGE

By-standers blinked their eyes a couple of times early today thinking their vision was faulty. A Great Dane dog alighted from a Bobcaygeon truck parked on Charlotte St. near Aylmer St. It stood as high as a good-sized pony.

JOIN POLICE STAFF

Two new provincial constables joined the staff of Peterborough Headquarters of the Ontario Provincial Police this week. They are E. Patterson, of Peterborough, who has just completed his training course at Toronto, and Raymond Hope, who has been transferred from the St. Catharines detachment.

BAN U-TURNS

Employees of the Board of Works have begun putting up signs banning U-turns at all intersections where "Stop and Go" traffic lights are installed. This is being done pursuant to a new by-law passed at a recent meeting of the city council as a further precaution against traffic accidents. The signs are white with large black letters and will be placed at six corners.

HOLD ANNUAL BLESSING

The Kawartha Motorcycle Club will be guests of the Erie County Motorcycle Riders of Niagara Falls, New York, over the week-end. They will also attend the 10th annual Blessing of Motorcyclists to be held Sunday at 11 a.m. at St. Christopher's Shrine near Buffalo on Niagara Falls Blvd. On Sunday, June 12, the Peterborough Club will meet with other clubs at an American Motorcycle Association meeting in Toronto.

HOOKS LARGE TROUT

One of the most enthusiastic and adept trout fishermen in local waters is Bob McCabe of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association On Monday night he caught a two-lb. five-oz. speckled trout that measured nearly 18 inches Vince Anthony who accompanied Mr. McCabe hooked a one pounder. A couple of weeks ago together with Harry Campbell he landed 11 within an hour and a half; all were over eight inches The location?—"somewhere east of Peterborough."

Lot Cost $2,000 Only To Find Old Restriction

After paying $2,000 for the vacant lot at the southwest corner of Monaghan Rd. ant Romaine St. the city council has encountered a question as to whether the deed of a property may be examined for restrictions as a condition to the issuing of a building permit.

Mr. E. V. Moore who operates a service station at Monaghan Road and Chamberlain St. bought the Romaine St. corner lot for a service station before he acquired the business at Chamberlain St. It has been recalled that his first application for a building permit at Romaine St. was granted, but he delayed building. Then, some of the residents of that vicinity objected to service station in their midst, especially because there was the station at Chamberlain St.

The application eventually was referred to the town planning committee who recommended that the permit be withheld for several reasons. One was consideration for the protesting property owners and the other was protection for southbound traffic approaching the CPR crossing on Monaghan Road. Sympathy for Mr. Moore was expressed, because he had invested in the property and also because he had received previous permission.

Both the town planning and the council visualized the increasing importance of Monaghan Road as a traffic artery, particularly as they looked into the future of that expending section of the city. CPR trains from the west could not be seen as readily as at present if the service station were built.

Suggest City Buy It

Town planning committee suggested that the Romaine St. corner lot be bought by the city and developed into a green spot. Discussion of this little community problem received attention from time to time in recent months, and finally Mr. Moore agreed to sell the place to the city for $3,500. Other negotiations ensued, and the transfer was put through at $2,000.

When the deed came into the city's hands, it was found that it included a restricting clause which precluded Mr. Moore or any other owner from locating there the business he had been planning for more than a year. Casual opinion around the city hall of late has regarded the payment for the property as more than it was worth in the effect of the restriction in the deed.

And from that experience the Board of Works discussed the general question involved, and decided to ask Mr. Huycke for guidance. It was said that City Engineer Chalmers did not have authority to demand examination of the deed of a property on which a building was to be erected. One suggestion was to the effect that it was an instance of "let the buyer beware."

Might Be Forgotten

Ald. Doug Miller stated the possibility of an owner's restriction becoming forgotten in the course of transfers of a property.

"If the original owner sells a property, and dies, then probably no one looks after the matter of the restriction," he said. "Has some other property owner in the neighborhood to act as a policeman? People do not like to do that."

Discussion arrived at the question whether an applicant for a building permit should be required to submit his deed of that property, "because it does happen that restrictions are overlooked."

Several instances of somewhat similar circumstances in the west-end were mentioned, and in a motion by Ald. J. A. Gillespie and Ald. Hugh Waddell, Mr. Huycke was asked for a report.

As to the Romaine Street corner lot it was said: "It could never have been used as a location for a service station.

One accomplishment of the city's purchase has been the reservation of that lot to provide a clear view of the CPR to the west as a measure of protection of south-bound traffic on Monaghan Road.

RECEIPTS UP

Customs receipts for May were $445,974.72. This was a rise of $69,915.94 over the receipts for April. The receipts for May 1949 were down on last year's figures for May which were $516,614.78.

THE WRECKING OF A HOUSE at 141 Sherbrooke St., removes one of the first landmarks of Peterborough. A Crown Land Grant, dated 1835, and subsequent deeds of sale establish it as a site of historical significance 130 years old.

Lot Sold For £150 In 1836 House Being Demolished

By NICK NICKLES

A yellow tattered piece of newspaper, clinging to the gaping stair well of the demolished house at 141 Sherbrooke St., read LAST TRUMPET SOUNDED! Further investigation and piecing together showed it to be a scrap from a Daily Examiner, dated July 13, 1892, an advertisement of the firm of Thomas Kelly which was apparently telling the citizens of the day that it was sacrificing stock prices during a moving sale. The caption was an appropriate reminder that the last trumpet has also sounded for the old house.

It was old in 1892, according to Instruments found in the Register of the County of Peterborough. A bundle of aged documents in fine copperplate handwriting, now in possession of present owner, The Canadian Tire Corporation, traces an interesting history of Peterborough starting with a Crown grant for the land, dated June 12, 1835.

This large parchment drawn up in the reign of William the Fourth, granted the parcel of land to William Stephenson and described it as one-seventh of half an acre, on the Thirteenth Concession of the Township of Monaghan. It was signed by Sir John Colborne, Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada.

Had Many Owners

The property has had many owners judging from the considerable bundle of copies of wills, deeds of land, indentures of bargain and sale and not a few mortgages. The names range from original owner William Stephenson, 1835, to William Jeffrey, Noah Tousant Laplante, William F. Harper, James Hall, Hon. Andrew Jeffrey, Peter Goyette, Harry Rush and Alex Elliott, Michael O'Donnell, Thomas Cahill, Dennis, William and Mary Eliza Hurley and Annie Sandercock.

It was a noble dwelling in its day made throughout with the finest County white pine and incorporating a large brick fireplace, six feet wide, complete with pothook eyes. There was a secondary fireplace in the same flue upstairs and the whole building was of lath and stucco construction. Lath was not as is made today but was made of rough handsplit pine lumber that gave the old walls a rugged character all of their own. Several layers of wallpaper, showing varying tastes of occupants down the years, made a stout insulation.

The old house, when originally erected more than 100 years ago faced a large lot or pasture on the outskirts of the village of Peterborough where small travelling circuses found space to put up their booths and men of the militia did their field training. At the present time a large chain grocery is being erected on it. Peterborough was so small then that it was considered a backwoods gamble to professional men to establish their businesses here. The first lawyer to take a chance was Elias Burnham in 1833 and he was followed by Shuter Smith of Port Hope and Stafford Kirkpatrick.

Early Boundary

Dr. Thomas Poole who faithfully compiled the most detailed history of Peterborough in the early days describes the downtown section of the hamlet as follows:

"Except for the section bounded by Water, Hunter, Aylmer and King Streets, there was nothing but bush and within these limits buildings were few and insignificant. Park lots were worth £15 and the only two decent houses were a general store and a tavern."

Although Dr. Poole says that lots were only worth £15 it was noted on a deed of land transfer between William Stephenson and Andrew Jeffrey, dated 1836, that the transaction was made for a consideration of £150. This would indicate that a parcel of land at that time included a dwelling as well. If this surmise is correct, it is the oldest building in Peterborough, and might well have been preserved and cherished as the only remaining landmark linked with the past. Wreckers and the march of progress have already shattered this dream.

Gord Harrison Ties For Second

Playing in a pros-members' tournament at Burlington Golf Club, Gordon Harrison, pro of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, was one of four professionals tied for second with a 74. The winner was Bob Lamb of Summit Club, Toronto, with a 69 on the par 72 course. The tournament drew 35 pros over the weekend. Mr. Harrison will compete next week in a professionals' tournament at St. George's Club and on June 12 in a benefit day at Weston for the late Elmer Blower of that club. He will probably enter the Canadian Open.

Many members of the Peterborough Club are making the rounds now with better weather prevailing. While work continues on the course, the setup is in good shape with frothy dandelions disappearing under a chemical spray on the fairways, and the greens in perfect condition. The opening of the Midland League is in Cobourg on June 11.

Bay Of Quinte Conference Opens

PICTON, June 1 (CP)—The Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada opened its 25th session here Tuesday. The occasion also marked the 125th anniversary of the first conference of the Canadian Methodist Church held in Picton in 1824.

More than 400 delegates heard Rev. Leslie Cook, secretary of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, and Rev. J. A. Steed formerly of Africa, stress the need for support of missions at a meeting Tuesday night.

Rev. George Telford of Oshawa delivered the communion service address.

Very Rev. T. W. Jones, immediate Past Moderator of the United Church, will deliver addresses during the Conference which ends Friday.

65 Occupancies Of New Houses In Veteran Lot

Sixty-five of the new houses for veterans being built by Reynolds Construction Company in the south end will have been occupied up to the end of this week, John Raine of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation said today.

"There are sixty-one of the houses with families in them today, but there will be four more by the end of the week."

The total number of houses in the present contract is 226, and the city has recently applied for another 100.

"People are happy in getting into their new homes," said Mr. Raine, "others are still waiting patiently until their turn comes. Probably we have become accustomed to that reaction, after so many instances of it, but on our part we are still happy to see families moving in as the houses are turned over to us by the contractor."

Liberal Women Hold Rally

Peterborough's Liberal Party women held a rally in which 125 women, including 35 new members, jammed into the George St. committee rooms Tuesday night to hear Col. J. A. Dewart.

Col. Dewart said the Progressive Conservative party had been promising a housing and social security program which the Liberal government had already in operation.

Liberal candidate Dit Clapper spoke briefly emphasizing his determination to carry on Liberal traditions. He assured the women he would not "let them down."

Charles Elliott, campaign manager, explained the party's new poll organization.

In his address, Col. Dewart reported an article in The Financial Post as calling the Progressive Conservative attack on the North Star aircraft unfortunate. The Financial Post reported six or seven countries were using the North Star without accident and the attack would halt aeronautical development.

Col. Dewart said the Liberal government had set up Trade organizations in 36 countries to assist Canadian businessmen in foreign trade. This work was formally handled by the British Board of Trade.

Mrs. C. M. Scott, president of the Women's Liberal Association, presided at the meeting.

"What Is So Rare As A Day In June?"

Decked in all her glory of green fields and flowering gardens, June arrived this morning in the pageant of the seasons with the young and tender summer in her train.

The late leafing locust trees and the catalpas were filling in the overhead shade against the sun, and the horse chestnut trees were in flower. Few of the lillies of the valley are left, but some of the tulips are survivors from the unseasonably chill Maytime. Irises are in gorgeous color, and the first of the red peonies were blushing out of bud. Peterborough appears to be a spirea town. Clumps and hedges of this brief blooming shrub are masses of plain white from the Wolsley St. border at the north all the way down to the river. The June moon is already crescent, born in the late May evenings, and the longest day of the year is only three weeks down the calendar.

CAKES DISAPPEAR

Has anybody seen that mouse? Peterborough music teachers were puzzled Tuesday evening when a parcel of 30 cakes made specially by a member of the Music Teachers' Association, to serve at the annual meeting in the Library, disappeared during the business period.

The cakes were placed in a room adjoining the auditorium and when the time came to serve the refreshments, they were no where to be found.—H.P.

It was only a simple mistake in diagnosis and after all what does a tooth more or less matter. This view, however, was not shared by the patient. The chronicle of minor misfortune began on Saturday when a local man had an unbearable ache in his jaw. He purchased a bottle of Scotch and tried to chase it away by taking a pull at the bottle whenever he felt an extra twinge. The prescription was well conceived but failed. On Monday he went to a local dentist who enquired which tooth hurt. "How do I know," yowled the sufferer, "I can feel it right down in my leg now." An X-ray was proposed on the jaw but the machine failed. The patient was desperate but the dentist was frustratingly calm. "I think I've located the right one," said the latter and then proceeded to wrestle out a tooth with a particularly vicious root. Next day the patient phoned up blazing with anger: the pain was still there. A later X-ray showed that all his teeth (including the one that had been yanked) were in perfect condition and he was suffering from a sinus condition.—D.W.

Action Dismissed Against E. I. Horton

TORONTO, June 1 (CP) — Ernest I. Horton of Peterborough, was absolved of all blame in a traffic accident here and an action for $1,100 damages, sought by two persons who alleged they were knocked down by his automobile, was dismissed.

Actually, a Supreme Court jury judged that the defendant was at fault in no way. The jury assessed the amount of damages, as required in event of appeal, but dismissed the action with costs to be paid by the plaintiffs.

Club Radioed

Of the Peterborough women's clubs recently nominated by Mayor Swanston in connection with the "Town of the Week" broadcast by a flour mill, theSoroptimist Club has been chosen by the company as the local group in whose name this feature will be given.

For that nominal sponsorship, the Soroptimists receive $100 from the company. The broadcast is at 10.30 a.m. Wed. June 8, presenting facts about Peterborough and about the work of the Club.

Five Contractors Bidding On Paving Job

Contracts for street paving and building of the nurses residence of Civic Hospital will likely be let at a special meeting of the council Thursday afternoon. It will be preceded at 4 o'clock by a meeting of the committee of the whole.

City Engineer Chalmers said today that five bids have been received for the paving schedule, and it should be of interest to residents of the streets to be paved that tenders are around 25 per cent less than the estimated cost.

Board of works report will be presented at this meeting with its recommendation of the acceptance of the A. W. Robertson Company tender for the nurses residence contract.

The special meeting will also deal with the paving bids, and it is understood that one of the tenders will be accepted, and that a paving bylaw will be given first and second readings. Third reading will be suspended, pending reference of the bylaw to the Ontario Municipal Board.

The tenders were opened Tuesday by a subcommittee, and Mr. Chalmers was asked to summarize their details for the consideration of the council.

Hon. L. B. Pearson Writes To Mayor

Mayor Swanston has received a letter from Hon. L. B. Pearson expressing his appreciation of the civic reception on the occasion of his recent visit to Peterborough as guest of the Life Underwriters' Association.

"It was a great pleasure to return again to the city where I spent such happy times when I was a boy, and to see how much Peterborough has grown and developed in the interval," Mr. Pearson wrote in part.

The Minister said Mrs. Pearson wished to be associated with him in their grateful acknowledgment of the city's hospitality.

Defacement Of Signs Criminal Offense

Liberals of Peterborough-Hastings are highly incensed over the defacing of a large billboard in Norwood which carried a national advertisement for the Liberal Party. Already an investigation is under way to try and discover the guilty parties. Norwood Liberals point out that similar things happened during the last provincial election but on a much smaller scale.

Such an act as the defacing of signs, they state, is covered in a section of the Criminal Code which carries a fine and also compensation for the damaged property, for those convicted of such an offence.

Britain Agrees To Pay Higher Argentine Price

BUENOS AIRES, June 1 (Reuters)—A last-minute concession by Britain to pay about 30 per cent more for Argentine meat, brought agreement Tuesday on a new Anglo-Argentine trade pact.

Britain had been holding out for a price of £96 ($384) a long ton (2,240 lb.). She now has agreed to pay £96 for a metric ton (2,204.6 lb.).

All details of the pact, replacing the Andes Agreement, have still to be worked out. Final agreement is not expected before the middle of June.

50 Tons Soot Month Fall In Toronto

TORONTO, June 1 — (CP) — The annual soot fall in Toronto may be measured scientifically for the first time in the city's history.

The meteorological Bureau and School of Hygiene will be asked to co-operate in measuring and analyzing the city's soot and smoke deposits, it was learned on Tuesday. It is estimated that approximately 50 tons a month a square mile is deposited in the downtown area.

In suburban New Toronto, Councillor Harold Trickett said he visited a residential area there and found the smoke so dense he could hardly see through it.

INQUIRING HUSBAND: "It's our first wedding anniversary and I want to have the gift in the correct tradition. Some friends say first anniversary is cotton, some say paper. Which is right? What gift would you suggest from a groom husband?"
Tradition says first wedding anniversary is celebrated with paper gifts. For a practical wife, why not a kitchen roller which holds paper towels. Or a box of assorted napkins. Much enjoyed would be individual monogrammed note paper or magazine subscriptions.
PATENT: "My husband has designed a small labour-saving kitchen gadget which we think should be patented. What is the procedure to have it both patented and manufactured?"
Apply to a patent attorney for search to be made of patent records. If clear of conflict, application can then be made at Ottawa or Washington. Cost to you varies between $135.00 and $165.00. Your patent attorney will be able to tell you which manufacturer to approach for best sales.
AUNT SPEAKS: "Will you please tell me how to introduce my aunt who is giving a travel talk to our women's group?"
When relatives introduce one another, custom decrees that the relationship be not mentioned. Forget the lady is your aunt and introduce her just as generously as you would anyone else

Flames Destroy Modern Barn In Rawdon Twp.

BONARLAW, June 1.—(ENS).—Fire of unknown origin on Tuesday morning destroyed the modern barn of William Morton of the 9th concession, Rawdon Twp. Loss is set at $7,000 but it is partly covered by insurance.

Mr. Morton was working in a field about a quarter of a mile away at about 10 a.m. when he heard a roaring sound. He looked up and saw black smoke rising from his barn.

The fire seemed to catch in the mow and he and nearby neighbors were unable to cope with the rapidly mounting flames. Although their efforts to extinguish the fire were unsuccessful, they were able to rescue stock consisting of 40 pigs and seven calves.

Destroyed inside the barn were a large mow of hay—about 20 tons—a ton of grain, cream separator, turnip pulper and other implements.

Sprayer Unavailing

The barn was about 15 years old and had been wired for electricity three years ago. Because of the comparative newness of the wiring job Mr. Morton doubts that a defect in the circuit caused the outbreak.

The township sprayer arrived from Harold, five miles away, but it was too late to be of any assistance. It was the third time this year that the sprayer has been used for fighting fires. Previously it had been successful in dousing blazes at the barn of Albert Reid on the 10th concession, and the brick home of John Burkitt 11th concession.

As other buildings were not near the barn there was no risk of the fire spreading to them but the barn was doomed as the flames spread too rapidly for the scant water supply to be effective.

Late Tuesday night the Mortons were clearing away the charred remains of the larger beams preparatory to rebuilding operations which will begin almost immediately.

MOTH DAMAGE GREAT

The annual damage from moths is estimated at $100,000,000.

It is estimated that each of the 80,000,000 stray cats in the United States eats about 50 birds a year.

Havelock Couple Honored On Silver Anniversary

HAVELOCK, June 1 (ENS)—Twenty-five years ago Monday, Walter J. Nobes, Sr., a native of Plainfield, Hastings county, and Georgina Prentice of Peterborough were married in Windsor, Ontario, by Rev. Amos Thomas. The anniversary was celebrated with a family reunion on Sunday in order that relatives and friends from a distance might attend. Monday evening, a reception was held. Mrs. Walter Nobes, Jr., received the guests. Serving were Mrs. Elmo Lawlor of Sault Ste. Marie, and Mrs. Fred Gibson and Mrs. James Wilde.

Surprise Arranged

A surprise for the couple was arranged at the family reunion on Sunday while they were away visiting the Fish Hatchery, Deer River. On their return they were presented with a silver basket containing 50 silver dollars, a gift from the brothers and sisters of Mrs. Nobes, which was presented by their small grandson, Wally Nobes. They also received many useful gifts, and other sums of money, as well as a host of letters, telegrams and cards. Anne Hubble and Wally Nobes presented Mrs. Nobes with a corsage of pink carnations.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nobes have served on the Board of Education. Mr. Nobes is a member of Havelock Lodge, A.F. and A.M., No. 326. Mrs. Nobes is secretary of the Women's Association of Havelock United Church Prosperity Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Resided In Detroit

Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Nobes took up residence in Detroit, Michigan, coming to Havelock, 17 years ago. They have three sons, Walter, Jr., Carl and Kenneth.

The out-of-town guests were: Miss L. B. Prentice, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Irvin, and son Paul, of Tweed; Mrs. Elmo Lawlor, Sault Ste. Marie; Mr. and Mrs. James T. Flaherty, Mrs. Margaret Prentice, Herbert F. Prentice, Marion Loftus of Detroit, Mich.; William F. Prentice, Jean Morgan of Des Moines, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. John Bradbury, Mrs. Lucy McKenzie, Miss Jane E. Watt of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prentice, Penny, Randy and Jud of Lebanon, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. George Priest and son Donald, Mrs. Della Prentice of Foxboro; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Prentice and son Robert of Marmora; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mouck and son Reginald of Thomasburg; Miss Jean Allen of Madoc, Miss Hazel King of Peterborough.

Catch Master Forger

LOS ANGELES, June 1 (AP)—A demure, gray-haired grandmother, long active in welfare work at nearby Burbank, was sentenced Tuesday to Women's Prison as a master-forger who baffled police for 13 years. Mrs. Margaret Berman, 54, drew a term of one to 14 years after pleading guilty to one of 10 counts of forgery involving theft of $6,655 from markets and stores. Police charged she forged names on cheques, sales slips and charge accounts.

Sayles-Skinkle

WARKWORTH, June 1 (ENS) —A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Skinkle in Percy township Saturday afternoon when their third daughter Jean Elsie was united in marriage to James Spafford, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sayles, Oak Heights. The Rev. H. G. Luster of St. Paul's United Church, Warkworth, officiated.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, took her place beneath a daintily-arranged arch of pink and white streamers with white bells and banked with snowballs, lilacs, dialetra and ferns. She wore a street-length dress of white silk, eyelet-embroidered and her finger-tip veil of embroidered net was caught with a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of American beauty roses.

Mrs. Donald Cameron, sister of the bride a matron of honor was similarly gowned in powder blue crepe. She wore a bandeau of blue and white flowers and her bouquet was yellow roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. George Sayles.

Luncheon was served to about 40 guests by four friends of the bride, Misses Marilyn Huycke, Norma Ferguson, Helen Carr and Alice Runciman.

The bride's mother received wearing a black silk jersey dress with black straw-hat and corsage of sweet peas and red roses. The groom's mother assisted wearing black crepe with sequin trimming white hat with black trimming and a similar corsage.

For travelling the bride chose a navy gabardine suit, white hat and black accessories. She presented her bouquet to the grooms grandmother Mrs. W. H. Porter.

They will reside on the groom's farm at Oak Heights.

Guests present included those from Belleville, Campbellford, Colborne, Roseneath, Warkworth, Oak Heights and Codrington.

Interesting Design On Cottons Main Attraction

TORONTO, June 1—(CP)—Attractive design and good color are the primary considerations when the Canadian housewife goes buying cotton goods.

At least that is how many British manufacturers have sized up the Canadian market. Textile exhibitors at the Canadian International Trade Fair have found by experience that Canadians on the whole like bright colors and "different" designs.

Some makers of cotton goods are developing lines to appeal especially to Canadian buyers, in both dress goods and drapery and upholstery materials. In general, designs are larger and farther spaced on the material than designs popular in Britain.

But finding that Canadian market is different from the home market adds only another facet to the British textile export trade. South Africa has it preferences; people there like brighter colors and closer designs than Canadians, Australia goes for British home-approved designs, while the native trade in Africa and the Pacific is another thing again.

Printed linens in a popular price range for slipcovers and draperies are taking well in the United States just now. And Hill Brown Limited of London and New York expect printed linens to be a popular trend in interior decorating.

They have found that pleasing designs and clear colors are even more important than quality in attractive sales.

Austrom-Frankish East-West Union

Of interest in this district is the marriage which took place in Vancouver on Saturday, May 14, of Marjorie Jean Frankish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Frankish, Lakefield, to Clarence J. Austrom, son of Mr. C. F. Austrom of Revelstoke and the late Mrs. Austrom.

The ceremony at seven o'clock in St. John's United Church was conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. E. Cooke.

The bride, who attended the Macdonald Institute at Guelph, was given in marriage by Mr. James M. Master. She wore a jacket-dress of turquoise with eggshell accessories and her corsage was of bronze orchids. Miss Bernice Clarke as bridesmaid was in golden beige with cocoa brown accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The groom, who is an engineering student at the University of British Columbia, and a member of Sigma Phi Delta, was attended by his brother, Mr. Harold Austrom.

Advises W.C.T.U. To Keep Talking

KINGSTON, June 1 (CP) — Rev. George A. Little of Toronto, Tuesday night urged delegates to the 72nd annual convention of the Ontario Women's Christian Temperance Union in their opposition to the sale and use of liquor to "talk out loud and keep on talking, always talking facts."

He said the present liquor situation in Ontario is "the absolute worst in the history of Ontario." He added:

"We have a different setup now in Queen's Park. We have a right to expect better things from Premier Frost, Provincial Secretary Welsh (Liquor Control Board Chairman) and Rev. John Foote, VC, (Vice-Chairman of the Liquor Control Board.) Talk facts to them until they clean up the mess their blundering predecessors perpetrated."

ORMTA Branch Elects Officers

Peterborough branch of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association Tuesday re-elected Mrs. Thursa Williamson president. Election took place at the annual meeting in the Public Library auditorium when other officers elected were:

First vice president, Mrs. Elsie Flett; second vice president, Mrs. Agnes Logan Green; treasurer, Mrs. Claire Johnston; corresponding secretary, Miss Alma Blanchard; recording secretary, Mrs. Kay Messerevy.

Mrs. Williamson announced the Ontario Association had decided to offer three $100 scholarships every year for singing, piano and strings, in place of the annual $250 scholarship which has rotated in previous years between singing, piano and violin pupils.

Annual reports revealed that the Scholarship committee and other committees of the branch, are in a sound financial position.

Piano duets were played by Marguerite Rome and June Croft. The social committee served refreshments.

Discuss Matter Of Males As YW Members

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP). — Maybe the men would be "embarrassed" if caught with a membership card to the Young Women's Christian Association in their bill-fold. But the truth of the matter is that many are taking an active part in "Y" activities these days.

Winnipeg "Y" brought the situation to a head at the YWCA nation convention Tuesday when it introduced a recommendation that membership in the association be opened to women and girls and also to men and boys who wish to participate in Co-ed programs.

A titter went through the audience of 350 delegates. Ultimately it rejected the proposal as far as the national organization is concerned. But not before the truth was out —that men raally like hanging around the "Y"—"YW" that is.

Vivian Durden of Winnipeg said that the men in that Prairie city interested in taking port in the Co-ed programs and the local association has extended associate memberships to them. She noted that after all "the association was founded in the interests of women and one of the interests of women is men."

Someone asked if the Winnipeg men were "clamoring" for membership.

Miss Durden replied that while she didn't think "they are exactly getting down on their knees" at the same time there are men who are "clamoring" to be in on the "Y" programs.

Representatives from Montreal, Oshawa and Ottawa, said men in each of the three cities definitely were interested in the Co-ed activities of the "Y."

Children Guests Of Murray St. W.A.

The meeting of the WA at Murray Street Baptist Church was conducted Tuesday afternoon to the accompaniment of voices of more than 50 children. The Association was entertaining the church's children of pre-school age and their mothers.

Mrs. J. Hayward welcomed the guests and presided while reports of various committees were given. These presented a picture of the work carried on by the organization. Mrs. Alex Haddow spoke to the children. Mrs. R. G. Gavine officiated for the cent-a-day offering.

Children's movie cartoons and ice cream cones provided a fitting climax for a gala occasion. Mrs. Jack Graham, president, organized the event.

DOROTHY DIX

Accept Refusal Like a Man If Woman Makes Proposal

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a widow 25 years old. Have fallen desperately in love with a boy of 20. I told him that I loved him and he only loved me as a friend and did not want to marry me because I am older and because I have been married before. Still, his eyes tell me that he really loves me. What shall I do?

Dorothy Dix

STELLA A.

ANSWER: Don't delude yourself into thinking that any man is hiding a secret passion for you that you can only divine from his eyes. A man's eyes are only mirrors in which you see what you want to see. That yearning look which you think you observe is probably caused by thinking of the steak and fried potatoes he is going to have for dinner and doesn't in the least mean that he is longing for you. Women always interpret the look in a man's eyes as soulful, but very often he is merely hungry or wanting a drink.

Now, I am an ardent believer in women having the right to pop the question, but when a man says NO, they should be good enough sports to accept his decision the same as a man does when a woman turns him down. Of course, they also have a man's right to persevere with the wooing if they have any reason to think that the man is likely to change his opinion. However, the over-persuaded seldom make good husbands or wives, so my advice to you would be to let this young man go and turn your attention to some more promising prospect.

His Feelings Platonic

When a man tells a woman that she is too old for him and that he doesn't care for warmed-over affection, it is very evident that his feelings for her are platonic, and there is not much chance of that kind of love ever being fanned into a flame. Also, you can be very sure that when a man loves a woman she doesn't have to be a clairvoyant. He tells her about it.

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you believe in the maxim that opposites attract, and that we should marry those who are entirely different from us in character and disposition, as well as physically? Lately I have been going with a girl who has all the virtues that would make her a good wife, except that she has no interest in the things that interest me.

I like to read and study and she never even reads the newspapers. She can't understand a good joke or story, and when I try to discuss anything with her she just gives me a blank stare. Do you think such a marriage would turn out well?

A STUDENT.

ANSWER: Absolutely not. I think you would bore each other to death within three months. It is true there is an attraction of opposites. That is Nature's way of keeping a good general average and preventing the human race from becoming a race of giants and pigmies, and morons and highbrows, but there is also a repulsion of opposites that makes people who have nothing in common with each other break down every barrier to get away from uncongenial companionship.

The happiest couples are those who have husbands and wives who think as they think, who like the things they like, who read the same books and hold the same views on everything from politics to pie. If you have to diagram your jokes to your wife, you will go through life as lonesome as a stray dog. If you like to read, don't marry a woman who isn't a reading woman. She will badger the life out of you about wasting time and money on books.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a woman of 45 and I long to go places and do things, but my husband would rather stay at home and sleep. He says he is dead tired, and that's that. Is it wrong for a woman of my age to want to have a good time?

MRS. C. D.

ANSWER: Certainly not. A woman of 45 is just in her prime and she is entitled to all the pleasure she can get out of her life. But I can't, for the life of me, see why women make such a grievance about their husbands not taking them out to places of amusement when a woman is just as free to go anywhere now as a man is. If she yearns for the movies, there are matinees every afternoon. She can belong to clubs. She can go to hen luncheons. She can get up her own little bridge parties. It looks as if she might satisfy her craving for diversion without making an issue of her husband not taking her out in the evening.

Have a heart, Mrs. C. D., let your husband stay at home and sleep and do your stepping in the day time.

Robinson-Ackison Wedding

In St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon, Margaret Violet, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ackison, RR 3, Peterborough, became the bride of Allan Ernest Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Robinson, RR 6, Peterborough. The Rev. Walter Patterson of Millbrook performed the ceremony.

Floral setting in church was of purple and white lilacs and pink snapdragon. Mrs. Harry Fowler soloist, sang "God Hath Not Promised" during the signing of the reister. Wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. C. Gledhill.

The bride wore a portrait gown of white brocaded satin with draped bertha neckline, basque bodice trimmed with tiny covered button, long sleeves with button trim, and a full skirt falling into a sweeping train. Her veil embroidered silk net was train length and held with a coronet of orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of Bettertime roses. Mr. Ackison gave his daughter in marriage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gordon Robinson, sister of the groom and bridesmaids were Miss Audrey Hatherly of Peterborough and Miss Ruth Huston of London, Ontario, cousin of the bride. Shirley Robinson, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Rainbow colors of their bouffant frocks of silk marquisette were mauve, blue, pink and yellow. The maid of honor wore a matching headdress and shoulder veil and carried a cascade of mauve sweet peas and yellow roses. The bridesmaids had matching yellow headdress and carried a small nosegay of pink sweet peas with yellow roses.

Mr. Donald Ackison, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Ushers were Frank Ackison and Earl Robinson, brothers of the bride and groom.

The reception following was in the church parlors. The bride's mother was in old rose silk jersey, matching hat and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore navy rayon jersey, navy hat and corsage of Bettertime roses.

Ladies of Lily Lake WA provided the refreshments. They were served by friends of the bride, Misses Fern Moncrief, Sheila Wilson, Barbara Campbell, Doreen Turcotte, Betty Long, Mildred Steinkrauss, Shirley Campbell, Violet Steinkrauss and Lois Moncrief.

Leaving later on a motor trip the bride was wearing a wine velvet dress, grey shortie coat and grey accessories. They will live on the groom's farm in Otonabee on return.

Lilac Tea Held By Young Adults

LAKEFIELD, June 1 (ENS).—A lovely lilac tea was held Saturday afternoon by the Young Adults Group of the United Church at the home of Mrs. George Tanner, Lakefield.

Guests were received by Miss Jean Millar and Mrs. S. Black.

The living room was artistically arranged with a miniature stone wall banked with lilacs, gay picket fence and garden chairs.

Lilacs centred the individual tea tables, and a large table was beautifully laid with lace cloth, tall silver candlesticks, and silver tea service at either ends.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Lloyd Bailey and Miss Jean Orr.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. G. Tanner, Mrs. Archie Stewart, Mrs. C. C. Colwell, Mrs. R. McCracken, Mrs. Ray Jackmen, and Misses Verna Miracle, Constance Orr and Helen Kelly.

Steele-Beatty Nuptials Held

CAMPBELLFORD, June 1. — Lilacs, tulips and spirea formed the background in Christ Anglican Church Saturday for the wedding of Barbara Elaine Beatty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Beatty of Campbellford, and Everette Robert Steele, son of Mr. R. J. Steele of Peterborough and the late Mrs. Steele.

The Rev. W. J. Lennox officiated. During the signing of the register Mr. Sid Hopping sang "Through The Years" and "At Dawning." The Wedding March was played by Miss Gertrude Maynard.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of oyster grey crepe with orchid accessories and carried a white prayer book covered with white gardenias.

The groom's attendant was Mr. Earl Graham of Peterborough, and the ushers were Bill Sparrow, Pickering and Arnold Steele, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Villa Trent where the bride's mother was in a gown of pale blue mesh with hat of black lace straw and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. H. L. MacMillan, sister of the groom, received in a gown of black and green figured silk with a hat of panama straw and wore a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele left later on a wedding trip to western Ontario and the United States. For travelling the bride chose a British wool suit in neutria biege with furs and chocolate brown accessories. They will reside in Campbellford.

6—In Memoriams

DOXSEE — In loving memory of Charles Doxsee who died June 1, 1943.
They say time heals all sorrows
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss him yet
God gave us strength to fight it
And courage to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose him
No one will ever know.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

PAGE—In loving memory of Mr. J. W. Page who passed away June 1, 1947.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear
Fond memories linger every day.
Remembrance keeps him near.
—From his loving wife and family.

WILSON, Russel—In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away June 1, 1947.
His weary hours and day of pain
His troubled nights are past
And in our aching hearts we know
He has found sweet rest at last.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife and family.

7—Cards of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to attending doctors, nurses and staff of Civic Hospital and all kind friends for gift and cards sent during my recent illness. Mrs. John Smith, Bethany.

Mr. and Mrs. Lem Pammett wish to express to their many friends, relatives and neighbours, doctors, nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital their heartfelt thanks and appreciation, for the many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and floral tributes extended to them in their recent sad bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Robertson, formerly of Dummer twp., wish to thank the kind neighbours who so gladly offered their assistance, during the recent fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Simpson.

To the clergy and Doctors who attended me during my illness at St. Joseph's Hospital also the Sisters and Staff, and to my many, many friends who were so very kind and thoughtful, I extend my heartful gratitude with a prayer that God may bless you all,— always. Mrs. Frank Young, Ennismore.

The Martha Club of St. Alphonsus Parish wish to thank Kresge's, Zellars, Woolworth's and Stedman's for their generous donation of dishes to their newly formed club.

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

Annual meeting of Prince of Wales Home and School Association was held in the kindergarten room Tuesday evening with an exceptionally large attendance. The program included several musical numbers. Mrs. J. Morley sang a solo, and orchestral selections were by Mrs. C. Ross, Mrs. E. Foster and three talented pupils, Robert Ross, Allan Dolman and Norman Moffatt. Also a selection by the Junior Choir, under leadership of Miss M. King, and accompanied at the piano by Miss M. Cox. The number chosen was a Canadian folk song, Marjorie make the Tea", and the young artists stole the hearts of their audience with the pleasing manner in which they sang.

Mrs. A. W. Nelson, president of Home and School Council, was guest speaker. She spoke briefly on the survey being conducted by Dr. Lezerte in relation to the teacher shortage, and stated parents cannot afford to be disinterested. The fact that in two provinces in Canada some 21,000 pupils are receiving education through correspondence courses fives food for wonder if such a problem may be faced here too.

Mrs. Nelson paid tribute to the late Mrs. W. R. Morris for high ideals in Home and School work.

It was interesting to note that Canada has 1,750 Home and School Associations, with a total membership of 120,000, while Ontario has 675 Home and School Associations with over 55,000 members. A glance at these figures shows the organization is a powerful force which can accomplish much for the good of the child.

In conclusion, the speaker gave a short outline of worth-while projects which may be dealt with by Home and Schools in the future, and asked for greater effort in serving the children.

Report of nominating committee was read by Mrs. A. Hall and election of officers followed: Miss D. Burgess, Mrs. E. J. Thompson and Mrs. L. Larry acted as tellers.

Following is the slate of officers for 1949-1950: president, Mrs. F. Gray; vice-presidents, Mrs. W. E. Baggs and Mrs. H. Parnell; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Goodson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. A. Amos; treasurer, Mrs. A. Hall; executive members, Mrs. J. Barry, Mrs. H. Garner, Mrs. C. Ruth, Mrs. A. Ward Smith and Mrs. G. Hill.

Installation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. A. W. Nelson.

Vote of thanks to Mrs. Nelson and all who took part in the program was moved by Mrs. G. Hill.

Attendance prize was won by Miss Huffman's class.

The evening concluded with a pleasant social time, luncheon being served by Mrs. H. Kearns, hospitality convener, and assistants.

Teacher Goes On Sitdown Strike At School Wants Money Deducted For Retirement Fund

ATLANTA June 1 (AP)— A chubby, bright-eyed doctor of philosophy sat stubbornly in the offices of the Georgia teacher retirement system today and promised "I'm going to stay here 'til I get my money."

The 54-year-old woman, Dr. willie Melmoth Bomar, a home economics teacher of Glenwood, Ga., began her sit-down strike Monday morning. She is trying to collect $65.78 deducted from her salary for the State's Teacher Retirement Fund.

Dr. Bomar wants the money to pay for treatment of a cancer.

"They took it out of my puny little salary without consulting me," said the dark-haired, determined teacher. "Now they want me to wait till I'm dead with old age to collect it.

"Well, I've got cancer, I need the money for treatment — and cancer won't wait!"

She spent her second night in the dark, deserted offices last night, using a couch in the women's room for a bed. She said she has lived on sandwiches since her strike started.

Last year the retirement board let Dr. Bomar have her deductions at the end of the term.

"They said they made a mistake," she declared. "Then the board pulled a secret meeting (yesterday) after I'd been waiting 24 hours to appear before it, and the chairman came out and told me they had decided against giving me my money."

ly found innocent, was forced to go through an expensive trial which cost him about $1,000 in money which he would have earned in a lumbering business, and myself as counsel $500, in legal expenses".

To Demand Report

Mr. Sheehy declared that he was going to get "a full report from the Attorney General's Department concerning the matter.

Turning his ire toward the present charges, Mr. Sheehy stated that Ketchum, still in custody pending judgment, is being shown no consideration, for a man whose wife is in Campbellford Hospital expecting a child.

Ketchum is also charged with theft of a backlight for an automobile valued at around $5. Harry Goodell, of Percy Township, was also charged with theft of the backlight and pleaded guilty. Ketchum entered a plea of not guilty to the light theft.

The 12-year-old son of Ketchum gave evidence on behalf of his father yesterday. He told how his father, after learning that the police had no warrant for his arrest, walked off accompanied by the boy to fix a plow, refusing to return, resulting in Provincial Constable Coffey following and an argument ensuing when Constable Coffey caught up with them.

Took Out Gun

"When the policeman asked him to come back and Dad refused the policeman took out his gun and pointed it at Dad and held it like he was going to hit him. Corporal McClure then said to the other policeman to put the gun away and use your fists or something like that". Continuing, the boy described how his father struck Constable Coffey and ran. He said he heard two or three shots fired, but couldn't be sure of how many.

Provincial Constable Coffey in his statement denied threatening to kill Ketchum, stating that he fired one warning shot to stop the fleeing man. He did not take out either his gun or handcuffs until after being struck by Ketchum, testified Coffey.

Magistrate Baxter deferred judgment until June 7.

Market Price Break Sharper Than Expected

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Tuesday's break in stock market prices is in accord with the sad sack view traders have been taking all along.

Through three years of unprecedented prosperity, they have in effect, shaken their heads and said "This can't last."

Prices of good issues have remained low enough to be good value even if economic conditions recede to a considerable degree. They've remained low enough to be good long-term value even if conditions recede more than a considerable degree.

However, having established a certain level, even if a low level to accompany boom times, they apparently feel they must retreat when it is felt that the peak of earnings has been passed.

Sharper Break

The break is sharper than might have been expected. It is notable, however, that it follows a period of virtually standing still. If in that time something has happened to give them stimulus, they would have advanced. Lacking that they have chosen to test a drop.

It would be difficult to say whose selling is causing the drop. It is reasonable to think, however, that there are many traders who are watching closely for the right moment to step in and pick up some good values.

No one has quite diagnosed the changes which have taken place in stock markets in recent years. It can be remembered, however, that, because of higher margin requirements and other regulations, they are not potential mediums for virtual gambling which could take place in the '20s. Neither are they so likely to collapse.

Hospital Grant Of $500,000 Given Toronto

OTTAWA, June 1—(CP)—A Federal hospital grant of $500,000—one of the biggest since the Federal scheme was started a year ago—Tuesday went to Toronto Hospital for Sick Children.

The money will be used to provide bed accommodation for 600 sick and injured children in Ontario. Expected to be completed in 1952, the new hospital will replace an older structure—one of the best-known institutions in Canada.

The Health Department, which announced the grant, said funds also have ben approved to assist in the building of Red Cross outpost hospitals in Ontario and Huntsville, Nipigon and Bancroft and for extension of the general hospital at Brockville and the McKellar Hospital at Fort William.

For the 30-bed hospital at Huntsville, the Health Department allocated $17,900, while another $13,400 went towards the 25-bed construction at Nipigon. The Bancroft Hospital, which replaces an older and smaller building, was awarded $14,300.

Thirty-four additional beds will be made available at the Fort William McKellar Hospital with the aid of a $4,500 Federal grant.

In Brockville the 112-bed building is to be enlarged by an additional 68 beds for medical, surgical and obstetrical cases. Aided by the grant of $68,000, the three-storey addition is expected to be completed by the fall of 1950. About 35,000 people in the surrounding townships will be served.

200-Pound Bear Shot By 2 Men

HAVELOCK, June 1—(ENS)—A black bear weighing 200 pounds which had been prowling around the barnyard of Joseph Seabrook near the Ontario Rock Quarry was shot on Saturday night by George Kennedy and Osborne Seabrooke of this town.

The two men started their search behind the quarry and when they had gone about a half mile they heard the bear in the bush It took five shots to finish the bear, a half hour having elapsed from the time they first sighted him. After being hit by the first two shots he ran for about 300 yards to the edge of a swamp where Mr. Seabrooke plugged him with a third shot as he was going through a fence. He was still able to enter the swamp and cross a creek. The men followed him into the swamp and two more shots there ended their quest.

Street Names of Marmora Have Very Interesting Origins

By W. J. COTTRELL

MARMORA, June 1—(ENS)—It has been no easy task to assemble the material for what I believe to be the first article of its kind that I now present for readers who at one time or another have been residents of Marmora.

I have had to carefully sift records in my possession and check with older residents as to names and situations of streets and the persons or places after whom they are named.

I shall mention the location of lesser-known streets only. The naming of Victoria and North Hastings Avenues, Main and Madoc Streets and the Norwood Road are easy to understand.

Started Iron Making

Hayes Street has particular interest in that it is named after Charles Hayes, who in 1820 began to take steps for the manufacture of pig iron in Marmora. In old records which are conflicting, he is referred to as an Englishman and again as an Irishman. He is probably the one who gave the community the name of "Marmora." Some of the older residents hold to the opinion that he was buried in the present Protestant Cemetery, but I have failed to find any positive proof of this.

Four well-known streets: Burstall, McGill, Forsyth and Matthews, memoralize directors of the Marmora Foundry Company, founded in July, 1849, and reconstructed in 1853. These men were: Edward Burstall of Quebec City; Hon. Peter McGill of Montreal; James Bell Forsythe, probably of Montreal; W. A. Matthews, mayor of Sheffield, England, at that time.

The names of two short streets connecting Burstall and Forsyth (longest streets of Marmora) at their southern end are not shown on the map of the village in the possession of the council. This is doubtless due to the fact that properties on them are assessed as being on one of the streets which they connect. The one street near the residence of George Forestell is Euphemia Street, named after the wife of one of the officials at "the Works."

Led To Residence

The other street for the past half century has been known as Knox Street, because it led to the residence of the late William Knox. Any name it might have possessed earlier is not within the knowledge of anyone living today.

The Pearce family is memorialized with the naming of seven streets: 1. Pearce Street, running north of No 7 Highway west of William McCallum's resident and recently opened up; 2. Mary Street, running east from Burstall Street at the Sacred Heart Church property; 3. Reginald Street, from Main Street opposite James Gehan's residence and running west to Crowe River; 4. Henry Street (Marmora's shortest street) connecting Reginald Street with Madoc Street; 5. Frank Street, from north of Main Street to north of Victoria Avenue (not opened up); 6. Thomas Street from McGill Street at residence of Bruce Wright running northeast to Frank Street; 7. William Street from McGill Street at Free Methodist Church to Victoria Avenue (partly opened up).

Cameron Street, apparently named after an official connected with the Iron Works whom I have not been able to trace, runs south of No. 7 Highway east of the CNR spur running into the village.

Leggett's Road and Leggett's Hill, a continuation eastward of Mary Street which was a part of the original road between Marmora and Madoc, is named after John Leggett, pioneer settler in the 7th Concession of Marmora Township.

Alexander to Visit Hong Kong Base To Study Defences

Trip Secret Until Last Minute Due Back June 13; Has Conference With Churchill

LONDON, June 2—(CP)—Defence Minister A. V. Alexander took off early today for Fayid, Egypt, on a tour of Commonwealth defence establishments in the Orient. "I shall be visiting a number of places n the Near and Far East," Alexander told reporters. He did not specifically confirm or deny Wednesday night's report that he would visit Hong Kong.

Defence ministry spokesmen declined to amplify Alexander's itinerary but said he is due back in London June 13.

Alexander's flying visit was a well-kept secret until a few hours before he left. Although the visit has been contemplated for some time, Alexander did not leave until the government had received from Malcolm Macdonald, British Commissioner General in southeast Asia, an up-to-the-minute appreciation of the situation in Hong Kong and Malaya.

The Defence Minister's departure coincided with Wednesday's secret defence talk between Prime Minister Attlee and opposition leader Winston Churchill. Though none of the details of this meeting have been disclosed, it is assumed that Hong Kong was one of the subjects raised.

The opposition has already criticized as inadequate the recent far-east reinforcements announced by the government last month.

London newspapers said Alexander's tour was prompted by Communist advances in China. Advancing Communist armies are expected to launch a drive southward to Canton, new provision capital on the Chinese mainland. Hong Kong is about 100 miles south of Canton.

Commenting on the inspection trip, the Daily Graphic's political correspondent says:

"The visit also will have the full effect of underlining for the benefit of the local population the British determination to defend the island and associated territories on the mainland against possible attack by the victorious Chinese Communists."

Alexander, in recent parliamentary debates, has been careful not to mention "defence" of the colony. But he has stated that Britain will "protect" Hong Kong.

Wednesday, 1,500 more troops sailed from Southampton to Bolster the garrison there.

In all, about 8,000 troops have been dispatched in the last few weeks to strengthen the colony's defences, which would give the colony 12,000 first-line troops.

Rudolf Bing To Head Metropolitan

LONDON, June 2 — (CP) — Rudolf Bing has been appointed the new general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Association of New York, it was announced Wednesday night. He succeeds Edward Johnson, a native of Guelph.

Pat Garrow, public relations officer for the Edinburgh Festival, said Bing will assume his new duties in October.

The appointment is for three years. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Bing, 47, began his career in opera management on the continent. He joined the Charlottenburg Opera in Berlin in 1930 and four years later returned to Britain as director and general manager of the Glyndebourne Opera. He became artistic director of the Edinburgh Festival in 1947 at an annual salary of £2,000 ($8,000).

Wants To Retire

The board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera Association announced last January that Johnson, 70, would retire as general manager at the end of the 1949-50 season.

A board statement at the time said that Johnson, who rose from a choir boy in Guelph churches to world-wide fame as a romantic tenor, had made repeated requests since 1945 to be relieved of his managerial duties. However, the statement said, Johnson will retain an active post as a member of the board.

Musidora Wins Oaks Classic

EPSOM, Surrey, England, June 2.—(CP).— Musidora today won the Oaks, premier English classic for fillies, over the punishing 1½ mile course.

Coronation V was second and Vice-Versa II was third. Both are French fillies, pick of a crop of five horses from France entered in the 171st running of the race.

Musidora, 4-to-1 favorite, came home a neck ahead of Coronation V. The second horse, starting at 6 to 1, had two lengths on Vice-Versa II, a 5-to-1 starter.

Musidora, also the winner of the one-mile 1,000 guineas for fillies in April, defeated Coronation V after a stirring stretch duel witnessed by a royal audience.

A bay filly by Nasrullah out of Painted Vale, Musidora was ridden by Australian jockey Edgar Britt. Coronation V is owned by Marcel Boussac of Paris.

Exhibition President Joseph Hickson Dies

LINDSAY, June 2.—A widely known citizen, Joseph Hickson, died Wednesday morning.

Before retiring in Lindsay he was a successful farmer in Manvers Township. For several years he was a member of the township council and served as reeve. He was one of the most popular wardens the united counties of Durham and Northumberland ever had.

The late Mr. Hickson was at one time a valuator for the Canadian Pacific Railway, and served on the Lindsay Fair Board for 20 years and president for six years.

He is survived by his wife, Martha Porter Hickson, one son, John Arnold, of Janetville, and a daughter, Mrs. Harold Thorne (Pauline) and one sister Mrs. John Jackson, of East Ops.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. H. Hesketh at 2.30 Friday from the McArthur Funeral Home, with interment in Riverside Cemetery.

Nurse Says Atkin To Get Even

Alleges Hospital Chief Makes Threat After Adjournment

WINDSOR, June 2 — (CP). — Horace E. Atkin, business superintendent of Metropolitan General Hospital whose dismissal was recommended by Judge Eric Cross on Wednesday, to-day denied he made threats against Mildred Maybee, former superintendent of nurses at the hospital.

It was reported last night by Miss Maybee that Mr. Atkin met Miss Maybee as he left the courtroom when hearings into the hospital's administration were adjourned and threatened to "get her."

Mr. Atkin said to-day that he called Miss Maybee after he heard reports that he had threatened her.

"I assured her I had no intentions of getting her and wished her the very best for the future. She returned my well wishes. There is no bitterness or hatred between us."

Judge Cross, one-man Ontario Royal Commission conducting the probe into the affairs of the city-owned hospital, recommended Mr. Atkin's "immediate dismissal" Wednesday as public hearings ended. He said he could not condemn the man too strongly for his actions at a Detroit party attended by Metropolitan nurses and prominent Windsor officials.

It was shortly after the party that Miss Maybee resigned. Both incidents led to the inquiry.

Reports Threat

Miss Maybee said las night that Mr. Atkin told her:

"Well, I guess you are happy now, Miss Maybee. You got what you wanted. We'll get you later."

She said she later heard reports he mentioned something about a council.

The threat was denied by Mr. Atkin.

"I remember saying I hoped she and the Council of Women were satisfied," he said. I certainly did not mean City Council."

Mr. Atkin said he would abide by the decision of his Hospital Board "and my resignation is ready any time." He said he would be willing to advise the board on matters of purchase pertaining to a new nurses' home soon to be opened.

Fine Toronto Man $100 For Securities Trading

BELLEVILLE, June 2 (CP)— Pleading guilty to a charge of unlawfully trading in securities, A. W. Cockburn of Toronto, today was fined $100 and costs.

John V. Logan inspector for the Ontario Securities Commission, told the court that Cockburn has sold debentures of Canada Chedworth Ltd., which ultimately had proved worthless.

However, there was no evidence to show that Cockburn know the securities were worthless and he was fined for unlawfully trading in securities because he was not registered with the securities commission as a securities salesman.

In default of payment of the $100 fine Cockburn will spend three months in jail.

Cockburn was charged with selling some $7,000 worth of securities over a period of more than a year. Two of the debentures, amounting to $1,500, were sold to an elderly Foxboro district spinster.

REFUSED REINSTATEMENT

NEW YORK, June 2—(AP)— The United States Court of Appeals today denied the request of three major league baseball players that they be reinstated.

Monster An Eel

RIDGEWOOD, N.J., June 2—(AP)—The Saddle River "monster"—a creature with a row of portholes on each side—turned out Wednesday to be just a lamprey eel. Robert Durrenberger fished the slimy creature out of the Saddle River Tuesday and set off a hunt for some expert who would identify it. Some students of marine life definitely identified the fish as a lamprey eel, Mrs. Durrenberger said.

Hundreds of Villagers Join Search For Missing Boy

EASTMAN, Que., June 2—(CP) —Hundreds of eastern townships villagers, hunting since Monday night for missing Michel Fontaine, were reinforced today as three truckloads of millworkers from nearby Magog joined in the search for the six-year-old boy.

The workers, given the day off as several eastern townships mills closed, joined a crowd of searchers who include the Eastman parish priest, police and all game wardens in the district.

The hunt for the boy, who disappeared when he followed his brothers into an upland pasture near this Shefford county village, is the biggest in the history of the eastern townships.

The number of searchers who came in scores of cars and trucks rose to 600 Wednesday night but diminished today although several parties searched the barrens and woodlands until five o'clock this morning.

An RCMP dog, taken out of the search when the boy's tracks were covered up by the crowd of searchers, was brought back into the hunt today but without result.

Abbe Paul Tourigny, who broadcast prayers from a loud-speaker-equipped truck during the night, led one party of searchers. He held mass in the Eastman Roman Catholic church this morning and blessed his parishioners as they left to join the search. To many of the searchers he handed out pictures of the Sacred Heart.

Meanwhile, hope waned that the lad, delicate and lightly-clothed, would be found alive after three night in the cold and without food.

Fire Destroys Steamship In Port Dalhousie Harbor

PREMIER OF ONTARIO, the Hon. Leslie M. Frost, and Mrs. Frost paid their first official visit to the city on Wednesday evening. Following a dinner with members of the Board of Governors of the Peterborough Civic Hospital, they attended the annual nurses graduation ceremonies. After the ceremony they had a short chat with two of the top nurse graduates, Joyce Cavano of Cavan, next to Premier Frost and Vera Fallis of Millbrook, silver and gold medal winners, respectively, for general proficiency during their three years of training. —Examiner Staff Photo

Stewardess Sounds Fire Alarm, Loss Said $250,000

PORT DALHOUSIE, June 2 — (CP)—A dawn fire today gutted the excursion Steamship Northumberland a day before the 1,255-ton vessel was to start its regular summer trips across Lake Ontario to Toronto. No one was injured.

Thirty-three crew members escaped in night attire to the pier where the ship was moored. They were awakened by stewardess Anna Bichholz, 23, who ran around banging on cabin doors.

Damage was officially estimated at $250,000 but replacement cost was estimated at $750,000.

J. R. Empringham, Superintendent of the company which operates the vessel, said it is unlikely the ship can be rebuilt, because of its age. It was built in 1891 at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, as an ocean-going vessel.

For 30 years the Northumberland plied the 30 miles between Toronto and Port Dalhousie, carrying as many as 1,050 passengers and freight. Canadian National Steamships operated it and another vessel, the Dalhousie City, on a summer schedule of several trips daily.

The Dalhousie City likely will have to carry on alone on the trips starting Friday until a replacement can be obtained.

The fire started in a men's washroom below decks. Firemen from Port Dalhousie and nearby St. Catharines poured tons of water into the ship working from the pier alongside it.

The flames were extinguished within four hours but the interior was gutted. The ship's steel hull, though black and blistered, kept an even keel. Officials said the danger of the vessel rolling over had passed when they started pumping out water at 10:30 a.m.

Miss Buchholz, the stewardess from Toronto who discovered the fire, said she didn't know "what

Rev. C. L. Cowan New Moderator Of Presbyterians

KITCHENER, June 2 (CP) — Rev. C. L. Cowan of Hamilton, Scottish-born churchman and author, is the new Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Dr. Cowan, for 24 years minister of St. Andrew's Church in Hamilton, was elected Wednesday night by the 75th Presbyterian General Assembly to succeed Rev. C. Ritchie Bell of Outremont, Que.

As Moderator, he presides at the General Assembly and is relieved of his own church duties during his one-year term of office so that he can visit Presbyterian congregations across Canada.

To reporters he said jocularly: "Don't ask me how old I am. I don't want my congregation to know."

The Lanarkshire-born Dr. Cowan came to Canada from Scotland at the age of 19. For some time he was editor of the weekly Fort Frances Times in Northwestern Ontario and also contributed articles to a newspaper in British Columbia.

Gathers Recruits

Dr. Cowan's interest in encouraging men to enter the ministry was praised by Rev. J. K. Lattimore of Smiths Falls who nominated him for the Moderator's office. Mr. Lattimore said the church now is calling for new ministers and he added:

"Dr. Cowan has led nine men, including myself, into the ministry in the last 12 years."

The new Moderator is the author of two novels, "Sandy's Son," set in the foothills of the Rockies, and "The Trail of the Sky Pilot" with a Northern Ontario setting. Both were based on his experiences in the ministry.

In the non-fiction field, the book "The Parson Hits Back," written under the pen-name Roman Collar, is a defence of the ministry. A fourth book, "A Challenge to the Church," examines the attitude of the church toward war and labor through the centuries.

Big Muskie Vanishes Under Noses Of RCMP

TORONTO, June 2 —(CP)— Canadian International Trade Fair officials are telling the story of the muskie that got away.

Despite the vigilance of his R.C.M.P. guards, the big fish disappeared from the pool at the Fair Building in the Exhibition Grounds Wednesday night, where he was on display with other typical Canadian fish.

The officials figure the muskie fugitive had human help.

West Hands Russia Berlin Plan

PARIS, June 2—(AP)—The West today handed Russia its plan for restoring four-power control in Berlin. A French informant said the American, British and French terms were placed before the Soviet Union in a 90-minute meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council, the shortest of this 10-day-old session.

The Ministers meet again Friday in a secret session, presumably to get down to business on the opposing plans of the East and West for Berlin. They are agreed thus far only in principle that the divided German city should be reunited under a single governing body.

Wednesday they split on a western proposal to limit exercise of the veto power in the four-power body. Today the western ministers weighed a vague Soviet hint that the Russians might agree to trim the Kommandatura's area of authority.

Want Rule Modified

Western representatives at the Foreign Ministers conference — spear headed by State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States —insisted firmly on modification of the old rule that all decisions of the Kommandatura must be unanimous agreement.

Acheson, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France urged that unanimity be required only for major issues.

Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky of Russia insisted that the Kommandatura retain unanimity rule. At Wednesday's meeting, however, French sources disclosed, Vishinsky said the Kommandatura's functions might be re-examined.

His statement was interpreted to mean that some authority might be withdrawn from the Kommandatura and delegated to local German administration.

Farmers Studying Plans For Stabilizing Food Prices

GUELPH, June 2—(CP)—Plans for stabilizing food prices and disposing of surplus products will be considered here for the next eight days by committees of the International Federation of Agricultural producers. Public sessions of the IFAP's third annual conference were completed at the Ontario Agricultural College here Wednesday. They will resume June 9 when the various committees report their recommendations. The Conference will end June 11.

Throughout the preliminary sessions delegates from 23 nations stressed the necessity of sponsoring some international system of selling farm surpluses at a profit to nations who need the food but cannot pay the price.

Professor N. G. Ranga, president of India's major farmers' organization, Wednesday appealed for financial and technical assistance from richer nations.

He said India required $1,500,000,000 to assist in reaching her objective of agricultural self-sufficiency in two years.

Better Story

Among the reports of member nations of the agricultural situations of their countries was that of C. Teanmo of China.

His was one of the more optimistic declarations. He said that production in China was steadily increasing despite the military situation. New methods were being applied and export markets had increased lately. More tractors and labor saving devices were being brought into the country and there was an increasing use of fertilizers.

But most of the European countries complained of loss of markets, shortage of currency and instability in prices.

Liberals Take 20th Nfld. Seat

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., June 2 (CP) —The Liberals have taken their 20th seat in Newfoundlands 28-members legislature.

Returns today from the northern district of St. Barbe showed the election in that riding of Reginald Sparks over Progressive Conservative opposition.

Liberals now have taken 20 seats in Friday's Provincial General Election, Progressive Conservative five and an Independent one. The other northern district of White Bay still has not been heard from.

Polling in Labrador, which will select the 28th member, has been deferred to July 25.

Death Toll 3 In Dixie Fire

TORONTO, June 2.—(CP). — The death toll rose to three today as result of a fire which destroyed a two-storey house at nearby Dixie Tuesday night.

Six-year-old Ronald Belford died in hospital this morning from burns suffered in the fire that also took the lives of his father, William Belford, and his three-year-old sister, Sharon.

His mother and a three-weeks-old sister escaped the burning building uninjured and William Belford was trapped in the blaze while attempting to rescue Sharon. He previously had pushed his two sons, Ronald and Melville, out of a second-storey window. Melville is reported in fair condition with burns about the head and arms.

UN Has $85,000,000 Plan To Boost Backward Lands

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, June 2—(CP). — The United Nations today presented an $85,000,000 plan to boost economic deevlopment of backward countries.

The comprehensive plan is the UN's answer to President Truman's call for a "bold new program" of technical assistance to under-developed areas of the world.

Trygve Lie, UN Secretary-General, released the plan in a 328-page document drawn up by UN officials. It must be approved by the Economic and Social Council and by the General Assembly before going into effect.

The financial planning involved covers the first two years of the program which could not be acted on until next year at the earliest. Officials estimate the first year would cost $35,862,576, the second, $50,179,807.

The report emphasized, however, that the present plan is only a pattern for further action.

The UN planners worked separately from United States officials in Washington who are reported working on a similar program. The Washington plan was said to take an estimated $125,000,000 to launch. Under that proposal Canada was expected to be asked to contribute about $10,000,000.

The UN plan would be financed by special contributions to the UN by countries taking part in the development program.

The plan would be carried out by the UN itself and its specialized agencies such as the International Labor Organization and the Food and Agriculture Organization.

Cost-of-Living Given On Friday

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP)—The latest move in Canada's fluctuating cost-of-living index will be known Friday or Saturday.

The index will be issued by the Bureau of Statistics and will indicate the trend of Canadian price ranges between April 1 and May 2 and perhaps show whether the living-cost barometer has settled on an even course.

The last report, issued May 4, and covering the period from March 1 to April 1, showed a gain of one-tenth of a point to 159.3 after two successive months of declines. At that reading, the index was 7.7 points above April 1 last year and three-tenths of a point below the all-time peak of 159.6 reached last October.

Four Youths Escape Guelph Reformatory

GUELPH, June 2—(CP)—Four young inmates of the Ontario Reformatory who escaped early today are the object of a wide search by police throughout the district.

The fugitives sought are: Donald Generaux, 21, Carrying Place, Ralph Giles, 19, Vanessa Lloyd Kilbourne, Komoka and Paul Parents, 20, Toronto.

Three of the prisoners were convicted of stealing automobiles while the fourth was convicted of housebreaking.

Officials said the four who were to be paroled in 13 days were driving cattle into the barns while the guards and other prisoners were putting them into their proper stalls. When the last cows entered, the youths did not follow but took advantage of a start of several minutes to make their escape bid.

British Union Chiefs Trying To Avert Strike Crisis On Railroads And Docks

2,500 Railmen Using Slowdown Tactics Despite Pleas By Officials, Perishable Goods Piling Up On Docks

LONDON, June 1 (Reuters)—The threat of paralysis in Britain's railroads and docks appeared held in check Wednesday night, though nearly 2,500 railway workers are using "go slow" tactics and 4,700 dockers are on strike. Union leaders are fighting hard to prevent the labor trouble from assuming crisis proportions before the week-end. They obtained agreement from railway men at an important northern - England freight yard to abandon their "go slow" campaign until the National Union of Railwaymen has had time to negotiate a claim for a raise of 10s. ($2) weekly.

This was offset by the simultaneous decision of 900 men at another northern yard to begin a slowdown, and similar action by nearly 200 men at four smaller yards in London.

Cross-channel traffic and carloads of perishable fruit from Italy and France were reported piling up at Dover and along the line to London.

Union officials went Wednesday to London's nine Elms, largest of the yards affected, to plead with the men to work normally to clear export goods which must be loaded on ships by Friday if they are to reach their markets in South Africa before the dominion's new import restrictions take effect. The officials were jeered and 400 men attended a meeting to vote to continue "go slow" tactics.

Getting Worse

The other rail dispute, in which locomotive crews on key routes from London to Scotland are striking every Sunday, showed signs of worsening. Men at the important northern port of Hull decided to join the strike beginning next Sunday.

Labor Minister George Isaacs announced in parliament that he has sent a letter to the NUR saying he finds it "difficult to believe the accuracy of a report in the press" that the union executive has found it impossible to take further action on the Sunday strikes.

He has invited the NUR executive to tell him what steps can be taken to "ensure that there will be no continuance of this unofficial action." The strikes were set off by discontent over new working schedules which cause locomotive crews to spend nights away from home.

Replying to Isaac's letter, the NUR executive said the union did not accept any responsibility for the stoppages. It decided to ask the minister to meet it immediately so that it can place before him "the full facts in connection with this matter."

Prisoner Suicides

JACKSON, Miss. June 2 (AP) —J. W. Poore, a condemned murderer, committed suicide Wednesday while the United States Supreme Court had before it a petition to stay his electrocution set for Friday. The 56-year-old Alabaman, convicted in 1947 for murder, was found bleeding to death in his cell here, his wrist and arms slashed with a safety razor.

Plan Modern Palaces

LONDON, June 2 (Reuters) — Britain's Royal Palaces are too old-fashioned and their rooms too big for modern requirements, the Ministry of Works says. The ministry has started gradually to modernize some of them—installing modern heating, electrical, water and sanitary services. Work has started at Buckingham Palace, London residence of the King.

Invite Russia To Join Protest

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The United States and Britain asked Russia Wednesday to join them in action aimed at halting alleged peace treaty violations by the Communist governments of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

At the same time the state department made public notes from all three Balkan governments denying they violated the human and civil rights sections of their treaties. They accused the United States of interfering in their internal affairs and fostering in their countries "Fascist" or anti-government elements.

The Anglo-American action was the latest in a long series against the three Soviet satellite regimes, which Washington and London have accused of denying religious and political freedoms, fair trials and the like to their people.

Guarantees of human rights are contained in the peace treaties which the former German-Allied countries signed after the Second World War.

Although the Western powers have made many accusations against the Balkan countries, Wednesday's move was the first to invoke the enforcement machinery of the states.

New Teachers To Get Allowance At Kingston

KINGSTON, June 2. — Fifty dollars per year is to be paid to teachers entering the employ of the municipal board of education for previous experience up to five years with a maximum $250 if the board accepts a recommendation decided upon by the management committee. This will apply to new appointments to the staffs of the public schools and to KCVI, effective Sept. 1.

Formerly no allowance was made for the first two years' outside experience. From correspondence conducted by the committee through the acting secretary-treasurer, F. A. D. Beach, with boards of education in various other municipalities it was learned most of these give allowances for the first two years' outside teaching experience when hiring new staff members.

Asks Repudiation Of Tactics By Conservatives

By The Canadian Press

Public charges of the use of racial and religious campaign appeals emerged for the first time Wednesday night as the drive for Canada's June 27 general election quickened in tempo.

With the voting date little more than three weeks away the accusation came from Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, the country's bilingual Prime Minister, as he called upon Progressive Conservative leaders to repudiate publicly racial and religious tactics which he said have been used in French-speaking Quebec.

He read to a public meeting in Owen Sound an advertisement published in French-language newspapers which said he had walked out of the Commons rather than vote against divorce, that he had refused to appoint an Ambassador to the Vatican and that he had said the French language could be abolished by the Commons.

"I'm not going to waste your time and mine by replying to what the advertisement contains," he told his English-speaking audience.

As Mr. St. Laurent pursued his Ontario campaign, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, spoke at Kelowna, BC, and denounced Socialism.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader speaking at Sault Ste. Marie, charged liberals and the Progressive Conservatives are entering into coalition in some Federal constituencies.

Not Worth Disunity

Mr. St. Laurent called upon the party's "real leaders" to repudiate publicly "propaganda" which he said has been used in Quebec at the expense of the "cause of unity and good will."

At the same time, in a public address, Mr. St. Laurent denied knowledge of tactics which he said have been attributed to Liberal workers by Georges Heon, chief Conservative organizer in Quebec. He quoted Mr. Heon as saying Liberals have told French-speaking housewives a Conservative government would "tear" the Crucifixes out of Roman Catholic schools.

He said it would be "a good thing for the decency of politics if the real leaders of the Conservative party would say, as I have said, that if they can't gain office without tactics of that kind they don't want office."

He said he wished to show Ontario people "what kind of appeal is being made in Quebec by the Progressive Conservative party." And he quoted an advertisement published in French-language papers by that party as well as a press report on remarks by Paul Bouchard, Independent candidate in the Quebec riding of Bellechasse.

He noted "rather significant similarities" in the two.

Fights Socialism

At Kelowna, Mr. Drew said he is fighting Socialism because he is loath to see Canada shackled at the greatest period in her history. Charging that Socialism has been a failure wherever it has been tried, he said it opens the door to Communism.

Both his Kelowna speech and one at Penticton were in support of Theo Adams, Progressive Conservative candidate for Yale. The seat was held in the last Parliament by O. L. Jones, CCF.

At Penticton, Mr. Drew said his party has been urging enactment of a national marketing act. His party feels that marketing should be restored to "democratic boards.

Mr. Drew said that an agriculture marketing act passed at the last session was a step in the right direction but falls short of "what we want."

He said that a government of his party would provide hospitalization for all citizens. This would be in co-operation with the provinces. Such a government also would see that sufficient funds were made available to the provinces for educational purposes.

Mr. Drew said that young people are growing up in Canada, being educated at great expense and then are moving to the United States. Additional employment opportunities must be provided to prevent such an exodus.

Housing Subsidy

Mr. Coldwell said subsidization of housing is a keynote of CCF policy. It was a proposal that the Liberals and Progressive Conservative parties had voted down during the last session of Parliament.

His party believed, too, in a national health insurance plan for Canadians and in stabilized and reasonable prices at home with increased exports abroad. There should be a program which would save the consumer from exploitation and give the farmer guaranteed markets and good prices.

Mr. Coldwell called for a national labor code which would protect the worker and speed the settlement of industrial disputes, and promised that a CCF government would enact legislation to ensure economic and social justice.

He contended that a "rising tide" of support for the CCF party is driving the Liberals and the Progressive Conservatives into coalition in some ridings across Canada.

He pointed to ridings where one or other of the older parties has refrained from nominating a candidate and instead is supporting the other's standard-bearer. The Progressive Conservatives were seeking to achieve "partial power" through a coalition with the Liberals.

"At the men's washroom it seemed awfully hot and smoky and I went to wake the chief engineer," the 23-year-old stewardess said.

"Then I went back up and got some clothes on, and went down again and knocked on all the doors of the cabins to wake up the crew. When I turned around and tried to get back to my cabin, I could hardly see for the smoke and flames, and I had to get out."

Had To Retreat

Crew members started to battle the fire with the ship's fire-fighting equipment. Within four minutes, they had to abandon ship. All escaped down the gangplank except James Young, 19, of Toronto, who shinned down a rope with the help of Mitchell LeDuc, 21, of Guelph.

Most of the crew lost all their possessions.

The fire was fed by new paint put on for the start of the summer trips. Though the vessel is owned by Canadian National Steamships, it was operated by Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway under contract

Besides regular commuters, the Northumberland carried large crowds of excursionists going on holiday trips to Niagara Peninsula area and to the picnic park at Port Dalhousie.

The Northumberland originally was built for the Charlottetown Steam Navigation Company to operate between the Prince Edward Island capital and Cape Tormentine, N.B. The Canadian government bought the ship in 1916 and she was chartered for Lake Ontario service after the First World War.

A Losing Battle

Chief Engineer G. T. Burton of Toronto organized the crew into a fire brigade but it soon became apparent they were fighting a losing battle.

Second Engineer W. F. Grant of Vancouver said "the Mate and I were manning a hose near the stern but the decking burned out above and fell on us. We had to get out. The smoke was killing us."

Deckhands' quarters near the bow of the ship were unharmed by flames. Crew members later returned to the quarters and recovered many of the belongings drenched by water from the fire hoses.

Firemen prevented the flames spreading to the Dalhousie City, moored a few feet from the Northumberand along the same harbor wall.

Crew members paid tribute to the first mate, Neil Livingston, 40, of Collingwood, who stayed below to the last minute fighting the fire.

Young, who shinned down the rope to the pier, was the only person hurt. He had to run through flames to reach the stern and suffered burns to his back and hand.

35 Battle Bush Fire

NORTH BAY, June 2 (CP) — Thirty-five men today are battling a 55-acre bush fire which broke out Wednesday afternoon in Gillies Limit, about five miles south of Latchford. Frank Miller, forestry protection supervisor for North Bay forestry district said the fire was "under control" late this morning. Crews are experiencing more than normal difficulty in battling the flames, since water has to be relayed through a series of hoses from a source on lower ground.

Fish Die By Thousands

LAKELAND, Fla., June 2 ((P)— Fish were dead or dying by the tens of thousands in Lake Wire today. The Lake, in downtown Lakeland, had been treated by the game and fish commission to kill vegetation, but the treatment was not considered dangerous to fish. Sportsmen said, however, they believe the dead vegetation killed the fish.

G.M. Employees Get 3-Cent Raise

OSHAWA, June 2.— (CP)— Eligible hourly rate employees at the General Motors plants in Windsor and Oshawa have been granted a wage increase equivalent to 3 cents an hour, company officials announced yesterday.

The company said pay envelopes at the two plants will increase approximately $35,000 monthly. The take-home pay has been further augmented by an additional $60,000 monthly because of smaller income tax deductions or elimination of the tax.

The wage increase is the result of an agreement last year between the company and the Untied Automobile Workers (CIO), which said in part:

"It is agreed that, effective June 11, 1949, all hourly rated employees shall receive a further increase of 3 cents per hour on their earned rate."

The 3-cent premium was agreed upon as a means of maintaining the standard of living of the employees. It will apply to pay cheques distributed June 24.

The company also announced a flat $5 monthly increase for a large group of salaried employees at Oshawa, Windsor and in the field. It applies to all employees whose salaries are less than $537 a month and will be included in the June 30 pay cheques.

Forecast Rate Of Ten Mills, Same As In 1948

COBOURG, June 2 (ENS) — A tax rate for 1949 of ten mills was forecast by the counties clerk and treasurer, William Barr, yesterday at the Northumberland and Durham Counties Council session. This is the same rate as last year.

The question of a grant to Campbellford's new hospital came up at a finance committee meeting. The hospital is to cost $229,000, but the town of Campbellford is short by $43,000 of this amount. Reeve J. C. Anderson said that the town would like a $10,000 grant to help make up the required $43,000, but considerable oppostiion was voiced by committee members. After some discussion the amount was whittled down to $5,000.

Budget Approved

The $4,000 budget presented by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, as Judge of the Family Court, was recommended after some discussion. Reeve W. G. Bowles said that it would be a bad mistake to cut this down as a good many homes were saved through the Family Court. In the consideration of the equalized assessment, the committee agreed that there should be no change until after the re-assessment committee had reported at the November session.

On Tuesday afternoon the council went out to look at the 3rd concession and 1st concession roads in Percy township. Last year the 1st concession road was taken into the counties road system, the bylaw being approved by the Dept. of Highways. At the present session the township of Percy sent in a resolution asking that the bylaw be rescinded, as they favored the 3rd concession road.

Yesterday morning, Reeve A. Watman of Percy township moved that the resolution of Percy township be received and no action taken. It was seconded by Deputy-Reeve A. Ferguson of Haldimand township. Reeve Frank George of Brighton, drafted a resolution to the effect that Haldimand and Percy townships come to an agreement and report back in writing at the November session, if no settlement is reached, the two roads would revert back to the township and in the meantime no construction work would be done. Both resolutions carried.

Green Pelts Only

Reeve C. B. Jandrew of Murray township, suggested that the bylaw by which three dollars are paid for each fox pelt, be changed to read "green" pelts, as he understood people were shooting foxes and bringing them into the county of Northumberland because of the better bounty. The bounty will apply only to green pelts, it was decided.

A resolution was passed that any councillor missing a day or more in the session, unless ill, would be docked his pay for the corresponding period.

Cars Are Damaged In Rush Hour Traffic

The fronts of two cars were badly damaged after a collision Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of Charlotte and Aylmer Sts. A few minutes before the busy 5 p.m. traffic period, cars driven by Bob Morris, 12 Inverlea St. and Beverly Johnston, 345 Rubidge St. were in collision and damage to the two vehicles is estimated at around $325. No one was injured.

Riding with Johnston were Donald Lynch, 488 Bolivar St. and Paul Strano, 328 King St.

There was a minor incident during Wednesday afternoon's rush hour further west on Charlotte St. near Rubidge St. Traffic was lined up along Charlotte St. and was being directed by Constable H. W. Andrew at the Reid St. intersection, when a car in the line up, driven by Hubert Dack, 860 Water St. failed to stop. The front of his car smashed into the rear of the next car driven by James P. Conlin, 505 Aylmer St. The force of the impact pushed Conlin's car into the next car, driven by J. McGlennon, 309 McDonnel St.

A fender on a Trent Canal truck was crumpled and the fender of a car dented and one of the doors scraped when the truck, driven by Alex McIlvena, 133 Cricket Place and the car, driven by David Garvey, RR 1, Douro, collided Wednesday morning in front of the Harley Apartments on George St. N.

Gets New Posting

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP)—Wing Cmdr. W. F. M. Newson, 31, of Victoria and Calgary Wednesday was appointed commanding officer of the RCAF station at Centralia, Ont., home of the Air Force's flying training and instrument flying schools. He replaces Wing Cmdr. W. C. Van Camp, 31, of Marwayne, Alta., who becomes senior personnel staff officer at North West Air Command Headquarters at Edmonton.

Remanded A Week

Bruce Bolton, Norwood, was remanded Wednesday until June 7 by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, when charged with stealing 100 feed bags from Havelock Co-Operative. Bail was set at $500.

Council Defers Business; Go To Horse Races

COBOURG, June 2 (ENS) — It was off to the races yesterday afternoon for members of Northumberland Durham Counties Council—at least for some of them. But they didn't go without some protest, for Reeve W. G. Bowles of Cartwright township declared yesterday morning that they were elected and paid to do the counties' business, not to attend horse races.

"And I like horse races as well as anybody. I have two dollars in my pocket here that I will put on the nose of a nag, but not during Counties Council session," said Mr. Bowles. "I came 50 miles to represent my township at Counties Council, and not to attend horse races. I would move that we have a session this afternoon at two o'clock." "And I will second it," said Deputy Reeve George Galbraith of Cobourg.

"Here To Work"

"I agree. We are here to work," declared Deputy Reeve G. A. Jamieson of Bowmanville.

Only eight out of 35 supported the motion. It was indicated that Council members did not wish to sit on Friday, so the remaining business, including $10,000 worth of recommendations for change at the Counties' Home from the Fire Marshal, along with committee reports, will all have to be dealt with on Thursday.

As is the custom, council will receive five days' pay for four days' session.

Pearson To Address Campbellford Rally

CAMPBELLFORD, June 2 — (ENS)—Hon. Leslie B. Pearson, Minister of External Affairs, will be chief speaker at a Liberal rally to be held in the Masonic Temple here Friday night. Other speakers will include the candidate for Northumberland, Dr. Fred G. Robertson of Cobourg; Aubrey "Dit" Clapper, Peterborough, candidate for Peterborough West, and W. A. Fraser of Trenton.

A week following the Progressive Conservatives will meet with Fred Gardiner, K. C., Mayor of Forest Hill; Mrs. W. B. Horkins, Toronto; Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare, and the candidate, R. Earl Drope of Harwood as speakers.

"Maytime Tea" Held By Hastings WMS

HASTINGS, June 2 (ENS) — The WMS of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held a successful "Maytime Tea" in the old post office building Saturday afternoon, when over $45 was realized.

Home baking table was under the direction of Mrs. H. Wilson and Mrs. Reta Johnston, who also handled the sale of aprons. The president, Mrs. C. Dodd, poured tea, assisted by Mrs. F. McKinney.

Awarded D.F.C.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 2 — (ENS)—Flying Officer Ronald Albert Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Russell, Seymour Township, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross at the recent Queen's University convocation, at Kingston for meritorious service on operational flights over enemy territory. He was the second airman of this district to be so decorated. FO David Edward Ness received the award last November.

Meter The Market To Milk The Goats

Some city officials have discovered that there is money in meters. The parking meters on George and other principal streets installed two years ago are more than paying for their keep. They are profitable. So the original purpose of installing the meters is forgotten and the cheek of the Council flushes with avarice as it eyes the parking space on the Market Square. Let's charge people to park in the public market. Let's squeeze the motorist every time he stops. Look, we can make money! Money out of the empty market lot! Lots of it; maybe $100 a parking meter a year. The market can park 120 cars; that amounts to—now, let's count it up carefully on our fingers and toes—oh, goodie, goodie, $12,000 a year. And if we can take up the centre walk in the market square, 150 cars can be squeezed in. Why, land sake's alive, that would be $15,000 a year!

* * *

Money may talk, but people should have a voice too, even people who drive cars downtown. We doubt that the proposal now before the Council is their voice. Street meters were installed not to raise money but to free the streets of all-day parkers, to relieve congestion, and to serve motorists who had to stop on a busy street but could find no parking space. The Market Square as a parking place for all times other than Saturday morning is a public convenience. It is owned by the city. Why should the citizens have to pay to park on it? Should their convenience not be served? The Council is a body elected to serve the people, not to milk them. And the city, conscious of the benefits derived from its visitors and tourists should provide for them a central and free parking space, such as the Market Square is now. The car drivers in this city are not goats to be milked.

Why Canada Honours Victoria

Last Friday we disagreed editorially with the Brantford Expositor's suggestion that the Monday nearest the 24th or May would serve as well for a holiday as the 24th itself. Replying, the Expositor says, in part:

One must agree, and sadly enough, with the Examiner in the matter of switching from Empire to Commonwealth and of some of the peculiar modifications lately contrived to suit India and Eire. But this seems to be somewhat away from The Expositor's original recommendation. If "Empire Day" is good enough for all the rest of the Empire (which, being interpreted, is Commonwealth) why will it not do for Canada? And, to repeat the question, why Victoria any more than Elizabeth or Anne or, if you like to be really traditional, Boadicea? Did Queen Victoria ever set foot in Canada? If so, history, for some unaccountable reason, failed to record the event. Victoria Day was marked in all British possessions, and properly so, while the good Queen reigned. That she has not done; however, since 1901. Since then Britain and the other countries of the Empire (now Commonwealth) have long observed May 24 as Empire Day. The only justification for calling Victoria Day a "Canadian" holiday, therefore, is habit, based on the failure of Canada to keep up with the times.

In conclusion the Expositor hints delicately that laziness and stubbornness may dictate our lack of eagerness to approve the change it suggests.

Let us examine this matter. (Examining is the Examiner's job; we let the Expositor do the exposition.) Unless we are mistaken, "Empire Day" is not a widespread British holiday. It is a Canadian school celebration which takes place on the 23rd. And Canada has a special regard of Queen Victoria because she was, officially, the foundress of our Dominion. The Victorian virtues of caution and orderly reform are still basic in Canadian politics and life, and we have also retained to a remarkable degree the Victorian regard for convention and emotional restraint. Though, as our contemporary says, Queen Victoria has not reigned in the flesh since 1901, she reigns in the spirit in Canada to this day, and much that is characteristic of us as a people, both good and bad, is the result of her influence.

That is why we think that Canada should celebrate the great Queen's birthday on the 24th of May and not, as the Expositor would have us, go whoring after some strange god called Empire Day, or Commonwealth Day, and doubtless soon to be called British Pseudo-Republican Hotchpotch Day.

Are Vegetarians Superior?

Bernard Shaw is the world's most celebrated vegetarian and, perhaps the most eloquent and tireless advocate of that diet that the world has ever known. Not long ago he wrote a letter on this topic to Mr. Pat Sullivan of Toronto, which reads, in part:

"Meat and alcohol are not stimulants: they are narcotics. Meat is a sedentary diet: no vegetarian could do with as little exercise and fresh air as a meat eater. Vegetarians are the most ferociously pugnacious people in the world, and animals that live on grass and leaves (bulls and elephants) the most dangerous. The carnivores are aggressive only when they are hungry. The tiger, if it misses its first terrible spring, slinks away discouraged; but the bull in the ring fights to the death; and the rhino is implacable."

Commenting on this the Ottawa Citizen points out that Man, the Meat-Eater, has domesticated the bull and the elephant, and is himself a ferocious fighter when occasion demands.

We should like to point out that in the bit of rhetoric we have quoted Mr. Shaw's powers of reasoning are at the mercy of his eloquence. A man is not a bull, or an elephant, or a rhinoceros, and he does not become like them merely by eating their food; the man who eats a bull's diet becomes, not a bull, but a Nebuchadnezzar. Mr. Shaw's reasoning is as far from facts as that of the savage who thinks that he can achieve the courage of a captured enemy by tearing out and eating his heart.

And, merely as a matter of fact, we do not believe that a tiger which has missed its first spring "slinks away discouraged". More than one hunter has told us that a tiger which has missed its prey slinks away just long enough to get a toe-hold, and then springs again.

Yes, a large steak, please, medium cooked. Brain food, you know.

A Word To The Unwise

On Saturday last one Peterborough observer saw three accidents averted within two hours; all three could have been serious, even to death; all three involved bicyclists; all three were averted by the skill and caution of motorists. These potential accidents were all caused by the folly of bicycle riders who appeared to be under 21 years of age; one girl ran through a red light and would have been hit by a car if the driver had not had good brakes and good physical co-ordination; one boy turned a corner sharply on the wrong side of the road and was saved only by a motorist who was able to stop her car after he was thrown into the road; another boy turned his bicycle directly into the path of a car on a busy street and dashed away laughing as the motorist jammed on his brakes, sweating with fear.

If a motorist hits a cyclist the sympathy of the public is usually with the cyclist. And yet every day cyclists put themselves in mortal danger, apparently without thought of the risks they run or the alarm and danger which they cause to motorists.

The rules of the road are just as binding on cyclists as on motorists. There is nothing clever, or daring, about behaving like a fool on a bicycle. And it is madness to trust to the skill of motorists, for many of them are not good enough drivers to take care of idiots on bicycles.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The cost of Britain's socialist medical plan has reached a billion dollars in its first year. Which proves, among other things, that something of the sort must have been badly needed.

The observations of astronomers require great accuracy, but they are as nothing compared with the anxiety of parents who have bought their boy a suit which is too big, and who watch for that split second when it fits him, before becoming hopelessly too small.

The St. Boniface (Manitoba) city council has shelved a petition for a second liquor commission store there because it has been discovered that many of the signatures on the petition were those of school children. Sots in the tot-lot?

A Detroit inventor was in Toronto recently demonstrating a plastic dew worm for fishing. It has the advantage of not being messy to apply to the hook. Now if somebody will invent a plastic fish which isn't messy to take off the hook fishing should become good clean fun.

Maria Edgeworth

By PATRICIA HUTCHINS
In The Manchester Guardian

Maria Edgeworth, the Irish Novelist died on May 22, 1849

"THERE'S a family here," said a workman near the square Georgian house in County Longford, "who were gardeners to the Edgeworths once, and they have the very pen with which Maria's books were wrote!" Before going to ask the nuns who now own the property if we might have the key, he pointed out an elm in the park whose branches were once low enough for her to sit on, so they say.

* * *

TO question tradition is often to wither it; and curiously enough, in Maria Edgeworth's last novel, "Helen," a famous pen is mentioned as becoming a museum piece. Should her own have survived it must have travelled across so many neat pages, from "The Parents' Assistant" and "Practical Education" through the children's stories to the novels, "Castle Rackrent," with the inimitable soliloquy of Thady Quirk on the claret-drinking, election jobbing landlords of another generation, the titled people of "Belinda," the airs of Lady Clonbroney, and the troubles of Mrs. O'Neill over middlemen and rents in "The Absentee," or to the delicate contrasts and development of character in "Leonora," "Harrington," and many short stories, later to follow the lovable Harry Ormond from his adventures with "King Corney" in the Black Islands to the arms of Florence Annely.

* * *

IT was certainly a remarkable pen if it served her from the age of sixteen, writing of a Gaelic Harpers' festival for a local newspaper, to the end of those long, friendly, descriptive letters when, over eighty, she used it in the library there for the last time before she died on May 22, 1849.

* * *

THE library, in a house where, characteristically, there was no drawing-room, is entered through a square hall, once crowded with maps, portraits, curiosities. It retains the pillars near where Maria's desk stood in summer time, a long, glass-fronted bookcase, and the mantelpiece round which the family sat to hear her stories. There is still the wide bow-window on to the park through which she had seen the "beautiful profuse blow" of the rhododendrons and her favourite tulip tree.

* * *

BELOW the curved staircase of the inner hall, up which so many guests—among them Erasmus Darwin, Thomas Day, Sir Walter Scott, Wordsworth — had carried their candlesticks to bed, stands the high, carved clock invented by Richard Lovell Edgeworth. Except for curved double doors to some of the upper rooms most evidences of his ingenuity have disapeared from Edgeworthstown. The special hoistable church spire, umbrellas for haystacks, springless carriages, and countless household devices are only legends now. Descended from a sixteenth-century English settler, perhaps from Edgeware in Middlesex, he is remembered as the husband of four successive wives, father of 18 children, a good landlord, and a conscientious member of the Irish Parliament who advocated fair dealing for Protestant and Catholic alike.

* * *

AMONG a number of smaller rooms is one which is supposed to have belonged to Maria. It has a tiny fireplace, two doors, and was probably shared with a sister. Farther on still is the loft lit by semicircular windows, mentioned in her letters when a nephew found an old wig there for charades in the library. Under the heavy sand-like dust are pieces of Richard Lovell's inventions; maybe—old scraps of plans, illustrations from a book on astronomy,—valuable only to the imagination now. In that warm unmoving air it seems as though something of that past life, its enthusiasms, disappointments, achievements, and the shared laughter risen from those rooms below, has somehow been stored for the mind there.

* * *

IN Edgeworthstown itself is the eighteenth-century building which was once a school, run by Maria's brother, Lovell, with her help. Some of the classrooms remain, over what are now stables. For ten years Protestant and Catholic, young gentleman and labourer's son, sat desk by desk there. Based on Richard Lovell's theories that education should aim at real understanding and use practical instances of illustration wherever possible, that health and exercise should accompany it, the school was an experiment far ahead of the period. But Lovell, gifted as a teacher, lacked his father's concreteness and they were eventually obliged to close, Maria by careful management righting the family finances.

* * *

AS a writer Maria cannot be considered apart from the personality of her father, who had that combination rare enough in Ireland—inventiveness which was not makeshift and imagination with the will-power and method to carry out a project, from the drainage of bogland to the working of a telegraph signalling system. In an atmosphere of security and good temper, it was natural she should grow from a schoolgirl listening to John Langan (Thady Quirk) in the stables to the young lady who visited the Longfords at Pakenham Hall and called Lady Wellington by her Christian name, the novelist who travelled abroad and was entertained in London and at Abbotsford.

* * *

IT is useless to guess what would have become of Maria Edgeworth's talent had she accepted her Swedish admirer and left Ireland. Like writing which has benefited by the ideas, criticisms, suggestions of another person her novels seldom suggest her own emotions: intensity is replaced by observation, and if they are over-lengthened by the moralising of the period, this is offset by much good sense and humour.

* * *

SCOTT declared that "Castle Rackrent" had started him on "Waverley." It is significant that Somerville and Ross, in showing the Quirks, Clonbroneys, the King Corneys of another generation, were both admirers of that remarkable family at Edgeworthstown.

Birthdays Of Canada's Cities

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

ATTESTING the remarkable development of the Canadian West, Winnipeg starts on June 5 a week-long celebration of its 75th birthday. Within a life-time, the prairies have been sown to wheat, thriving cities have arisen, new provinces have been created with all the apparatus of government, education, and social services. Through the Riel rebellions, the surges of immigration, real estate booms, and the growth of trade, Winnipeg has expanded in population from fewer than 2,000 to the 200,000 who live in the city and its suburbs today.

The history of Manitoba's metropolis is longer than 75 years, going back to the French trading posts built after the La Verendryes reached the Red River in 1734. Some of Lord Selkirk's Scots settled at "the Forks" of the Red and Assiniboine in 1812. Here Fort Garry succeeded two rival trading posts when the Hudson's Bay Company absorbed its competitor, the North West Company, in 1821. Across the river, French Canadians founded St. Boniface.

Though young by Eastern Canadian standards, Winnipeg is older as an urban community, and in its continuous history, than most Western cities. It grew: Regina was created. Victoria had become immediately important as an administrative center when the Hudson's Bay Company moved there from the Columbia in 1848, but "Gastown" had not been sprouting long before the Canadian Pacific came through in 1886 and the town was incorporated as Vancouver.

Some cities in Eastern Canada have reached a quite venerable age. In Newfoundland, St. John's boasted 60 houses in 1715; many fishing vessels were there as early as 1527; England's Sir Humphrey Gilbert took possession in 1583; it suffered Spanish and French raids, and was captured by the French in 1696. Quebec was founded by Champlain in 1608, and Montreal by Maisonneuve in 1642. Halifax is about to celebrate its 200th anniversary. Saint John was incorporated in 1785, soon after the coming of the Loyalists, who also settled Kingston and many other towns. "Muddy York," capital of Upper Canada, fell to the Americans in the war of 1812. It became Toronto in 1834. Bytown had existed only a score of years when incorporated in 1847. Changing its name to Ottawa in 1855, it was chosen as the capital of Canada four years later. Winnipeg is somewhat younger than Ottawa as a city, but its history of settlement goes farther back.

St. Laurent and Drew: Campaign Techniques

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

INTERESTING to note the different campaign methods employed by Mr. St. Laurent and Mr. Drew.

Drew, on the offensive, travels faster, covers more territory, tries to reach as many as possible of the larger centres. In two weeks he has ranged over Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario, is today in the heart of the West, using chartered planes to cover thousands of miles in an itinerary that old-time campaigners would have regarded as fantastic.

Laurier, Borden, Meighen, Bennett and King concentrated on the larger centres, depended on the mass meetings. Drew has been averaging and will average until the campaign is finished two or three speeches a day, will be heard and seen personally at small gatherings in perhaps a fourth of all the constituencies in the country, with local, provincial and national network radio speeches thrown in for good measure.

St. Laurent's campaign resembles Drew's only in that he, too, is putting less stress on the old-fashioned mass meeting, the sort of thing that Laurier, Borden and King used to hold at Massey Hall in Toronto, in the Forum in Montreal and in the Ottawa Auditorium.

But St. Laurent, moving across the country more slowly than Drew, is nevertheless seeing and speaking to many more people than Laurier, Borden and King ever saw or spoke to. His plan is to see and talk with small groups of people at train stops, to motor into villages and hamlets, to deliver short informal chats instead of long, set speeches. Thus on Sunday Mr. St. Laurent motored 125 miles through the Quebec countryside, stopping at churches to address church-goers, mingling with small groups, addressing children, visiting parish priests, being one of the people. It is a new technique, and one which may pay dividends.

One thing to be said for both leaders. They carry alike into their campaigns the authentic touch of democracy; understanding that the source of their positions is with the people, that it is their place and duty to consult with them, to court their support, to heed their opinions and wishes. That is a glory for all of us.

Bible Message

And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him. And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, and to have power to heal sickness, and to cast out devils....

And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

And he looked round about on them which sat by him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother. (Mark 3: 13-15, 20, 32-35.)

"God Helping Me . . ."

We wouldn't lay it all to Socialism, but if Tom Bracegirdle's soul died, in all justice the Labour Government of Britain must have a heavy conscience. Tom got caught in the meshes of bureaucracy. He struggled for a time but in the long run gave up. His story has been published but it is worth re-telling for the lesson it holds.

Tom was a Somerset County parish clerk. It was part of his job to put up election notices and in the free and easy way of England in the good old days he posted them on parish trees. All this came to an end when Sir Richard Acland turned his Somerset property over to the country as a national trust. The trees Tom used were on Acland's land, now the government's. The bureaucrats told Tom he had to quit posting notices on the trees and get five bulletin boards instead. From then on Tom was like a mouse in a maze. Here is what happened:

He got permission to raise tax rates a penny to pay for the boards. Then he applied, in triplicate, for an allotment of rationed lumber to make the boards. Next, he mailed the authorities a copy of the lease, in triplicate, covering erection of the boards. Then he applied, in quadruplicate, for permission from the County Planning Committee to erect the boards. The Committee sent the application back, saying that they had to have applications in triplicate for each of the five boards with a diagram of the proposed bulletin board on each.

"At that moment," as the correspondents put it, "something in Tom's soul died. He quit."

Perhaps Tom's rebellion will bring results. We are reminded, perhaps irrelevantly, of some serious changes that came about after a rebellious man had posted a notice on the door of a church in Wittenberg.

White Rhinoceros

It is reported from Tonj, in the Southern Sudan, that Mr. Carr Hartley, a professional hunter, of Kenya, caught four white rhinoceros during a month's expedition which ended recently. Mr. Hartley and the Sudan Government will share the catch equally. Each rhinoceros is estimated to be worth £5,000 and it is expected that American zoos will pay in dollars. Mr. Hartley caught the animals with a lassoo.—London Times.

PCVS Council Had Busy Year

As in other years this year's Students' Council at PCVS adopted a child in Alsace-Lorraine. By two semi-annual contributions to the "Save-the-Children - Fund" the students of the Collegiate have provided the necessities of life for the young French war orphan. Miss Catherine Graham, secretary of the Students' Council included this in her year's report to the students Wednesday afternoon.

Other things which the Students' Council did this year were: augmented the School Fund, each class contributing a minimum of $15; sponsored the Commencement Dance, At Home, and the May Ball dance; attempted to start a school newspaper, organized the Christian Assembly concert; purchased Gold Letter pins and Athletic Letters; made grants to the Concert Band, the G.A.A. and the football team; lent money to the Echoes; sent Christmas cards to other schools; lights installed to light the Memorial plaque; sponsored hot lunches for country students; sponsored the Class Pictures project; spent $25 for dance records; tried to improve the Senior Assemblies with singsongs and individual entertainment; Novelties committee sold school jewellery; sponsored four delegates to the Students' Council Convention in Kingston and purchased the painting, Bronco Busters, by Andre Bieler for the school's collection of original paintings by Canadian artists. A busy, improving place, PCVS!

DIGESTION OFF? Jittery? Pepless?

—Your Nerves May Need Feeding

Every act—every movement of your body, no matter how small, is controlled by nerves. When nerves lack nourishment, every function of your body may suffer . . . digestion . . . bowels . . . muscles. You may sleep poorly, feel depressed, physically and nervously exhausted.

An impoverished blood condition due to lack of sufficient iron is often accompanied by nervousness, for nerves may thus fail to get their proper nourishment. So if you are nervous, rundown, pepless and tired with sluggish digestion and bowels because of this condition try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. They not only help build up the blood but they supply Vitamin B-1 which contributes to the normal functioning of the nervous system and the digestive tract. Then see what a difference your improved blood condition may make, not only in your energy and strength but in your nerves, digestion and bowel action. Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today from your druggist.

Cows Sell Up To $225 At Otonabee Sale

Gordon Hancock reported today a big attendance at the James Manley sale of implements and livestock in Otonabee Wednesday afternoon. Shorthorn cows sold up to $225, and a bull brought $300. Calves averaged $75. A hay loader sold for $17 and seed drill $190.

Gale Elliott, of Harvey township, well known farmer of this county, is liquidating his farm plant in a sale June 10.

The Elliot farm stock and equipment include 52 head of Shorthorn cattle for which Harvey township has more than a local reputation. Many years ago farmers of that section abandoned their fall fair and converted their agricultural society to the raising of better beef cattle by improving the male line with grants from the government.

Four Motorists Fined For Speeding In City

Four motorists each paid fines and costs of $7.50 to Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, today for speeding.

They were G. L. Reeves, Buckhorn; Stewart Hostein, 511 Stewart St.; Wallace W. Brealey, RR 3, Indian River and Arthur Kelly, RR 6, Peterborough.

Fred Munroe, 413 Bethune St. paid a $10 fine and $2.50 costs for driving a car with inadequate brakes. Albert E. McEwen, 304 Burnham St. and Frank J. Mihilewicz, 148 Park St. each paid $7.50 for not observing stop signs, and D. Behan, Monaghan road, paid $5.50 for double parking.

All these fines were submitted with written pleas of guilty.

Two Trucks Collide On Buckhorn Road

Neither driver was hurt when a large dump truck and a panel truck were in collision at 5:25 p.m. Wednesday on the Buckhorn road, near Lakefield cemetery, although the former vehicle sustained damage of about $50 and the latter damage of $100 or more.

The dump truck was driven by James Piggott of Weston and the panel truck by H. Ferguson, 220½ Brock St., Peterborough. The sideswipe crash occurred at a point where the road is under construction and not in very good shape. The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable A. F. Grayling.

Tried To Stop Fight Youth Lands In Court

When Sheldon Smith asked a girl for a dance at the Pine Pavilion Saturday evening, little did he think the result would be a police court case for his friend, William Dormer. When Dormer faced a charge at city police court Wednesday of causing a disturbance, Smith told Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., that his friend had endeavoured to stop a fight rather than be the cause of a fracas.

The magistrate placed Dormer on suspended sentence after Smith had described how another fellow had struck him after he had asked the girl to dance. Dormer had stepped up to tell the other boy "to forget it" and a fight had ensued.

Bob Gilmour pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance there when he was charged Monday. He was fined $7.50 with $2.50 costs.

Mrs. Sarah Ridyard

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Sarah Ann Ridyard, 82, of 103 Gladstone Ave., was held on Wednesday at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United church, officiated and pallbearers were G. Butcher, B. McFadden, C. Long, W. Fair, L. Gilders and S. Killingbeck. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Ridyard died on Monday in hospital following a very lengthy illness. She was born in Liverpool, England, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Sandbach, and came from there to this city 45 years ago.

She was for many years a member of Trinity United church, and a life member of its Women's Missionary Society. In the last few years, owing to uncertain health, Mrs. Ridyard attended St. James United church and was an active member of its Cheerful Workers' Club.

Mrs. E. Leader Buried

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Emma Leader, 86, of 582 Bolivar St., was held today at the Belleghem Funeral Home. Major Charles Watt of the Salvation Army, assisted by Capt. Clarence Barton, Toronto, officiated. Pallbearers were Kenneth Clarke, Harry Sanders, Fred and William Milburn, Keith Mein and James Runnett. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Leader died on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Boorman, following an illness of several months. She was born in Finchinfield, England, and came to Peterborough from Waltham Abbey 43 years ago. Her husband, George Leader, predeceased her. She was a member of the Salvation Army.

Re-Elect Bridges

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2 (AP)—The CIO Longshoremen's Union announced tonight the re-election of Harry Bridges as president by a vote of 30,046 to 7,070. His opponent was Tommy George of Portland. Bridges was indicted last week by a Federal Grand Jury on charges of perjury and conspiracy to defraud the government in swearing at his citizenship hearing that he had never been a Communist.

Paint Shop Fire Causes Two Blasts

LONDON, Ont., June 2 (CP)—Fire starting in the paint shop of the London Concrete Machinery Company plant touched off two blasts Wednesday night that sent flames shooting high above the roof, and startled east side residents for blocks around.

The fire was brought under control within half an hour, with fire and water damage to the carpenter shop, shipping department as well as the paint shop. Loss has not been estimated.

Charred stands that had held two partially filled barrels of enamel thinner indicated to firemen that they had caused the blasts. Fire Chief R. C. McDonald said it is likely the barrels exploded as the result of the fire but cause of blaze itself was undetermined.

Westclox Girls Gain Tilt Over Electrics

Westclox walloped CGE 14-6 at the Bowl last night in a Girls' Softball League fixture, CGE errors accounting for many of the Clockers' runs. M. Downer hurled nine-hit ball and fanned 11, besides getting good support. She and M. Selkirk went good defensively for the winners, as M. Batley and G. Atkins were the pick of the losers. For the latter, M. Batley led the hitters with three for six. M. Selkirk and M. Hawthorne each collected three safeties for the Westclox colleens, as J. Vass smacked out a triple and double. The game was run off in slightly more than an hour.

Lindsay Takes Girls' Win Over Marines

Lindsay defeated Marines 21-17 on the Scugog diamond last night in a Girls Softball League tilt. They played better ball to earn it in a free-hitting and loose-fielding joust. M. Owen went the distance for them, as M. Connelly relieved E. Whittaker of Marines in the sixth. S. Curtis and M. Connelly hit triples, the latter and M. Walling looking good in the field. M. Owen and P. Graham worked a Lindsay double-play, while M. Chase and P. Richards fielded well. H. Deyell and D. Hunter each had four hits, and M. Chase got a homer. V. Mitchell hit safely five times for the losers.

The teams:

Marines: S. Curtis, c, rf; A. LaPointe, 2b; M. Hill, 1b; M. Walling, lf; M. Connelly, cf, p; M. Behan, ss; V. Mitchell, 3b; H. White, rf; B. Larmer, c; E. Whittaker, p, cf.

Remember When—

Ten years ago today the feud between Babe Ruth and the Boston Braves came to a head and the King of Swat was given his unconditional release, ending a spectacular baseball career of 22 years. He performed for 15 years with New York Yankees before a brief but torrid period with the Braves.

Trenton Hands Reverse To Young Petes

By FRED MAYBEE

Lefty Ellis let Young Petes down with three scattered singles as Trenton won 6-2 last evening at Riverside in a Lakeshore League baseball fixture.

Wade twirled good ball, striking out nine and walking one but eight errors proved costly. Haystead led at bat with a double and triple.

Coach Pagett shuffled his lineup and the team showed improvement from last week.

Ashby's Victors Over Lock Co.

Ashby's cashed in on one bad inning by Lock Co. in a Girls Softball League fray at the Bowl last evening to win 14-4. It was snappy otherwise, but Lock Co. also had a bad break in the fourth when J. McIntyre was hurt. Ashby's used 11-year-old B. Callan and she went well at short. She has an older sister on the team. E. McFadden and J. Dunk went good defensively for the Ashby's lasses, as M. Stewart and D. Weslake proved best for the Lock girls. L. Jordan hit a homer and single, and D. Callan got a triple and single for the victors. R. Roberts led the other side with a homer, double and single, D. Jackson clouting a triple and double.

Senior "A" lacrossers go tomorrow night at 8:45 in Miller Bowl and they're going against the league-leading Brampton Excelsiors. The word "excelsior" means success or onward or some such and, apparently, the Brampton gutted-stick aces take their team title seriously. Anyway, they haven't lost a game this season and it would be quie a jolt for 'em if the Petes should turn the trick on the morrow. With Dootch Vitarelli and Rowan Chute expected in the local lineup for this game, the Creighton crew ought to pack a real punch, and a hard-fought fray should result. No doubt, another bumper crowd of fans will see it.

Golf activity is picking up now, with warmer weather, at both local clubs. And both courses are in excellent shape. More and more members are making the rounds and many are really sharpening up rapidly. CGE Toronto and local plants have an inter-club match at Kawartha this week-end, ladies opened their season the other day at Peterborough, and the Midland League starts in Cobourg on June 11. Both Lex Robson and Gord Harrison, pros at the clubs here, expect to enter the Canadian Open in Toronto on June 22-25. Gord made a swell showing last week-end in Burlington, being one of four tied for second back of Bob Lamb in the tourney for pros and members. He will also take in the pro go at St. George's and a benefit at Weston soon.

TVL Wants Baseball?

Chap named Borland of Deloro writes to mention a meeting this Friday at eight p.m. in Havelock's Legion Hall to attempt revival of the old Trent Valley Baseball League. It is thought maybe it will operate as a junior circuit (age limit of 18 suggested) for this semester, with an intermediate league in mind for next year. So far, Marmora, Campbellford and Norwood are prepared to enter and are fixing up their ball parks. Other towns of the district are asked to have representatives at this huddle to see how many clubs may comprise the proposed circuit. The TVL is a big district factor in hockey, and a softball loop is now in operation, so why not baseball, too?

Oshawa Merchants play the senior Petes a COBL fixture at three this Saturday aft in Riverside. First showing of the bolstered Motor City club this season, and the way Coach Ty Tyson has been bragging about his boys they must have something. An imported battery from the States as well as several other newcomers to the lineup, and the pick of their previous players available again. The oldtime rivalry between the Oshawa and Petes' baseball teams should be much in evidence in this opening clash here, and it rates a real crowd of diamond fans.

Three Girls' Games

No less than three Girls' Softball League encounters last e'en. Up in Lindsay, the Scugog femmes took a 21-17 win o'er Marines in a loose and free-hitting fray. Better jousts at the bowl with Ashby's winning from Lock Co. 14-4—just one bad heat for the Lock lasses—and Westclox riding to a 15-6 victory over CGE on good pitching by Mary Downer and some costly bobbles by the Electrics. For Ashby's, 11-year-old B. Callan did okay in her debut as that team continues to pick 'em young and bring 'em along. Girls' games generally are better this semester so far and usually pretty snappy. A twin bill again tomorrow evening at the Bowl.

Lots of action last night along the Rue Brock as the pro matadors clashed in three bouts. Crowd wasn't so hot and next week's show may wind it up for this season. The villainous pair of Wee Willie Davis and Sandy O'Donnell—with a combined pull of 80 pounds on the weights—bulled their way to a main bout win over the popular duo of Pat Flanagan and Slidin' Billy Hanson. Whilst big Referee Ernie Powers tried hard but appeared powerless to halt illegal stuff pulled throughout. A hot scrap practically every minute, and some fan got kicked by a grapplers after 'twas over as Davis and O'Donnell headed through the crowd. Tug Carlsen won the semi-final windup from the Cardiff Giant via the disqualification route, as Manson and Korman had a prelim draw.

Oshawa Yanks Out Verdict Against Petes

OSHAWA, June 2 (CP)—Oshawa Merchants nosed out Peterborough Marines 6-5 here Wednesday night in a COBL tilt at the Kinsmen Stadium. It was the first defeat of the season for the defending league champions.

The nip-and-tuck struggle saw Oshawa come from behind to tie the count at 2-2 in the 7th inning, take a 5-4 lead in the 8th when Andy McMullen tripled with the bases loaded and break the 5-5 tie in their own half of the ninth.

Gunner Whitehill pitched seven frames for the Marines, gave up only two runs on seven hits but Merchants got four of these safeties in the seventh. In the eighth, manager Eddie Murphy sent Al Plunkett to the mound. It proved a bad move as a single, two walks and McMullen's blow put Oshawa in front.

Tie It Up

Peterborough tied it up in the ninth when Paul Michael weakened to walk Menzies at the start and then yield a long single to Crowe after Stewart sacrificed.

Bill Gingerich was hurried to the mound and he got the next two batters, on an infield out and a strikeout. Gingerich, who had lost two one-run decisions in two starts, walked to open the ninth, moved to second on Bill Cook's hard single. With one out, Gingerich had third base stolen cleanly and when Catcher Menzies' throw went into the dirt and down the foul line, Gingerich sprinted home with the winning run.

Sets Off Row

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—Lord Amwell, a Labor Peer, Wednesday night sent tempers blazing in the House of Lords whe he said he doubts the genuineness of some of Palestine's holy places. "The realistic fact is that there are no guaranteed holy places either in Jerusalem or in any part of Palestine," he said.

Davis and O'Donnell Victors In Main Pro Grappling Bout

The team of Wee Willie Davis, 280, and Sandy O'Donnell, 246, won the main mat bout at the Brock Arena last night over Pat Flanagan, scaling 222, and Sliding Billy Hanson, at 224, before a small crowd. The popular pair of Pat and Billy took the opening fall in just six seconds. As Davis rushed from his corner at the gong, Flanagan caught him on the jaw with a mule kick and pinned him before anyone realized what was happening.

They went right back at it in the second and Sandy eventually pinned Pat in 31 minutes with a strangle hold and slam, after the rougher pair had exchanged fast on choke holds to soften Flan up. It was followed by a furious mixup with all grapplers in it and Pat even grabbing Hanson once by mistake, the round was a hot one with four in at a time and Referee Ernie Powers running around like mad and trying to keep order and the fans yelling almost steadily.

Won Final

Scrappy Sandy took the final over Hanson in 17 minutes after he and Davis in turn worked in brutal style on Billy with hammerlocks, throws into turnbuckles, knees and slams. They threw the book at Billy as Powers vainly tried to keep up with it. Hanson's arm was hurt in this one. Angry fans threatened Sandy and Davis as they left and the latter was said to have kicked one fan while on his way to the dressing room. Everything went in the ring, with Pat and Billy going good for a time on teamwork and an exchange of slams and bulldogging grips on O'Donnell, after chasing big Davis out. Later, the villainous pair got Hanson between them and gave him the works to finally get the deciding and unpopular fall.

Tug Took It

Tug Carlsen, weighing 228, won the semi-final in 19 minutes over the 315-pound Cardiff Giant when the latter was disqualified by the referee for refusing to let Tug back into the ring. He tossed Carlsen out several times and kept knocking him back as Tug tried to return, despite referee's warnings, and disqualification followed. Previously the Giant used his strength and weight to advantage, as well as a lot of illegal and unpopular tactics, though Tug made it a scrap for a time, and drew cheers from the crowd when he got in there swinging at his huge bearded opponent.

Al Korman, 228, and George Manson, 220-pounder who subbed for Red Sims, went to a prelim draw in 30 minutes. They opened fast but it slowed down later, finally warming up near the finish again. Korman roughed it up considerably and wasn't too popular, and the fans cheered near the finish when George returned to the ring to hang Al in the ropes and paste him with elbows and fists as Referee Powers jumped around waving warning fingers. There was quite a bit of mat work shown in this one. A minute's silence was observed first for the late Phil Lawson.

Yankees Blank Chicago As Braves Trip Pittsburgh

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Who's the No. 1 righthander of the American League now that Bobby Feller has started to slip?

Vic Raschi, strong-armed New York Yankee ace, and Virgil Trucks, Detroit fastballer, appear to be the leading candidates.

Feller isn't finished. He showed enough Wednesday night in losing a 3-1 decision to Boston to prove that. But even Bobby admits he's not as good as he used to be.

Raschi put in a solid claim with his three-hit, 3-0 shutout of the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night. It was his seventh victory to one loss. Trucks survived a shaky start to subdue Philadelphia Athletics in 10 innings, 5-4, for his seventh triumph. He has been beaten twice.

Tommy Henrich's tenth homer broke up a 0-0 duel between Raschi and Howie Judson in the seventh. A double by Yogi Berra and Judson's wild pitch added a second run in the seventh and the Yanks nicked reliefer Clyde Shoun for an extra marker in the ninth.

Settles Down

Trucks Wednesday night started out like the worst pitcher in the league, walking the first three Athletics. Then he hit Hank Majeski to force in a run. Taft Wright's two-run single gave Coleman a three-run working margin but he couldn't hold it. George Kell scored the winning run in the tenth inning on Hoot Evers' single. After the shaky start Trucks settled down and struck out 10 in the extra-inning thriller.

Feller, making his first start in two weeks, gave up two runs in the second inning to Boston on two infield bounders, a walk and an error. Each side scored once later but that was the ball game.

In suffering his fourth loss to one victory, Feller allowed eight hits, walking four and striking out three.

Washington handed St. Louis Browns their seventh straight setback, 6-5, with the help of homers by Eddie Yost and Sam Dente.

The National League finally has a clear-cut leader in the Boston Braves.

Whip Pittsburgh

The Braves outscrambled Pittsburgh 8-6 to move a full game ahead of Brooklyn and New York tied for second. The Dodgers bowed to St. Louis in the afternoon, 6-3, while the Giants were trimming the Chicago Cubs, 11-5 on a seven-run, seventh-inning rally.

Nine pitchers saw action in the Boston-Pittsburgh game. The last place Pirates whacked out a five-run lead in the first two innings when they knocked out Vert Bickford. Ralph Kiner's 12th homer with a man on was the big blow. But Vic Lombardi and his successors couldn't hold the advantage.

Boston knocked over six runs in the fourth in a rally featured by Connie Ryan's double with the bases loaded.

Stan Musial cracked two homers as the Cards came from behind to top Brooklyn. Musial's second home run, No. 8 of the year, started a four-run rally in the ninth to give reliefer Jim Hearn the decision over Erv Palica.

Willard Marshall's 400-foot homer and Sid Gordon's triple helped the Giants come from behind to defeat Chicago's Emil Kush. Sam Webb pitched brilliant relief ball, allowing only two hits in 7 1/3 innings, to receive credit for his first victory.

Philadelphia Phillies scored twice in the 10th to down Cincinnati, 4-3. An error by Red Stallcup allowed the tying run to score in the extra inning. Andy Seminick's fly scored Gran Hamper with the winner.

Buffalo Downs Montreal In 11-7 Victory

By The Associated Press.

Ernie Silverman, 27-year-old righthander of the Buffalo Bisons is one of the most overworked pitchers in the International League but he thrives on it.

Silverman made his 15th appearance of the season Wednesday night and gained credit for an 11-7 victory over the defending champion Montreal Royals.

The Bisons entered the seventh inning enjoying a 7-4 lead but the Royals routed Clem Hausmann and Jim Parton, scoring three runs on a homer by George Schmees to tie it up. Silverman spelled Parton and blanked the Royals the rest of the way to pick up his seventh victory.

Buffalo bounced back in its half of the seventh, rapping Frank Laga for three runs and the game. Coaker Triplett led Buffalo's drive batting in three runs and scoring four on a homer, double and single.

Lead Giants

The triumph enabled the second place Bisons to remain 2½ games behind the leading Jersey City Giants. The Giants shaded the last place Syracuse Chiefs, 4-3.

Fred Gerken stole home in the ninth with what turned out to be the winning run.

Newark Bears eked out a 4-3 decision over the Baltimore Orioles, scoring all of their runs in the first inning against Irv Medlinger.

Baltimore pecked away at Erl Toolson, scoring once in the sixth on Red McQuillen's eighth round-tripper and sending the right-hand to cover with two runs in the ninth.

Rochester and Toronto were idle.

Athletics Whip Unbeaten Excelsiors 10-4

By The Canadian Press.

The St. Catharines Athletics did it Wednesday night. They trounced the unbeaten Brampton Excelsiors 10-4 as the leaders of the Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association tried to continue their winning streak.

At Mimico, the Mountaineers made it two in a row by downing the Owen Sound Crescents 15-9.

Big Bill Whitaker led the Athletics' victory with his sparkling netminding. He held the opposition to four tallies and made 20 saves.

The St. Catharines squad kept a close check on the Excelsiors but the game was exceptionally clean. Only five penalties were handed out during the second and last quarters.

After taking a 5-2 lead in the first session the Athletics tallied once in the next period while holding Brampton scoreless. Both teams scored twice in the third and St. Catharines went on to outscore the Excelsiors 2-0 in the fourth frame.

Paces Excelsiors

Carl Madget paced the Excelsiors with two goals, with singles going to Gord Graham and Arch Browning. Others went to Madsen, Whitely, McNulty, Hildebrand, Frick, Urquhart and McNulty.

Owen Sound held a two-goal lead until 7:15 of the first session when the Mountaineers tallied four in a row and ended the period with a 4-3 edge. From then on the Mounties sailed to victory in the roughhouse game that saw 17 penalties handed out.

Archie Dixon and Chuck Simpson led the scorers for Mimico, each notching a trio. Don Ashby and Arnold Smith scored a pair apiece for the losers.

May Discuss Teen-Agers' Place In Hockey

By JACK SULLIVAN.

NEW YORK, June 2 (CP) — Something hot may be on the griddle for the five-day convention of amateur and professional hockey interests in Canada and the United States opening here today, but you wouldn't know it from the attitude of delegates on hand. They just aren't talking.

"Frankly, we don't know the purpose of the invasion of pro leagues to our meeting," Al Pickard of Regina, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said in an interview. "We met National Hockey League officers at a routine meeting in Toronto in April and since then nothing of importance, to my knowledge at least, has cropped up to warrant another session."

The CAHA annual meeting, first held outside Canada in its 32-year history, is scheduled to start this morning. The resolutions and rules committee of the Association will meet during the day and Friday and pros come into the picture.

A joint meeting of the relations committee of the NHL, American, Pacific Coast and United States leagues, is scheduled with representatives of the CAHA, the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States and the International Ice Hockey Federation, governing body of the spot (amateur variety) in the world.

Although officials are mum on the subject, it is believed they will discuss the question of 'teen-aged players in Canada being lured to organized hockey leagues—a sore point with Ontario education authorities.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

It took him all of six weeks, but manager Burt Shotton of Brooklyn Dodgers believes he finally has straightened out his pitching staff.

"Yes, sir," the Dodger pilot said before Wednesday's game with St. Louis Cardinals at Brooklyn "the staff has begun to jell."

"For the first time this season, I have a set rotation. Of course, future events might force me to change but currently I plan to rotate Ralph Branca, Rex Barney, Joe Hatten and Don Newcombe.

"Preacher Roe, who needs more rest in between starts, will pitch every fifth or sixth day. Another who has earned himself a starting shot is young Jack Banta, who has looked very good in his last three relief assignments."

There are so many horses available to compete for purses on Ontario tracks, that there are whispers along shed row at Toronto's Woodbine race track that Canadian owners may plead for "preferred treatment" over the ever-increasing invasion of United States stables.

At the moment, 1,500 horses are registered to run on Ontario strips and many others can't find room for their thoroughbreds on the daily eight-race cards.

At Philadelphia, welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson and Kid Gavilan of Havana Wednesday signed for a 15-round title bout in Philadelphia Municipal Stadium July 11.

Robinson and Gavilan met last summer in a 10-round non-title fight at New York. The champion won a close decision. Since then Gavilan has beaten lightweight champion Ike Williams twice in overweight bouts.

Unfounded trade rumors have produced a severe case of nerves among players of the St. Louis Browns, manager Zack Taylor said Wednesday at St. Louis.

Charley Dewitt, vice-president of the American League Baseball Club, joined Taylor in expressing indignation over stories published in several cities during the Browns' recent disastrous road trip. The last-place club won only two of 13 contests on the tour.

Despite reports to the contrary, the two Brownie officials insisted the club has no deals pending.

The purchase of shortstop Al Stringer from Kansas City of the American Association by the International League Rochester Red Wings was announced last night at Rochester by Vaughan Devine, general manager of the Wings.

CGE Victorious In Soccer Over Lindsay

Canadian General soccer eleven defeated Lindsay 4-1 in a league engagement Wednesday evening in Lindsay before a poor attendance. Best for Lindsay were: Reg. Cox, Dobbie and Moir; for CGE Attard, Goodhew and Cotton.

Within a minute CGE were up a goal on a left wing pass by Goodhew who placed the ball over to Attard who diverted it into goal with his head. This was followed by Moir hitting the uprights and Willis missing an open goal. Just before the interval, Strong centred across the goal to Goodhue who scored as the whistle sounded.

On resuming, Attard broke fast from the kick-off to beat the Lindsay goalie Dobbie retaliated with a smart effort with a rocket drive below the cross-bar. A break-away by Goodhew and Wright found the former scoring from the 20-yard range. Towards the finish Lindsay bombarded the CGE goal without success.

Lindsay—N. Thomas, goal; R. Cox and V. Barbee, full backs; T. Dobbie, H. Taylor and N. Crawford, half backs; T. Nye, R. Nye, L. Willis, L. Appleton and E. Moir, forwards.

CGE—E. Titchhill, goal; C. Murduff and S. Murduff, full backs; H. Steel, E. Cotton and F. Booth, half backs; R. Strong, W. Wright, F. Attard, J. Chamberlain and J. Goodhew, forwards.

Referee, James Buchan; linesmen, T. Scott and J. Montgomery.

Central Victorious

Central seniors of the School Softball League ran wild to score 12 runs in the seventh yesterday and defeat Confederation 14-13. Both sides used three twirlers, the losers having three in during the third. It was a thrilling game with Confederation going good for six heats as Central left men stranded till the seventh. Delahaye finished on the mound. Teams:

Confederation: Holden, Bryan, Daniels, Outwater, Crouter, Tyndall, Holland, G. Symonds, C. Simmonds, Dunstan, Brooks, Martin.

Central: Rowley, Kelly, Delahaye, Harte-Maxwell, Black, Lush, Gardner, Noble, Patterson, Foster.

Umpires, H. Curry and N Gainer.

Continue Help To English Folk

NORWOOD, June 2.—(ENS).—At a recent IODE meeting of this village sums of money were voted for Provincial and European relief. Members were informed that one of the English recipients of the overseas parcels had died. The name of another elderly gentleman, an invalid, and living alone, had been received and a parcel would be sent to him in the near future. Some boxes for June, July and August will be sent through the United Emergency Fund for Britain, with Mrs. C. A. Copp in charge.

Mrs. A. Weir, president, gave an account of the annual provincial meeting at Hamilton. The semi-annual meeting of Provincial Chapters will be held in Kirkland Lake in October. 1950 will be the anniversary of the Order and plans are now being formulated for celebrating the event.

Tea hostesses for June are Mrs. James Baskin, Mrs. W. P. Forshee and Mrs. LaBrash.

Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Walter Bitten, Mrs. George Bitten and Mrs. Wm. Chamberlain.

Given Two Months For Shop Lifting

Stewart Laverne Dunford, Lakefield, admitted to Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court Wednesday that there had been only two years since 1933 when he had not been convicted of at least one offence. He was sent to jail for two months for shop lifting at Kresges after having denied the charge.

When shown a watch which Miss Georgina McDougal had said she saw him take from a counter in Kresges store, Dunford said he had bought the watch in Ottawa and also accounted for his possession of a ball point pen and 2 pairs of sun glasses which were said to have been stolen by him from Kresges, by saying he had bought them elsewhere.

Detective William Clarke said that he had arrested Dunford after he had tried to sell the watch to him on Simcoe St.

Miss June Dolan, a clerk on the ladies' accessory and jewellry counter, said that two watches were missing after Dunford had been standing beside the counter. Mrs. Veronica Holmes also gave evidence.

Resisted Arrest Man Is Fined $25

Changing an earlier plea of not guilty to guilty, Clarence Neall, 466 Patterson St. was fined $25 with $2.50 costs Tuesday for resisting Constable William Scott in the execution of his duties and $7.50 with $2.50 costs for causing a disturbance in the Hollywood cafe Sunday evening.

Appearing in city police court before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, and still bearing traces of a black eye, Neall said he had paid his bill after eating at the cafe and on leaving the building, realized that his two friends were still inside. He said he went back into the cafe, after being on the street for only a few seconds, when a Chinaman told him to get out.

Chief Constable John Thompson said the proprietor of the cafe had asked Neall to leave but he would not do so.

Had Liquor In Car

Ray McCaskie was Wednesday fined $15 with $2.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court for having liquor in his car. Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings told the magistrate that he had found a bottle of ale in the glove compartment of McCaskie's car.

The Crown offered no evidence when McCaskie also faced a charge of driving while his driver's license was suspended and that case was dismissed.

Ex-Comrades Mourn William W. McKim

Funeral services for the late Wm. W. McKim of 373 Division St. took place on Monday from the Nisbett Funeral Home. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. James Semple assisted by the Rev. W. B. Greenwood.

The largely attended services and the many floral tributes attributed to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Walter Batley, Ian Woods James Woods, George Moore. John Bradbury and William Miller. Ex-members of the 21st Battalion were in attendance and took part in the commital service at which the Last Post and Reveille were sounded. Burial took place in Little Lake Cemetery.

Play Repeated

NORWOOD, June 2 (ENS) — The play, "Lena Rivers," was presented by All Saints Anglican Church Dramatic Club, Peterborough, in Norwood Town Hall Monday evening. Rev. P. A. Richard, rector of Christ Church, was chairman. Piano selections were played by Jim Abraham at intermission. The Ladies' Guild sponsored the play.

Dartford News

The spring thankoffering services were held in Dartford United Church on Sunday, Rev. H. G. Lester had charge of the morning service owing to the illness of Rev. E. W. Claims Liberals Become Arrogant

ALLISTON, June 2. (CP)—J. M. Macdonnell, president of the Progressive Conservative Party's National Association, said Wednesday night that the Liberals have been in power so long that some cabinet ministers have become arrogant and believe they rule by divine right.

Mr. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative member for Muskoka-Ontario in the last House, addressed a nominating convention which chose Earl Rowe as Progressive Conservative candidate for Dufferin-Simcoe in the June 27 federal election. Mr. Rowe has represented the riding at Ottawa for 25 years.

Arguing that it is time for a change of government, Mr. Macdonnell said Trade Minister Howe's "arrogance" takes form in irresponsible statements, Finance Minister Abbott's in believing the government can spend citizens' money better than the citizens themselves can spend it and Prime Minister St. Laurent's in "dissolving parliament without good reason."

LOVE FINDS A WAY—A courtship extending over a year in the old folks' home at Fort William was climaxed during the week-end when Nicholas Kowanchuk, 71, and Mary Ann Jennings, 80, were married by Rev. Canon S. F. Yoomans. The couple slipped away from the home last week and applied for a marriage licence, then announced they were going to wed. A reception attended by more than 60 guests was held at the home following the ceremony, with Mayor Hubert Badanai of Fort William proposing the toast to the bride. They will continue to live at the home.

Husband Says Wife Missing

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 2—(CP). — Mrs. Cora Dawes 31, of Brantford, chief cook on the freighter Renvoyle, was reported missing when the vessel reached here Wednesday afer a trip down Lake Superior.

The cook's disappearance was reported by her husband, who also works on the ship. At the time the Renvoyle was near Caribou Island in Lake Superior, Captain A. Francis ordered a thorough search of the vessel and then made a check of the surrounding water.

When no trace of the woman was found, Captain Francis sent a radio message to police here and resumed his trip. Authorities here said all members of the crew of the Canada Steamship Lines vessel will be questioned.

19 Gold Letters Awarded To P.C.V.S. Students

At the last assembly of the year of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School Wednesday afternoon 19 students received gold letters. The Gold Letter is the highest award obtainable in the school and is awarded by the Students' Council.

Wesley Brown, Students' Council teacher-advisor, told the assembly that the qualifications for the letter are exacting—extra curricular activities and meritorious service above and beyond the faithful performance of their duties. He continued that the letter was not given for merely holding an office and that all the students had to have a satisfactory scholastic standing.

"I have just finished reading the Trail of the 49'ers. They were a rugged band of individuals who trekked the continent in quest of gold," he said. As each chapter unfolds, it relates the trials and tribulations, the hardships, the patience perseverance and unremitting toil of these men."

"These are the 1949'ers. One just has to peek in a classroom, the gym, the auditorium, and the playing field to witness some of their unremitting toil. Four o'clock meant just a change in their sphere of activity."

Mr. Brown added that he had no hesitation in saying that the success of functions in the school this year was due in no small measure to the students receiving the awards. The large number receiving the special award this year, he said, was due to the large number of successful enterprizes.

"The end of the quest of the 49'ers was gold and so it is fitting that our 1949'ers be rewarded with gold; a gold letter in the form of the letter "P." Gold is precious and I trust that these gold letters shall serve as a precious memento of your school life."

Czechs Out To Get Markets Hope To Get Trade All Over

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Czechoslovakians intend to sell their goods in any part of the world which will buy them, and apparently they believe that means the whole world.

As Dr. Miroslav Mares put it to a press gathering:

"We want to trade with all without discrimination and our participation in the Canadian International Trade Fair speaks louder than could any propaganda."

Or, as Stanislav Klima, Charge d'Affaires at Ottawa, said at a dinner Wednesday night:

"Czechoslovakia is maintaining her reputation as a good and reliable trader. Our trade with the East does not influence our trade with other countries. One-half our trade is with the West.

"Politics should not be a hindrance to economic co-operation, which should be a benefit to all. Our economic planning is not of a discriminatory nature. We are not only selling we are buying. We have to import raw materials in order to make the goods which we export."

Dr. Alexander Kozak said it this way:

"Canada and Czechoslovakia have much in common. We have to export as you do.

Big Opportunities

"As we see it, there are big opportunities for our two countries to co-operate and deepen common relationships. We can easily buy more from you, and you can easily buy more from us."

This is Czechoslovakia's second year at the Canadian International Trade Fair (now being held in Toronto May 30-June 10). Last year her representatives sold more than $1,000,000 worth of goods.

Her exhibit is one of the show pieces of the fair, in machinery, textiles, glassware, precision instruments, optical goods, motor cars, paper, wood articles, ceramics, pilsen beer.

It has a professional touch, and quality. In the last year, breaking into the market, they have sold about 1,500 motorcycles in Canada and some 4,000 in the United States. Recently they have sold a few of their stream-lined, rear-engined cars.

Last year, said one of their spokesmen, even 1936-designed machinery was able to compete with the latest in North America.

It seems a fair summation, judging by their representatives at the Trade Fair, to say they remain hard-working, sincerely trying to turn out good products, and so far determined to maintain their association with, at least, all trading peoples.

McCurdy of Toronto, centre, national president, and Mrs. George Black of the Yukon, a national life member of the organization.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

100 BOYS UNDER CANVAS

The 1949 Camporee is now history, one which started to appear a failure when only four patrols were officially registered but turned out to be a success when 17 with a total of 100 boys braved the cool, damp weather pitching their tents at the scout grounds. There was a decided lack of officers on hand but those present tackled the job with confidence.

Your scribe did not appear on the scene until Saturday evening, to find everything sailing with colors flying. Scouter Fred Ford was the king pin, and he was ably assisted by Field Commissioner Art Jackson, Scouter Ed. Pinn, Jim Brown, Ken Jakins, Earl Westman, Jack Legere, and others. Albert Ingham was in charge of the cook-house and stores. The quartermaster for the past three years, Don Metheral was able to attend for a short period and Pete Dominik Ron Gynane and Tom Littlefair, all active members of previous Camporees, stayed over Saturday evening and Sunday.

In spite of the rain and cold, activities went forward in a good style. Camp fire on Saturday evening brought forth some of the hidden talent of those present. Jack Haye, as a singing instructor, took lots of punishment. District Commissioner E. J. Wolff came out for the camp fire program accompanied by Messrs. Jones and Ryan.

Commissioner Art Jackson conducted the service on Sunday morning assisted by four patrol leaders.

At the closing discussions, Scouter Ford thanked all those who assisted in the Camporee. Commissioner Art Jackson challenged the Committee to gather the Scouters and all Assistants to a similar camp in the Fall.

Scouter Ken Jakens of the Sea Scouts, Lakefield, suggested that a joint field and way sports day be held in Lakefield for Scouts and Cubs. This received favorable attention from all.

Too much cannot be said of the Quartermaster, A. Ingham, who come through in good style with meals and equipment.

We understand that a full report of the grades will be issued in short time.

Canadian Jamboree

We regret to report that Peterborough will not be strongly represented at the Jamboree being held in Ottawa next month, as only four boys are registered. Lakefield, with only one troop, is sending two. Port Hope, with two troops, will have about seven and maybe more.

Trinity Pack

Twenty-three Cubs assembled at the Council Rock to give welcome to Paul Ross and Earl Daynes as they were accepted into the Pack as new Chums.

The games of Dodge Ball and a relay race put the added zipp to the program. Two members of the Pack received promotion, Jack Freeman became Sixer of the Red Six, and Frank Jobbitt as his Second. Akela reported to the pack of the "Going Up" ceremony on Wednesday in which Sixer Teddy Spearin and Sixer Jack Dafoe bid farewell to the Pack and were accepted into the Troop with the members of their Sixes present for the occasion. Bob Perry passed: somersault; Peter Chown, Ron Brazor, Bert Heuback, Bob Richey: compass; Ron Brazor, Peter Chown: National Anthem; Ron Brazor: skipping and physicial exercise, and finally Sidney Dinsdale: first aid.

Butter Production Up

TORONTO, June 2 (CP) — Butter production in Ontario is increasingly rapidly, the agricultural department said Wednesday. A report showed that 6,544,000 pounds were produced in April, an increase of 13.1 per cent over the corresponding month last year. Production for the first three months of 1949 totalled 17,715,000 pounds, 10.2 per cent more than the same period last year.

Have Secret Session

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee and Winston Churchill, the Conservative leader Wednesday went into their first secret huddle on the state of Britain's defences. One official commented on the meeting that "it is the tradition of the House of Commons to take the Opposition into its confidence on defence matters in uneasy times."

CCF Would End Free Enterprise

BEAVERTON, Jdne 2. (CP)—John Diefenbaker said Wednesday that the plans of the CCF, if they are effected, would put an end to free enterprise in Canada.

Mr. Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member for Lake Centre, Sask., in the last House, told a public meeting in the town hall of this Lake Simcoe community:

"The policy of the CCF indicates that destruction of free enterprise is its purpose. They aim to accomplish this either by Socialism of industry or by the bountiful promises that are made, which will not only maintain taxes at their present levels but actually increase them far above what they are today.

"The CCF would socialize Canada to a degree that Britain has not been socialized. They would bring in a flood of regulations by direction which would be. destructive of private enterprise. This has been borne out in England and in Saskatchewan."

Preference For Navy

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 2 (CP) —Enlistment for Canada's armed forces began in Newfoundland Wednesday, and, true to their traditions, the Islanders showed a preference for the Navy. Capt. H. H. Morgan, recruiting officer, happily surveyed a stack of some 600 applications and told reporters that "things are going very well."

Follows Foosteps

TORONTO, June 2 (CP) — Florence (Diddy) Ferriman, Miss Toronto of 1948, Wednesday was married to Ted Courtney, of the Toronto Argonauts football club. Ten years ago Miss Toronto of 1938—Dianne Perkin—also married an Argo football player, Art West.

DO use arm signals to warn those behind you intend to slow down, stop or turn. Bicyclists must follow road rules just like motorists.

DON'T hitch to moving vehicles of any kind. This is one of the most dangerous bike stunts, takes many lives and brings countless injuries.

DO have a dependable headlight on front and a good reflector on rear for necessary night riding. Remember—risk goes up as the sun goes down.

DON'T carry passengers on the crossbar or handlebar. Don't break this rule, even for your best girl. This is one of the chief causes of crack-ups.

DO ride single file on the extreme right side of road. Riding abreast or weaving in and out of traffic confuses motorists, boosts chance of accidents.

DON'T ride bike on sidewalks when there are pedestrians or playing children. Dismounting and walking your bicycle around them means safety.

REMEMBER THESE DO'S AND DON'TS OF BIKE SAFETY — Summer means bike time all over the country. And bike time means accidents, injuries and even death if youngsters are careless and take unnecessary chances "on the road." Here are some do's and don'ts suggested for safe cycling:

Eight Boys Are Convicted Of Throwing Firecrackers

A group of four boys who admitted throwing firecrackers among the crowds at the Jaycee jamboree in the Exhibition Grounds May 24 and another group of four who had firecrackers on George St. the same evening, were convicted by Magistrate W. R. Philp K. C., of causing a disturbance.

For more than an hour firecracker incidents were described in city police court, as the offenders at the Exhibition Grounds pleaded guilty to the charges and three of the other boys arrested on George St. pleaded not guilty.

Fines of $5. were imposed on all the youths, who were between the ages of 16 and 20 and each had to pay costs of $2.50 with the exception of one, whose case was heard for nearly half an hour. His costs were $3.75.

The four boys who pleaded guilty to causing the disturbance at the Exhibition Grounds were Leo Tobin, 16, of 315 Murray St.; John Eanilko, 18, of 248 Charlotte St.; Robert Kitchen, 18, of 736 Victory Crescent, and Duncan McRae, 19, of 730 Young St.

Conducted Own Defence

Trevor Davies, 215 Barnardo Drive, was the first to be charged with the George St. disturbance. He conducted his own defence, as did three other boys, and had apparently prepared the case with great care. In spite of his conviction, he won the admiration of the magistrate who commented on how well he had presented his case.

Constables Allan Edmison and Grant Gillespie said that the boys had been throwing firecrackers at pedestrians and cars travelling on George St. and said that one had exploded within a foot of a girl's head.

Davies admitted having thrown firecrackers across the street, but maintained that at no time were they thrown when cars were passing nor at people passing on the street.

A group of Collegiate boys had thrown crackers across the street at them from the west side and so they retaliated. They did not, he said, throw them at any other people.

No Girl Hurt

Kenneth Batchelor, 144 Montgomery St., said in his own defence, that if a cracker had exploded within a foot of a girl's head, she would surely have suffered some injury and would probably have wanted to lay a charge or lodge a complaint. She had gone on her way, however, and had apparently not been hurt.

Edward Payne, 60 Murray Street also denied throwing the firecrackers at anyone except the Collegiate boys. He said that when they had been taken to the police station they had not been allowed to speak for themselves.

Ronald Logan, 165 Edinburgh St., pleaded guilty to the charge and Keith Dinsdale, 289 George St., who was a fifth member of the party, was acquitted. Although he had been with the other boys, he had not been throwing firecrackers.

When the magistrate convicted the boys he explained that irrespective of the conflicting evidence given by the police and the accused concerning whether the crackers were thrown at cars and pedestrians, the fact that the boys had admitted throwing the crackers across the street was evidence enough for conviction.

V. J. McElderry K.C., conducted the prosecution for the Crown.

John M. James, Liberal, Contesting Durham Riding

One of the best known of the younger men in Durham County, John M. (Johnny) James is the Liberal standard bearer in Durham Riding in the forthcoming Federal election.

Bowmanville is his home town. He was born and raised there, the son of the late Norman James, who with his brother, George W. James, published The Bowmanville Statesman. The paper is still in the family with Mr. James being a co-owner with his uncle who directs the editorial policy of the paper; the result, a rabidly Conservative sheet.

After going to public schools and the Bowmanville High School, he started right in to learn the newspaper trade — and he started the hard way, in the back shop. From there he branched out into the editorial end and is now handling the business end of the paper.

Enlisted in 1939

He enlisted with the outbreak of hostilities in 1939 with his home county outfit, the Midlands Regiment. He was later transferred to the Directorate of Military Intelligence in Ottawa and went overseas with counter-intelligence serving in Italy, Belgium, Holland and Germany. On his return home, he rejoined the Midland Regiment reserve.

Always keenly interested in his home town, Mr. Jones is a director of the Bowmanville Rotary Club and vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce. He was one of a committee of three that was responsible for securing funds for the construction of an $80,000 ice arena for the town.

In 1941 he married a Bowmanville girl, Dorothy Edger and there are two children, John aged six years, and Robert two and one-half years.

Spectator Tiffs Wrestler Biffs Impromptu Bout

Ray Cranston, 496 Cambridge St., discovered Wednesday evening that he is no fair match for 280-pound Wee Willie Davis the wrestler, with whom he had a tussle as the wrestler made his way from the ring at Brock St. arena to his dressing room.

Either Cranston attacked Davis from his place in the audience, or was pushed against the wrestler by accident—it was difficult to see what started the trouble—but the two men came to blows and the result was not to the disadvantage of the professional wrestler.

Davis was walking from the ring, after a victorious match with Sandy O'Donnell against Pat Flanagan and Billy Hanson when the crowd saw he had become involved in another fight, this time with a member of the audience.

Cranston learnt to his cost that it does not pay to cross the path, either accidentally or on purpose, of such mighty men of muscle. He was fortunate to escape a black eye or any other facial disfigurement but is now nursing a strained back.

For a few seconds it looked as though disorder might follow the incident and City Police Constables Grant Gillespie and Douglas Farthing were called. The unscheduled fight passed over, however, without further tuffling.

7 Unclaimed Bikes At Police Station

Nobody has claimed a bicycle which has been standing in Mrs. L. Fligg's back yard at 264 Hunter St. W. for the past week. Today Mrs. Fligg, who does not know who left it there, handed it over to City Police.

The police station is becoming a dumping ground for unclaimed bicycles. In the cellar there are seven cycles and two children's tricycles which are apparently unwanted.

Latest addition was a small child's wooden seated tricycle which looks almost new. No doubt it was a gift from Santa Claus and must have caused considerable heartache when it strayed.

Oppose Granting Of Exemptions For Lotteries

PICTON, June 2 (CP) —Delegates to the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada Wednesday approved a resolution asking the Federal government not to grant exemptions for lotteries and games of chance for religious and charitable purposes.

They requested that the government repeal that section of the Criminal Code dealing with the exemptions.

The Conference also endorsed an evangelism and social service report submitted by Dr. James Semple of Peterborough which urged that there be no easing up on enforcing of gambling laws.

Delegates favored housing subsidies for low income groups.

"The government should increase its efforts to supply houses for the low-paid, non-veteran group," the report said.

Rev. J. E. Anderson of Brighton was named president of the Conference, succeeding Rev. V. McNeeley of Oshawa. Rev. John Glover of Elgin was elected treasurer.

Candidates ordained into the ministry Wednesday were: George Teskey of Wellington, Wilson Morden of Picton, John McAvany of Brockville, Harold Wesley Griffin of Sharbot Lake, Gordon Moore McKenzie of Cobourg and Charles Poulter of Madoc.

SCOTT TO SPEAK

Harold Scott, provincial Minister of Lands and Forests, will be principal speaker at a Progressive Conservative meeting to to held Saturday night at the party's George St. headquarters. Reeve Fred K. Gardiner of Forest Hill Village, north of Toronto, will be another featured speaker as well as candidate Gordon K. Fraser.

War Barge, LCM, Now Civvy Waddles Through Lift Lock

Of all the strange craft that have passed through the Trent Canal system, none caused more interested attention, of the few who saw it on Wednesday afternoon, than a converted Army landing barge. It was hoisted through the hydraulic Lift Lock at 2:05 p.m., an ugly-looking craft with an upturned ramp for a bow and a narrow sentry-box pilot house near the stern. The open hold was filled with a conglomeration of rusty winches, pumps and lengths of large pipe. The "Murray Hill" was not a pleasure craft but one of utility.

Skipper Tom Holden, Toronto, and friend Joe Beechie, London, both second-year law students at Osgoode Hall, and Orville Lisk of Madoc made up the crew. They had left Kingston on Monday morning and hoped to reach Barrie or Lake Simcoe by Saturday.

They were not a regular crew but Tom agreed to take the barge to Lake Simcoe for his brother Jack in Kingston who has a similar craft in his postwar dredging business.

Converted Military Barges

Jack Holden, an RCAF veteran, started his business with one Motorbarge of the LCT ("Landing Craft Tank") class purchased from War Assets. The Murray Hill, an LCM (a small landing craft) was a secondary investment which he decided to send to Lake Simcoe to be in a position to handle any business offering in that district.

These plywood diesel powered barges were the type that played such an important role in Normandy landings during the Second World War. They were built for military utility but to convert them to commercial use a lot of work had to be done.

A four-room cabin was built in front of the wheel house containing bunk rooms, kitchen and dining room. Originally the barge was powered with twin diesels but it was found that a single motor was sufficient for the dredging business.

Two motors might have been better, skipper Tom Holden thought, as they warped through Lock 22. Even though weed growth was still short on the Otonabee, they had to take time out at the Lock to clear the propellor of weeds that had cut down their cruising speed by more than half.

The three young men had no plans as far as working on the barge was concerned after they had delivered it to Barrie but were glad of the cruise after having completed weeks of examination grind at Osgoode. They were unanimous in their approval of the Trent as an ideal cruise waterway.

Band Concerts Start Sunday

Band concerts will commence on Sunday night at the Oval at the new bandstand with the Citizens' Band, led by Captain W. H. Peryer, ED, opening the season. Last year the season opened on June 6 at Riverside.

Meeting in the Board Room in the City Buildings the Recreation Commission, representatives of the Film Council, Peterborough Ministerial Association, the Salvation Army Band and the Citizens' Band agreed that all band concerts on Sunday nights would be at the Oval.

The schedule approved is June 5 Citizens' Band; June 12 Salvation Army Band; June 19, Citizens' Band; June 26, Citizens' Band; July 3, Film Council and Ministerial Association; July 10, Salvation Army Band; July 17, Citizens' Band; July 24, Film Council and Peterborough Ministerial Association; July 31, the Film Council and the Ministerial Association; August 7, Salvation Army Band; August 14, Citizens' Band; August 21, Salvation Army Band; August 28, Citizens' Band. This last date is tentative as it is hoped the Belleville band will again play in Peterborough as last year.

Last year the two bands held mid-week concerts at Tilco Park, Turner Park and King Edward Park. This year the bands will only present two concerts other than those on Sunday nights. The Citizens' Band will give a concert August 21 from 2:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. in King Edward Park. On July 5 the Salvation Army Band will hold a concert in the evening at King Edward Park.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

MAKE ONE CALL

Firemen made no calls on Wednesday. Early today there was one minor outbreak reported. That was a flooded oil heater at the home of J. J. Beneze, Howden Ave.

GUILTY OF TROLLING

Charged by Game Warden R. H. Trotter for trolling at Burleigh, James Palette and John E. Massacci were fined $10 each with $2.50 costs at city police court Wednesday.

BUGS GALORE

Residents of Waterford St. along the river by the London St. dam, report June flies and bugs in trees and houses are almost pestilential. Starlings are gluting themselves on the insects, but there are thousands left over to annoy the Goose Pond residents.

LONG SERVICE CERTIFICATE

For 20 years of active participation in first aid, M. J. Brown, Peterborough plant department employee of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, was presented with a long service certificate at a banquet held in Toronto recently attended by more than 200 first aiders and company officials.

$40 PENSION CHEQUES

Old age pension cheques received this month by pensioners in the district were $40. It is an increase of $10. This is a result of the bill introduced in the last days of the recent Parliament by the Hon. Paul Martin, Federal Minister of Health, and passed April 27. The basic pension was only $20 a month in 1943.

LABRADOR BALES PACKED

Peterborough members of the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission completed the packing of their clothing bales in the basement of the Grafton Company today. They report more and better clothing contributions this year and are still asking for more cash contributions to the building of a new mission hospital at Harrington Harbour, P.Q. Such contributions should be directed to treasurer, Mrs. F. M. Somerville.

ANNOUNCE WINNERS

Winners of the window dressing contest for the "Come To Britain Week" in Peterborough are: first Canadian Department Stores; second, Richard Hall Ltd.; and third, Ed. Riley's Men's Wear Store. Judges were James Ferres, vice-president of McLaren advertising; Col. W. G. Abel, rep. of the British Travel Assoc.; and Miss Pamela McRorie, also of the BTA. Cash awards will be forthcoming to the three winners.

Took French Leave

Oliver Grassi, who was taken to hospital after being found ill on Water St. Tuesday evening, left the hospital without permission soon after he had been admitted. In city police court Wednesday he was remanded in custody with bail set at $200 on a charge of vagrancy.

Grassi opposed a remand on the grounds that he was employed as a painter on a building project in the city and would lose his job if he could not return. His case will be heard on June 7.

Central Ontario Group Of TB Units Meet

Four Peterborough delegates attended a meeting of the Central Ontario Voluntary Tuberculosis Association sponsored by the National Sanitarium Association at Weston Sanitarium Wednesday. Peterborough's representatives were Mrs. R. C. Honey, Mrs. M. J. Swanston, James Heffernan and Charles H. Elliott.

The meeting was held to discuss ways and means of detecting and preventing tuberculosis in Central Ontario. Plans for a new educational program are now being prepared. The association is also planning to help ex-sanitarium patients return to a normal life.

It was decided to open the Christmas Seal campaign November 21.

CLEARING HOUSE

Peterborough Bankers Clearing House cleared across its table last week, $2,616,508.

Property Deed Given City Before Purchase

If there was any impression from the news report that he had taken advantage of the city in the sale of the vacant property at the southwest corner of Monaghan Road and Romaine St., Mr. Ted. Moore said he wished to correct it. He is the owner of a service station at Monaghan Road and Chamberlain St.

"I left this matter to my own lawyer and to City Solicitor Huycke," Mr. Moore said. "I understood that the restriction on the Romaine St. lot, which has been mentioned, was not registered and, therefore, had no effect. But, this was one of the details for the lawyers. I haven't much experience in that kind of thing, and you have to depend on the people who do know because that is their business.

At one stage I had an offer of $5,000 from an oil company, and the deed was in their office for two or three weeks. They didn't see anything wrong. I twice had permission to build. Then there was a petition from residents of Romaine and Monaghan Road against a service station going up. The council will remember that I got a counter-petition with 200 names on it to the 35 against the service station."

Town planning came into the picture, and Mr. Moore said he had no wish to get involved with that committee, the council or any kind of dispute with the neighbors, who are just down the street from his Chamberlain St. business.

He said he did not wish to waste any time or money, and when town planning wanted to make a green area at Romaine St. that was the end of his interest.

"I had a second offer for $3500., and that was the price I quoted to the council, although I sold for $2000, and was tickled to get rid of that problem. From the information that I received I think that if any one had a complaint about the deal I might have because I had two good offers, apart from wishing to put up a station there, and I think there was really nothing to prevent me from building at Romaine St."

He said he always tried to be fair with the council and town planning and the Romaine St. people, and when opposition arose to his enterprise he had no feeling of trying to resort to legal proceedings. His thought was to get into business and not waste time on some property squabble.

"Apart from the requests I made to the council and the town planning committee, I just wish to say that the deed of the property was in the city's hands for 15 days before they bought the lot. From that fact the public will understand that I did not try to put anything over the city. That is the point I wish to make, and have my position clear with the public."

Permits Issued In May For 77 New Homes Estimated To Cost $500,000

Private investment in the building of houses in Peterborough amounted to nearly $500,000 in May as compared with $339,000 in the same month last year. Construction momentum shows an increase as this season reached the favorable weather of May. Total building permits for the five months ending May 31 amounted to $1,786,149 as against $996,362 for the corresponding period last year.

The 77 dwellings for which permits were issued last month represent a realty value of $491,200. In May of last year there were permits for 60 dwellings amounting to $339,000.

The details of the permits for last month were: 20 garages, $5,855; 77 dwellings $491,200; 105 miscellaneous permits $111,287; total of 202 permits for the month $608,372.

Relative figures for May last year: 15 garages $2975; 60 houses $339,000; 96 miscellaneous $48,992. Total of 171 permits for $390,967.

The biggest item in the miscellaneous permits issued in May was $50,000 for a new building at Western Clock Co. Part of its space will be used for a cafeteria, and the rest for production.

Marino Brothers are expending $15,000 on refreshment and retailing store at George and Lake Streets. Canadian General Electric Company are increasing their stand-by of electric power resource with $10,000 installation of several deisel engines for generating purposes.

The C.G.E. steam turbine was a big factor last year in keeping Peterborough out of the shutdown list of industrial towns during the short days and the shortage of power.

Robert Hatton Joins Examiner

A graduate of the Journalism course of the University of Western Ontario, London, Robert J. Hatton, has joined the staff of The Examiner as a reporter.

A product of Peterborough and Owen Sound Collegiates, he joined the RCAF as a radar mechanic in April, 1942, and served almost three years in the United Kingdom.

He will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in Journalism at Western's convocation ceremonies Saturday.

Sees Doe On Lawn

MILLBROOK, June 2 (ENS) —Mrs. Eddie Richards, who resides at about the centre of this town, received a rare thrill at 6.45 this morning when, upon looking out of a window of her home, she saw a beautiful, full-grown doe on the front lawn. Shortly after she saw it, the animal started to run into a lane and soon afterwards disappeared into the woods behind the house.

Metered Market Hotly Opposed By Businessmen

If the City Council goes through with its proposal to install parking meters on the Market Square it will be "over the dead bodies" of the majority of the merchants whose premises border on the Square. Strong opposition to the plan was encountered this morning when The Examiner conducted a telephone poll of a number of George St. store proprietors. Many of them expressed the view that there were already enough parking meters in the city, and that instead of installing more of them, the city should be providing more free places to park if it wanted to make a good impression on visitors.

There appeared to be a general opinion that the city was interested only in securing more revenue and was not interested in a real solution of the parking problem. Several expressed the view that the city's latest proposal savored of "cheap commercialism" and would have the effect, if not checked, of driving prospective shoppers to other places

All those merchants who have to use the Market Square to receive deliveries of new stock had another strong complaint to offer: lack of adequate space, meters or no meters, for trucks to park while unloading. The present situation in this respect is very unsatisfactory, they said, there being many cases where it has been necessary for truck drivers to carry goods long distances because they could not find parking

39 Graduate At Kingston

KINGSTON, June 2—(CP)—Thirty-nine nurses Wednesday received their diplomas and pins at the largest graduating class in the history of St. Joseph's School of Nursing, Hotel Dieu Hospital.

The Gold Medal for the highest standing, donated by the Most Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Kingston, was presented to Mary Josephine Sanders of Arnprior. Theresa Catherine Quinn of Cardinal received a silver medal for the second-highest standing.

General proficiency medals were presented to Elizabeth Jane Morrisey of Ottawa and Marion Hilda Bell, Buckingham, Que. A faculty scholarship in surgery went to Evelyn Veronica Fleece of Kirkland Lake.

Find New Treatment

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP) — A 61-year-old man, semi-crippled by arthritis for 10 years, Wednesday demonstrated dramatic improvement after 11 days of treatment with a new hormone. He was barely able to hobble with a cane less than two weeks ago, and stooped with constant pain, Wednesday, in a hospital room, he sat easily with his once-stiff legs crossed, then rose and walked erectly and easily out of the room.

School Needs More Funds

HAMILTON, June 2 (CP). — Dr T. T. Faichney of Galt charged here Wednesday that the United Church of Canada's Theological School in Toronto was being "hamstrung" by insufficient financial church grants.

In his address at the Hamilton Conference of the United Church he said that Toronto's Emmanuel College was receiving an annual grant of $41,000 when Presbyterian and Methodist Churches united 25 years ago.

"Now the allotment, taken from the United Church Missionary and Maintenance Fund, has slipped to $13,000," he said. "Prospects are good, but the colleges are running into financial difficulties."

Meanwhile, Conference delegates voted to have the Church's General Council investigate percentage allotments from its fund.

Scaffold Collapses

L'EPIPHANIE, Que., June 2 — (CP)—A steeplejack was killed and another suffered serious injuries Wednesday in a plunge 150 feet to the ground from a scaffold which collapsed under the weight of a heavy church cross. Dead is Gustave Blanchette of Longueuil. Aime Portugais of Montreal was taken to hospital in critical condition with head injuries.

Dies From Wound

SARNIA, June 2 (CP)—Jimmy Sisler, 10, of nearby Forest died in hospital Wednesday of injuries received in a shotgun blast Tuesday. Police reports indicated the Sisler boy and another lad, Alex loaded it. In a scuffle for possession it discharged.

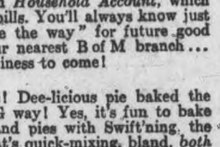
Your Eyes work hard for you every single day . . . and even though you may not realize it, they're bound to get tired! That's why I suggest that you give them the care they deserve. I use MURINE night and morning and always marvel at the quick, welcome relief it brings . . . helping to banish that tired, used-up feeling when eyes get weary! Containing seven ingredients that blend perfectly with the natural fluids of the eyes, Murine cleanses and soothes delicate eye tissues gently as a tear. Just put 2 drops in each eye! Ask your druggist for Murine to-day . . . use regularly even before your eyes complain!

"Fairy Godmother" to a "Cinderella Complexion", that's what a "Woodbury Facial Cocktail" is! And here's how to use this "magic wand" to make your skin smooth-as-satin — petal-fresh: Work up a creamy-rich lather with WOODBURY FACIAL SOAP. Massage thoroughly over face to cleanse and soften. Follow with two rinses—a warm and a cold. It's so refreshing . . . leaves your complexion wonderfully fresh and glowing. For Woodbury Facial Soap contains a smoothing beauty-cream ingredient— used in fine face creams. The lather is extra-mild . . . leaves no dry, taut feeling—no "skin-burn"! . . . Truly—a beauty "discovery"!



June Has Always Been A Favourite Month For Brides. Perhaps that's because it's supposed to be lucky . . . "Happy is the bride the June sun shines on!" The truth of the matter is that any month can be lucky for a bride if she encourages good luck with good management for her finances. And this is where brides all across Canada find the BANK OF MONTREAL such a great help! At the B of M you and your husband can have a Joint Account, so that you can save together. Or you can open your own Household Account, which will make it so much easier to deal with bills. You'll always know just where the budget stands. Why not "pave the way" for future good fortune . . . beginning tomorrow? Visit your nearest B of M branch . . . and start those Savings Accounts for happiness to come!

A Husband-Pleaser if ever I've seen one! Dee-licious pie baked the sure 'n easy SWIFT'NING way! Yes, it's fun to bake your own cookies, cakes and pies with Swift'ning, the new kind of shortening that's quick-mixing, bland, both digestible and nutritious! Martha Logan, Swift's Home Economist, tells me Swift'ning makes the lightest cakes and flakiest pies imaginable! And to add to your baking pleasure, the Swift people have put out a goldmine of wonderful, easy recipes . . . in the SWIFT'NING RECIPE BOOK. I counted 75 and it made me hungry even to read them! For your free copy of the "Swift'ning Recipe Book", simply print your name, address and send with one Swift'ning carton top to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Happy Home Ever After for the bride who plans her meals with appetite-appeal in mind! And smart is the girl who knows the wonderful effect that gay, refreshing JELL-O desserts can have. Here's a colorful serving suggestion that's sure to be a favorite: Arrange small canned peach halves in serving glasses. Place a few broken nuts in hollow of each peach; then cover with dissolved Lemon Jell-O. Chill. You'll find with economical Jell-O Jelly Powders, a host of intriguing desserts like this are quick and easy to make!

Praise-Winning Salads . . . salads with lots and lots of appetite appeal . . . have one thing in common. Secret of their success is a really good dressing — skilfully flavoured with any one of the delicious HEINZ VINEGARS! Whether the salad is served tossed and green in a wooden bowl . . . or colourfully arranged in fruit dishes — the dressing makes a world of difference . . . and when it's made with Heinz White, Malt or Cider Vinegars—it's bound to be good! It's wise "salad insurance" to make your dressings with the best vinegar you can buy—just as you make them with the best fruits and vegetables. That's why I urge you to ask your grocer for Heinz Vinegars—aged and mellowed in wood! . . . Heinz White Vinegar . . . marvelous for light salads and smooth, boiled dressings . . . Heinz Malt Vinegar — delicious for heartier salads!

If It's A "Gloomy" Day For Baby . . . here's one of the easiest ways I know to put him in a happy mood again! Treat him to a bowlful of delicious 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat"! He'll love it! And so will you . . . for it cooks to full digestibility—even for babies—in just 5 minutes of boiling. And it's so good for baby! You see, it contains Iron . . . and it provides Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. That's why so many mothers put "CREAM OF WHEAT" at the top of baby's shopping list!

Summer Clothes lose half their charm if they're not daisy-fresh. That's why LINIT is so very popular come wash-day! It's truly "magical" the way Linit puts the "new" back in clothes! Clothes laundered with Linit stay cleaner longer . . . wear longer, too! This is because Linit gently penetrates and protects the fibres of the cloth. It covers and holds down the tiny surface hairs that catch the dust. So for that daisy-fresh look that goes so well with Summer sunshine . . . do be sure to starch your clothes the easy, lovely "Linit" way!

More Economical Than Ever! . . . that's LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK . . . so rich it whips! Pure, country-fresh milk with all the original cream left in and half the water removed . . . Libby's contains all the nutrients which you expect from whole milk— plus added Vitamin D—the "sunshine vitamin"! Yes, compared with today's prices for ordinary milk, Libby's is more economical than ever to use! And such a wonderful variety of uses! Libby's helps make your cakes feather-light —your soups creamier—your desserts richer and tastier!

Peanut Butter Cookies are always very popular with grown-ups and youngsters . . . as well as being wonderfully inexpensive and easy to make with delicious HARVEST MARGARINE! So why not try this recipe that makes them light and airy as the first warm breath of Summer? . . .

Cream ¼ cup Harvest Margarine and ½ cup peanut butter together. Add ½ cup sugar and cream until fluffy. Add 2 eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly. Add 1 cup finely chopped dates. Sift 1 cup sifted flour and 1½ tspn. baking powder together. Add to creamed mixture, alternately with ¼ cup milk. Beat well after each addition. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 15 to 20 minutes. Cookies should be delicately browned. Yield: 3 dozen.

Look for the Libby's Evaporated Milk ad—running now in this paper! . . . Clip the coupon and take it to your grocer's. It entitles you to a full-size tin of Libby's for only 1c when you buy 2 tins at the regular price!

Try "Harvest" to make vegetables, steaks and chops more appealing, too! Harvest Margarine is so good—so nutritious—and such a budget-saver!

Whether You're A June Bride (1949) . . . or are celebrating your Silk (Twelfth) Wedding Anniversary—you'll want to know about this popular method of feminine hygiene. Thousands of fastidious women have found ZONITORS dainty, convenient and effective. These greaseless, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories are powerfully germicidal—yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues! You'll find them at drug-stores all across Canada . . . and to help answer any questions you may have about feminine hygiene—simply write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free copy of a booklet giving frank facts on this important subject. I'll send the booklet to you in a plain wrapper.

Declares CCF Vote Is Vote For Tories

PARRY SOUND, June 2 (CP) —External Affairs Minister Pearson said Wednesday night that a vote for the CCF is "a vote for the Tory party."

He did not elaborate. But he urged that everyone entitled to vote in the June 27 federal election cast a ballot.

Mr. Pearson spoke at a campaign meeting in support of Wilfred (Bucko) McDonald, Liberal candidate in the newly-created constituency of Parry Sound-Muskoka. He described Mr. McDonald, who represented Parry Sound in the last House and who is a former professional hockey player, as a man who "throughout his public life has shown he knows how to play a hard but fair game."

May Get Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, June 2 (AP) — Film moppet Margaret O'Brien's mother and orchestra leader Don Sylvio can't agree on whether their marriage should be annulled. Mrs. Sylvio, the former Mrs. Gladys O'Brien, says she is going to sue for annulment of their marriage last Feb. 22 at Palm Beach, Fla. She says they haven't lived togther as man and wife. Sylvio says that if she sues he'll contest "because, first of all I love her, and then she has no grounds for annulment; the marriage has been consummated."

Started Two Fires

FORT WILLIAM, June 2 (CP) —Convicted on two charges of setting fires in forests to gain employment in fighting the fires, Charles Mathew, 27, of Armstrong, Wednesday was sentenced to two concurrent three-year terms in penitentiary. Two small Indian boys who were allegedly instructed by Mathew to light one of the fires were placed on probation for six months.

Map Changes In Act

TORONTO, June 2 (CP) — Leaders of AFL Unions in Ontario will meet here Sunday to map a campaign for changes in the Provincial Labor Act. The meeting was called by the Ontario Provincial Federation of the Trades and Labor Congress. The Ontario Federation of Labor (CCL) meanwhile charged that because of of labor regulations the Provincial Labor Department is bogged down by the number of applications for conciliation services.

Student Candidate

ENTERPRISE, Ont., June 2 — (CP)—Myrtle Morrison, of Toronto, 23-year-old Queens' University student, Wednesday night was nominated CCF candidate for Frontenac-Addington in the June 27 Federal election. The youngest member to be elected to the Ontario CCF Council, Miss Morrison is a second-year student in political science.

On Buying Spree

TORONTO, June 2 (CP) — Caio de Lima Cavalcatni, Brazilian Commercial Counsellor at Ottawa, Wednesday went on a spending spree at the International trade fair. The wealthy 55-year-old landowner bought nine English bicycles for his Embassy staff at $345 altogether; a 120-piece set of the finest Bavarian dinnerware for $300 and 15 Czechoslovakian carpets for $1,000.

Nominate Candidates For Cochrane North

COCHRANE, June 2—(CP)—Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. candidates were nominated Wednesday to contest Cochrane North in a provincial by-election made necessary by the death of John Carrere, Progressive Conservative, who was elected to the seat last June in the Ontario election.

Mr. Carrere died following an automobile accident last year without taking his seat in the Legislature.

Marcel Leger, former Hearst school teacher, is the Progressive Conservative nominee. A son-in-law of Michel Halle, Conservative candidate in 1943 and 1945, Mr. Leger resigned as District Relief Inspector to accept the nomination.

The C.C.F. nominated 28-year-old Roy Kenney, Kapuskasing, Ont., war veteran and paper company employee. Mr. Kenney was twice wounded and won a commission during five years' overseas service with the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry.

Pleads Guilty

MONTREAL, June 2 (CP) — A former merchant seaman, separated from his wife for two years, pleaded guilty in court Wednesday to threatening his wife and 17-month-old baby. Police said the accused, Gordon Holden, visited his wife's home Tuesday night and ran off in a taxi with the baby. When police followed him to his rooming house he refused to let them in and said if his wife didn't arrive in an hour "I'm going to work on the baby."

To Contest Election

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., June 2 (CP)—Rene Hamel, Shawinigan Falls lawyer, Wednesday announced he will contest St. Maurice-Lafleche in the June 27 federal election as an Independent candidate, Mr. Hamel represented the constituency in the last parliament as a member of the Bloc Populaire Canadien. The party's only other member in the House was Maxime Raymond, KC, of Montreal who represented Beauharnois-Laprairie and who has retired from politics.

Believe McDonald Dead

TORONTO, June 2 (CP) — Police said Wednesday they are convinced Donald (Mickey) McDonald is dead because they believe his mother here has not heard from him for 13 months. McDonald, Ulysses Lauzon and Nick Minille escaped from Kingston penitentiary in August, 1947. Last year Lauzon's bullet-riddled body was found in Mississippi and Minille was returned to Kingston after his arrest in California.

Ex-Policeman Fined

MONTREAL, June 2 (CP) — William Pitts, now under suspension from the Montreal police force, Wednesday was fined $200 and costs or three months in jail on conviction of assault causing grievous bodily harm on John Hoolahan. Hoolahan, wealthy building contractor, was severly wounded in a gun-duel with Pitts in Montreal's west-end last March 26 after an altercation between the two men.

DOROTHY DIX

Penniless Old Age Awaits Spendthrifts of Today

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man of 68. All of my life I have worked hard, but have never been able to save a cent. I have spent very little on myself, but my wife has never been able to deny herself anything she wanted, or to see the wisdom of saving for our old age. In vain I have preached thrift to her and pictured to her the horrors of a dependent old age, but she just laughed at me and went her way, living up to the last dollar of our income, and beyond it.

Dorothy Dix

Through the years she has absolutely refused to cooperate with me in saving, and I was helpless to do it without her. Now the fate that I have always dreaded is looming before us, that of a penniless old age, and I am racked with worry over what will befall us when my earning capacity is gone.

Can you write something that will make young wives see the necessity of putting something aside for the rainy day that is bound to come to us all? For it doesn't make any difference how much money her husband makes, it is what she spends that counts. It is useless for him to try to be economical if she is a waster.

AN OLD MAN

ANSWER: To me the most pathetic figures on earth are the poor old men who have worked hard all of their lives and who, at the end, have nothing to show for their labor. Haven't even saved up enough to enable them to slow down and take the last lap of the journey easily. You see them everywhere. Weary, spent, bent-shouldered old men slogging themselves on to their daily grind like worn-out old dray horses.

No men in the world are more entitled to our sympathy than those who are cursed with wives who are spenders. A husband and wife must do teamwork if they are to get along in the world and save up any money. No man, no matter how thrifty he is nor how much he personally denies himself, can make any headway in nourishing a savings bank account if he has a wife who is extravagant. For, as the old proverb says, "a woman can throw more out of the back door with a teaspoon than a man can put in at the front door with a shovel."

Women Suffer More

If these extravagant wives would only look at the matter straight, they would see that it is even more important for themselves that the future should be safeguarded than it is for their husbands. For a man can nearly always get something to do up to the very end of his life that will make him some sort of living, but under Heaven there is no other creature so helpless and piteous as the old woman who is penniless.

If spendthrift wives would only look into the future, they would clutch every dollar tightly, and they would back their husbands up in saving for their old age.

DEAR MISS DIX: My best girl friend has an inferiority complex because of her nose. She is most attractive in other ways and has loads of girl friends, but no dates, and she thinks that the reason for that is because she has such an ugly nose. What can she do about it?

WORRIED FRIEND

ANSWER: The answer to that is easy enough. Have her nose altered. Plastic surgeons are the miracle-workers these days. A recent article in a magazine said that for $250 one could get a Greek profile.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Would a young man with a violent temper be a good matrimonial risk if he had no other fault? I am in love with a man who flies into a rage at the slightest provocation, but he says he will calm down after we are married. What is your advice?

UNDECIDED

ANSWER: I do not consider that any other fault that either a man or woman can have makes them as bad a risk as a violent temper. It makes them unjust, unreasonable, cruel, almost impossible to live with.

If you marry this high-tempered man, you will have to stand abuse and insult, and go all your days in terror of rousing the devil in him. Don't do it. No woman was ever happy with a violent-tempered husband.

✧ ✧ ✧

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Gypsy Rose Lee Prefers Extra Big Girls in Her Show

By BEN SMITH.

TAMPA, Fla., June 2 (AP) — Gypsy Rose Lee likes big girls in her shows, but that doesn't mean she things there is a new trend toward outsize showgirls.

"I'm big and I like them my size," the five-foot 9½ inch stripper explained.

Then she broke out in a grin and added:

"It has a practical advantage, too. Ten big ones fill the stage better than ten little ones, and they all cost the same... You don't pay them by the pound, you know."

Her two biggest girls are even six footers. The smallest is five feet 8½.

Filling up the stage means more to Miss Lee this year than ever before. For the first time she is hitting the carnival trail, making a six-months tour of the United States and Canada with the Royal American Shows.

Her outdoor stage is roughly six times the size of the average nightclub space she has been used to, Miss Lee said... "That big stage is really wonderful. Now we can make a good swing line without falling all over each other."

Same Old Theme

"There's no special theme to the act. We just entertain with a little singing, a little dancing and a choice display of the human form."

Gypsy Rose likes this new kind of life.

"It's fun—even when you have to go before a crowd and look glamorous with dirt in your fingernails and sand between your toes. Even when you get waked up in the morning by the roar of the portable plant—it's good to know you'll have your lights."

Miss Lee reported just one serious worry. How is she going to feel in mid-summer weighed down by her costume masterpiece — a strapless gown so heavily trimmed with rhinestones it tips the scales at 70 pounds?

"Can you imagine a 70-pound dress without shoulder straps, held up by nothing except me and some of the best engineering in the country?"

Clarke—Young

CAMPBELLFORD, June 2 — (ENS)—Under an arch of Persian lilacs, white iris and spiraea, a quiet wedding was solemnized Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Young when their only daughter, Helen Irene, became the bride of Gleyn Walter Clark, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Clark of Morganston. The Rev. D. M. Smith officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white brocaded silk fingertip veil, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Colleen Rowe, bridesmaid, was in blue taffet with matching headdress, and carried red roses.

Flower girl, Miss Barbara Joan Ingram, cousin of the bride, wore pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of assorted flowers.

The groom was attended by his brother, William Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark left later on a wedding trip to Toronto and Niagara. For travelling the bride chose a light blue gabardine suit and navy accessories. They will reside at Morganston.

Press Club Women To Have Navy Trip

Highlight of the Canadian Women's Press Club Triennial being held in Vancouver for one week from June 20 will be a trip to Victoria aboard a Royal Canadian Naval craft, by courtesy of the Flag officer, Pacific coast.

Miss Jean Stenton, telegraph editor of the Examiner, will be among delegates from Halifax to Vancouver attending, with a strong representation from Ontario.

The business sessions will include a discussion on newspapers led by Miss Doris Milligan, assistant city editor of the Vancouver Sun and Mr. W. L. Mactavish; Miss Lotta Dempsey of the Toronto Globe and Mail and Miss Eva-Lis Wuorio of MacLean's will talk on magazines, and a Vancouver panel will discuss radio.

Some other social highlights planned for the visiting newspapermen include: a civic luncheon at beautiful Stanley Park; a trip to the Fraser Valley to visit the show farm Fairmeade, guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Glaspie; Chinese dinner, guests of the Vancouver Sun.

At Victoria, the CWPC will be guests at Woodwyn, home of the Hon. W. C. Woodward, former Lieut. Governor of British Columbia. The highlight of the Victoria journey will be the formal dinner when the Press Club members will be the guests of Premier Byron Johnson and the Government of British Columbia at the Empress Hotel. At this dinner, the newly-formed Victoria Branch of the CWPC will be presented with membership pins and the Memorial award will also be presented.

Ontario Premier Addresses Graduating Nurses' Class As Eighteen Gain Diplomas

Graduates of the Peterborough Civic Hospital this year were addressed by the Premier of Ontario, the Hon. Leslie M. Frost of Lindsay, at the graduation exercises Wednesday evening in the Collegiate auditorium.

"You are performing a national service in entering the field of nursing" he told them. "Though many of you may remain a comparatively short time in the profesional field after graduation, the Province has not been deprived of your professional care, because of the assistance you are always prepared to render. Your work involves great responsibility and you are looked upon as friends and counsellors of people everywhere who are in trouble through illness."

Married nurses in the community were paid tribute by the Premier for doing a great work in the present difficult situation of shortage of trained persons. Filling their places in their homes and also continuing to assume burdens and duties of their profession to help carry through has meant sacrifice of personal interests and comforts.

Increased Grants

As the treasurer of Ontario, Premier Frost is interested in expenditures. "Development of human resources as well as of natural resources is important and ill health not only causes misery but great national loss," he pointed out. Figures showed an increase in spending on public health from $13 millions in 1943 to $31 millions this year, to which is added a Dominion grant of about $6 million. Pointing out that this expenditure alone is as much as the total provincial outlay for all services 25 years ago, he said "Your province is really leading the way in health services in Canada."

Further statistics showed that five patients of every 100 going to hospital at the turn of the century, and now a ratio of 40 in every 100. About two per cent of births took place in general hospitals in 1900 and now it is higher than 83 per cent. Investigations into general health insurance proposals revealed at once such a shortage of doctors, nurses and hospital beds that the service could not be offered by the province at present, he said. In order to improve this condition large sums of money in capital and maintenance grants have been given to increase the number of graduate nurses. To aid the acute shortage of hospital accommodation, complicated by lack of facilities for aged people, the approach has been: subsidies to municipalities and assistance in maintenance of homes for the aged; enlarged old age pensions.

New Grants

Since 1947 a grant of $1,000 is given for every public ward installed in hospitals, $2,000. for every chronic bed and $2,500. for the tubercular sanitoria. This has resulted in a great deal of hospital construction in the province. The Dominion government adopted a similar scheme in 1948 so that the Civic Hospital is now receiving a Provincial grant of $246,000. and federal grant of about $234,000. A unique grant system in Canada was introduced in Ontario in 1947 whereby the hospital receives an amount for each public ward bed for 365 days each year.

"This is also proving a splendid practical approach to giving nurses hospitals to work in and the people places to go when they are sick," the Premier said. "We are making great progress in providing for the basic health requirements of more doctors, nurses and hospital beds. The days to come will provide for progressively better services and for what I believe will be the finest health services in the world."

The speaker was introduced by the Hon. Harold Scott of Peterborough who also extended personal congratulations to the graduates.

Mayor. M. J. Swanston brought civic greetings and good wishes. To the 17 graduates from out of town points he said "You are always welcome to stay here and we hope you will give us your services as nurses, which are so badly needed."

Dedicatory prayer was offered by the Rev. Ivan Morgan, president of the Ministerial Association.

Mr. J. R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors addressed the graduates briefly, and was chairman of the program.

School of Nursing Report

Miss A. L. Thomson, principal of the School of Nursing, presented her fourth annual report. The class of 18 nurses just graduated is the first in Peterborough to be entirely under her supervision. She also has 31 intermediate students and 30 juniors.

New System

This class is also the first to wear a new all-white uniform, and was the first to try the "block" duty system, which they have heartily approved. The Peterborough Hospital has pioneered in this system by which the students enjoy an eight-hour working day. This is an attraction that may be responsible for the fact that applications to Miss Thomson for entry in the next class have already far exceeded the number of students that can be accommodated.

With improved physical conditions which the new Civic Hospital and residence will provide, the Peterborough School of Nursing looks forward to a reputation equalling the highest in Ontario.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Regular meeting of Immaculate Conception Home and School Association was held Monday evening. President Miss Hazel Guerin was in the chair. Annual reports by Mrs. Wm. Crilly and Mr. D. Hull showed that splendid progress had been made during the year. Mrs. A. Tait gave an interesting report of the OEA convention.

Plans were made for the school picnic to be held June 28.

Officers for the coming year are as follows: president, Mrs. J. Duignan; vice president, Mrs. J. Leahy, Mrs. J. Murray; treasurer, Mr. D. Hull; secretary, Mr. A. Tait; executive, Mrs. D. Campanaro, Mrs. L. Le Fave, Mrs. E. Powers, Mrs. A. White, Mr. Wm. O'Toole.

Mr. Wm. O'Toole expressed appreciation of the association to the retiring executive and presented a gift to Miss Guerin.

Junior pupils delighted with a group of songs.

Mrs. Ray Bacon and committee served refreshments.

18 Graduates Take Pledge At Civic Hospital Ceremony

Eighteen graduates of the Civic Hospital School of Nursing repeated the Florence Nightingale pledge to practice the profession of nursing faithfully and loyally before an assembly that filled the Collegiate Auditorium to capacity on Wednesday evening.

They are: Marion Keitha Beatty, Picton; Islay Marie Bott, Apsley; Dorothy Velma Pearl Brenton, Port Hope; Eleanor Ernestine Brown, Campbellford; Frances Viona Brownsell, Trent River; Joyce Adelene Cavano, Pontypool; Isobel Ruth Everson, Lindsay; Vera Arnetta Falils, Millbrook; Audrey Doris Hannah, Glen Tay; Sara Ellen Humphrey, Peterborough; Charlotte Kathleen Langton, Yorkton, Saskatchewan; Beth Madalene Magee, Omemee; Jean Carolina Nelson, Warkworth; Viola Jean Taylor, Marmora; Alice Van Buskirk, Orillia; Helena Gertrude Watts, Kingston; Margaret Jean Werry, Enniskillen, Vivian Yvonne Wilmink, Campbellford.

Each received a graduation medal from Miss A. L. Thomson, principal of the school of nursing, and a diploma from Mr. J. R. Marshall, chairman of the Hospital Board of Governors.

Scholarships

Presentation of scholarships and prizes to outstanding nurses and students followed. A change in practice in regard to scholarships for post-graduate study, at University was made this year. Formerly they were given to graduates whose plans frequently changed later and they did not make full use of the education.

Miss Lorna Mitchell of the 1948 class and winner of the prize for bedside nursing in her year, desires to specialize in pediatrics and was awarded scholarship for one year post-graduate study in the University of Toronto, given by the Board of Governors. It was presented by Mr. Melville Johnston.

Miss Mae Renwick received her second scholarship for further education since graduation in 1940. Through the A. H. Campbell scholarship, set up by the Campbell family to perpetuate the memory of a prominent business man, she will go to the Margaret Hague Maternity Hospital in New Jersey, for further study in obstetrics. She was appointed supervisor in the maternity ward of Civic Hospital in 1948, a transfer from surgical supervisor in the north pavilion. She holds a certificate in nursing education from the University of Toronto. Mr. I. F. McRae presented the Campbell scholarship.

Miss Kathleen Quirt, gold medallist in her class of 1948, will specialize in surgical nursing. She will take a one year post-graduate study at the University of Toronto on a scholarship given by the Medical Staff and presented by the president, Dr. S. Y. Walsh.

General proficiency of students during the three years has been noted and at graduation medals are presented to nurses with highest showing by the Board of Governors. Dr. G. S. Cameron presented the Gold Medal to Miss Vera Fallis, whose average was 82½ per cent. Miss Joyce Cavano whose school records showed 81½ per cent was awarded the Order of Eastern Star Holds Delightful Afternoon Tea

More than 200 Peterborough ladies enjoyed the hospitality of the Order of the Eastern Star during the tea hours on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. B. Duder was hostess at her parents' spacious and lovely old-style home at 266 Burnham St.

Guests stopped first to admire a large terraced lawn space where the tea might have been held if June's magic could have been relied on to put the weatherman under the spell that it did. And when they left there were backward glances at the charming greenery and flowers.

Gorgeous flowers in the tea room, carrying out the regal colors of the Order, seemed to heighten the atmosphere of tradition and home life that added so much to the occasion.

A spreading bouquet of deep purple and gold iris was on the china cabinet in the dining room. The tea table laid with a hand-made lace cloth and centrepiece, Persian lilacs, spirea and iris combined in a charming arrangement in a low silver bowl. At either side there were silved condelabra holding triple rows of lighted tapers.

Lilacs were lovely in the reception rooms, and there bazaar tables had been set up for sale of home cooking and home-made candy.

And a hand-made quilt in Colonial Lady pattern drew admiration from all sides for its attractive combination of cotton prints on a white background, and the job of selling raffle tickets on it was easy. The draw will not be made until September.

A very large hamper of groceries was offered as a tea draw and the winner selected at the close was Mrs. F. W. Thirnbeck, 582 Bonaccord St.

Mrs. H. Gren, Worthy Matron, and Mrs. A. Munro received at the door with Mrs. Duder. Mrs. P. Windrim was taking tickets and money.

Mrs. K. Armstrong, tea convener had appointed Mrs. W. H. Wheeler, Mrs. F. Merrett, Mrs. Mabel Louden and Mrs. S. Deyman to preside at the tea table. Mrs. L. Bearne and Mrs. A. Knott were ushering guests to the tea room to be served dainty refreshments by Mrs. L. Pomeroy, Mrs. W. Huggins, Mrs. W. Dyer, Mrs. O. Elliott, Mrs. W. Beggs, Mrs. V. Smith, Mrs. D. Worboy, Mrs. H. Allison, Mrs. J. W. Miles and Mrs. L. Hardy. Plates were replenished and tea made by Mrs. W. Terrace, Mrs. W. Saunders, Mrs. W. Anderson, Mrs. G. Todd and Mrs. M. Hardy.

The bake table was attended by Mrs. C. Ireland, Mrs. G. Webb, Mrs. A. Townsend, Mrs. E. Pruner and Mrs. G. Ferguson. Mrs. A. Newton and Mrs M. Ward were selling candy.

Draw tickets were sold by Mrs. R. Paris, Mrs. R. Hutton and Mrs. W. Beggs.

Bachelor Fights For Women's Equal Rights

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, June 2—(AP)—A gray-haired, gently humorous bachelor named Harrison has an unusual avocation for a man. He's a feminist—openly, violently and shamelessly.

Smith's vocation is publisher of the Saturday Review of Literature. Despite its addiction to books, its editorial columns have become from time to time a Smith soap box from which he preaches his conviction that men and women have to do something about the rights of women and that there must be some restoration of the "balance" between the sexes.

A feminist, by dictionary definition, is a person advocating equal rights for women. By popular conception, however, the word usually means embattled women agitating aggresively for rights. The fact that Smith calls himself a feminist—and frequently finds himself defending women against members of his own sex—makes him unusual.

Smith started his crusade on behalf of the gentle sex only a couple of years ago. He never had given the subject even a thought before.

Angry At Article

"What started me off was a concerted attack on American women," he confessed. "I found all the great magazines in the United States attacking women. And I got mad and wrote an article called "woman, the scapegoat."

Smith thinks the attack was precipitated by the end of the war when women were working in all sorts of jobs they had never dreamed of tackling before.

"'Women assumed jobs of responsibility and at war's end the unions wanted to get rid of them because they were a nuisance," he said. "Men didn't want them around in offices because they received too high salaries."

Smith rolls off facts and figures with relish: women own somewhere between 65 and 70 per cent of the country's wealth, but they don't control it because this job is done by trustees (male) selected by their husbands or by banks; women are the beneficiaries of 60 per cent of the life insurance policies.

Silver Medal. She was highest in academic standing in 1946.

Miss Vivian Wilmink was winner of the prize for surgical nursing offered by Dr. Robert J. Young. It was presented by Mr. T. T. Rodger.

The Woman's Auxiliary prize for bedside nursing was won by Miss Viona Brownsell and presented by Mrs. R. Williamson, who advised that two bursaries are available on application to the Auxiliary by graduates who are interested in further study.

Each member of the graduating class received a clinical thermometer set from the Woman's Auxiliary presented by the president, Mrs. Eva Brackenridge, and a one year membership in the Civic Alumnae Association, presented by Mrs. M. B. Pringle, Alumnae president.

Undergraduates received prizes for highest academic standing. In the second year these are given by the Medical Staff and Dr. Agnes K. Moffat made the presentations. Miss Nancy Spring, also highest in first year, received first prize, and Miss Elinor Bird won second prize.

Gifts to first year students were from the Board of Governors, presented by Dr. H. M. Yelland, and went to Miss Stella Wilkinson, first, and Miss Shirley Gordon, second.

Obituary

MRS. WALTER ROSEBOROUGH

Mrs. Walter Roseborough, 74, of 291 King George St., died on Wednesday at her residence following an illness of several months. She was born in Smith township, Charlotte Emma, daughter of the late William Pearson and Phoebe McIlmoyle, and came to the city from North Monaghan 27 years ago.

Besides her husband she leaves eight daughters, Miss Loretta Roseborough, Mrs. Stanley Jackson (Marietta), Mrs. James Price, Jr., (Liola) and Mrs. Douglas Chamberlain (Elva), all of Peterborough; also Mrs. Victor Meek (Guelda) of Woodstock, Miss Valeria Roseborough of Windsor, Mrs. Craigie Edwards (Adella) and Mrs. Raymond Purdy Eunice), both of Detroit; and two sons, Vivian of Toronto and Orville of Peterborough. Mrs. Roseborough was a member of George Street United Church.

Funeral service will be held on Saturday at the Bellegham Funeral Home at 3 p.m. The Rev. Dr. James Semple will officiate and burial will be at Lakefield Cemetery.

County Council To Meet June 14

County Council will meet for its June session on the afternoon of June 14. It is believed that the session will be a short one as there are few items of business on the agenda.

The annual budget was brought down last time council met.

A request by a portion of Cavan township to join the Peterborough Suburban High School District will be considered. If council approves, the portion affected will be that north of the southern boundary of the North Cavan Public School area.

The union would be effective January 1, 1949. A request for permission to leave the present school area is now before the counties council of the Northumberland and Durham, but granting of the permission is expected to be little more than a formality.

Metered Market

space close enough to the delivery point. If meters are installed, the Examiner was told, these merchants would protest vigorously if they were placed in this part of the square.

Opposition was also offered to the city's practice of roping off the northern section of the square for the exclusive use of city employees, which space, it was felt, should be made available to potential shoppers also.

Typical comment was that of Harold Coleman, interior decorator: "I am definitely opposed to the whole idea; there should be more free parking in this city, not less. It will just cheapen the town to have more parking meters, and make visitors think our attitude toward them is one of mere commercialism."

Clare G. Collins, general manager of R. Neill and Co., shoe merchants, said that while he fully realized that installation of parking meters does help to boost the city's revenue, it was also important to see that it was made as easy as possible for people to shop in Peterborough. He declared that if the Market Square is metered, there still should be some other place where shoppers could park their cars without restriction. "I acknowledge that the meters do produce revenue for the city, but how much do we lose by them also?"

James S. Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said he would like to know what plans the city had in mind for alternative free parking space, if they decided to meter the square. He indicated his belief that the present parking problem was largely due to the considerable growth of the city in recent years and that more space was needed for parking if the problem was to be solved.

Others who delivered strong condemnations of the plan were: F. W. Jopling, grocer; T. Anthony of Anthony's Market; and P. A. DeWolfe, manager of Maher's Shoe Store; Mr. Jopling termed it "a terrible idea." There are plenty of meters now, he said, and to instal any more might have the effect of "driving tourists to other towns," Mr. Anthony said that if the city needed more revenue it should raise it in other ways. Mr. DeWolfe said the police were only interested in getting the money and not in keeping the cars moving, which was one of the original purposes of the meters.

It is understood that the matter will be fully discussed at the next regular meeting of the executive of the Businessmen's Association, to be held Friday in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Union Parades Before CGE

Impatient with what union officials describe as "stalling tactics by the company" about 200 members of Local 524 UE-CIO at noon today staged a demonstration march outside the main gate of the CGE plant.

The Joint Negotiating Committee resumed talks with the company in Toronto today in an effort to reach an agreement on the new contract. The present one expires June 30.

An orderly procession of workers paced up and down outside the Park St. gate bearing placards requesting a 40-hour week with greater take home pay, and criticizing CGE profits.

It was the first time since negotiations began with the company that union members have staged a demonstration of any sort. Similar demonstrations were reported to have occurred at the Toronto plants.

C. R. Sullivan, UE district representative, told the demonstrators and the several hundred employees who gathered to watch the procession and hear the speakers that they faced a possible cut in wages.

If the union accepted the community survey taken by the company as a basis for wages, he said, there would be a general cut of 2.9 cents an hour. And reductions of as much as seven and a half cents an hour for 1,700 male employees and eight cents for 448 female employees.

He said the company's offer on the issue of a 40-hour week with greater take home pay amounted to "little or nothing," and urged the workers to make known their impatience with the present state of negotiations.

The demonstrators dispersed after marching up and down in front of the plant for about half an hour.

Inscriptions on some of their banners read: "Fighting For the Forty Hour Week," "Unless We Can Buy Them You Can't Sell Them," "Forty Hours Better Pay, Helps To Keep the Wolf (unemployment) Away," and "Best Layoffs With Shorter Hours and Increased Take Home Pay."

Other cards asked for a greater share of the profits and denounced the action of the company in suspending the Montreal president.

It was the largest turnout of workers since union officials began broadcasting the progress of negotiations by using the sound truck.

Rainfall Lighter During May 1949

Statistics on Peterborough's May weather compiled by recorder Jim Harrison shows that this year was slightly warmer than a year ago, average 54.2 degrees against 52.75. There was much less rain 1.73 inches fell this year and 3.07 in 1948.

This May reached a maximum high temperature of 86 degrees on the 6th and only 75 degrees on the 28th in 1948. We also had a new low in cool weather in May, 30 degrees on the 11th. On the 2nd in 1948, temperature stood at 33 degrees.

Talks Break Down On Asbestos Pact

QUEBEC, June 2—(CP)—Negotiations between Labor Minister Antonio Barrette and company and labor representatives aimed at settlement of Quebec's strike of 5,000 Asbestos workers broke down today.

The rupture of talks between Mr. Barrette, Gerard Picard, president of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, and Ivan Sabourin, K.C., legal adviser of Canadian Johns-Manville Company, came about an hour and a half after they met at 11 a.m.

Under discussion at the time was an eight-point compromise settlement plan submitted by the labor minister.

Stock Prices Continue Rise For Second Day

TORONTO, June 2 — (CP) — Stock prices continued moving slowly upwards in their second succesive day of recovery here today. Base metals showed the best grains in the dull action while golds and industrials also advanced.

Gains in base metals ranged up to more than a full point as key issues led the upturn. All members of the big-four were well ahead. Consolidated Smelters gained $1 at $86.50 and Noranda was up 1¼ at 50¾. Quemont, Waite Amulet, Labrador and Falconbridge were among the leading gainers.

Industrials moved up fractions in dull trading. Refining oils were better while papers began to show a weaker tone at the half-way mark. Canadian Cement slipped to a new low.

Junior producers showed gains ranging up to 10 cents in a firming gold list. Dome added ⅛ at 27½ in seniors.

Quebec May Ask Stricter Laws

QUEBEC, June 2—(CP)—Ontario's two-year ban on moose-hunting, announced Tuesday, may revive demands for more severe laws for Quebec moose-hunters.

Moose-hunting is banned now in some sections of Quebec while in others the 1949 hunting season will be from Oct. 1-23. But the question still is one for argument among sportsmen.

Charles Fremont, superintendent of Fish and Game, reported last year that "all true sportsmen are seriously worried as to what will become of the moose if it has to continue to withstand its arduous struggle against hunters and poachers at the rate at which their prolonged attack is being carried on."

"It is not too late," Mr. Fremont said, "to take it necessary measures to assure its survival by restrictive measures, even if such measures do seem radical in the eyes of those who are not aware of the true situation."

Since Mr. Fremant's report was made, the official Gazette has proclaimed hunting-law amendments increasing from $75 to $100 licence fees charged to visitors for moose-hunting and requiring that kills of moose be reported to game wardens within a fortnight.

UNVEILS MEMORIAL—Viscount Alexander, the governor-general, officiated at the unveiling of a memorial to 22 Indians who died during the Second World War in the forces of Canada. The ceremony took place at the Six Nations Reservation near Brantford, Ont., during the week-end. Here the governor-general and Lady Alexander talk with Lillian Burnham, wearing the costume of an Indian Princess. In the background is the shaft of the memorial.

Two Arraigned On Cattle Theft

PORT HOPE, June 2—(ENS)—Sequel to recent extensive cattle rustling from the pasture of Oliver Knapp and Harold Allen at Orono was enacted in magistrate's court here yesterday when two men were arraigned on charges of stealing cattle from Knapp and Allen. E. A. Allen, Orono, brother of Harold Allen, pleaded guilty to rustling six of Knapp's cattle and was remanded for sentence. Henry Sucee, also of Orono, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing one cow from Harold Allen and six steers from Knapp, and was remanded for the taking of evidence.

Sucee was arrested by Provincial Police following the finding of a cow bearing a brand name used by Harold Allen in a Peterborough packing house. E. A. Allen was picked up several days later in Toronto by Provincial Police where four cattle were seized in the stockyards there.

85,000 Men May Join Que. Strike

Catholic Labor Unions To Discuss Support Of Asbestos Walkout

QUEBEC, June 3 (CP) — A general strike by 85,000 members of Catholic labor unions in support of the 5,000 striking Quebec Asbestos workers will be discussed at a special meeting next week of officials of all organizations affiliated with the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor.

The meeting, announced Thursday at the moment the CCCL turned down a plan for settlement of the Eastern Townships Asbestos strike, will be held in Montreal.

Date of the meeting has not been finally fixed but is due to be announced Saturday and the session will be held before the end of next week.

A CCCL official said here today the question of a general strike by all Catholic syndicates affiliated with the Confederation "will be on the agenda.'

Many Industries Affected

Members of Catholic unions are employed in the textile, aluminum, clothing and paper-making industries. They have members among shipyard, lumber and wood-workers store employees and among Quebec City's bus-drivers.

Asbestos Workers' Syndicates which also are affiliated with the CCCL, called their strike Feb. 13 to back up demands that included a wage boost from 85 cents an hour to $1.

Two series of conferences aimed at settlement of the dispute have been held and the second broke down Thursday when Gerard Picard, CCCL president and spokesman for the Asbestos unions, rejected a settlement proposal prepared by Labor Minister Barrette.

The rejection ended negotiations for settlement for the bitter disagreement.

Mr. Picard turned down Mr. Barrette's proposal on points governing routine arbitration and rehiring of strikers.

Earlier, individual settlement proposals by the Canadian John-Manville Company, largest employer of the companies affected, and Mr. Picard, had been turned down. The company approved of the Labor Minister's eight-point plan.

Drought Facing Ontario, Fear Crop Loss

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) —The spectre of drought over the farmlands of Ontario Thursday night brought from the Provincial Agricultural Department forecasts of heavy crop loss and a sharp drop in dairy production.

Pastures are parched, crops stunted, reservoirs and conservation dams at low levels. Agricultural department officials say that unless heavy rain comes soon, milk herds will suffer and dairy production will fall off.

Weather forecaster say showers are headed for southern regions of the provinces but only the White River and James Bay areas are likely to benefit today. A band of rain along a north-south line from northwestern Ontario to Arkansas is moving slowly eastward.

Water supplies were curtailed yesterday to householders and manufacturers at Oakville, midway between Toronto and Hamilton, but H. B. Lofquist, Public Utilities Commission chairman, said supplies were back to normal today. He said yesterday's shortage was caused by a temporary breakdown in auxiliary pumping equipment. However, water-conservation measures would be continued and a ban maintained on watering lawns.

Check Reservoirs

Elsewhere in the Toronto district, municipal water commissions checked their reservoirs and issued public appeals for conservation. Lawn-watering restrictions went into force in several Toronto suburbs.

Industries dependent on water were hard hit. The General Electric lamp factory at Trafalgar laid off 250 employees at noon Thursday. Until water delivery was resumed, production would not resume.

At the Arrow Paper Mill, production of bread wrappers stopped. This morning, said manager W. H. Austill, 400,000 loaves of bread will be delivered without wrapping.

The flow of water in the Grand River was reported too low for proper dilution of waste matter. The Grand River conservation commission was told this week that if water now in storage at the Bellwood dam near Galt were used now, there would be a short-

Rule Hydro Project Crews Eligible For Election Vote

OTTAWA, June 3—(CP)—The Justice Department ruled Thursday that some 1,600 to 2,000 Ontario Hydro- Electric workers in the Ottawa Valley will be eligible to vote in the forthcoming federal election. The decision reversed an earlier ruling by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer, that the workers were barred under a Dominion Elections Act provision which placed the workers under the definition of "provincial public works" employees.

F. P. Varcoe, deputy justice minister, said that after further information had been supplied by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, it had been decided the Ottawa valley workers were eligible under the act.

This reversal in decision followed a brief presented by Ontario Hydro and the department agreed with the brief that since the Hydro was self-financing and self-governed, the workers did not fall into the category mentioned in the act.

3 Projects Affected

The three main projects affected by the new ruling are Hydro developments at Des Joachims, La-Cave and Chenaux. Hydro workers on the three projects will be able to vote either in Renfrew North or Renfrew South. The previous ruling allowed the wives of the workers to vote, but disfranchised their husbands.

The new ruling applied specifically to the three Ottawa valley projects and were distinguished from other Hydro works in other provinces because of the self-sustaining and autonomous nature of Ontario Hydro, Mr. Varcoe emphasized.

The general ruling in the Dominion Elections Act still applied to other Hydro projects across Canada. Workmen on provincial or Federal works projects still are ineligible to vote, except in their home ridings.

Berlin Workers Reject Offer

BERLIN, June 3 (AP)—Striking railway workers of West Berlin Thursday rejected a Communist-sponsored compromise offer by a vote of 13,477 to 398.

That means the work stoppage, which opened with bloody fighting between strikers and Communist strike-breakers May 21, will continue.

Officials of the striking independent labor organization, the UGO, announced a strike roll of about 12,000. The votes, however, totalled 13,875. Officials said the extra votes represented members they had considered "on the fence and not directly involved in pushing the strike."

Several reasons were given for the adverse vote:

The compromise was agreed on and presented by the Soviet-controlled German railway management and the non-striking Communist free German trade union. The UGO opposes both politically.

No recognition was provided for the UGO as the railway workers' bargaining agent.

In addition, while promising no reprisals against strikers, the plan made no mention of the UGO request for job security.

Fear 100 Casualties In Bad Brazil Flood

RIO DE JANIERO, June 3 — (Reuters)—More than 100 persons are feared dead in one of the worst floods ever to hit the Sao Francisco area of northeast Brazil. Communications were cut and many towns and villages isolated.

The 5,000-ton steamship Campos Salles left Rio today with clothes, money and medicine for flood victims.

Pleads Guilty To 32 Charges

BARRIE, June 3 — (CP). — Gordon Barrett, former vice-president of the Wasaga Beach Chamber of Commerce, Thursday pleaded guilty to 32 charges of receiving stolen goods. He was remanded to June 8 for sentence.

Police said he faces a maximum of 448 years in prison, based on a possible sentence of 14 years on each of the 32 charges. At Wasaga Beach he was a prominent business man and this year was slated to be president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The charges involve $100,000 worth of jewellery taken from Lady Eaton's country estate and $50,00 in furniture and hotel supplies.

Police said the heating and refrigeration equipment found in Barrett's lodge was stolen from Edenvale Airport. The units weighed 10 tons and took eight men working a full day to load them.

"The mountain of goods" found in Barrett's lodge was stolen from places in Muskoka, Stratford, Forest Hill Village, and other centres outside Simcoe County, police said

A SURPRISE ENDING

DETROIT, June 3 — (CP). — A 44-year-old man who sought death by gas early to-day interrupted the suicide attempt to light a cigarette and was blown through the kitchen wall into the backyard, police said. Dale Flynn is in serious condition in hospital with burns on the upper part of the body and face, and abrasions on his back.

Hurls Ski Pole Cuts Boy's Skull

TORONTO, June 3 — (CP).— A steel-tipped ski pole hurled by a 17-year-old boy pierced the skull of Ronald West, 11, Thursday night and hospital officials said to-day the boy was in critical condition after an emergency operation.

Police said the youth responsible for his injury had the mentality of a small boy.

Neighbors said police had been called earlier in the day when the youth was noticed throwing the pole dangerously close to Ronald and other children.

The tip of the pole pierced the base of the boy's skull. Neighbors took him to hospital.

Five Patients Escape Two Surrender Today

SAINT JOHN, N.B., June 3 — (CP)—Two of five patients who escaped during the night from the Provincial Mental Hospital at nearby Fairville were reported back at the institution today. The three still at large were described as not violent.

Dr. E. C. Menzies, Medical Superintendent at the hospital, said that the quintet included patients whose discharge has been under consideration. He said they forced window bars to make their escape.

Two have returned of their own accord, he said, and the three still at large may have gone to their homes. They may be allowed to remain with their families he added.

The superintendent said that that escapees were "parole" patients who may have got "spring fever."

Red Army Enters Tsingtao US Ships Quit China Base

SHANGHAI, June 3—(AP)—A reliable source said today Chinese Communists have occupied Tsingtao, the north China port which until recently was the anchorage for the United States Western Pacific fleet.

United States ships and personnel pulled out of Tsingtao several days ago.

The informant said the Chinese Nationalist Navy also had withdrawn and the Communists took over the city and port without a fight. It was the last city held by the Nationalists in northeast China.

The United States maintains a small consulate at Tsingtao. The Shanghai consulate said less than 40 Americans are in Tsingtao. There are about 70 British nationalists there.

Meanwhile, the Communist "Liberation Daily" announced that dealing in all foreign exchange was being outlawed.

Marshal Yen Hsi-shan, former North China warlord, was named Premier of Nationalist China at Canton. Marshal Yen was in Formosa, reportedly conferring with Chiang Kai-shek. The lawmakers said they hoped Yen would be able to unite what is left of Nationalist China for a fight against the Communists. Before adjourning until next September, the legislators passed a resolution calling for the formation of guerrilla forces behind Communist lines.

Strip Trees Of Foliage In Wide Area

10,000 Square Miles Of Bushland Said Hit By Plague

Two central areas of Peterborough county, comprising approximately 10,000 square miles of bushland north of the Stony Lake line, are heavily infested with the forest tent caterpillar, Mr. A. B. Wheatley of Lindsay, district forester, informed the Examiner today.

"The area in which this epidemic has broken out is plainly visible from the air by the expanse of woodland that has been stripped of leaves," Mr. Wheatley said, confirming reports to the Examiner by W. A. Anderson of Otonabee, and Frank C. Paterson, agriculture representative. "Permanent damage will not be done to trees. Foliage is already budding again on trees that were attacked first."

Mr. Wheatley said today that the largest section of the county affected by the masses of caterpillars was about 10 square miles north of the Buckhorn section and another 2,000 acres or more of Stony Lake from McCracken's.

"While they are in the caterpillar stage they are a nuisance to everybody in the vicinity," Mr Wheatley said, "but they pupate (pass into the pupa stage) and will be gone before the end of this month."

The Ontario Department of Forests does not spray privately owned woodland, he said, in reference to a report that some spraying had been done.

Bare As In March

"The trees that have been stripped by this pest," said Mr. Anderson, "look as bare as they did in March. It is a strange sight, the defoliated trees of caterpillars' path in contrast with the others that are now in full leaf."

Frank C. Paterson and his assistant, Robert Bell, investigated Wednesday reports from Buckhorn.

"We were along the Oregon Trail, and found the woods full of caterpillars over quite an area. They were falling through the leaves with a sound like big drops of rain. We were kept busy brushing them off our heads. Some of them got down under our shirt collars. Damage to the woods is not permanent. The caterpillar is active for awhile and then turns into a pupa, and that is the last of them for this season."

Mr. Paterson said he was not positive of the identity of this species of caterpillar, whether American tent or forest, but he believed they were the forest caterpillar. A sample has been sent to the department of entomology at Guelph for identification.

Mr. Wheatley said they were the forest type that does not tent.

Reports from various sources indicate that several extensive areas of trees have been stripped, and that some of the summer cottagers have retreated from the caterpillar invasion until the crest of it has passed.

Get Into Beds

Mr Paterson said he had heard several stories that some of the nuisance grubs had found their way into beds possibly carried on

Ottawa Seaman Held In Death Of Waiter

MONTREAL, June 3.—(CP)— An inquest was ordered today into the death of Louis Poitras, 39-year-old tavern waiter, who suffered fatal injuries in a street fight. Police said they are holding Byron Ryan, of Ottawa, 17-year-old merchant seaman, at police headquarters as a material witness pending result of the inquest.

Police said the two got in a fight on Stanley street, in uptown Montreal, and that Ryan knocked Poitras down and then kicked him in the face.

Poitras was taken to the central division of the Montreal General Hospital, where he died. It was believed he died of a skull fracture, suffered when his head hit the sidewalk.

Donald Ryan, Ottawa lawyer, said today he was "shocked" to hear that his only son was being held as a material witness.

Has Sneezing Fit

LONDON, June 3—(AP)—Michael Hippisley, 14, entered a hospital today for treatment of a sneezing fit which has been going on for a month. The sneezes, which began at a rate of one a second, are less frequent now, his physician said. Michael will be given "a combination of treatments" in the new effort to stop them.

Missing Fliers Sighted By Search Plane

EDMONTON, June 3 (CP) — The RCAF Thursday night reported a search plane has sighted missing flyers Ernie Boffa and Fred Riley beside their Anson aircraft in the barren Canadian northland since Monday.

A spokesman for Northwest Air Command here said a search and rescue Dakota, piloted by Flt.-Lt. Peter Gibbs, spotted Boffa and Riley beside their crashed aircraft late Thursday. The plane was about 55 miles west northwest of Coppermine, NWT, and 160 miles inside the Arctic Circle.

The Dakota circled overhead for three hours while Boffa and Riley spelled out a message in the snow. It said:

"No go for wheels," warning the Dakota not to land unless it was ski-equipped.

One of the three Lancaster four-engined bombers helping in the search took over from the Dakota and dropped supplies to supplement those Boffa and Riley took with them on their flight to Coppermine from Holman Island, off Victoria Island in the Arctic Ocean.

The spokesman said a ski-wheel equipped Dakota from Rivers, Man., landed at Fort Nelson, BC, late Thursday and was ordered to fly immediately to Sawmill Bay NWT, base of the search. It probably will pick up Boffa and Riley early today.

A message from Dr. A. L. Washburn of Montreal, executive director of the Arctic Institute of North America, provided the clues for finding the men. He radioed from Holman Island, where Boffa took off Monday, the various routes the Canadian Pacific Airlines pilot said he would fly on his charter flight.

Soldier Gets Medal

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP) —Spr. William Lawrence Banks, 38, today was awarded the British Empire Medal for his "good judgment, skill and bravery" in saving the life of an injured fellow-soldier.

Spr. Banks crawled beneath a heavy army bulldozer to rescue Cpl. A. D Shaw who was pinned beneath the bulldozer when it fell from the float on a tank transporter. The bulldozer was supported only by a fraying cable and was forcing the Corporal deeper into a muddy ditch.

Defence headquarters said today the award had been approved by the King. The incident took place during the early morning last Dec. 1, near Owen Sound.

Find Tracks Of Small Boy Hunt Intensified By Men Searching On Hill

Prints No More Than Two Days Old Discovered By Lad's Dog; Quebec Volunteers Pour In To Aid Hunt

EASTMAN, Que., June 3—(CP)—Tracks of a small boy were found today by searchers hunting for six-year-old Michael Fontaine, missing since Monday night, and the hunt was intensified on the slopes of Mount Chagnon, about a mile and a half from the Fontaine farm home. Searchers said it was apparent that the tracks were no more than two days old. They were discovered by a party of volunteers who noticed Bowser, the Fontaine collie, running in the direction of the hill which towers over the Sheffield countryside.

The discovery gave an impetus to the search as exhausted parties who had combed the district throughout the night were relieved by bands of fresh volunteers.

The new searchers brought with them a tank of oxygen to revive the lad should he be found alive. RSM. George Malcolm from an artillery unit at nearby Magog, one of the hundreds who are taking part in the bigest search in Eastern townships history, was assigned to handle the resusciation equipment.

If the boy is not found by the week-end search leaders expect 2,000 volunteers from all parts of this section of the province to join the hunt Saturday and Sunday.

Since then mill and factory workers, high school students, neighbors, soldiers, police and game wardens have flocked to the farm to take part.

Thursday the R.C.M.P. put the search on a highly organized basis, with instructions going out at regular intervals to groups of 30 to 50 men—naming individuals and leaders and times of assembly.

Bush Fire Hazard Reaches Worst Peak

SUDBURY, June 3—(CP)— With one 150-acre bush fire burning out of control this morning, and the hazard metre in the "extremely dangerous" position, the Sudbury office of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests has cancelled all burning permits in the Sudbury area, restricted bush operations and sent calls to regional headquarters for additional hose in case an emergency develops during the week-end.

The bush fire hazard situation has reached its worst peak of the season, forestry officials said. A warning was received this morning from J. C. Dillon in Toronto, assistant chief of the Forest Protection Service, that no rain could be expected for the week-end and to alert all staffs to the emergency of the situation.

Today's large bush fire is the first serious one to break out in the Sudbury Division this season.

14 Break Out Of Escape Proof Wing Of Prison

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., June 3 — (AP) — Fourteen prisoners sawed and slugged their way out of the supposedly "escape proof" south hall of the South Penitentiary here today.

It was West Virginia's biggest mass prison break in at least 35 years.

Six of the escapees were serving life terms, and six of them were in solitary confinement.

The escaping prisoners left behind them a bleeding guard they had slugged and tossed into one of the vacated cells.

The guard's station telephone was taken off its hook. When he failed to report at 3 a.m. and the central desk found his line continued busy, an investigation was started.

Soon Learn of Break

Warden Orel J. Skeen said the break was discovered within a few minutes and that roadblocks were being set up within 30 minutes after the men crawled through a window.

A skiff moored to the West Virginia bank of the Ohio River was stolen, giving rise to the belief the escapees may have crossed into Ohio.

The section from which the men escaped contains the death house and the solitary, supposedly escape-proof cells.

The 15th cell was sawed or jimmied open, prison officials said, but the man confined there did not join the others.

Bars of six of the individual cells were reported cut with a home-made drill saw, while the remaining nine cells were jimmied open by those who already had gotten outside.

Doe Leads Race Through Store

KINGSTON, June 3.—(CP).— A two year old doe led pursuers in a wild chase up and down aisles in a large department store in downtown Kingston this morning. W. M. Perry, manager, and Alex Couper, maintenance man, first to arrive at the store, found the animal marching around the back of the store.

After some hard downfield tackling, the pair hogtied the deer. While Perry was telephoning Col. A. H. Fair, who keeps several deer on his estate outside the city, the deer threw his hobbles and started its aisle prancing stunt all over again.

The doe was finally caught, this time by Russell and Wesley Young, carters who were delivering to the store. The animal was finally taken out to Col. Fair's property.

Russia, West Compromise On Little Berlin Treaty

PARIS, June 3 — (AP). — Russia and the West were reported ready to-day to compromise on a "little peace treaty" for Berlin.

The basis of to-day's discussions at the four-power Foreign Ministers' conference will be the United States plan submitted on Thursday by State Secretary Dean Acheson and backed by both Britain and France.

Russia and the West already are agreed in principle on the plan's two most important proposals:

1—Re-establishment of four-power control of Berlin.

2—City-wide elections for an all-Berlin Council.

Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky of Russia hinted Wednesday that Russia was ready to transfer to German civic authority some of the functions exercised in the past by the Kommandatura. That is what the West wants and Western diplomats forecast some East-West bargaining.

A tangled problem is Acheson's call for the four-power supervision of elections. Both Russia and the Western powers have their own version of what constitutes free and fair elections.

The Western powers intend to offer a contract which would bind Russia to give the West free road and rail access to Berlin from their zones. They want to avoid the possibility of another blockade.

Russia is expected to suggest unification of currency throughout Germany, under four-power control. If this proposal fails, Vishinsky might suggest that in Berlin the currency question be passed along to the Germans.

Britain and France—industrial exporting countries — don't like the idea of a revived West Germany competing with them in world markets. They want a big proportion of West Germany's products channelled into East Germany and East Europe. That means they would like to see a trade pact between East and West Germany.

Biggest Bank Founder A. P. Giannini Dies

SAN MATEO, Calif., June June 3 — (AP). — A. P. Giannini, the founder and president of the Bank of America, the world's largest bank, died at his home here this morning. He was 79.

Death was attributed to heart disease. He had been in bed for nearly a month with a persistent cold, which doctors said apparently aggravated a heart condition Giannini founded the Bank of Italy in 1904. It later became the Bank of America, a $6,000,000,000 corporation.

Says Alliance With Duplessis Dubious Affair

By The Canadian Press

The campaign for the June 27 federal election, gathering speed as it rolled toward the end of its fourth week, swung from trade, to labor, to housing, to international finance Thursday night, but failed to produce a dominant, vote-catching issue.

Prime Minister St. Laurent spent another day in the Western Ontario farmlands and addressed a night meeting at Goderich. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, moving out of British Columbia after a stay of nearly a week, spoke in the B.C. mining and smelting town of Trail.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, completed his Ontario campaign with speeches at Port Arthur and Fort William, while Solon Low, Social Credit leader, moved westward from Regina, where a recorded address was broadcast over the CBC.

Dubious Alliance

Mr. St. Laurent said that Progressive Conservative hopes in Quebec rest on attempts to form "a rather dubious alliance" with elements whose record the public should study carefully.

He quoted J. M. Macdonnell, head of the Progressive Conservative Party executive, as saying that Quebec's Union Nationale Party is "only the old Conservative Party in Quebec with a new name." He wondered if Mr. Macdonnell felt the Union Nationale was the old Conservative Party when "Premier Duplessis sprang an unwarranted provincial election in 1939 on the grounds that Quebec would have nothing to do with the war."

He said Paul Bouchard, Independent candidate in the Quebec riding of Bellechasse, who had "used the most violent language against the war," was a candidate "of this new group resulting from this alliance."

Mr. Bouchard had recently used "almost the identical language" as that published in a Progressive Conservative French language advertisement which "contains the most violent appeals to religious and racial prejudice this county has had to deplore in many a year." The Prime Minister spoke to an outdoor meeting after a day spent visiting the towns of Hanover, Walkerton, Kincardine, Riversdale, and Amberley. There was some minor heckling during his speeches. He speaks in Stratford to-night.

Need Housing Law

There is nothing to indicate that either the Liberals or the Progressive Conservatives will, if elected to power, do anything about hardships resulting from housing difficulties, Mr. Coldwell said.

Mr. Coldwell said the Conservatives oppose rent control on a constitutional basis, and that under the present legislation these controls will end March 31, 1950.

This meant that if a Liberal government is returned in the federal election, Canadians can expect rent controls to be removed entirely within 10 months.

Mr. Coldwell said the federal government has "failed utterly" to improve the housing situation since 1945.

Greatly increased rents and "thousands" of evictions will result from the removal of rent controls.

A CCF government would launch a housing program which would during the CCF's five-year term of office meet the need to such an extent that rent controls "would in all probability be no longer necessary, in which event they would be removed."

"We shall give priorities to the building of homes for the people over the construction of bowling alleys, breweries, theatres, $20,000 luxury homes and the like."

Mr. Coldwell said that while the Conservatives oppose rent controls from the constitutional viewpoint, he expects the Liberals "will use that same excuse when they let rent controls lapse."

Fair Wages

Mr. Drew, in speeches at Carnbrook and Trail, made the CCF his main target. He spoke in favor of Progressive Conservative candidates in the constituencies of Kootenay East and Kootenay West, both held in the last parliament by the CCF.

The Progressive Conservative leader, in his Cranbrook effort, charged that CCF chieftain M. J Coldwell is on record as saying a Socialist government would control wages and prices. He said Mr. Coldwell also put forth that a CCF government would consider cutting interest on government bonds and would allow profits only in a "small controlled way."

Mr. Drew said his party advocates policies assuring fair wages and working hours and providing for compulsory collective bargaining and holidays with pay. He said that such top-flight labor leaders as William Green of the AFL and Phillip Murray of the CIO have come out in favor of free enterprise although the CCF claims the support of labor.

The Progressive Conservative leader also stressed compulsory collective bargaining in his speech in the mining centre of Trail. He said his party has gone on record in favor of improved collective bargaining legislation establishment of a National Labor Council and improved relations between labor and management.

Missing Atom Bottle Found In Garbage

WASHINGTON, June 3—(AP)—A missing atomic bottle has been found, but the search goes on for some of the uranium-235 which was in it.

Senators Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) made that announcement Thursday as his Senate-House atomic energy committee adjourned its hearings into charges of "incredible mismanagement" made against David E. Lilienthal by Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep. Iowa) Lilienthal heads the atomic energy commission.

McMahon said the commission's general manager, Carroll Wilson, reported to the committee that the missing bottle was dug out of a large steel box of waste material in the Argonne laboratory's special radioactive "burial ground".

The uranium apparently had been spilled from the bottle, after which the container was discarded. It was all due to "carelessness and negligence," McMahon said.

age in September. The Grand flows through the Kitchener-Galt-Brantford areas and empties into Lake Erie near Dunnville.

The late arrival of warm spring weather is combining with the dry spell to delay growth of crops generally. The Ontario Agriculture Department's weekly crop report said Thursday that in northern Ontario seeding is at a standstill while crop growth also is reported slow in Eastern Ontario.

Severe Shortage

Suburban Forest Hill village today instituted strict water-conservation measures to alleviate a shortage described as "the worst in the village's history."

"Some of our families couldn't even get water for breakfast this morning," said Bill Fraser, Police and Fire Chief of the village of Toronto's northern boundaries "it isnt funny any more. . it's terrible.

A by-law preventing lawn-hosing or use of water for any but domestic purposes will be strictly enforced, the chief said. To make it more effective, the by-law was changed to cover hours between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., instead of noon to midnight.

"Police are being taken off other duties to enforce this by-law," Chief Fraser said. "There's a $50 fine for anyone caught using hoses or wasting water."

LONDON, June 3 — (AP) — Informed sources said Thursday Britain will avoid an immediate stand on recognition of Communist China.

Where To Park, How Free? Chamber Asks

If the City Council decides to instal parking meters on the Market Square, a proposal which the aldermen are now considering, the Peterborough Businessmen's Association wants to know what other alternative free parking areas, if any, the city has in mind. A decision to forward a letter to the City Clerk seeking an answer to this question was reached at a meeting of the executive of the association held this morning in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The executive decided not to recommend any particular stand on the matter to the association as a whole until after receipt of the desired information from the city. There was a very general feeling among the executive members, however, that the city has grown so rapidly in recent years that more free parking areas are a dire need.

The association feels that a bad impression is being made on visitors, including American tourists, because there are so few places where they can park their cars without restriction. They fear that this will have the increasing effect of driving potential customers away to other centres where the problem of finding parking space is less acute.

No Santa Parade

The executive discussed at some length whether or not they would sponsor the Santa Claus parade in Peterborough again this year. It was finally decided to drop the idea for this year in favor of making a study of how this event is put on in other places. It is possible that in the light of more complete information gleaned in the survey the parade may be revived again in 1950.

James Clark, newly - elected president, presided.

Bring Back Vaudeville

NEW YORK, June 3 —(AP)—Vaudeville, which came back to New York last month, is due for a country-wide revival. It went over so well at Broadway's historic Palace Theatre that R.K.O. is going to try it out from coast to coast. R.K.O. said that by next fall it hopes to have variety shows in all its theatres in major cities across the United States.

Gets Life Sentence

MARIANNA, Fla., June 3 (AP) —Frank Murphy, Jr., 14-year-old reform school inmate, was given a life sentence Thursday for the "tattle tale" murder of a fellow student. Murphy was charged with choking and stabbing to death Eddie Albert Black, 13. The prosecution claimed Murphy killed the younger boy because he threatened to tattle on him for smoking.

Overcome Many Problems To Give Newfoundland Vote

OTTAWA, — (CP) — Entry of Newfoundland into Confederation posed a brand-new set of political and electoral problems for Canada.

Parliament had to be enlarged to give the island province representation; Dominion-provincial agreements had to be negotiated; certain statutes had to be made flexible enough to mesh with Newfoundland's laws and customs during the transitional period; the new province had to be given cabinet representation.

In the field of practical politics, the three major parties pitched in to build up organizations from scratch in a land that had not known party politics for 16 years.

On the electoral front, polling machinery had to be set up in a big and sparsely-settled territory where travel facilities in many areas are no more than primitive

Full Partner

Upshot of months of negotiation, hard work and many headaches is that Newfoundland winds up as a fully-fledged partner in Confederation, and her people will speak in the June 27 general election with as clear a voice as any of the older provinces.

For a great many of Newfoundlands approximately 175,000 electors, the May 27 provincial election marked the first time they had exercised the franchise in an election since the island reverted from responsible government to colony status in 1933. The June 27 federal contest will be the second.

Since then, there has grown up a new generation which never has known the privilege of the ballot except in the few communities where municipal elections were held. The island itself was governed by a commission appointed by the British government.

To extend the franchise to all Newfoundlanders has been a major task, both in educating them on how to use the ballot and in getting the ballots to them physically. But election officials are confident now that the problem has been whipped and that on election day Newfoundland voting machinery will roll as smoothly as that of any other province.

Varied Transport

To get the ballot around in time, the office of Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer for the Dominion, has had to use such varied transport as airplanes, naval frigate, R.C.M.P. cutter, dog teams, fishing boats, railroad and snowshoe.

Distances and inaccessibility to one type or another of transport in various parts of the new province complicated matters. For instance the Grand Falls-White Bay riding that included Labrador stretches for 900 miles as the crow flies. That's more than the north-south depth of the Prairie provinces. Planes and dog teams had to be used to get the ballots and other election material into much of that big constituency.

Along the south shore of the island, where overland travel between most communities is impossible, the workers pressed into service an R.C.M.P. ship and the naval frigate New Liskeard.

Nelson Castonguay, son of the chief electoral officer and his right hand man, also made a flying trip to Newfoundland in January to line up returning officials, and instruct them in their jobs.

Tact Required

It had to be done quietly and tactfully, because Newfoundland was not yet a part of Canada. At that time, the electoral officers had no inkling of the election date. But they took a sharp look at the political signs and plunged in.

Had they not done so at the time, a June election would have been out of the question.

But now the arrangements are running smoothly and on schedule, and even far-off Labrador will be reporting its returns well up with the rest of the country on election night, thanks to the assistance of radio stations spotted through the outports. It is expected about two-thirds of the Labrador voting will be known election night, and the remainder in another day or two.

clothing. "And that's not a pleasant way of going to bed," he added. "They are chiefly a nuisance for the present. From what we saw, they are really on a rampage, but they are at the height of their cycle. There were many of them in some parts of this district last year, but the stripping of the trees was nothing like what it is now.

"At any rate, the bulk of the damage for this season is already done, whatever the extent of it may be."

2 SIU Crew Members Given Bad Beating

SYDNEY, N.S., June 3—(CP)—Two Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) crew members of the Collier Louisburg were "severely beaten" by unidentified men here Thursday night, police said today.

The attack followed a similar incident last week-end when four S.I.U. members were beaten. Police said members of the rival Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) were responsible for the first attack.

Three Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation Colliers, Louisburg, Wabana and Arthur Cross were manned in Halifax by S.I.U. crews after they had been tied up for two months by the C.S.U. deep-sea shipping strike. The Colliers later berthed in Sydney with ore cargoes from Newfoundland.

US Will Introduce Plan To Stabilize Food Price

GUELPH, June 3—(CP)—A United States plan for stabilizing food prices and handling surplus food products was scheduled to be introduced today to a sub-committee of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers Conference here. Albert S. Goss of Washington, D.C., Master of the National Grange, proposed the plan. It calls for setting up a World Food Stabilization Board to handle food distribution through international commodity agreements, similar to the international wheat agreement.

Mr. Goss, who represents almost 1,000,000 United States farmers, says the plan would be self-financing. A transaction fee, to be determined by the participating nations and shared equally by producer and consumer, would meet the cost.

Thursday a special meeting of all delegates unanimously urged immediate ratification of the International Wheat Agreement by governments of all signatory nations.

The agreement provides maximum and minimum prices for wheat over a four-year period and guarantees sales and purchases for each of those years of about 456,000,000 bushels. To become effective, the agreement has to be ratified by July 1, 1949, by a major proportion of the 42 nations who negotiated it. So far, Canada is the only one to do so.

Take From 2 Plans

The Goss Plan and a Canadian Plan for stabilizing prices and disposing of surplus foods may form the basis of the one finally adopted by the conference, some observers say.

The Canadian plan was presented to the sub-committee by H. H. Hannam, head of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. It recommends purchase of food surpluses by an International Board which would resell them at a loss to be absorbed half by a central fund and half by the producing country.

At another sub-committee meeting delegates heard Msgr. N. M. Coady, Director of Extension, St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S., advocate education — especially adult — as a means of awakening the common man to the possibility of managing his own affairs.

Man-On-The-Street Invited To Get A Load Off His Chest

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA, June 3 —(CP)—The man-on-the-street, the history professor behind his desk, the craftsman and the artist next August will be invited to get a load off their chests.

They will be welcomed at the first public hearing of the newly-appointed Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences, which is preparing for what may be more than a year of finding out what Canadians think about Canadian life, its intellectual development and how it can be improved.

The hearings open in Ottawa Aug. 3, for about five or six weeks. Then the commission, headed by the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, University of Toronto chancellor, will move west.

Working on a $40-a-day salary, the commissioners will listen to the voice of the public in Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria and Regina and then head towards the Maritimes after visiting Toronto, Montreal and Quebec City in January.

Canadians who have either some praising or complaining to do will have a number of subjects from which to choose.

The commission first will receive briefs on the National Museum, whether it is functioning properly, whether it should be expanded and what its exhibits-policy should be.

Hearings then will centre on the National Gallery—there have been complaints that it does not have sufficient space — the National War Museum, the Public Archives, scholarships and the possibilities of a National Library, the policy of the National Film Board and the establishment of a United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization national commission in Canada.

Finally, before the commission leaves Ottawa, it will hear briefs on radio and television—a controversial issue that centres on the policies of the CBC and private broadcasters across the country.

Inferiority Complex Makes Canadians Dull

OTTAWA, June 3.—(CP).—Unless Canada—and especially Canadian students — can break the bonds of its devastating inferiority complex, Canadians will remain "imitative" . . . dull people," Dr. A. R. M. Lower, professor of history at Queen's University said Thursday night. He spoke at the graduation exercises of St. Patrick's College.

Dr Lower said the average Canadian university student was reticent and afraid of expressing himself.

He said one could not take for granted that the average student had "any degree of ability."

Unveil Monument

ROME, June 3 —(Reuters)—President Luigi Einaudi of Italy Thursday unveiling a monument which took 59 years to build. It honors Giuseppe Mazzini, founder of the short-lived Roman Republic 100 years ago. The statue was authorized in 1890 but internal disorders and the First World War delayed laying of the foundation stone until 1922. Fascism, and the Second World War, held it up again.

Act To Reduce Fire Hazards At County Home

COBOURG, June 3 (ENS) — Recommendations from the Fire Marshal's Deparment relative to conditions at the Counties Home were read at yesterday's session of Northumberland and Durham Counties Council. It was estimated by Reeve G. A. Walton of Newcastle, chairman of the Board of Management, that it would cost around $10,000 to carry out the proposals.

The Fire Marshal's department sugested that a 20,000 gallon reservoir be built underground at the Home with special pump, an automatic fire alarm system that would sound at the Cobourg fire hall, auxiliary hose, extra fire extinguishers, special fire exit doors and other equipment.

Counties Solicitor Alan Field expressed the opinion that the Fire Marshal should have had his recommendations ready when the building was reconstructed ten years ago. "Suppose you had a fire up there. You are responsible for 102 inmates. If a fire resulted from something at fault in the institution the Fire Marshal could say that he made recommendations and nothing was done about them. On motion council decided to spend $1,000 on immediate needs.

Tax-Rate Unchanged

The by-law covering the 10 mill rate for 1949 was passed, the tax rate being the same as last year. The following amounts are to be levied against the minor municipalities for school purposes. Alnwick township $1,263.65; Brighton Township, $3,608.16; Cartwright $2,425.92; Cavan, $4,092.07; Clarke $4,618.76; Cramahe, $2,491.31; Darlington, $7,525.99; Haldimand, $4,613.14; Hamilton, $5,239.59; Hope, $4,179.21; Manvers, $2,134.97; Murray, $3,642.87; Percy, $2,386.19; Seymour, $3415.04; South Monaghan, $1,313.15 and Hastings Village, $1,051.42. Total amount, $54,001.44.

A number of townships were grouped together to form the new high school areas and these were ratified by the following by-laws:

Cartwright Township (to attend Blackstock school); north part of Cavan, all of Manvers, to attend the Peterborough Suburban School; Cobourg, the east part of Hamilton Township and all of Haldimand to attend at Cobourg; Cramahe, Brighton Township, Murray Township, part of Percy Township, Couborne and Brighton villages (new school); Campbellford and Seymour, to attend Campbellford high school; No. 9, Percy Township, to attend Norwood high school.

Council favored a grant of $4,000. to the Family Court in view of the service it was doing in bringing parents together who had family difficulties.

Accept Finding

Reeve Alex Stephens of Haldimand Township in reporting on the arbitration committee which studied maintenance on the boundary road between Murray and Brighton townships, said that the committee felt that the part of the road from the southerly end of Brighton Township to the experimental farm corner should be the responsibility of that township and the rest of the road be responsibility of Murray Township The report was adopted.

Council passed a resolution to be forwarded to the government and also to county councils throughout the province, that senile patients now in county homes for the aged should be the responsibility of the government and should not be placed in county homes as they make the prevailing overcrowded conditions even worse.

James Redmond Division Safety Chairman

OSHAWA, June 3 — Over 200 industrial safety engineers, superintendents, foremen and first aid men, all members of the Central Ontario Division of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, met in Oshawa Wednesday. They concluded the day with a banquet in the Masonic Hall at which the principal speaker was E. G. Pullen, O.B.E., Vice-president of the Air Coils Manufacturing Company of Guelph.

Following the meeting M. J. Redmond the of Cobourg Malting Company, Cobourg was elected Chairman of the Division for the next year. Vice-Chairman elected were: for the Belleville section, J. W. Thompson, Deacon Brothers Limited, Belleville; for Cobourg-Port Hope, C. W. Spencer, General Foods Limited, Cobourg; for Peterborough-Lindsay, D. Leathe, Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Company, Oshawa section, William Fitches, General Motors of Canada Limited, Oshawa, Secretary P. A. Schreiber.

O. J. Presson, of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Bowmanville, presided at the meeting at which C. S. Kircher, President of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association was a guest. Retiring president Mr. Presson was presented with an engraved gavel as is customary. A sing-song during the program was conducted by Clarence Corbett, of Peterborough.

Also at the head table were the retiring Vice-Chairmen. They were H. A. Baptie, Western Clock Company, Peterborough; H. M. Burley, Corbin Lock Company, Belleville M. J. Redmond, Cobourg Matting and Carpet Company and W. R. Branch, Fittings Limited, Oshawa.

Pride In Achievement

If it were possible to instil into the masses of industrial workers the same pride in achievement, the same skill and sense of responsibility that was found in the ancient craftsman, then, said the speaker, E. G. Pullen, the first effective steps toward accident prevention would have been taken.

We had replaced the individual skill of the craftsman with the machine but we had not managed to instil into the hordes of workers who engulfed him the spirit he possessed nor his pride in his job. The man who looked on his job only as a means toward survival certainly was not going to put care and thought and preparation into its execution. It was this same attitude, the speaker thought, which led to industrial mishaps.

In the past decades, Mr. Pullen said, we have made great material strides. Unfortunately we have not kept pace morally and mentally. The greatest safety factor in industry was said to be that which man wore above his ears. When one looked at his pursuits it was evident that what he had above his ears had been reduced to the proverbial knot which kept his spine from unravelling.

As manifestations of this decadency Mr. Pullen cited advertising which day in and out tried to get the idea across that it offered more and more for less and less effort; movies which monopolized our time and recreation so that their producers could pour into us what they thought we would buy or 35 cents admission. Radio was described as "an invader in our homes" and the speaker dared not think what would happen when television was perfected.

The following were elected by acclamation to the 1949-1950 executive committee of the division:

Peterborough-Lindsay Section: H. A. Baptie, Western Clock Co. Limited, Peterborough; H. T. Cranford, Western Clock Company, Limited, Peterborough; J. E. Girven, Canadian Peneral Electtic Comapny Limited, Peterborough; A. F. Innes, Canada Packers Limited, Peterborough; I. F. McRae, Canadian General Electric Company Limited, Peterborough; F. J. Plan Something New In RCAF Air Show

TORONTO, June 3.—(CP). — The R.C.A.F. plans something new in formation flying in the skies over Toronto.

A flight of 38 Harvards from the southwestern Ontario station at Centralia will spell out the letters "R.C.A.F." The display will be part of air force day observances June 11 in which a mass flight of 120 R.C.A.F. aircraft will fly over Toronto and Hamilton

The Harvard pilots have been practising the stunt, similar to one put on by the United States Air Force for Gen. Lucius Clay when the American military governor left Germany. A spotter plane, working from above, directs individual planes into correct correct formation by radio-telephone.

The Contest for Peterborough West

Fourteen times since Confederation the riding of Peterborough West has sent a Conservative to Ottawa to represent it; there have been six Liberal members from this district, and in 1917 the late J. H. Burnham was returned as a Unionist candidate. It would be fair, therefore, to call this a Conservative constituency, although the victory has not always been a great one; Conservative majorities have dropped to as little as sixteen votes. The largest Conservative majority ever achieved here was in the election of 1945 when Mr. Gordon Fraser won the seat by a majority of 2,768, and a plurality (majority over both the other candidates) of 256.

• • •

Mr. Fraser, who has represented Peterborough since 1940, seeks the seat for a third term. It goes without saying that he is a formidable contestant. He has done all that lies in his power for this constituency, and Peterborough people who have had business with the Government have found him unfailingly helpful, without regard to their own political allegiance. As The Examiner said after his victory in 1945, he owes his success to the fact that he is an extremely shrewd campaigner, tireless in his attention to his constituency, and incapable of dishonourable or rancorous conduct in his political affairs. The only thing that can be said against Mr. Fraser is that he has twice sat in Opposition, and that his chances of procuring benefits for this city have been sharply limited by that fact.

• • •

The Liberal candidate is Mr. Aubrey V. Clapper, very widely known as Dit Clapper, for many years famous as a hockey star, and now a merchant in this city. Mr. Clapper's appeal to sportsmen needs no comment. To those whose interest in sport is not absorbing, it may be said that he has shown himself a capable man of business, and that since he returned to our city he has interested himself keenly in everything which is for the good of the youth of Peterborough. It is his desire to do all that he can for the youth of Canada, we understand, which has led him to enter the field of politics. The 1945 Liberal candidate, Mr. R. M. Glover, polled a vote of 8,181 as against Mr. Fraser's 10,949. Whether Mr. Clapper's appeal is sufficient to bridge this gap will depend chiefly upon the support he receives from the youth he wishes to serve.

• • •

The candidate of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation is Mr. J. Howard Miles, an auctioneer and valuer in this city and, like Mr. Clapper, a local man; he was born in Dummer. Because of the nature of his business Mr. Miles is widely known, particularly in the rural areas. He has been one of the most faithful and capable workers for his party in this district since it was organized. In the 1945 election the C.C.F. candidate, Dr. Lorna Cotton Thomas, polled 2,512 votes.

• • •

Up to the present time the local campaign has been very quiet. Indeed it might be said that it has been too quiet. Democracy thrives on controversy, and is in perpetual danger from its own inertia. From the long-range democratic point of view it would be far healthier for Peterborough to elect Mr. Miles by an overwhelming majority than to keep its present dead-and-alive attitude toward politics. What appears to many Peterborough citizens to be political steadfastness is more accurately describable as political complacency and stagnation. Whoever wins the election, let us have a contest in which every citizen takes some interest. The core of diehards in every party will vote as they have always voted, but there are thousands of Peterborough votes waiting to be garnered by the candidate who is capable of firing the imagination of the indifferent citizens. The Peterborough political situation begs for a trumpet call, instead of the confidential back-room flute-playing which is all it is getting at present.

The Big Three And The Fourth

Again the Foreign Ministers are meeting. Again France, Britain and the U.S.A. are ranged together, and the fourth, Russia, is opposed to them at almost every turn of discussion. The Paris meeting of the four Foreign Ministers follows directly upon the official ending of the Berlin Blockade, indirectly and more cogently upon the emergence of the new Western-sponsored Federal Republic of Germany. When Russia witnessed this creation, and the very apparent revival of western Germany economically, socially and politically despite its best efforts to hinder, it backtracked.

The tracks it is taking have been revealed by Mr. Vishinsky at the Conference. They are the same old tracks which led to wreck last year. Russia wants western powers to forego the new German state all Germany to return not only to Four Power control but to the Four-Power rule under the Allied Control Council. This would put an end to any German government. It is likely that it would end in the same sort of situation which made the Berlin airlift necessary, unless the three western powers withdrew from Germany altogether.

The western nations have proposed a unification of Germany; indeed, it is impossible to see how a divided Germany can exist for many years without some sort of continental eruption. The western powers want a unified Germany under a federation such as that being set up in their zones now. The Soviet zone could come into the union provided political democracy and civil liberties were accepted and practised, and provided that the German representatives from the east were more than Soviet puppets.

The Bonn Constitution has been drawn up with provision for all German regions to enter the federation. Russia, and Russian-controlled Germans of the east have established a counter Berlin Constitution for a different type of unified German state; a centralized one. It seems to be a bitter game of state-making.

The most interesting suggestions that have come out of the Paris Conference thus far were significantly made by Russia: to withdraw occupation forces entirely from Germany, and to draw up a peace treaty. It is shocking to realize that more than four years after the end of the war no official peace terms with Germany or on Germany has been made.

The New Graduates

From Queen's, from Toronto, from Western, from McMaster, from all the universities great and small across the land, thousands of young Canadian men and women are graduating these weeks. The two dozen universities in the eight provinces (P.E.I. and New foundland have none) are giving more baccalaureates this year than ever before. It is the fruit chiefly of the government grants to aid veterans of the war to undertake university studies. Men and women who began then in 1945 and 1946 have now completed their courses. Happily, too, among the new graduates are very many younger folk who entered universities from school in the first post-war autumn.

To the graduates from Peterborough and district, to their parents and friends, we extend congratulations as they gather in convocation halls and on tree-shadded campuses during these happy degree-giving days.

More Precious Than Gold

We cannot remember, nor, we guess, can any historian remember, any time when the loss of a quarter-ounce of any substance created a public stir. But recently, such a minute loss was front-page news. One quarter of an ounce of uranium-235 has disappeared, and the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission is out hunting for it. The precious stuff has not been stolen; it has merely spread itself among tons of waste, machine turnings and laboratory equipment. Finding the quarter-ounce may not be more dificult than looking for a needle in a haystack (an outdated simile in these days of magnets) but it will be more important. We hope that the scientists find it soon and get it off the front page. It makes us a little nervous to have one-quarter ounce of uranium-235 on the loose; who knows but what we might come upon it some noon in our soup? Dangerous, that's what it is.

NOTE AND COMMENT

In Listowel the mayor's dog was picked up by the dog-catcher. We presume that he also got the mayor's goat.

The Berlin Blockade has not yet been completely demolished, for railway workers in Berlin have refused to work on Russian terms. Where are the once-famous blockbusters we used to hear about during the war?

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: In reading the Newfoundland election news last week, I noticed that they have a queer time. For instance, reports said the polls would close at "7 p.m. N.D.T. (5.2 E.D.T.)". Can you explain?

ANSWER: Yes, I can. Before Newfoundland's entry into Canada, Canada had five time zones, from Atlantic Standard Time to Pacific Standard Time, each successively an hour behind the eastern one. That is the Standard Time pattern which I mentioned in this column a couple of weeks ago, devised by Sir Sandford Fleming. But Newfoundland had and still has a timing system of its own. Newfoundland Time is a half hour earlier than Atlantic and one and a half-hours earlier than Eastern (our) Standard Time. Its Daylight Saving Time (N.D.T.) is correspondingly 1½ hours earlier than ours.

It would seem that for the sake of railway schedules, telephoning long distance and radio broadcasts, Newfoundland would now adopt another timing method, either Atlantic Time or a Newfoundland Time set one complete hour earlier than Atlantic Time, even though its present system may be more exactly solar time.

DEAR ALPHA: During the time that Mr. E. H. D. Hall was a member of the Utilities Commission, he said that the grounds around the Filtration Plant were to be named "Moore Park" in honour of Mr. W. H. Moore who was instrumental in erecting the plant. He hoped that the name would be placed over the gates and he himself always spoke of the place as "Moore Park", which to most people sounds more attractive than the "Filtration Plant". Was any provision ever made to put the name over the gates?

ANSWER: I answered a similar question in this column last autumn, but welcome another reference to the matter. The Commission never officially decreed the name "Moore Park" in honour of W. H. Moore, who for many years served honourably and well as a Utilities Commissioner. But at one of the Commission meetings, that name was recommended. It was never officially adopted. It may be too late now to wean the public from the present pick-up name.

By the way, the park at the Filtration Plant has been extended northward along the river bank, trees set out, more lawns laid, and even several picnic tables are provided under the trees. Here one can munch and loll in a real park-like atmosphere, as well as stare at deer, guinea-pigs, and a variety of plumed birds. The park has always been kept neat and attractive; now its extension is making it more commodious.

When the road work to remove the highway bend at the Water Works is completed, I hope that the present road bed and verges will be annexed to the Water Works-Filtration Plant grounds, and thus secure a further extension of park.

Very great credit is due the Utilities Commission and its employees for the development of and care given these grounds. All citizens must be most grateful.

FRIEND ALPHA: I have been setting out lowly geraniums in my borders. I know that my neighbours scorn such mild gardening attempts. Please say something nice about geraniums!

RESPONSE: Delighted to do so, dear lady. But, may I humbly suggest that what I might say about geraniums or anything else would not affect your neighbours a whit? Geraniums are sturdy plants, persevering in bloom, and pleasantly, domestically colourful. I remember the charming effect of red geraniums set out on all the window ledges of Jesus College, Oxford, in the front quad, gaily, relieving its stone sombreness. If an Oxford college dare sport geraniums, need you any support from Yours Truly, Alpha?

DEAR ALPHA: I'm afraid you have been misinformed. Mosquitoes are unfortunately prevalent in many parts of the British Isles, especially in the flatter western half of the country. They are particularly numerous near rivers, marshes, lakes and ponds, and breed also in water-butts, which are often used in the country to collect rain from the roof. The gnat is a very tiny insect, and is not to be confused with the mosquito, and gnat bites are less painful. The malarial types appears to have existed in the Fen country in historical times, but nowadays the culex or non-malarial type is the only one found. I have slain hundreds of them.

RESPONSE: Thanks, and for the Ezra Pound parody of "Sumer Is I-Cumen In" which would be ungentlemanly to publish here. The mosquito point which bothers me is not the nattering of gnats, but the bite. It is the comfort of misery to know that England's Fen country has the biting bloodsuckers too. Mosquitoes mooch around all over Europe, but I've never been pained by their bite.

FOR THE RECORD: Uncrowded home-owning, house-with-lawns-and-gardens readers, prepare for a shock. The city Assessor's office states unequivocably that there are 1,449 apartments in Peterborough. It does not state what is demonstrably credible that there is but one apartment building—of nine apartments—which was built as such, and is the only real apartment block. There are of course several downtown apartment blocks over stores, and 239 duplex (two apartment) buildings. It follows therefore that almost all the other of the 1,449 reported apartments in Peterborough are conversion joos, makeshifts, and what-nots... Another point: one out of every five dwelling places in this city is considered an "apartment". (There are 7,035 single dwellings, 1,449 apartments.) Seems incredible, doesn't it, in this city of homes?

CONTEST FOR THE HIGH WIRE

Appeals To Race Prejudice

(MONTREAL STAR)

NO election campaign ever goes far without rumours, reports and facts about dissensions and difficulties inside this party or that. An example to hand is the withdrawal of Mr. Jean Paul Chauvin as Progressive Conservative candidate in Montreal-Hochelaga. No one except those intimately concerned with party organization can know all the facts about this incident and no attempt will be made here to analyse it in every detail.

But one point made by Mr. Chauvin in his statement of withdrawal will command the hearty approval of men and women who have never been, and never will be, members of any political party, whether it be Liberal, Conservative, National Union or what not. That was his sharp criticism of certain aspects of the campaign that is being developed in Quebec against Mr. St. Laurent, the Prime Minister. Gratuitous references to race and religion are not desirable ammunition in any election. Decent and sensible Canadians do not indulge in them. It is deplorable that they should ever be used, directly or indirectly.

Recent advertisements issued by the Progressive Conservative organization here have been attacking Mr. St. Laurent on the grounds that he is not a good Canadian and that he is not sufficiently anti-Communist in attitude. Such references are legitimate matters of political controversy. If there are those who believe the Prime Minister's policies are not designed to meet Canada's needs in such respects it is their right and their duty to say so. But the advertisements go on to suggest that the Prime Minister is not a good Catholic and that he is not a good French-Canadian. These insinuations are vile.

The object of an appeal such as this is to suggest to the voters of Quebec that the race and the religion of a candidate for public office are essentials in their judgement of the man. The appeal goes further for it leaves the suggestion that, because Mr. St. Laurent is not a good Catholic and because he is not a good French-Canadian, people should vote against him.

It will be a sad, bad day for Canada when our public men are chosen and our public issues decided on such grounds as this. If it becomes legitimate in Quebec to condemn a public man because of his religion and his race, it becomes equally legitimate in Ontario or British Columbia or Prince Edward Island. Everywhere the grounds of attack will differ. Mr. Drew will be attacked because he is not a good Anglican. Mr. Graydon will be attacked because he is not a good member of the United Church. Mr. Garson will be attacked on the same grounds.

Racial origins will be closely examined, after the fashion of the infamous Nuremburg laws of the Nazi party. The discovery will be made that Mr. X., believed to be of British origin, has a Scandinavian strain of blood in him, or that Mr. A., believed to be an ardent Protestant, had a grandfather born of French stock in Quebec. Words and phrases will be torn from the context of their speeches to prove the racial and religious points involved and the degeneration of politics will follow inevitably.

No Canada can exist on such terms as these. It is a matter of pride and legitimate boasting that we have fashioned a nation from a score of religions and two score races, that all of us regardless of the race from which we come and regardless of our mother tongue, are Canadians first, last and all the time. We have not come easily by our pride in these respects. The history of our country has been disfigured from time to time by outbursts of racial and religious prejudice and hate. But we all had hoped that these miserable stains upon our national honour lay in the past, that they would fade under the steady growth of unity and truly national sentiment.

Mr. St. Laurent cannot be expected to reply to the kind of outrageous attack implied in these appeals to prejudice. But those who admire and respect his qualities can speak out on his behalf. They should not be silent.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world. (Acts 15: 18.)

After these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God....

And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him. (Rev. 19: 1, 5-7.)

Letters to the Editor

SMALL TOWN STUFF

Sir: At the Board of Works meeting Monday night somebody said it looked like "small town stuff" to have mobile eateries on the main streets.

In a Toronto paper a few weeks ago I read that someone had counted just fifteen of these peanut or popcorn wagons in the downtown district.

What is more pleasant on a summer afternoon than to hear the popcorn wagon's whistle and see the children enjoying their purchases?

We do not have to go to the popcorn man and his wagon to get the small town stuff.

DISGUSTED.

TOURIST COMPLAINS OF BAD STREETS

Sir: The writer just returned from a two-day stay with some charming friends in your fair city. This week-end stay was enhanced by the hospitality of the friends as well as the quiet and efficient service of the hotel.

However, I would like to make one observation on your city which detracts from its beauty. The roads and streets are simply abominable, unsafe, and derogratory to the city's good name. St. Marys street, for example, is full of holes which may cause the driver to lose control of the vehicle and endanger lives, children especially of which there are many. Other streets are rutted to such an extent that only the most recent models would take chances of travelling over them.

It is the writer's understanding that your city attracts quite a number of tourists in the summer time. Do the people of your city realize that such streets and roads can leave only a harmful impression, some tourists never to to return again and others spreading the word and, thereby, detracting possible visitors.

Despite these remarks may I again state that the people of Peterborough in my estimation have lived up to the good name that all Canadians have,

Very truly yours,
J. MAYER, JR.

AN ATLANTIC SALMON from the Matamec River on the North Shore of the St. Lauwrence River is being scaled by Wildred Galienne, Right, as son Donald stands by with his dip net. Season, now at its best, is from May 1 to August 31; five fish or 40 pounds of fish per day.

Report of doings at the Deer Lake hatchery shows that their 1948 production of 'lunge fingerlings totalled 25,000. They are trying a new experiment in hatching millions of sucker eggs to provide food for voracious 'lunge fingerlings to replace their present minnow diet. They will be released when they are from 3 to 6 inches in length.

Toronto's Board of Education has just about finished a month-long controversy about making changes to their official crest. There is a beaver involved which holds a maple leaf in its mouth. It was finally decided to remove the leaf from the beaver's mouth in order to render a better design, as the fount of education it might have been more to the point to have had the national animal holding a POPLAR leaf, a symbol of its food and building material.

Abnormally low water conditions in the Severn River area of north-western Ontario is thought to be one of the reasons for an affliction among beavers in that area. The Department of Lands and Forests investigated trappers' reports in the Severn district in March, secured specimens and had autopsies performed. Their report has just been released and permits some speculation as to the causes of the losses. Conditions of the disease suggest tularemia the possible infection but this cannot be determined until results of experimental infections in laboratory guinea pigs is completed.

Specimens of field mice and rabbits from the same area were also treated since an abundance of the last two species, together with low water levels permitting stagnation might have some significance. Outbreaks of tularemia among beaver have been reported previously in Montana in 1904, 1940 and 1942 and in the Red River section of Hudson Bay in 1929

CANOE CORNER. A small gathering of enthusiasts who want to see a canoe derby in the Kawarthas become a reality this year met on Monday in the Public Library auditorium. Their first meeting might have been nothing more than a small splash but certainly they shaped their course in the right direction and appointed a fact-finding committee composed of veteran canoe builder W. A. Richardson, Jim Fraser and myself. We will meet again in a week's time with the 1949 picture in the bag, we hope. . . . Just in case you don't think Peterborough is canoe-derby conscious, in a commercial sense, no less than ten stock models have been shipped out of the city for the big Minneapolis affair in July. Two went to New York City, seven to Minnesota and one to Connecticut all for the use of entry teams.

Outdoor writers are resorting to solunar tables for fishermen with scientific minds. I suppose if they follow them religiously that, at certain hours on given days they lock office doors, compute mileage scales and arrive at their favorite haunts at the appointed hours. This makes a fetish of fishing, don't you think? How about the ordinary chap who just hopes for a nice day and lets it go at that? Delving into my Tall Friend's OLD ALMANAC regarding continued fine and dry weather, it says, 'If spiders, in spinning their webs, make the terminating filaments long we may, in proportion to their length conclude that fine weather will be serene, and continue for ten or twelve days.' It's as simple as that, if you know any spiders.

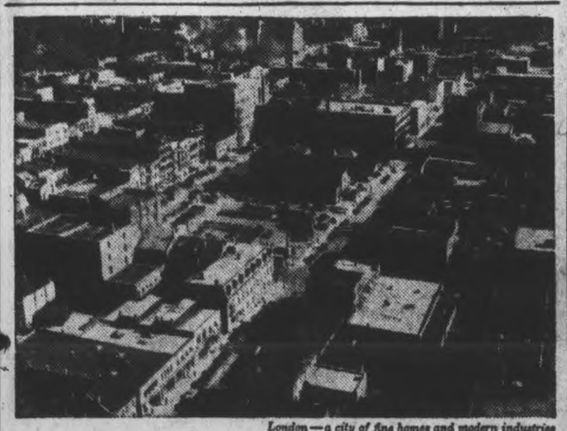
A sight to gladden the eye and heart will soon be taking place down in the St. Lawrence country as soon as Montreal businessmen start going down the river to their favorite private salmon clubs. I will refer first to the end of their sport. Baggage trucks on the RIMOUSKI station platform will soon be loaded down with as many as 60 boxes of freshly-iced salmon from these fishermen who consign nearly all their catches to Church and Provincial Institutions in both Montreal and Quebec. Each fisherman's daily limit is five fish or a total of 40 pounds and let me tell you they have no trouble getting them.

From Portneuf east as far as the Olmane River on the North Shore private salmon fishing clubs have been established, a great many of them on the rivers which drain the several blocks of pulp wood limits. Here the Atlantic Salmon teem up the swift waterways and fishermen who go inland may take the same bag limits of Landlocked Salmon, and ten Ouananiche.



PAUL PROVENCHER, chief forester of the Quebec North Shore Paper Company and who claims he is not a fisherman, is at least a keen observer and travels the wilds of Quebec more than most men. He wrote me recently about watching the antics of some SPECKLED TROUT on the Maintou River that gobbled up red squirrels in their attempt to swim the stream. He caught some of these monsters, (with a fin spread of 50 square inches), on an alder pole, a cod line, and dead squirrel bait and performed a post mortem on the spit. He took numerous pictures to prove it. That is a TRUE fishing story.

Pickerel fishing is picking up at nearly all the favorite spots and some nice catches are being reported. Stan and Les Davis had no trouble in bagging 15 at Lock 19 on Tuesday evening. They used flies. PC Louis Roderegue and Sgt. Detective Bud Clarke came back from Haliburton on Monday morning with eight beautiful speckles taken in Haliburton; Rod was raised up that-a-way and knows the good spots. Where? "Oh, up around Hammer Lake way," he said vaguely. The district in fishing season is full of Hammer Lakes, I find.

Victoria Day, weekend, though cool, saw a large influx of tourists spreading through the Haliburton Highlands. Many of the Lodges on Highway 35 from Norland through Moore's Falls, Miner's Bay, Minden, Twelve Mile and Mountain Lakes, Carnarvon, Boskung, Hall's Lake and on to Dorset reported weekend guests. Cottagers and visitors were reported on Lake Kashagawigamog, Drag Lake, Redstone, Crooked Lake and Loon Lake. A general estimate put the population increase over the holiday at 5,000 visitors.

Naturalists believe that only 33 whooping cranes are known to be alive today. This almost-extinct species is reported to be the tallest and one of the most spectacular birds on the continent. The body of one was found in the west-central district of Saskatchewan recently, a victim of wanton shooting. Provincial museum director Fred Bard and western game conservationists are greatly concerned and believe it was shot last fall while migrating to wintering grounds in Texas.

No matter how ruthless nature is fishermen can be assured of good future 'lunge fishing. The Department have just completed planting 1,230,000 muskie fry in waters of Peterborough county.

London—a city of fine homes and modern industries

Refreshing Variety AT LONDON

BACK in the late 18th century, hardy British settlers settled in Southwestern Ontario. Here, in a land that vividly recalled the English countryside, they built the city of London. Today, the holiday visitor will find familiar English place names . . . St. Paul's Cathedral, Cheapside, and Blackfriars Bridge . . . the old-English character of good cheer and good fellowship that makes for happy vacation fun and relaxation. Visitors from afar make a point of seeing the city's modern and progressive industrial plants, a major influence in London's present-day expansion. Follow the beautiful valley of the Thames, through rolling countryside to the famous lake-resort of Port Stanley. By car London is on highway No. 2, 80 miles west of Hamilton. CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Following a series of setbacks season after season, Brampton Excelsiors of the OLA senior "A" setup finally built up to the point where they're now nestling in the top slot and look to be the club to beat for provincial laurels. Archie Browning is just one of the aces added who is coming through handsomely now in the rugged going as play warms up. The speedy Brampton boys are here tonight to tackle the Petes at 8.45 in Miller Bowl, and this should be one of the best gutted-stick battles of the season on local terrain. The Armstrong-sponsored Petes are settling down, too, to show why they won two senior "B" titles in a row, and they will give the Excelsiors a real fight of it this game.

What's in a name, queried a scribe of other days, going on to mention the aroma surrounding the rose. But sometimes there's plenty, and as a missionary recently remarked here, parents should not burden helpless offspring with names which may later force them into the prize ring to prove they are not the shrinking violets their handles indicate. We thought of this the other day when noting an item in the Kitchener paper where on Matt Kiss is rated a leading exponent in the fight game there. It is an odd monicker indeed for the ring, but it is unlikely that Matt kisses the mat often since he learned how to handle his dukes.

NHL Color Schemes

Conn Smythe had his way at the NHL meeting in Montreal and persuaded the other governors to go for a 70-game schedule for next season. Allowing just one extra player a team. Ah, mazuma, salaams! There was some discussion on colors, too, with a suggestion that the familiar burnt biscuit now used as a puck be tinted orange or even multi-colored for better visibility or something. They also discussed changing the blue lines to red and the centre red line to blue—but finally settled with the edict that the present lines remain and the ice surface be solid white. Ah, well, some color added to the session, one supposes.

Lefty Dadson will be Manager Ed Murphy's mound choice for the Petes here tomorrow when they tackle Oshawa Merchants in a COBL fixture. It's at three in Riverside, first local showing of the Merchants this season. Ought to be another swell ball game after that 6-5 verdict in Oshawa the other day. Petes should have taken that one but a few tough breaks beat 'em out in the ninth. Looks like a dogfight in this loop with the Petes and Oshawa at the moment appearing top contenders. Merchants are almost sure to throw Gingerich, their Yankee import, and a pitching duel might well result. This one rates a real crowd.

City Ball At Last?

Prexy Dit Clapper and his City Baseball League executive met last night and cleared the decks for action. Schedules will be drawn right away with play opening June 10 or 11. Four peewees play games at the Orphanage and Bowl diamonds, four bantams go at King Edward Park, four midgets and four juveniles in the Ex on two diamonds. Walter Dinesen is looking after the four nothend teams and wants them all out, peewee to juvenile inclusive at 2.30 tomorrow aft in the Oval. He is getting equipment in the morning. Matter of finances was discussed, and later Clapper's All-Stars will stage an exhibition tilt to raise money, and so will Ed Murphy's Petes, besides getting a grant from the Recreation Commission. Four more coaches are needed in this loop.

Quite a few cash customers at the Bowl last eve to see two men's softball tussles. Knights looked good in the box and at bat to beat Cosmos 10-2 in the first, whilst Uniteds coasted to a 24-8 win o'er Outlaws in the nightcap. Bunts by the barrel in that one, plus plenty of errors, scratch hits, solid blows and wild pitches. Loose as a deck of cards in a cyclone. Uniteds did some mighty work with the mace and Lefty Reid went okay in a relief role on the mound. Knights cuffed the apple at opportune times in their tilt and the veteran Guilfoyle had a shutout till the seventh stanza. Another twin bill there Saturday p.m., K. of C. vs. Outlaws, and Jewellers vs. Cosmos.

Cosmos Beaten By K of C In Men's Fray

Knights defeated Cosmos 10-2 at the Bowl last night to come closer to a top place tie in the City Softball League. Ken Guilfoyle pitched good ball throughout in a fair fray, whiffing nine, and he had the hitting behind him. Guilfoyle himself led his side at bat with four for five, one a double. Conlin hit two doubles, Don Griffin two singles, and Evans a homer. For Cosmos, Crowe was top man with four in five, including a brace of two-baggers, and Carpenter clouted a home run. Parsons relieved Bigford on the slab in the second inning when Knights counted six of their runs. O'Heron had a good catch in centre and the losers pulled off a double play.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Now that the weather has warmed up considerably we are expecting a big crowd out on Saturday evening. It will be the first "Family Hour" tournament this season. The draw will be made promptly at 7.30 o'clock, so telephone your name in early. The fee of 15c is small but there is plenty of fun. It will be the first mixed tourney of the year.

Have you made you entry for the men's tournament next Wednesday? Stratton Trophy.

Remember When—

Trigo, an Irish-bred bay colt running at 33-1 odds, won the Derby at Epsom Downs 20 years ago today for his owner, W. Barnett, prominent Dublin Irishman. Trigo outran a field of 25 other horses to finish a length-and-a-half ahead of Lord Woolavington's Walter Gay. Somerville Tattersall's Brienz was third.

Uniteds trounced Outlaws 24-8 at the Bowl last night in a long, loose tilt, each squad using two twirlers. The game was replete with long clouts, scratch hits, plenty of bunts, a lot of Outlaws' errors and wild pitches. Wade, George Sullivan, Harrison, Walton and Scriver led the hit parade for the victors. Taylor, Ralph, and Cournyea topped the losers at bat. Sullivan belted two homers.

Legion Cribbage Team Defeats De Laval

Peterborough Legion retained its record of having been beaten at cribbage only twice during the entire season, when it defeated the De Laval team Wednesday evening in the Legion hall.

Captained by Frank Bell, the Legion team scored 5404 points and De Laval had 5299.

First prize went to Clute and Edwards of De Laval with 939 points; Ebdon and Prophet of the Legion were second prize winners with 936 and Davies and Woodcock, De Laval, third with 924.

M. Pakenham captained the De Laval team.

Peterborough Legion branches in the north and south of the city will meet for a cribbage match next Wednesday.

St. James Victors

St. James just edged All Saints 13-12 in a keen bantam Church Softball League encounter last night. All Saints got one run back in the seventh—after one in the first, six next time up and two each in the fourth and sixth—to make it real close at the finish. St. James had counted three in the second, five in the third, four more in the fifth and one in the sixth. Teams:

All Saints: Roberts, Drury, Carveth, Barry, Cullen, Halliday, Clarke, Montgomery, Livingstone.

St. James: Hobart, Wright, Hunt, Johnson, Dugan, Smith, McIntyre, Peters, Beggs, Stevens, A. Phillips, J. Phillips.

Umpire—W. E. Ball.

Race Driver Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, June 3 (AP)—George A. Metzler, 38-year-old Indianapolis auto race driver, died early today of injuries suffered May 28 when he crashed during a practice run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The death of Meazler, a veteran dirt track driver, marked the 22nd driver fatality at the Indianapolis track since 1909.

Woodcock Keeps Title Knocks Out Mills

LONDON, June 3 (AP)—Bruce Woodcock, a fugitive from Ring Oblivion, is being hailed today as a worthy foe for American Lee Savold in their Sept. 6 bout which Britain, at least, terms a world heavyweight championship affair.

Woodcock retained his British Empire and European heavyweight titles Thursday night at White City Stadium by knocking out world light-heavyweight King Freddie Mills, also of England, in the 14th round.

That earned him a shot at Savold. Promoter Jack Solomons is advertising the fight as being for Joe Louis' vacated title.

Thursday night's attraction, scheduled for 15 rounds, was witnessed by a jammed 46,000 fans who paid $280,000. Each fighter received $56,000.

Phils Unload Artillery Hang 12-3 Defeat On Reds

By The Canadian Press

The upward march of the revived St. Louis Cardinals has other top National League clubs shivering in their boots, but the "Fighting Phillies" of Philadelphia stole some of the Cards thunder Thursday night.

The Phils unloaded their heavy lumber to blast five home runs in one inning—the eighth—as they rallied to hang a 12-3 defeat on Cincinnati Reds.

Andy Seminick, Philadelphia's sturdy backstop, really had himself a night in the Phil onslaught. Tandy Andy hoisted three circuit clouts, two of them coming in the big eighth frame when the Phils scored 10 times to knock out veteran Ken Raffensberger. In all, Seminick batted in five tallies with his big wae club.

The five homers in one inning tied a major league record, while Seminick's two round-trippers in one frame also tied a record held by numerous players and last accomplished by Joe DiMaggio in 1936. Seminick's three homers in one game was one short of the major league standard.

Only once before in modern baseball did a team hit five homers in one inning. The New York Giants did it in 1939 at the Polo Grounds after two were out. In both cases, Cincinnati was the victim.

Hold Lead

Del Ennis, Seminick, Willie, Jones, Schoolboy Rowe and Seminick rapped homers in the big eighth. The Reds held a 3-2 lead going into that frame.

Stan Musial's two-run triple in the 14th inning topped a St. Louis Cardinal rally that produced three runs and a 7-4 verdict over the Brooklyn Dodgers. It was the ninth Card win in their last 10 games, leaving them only a half game out of second place.

Pee Wee Reese's two-run homer and Jackie Robinson's base stealing gave Brooklyn a 4-1 lead that Don Newcombe was unable to hold in the ninth. The Cards scored three to tie it up and finally broke through against reliefer Jack Banta in the 14th.

Boston Braves boosted their first-place lead to two full games over Brooklyn and New York by downing Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1, behind Warren Spahn's five-hit pitching. Two runs in the fourth and two more in the sixth were more than enough for Spahn.

Dutch Leonard shut out the New York Giants with three hits—all singles—for a 3-0 Chicago victory at the Polo Grounds. Leonard doubled off Sheldon Jones to start a three-run spurt in the sixth. He moved around on a sacrifice and Harry Walker's fly scored the first run. Hank Edwards' homer after Phil Cavarretta walked produced the other scores.

Smother Chicago

New York Yankees' American League was boosted to 5½ games as the Yanks smothered Chicago 12-7 and Cleveland Indians took a fall out of the Boston Red Sox, 8-3. Washington moved in on the Red Sox by handing the St. Louis Browns their eighth straight loss, 4-1. The Senators also are 5½ back of New York.

Tommy Henrich's two-run homer and triple led the Yankees but they needed a brilliant bit of relief pitching by Joe Page to hold off a late Sox rally.

Lou Boudreau, playing with a broken finger, smashed a single and double in Cleveland's triumph as Bob Lemon, making his first appearance in three weeks, turned back the Red Sox with five hits.

Washington came up with four in the eighth to hand Dick Starr his seventh straight defeat. A three-run homer by Eddie Yost climaxed the winning spurt.

For the second straight day Detroit Tigers spotted Philadelphia Athletics a three-run lead in the first inning and beat them 5-4 in 10 innings. Hoot Evers who broke up Wednesday night's game did it again. This time he scored the winning run after hitting a double. Johnny Groth's single drove him home.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Batting—Andy Seminick, Phillies, hit three homers, two in one inning, to tie major league record, and batted in five runs in Philadelphia's 12-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Pitching—Dutch Leonard, Cubs, held slugging New York Giants to three singles in pitching 3-0 shutout.

Weston Edges Hamilton 11-10

WESTON, June 3 (CP)—Weston Thursday night edged Hamilton Tigers 11-10 in an Ontario Lacrosse Association senior match marred by a match misconduct penalty to Hamilton's Ed Bolan.

Bolan, given a penalty in the third period for slashing, argued with the referee and was handed a 10-minute misconduct.

He became involved in a penalty box fracas with two spectators and was banished from the game.

The winning tally was scored by Hal Venner midway through the last quarter.

The victory tied Weston with Hamilton and Owen Sound for third place in the league standing.

Sox Sign Student

CHICAGO, June 3 (AP)—James Sloan Baumer, 18-year-old shortstop from Broken Bow, Okla., high school, has signed a contract with the Chicago White Sox for a sum reported ranging from $50,000 to $75,000, Frank Lane, White Sox manager, announced Thursday. Lane said Baumer will be assigned to Waterloo, Iowa, a White Sox farm club in the Three-I League.

No Action Likely On QSHL Move To Be Pro Loop

NEW YORK, June 3 (CP) — Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officials probably will be punch-drunk with work before their annual meeting ends Monday. A heart-breaking list of constitutional and other changes suggested by the various provincial branches will be submitted for their consideration.

It will be up to delegates in plenary sessions to ditch or confirm the recommendations, but the choicest morsel, dished up by Cecil Duncan of Ottawa, a life member of the CAHA, will probably never reach the floor of the meeting. The resolutions committee shelved it for "consideration" without a murmur.

Duncan's motion suggested the Quebec Senior Hockey League should affiliate with the National Hockey League an that the CAHA could assist the move by declaring the QSHL "a professional organization as from the date of this meeting."

The motion said the move "would be in the interests of hockey in view of the number of times it has been reported that the QSHL is withdrawing from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and declaring itself affiliated with the National Hockey League."

Delegates said they felt there was nothing serious about the motion and that it would be killed in committee.

Branch Imports

The question of branch-to-branch imports—regulations call for two to clubs in the junior group and four to seniors—drew most attention in the 12-hour resolutions committee deliberations. Four motions dealing with the subject were on the list but officials sliced them to one, allowing four junior imports a club in British Columbia, which will operate two leagues next season, and six each to British Columbia and Maritime Province senior teams.

A motion proposed by the Quebec branch asking that no imports be allowed was defeated in committee, along with a motion by the Ontario Association requesting four junior branch-to-branch transfers a club. Another Ontario recommendation that junior A clubs be permitted to sign and register 25 players—seven more than at present—also was defeated.

A motion of the Manitoba branch declared that "no professional club shall be able to direct any amateur player as to where he can play his amateur hockey." It added that if any existing agreement between the NHL and CAHA "condones the practice we recommend that it be amended at once."

King George School seniors took a 14-7 triumph over Queen Alex yesterday as their schedule in the School Softball League wound up. The losers got a run each in the second and fourth with five scoring in the fifth. King George tallied six in the second, one in the fourth and seven more in the fifth. Teams:

King George: Crowder, Ash, Withers, Sharpe, Starr, Fell, Thompson, Barker, Rooté, Barclay, Taylor.

Queen Alex: McFadden, Woods, R. Nicholls, B. Nicholls, McIlwain, Kingston, Oliver, Griffin, Carter.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Owner Fred Saigh of St. Louis Cardinals said Thursday "Stan Musial is not for sale to any ball club nor will he be traded."

Saigh issued a brief statement at St. Louis as an answer to rumors that the star outfielder might be sold.

"We do not intend to sell any other Cardinal ball players for cash alone," Saigh said. The Cardinal president was criticized for the sale of pitcher Murry Dickson to Pittsburgh Pirates last spring for a reported $125,000.

Walter A. Brown, president of the Boston Garden, proposed on Thursday that the big arenas throughout the United States take over boxing.

"It is the only solution," he said in an interview at New York. "It will bring sport back to boxing. "Both the boxers and the public will benefit by it. The reputation of the arena owners will be at stake. In order to live they will be compelled to put on good shows."

Boxing "has produced more deaths per number of participants than any other sport," the editor of a health magazine says. Thirty-eight deaths from ring punishment since Jan. 1, 1946, in North America were cited by Thomas Gorman of Hygeia magazine, in an article published in the June issue at Chicago. Gorman's article, entitled "death in the ring," charged that 50 per cent of active fighters are "punch drunk" to some degree.

At New York, organized baseball Thursday won a point when the United States Court of Appeals denied the request of the three former major league players that they be re-instated immediately.

The trio—Danny Gardella, former outfielder for New York Giants, and Max Lanier and Fred Martin, one-time pitchers for St. Louis Cardinals—are barred from baseball for five years for jumping to the Mexican League in 1946. Gardella and Lanier now are playing in the Quebec Provincial League, an outlaw loop.

At Fairmount Park, Ill., young Del Cameron reined Lady Jeritza to a four-length victory in the fifth race and veteran Sep Palin steered Sister's Son to a 3½-length triumph in the sixth Thursday night. Both races were initial heats of $2,250 divided purses on the Grand Circuit harness card.

Grant and Loucks won two games this week, beating Duffus 16-9 and taking Bankers 20-3. Riches and Byers threw in the first fray for the winners, the latter hitting two homers, while Malenfant and Sharp saw slab service for Duffus, this team getting some poor infield. In the second joust, Byers again hit two homers, as did Craig, while Gauthier got one, and the Bankers had 10 of their 12 errors in the outfield. Tonight, Bus Drivers play the Police, while Grant and Loucks tackle Bell Telephone.

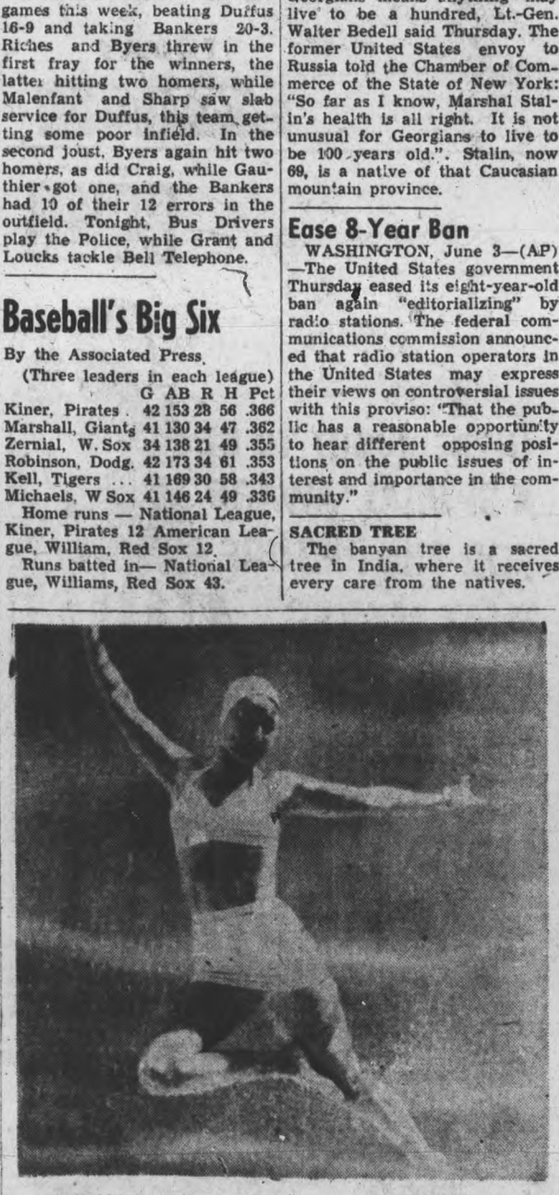
Long Life For Stalin



NEW YORK, June 3—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin—if the life expectancy of some of his fellow Georgians means anything—may live to be a hundred, Lt.-Gen. Walter Bedell said Thursday. The former United States envoy to Russia told the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York: "So far as I know, Marshal Stalin's health is all right. It is not unusual for Georgians to live to be 100 years old.". Stalin, now 69, is a native of that Caucasian mountain province.

Ease 8-Year Ban

WASHINGTON, June 3—(AP)—The United States government Thursday eased its eight-year-old ban again "editorializing" by radio stations. The federal communications commission announced that radio station operators in the United States may express their views on controversial issues with this proviso: "That the public has a reasonable opportunity to hear different opposing positions on the public issues of interest and importance in the community."

Rochester Nips Montreal 6-5 In 10 Innings

By The Associated Press

Rochester Red Wings and Syracuse Chiefs have discovered that winning ball games is a matter of patience.

After playing dead before the Montreal Royals for five straight games the Red Wings finally caught fire in the late innings Thursday night to nip the Canadian club 6-5 in 10 innings.

Syracuse had found Jersey City equally dangerous this season and had bowed to the Little Giants five times in a row. The Chiefs continued to keep their power hidden until the seventh inning Thursday night, then pulled out a 7-4 victory.

Baltimore flashed a 13-hit attack that included two home runs to whip Newark 11-6 in the only other game. Buffalo and Toronto weren't scheduled.

At, Rochester the Red Wings pushed across two runs after two were out in the 10th to win. Steve Bilko's single tied the score and Johnny Bucha doubled home the deciding run.

Syracuse knocked out starter Roger Bowman and reliefer Johnny Uber before Andy Tomasic finally stopped a four-run attack in the seventh inning. The Chiefs picked up two more runs for insurance in the eighth, one of them a four-base blow by Tom Tatum.

Baltimore turned its game at Newark into a rout with four runs after two were out in the ninth inning. Red McQuillen and Hank Arft homered for the Orioles and Hank Workman and Odie Strain hit for the circuit for Newark.

Prince of Wales juniors avenged an earlier defeat on Thursday when they trounced King Edward to the tune of 20 to 5. It was three up and three down for the most part as the Prince pitcher. Lorne Clarke, had the King Edward players completely baffled. Prince took the lead on Coit's four-run homer in the second and continued to pile up an impressive lead. The infield put on a display of perfect team work and every player made a good showing in the hitting department. Johnston, Rowe, Pagett and Smythe accounted for King Edward's runs. The win put Prince of Wales at the top of the south section of the School Softball League and they will now meet the winners of the north-end for the championship. The eams:

Prince of Wales—Krogh, Pullyblank, Heron, Northrop, Clarke, Carveth, Barrie, Coit, Downer.

King Edward—Johnston, Rowe, Pagett, Smythe, Dugan, Halcrow, Tarkington, Sullivan Roode.

"CANADA UNLIMITED"

"The cod was so thicke by the shoar that we hardlie have been able to row a boat through them." With these words, in 1498, John Mason described fishing on the Grand Banks. By 1504, hundreds of European fishermen were sailing to the east coast of Canada.

Early English fishermen dried their cod on racks in the sun. This meant bases along the coast, and many settlements were founded. French, Basque, Portuguese and Spanish fishermen followed.

For 300 years, French and English fishermen maintained a rich industry. They jealously guarded the Grand Banks, the greatest fishing area in the world. And Canada's inland waters abounded in fresh-water fish, opening up new opportunities in this age-old trade.

In 1886, fishing on the Pacific Coast became important. Today, British Columbia provides half of Canada's yearly catch.

A large part of our 238 million-pound catch in 1948 was sent to many countries. Fishing and its allied industries—canning, processing, extracting meal and oils—play an important part in our lives. Yes, there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

CSU Executive Decides Continue Strike

MONTREAL, June 3 (CP) — Harry Davis, president of the striking Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), in a statement Thursday night said the CSU National Executive has "decided to continue the strike after receiving a mandate from the membership to carry on."

At the same time Mr. Davis announced that advice has been received from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada that "no charges have been laid against the CSU."

(The TLC executive was reported May 27 considering suspension of the CSU but after the meetings no indication was given of what, if anything, would be done. The Congress has long been split over Communism in its ranks.)

Mr. Davis said his statement, following a two-day meeting of the national executive, "is our answer to the strike-breaking actions of the American Federation of Labor bureaucrats who, with the help of the United States and Canadian governments, are attempting to force the Trades and Labor Congress to suspend the Canadian Seamen's Union."

In addition to information that there were no charges against the CSU, the committee "advised us that the AFL executive had withheld the per capita tax payments on 110,000 members and threatened to split the Congress and set up a third union centre unless the Congress suspended the CSU."

Mr. Davis termed actions of the AFL executive "an unwarranted interference in the internal affairs of Canadian labor." He appealed to President Percy Bengough of the TLC and to that body's executive to "uphold the decisions of the Congress convention to support the striking seamen and to preserve the freedom and independence of our Canadian Congress."

New Naval Rank

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP) — The Navy Thursday announced creation of new rank—Naval Cadet—for the personnel selected from the lower deck to attend universities or one of the Canadian Services Colleges. Only 19 men will be affected, including 17 attending Canadian Universities and two at the Services College at Royal Roads. Under the new set-up, naval cadets who are at University will be promoted on graduation to the rank of sub-lieutenant.

MOUNTAIN EXPLORERS—Three Britons arrived in Montreal this week on their way to the uncharted areas of the Cassiar Range in northern British Columbia on a map-making, fact-finding survey. Sponsored by the British Museum, the Royal Horticultural Society and the Royal Botanical Gardens at Kew, the expedition is headed by Capt. C. H. Pelham-Burns, top. The other two members are M. G. Cox, middle, 21-year-old flora expert, and Capt. R. C. Curtis, bottom, who will look after the map-making.

Forbid Picketing

VANCOUVER, June 3 (CP) — A Supreme Court injunction forbidding picketing of the Eastern-owned freighter Islandside, berthed here was issued Thursday. The writ was issued by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson on application of Atlantic Shipping agencies, Pacific Coast managers for Andros Shipping Company of Montreal.

No Arbitrator Chosen

DETROIT, June 3 (AP) —The Ford Motor Company and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) failed Thursday to select a single arbitrator for the key issue that caused a recent 24-day strike. That left settlement of the speed-up dispute in the hands of a three-man arbitration board. Ford and the UAW each will pick one panel member, and the two chosen will try until next Tuesday to name a third party.

Bunche Rejects Job Offer In Washington

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 3 (CP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, said Thursday no Negro likes Jim Crow, but that he turned down a Washington job mainly because he wants to stay with the United Nations.

Bunche, top ranking director of the UN department of trusteeship affairs, told a reporter in New York:

"It is well known there is Jim Crow in Washington. It is equally well known that no Negro finds Jim Crow congenial. I am a Negro."

He was commenting on a report that racial segregation in Washington was an important factor in his refusing of a job as assistant Secretary of State, offered by President Truman.

The UN press department issued a statement by Bunche saying the controlling factor was that he wished to stay with the UN.

He held numerous conversations with friends about the State Department position. These talks included several with State Secretary Dean Acheson and with Dean Rusk, assistant State Secretary.

In these talks, Bunche said, the Jim Crow and other problems were brought up.

As director in the UN trusteeship department, Bunche receives an annual salary of $11,000 plus allowances of $3,000 for a total of $14,000. He does not pay income tax on this figure but does pay certain staff assessments to the UN general fund. As assistant Secretary of State he would receive a taxable $10,000.

Alberta Youth To Be Hanged For Gun Murder

DRUMHELLER, Alta., June 3—(CP)—Clifford Newton, 16-year-old farm hand, Thursday was sentenced to be hanged Sept. 8 for the shotgun murder of Mary Moore of Rumsey, Alta., last Dec. 1.

A supreme court jury brought in its verdict three hours and 22 minutes after retiring.

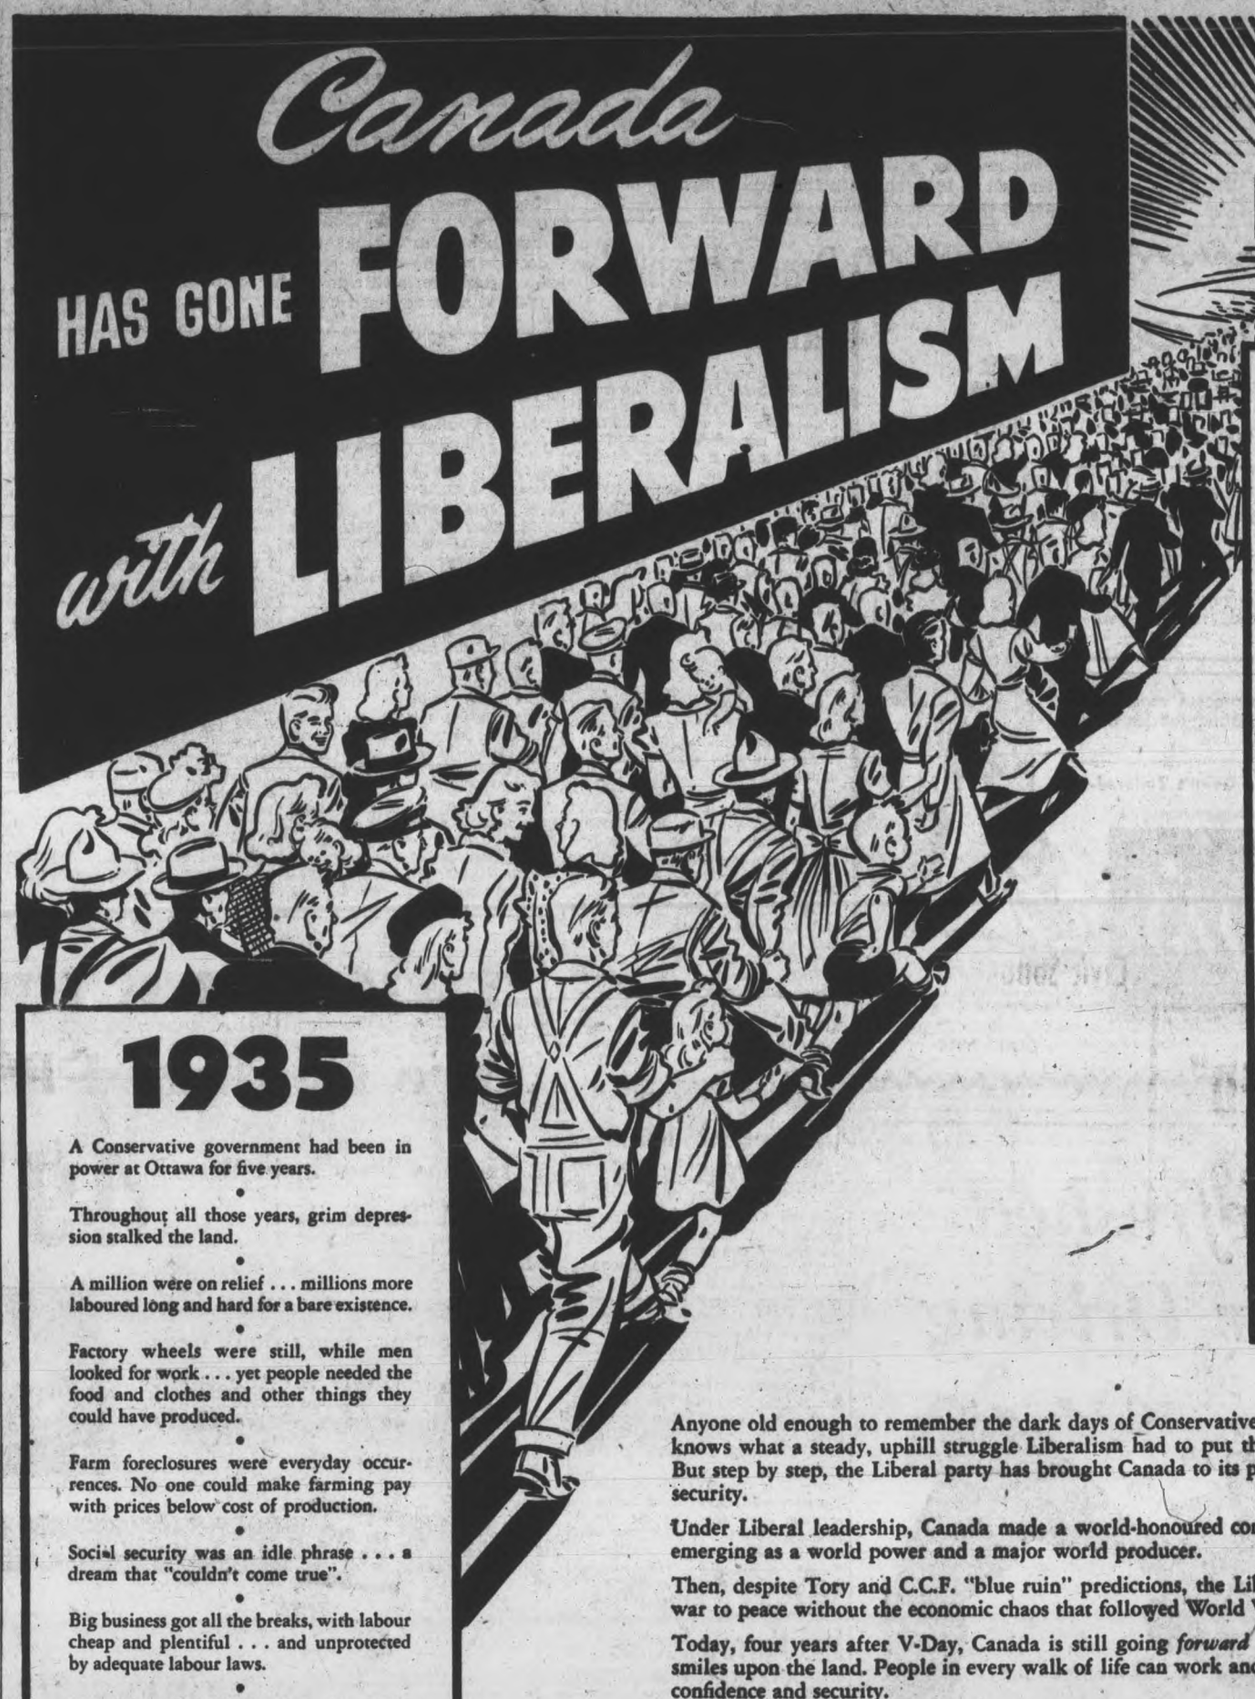
Newton took the sentence without a change of expression. But his mother broke down when sentence was passed and ran from the courtroom.

Defence Counsel M. E. Jones of Calgary in his summary attempted to show that Newton was insane.

During the trial, the jury was told that the youth was hired for general labor on the Moore farm about four miles outside Rumsey only two days before the shooting.

The shooting took place while Mrs. Moore's husband, Raymond, was away from the farm. He returned to find his wife's body in a pool of blood in their kitchen. The Moore baby, less than a year old, was unharmed and asleep in its bedroom.

Evidence showed Mrs. Moore was killed by a shotgun owned by her husband. No motive for the shooting was established. Moore testified that Newton appeared on the best of terms with himself and his wife.



Order Vote Recount

SIMCOE, June 3 (CP) —There will be a recount of last Saturday's vote at nearby Waterford which retained the village as a "dry" area under the Liquor Control Act. Claiming faulty counting of the ballots, Walter S. Clark of Waterford has filed application for a recount, and posted the necessary $100 bond.

FORD IN THEIR FUTURE—Some of the 62,000 striking Ford workers go back to work in Detroit, after the company and the United Auto Workers agreed to arbitrate. Union and management officials will discuss the "speed-up" issue, which caused walkout.

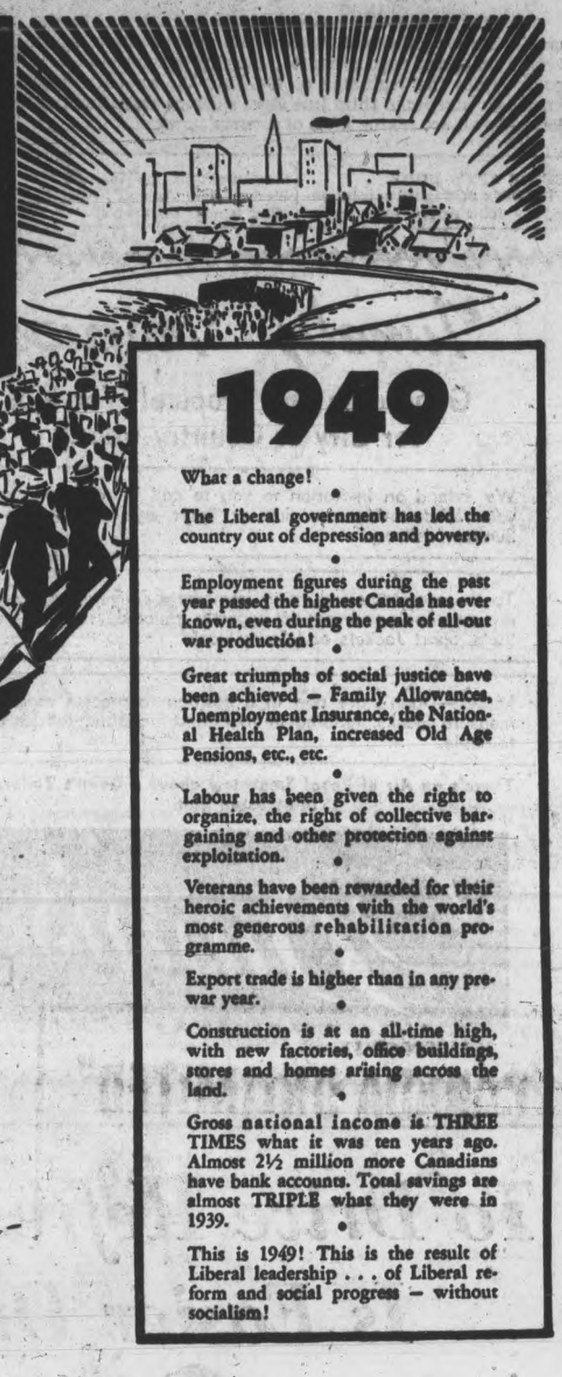
Canada HAS GONE FORWARD with LIBERALISM

1935

A Conservative government had been in power at Ottawa for five years.

Throughout all those years, grim depression stalked the land.

A million were on relief . . . millions more laboured long and hard for a bare existence.



Factory wheels were still, while men looked for work . . . yet people needed the food and clothes and other things they could have produced.

Farm foreclosures were everyday occurrences. No one could make farming pay with prices below cost of production.

Social security was an idle phrase . . . a dream that "couldn't come true".

Big business got all the breaks, with labour cheap and plentiful . . . and unprotected by adequate labour laws.

That was 1935! That's when the people tossed out the Tories and gave Liberalism the go-ahead. That's when folks decided it was "time for a change!".

What a change!

The Liberal government has led the country out of depression and poverty.

Employment figures during the past year passed the highest Canada has ever known, even during the peak of all-out war production!

Great triumphs of social justice have been achieved — Family Allowances, Unemployment Insurance, the National Health Plan, increased Old Age Pensions, etc., etc.

Labour has been given the right to organize, the right of collective bargaining and other protection against exploitation.

Veterans have been rewarded for their heroic achievements with the world's most generous rehabilitation programme.

Export trade is higher than in any pre-war year.

Construction is at an all-time high, with new factories, office buildings, stores and homes arising across the land.

Gross national income is THREE TIMES what it was ten years ago. Almost 2½ million more Canadians have bank accounts. Total savings are almost TRIPLE what they were in 1939.

This is 1949! This is the result of Liberal leadership . . . of Liberal reform and social progress — without socialism!

Anyone old enough to remember the dark days of Conservative rule back in the early 30's knows what a steady, uphill struggle Liberalism had to put the country back on its feet. But step by step, the Liberal party has brought Canada to its present prosperity and social security.

Under Liberal leadership, Canada made a world-honoured contribution to the war effort, emerging as a world power and a major world producer.

Then, despite Tory and C.C.F. "blue ruin" predictions, the Liberals led the country from war to peace without the economic chaos that followed World War I.

Today, four years after V-Day, Canada is still going forward with Liberalism. Prosperity smiles upon the land. People in every walk of life can work and plan for the future — with confidence and security.

In the years ahead you will need a strong, experienced Liberal government to defend the gains you have made . . . and to go forward to even greater heights.

DON'T RISK A TUMBLE BACK DOWN THE HILL!

KEEP GOING FORWARD WITH LIBERALISM

ANIMAL PRODUCTS have been the high flyers in the cost of farm products. A Bureau of Statistics graph shows both animal and field products following the same general course since the beginning of 1947, but the animal climbs have been steeper. A third line gives a composite of the two. Recently all are taking a bit of a curve upwards.

THE GENERAL WHOLESALE PRICE LEVEL and the composite of Canadian Farm Products prices have remained pretty close together since the beginning of 1947. A Bureau of Statistics graph shows how they have twined around one another, with the general wholesale ahead in the latter half of 1948, but with the farm composite climbing slower to it in recent months.

FOOD, THAT VERY NECESSARY ITEM, which for so long led the cost of living upward, now is showing the way down. In fact, if it weren't for the drop in food, the living index would still be pointing up instead of remaining virtually level for the last several months, for most other items retain an upward tendency. The solid black line in the Bureau of Statistics graph is made up of all items in the cost of living index, food itself, rent, fuel and light, clothing, home furnishings and services, miscellaneous. The dotted line shows how food, from the start of 1947, moved, up faster than all items combined, until the latter part of 1948, when it reversed its trend.

Fighting Caterpillars With Wasps

JOHANNESBURG, June 3 — (CP)—Many fruit-growers and bee-keeper fear that the thousands of parasite wasps, being imported from the United States to attack the karoo caterpillar pest in South Africa, will eventually grow into an army of bee-killers and fruit stingers.

Such fears are groundless, said an official of the Department of Agriculture. These insects, he said, resemble the wasp only in appearance, and do not have the same habits or appetites.

They are only a quarter to a third of an inch long, and it will take years to ascertain just how effectively they are attacking the karoo caterpillar.

The reasons for importing these insects, it was stated is that the natural parasites which attack the caterpillar are not doing their work properly, and the pest is increasing. The parasite wasp attacks different species of caterpillar including the cutworm, the bollworm and also the common meal moth.

Drama Festival Late In Fall?

Peterborough may have a drama festival late in November if plans made at a meeting Wednesday go through. A drama festival has been discussed at several meeting of the Recreation Commission.

The area to be covered by the invitations will include all centres within easy motoring distance of Peterborough. Due to the difficulties which would be encountered in setting up the festival on competitive basis, it was decided it would not the form of a competition. An adjudicator will give constructive criticism and advice for the improvement of the productions. The adjudicators suggested were Sterndale Bennett and Mrs. Louis White of Toronto, and Professor Arnold Edinborough, Kingston.

The following committee was named: Peter McCombe, chairman; Robertson Davies, R. L. Hale and R. J. Bolton. Quirt McKinney will act as a liaison between the drama group, the Recreation Commission and other authorities. Jack Dane was chosen as secretary.

Groups will select their plays and learn from experience rather than dictation the type of plays they should do.

Those present at the meeting were Robertson Davies, Jack Dane, Quirt McKinney, Graham Ferguson, Michael Sadlier and Peter McCombe.

Need 650 Men Yearly For U.C.

SARNIA, June 3— (CP)—The United Church of Canada will develop into a cult of the middle class elite, and will lose its outstanding position in Canada if it fails to take advantage of the present challenge to recruit an active ministry, said Rev. G. A. Sisco, General Secretary of the church in an address to the London Conference here.

Dr. Sisco said the outstanding feature of the coming celebration of the 25th anniversary of the church would be a great recruitment for the ministry

The United Church today required an addition of 650 candidates annually if all points were to be adequately manned and last year only 400 men were ordained.

This failure to man the strategic points of the church reflected upon the more prosperous areas of the Dominion where the supply of candidates was smaller than in other points. In the London Conference figures indicated that one candidate was produced from every 13,500 families, Dr. Sisco said, while in Newfoundland there was a candidate from every 2,800 families.

Bus Line Purchase Described As Rumor

John J. Lemmon of Colonial Coach Lines described as "a perennial rumor" a report today that the company had bought the interests of Collacutt and Kawartha bus companies.

"I'll admit that it sounds a hotter rumor than the others we have been hearing for some years," Mr. Lemmon said, "but I have no information to verify it. I have heard this rumor; that is all I can say."

The Collacut buses operate on No. 2 Highway, and Kawartha on No. 28. Colonial Coach buses have the long route from Ottawa to Toronto, through Peterborough.

Mr. Lemmon said Colonial Coach would have three buses in service, each way, on the No. 7 Highway route toward the end of this month.

Smashes Phone Pole Has Narrow Escape

STOUFFVILLE, June 3—(CP)—John J. Fox of Oshawa miraculously escaped death Wednesday when the truck he was driving smashed into a telephone pole near this town, 25 miles northwest of Oshawa.

The roof of the vehicle was smashed level with the seat and Fox was thrown to the floor where he was pinned for half an hour. Acetylene gas drums carried on the truck were thrown into a field.

Farmers living nearby made fruitless efforts to free the man. A passing Hydro repair truck went to Stouffville and summoned a garage truck and service men pried the cab apart. While he was lying on the cab floor gas poured over Fox but there was no fire.

a lot of genius was expended on devices to equalize brakes just universally to hydraulic braking. universally to hydralic braking.

Clymer's Latest Books

That prodigious producer of automotive books and publications, Floyd Clymer of California, has several new ones to what the appetite of those who keep their eye to the motor mill. One is tilted, "How to Build a Racing Car" which goes into such meaty topics as super-charging and souping up stock engines. Another recent edition is a supplement to the Indianapolis race book which is a "must" if you plan to be an active observer of the 1949 500-mile motor classic. The third new Clymer book to come across my desk is Veda Orr's newly revised "Hot Rod Pictorial". Miss Orr is the only woman member of the Southern California Timing Association. She has been driving what are called Modified and Streamliners on the Dry Lakes of California since 1937, her best time being 132 m.p.h. officially clocked.

Some things about the car's frontend geometry come about as a result of normal wear and tear, or tampering by those who do not fully understand the particular make and model, but if the king pin inclination isn't correct it is reasonable to suspect that the parts involved have been bent through misuse of the car. If the history of the car reveals no such conditions, however, then the parts may have been defective. In any event, the situation calls for a replacement.

Slow On Pick-Up

Where an engine develops satisfactory pulling power on hills but is slow on acceleration there's a good chance that it suffers from several conditions that could easily be remedied. Its spark plug points may be spaced too wide, for one thing. In fact, almost any ignition conditions, especially breaker points, will affect the get-away. Acceleration is the possibility that the engine isn't drawing a sufficient amount of gasoline, due perhaps to a little dirt in the carburetor. Important here is the carburetor acceleration pump.

Ever carry a pot of tulips or a canary bird in your car? Foolish transportation, to be sure, but sometimes very enlightening. You will want to make the ride as easy as possible for the fragile blossoms or the nervous little fluff of yellow, but for the first time in your life you find that your gear shifting is anything but smooth and your handling of the brakes a bit on the rough side. A waving tulip really brings one up with a start.

PAPAL VESTMENT

A pallium, or pall, is a vestment worn by the pope and by archbishops.

HE'LL HAVE HIS SAY—Alger Hiss (left), former State Department official, enters New York's Federal Court with his lawyer, Lloyd Paul Stryker, as his trial for perjury begins. Two Delegates Attend B'nai B'rith Meeting

Isadore Black and Harry Yudin attended the 97th annual convention of District No. 1 of the B'nai B'rith in Boston, May 28 to May 31. They were among the 50 delegates from the Canadian clubs. Nearly 1,500 delegates were at the convention.

One of the features of the convention was the presentation of a pen to the ambassador to the United States from Israel, Eliahu Elath, by Frank Goldman, president of the Supreme Lodge. This particular pen was the pen used by President Harry Truman of the United States when that country recognized the government of Israel. The pen was given to Mr. Goldman by Mr. Truman. It will be sent on to the government buildings in Israel as a memento of that occasion.

Leakage Often The Cause Of High Oil Consumption

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

In seeking the reason for high oil consumption few car owners consider the possibility of actual leakage, the usual fear being that the car is due for new piston rings. Before going off the deep end the situation always calls for checking the valves compartment which may have loose cover plates or poor gaskets. Oil stands in this compartment when the engine is at rest and will leak out if not properly sealed.

Much oil also escapes around the rear of the motor pan and is often mistaken for oil working into the clutch housing past a worn rear main bearing or defective bearing seal. Leakage around the timing gear case is common enough to be considered when oil mileage is low. Don't forget the crankcase drain plug which will leak a lot of oil if loose or if its threads are stripped.

Worried Over Clicks

An uncombortable number of motorists are worrying these days over annoying clicking noises, just as if this were something new in the motor scene. When such noises are heard with the car in motion the trouble is likely to originate in the speedometer cable. Clicking at idling speed, heard when the car is moving slowly or when standing with the engine running, may be due to wobbling of the distributor shaft. In other cases it is found that the fan blades are touching something. Clicks are commonly found around the wheels, too. They may be due to nothing more serious than a wheel cap.

That air cleaner on the engine isn't just an efficiency frill, so don't drive around with it removed. One of its functions is to serve as a backfire trap.

Rough roads, taken at too high speed, will knock the front end out of alignment quite as effectively as bumping curbs.

If you can get along with that small leak in the cooling system better wait until you have drained off the winter's anti-freeze before you put in some stopleak solution. Don't use radiator or cleanser because that may make the leak worse.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"As a rule, I'm not one to pass out alibis, but this time I'm making an exception. Here's why:

"My excuse for not solving a customer's problem was none other than our old friend, the weather. When my client brought in his car for some special lubrication he complained about a squeaky spring and a peculiar noise in one of the shock absorber arms. Under ordinary conditions I could have solved this with flying colors, but when I took the car out for a test in the rain I couldn't get an unwanted sound out of it. Rain water acted as a temporary lubricant to check those elusive squeaks. When the owner took the car out the next day things were as bad as ever."

Believe it or not, accessories sometimes are a clue to coming changes in car design. Just before the center gear shift was discarded in favor of steering post shifting one concern offered a silver plated shift lever ball with your initials engraved on it. Can it be that the flood of new jacks for the car forecast use of jacks built into the car? The finest leaf spring covers were developed just before designers adopted coil springs, and

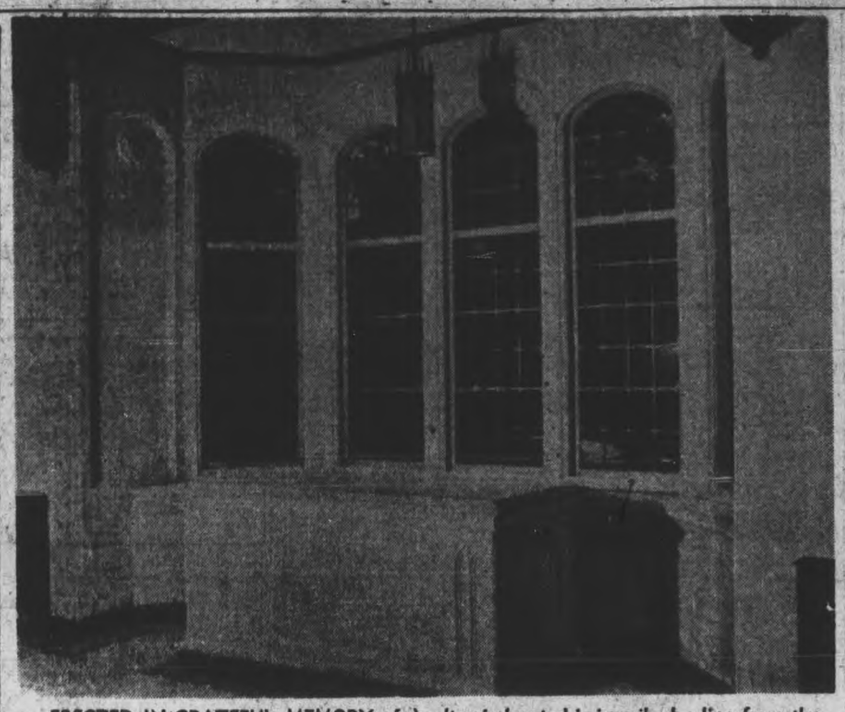
Cattle Prices Up 50 Cents During Week

TORONTO, June 3 — (CP) — Cattle prices advanced 25 to 50 cents on steers, heifers and cows up to $1 on bulls in trading at the Toronto Stock Yards this week, the Dominion Marketing Service reported to-day. Calves lambs and sheep were unchanged, but hog prices jumped sharply to $32.75 for Grade A.

The cattle runs of 7,297 head was the largest this year, eclipsing last week's mark by 1,971 head. It also surpassed the same week last year by 1,509.

Good to choice weighty steers sold at $22-$23 a hundredweight. Good light steers were $21.50 to $22.25 with choice at $22.50. Good heifers were $21.50-$22. Fed yearlings brought $20-$23.25. Medium to good cows were $17.50-$19. Good bologna bulls sold at $19-$20 with a few at $20.50. Demand for cattle for export and for the Eastern orders were keen.



A small supply of stocks sold at stronger prices. Picked lots were $19.50-$20.50 with plainer kinds downward to $16. Ordinary quality milkers and springers sold at $150-$200 each.

Calf receipts totalled 2,271 head. Prices were unchanged at $25-$26 for choice vealers, with plain to medium kinds from $17-$23. Thin grassers sold for slaughter at $12-$15 a hundredweight.

Hogs totalled 2,408 head. Price jumped sharply to $32.75 for Grade A and $32.35 for Grade B1. Sows were up $1 at $23 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts were 495 head. A slight increase in spring lambs sold steady at $30-$32. Good light sheep were $11-$13, with culls downward to $6.

ERECTED IN GRATEFUL MEMORY of the Queen's University men who gave their lives in The Great Wars, the Queen's Student Memorial Union is rapidly nearing completion in Kingston. The new memorial union replaces the one gutted by fire in 1947. In the plainly furnished memorial room ABOVE is the memorial altar. In a frieze along the alcove in which the altar is located is inscribed a line from the ode specially written by George Herbert Clarke to commemorate the centenary of Queen's in 1941: "So shall the spirit that inhabits here serve the dear land she loves." Flanking the altar are lines from Milton's "Paradise Lost" and from the university hymn: "O God Our Help In Ages Past."

Political Meeting In Church Not Allowed

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP)—Headquarters of Archbishop Alexandre Vachon of Ottawa in a statement Thursday said authorities of Ottawa diocese had "learned with surprise" from newspapers that a political meeting was held May 31 in a district church.

The statement did not further identify the meeting, but it apparently referred to Prime Minister St. Laurent's address in the Roman Catholic Church at Casselman, Ont., last Tuesday.

The statement, issued by the Archbishop's Palace, said Canon Law prohibits political or other meetings of a non-religious character in a church. The meeting in this instance had been held without the knowledge of the diocesan authorities who would not have authorized it regardless of the purpose.

The statement added that the authorities of the parish acted in good faith and the Archbishop's Palace hence rejected any responsibility for this breach of church law. Authorities wished "to assure the public that this incident is without precedent in the Ottawa Archdiocese."

Mr. St. Laurent spoke in the large, red brick Church of St. Euphemie, to which he was welcomed by the aged Cure of the parish, Msgr. H. Touchette. He told his audience it was an example of how the church and state should work together.

Casselman is 35 miles east of Ottawa.

Rescued In Cave-in

OAKVILLE, June 3 (CP) — Two men trapped in a drain-ditch cave-in on a housing development here Thursday were rescued by fellow workmen who dug frantically with their hands and shovels. Frederick Wilson and John Robinson of Oakville suffered minor cuts and shock when the earth caved in on a six-foot drain ditch they were digging.

Break Up Gang Fight

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) —Police Thursday night broke up a gang fight between 12 youths in Toronto's west-end Dufferin Grove. Arrested were Frank Strothers, 18, Ronald Hays, 19, James De Lory, 20, and Walter Sawchuck, 19. Loaded into police van, Sawchuck poked his foot through the car window.

Two Indians Drown

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 3 —Two Indians, Alec Naytahow and John Senakisses of the Montreal lake district 65 miles north of Prince Albert, were drowned in Montreal Lake early Thursday, RCMP officials here reported. The missing men apparently were two of a party of five Indians fishing from an open boat at the south end of the lake.

Crockford Heads Lay Association

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) — Morgan S. Crockford of Toronto Thursday was elected president of the Lay Association of Toronto Conference, United Church of Canada. Vice-presidents include George Scott of Owen Sound.

The conference on Thursday thrashed out an eight-point temperance resolution during a stormy session of its annual five-day meeting.

The motion, sponsored by the conference's evangelic and social service committee, was amended considerably but essentially unchanged. The 450 ministers and laymen attending the meeting will consider the entire resolution today.

First point of the motion, calling for shorter hours in bars and taverns, was finally approved on condition that another motion, urging ministers to make more use of voluntary pledge cards in their congregations, be put on the resolution list.

Despite a flurry of protest, another part of the eight-point motion, was also endorsed. It urged the Ontario government to prohibit dancing in roadhouses and taverns where liquor is served.

Earlier, the conference reaffirmed its stand against Sunday sports.

Nimitz Has Difficult Job Settling Indian Dispute

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., June 3—(CP)—A top commander of the Second World War is assigned to lead one of the most significant quests for peace attempted by the United Nations. He is Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, one-time commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific fleet and Chief of Naval Operations.

His new job: Administrator of the proposed plebiscite to settle the dispute between India and Pakistan over the princely state of Kashmir.

Since his appointment last March, the 64-year-old Nimitz has been studying the history of the conflict and previous attempts at large-scale plebiscites.

Hard Job

This one will be the first in UN history. It will determine whether Kashmir should become part of predominantly-Hindu India or predominantly-Moslem Pakistan.

Sir Hari Singh, Hindu ruler of Kashmir, rich princely state in the northern part of the subcontinent, ceded his country to India in October, 1947, after Britain gave Dominion status to India and Pakistan.

About three-quarters of the 4,000,000 inhabitants of Kashmir are Moslems.

The Texas-born Nimitz is expecting to have a tough job preparing the rolls for the vote. Kashmir is on the slopes of the Himalayas and the majority of the population lives in almost-inaccessible villages.

Another major problem will be to teach the unlettered Kashmiri about voting and the principles involved in the plebiscite.

Nimitz' right-hand man in the educational field will be Brian Meredith, formerly with the international service of the CBC in Montreal. Meredith has been a radio officer in the UN for the last two years.

Four Canadian Army officers now are in Kashmir as members of the commission supervising the truce which last March ended months of bitter fighting beween Indian troops and Moslem tribesmen.

Suggest Radar For Crops

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP) — Wildlife experts from all provinces conferring with Dominion authorities Thursday discussed a possible use of radar to divert wildfowl from farmers' crops and eliminate damage to cultivated areas. The subject came up for discussion at the closed meeting of the Provincial-Dominion Wildlife conference, but no definite program to safeguard crops by radar was annuonced and there was no indication how radar would be used.

Senator Iva Fallis Going To Winnipeg

Mr. Howard Fallis and the Hon. Iva Fallis leave to-day for Winnipeg to attend the celebration commemorating Winnipeg's 75th anniversary as a city, which is being held on June 5-11. Mrs. Fallis has been invited by Mayor Garnet Coulter to be present as guest of honor. Tuesday, June 7, has been set aside as Canada Day and Senator Fallis has been asked to prepresent the Women of Canada on that day. In this capacity she will participate in the many features of the celebration, the main one being to give the address at the official luncheon sponsored by the Women's Canadian Club.

Help Backfires

TIMMINS, June 3 (CP) — A Timmins traffic officer Thursday wrote so many parking tickets that his pen went dry. He entered a bank to fill the pen and the manager, in a friendly gesture, gave the officer his private ink bottle to use. With his pen filled, the policeman left the bank and placed another ticket on a car — owned by the bank manager.

Move To Unite Health Groups Given Impetus

Representatives of organizations concerned with health education are to be invited by the Health League, to consider unification. A letter from the Dental Public Health Committee, signed by Ald. J. Dutton, suggested that the Health League set the ball rolling in a scheme to unite voluntary health organizations in the city.

George Barnes, chairman of the Health League, told the monthly meeting Thursday in the Board Room of the Quaker Oats that the Dental Committee felt the time would come when voluntary health organizations would have to unite.

"Better service could be given to the public if we worked together," Mr. Barnes said "and when times strike tough, it will be easier to raise money.

Exploratory Meeting

Ben Myers said many of the health organizations covered the same ground and he had heard some people say there were too many groups in Peterborough.

The League decided to call an "exploratory" meeting. Two representatives from the Cancer and T.B. Associations, Health League, Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, and other interested people will be invited to the meeting.

Mr. Barnes said that even though unification might not result from the meeting immediately, it would probably lead to closer co-operation.

Identity Prized

J. E. Girven said that he felt most of the organizations would want to retain their own identity, which might prevent actual unification. He would feel satisfied, however, if greater co-operation between the separate groups could be attained.

Bill Swanger reported that 14 subscriptions had been taken out by visitors to the League's booth at the trade fair in the Armouries.

Park Property In West End May Cost City $40,000

A special committee of the council discussed this morning with Montgomery Brothers and J. A. Gibbs a proposal designed to establish a west side park on Clonsilla Ave., just beyond the Charlotte St. turn.

A tentative value of $40,000 was mentioned in the discussion.

This idea stemmed originally from town planning committee, and was suggested to the council recently by Ald. Grant Miller who emphasized the fact that while the city is rapidly expanding westerly, no provision has been made for a park on that side.

Montgomery Brothers and Mr. Gibbs outlined a residential and shopping centre project for that property several years ago. Some difficulty of putting in sewer accommodation was mentioned at that time, and subsequently town planning pointed out the park possibility as a splendid improvement in the approach to Civic Hospital.

Some of the members of the council have said that their hands are tied by the consideration of cost, although they agree with the long-view desire of beautifying that west side of the city and the hospital area.

The members of the special committee meeting today were Aldermen Grant Miller, Hugh Waddell and Herbert Young and Mayor Swanston. They were asking Guy Quatermaine of the City Engineer's department to prepare a special outline map of that area as part of the information to be submitted to the whole council for their decision.

CASE IN POINT

While walking down George St., south of King St., Thursday an Examiner reporter saw a boy cyclist narrowly escape injury in one of the ways illustrated in a series of "Do and Don't" drawings which appeared in The Examiner on the same day. The boy was wheeling too close behind a large truck; the larger vehicle stopped suddenly, with the result that the young cyclist bumped head on into the rear of the truck. Fortunately, neither vehicle was going very fast at the time and the boy was unhurt, but he proceeded on his way nursing several bruised fingers.

500 Highlanders Expected To Attend Reunion

As many as 500 members of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders (First Battalion Association) are expected to attend the second annual reunion June 11 and 12.

Although based in Cornwall much of the unit's strength comes from the Peterborough area and it is because of this such a large turnout is expected. Invitations have gone out to anyone on strength of the 1st Bn. between Mobilization Day, June 21, 1940, and VE Day, May 8, 1945.

A special reunion executive has been appointed by Walter Curtis, president of the S D and G Highlanders Association. It consists of Major Archie Hamilton of Peterborough; Lt. John Campbell, recording secretary; Major Ken Kingston, MBE, Mentioned in Despatches; Major J. Gordon Armstrong, DSO, MID; Major Herbert C. Mason, registration; CSM W. T. Westran, entertainment; Captain Lorne Bateman, accommodation; Tech. Sgt. Vern Read, decorations; Major Robert S. Allin and Major Harry Willis, refreshments; and RSM Fred Lockhart, MM, parade.

Last year the reunion was held at Cornwall and was a pronounced success, and the executive hopes to exceed that mark this year.

Banquet Saturday Night

Two big items on the agenda for the two-day meeting will be the banquet on Saturday night and the Memorial Service and March Past on Sunday.

The members will start registering at the Armouries early Saturday afternoon. A reception will also be held in the Armouries from 5-6 p.m.

At the banquet Padre R. T. F. Brain, MC, will give the blessing and propose the toast to Fallen Comrades. This will be followed by a minute's silence and a Lament by a piper from the S D and G Pipe Band. The Band from Cornwall will entertain during the banquet.

Lt.-Col. D. R. Dick, present CO of the Reserve Bn., will propose a toast to the First Bn. and the response will be by Lt.-Col. N. M. Gemmell, DSO, Croix de Guerre, last CO of the 1st Battalion.

The final toast, "Here's Tae Us, Wha's Like Us," will be proposed by Lt.-Col. Dick.

Besides selections by the Pipe Band there will be a sing-song with the accompanying pianist, Albert Croasdale. Entertainment will continue until 10 p.m.

Sunday's Activities

On Sunday the Highlander veterans will form up on the Armouries parade ground at 1 p.m. and move off on the following route to the War Memorial: McDonnel to Aylmer, Aylmer to Hunter, Hunter to George, and from George to the Memorial. The memorial service will begin at 2 p.m.

Lt.-Col. Gemmell will read the names of Fallen Comrades and the placing of the wreaths will be done by RSM F. A. Lockhart, MM. After the Last Post, Reveille, and the blessing by Padre Brain the veterans will move off in formation for the march past.

Route of the March Past immediately following the service will be from the War Memorial to Murray St., Murray to Water, Water to London, London to George, George to Brock, Brock to Aylmer, Aylmer to Murray, Murray to the Armouries.

The salute is to be taken in front of the War Memorial by Brig. E. W. Haldenby, MC, ED, first Company of the 5th Highland Brigade joining the S. D. and G Pipe Band in the parade will be the CGE Pipe Band and the Peterborough Pipe Band.

District Association chairmen in Cornwall, Brockville, Kingston and Ottawa have arranged transportation for veterans residing within their jurisdiction. One of the major problems will be billeting, but it is believed all can be accommodated at hotels or private dwellings if sufficient notice is given by those wishing to attend.

Lowest Tender Accepted In Hospital Job

For the building of the nurses residence of Civic Hospital, the council accepted the lowest tender and let the contract Thursday afternoon to the Robertson Engineering and Construction Company of Niagara Falls for $419,644.

"This is an important job to us in this area, and we'll give you everything we've got," said Mr. A. Blake Robertson when informed that the board of works was recommending acceptance of his company's bid.

The board's decision was moved by Ald. Hugh Waddell and seconded by Ald. Adam Sands, attending his first meeting since the accident at midwinter in which he suffered a fractured leg. The members attending were: Aldermen Herbert Young, Douglas Miller, James Gillespie, Adam Sands, Hugh Waddell, Hurrell Dodds and Mayor Swanston.

Board of works Monday night recommended the tender of the A. W. Robertson & Company of Toronto at $437,200, the second lowest of the five bidding construction firms. Aldermen Waddell and Young had declined to vote for the committee's motion which was regarded as tentative and conditional on the results of enquiries which were to be made into the Niagara Falls company's record of performance before the next meeting of the Council.

The spirit in which the meeting adjourned Monday night was suggested in the comment of Ald. Waddell: "I don't think we have enough information as to the work this Niagara Falls company has done. If they are a reliable company, I don't see why they should not get the contract."

$17,000 Lower

And Mayor Swanston said: "We certainliy can use $17,000, (the difference between the two low bids) but these people are new to us and to the architects."

The A. W. Robertson Company of Toronto, on the other hand, is well known in Peterborough from various jobs they have done. They are at present completing a big addition to the plant of the Canadian General Electric Company.

Since Tuesday the understanding, that thorough enquiries would be made, was carried out at Ottawa, Toronto, Niagara Falls and elsewhere, and the net effect is reflected in the unanimous decision of the Council in the special meeting Thursday following the board of work's session, to which A. Blake Robertson had been invited.

After the interview with Mr. Robertson, Mayor Swanston said he understood that Mr. Robertson had come to Peterborough three times to interview the architects, and that the full information the Council had to obtain for its guidance in the final decision should have been made available when the competing tenders were being considered.

Want Building in 1950

Mayor Swanston told Mr. Robertson that the new Civic Hospital would probably be completed by this time next year, and it was desirable that the nurses' residence should be ready at the same time.

"We'll go to work hoping that we can do it," Mr. Robertson said. He told the committee that his company would naturally wish to get under way almost immediately for the advantage of having the roof on the nurses' residence before the cold weather returns.

May Swanston explained to Mr. Robertson that the Council had hesitated about accepting his company's tender "because you are not known in this area."

His Worship said the Council had wished to satisfy itself about the company's record of work done, "and I think I should tell you that we have had made a very thorough inquiry." For the same reason the Council had invited Mr. Robertson to meet the Board of Works to give him the opportunity of telling the members anything he wished to say about his company's contractual experience.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

169 BIRTHS IN MAY

Peterborough counted 169 births in May, although all of them are hardly of local nativity. Vital statistics for the month were: Births 169; marriages 46; deaths 45. And in May last year: Births 140; marriages 44; deaths 49.

GIRLS FOUND

Four young girls who escaped from the training school at Cobourg Thursday night were taken into custody by Provincial Police near Brantford early this morning. They had hitch-hiked their way there and were later returned to the home.

FIND LICENSE PLATE

While on patrol duty on the Lakefield Highway Thursday night, a Provincial Police constable found a car license plate lying on the road. Its number is C-42085 and the owner can pick it up at Peterborough headquarters of the force on Charlotte St. on proof of ownership.

BICYCLE STOLEN

After visiting at St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday evening, Lois Robertson, 263 Bethune St., discovered that her bicycle was missing from the Armour Road entrance to the building. She had left it there only a short time before.

OPEN BANDSHELL

Official opening of the Port Hope bandshell will be Tuesday at 8.30 p.m. with the 40-piece Peterborough Salvation Army Band attending. Regular band concerts will be conducted each Sunday evening by the Port Hope Band beginning June 12.

HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

Nine staff members of Kingan's Hardware packed their picnic baskets on Wednesday afternoon for the annual outing. They went to the summer cottage of Geddes Harper on Lake Catchacoma and had an afternoon and early evening of games and general entertainment.

PLANE DROPS LEAFLETS

Many pedestrians walking along George St. and other downtown thoroughfares craned their necks skyward around 5:00 Thursday afternoon to watch a seaplane scattering leaflets. They proved to be CCF election dodgers boosting the candidature of J. H. Miles, Peterborough West candidate. They were also dropped over Young's Point and Lakefield.

BITTEN BY DOG

Jack Forsyth, 16, was attacked and bitten by a Great Dane dog Thursday afternoon while swimming in Jackson's Park creek. He was bitten at the elbow and his hand was also scratched. When Constable V. A. McConnell visited the park he saw the Great Dane running loose, apparently out for a walk with his master, Douglas Ferguson, 382 Stewart St. Dr. Francis O'Reilly, who attended Forsyth, reported the boy has only minor injuries.

JAMBOREE LOSS $400

The Junior Chamber of Commerce went into the red to the tune of $400 on May 24 at the annual Jaycee Jamboree. This was announced on Thursday night by Bruce Payne, secretary treasurer of the Chamber at a special meeting of the executive. Rain and cool weather combined to keep attendance to a minimum. The Jamboree is the major Jaycee money-raising venture of the year to enable them to carry on their civic projects

RESORT HEADS TO MEET

Operators of tourist resorts in the Kawartha district who are members of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting in the offices of the Chamber on Tuesday, June 7, at 7.30, to discuss mutual problems. Among matters slated to come up are road conditions, Hydro installation, proposed canoe derby, and new tourist booklet for Peterborough and Kawartha district.

Bylaw Must Get Approval Of Municipal Board Before Work Can Start

Warren Bituminous Paving Company's bid of $151,874 for the council's street paving program this summer was accepted by the board of works Thursday afternoon. The implementing bylaw was introduced by Ald. H. Dodds at the immediately following special session of the council, and was held up after the second reading for reference to the Ontario Municipal Board of approval.

The bylaw was actually in three parts representing differences in the percentage of the cost of the work to be paid by the city as a whole. The rest of the cost in each instance is charged against abutting property on a frontage basis in accordance with the Local Improvement Act.

Five bids for the paving job were: Warren Bituminous Co., $151,874; W. B. Bennett Construction Co., Oshawa, $148,774.50; R. A. Blyth, Toronto, $146,555; Law Construction Co., Toronto, $157,689.50; H. J. McFarland Construction Co. Picton, $164,043.

City Engineer Chalmers told the board that the three low bids of the five were "all about equal." His practice has been to call for tenders on the basis of quantity of materials used in fulfilling the contract, and not on the area of surface paved.

Offers Balanced

Mayor Swanston remarked that Mr. Chalmers had informed him that examination of the tenders and particularly the three low ones showed the bids tended to balance up about equally. "The one that was lowest for one part of the contract might be highest on another part."

For the reason that the difference between the three low bids was only a small amount, and also because the Warren Paving Company had given satisfaction on other paving jobs they had done in Peterborough, the board decided to let the contract to them. The motion by Ald. Herb Young was seconded by Ald. H. Dodds.

The submitting of the paving bylaw to the Municipal Board affords property owners on the designated streets to present any objections they may have to the letting of the contract. In this connection, a Burnham St. petition was received by the board of works Monday night, supported by a deputation of property owners on that street.

The streets listed for paving are: Burnham St. in two price and contract sections from Hunter St. to Charles St.; Romaine St. between Park St. and Monaghan Road; and sections of Monaghan Road, Park Hill Road, and Sherbrooke Streets.

Prices Of Meat Advance In City Store

Price of meat has gone up with a big jump and city housewives will discover during the next few days that last month's budget will have to be revised to meet current new prices.

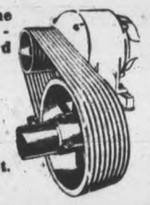
Price of pork, which is usually down at this time of the year, has risen from around 48 cents a pound to 52 cents for a roast and chops are up from 59 to 65 cents.

Sirloin steak has jumped from 69 to 75 cents and tenderloins are up as much as 20 cents a pound, from 90 cents to $1.10. Veal steak is now 70 cents instead of 75, and veal chops are priced at 70 cents, a rise of five cents.

Price of cooked ham has been boosted from 89 cents to $1 a pound, and trimmed ham is up 10 cents, from 49 to 59. New price of Devon rindless bacon is 82 cents instead of 75, and other rindless bacon is up to 90 cents a pound.

City butchers say the boost in meat is not just a seasonal price increase, as it does not coincide with unusual price trends at this time of the year. The new prices were introduced June 1 but as most stores have still been selling stock already in hand before that date, the public is not yet aware of the boost.

Butchers' replies to the question "Why is meat costing the public more" are unanimously, "I don't know."



Police Court Fines

Submitting a written plea of guilty to driving carelessly on East Coe Hill Rd., Anstruther, May 24, Thomas H. Rowe, Apsley, was today fined $10 with $2.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K. C., at city police court.

James Moffat, RR 9, Peterborough, was fined $10 with $2.50 costs for driving a car with inadequate brakes on May 20.

Arnold Bennett, Buckhorn, was fined $5 with $2.50 costs for not obeying a stop sign.

TIME SAVER—With 70 square miles under his jurisdiction, Fire Chief Ivan Nelson of North York, Toronto suburb, has a busy time answering all the fire alarms, especially grass fires which burst out without warning during the dry season in widely scattered areas of the township. Last year the department and Chief Nelson answered 474 alarms. So far this year before the dry weather began a mobile telephone was installed in one of the fire trucks. Now the brigade is in constant touch with the fire hall and trucks can be directed from one fire to another without them returning to the hall. If the truck is unattended a device sets off a siren when the phone rings. This is the first such installation in Canada and Fire Chief Nelson is shown here using the equipment. It's also useful for telling Mrs. Nelson he'll be late for dinner, the chief says.

Think Russia Out To Break Vatican Ties

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—State department officials said today Russia may be aiming to break all contacts between the Vatican and Moscow's last "free" Roman Catholic Church.

Official reports received here from the Russian capital say Soviet authorities have seized the keys of the Church of St. Louis Francaise from the resident priest and now exercise physical control of the property.

Speculation that the Soviet action may be intended to remove the church from papal authority is bolstered by the continuing failure of Russian officials to grant an entry permit to an American priest assigned to duty at the church. He has had his request for such a permit on file since last February.

Officials here say the Russian government may intend eventually to deny use of the church to any priest under the direction of the Pope and may seek instead to install a priest whose contacts with the Vatican have been broken.

Some churches in territory under Communist domination now are operated in that manner, they said.

Goes Off The Wagon Gets 10 Jail Days

Convicted for the second time of drinking while on the interdicted list, Arthur William Barker, 326½ Water St., was today sent to jail for 10 days by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. The 10 days with an alternative sentence to a $10 fine with $2.50 costs.

Mrs. Barker told the court that her husband had come home drunk at 9 p.m. on May 31. A neighbor had called the police because he was causing a disturbance.

Constable Harold Andrew said that when he was called to the house he found Barker had been drinking, although he was not drunk.

Barker denied drinking anything stronger than Coca Cola.

Water Supply Low

OAKVILLE, June 3 (CP) — Oakville's dwindling water supplies Thursday caused town officials to cut off water to 200 householders and to put another 7,000 families under strict conservation orders. Officials of the town, 20 miles west of Toronto, said that drought and inadequate pumping equipment combined to reduce reservoir supplies to dangerous levels.

THE SIMPLE JOY OF EATING—Almost reverently, this little Italian street waif eagerly ladles up his meal of spaghetti sopped with milk at a day nursery run by nuns in Rome. The food is supplied by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, which is giving an extra meal daily to nearly 6,000,000 European children, over 500,000 children in the Middle East and some 200,000 youngsters in China.

Liberals Copy Ontario Housing

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) — Roland Michener, Progressive Conservative candidate in Toronto St. Paul's, said Thursday night that the Liberals have adopted the Ontario Government's housing program of low-interest second mortgages.

In a federal election campaign speech, he quoted Reconstruction Minister Winters, who said in a broadcast that the Federal Government will consider entering into arrangements with provinces "which wish to follow a pattern already tried in providing a second mortgage to lower the down payment on new homes."

Mr. Michener, a former Ontario cabinet minister, said more than 7,000 persons have availed themselves of the Ontario Government's second mortgage housing plan. He added:

"The Liberals see that this is a good thing and want to get in on it. They have had four years to do something of this kind, but Mr. Winters brings it out only a few weeks before the election in the hope of staying in power."

Mission Leaders Honored On Departure

HAVELOCK, June 3 (ENS) — A social gathering was held in the hall of Havelock United Church on Wednesday to say farewell to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. O'Neill, who have been in charge of the Faith Mission Headquarters for Eastern Canada at Havelock, and their assistant, Clifford McIntosh.

Serves 14 Years

Mr. O'Neill has served with Faith Mission for 14 years, and is leaving to take a two-year summer course at Emmanuel College, Toronto, in preparation for entering the ministry of the United Church. Mrs. O'Neill will remain in Havelock for the summer months. Mr. McIntosh is a native of Vancouver, BC, and has been with Faith Mission over two years. He is leaving to spend the summer in Hamilton and will enter Albert College at Belleville in the Fall.

From there he will go to Queen's University, Kingston, to complete his course for the United Church ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill were presented with a purse of money by Mrs. W. J. Cornell. A wool blanket was presented Mr. McIntosh by Mrs. J. Jones.

Give Musical Program

B. Smith officiated as chairman of the following program: recitations, Mrs. C. J. Gall, Omar Cornell, and James Hoard; piano solo, Mrs. F. R. Vanderburgh; vocal trio, Peggy O'Neill, Omar and Allan Cornell; vocal solo, Mrs. W. J. Cornell; vocal, Mrs. Fred Chase, C. McIntosh and J. Rorabeck. Short addresses were given by C. Green, Miss Laura Menzies and Mrs. J. Jones.

Obtain B.S.A. Degrees

BONARLAW, June 3—(ENS)—Earl Haslett, who has completed his four-year course at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haslett. On Tuesday he left for Toronto where he is taking a position in the civil service.

Thomas (Bud) Stocker, another Bonarlaw boy, also received his BSA degree at the recent OAC convocation and has obtained a position at Stirling with W. A. Sutherland.

Reporters Protest

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 3—(AP) — Reporters covering the Florida Senate session walked out Thursday when a Miami Herald reporter was barred from the press table. Nine correspondents left the chamber in formal protest and continued their coverage from the public gallery. It was the latest flare-up in a controversy which began two days ago when reporter Steve Trumbull of the Herald was punched in the face by Senator A. G. McArthur.

Entry of Newfoundland, Redistribution Add 17 MP's

OTTAWA, — (CP) — Canada's post-election House of Commons will have 17 more members than the last and 81 more than the first House after Confederation.

Redistribution added 10 members and seven more result from the entry of Newfoundland, bringing the Commons up from 245 to 262 members. The first House in 1867 had 181 members.

Quebec gains the most members —eight—raising its representation to 73. Ontario adds one, moving up to 83. Other provinces gaining are Nova Scotia, from 12 to 13, and British Columbia, from 16 to 18.

Two Provinces Lose

Two provinces lose members. Manitoba drops from 17 to 16, and Saskatchewan from 21 to 20.

Remaining unchanged are Prince Edward Island, with four, and Alberta, with 17.

The Yukon riding has been expanded but still has one member.

The recent redistribution is the first since Confederation in which Quebec has not been used as a yardstick for the whole country. Under the British North America Act, Quebec was given a fixed 65 seats, and the representations of other provinces varied in accordance with the ratio of their populations to that of Quebec.

The new system provides for a fixed number of members in the Commons and the representation of each province is determined on the basis of the relation of its population to that of the whole of Canada.

Frequent Changes

Under the old method, the Commons membership changed frequently up to 1925. Mostly, it went up gradually, though the 1896 parliament saw a drop of two members from the previous one.

Here are Commons membership totals at the start of each parliament:

1867 (Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick), 181; 1872 (Manitoba and British Columbia added), 200; 1874 (P.E.I.), 206; 1878, 206; 1882, 211; 1887 (Saskatchewan), 215; 1891, 215; 1896, 213; 1904 (Yukon), 214; 1908 (Alberta), 221; 1911, 221; 1917, 235; 1921, 235; 1925 and all others up to the present, 245.

Provincial representation has fluctuated considerably through the years.

Ontario Once Had 92

Ontario started in with 82, went as high as 92 and now will have 83. Nova Scotia had 19 originally and went as high as 21. It will have 13 in the new parliament.

New Brunswick had a high of 16 late in the last century and now has 10. Manitoba started with four, rose to 17 and now drops one from that figure. British Columbia began with six, rose to 16 in the 1933 redistribution and now gets two more. Prince Edward Island had six originally and then fell to four in 1904. It may not go below that figure, under the statute that says no province shall have fewer commoners than the number of its senators.

Saskatchewan, starting with four, rose to 21 in the 1920's but now falls back to 20. Alberta had an initial seven which rose to 17 in 1930 and stays at that point.

Quebec has remained unchanged all through at 65, except for the latest change adding eight to its members.

Advance Polls Of Two Types

OTTAWA, June 3—(CP)—Two different types of early voting will be held in advance polls before the general election of June 27.

One—between June 20 and June 25—will be for members of the armed services. The other—June 23-25—will be held for restricted classes of civilian electors and for the R.C.M.P.

Under the service voting, members of the forces—including reservists in training—will be able to vote for their choice in their home constituencies.

Results of this balloting will be available July 2, to be correlated with the civilian vote.

The count from the other advance polls will be ready to be added into the general balloting election night.

Persons entitled to cast votes in this poll, besides the R.C.M.P., are commercial travellers, fishermen, and those employed on railways, ships, air services and other forms of transportation.

These electors, under the Election Act, are entitled to advance polling privileges only "If they are likely to be absent on polling day in the course of duty and may thus be prevented from voting at the ordinary polling station established in the polling division on the list for which their name appears."

The advance polling—which takes place at about 200 special polls—normally is relatively light. Only 10,000 votes were registered this way in the general election of 1945.

Apart from servicemen and persons in hospital, this year there will be no absentee voting—the system under which some electors were allowed to record votes while away from their home riding. This was dropped after a 1935 experiment.

It brought only a few ballots and proved costly—$65 for each of the approximately 4,000 valid votes registered. Votes had to be sent back to returning officers for counting in the constituencies concerned.

Fishermen, lumbermen, miners, and sailors were among those to whom this privilege was extended in 1935.

Output of Tea May Exceed Demand In Few Years' Time

By GRAHAM BARROW

COLOMBO, Ceylon. (Reuters) —Trade circles in Colombo believe that in the next three to five years world production of tea may well exceed demand.

They state that this in inevitable if the political unrest in Asia eases sufficiently to enable Java and Sumatra to produce their normal quotas.

Tea represents three-fifths of Ceylon's exports and earns nearly a quarter of her revenue. Ceylon's economy is based on tea.

Followed Coffee Blight

Although it was first planted commercially in Ceylon in 1866, it was not until 1880 that tea really came into its own following a disastrous coffee blight which wiped out coffee production and forced the estates to switch over to tea.

In that year, 5,000 acres of tea were planted. Today's acreage is approximately 560,000 or a quarter of the world's total acreage, excluding China and Japan.

The phenomenal growth of the industry brought in its wake many benefits to the people of Ceylon. Roads and railways were built to link up the plantations with the larger towns and with Colombo; hamlets became villages, villages became townships, all catering for the needs of the tea estates and the 700,000 people who now reside on them.

Second to India

Ceylon has become the world's second largest exporter of tea. India is the first.

In 1948, this island produced 229,000,000 pounds of tea; 226,000,000 pounds were shipped abroad. Approximately 50 per cent of the tea exported finds its way to the United Kingdom market either through government contract, or through private sale for re-export from the United Kingdom.

The package of Ceylon tea which is eventually sold over grocery counters in London, New York, Montreal, and other towns all over the world, represents a considerable amount of hard work by specialists of many years' experience in the industry.

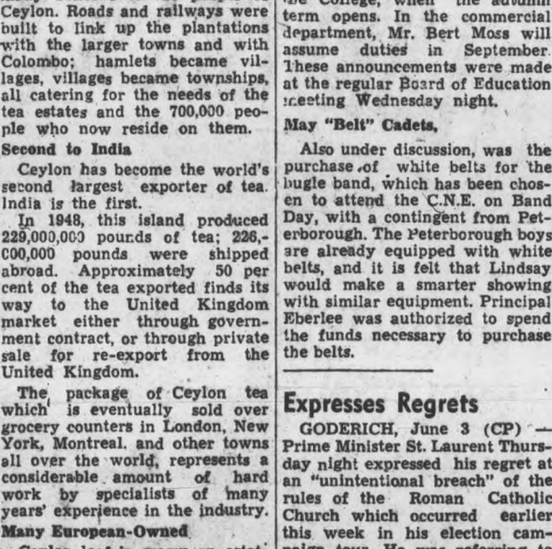
Many European-Owned

Ceylon leaf is grown on estates dotted throughout the hill country mainly in the centre of the island. A large number of these estates are in European hands; the remainder are owned by Ceylon and Indian firms.

To produce a crop of, say, 250,000,000 pounds of tea every year means that 1,000,000 pounds of green leaves are plucked from tea bushes. The complicated processes which the leaf goes through in the factory reduce four pounds of green leaves to one pound of black tea.

The leaves from which tea is made grow on bushes which are periodically pruned to a height of about three feet. These bushes, which are planted three or four feet apart in specially prepared ground, are not ready for plucking until they are five years old

Joan Penhall Named To Lindsay Staff



LINDSAY, June 3 — Miss Joan Penhall, of Peterborough, will be the new teacher of girls' Physical Education and Health course at the College, when the autumn term opens. In the commercial department, Mr. Bert Moss will assume duties in September. These announcements were made at the regular Board of Education meeting Wednesday night.

May "Belt" Cadets,

Also under discussion, was the purchase of white belts for the bugle band, which has been chosen to attend the C.N.E. on Band Day, with a contingent from Peterborough. The Peterborough boys are already equipped with white belts, and it is felt that Lindsay would make a smarter showing with similar equipment. Principal Eberlee was authorized to spend the funds necessary to purchase the belts.

Expresses Regrets

GODERICH, June 3 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent Thursday night expressed his regret at an "unintentional breach" of the rules of the Roman Catholic Church which occurred earlier this week in his election campaign tour. He was referring to the fact that he delivered a political address Tuesday in the Roman Catholic Church at Casselman, Ont.

ISRAEL BOUND—A reception for 30 Canadian youths who will leave Friday from Quebec City for an extended visit to Israel, was staged in Montreal by the Canadian Jewish Youth Council at Adath Israel Community Hall. Above are three of the Montreal delegates and an Israeli representative. Seated are Esther Cohen, left, and Shirley Klienfeld, and standing are Frank Guttman and J. Cheruti, the Israeli representative who helped arrange the tour.

Use Mission Fund To Make Up Ministerial Pay

KITCHENER, June 3—(CP)—Some Presbyterian congregations in Canada fall short of raising sufficient funds to meet the salary they have undertaken to pay their minister. When that happens, the Home Missions Board dips into funds set aside for Missions work and makes up the difference.

The situation was discussed Thursday night at the Church's general assembly and Rev. G. D. Johnston of Brantford, chairman of the Board of Missions, described it as "a recurring problem." The minimum stipend for a minister is $1,800, plus $300 transportation allowance, and if a Church fails to raise the money, the Mission Board contributes up to $600 a year to meet the $1800.

Mr. Johnston reported a 15-per-cent over-all improvement in Mission staffing during the last year.

Approximately $90,000 of last year's Home Mission Board budget of $146,000 was used to help congregations pay salaries.

Great Advdances Made

Rev. H. Lloyd Henderson, Mayor of Portage La Prairie, Man., said the Church is making great advances in Mission work in the west, especially in Manitoba. Many new churches had been built, others were planned and membership and givings continued to show a steady increase.

Work in the Maritimes was described by Rev. A. D. MacKinnon of Little Narrows, N.S. He said New Brunswick churches report increases in membership and givings, with Miramichi making the greatest gain. In Nova Scotia, except in Pictou, gains have been steady. Advances have also been reported from Newfoundland, where the Presbyterian Church started its work in 1842.

Will Assist At Picnic

St. Andrew's WA met in the church parlors on Thursday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. I. H. Keefer presiding. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. I. R. Rattenbury and her group.

The devotions were led by Mrs. I. Rattenbury. It was decided to assist the junior choir with their annual picnic. The president reported on the Presbytery annual meeting, held in Norwood in May.

Mrs. C. Pilon spoke regarding the forthcoming bazaar and asked members to do work for same during the summer.

Miss Elizabeth Scott was the speaker, her subject being a recent holiday in Florida. Most especially she described visits to various churches in St. Petersburg. Mrs. D. MacTavish voiced thanks of the members to her. Tea was served at the close.

War-time Romance Culminated In Marriage Here

Culmination of a war-time romance was reached here Wednesday morning, June 1, with the marriage of Sophia Ballantyne of Glasgow, Scotland, and William Cyril (Babe) Fontaine of Peterborough. The union took place in St. Peter's Catthedral with the Rev. P. P. Butler saying the nuptial mass.

The bride's arrival in Peterborough several months ago followed a courtship by mail since the groom's return from overseas service. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ballantyne, Glasgow, Scotland, and he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Fontaine, Aylmer St.

For her wedding the bride wore a light grey suit of Scotch wool with all-round pleated skirt, crownless hat of pink straw trimmed with black dotted net, and pink accessories. There was heather from Scotland in her corsage and pink roses and she carried heather on her prayer book.

Mr. Oral Brown escorted the bride to the altar and the wedding march was played by Mrs. R. G. Aman.

Miss Marcelle Fontaine, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a navy tailored suit, white straw hat and white accessories and a corsage of Butterfly roses. The groomsman was Keith Fontaine and the usher Victor Fontaine, both brothers of the groom.

A wedding breakfast and reception followed at the groom's home, where his mother received, wearing a light blue dress with grey accessories and corsage of dark red roses.

On return from a wedding trip to Detroit and other points Mr. and Mrs Fontaine will live at 428 Water St.

Buller-Lentz Nuptials Held

In George St. United Church on Saturday the Rev. Dr. Jas. Semple officiated at the marriage of Theresa Julianne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lentz, 47 Sophia St., and John George Buller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Buller, 227 Sherbrooke St.

The church was decorated with tulips, lilacs and fern. Mr. Chas. Allen played the wedding music and Mrs. Baines was solist. Before the ceremony she sang "I Love You Truly," and at the signing of the register, "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin and lace with net yoke insert. Her veil fell to the floor from a bandeau of white and silver beads and she carried a bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Corinne Buller as maid of honor was frocked in mauve taffeta and carried yellow roses with white sweet peas. Miss Louise Lentz, first bridesmaid, was in pale green and carried pink carnations with white sweet peas. Mrs. Chas. Horne, second bridesmaid, wore yellow and had yellow on Saturday, the Rev. Dr. Jas. roses and mauve sweet peas. Miss Linda Lentz was flower girl in peach taffeta and had yellow roses and mauve sweet peas. Each wore a headdress and shoulder veil of white net.

The groomsman was Mr. Keith Orde and ushers were Kenneth Godfrey and Chas. Horne.

At the reception following in the Sunday School auditorium, the bride's mother received in grey crepe with black accessories, assisted by the groom's mother who was in navy sheer with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of red roses.

Leaving later on a motor trip the bride was wearing a light blue dress, wine accessories and grey topcoat. The couple will live on Sherbrooke St.

Mather-Elmhurst

St. Michael's Anglican Church, Westwood, was the setting on Wednesday morning, June 1st, for the marriage of Barbara Ruth, younger daughter of Mrs. Elmhurst and the late Mr. Gilbert Elmhurst of Birdsall, to Mr. Harold Thomas Mather, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Mather of Keene. The Rev. P. A. Rickard officiated. Mrs. F. E. Birdsall, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Everett Elmhurst, and wore a suit of Rob Roy blue with navy accessories. Her corsage was of lily of the valley and blue carnations.

After a small reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Mather left on a motor trip to Ottawa, Montreal and points east. On their return they will live near Keene.

Mrs. A.M. Partridge Honored By Mission Workers

Mission workers of Mark St. United Church representing the WMS, CGIT, Mission Circle, Baby Band Mothers and Mission Band, and members of Stewart Hall, WMS, gathered in the church parlors Tuesday evening for the last meeting at which Mrs. A. M. Partridge will preside as WMS organist.

A gift from the members of all these organizations was presented to Mrs. Partridge by Mrs. A. Scriver.

Quiet music played by Mrs. E. DeNure opened the devotions which were in charge of Mrs. M. Stockdale. The scripture lesson was read in unison. Mrs. E. Digner pointed out the opportunity to help in Europe after reading an article on present conditions. Arrangements for meeting refugees entering Canada were explained by Mrs. W. Parnell. Mrs. DeNure closed the period with a pleasing solo.

A talk on mission work in Canada by the Rev. Mr. Morton was most interesting to the assembly.

A social hour followed with refreshments served by the WMS group in charge.

June Weddings Come With Rush On First Saturday

Many weddings taking place on the first Saturday of June uphold the traditional saying that this is the month of brides.

At St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Miss Margaret Elizabeth Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbott, 754 Water St., will become the bride of Mr. John Coatsworth Stodgell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon John Stodgell of Walkerville.

The marriage of Jean Harriet, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Graham, to Reginald Joseph Seabrook, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Seabrook, all of Peterborough, will take place in Park St. Baptist Church.

Nuptial vows pledged in All Saints Anglican Church will be those of Miss Ruby Constance Downes, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Downes, 537 Sherbrooke St., and Mr. Owen Jennings Amundsen, son of Mr. Adolphe Amundsen and the late Mrs. Amundsen, of Claresholm, Alberta.

At St. James United Church, Isobel Marjorie Scott, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Scott, 73 Pine St., will become the bride of Wilfred Hugh Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry of Wilberforce.

The Salvation Army Temple will be the setting for the wedding of Miriam Butcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Butcher, 583 Walnut St., to Mr. Fairful William Given, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Given of Windsor.

Miss Helen Elizabeth Scriver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Scriver, 244 Wolfe St., will wed Sherwood Reginald Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Martin of Muscelow, Ontario, at the Pentecostal Church.

Of interest here is the wedding in Toronto on Saturday of Miss Elinor Somerville, summer resident at Chemong Park, to Mr. Samuel MacDonald Irwin. Also that of Mr. Crawford Hall, son of Mrs. Hall and the late Mr. S. Dickson Hall, Peterborough to Miss Edna Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller of Glasgow, Scotland, at St. James' Cathedral, Toronto.

Miss Joyce Isabel Jackson, formerly of the Examiner Circulation Department, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jackson, Bethany, will become the bride of Mr. Norman Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Yelverton, at her parents' home on Saturday.

In Lakefield United Church the marriage of Miss Mabel Hockaday Reg. N., daughter of Mr. Stanley Hockaday, Lakefield, to Mr. Morris Harold Telford, son of Mr. and Mrs Gration Telford, RR 1, Peterborough, will take place.

Deplore Women's Lack of Interest In Public Life

OTTAWA, June 3 — (CP) — The average Canadian housewife's lackadaisical interest in public affairs was brought home Thursday to delegates attending the Young Women's Christian national convention.

They heard a magazine editor from Toronto and a Winnipeg economist—both women—stress that the time has come for the Canadian woman to step out of her home and take a look at what is going on in the world outside.

Dr. Margaret McWilliams, wife of Lt.-Gov. R. F. McWilliams of Manitoba, told the 350 "Y" delegates at a convention dinner that women should play a more active part in public life.

"Women have always been the caretakers of the family while men have carried the burden of economic support," she said. It naturally followed that women are more interested in people and men in affairs of property. Both are needed to contribute their own particular gifts toward the welfare of their country.

At an earlier meeting Byrne Hope Sanders of Toronto, editor of Chatelaine magazine, said women must learn to believe in themselves; to "think big" and to "tackle the impossible more often."

Recommendations dealing with human rights, immigration and employment were approved by delegates at another session.

The one on employment urged the YWCA to "continue to stimulate interest" in the formation of a women's bureau in the Federal Labor department.

Another recommendation asked for a continued study of Canadian immigration problems, with particular attention to the integration of immigrants into community life.

On human rights, the association decided to continue emphasizing study of the work of the United Nations, and more particularly on the status of women, the human rights commission, and specialized agencies such as the International Refugee Organization, Food and Agricultural Organization and UNESCO.

Golf Winners

Ladies' weekly field day competitions at the Kawartha Golf Club on Thursday were in charge of Mrs. J. F. Reed. Low net winner was Mrs. Dick Miller who will go into the spring trophy competition. Mrs. Doug. Anderson was winer on odd holes, Nine-hole winner was Mrs. Dick Quimet.

Mrs. Fraser Dunfield poured tea in the club house afterward. The table was lovely with a bouquet of purple iris, phlox and spirea for the centrepiece.

Couples Who Wed at 28-35 Apt to Make Fewer Errors

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been going with a man for two years and we have become engaged. Will you please tell us what chances of happiness a couple of 35 have if they get married?

An Engaged Couple.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: I should say that if there is one period in life more auspicious than any other in which to enter into matrimony it is between 28 and 35. From my many years of observation I have come to the conclusion that the chief reason that marriage is so often a failure is because boys and girls get married before they are ready for it.

Marriage is bound to be a gamble, no matter at what age we marry, but youth takes a greater risk in it because they have no idea of what kind of life partners they want. Their tastes are not formed, and they do not even know what they will develop into themselves.

Boys and girls are not ready for matrimony because they have not had their playtime. They do not want to settle down and assume he responsibilities of marriage. Nor is the average young couple ready financially to marry. Very few boys make enough money to support a family, and there is mighty little love strong enough to stand the strain of shabbiness and sordid living and anxiety about where the money is coming from to pay the rent and the grocer.

Habits Formed

All of these pitfalls the two avoid who marry around the thirties. Their tastes and habits are formed. They know what qualities they desire in the one with whom they are to spend the balance of their lives, and their knowledge of the world and the people makes them capable of judging character and disposition of the man or woman they select as a mate. Then, by the time a man is 30 or 35 he has got on his feet and is able to provide for his home. Also, by the time a man and woman are 30 they have had their fling and are ready to settle own and be fireside companions.

Above all, the mature man and woman have had enough experience of life to be able to make the adjustments of matrimony better than any boy and girl can. They have learned self-control, acquired tact and patience. We talk about the adaptability of youth. Nonsense. It takes age to teach us how to give and take.

For these and many other reasons I think that around the thirties is the ideal age for marriage.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Would you take a chance on marrying a man who tells you frankly that his mother will always be first with him and that no girl can ever take her place in his affections? Although I love him dearly, I would rather give him up now than marry him and play second fiddle to his mother.

UNDECIDED.

ANSWER: I think any other man in the world makes a better husband than the one with a mother fixation. I think there is more chance of a wife winning out against any other rival than a mother.

There are men who remain Mother's little darlings as long as they live. They run to Mother for advice and sympathy. They go to her with all of their troubles. They always think that their wives should let Mother run their houses and rear their children, no matter how incompetent she may be or how behind the times. They are forever throwing Mother in their wives' teeth, and there is nothing that gets more on a woman's nerves than to have to be forever listening to what "Mother says."

So I think you would be very sensible if you would let your young man stay married to his mother, while you look about for some real man without a mother complex who will be willing to be all-in-all to you as you are to him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am married to a widower and I would be very happy except that my husband's family are continually talking about his first wife. They are very good to me, but this harping on Wife No. 1 gets me down. What is your advice?

HELEN B.

ANSWER: It is natural that the family should talk about his first wife, and it just shows that they accept you as one of themselves and have no animosity towards you. If you will just take this view of the subject, you will find that you can literally laugh it off and not wreck your life by making a mountain out of a molehill.

Dorothy Dix cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are giving a party for small children.

WRONG WAY: Serve the refreshments whenever convenient, even though the children are served ice cream and cake just before going home to a meal.

RIGHT WAY: Either plan the party so the refreshments are a simple meal in themselves, or serve them early enough so that the child's dinner at home is not ruined.

Lonely Hearts Easy Marks For Murderers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, June 3—(AP)—The record shows that lonely ladies and gentlemen with money should be very, very careful about making new friends.

Many times murder ends their loneliness. Lonely people are ideal victims, and murder for profit is a classic type of crime.

Law authorities of New York and Michigan currently are interested in a swarthy, toupeed Latin and his 200-pound mistress. The pair has confessed, they say, to three brutal killings, the upshot of a "lonely hearts" racket they operated. They were arrested in Michigan.

Britain's Scotland Yard has in custody a dapper, debonair Englishman charged with slaying a well-to-do widow and almost completely disposing of her body. The Yard also is concerned about the disappearance of five other subjects of His Majesty who disappeared from the same general area.

The annals of violence are filled with many mass killings for profit, cases that have become classics of crime.

Police never found any trace of ten or more victims of the notorious French killer, Desire Landru—all of them women George Joseph Smith had a way with unhappy women, and developed an interesting way of getting rid of them—but he forgot that English newspapers printed news.

Landru, a petty crook until the First World War broke out, was an undistinguished scion of a lower-middle class French family. Within a week after war started he embarked on a career of murder. His first victim was a 30-year-old widow with considerable savings.

Landru Kept Score

They set up housekeeping in a small house outside Paris. Then she disappeared. With a nation plunged into war, people were interested in things much bigger than what a neighbor was up to—and there was no comment even when he sold the furniture and moved on. From 1914 there was a succession of widows and disappointed spinsters—with savings—in Landru's life.

It was his bookkeeper's soul that trapped him. A sister of a woman who "disappeared" recognized him. Police found him in his apartment— where they also found a little black notebook in which this thrifty son of France had carefully listed 10 of his victims—and the expenses incurred in doing away with them. The fact police were unable to find any bodies was of some embarrassment during the trial, but Landru went to the guillotine anyway.

George Joseph Smith was also a small-time crook, but his specialty was making paper marriages to susceptible spinsters. He'd gather in the easy profits—usually savings—and get onto the next project. Finally Smith turned to murder, which was a mistake because swindled, deserted women kept silent. But Smith, in 1912, wanted Bessie Mundy's $10,000 annuity and murder was the only way he could get it.

As "Mr. Williams," he took his bride to an English boarding house and bought a tin bathtub then he escorted her to a physician, whom he told about Bessie's "fits." The next day Bessie was found dead in the bathtub. The coroner's jury, hearing about the trip to the doctor, found the cause was an epileptic fit. Smith received his money.

His next victim was a nurse. He married her in 1913, after he had insured her life for $1,000. A few days after their marriage, she was found dead in the bathtub—heart disease, this time, the coroner's jury found.

Number three's insurance policy was for $3,500-and her death was caused by a respiratory ailment. But that was the end of the "brides of the bath" cases, because the father of an earlier bride read about the death. The name of the bridegroom was different, the woman died of a different ailment, but the rest of the details were exactly similar George Joseph Smith was hanged by the neck until dead in 1915.

Librarian To Go To Winnipeg For Convention

William Graff, Peterborough librarian, will be a representative at the Canadian Library Association convention being held in Winnipeg from June 21 to 25. The Library Board, at its Thursday night meeting, voted $200 toward Mr. Graff's travelling expenses, after some discussion of the matter.

The Board was reminded of the fact that Mr. Graff has been chairman of the audio-visual program of the Canadian Association. He has charge of an entire day's program at this convention.

After a tied vote Mr. Wightman led a discussion into the importance of the trip and the financial state of the board so far this year. He then cast his vote in favor of Mr. Graff's going.

Increased Circulation

Total increase in circulation to the end of May is 18,135, Mr. Graff reported. This increase is made up by the 6,760 increase in the adult department and the increase in the juvenile department of 11,375. This increase is due to the addition of the Branch Library which serves the South-end.

In May the circulations in the adult departments were 7,669 at the main library and 1,106 at the branch. In the juvenile departments 5,757 books were taken out at the Public Library and 3,538 at the Branch Library.

During May $119.28 was taken in by the librarian for fines and subscriptions in both departments. Fines were $76.34 adult, $21.85 juvenile, $16.08 branch, for subscriptions. These figures were given by W. A. Richardson in the financial report up to the end of May.

Members of the Library Board present for the meeting were Mr. Graff, Mr. Wightman, Mr. Borland, Mr. Ackerman, Mr. Richardson, and Mr. Rutherford.

IN AN ATMOSPHERE surcharged with grinding movie cameras, flashing news cameras and dozens of microphones, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman David Lilienthal, centre at left, listens as Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, lower right, demands to see atomic energy commission records and security data on an unnamed number of persons. This was the hectic scene in Washington this week as an unexpected three-week probe of the AEC opened before the Senate Atomic Energy Committee.

Liberal Policies Proven Best

ORILLIA, June 3 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said Thursday night that 20 years' experience in the civil service convinced him that Liberal policies are better than those of the Progressive Conservatives.

Addressing a public meeting the former career diplomat said:

"In the 20 years I spent in the civil service of Canada, I learned something about administration of government. I have worked for both parties and, in my opinion, the Progressive Conservative policy and procedures do not bear comparison with those of the Liberals.

"On the record, we have little to fear. I do not claim that we have made no mistakes of omission and commission. Any government that does anything at all makes mistakes."

Charges had been made that Canada is losing her foreign trade. But figures of the value of foreign trade in recent months showed increases.

"I don't know whether the trade trend will go up or down or level out," Mr. Pearson said. "But to try to give the impression that we are on the verge of collapse in our external trade, as Mr. Drew (Progressive Conservative leader) is attempting to do, is not a responsible statement from a responsible man."

Marmora Nurses Receive Prizes

MARMORA, June 3 (ENS) — Three Marmora girls, Betty Grant, Isobel Richardson and Dorothy Lummiss, were among the fifteen nurses who received their diplomas at the graduation exercises of Belleville General Hospital, held in the Belleville Collegiate auditorium Wednesday evening. To Betty Grant went the prize for best standing in surgical nursing while Isobel Richardson received the prize for obstetrics.

Attended Exercises

Among those in attendance from Marmora were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grant, and children Lois and Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lummiss and children Edward, Shirley and Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McInroy and daughter Sheila, Mrs. S. Spry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hulsmans, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moss, Mr and Mrs. M. Lavender, Mr. and Mrs W. D. Lavender, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Green, Mr. and Mrs. D Robertson and daughter Virginia, Miss Melissa Richardson and Mr. Glen Phillips.

Board Appoints 3 New Teachers

MARMORA, June 3 (ENS) — John F. Burns, B.A., assistant principal of Tweed High School, was named principal of Marmora High School at a recent meeting of Centre Hastings High School Board. There will be two changes on the staff of Marmora Public School when the fall term opens in September. The Board has accepted the resignations of Miss Eleanor Serson, who taught Grades V and VI, and Miss Rhea McCullough, who taught Grades III and IV during the past year.

Miss Viona Bartlett, who was teacher here a few years ago before accepting a position in an Oshawa school, is returning to succeed Miss McCullough. Philip G. Webster of Picton, has been engaged to teach the grades which Miss Serson has been teaching here for the past two years.

Ruth Bateman Heads Marmora Garden Club

MARMORA, June 3 (ENS) — The first meeting of the Marmora Hi Hoe Garden Club was held recently at the home of Ruth Bateman. Special projects and garden improvements were discussed by the third year members.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president, Ruth Bateman; vice-president, Zella Carman; secretary-treasurer, Doris McCoy; press reporter, Marianne Drummond.

More Pupils Go Than Come

Peterborough's population appears to be falling to a small extent from the high level reached during the war, if the number of children leaving and entering Peterborough's public schools is any indication.

Keith S. Wightman, Inspector of Public Schools, said Friday 279 children had entered Peterborough's public schools from some point out of town, since June 1948.

In the same period 322 children left the schools because their families have moved to some other city or town.

Mr. Wightman said he thought the amount of fluctuation was about normal. December was the month when there was least moving. Twelve children left school and 14 entered. The greatest amount of transference took place in November when 30 children moved away and 47 came in.

Mrs. C. S. Thompson of the Welcome Wagon said 300 new families had come into the city in the past year.

OBITUARIES

MRS. EMMA LEADER

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Emma Leader, 88, of 562 Bolivar Street, was held Thursday at the Belleghem Funeral Home. Major Charles Watt of the Salvation Army, assisted by Capt. Clarence Barton, Toronto, officiated.

Pall-bearers were J. J. Cunningham, Frank Robinson, Stanley Richardson, H. Parnell, Mendell Braund, and R. G. Routly. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Leader died on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Boorman, following an illness of several months. She was born in Finchinfield, England, and came to Peterborough from Waltham Abbey 43 years ago. Her husband, George Leader, predeceased her. She was a member of the Salvation Army.

MRS. KATHERINE MILBURN

Pallbearers at the funeral of Mrs. Katherine M. Milburn of 267 Sherbroke St. on Tuesday were Kenneth Clarke, Harry Sanders, Fred and William Milburn, Keith Mein, and James Runnett. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

The Rev. H. Kaye of Lakefield Presbyterian Church officiated.

Mrs. Milburn, the former Katherine M. Robinson, was the daughter of the late Thomas Robinson and Ellen Preston. She was born in Peterborough and lived here all her life.

She leaves two sisters—Mrs. W. S. Milburn and Miss Margaret Robinson, both of this city.

Mrs. Milburn was a member of St. Paul's Presbtyerian Church.

Plan Lawn Social

BONARLAW, June 3—(ENS)—A meeting of the Vestry Council of St. Mark's church was held this week. Rural Dean Rev. J. M. Brownlie was chairman and W. J. Barlow vestry clerk. Reports were received from church wardens Ronald A. Brown and Everett Heath showing the church was in a healthy financial condition. The rector, wardens and Charles Lough and George Mumby were named a committee to look after decorating of the basement. A committee was also named to arrange for a lawn social in the last week in June.

Allied Soldiers Woudn't Know Rome City Now

By GEORGE BRIA.

ROME, June 2 — (AP).— Allied soldiers who "took" Rome five years ago Saturday would hardly recognize the place.

For one thing, you can find Fascists here now.

And Italian cops have become tough guys.

The biggest shortage in Rome June 4, 1944, was of Fascists. Tens of thousands of Romans poured out to acclaim the liberators. Not a Fascist among them to hear them tell it.

Every Roman you met told you he was marked for death by the SS (German Elite Guard) for hair-raising exploits in the anti-Fascist underground

Parade Openly

To-day small groups of Fascists parade openly in the streets singing Fascist songs and raising their right arms in the Roman salute. They stir up far less excitement than the Communists.

The big black market in cigarettes, gasoline, soap and candy is a dim memory. Gone are the colorful street-corner stalls. Tor Di Nona, the noisiest black market of them all in the shadow of the Palace of Justice, is just another square to-day.

Five years ago Allied troops were struck by the apathy of the Italian police. A woman-mob lynched a man on the banks of the Tiber while dozens of frightened looking Carabinieri stood idly by.

To-day Rome can boast of one of the toughest police forces in the world. They fine you on the spot for the slightest traffic violation. Swinging clubs without mercy, they have taught the Communists that mass demonstrations do not pay.

5-Year Health Plan Greatest Used—Martin

NORTH BAY, June 3 (CP) — The Liberal government's $165,000,000, five-year national health and welfare program is the "greatest program of its kind ever introduced in any country in the world," Health Minister Martin said in an election campaign address here Thursday night.

Devoting most of his address to a review of the program, he said the Liberals also plan to provide legislation for disability insurance and hospital care "in a responsible way."

He charged the Ontario government with taking credit for supplementary payments to all of this province's 75,000 old-age pensioners, actually, its supplement had only aided 8,000 pensioners.

Says Water Levels Not Below Normal

Difficulty in launching boats in some lakes in the Trent system is reported by boat users in Lindsay. District Forester Jack Wheatley says the primary reason for the water shortage is lack of rainfall.

Thomas J. Ryan, superintending engineer at the Peterborough Trent Canal office, tells The Examiner that water levels are no lower than usual.

The Trent water system controls water for various purposes in this region, Mr. Wheatley says. Principal among these is its regulation to supply demands of Hydro generating plants.

The waters are also controlled to facilitate logging and it is reported that some control in this connection is still in effect where logging operations are not yet complete.

W.M.S. Entertained

FAIRMOUNT, June 3 (ENS).— On Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Normal Earle, Springville WMS were guests of Fairmount WMS. Springville Auxiliary provided the program; group leaders in charge being Mrs. Allan Stevens, Mrs. E. Kelk, Mrs. B. Visee and Mrs. Harold Rowan. They chose as their there "Faith." Mrs. Charles Watt of the Salvation Army, Peterborough, was guest speaker.

Everywhere people are changing to PEPSI-COLA

"More and more people are changing to Pepsi-Cola," says Alice Stong, catering receptionist, Toronto, "because Pepsi gives you so much more for your money." Yes, Pepsi makes entertaining a cinch. Its quick, delicious flavour always makes a hit. And the big 12-ounce bottle goes so far. Why, you get two full glasses for only one-cent more. Why take less when Pepsi's best?

M. J. Morgan, Ottawa barber, changed to Pepsi because, he says, "It's a welcome treat anytime, anywhere." Sure, indoors or out, at work or at play, anytime, anywhere, Pepsi-Cola hits the spot. See for yourself. Sometime today take a minute or two off to relax and enjoy a sparkling Pepsi-Cola. You'll bounce back refreshed and ready to go.

6—In Memoriams

DUVAL—In loving memory of my wife Mrs. S. Duval who died one year ago to-day June 3rd.
One year has passed since you left us
And to-day bring's back sad memories
To the ones who loved you best
And how we miss your dear face
To greet us at the door
And so the years roll onward
We shall miss you more and more
And as we grow weary and tired,
And the hill's seem hard to climb
We have only to think of the Master
Who whisp'ers Peace be Thine.
—From husband and family.

DUVAL—Dear God will you take a message
To our Gramma in Heaven above,
Tell her how much we miss her
And give her all our love.
—Fondly remembered by her granddaughters, Sylvia Jeanette, and Sheila Georgina.

DUVAL—In ever loving remembrance of my dear mother Mrs Mary Georgina Duval, the former Mrs. T. D. Park who was called to rest one year ago June 3rd 1948.
Memory lane is a lonely path,
Where hearts are ever true
A path I travel again and again
Because it leads to you.
You left me beautiful memories,
Often secret tears,
But you will always be with me
As I journey through the years.
You are always in my mind dear
No matter what I do,
All the time within my heart
There is a thought of you.
—Dearly loved, deeply mourned by, daughter Ivy and son - in - law Arthur.

DUVAL-Georgina Mary—In loving memory of mon who passed away June 3, 1949.
They say time heals all sorrows
And helps us to forget
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss her yet
God gave us strength to fight it
And courage to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose her
No one will ever know
Her weary hours and days of pain
Her toubled nights are past
And in our aching heart we know
She has found sweet rest at last.
—Always remembered by daughters, Jean and Enid, Son, James Sons-in-law Howard and Chuck, grandchildren Ivy and Ronnie Steel, Jimmie Park and Georgina Murney.

MEEHAN—In loving memory of a dear father, Norman Meehan who died, 3 years ago to-day.
Upright and, just in all his ways.
Faithful and true,
To the end of his days,
In silence he suffered
Inpatience, he bore
Till God called him home to suffer no more.
—Sadly missed by wife, family.

RONCO—In loving memory of my sister Philamena Ronco, who passed away, June 3rd, 1938.
—Ever remembered by brother Joseph and his family.

MEEHAN—In loving memory of Norman, who passed away June 3, 1946.
He had a cheery Smile, a pleasant way,
A helping hand to all he knew;
He was so kind, so generous and true;
On earth he nobly did his best,
Grant him, Jesus, heavenly rest.
—Always remembered by wife and daughter Ruby.

MEIN,—In loving memory of George Mein who passed away 6 years today.
Loving and kind in all his ways
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
—Always remembered by sons and daughters.

TYSON—In loving memory of a dear Philip who passed away June 3, 1947.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance
Just a memory sad and true
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of one who thinks of you
You ofttimes said I'd miss you
Those words have proved too true
I lost my best, my dearest friend
Dear Philip, when I lost you.

Urge Removal Trade Barriers

PICTON, June 3 (CP) — Removal of all international trade barriers was urged Thursday in a report presented to the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada.

The report of the Conference's World Relations Committee, presented by Rev. M. J. Aiken, of Peterborough, said it is futile to expect world government and universal peace unless there is willingness to surrender national sovereignty, especially in regard to monetary gain. The report commended the Atlantic Charter as "an effort to preserve peace."

Rev. A. E. McCutcheon of Picton suggested that the 109-year-old Conger Chapel east of here be endowed as a shrine of Methodism. At a service held in the chapel Rev. J. Faulds, Conference Archivist, said the first conference of the Methodist Church in this part of Canada was held in Picton in 1824 with 30 pastors present.

Sessions of the present conference attended by 400 ministers, end today.

Sudbury Sportsmen Oppose Rod Licence

SUDBURY, June 3 (CP)—Sudbury sportsmen in the majority are opposed to the imposing of any rod licence for Ontario fishermen. This was the unanimous opinion voiced by some 250 members of the Sudbury Fish and Game Protective Association at the regular monthly meeting Thursday night.

Members did agree, however, that if the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests would guarantee that all moneys collected in fines and fees from hunters and fishermen would be utilized for restocking of fish and game, biological research assistance and increased salaries for game overseers, then the Sudbury club would support the imposition of a $1 rod license for all resident and non-resident anglers.

Prices Tended Lower On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, June 3 — (CP). — Prices tended lower in the quietest session of the week here today. Golds and base metals showed an easier tone while industrials tightened slightly from early weakness.

Papers, utilities and steels tightened slightly in the narrow industrial list. A few refining oils and textiles slipped lower. Some early fractional advances were wiped out as the session progressed.

Base metals opened firmer but were soon depressed by steady selling pressure. Smelters, International Nickel, Noranda, and Quemont slipped into the fractional minus column.

Junior golds showed declines ranging up to 10 cents while the seniors gained slightly.

Obituary

MRS. FRANCIS JAMES BROWN

Mrs. Francis James Brown, 61, of 297 Murray St., died today in a Toronto hospital following a short illness. She was born in Birmingham, England, Mary Ann, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Bunn, and came from there to this city 49 years ago.

Besides her husband she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Eric Niclos of Peterborough and three sons by a previous marriage, Thomas H. Rowe of Apsley, Bertram J. Rowe of this city and William A. Rowe of Lakefield. A brother, Harry Bunn, lives in Birmingham. She was a member of St. John's Anglican church.

Funeral service will be held on Monday at the Nisbett Funeral Home at 2 p.m. The Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake cemetery.

$11,000 Given Ontario For TB Research

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP) — More than $30,000 in Federal health grants to help control tuberculosis in Ontario and New Brunswick were allocated today by the health department.

Ontario received a grant of $11,000 for TB research to be carried out both at the Bellevue Hospital in New York and at the School of Hygiene, University of Toronto.

Social Services Curtailed By Gov't Feuding

MONTREAL, June 3—(CP)—Failure of the Dominion and certain provinces to reach agreement on financial relations is an obstacle to the development of a well-rounded system of social services in Canada, R.E.G. Davis, executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council, said here today.

He told the Council's annual meeting that "one of the penalties of the present constitutional dispute is that no attempt has been made in Canada to extend the method of social insurance into fields other than employment."

Hence "most of our existing programs are on a means test basis and carry with them the stigma of charity" he said. "Another depression may be necessary before the Canadian public is sufficiently aroused to compel settlement."

Housing Shortage

The most serious and baffling problem of the present period was the housing shortage. Mr. Davis suggested there was need for government assistance in the building both of low-rental housing and units for any larger, annual number of home buyers.

Major deficiencies in the present social security structure, he said, were: a lack of rehabilitation services for handicapped civilians; the Health Insurance gap; the absence of measures to meet the needs of unemployed workers who have used up or are not entitled to benefits under employment insurance.

"It is generally recognized," he said, "that today insurance, providing benefits as a matter of right, should be the basic method of dealing with loss of income, whether resulting from unemployment or from illness, disability, old age or widowhood."

HERE'S PROOF—This 18-inch, four pound speckled trout is more than one-third as long as its captor, six-year-old Brian Merrill of Ottawa. He hooked it while trolling in Crooked Lake some 50 miles northeast of Ottawa. Brian played the fish to the side of the boat himself but required the assistance of his grandmother, Mrs. W. M. Cory of Ottawa to net it.

Old Workhorse Of Canadian Politics, Stevens Back

VANCOUVER, June 3—(CP)—An old warhorse of Canadian politics, Hon. H. H. Stevens, is back in harness after a nine year "recess".

Mr. Stevens, now 70, stepped back into the picture Thursday when he announced his candidature in the Vancouver centre riding for Progressive Conservative party—the seat he held from 1917 to 1930.

The move was a reshuffle. Ernest G. Sherwood, original nominee, withdrew after a conference with party leader George Drew. Mr. Sherwood's nomination had been the subject of a near-rift in the riding's ranks.

Mr. Drew expressed regret at Mr. Sherwood's withdrawal, but said it would be of great benefit to the party to have a parliamentarian of Mr. Steven's stature in the House.

Raring To Go

Still active and raring to go after his "holiday" and 30 years of parliamentary experience, Mr. Stevens says:

"I have no axe to grind— no personal ambition to satisfy. My experience in the House of Commons and the cabinet has equipped me to interpret the interests of this great centre."

Party chiefs in Vancouver are well pleased with their new candidate, and say they are more likely to carry the seat held in the last House by Rod Young, C.C.F. Ralph Campey will contest it for the Liberals.

Mr. Stevens has had experience of three cabinet posts—the portfolio of Trade and Commerce in the Meighen Government of 1921; the Customs Post in 1926, and the portfolio of trade in the R. B. Bennett regime of 1930. His only defeat was in 1940 as a Conservative candidate in Kamloops, B.C.

Many Members of House Not Planning To Re-Offer

OTTAWA—(CP)—Many new faces will be seen in the Commons when parliament meets again after the June 27 federal election.

Retirements may open up at least a dozen seats for newcomers. The Redistribution Bill of 1947 provides for 10 new members and Newfoundland's entry into Confederation provides for seven more. These changes alone would mean at least 29 new members in the next Commons which will have a total membership of 262.

The Senate, where appointments are made by the government, also will see some changes. There are 20 vacancies in the non-elective Upper House, including six for Newfoundland. The new province's representation raises membership in the Senate to 102.

Nine Already Definite

At least nine members have already stated definitely that they will not seek re-election to the Commons and others are expected to make similar announcements before the close of nominations.

Heading the list of retiring members is Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, who gave up the prime ministership last October after more than 20 years in office. Mr. King, representative for Glengarry, said in the 1945 general election campaign that he would not be a candidate in another general election. Since his retirement from the cabinet the 74-year-old statesman-politician has been sitting as a private member of the Commons which he first entered in 1908.

Hon. James A. MacKinnon, 67, is not seeking re-election in Edmonton West. A cabinet minister since 1935, he held various portfolios including that of trade and of mines and resources. He was recently appointed to the Senate.

To Private Business

Loran E. Paker, 43, Liberal member for the Nova Scotia constituency of Shelburne - Yarmouth-Clare, will return to private business. He has been a member of the Commons since 1945 and parliamentary Assistant to Defence Minister Claxton.

H. R. Emmerson, 65, Liberal member for Westmorland, N.B., since 1935 is withdrawing. J. P. Mullins, 75, Liberal member for Quebec constituency of Richmond-Wolfe since 1935, has intimated to friends that he plans to retire.

On the opposition side of the Commons there are at least five members who will not seek nomination.

Maxime Raymond, 65, Bloc Populaire party head, is retiring because of ill-health. His party, an outgrowth of the national mobilization political crisis in 1942, will disappear with his retirement. Its last supporter in the Commons—J. I. Hamel of the Quebec riding of St. Maurice-Lafleche—is expected to run as an independent.

Yukon M. P. Retiring

George Black, 75. Progressive-Conservative representative of the Yukon almost continously since 1921, does not plan to seek a seat in the next parliament. Mark Senn, 71-year-old Progressive Conservative member for Haldimand, Ontario, since 1921, has been in ill-health for the last few years and will not run again.

Another Progressive Conservative member, Douglas Ross, representative for Toronto St. Paul's since 1935, is giving up politics. He is 65. Denton Massey, 48-year-old Progressive Conservative member for Toronto Greenwood since 1935, is retiring to devote his full time to private business.

Nominations officialy close June 13 in most constituencies and members who now are considering stepping out have until that time to make up their minds definitely.

Regret Dropping Trial

LONDON, June 3 (Reuters)—Britain has told Poland that she has decided with "sincere regret" to drop war-crime proceedings against two German generals, it was announced last night. The two are Field Marshal Gerd Von Rundstedt and Col.-Gen. Adolf Strauss, who have been released because of their state of health. The decision was made last month, and Poland asked confirmation.

Has Repair Job

KINGSTON, June 3 (CP) —The Taylor, an all-steel ship in the service of the United States Army Corps of Engineers, is undergoing repairs in drydock here. Replacement of the starboard propeller on the 200-foot vessel will be the largest job, but the ship is expected to resume operations in a few days. The Taylor does dredging and maintenance work in United States harbors between Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Detroit.

ALLUVIAL DEPOSIT

The triangular tract of land that often forms at the mouth of a river is called a delta because in outline it resembles the Greek letter Delta.

Make Player Deal

CLEVELAND, June 3.—(AP).—Cleveland Barons announced today they have traded defenceman Gordon Davidson of Stratford, Ont., to Buffalo Bisons for centre Leslie Douglas of Perth, Ont. The deal between the two American Hockey League clubs was a straight play exchange, the Barons said.

Home Protects Woodsmen From Big City Pitfalls

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT

QUEBEC, June 3.—(CP).— An oddity in welfare service enterprises, La Maison du Bucheron here has acquired a reputation for protecting lumberjacks from the pitfalls of big city life after a long stay in the bush.

Its 55 rooms can accommodate 75 bushmen a night at 75 cents to $1 each. And the meals are equally reasonable not to mention typically Canadien-Francais. They're put up in true habitant style by Mrs. Jeanne Roy.

Financed by L'Union Catholique des Cultivateurs, Quebec's powerful Farmers' Co-operative, the haven was established in 1932 after the depression had left loggers in a rather sorry state.

Each spring when the lumber workers come to town for stakes ranging from $500 to $1,000 and more, hundreds of "bucherons" join the swarming population of lower town's Rue St. Joseph and start spending. But the wiser ones head for "La Maison."

Seamier Side

That old section of St. Joseph St.—where taverns, low-priced hotels and pawn shops huddle closely together—shows the seamier side of Quebec life. The spending is easy.

In fact it's so easy that a man can wind up without a cent left in his pocket a day or two after he arrives. Many are the stakes that vanish, overnight.

Although the dining room in "La Maison" had a deficit of $2,400 last year, the rest of the enterprise more than paid for itself. An adjoining store of loggers' equipment, fishing and hunting tackle, grossed $33,649 in profits and rooms earned $15,319.

"La Maison" also provides free banking facilities for the men and furnishes free legal advice. It looks for jobs for men, and even settles them on farms.

Pleasant Rotund Samuel Audette, 43-year-old director of "La Maison" imposes only one rule on his tenants.

They must be in by midnight.

TLC Suspends CSU, Rejects Rival Union

Davis Calls Action Stab In Back, Executive Won't Quit

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP)—The executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada Friday night suspended the far-left Canadian Seamen's Union but refused to recognize its bitter rival—the Seafarer's International Union (A.F.L.).

A special three-man committee of the T.L.C. executive said the C.S.U. had violated the T.L.C. constitution and failed to live up to its responsibilities as an affiliate of the 400,000-member Congress.

It said, too, that 14 international unions had threatened to quit the T.L.C. unless the C.S.U. left.

In Montreal, C.S.U. President Harry Davis said the action was a "stab in the back against the striking seamen" and said the union will continue the strike it has waged for nine weeks against the east-coast operators of deep-sea shipping.

The committee indicated there might not have been a suspension if the C.S.U. executive had resigned. Elsewhere in the five-page statement that announced the suspension it said the name of the Congress could not be associated with that of the C.S.U. "while the union has its present leadership."

Given Full Authority

The committee was appointed last week by the T.L.C. executive and given full authority to deal with the thorny problem of the relationship of the C.S.U., allegedly Communist-led, to the Congress.

Suspension was a signal victory for Frank Hall, rail union chieftain, who last year was briefly suspended for his outspoken opposition to the C.S.U. and his support of the S.I.U.

The east-coast strike began when shipping operators tried to man their vessels with S.I.U. crews.

A CATERPILLAR PLAGUE OF VAST PROPORTIONS is ravishing the centre section of Peterborough County and from an air survey on Friday, The Examiner estimated more than 10,000 acres were stripped bare of foliage. From Buckhorn to Burleigh to Mount Julian and southeast to Gilchrist Bay, White Lake, the McCracken shore and Kawartha Park, sections of many acres were noted. Photo on the LEFT taken over the Oregon Trail, six miles east of Buckhorn, shows a definite line of attack between green and destroyed foliage. At RIGHT, shows a home of Tent Caterpillars on a wild plum tree at Mount Julian which has been stripped to bare branches. Nests have been abandoned and the bush literally crawls with the pests.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Second Toronto Man Gets $20,000 As Horse In Third

By The Canadian Press

Two Canadians gained modest fortunes today although nobody in the Dominion was reported holding Irish Hospital sweepstake tickets on Nimbus, which won the derby, Britain's racing classic, on Epsom Downs.

Alex. McKee, a Toronto seed-cleaning plant worker, held a ticket on Amour Drake, beaten by Nimbus in a photo finish, and won $40,000. Nels MacFarland of Toronto's suburban Long Branch won $20,000 with his ticket on Swallow Tail which finished third.

In a Canadian sweepstake operated by the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Association of Canada it could not be learned immediately who held tickets on the winner, but there were holders on the second and third horses.

Myrtle Hebert of Toronto, should win $20,000 for her Veterans' Association ticket on Amour Drake, while W. Le Marquand of Montreal, held a ticket worth $10,000 on Swallow Tail.

If Amour Drake had gained the nod over Nimbus in the photo finish, Mr. McKee, who spent three years overseas with the 30th Battery, would have won $100,000. Born in Canada of Scottish parents, Alex found a Scottish bride while overseas and plans to build her a home with his winnings.

Mr. McKee is now on a visit to her home in Glasgow but is expected to fly home this month. Alex labelled his ticket Magnet after the name of the machine on which he works in a Toronto seed-cleaning plant.

Mr. MacFarland, who held the Irish Sweep ticket on Swallow Tail, operates a store in Toronto's suburban Long Branch and is the father of a four-year-old boy.

Nimbus took the 170th running of the classic in a photo finish with two other horses. Amour

Cost-of-Living Index Rises Fifth Of Point

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP)—For the second consecutive month, the Canadian cost of living index edged upwards during April.

It rose one-fifth of a point to 159.5 and came within one-tenth of a point of the all-time high of 159.6 it reached last October. The increase followed a rise of one-tenth of a point during the previous month.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics—which compiles the index on the basis that 1935-39 living costs equal 100—attributed the increase to a one-point rise in the food sub-index, the first recorded increase in food prices since the food index reached its peak of 205.4 last October.

The main index was 6.2 points higher than at the end of April last year. It is 58.2 points higher than at the outbreak of the Second World War.

Clothing and costs of home furnishings and services moved up to all-time peaks during the month. Fuel and lighting costs decreased. Rent and miscellaneous items were unchanged.

The food increase was attributed to a seasonal increase in meat prices and advances in a number of other foods.

The clothing index rose one-tenth of a point to 183.3, compared with 173.6 a year ago. Home furnishings and services rose an equal amount to 168.1, compared with 161.9.

Biggest change in any of the sub-indexes was the drop from 131 to 129.1 in fuel and lighting costs. It was due to increased in coal and anthracite prices in Ontario and Quebec.

The United States cost of living index, computed on the same basis as Canada's stood at 169.4 last April 15.

Killed By Car

BRANTFORD, June 4 — (CP)—John Budge, 87, a resident of the Brant County Home for the Aged, was fatally injured when struck by a car in West Brantford Friday night. Police said the car was driven by Joseph L. Walker, who was charged with dangerous driving. Walker was remanded on $4,000 property bond. The elderly victim was thrown upward by the impact, smashing the windshield of the car.

Canada Refuses Foreigns Credits

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP)—Canada won't give foreign customers extended credits to help them buy more in the Dominion.

Trade Minister Howe said Friday night the government realizes foreign markets are tightening up but the country cannot afford to extend foreign credits.

"The real correction of the situation lies in bringing about a better balance between imports and exports," he said in a letter to the Canadian Exporters' Association. The letter was a reply to a brief the Association submitted suggesting steps to curb the loss of foreign markets.

Mr. Howe said the balance of exports over imports determines whether or not a country can extend credits to its customers.

"At present," he said, "it does not appear that there is justification for any substantial extension of the credits, grants and other forms of assistance that have already been arranged."

He added that there was some doubt that any of Canada's more important countries wanted to go any further in debt.

2,000 Volunteers Join Search

EASTMAN, Que., June 4—(CP)—A force of more than 2,000 fresh volunteers was expected today to join the gigantic search for six-year-old Michel Fontaine, missing since Monday in swampy, dense bushland on his father's 900-acre farm near here. A nine-man directional committee, set up Friday night to co-ordinate searchers into a highly-organized unit, appealed for a force of 3,000 to take part in a concentrated week-end drive into the dense bush.

Numbers taking part in the search have increased steadily since Monday night when word of Michel's disappearance brought crowds flocking to this Eastern townships village, midway between Granby and Magog. As many as 800 were combing the brush Friday.

Blocking Road

Today Provincial police are blocking the road leading to the farm from the Montreal-Sherbrooke highway and only those actually taking part in the hunt are permitted to pass.

Police are also controlling traffic and parking on the Fontaine farm. The operational centre for the search has been moved from directly beside the house to a place some distance away.

This is to avoid confusion from men moving about as they leave with search parties or return from a tour of the woods.

No fresh clues have been found since Friday when a boy's footprints were found in damp ground deep in the bush. The prints were declared less than two days old, but as the hours went by they gradually faded and with them faded hope that Michel could still be alive.

Police Halt Gang Violence 90 Youths Ready For Fight

KITCHENER, June 4—(CP)—Prompt action by police Friday night averted possible gang violence in this area. More than 90 youths from the twin-cities and as far away as Hamilton assembled at a nearby Bridgeport dance hall to even a gang score.

Two minor fights broke out but arrival of more than 20 city and township police prevented any further scuffle.

One youth was reported earlier to have fractured his arm but this was not confirmed.

Police said the gathering of the gangs followed a fight here earlier in the week at which a Kitchener youth "beat up" a member of the Chain gang. Fellow Chain gang members from the surrounding district arrived en masse Friday night to settle the score. In quick time local gangs gathered at the scene and the minor fights followed.

By 1 a.m. today quiet had been restored to Bridgeport and the Chain gang gone.

To complete the evening Kitchener police are reported to have in custody seven young persons among who are two girls, who picked up earlier.

There were no arrests at Bridgeport.

Chambers Says Lied To Jury

NEW YORK, June 4—(AP)—The character and credibility of former Communist Whittaker Chambers, on whose testimony hinges the government's perjury charge against Algier Hiss, was the target of defence counsel on Friday.

Under lashing cross-examination, Chambers acknowledged that he lied under oath before the same Federal grand jury that returned the perjury indictment against Hiss, former State Department official.

Florid, gray-haired defence lawyer Lloyd Paul Stryker also drew from Chambers an admission that he had failed to tell the whole truth before official bodies on several other occasions.

Both defence and prosecution lawyers have stated that it is principally on Chambers' word that the perjury charge against Hiss hangs.

2 Ontario Cities Seeking Housing Deal

TORONTO, June 4 —(C)—Premier Frost of Ontario said Friday that Toronto and Hamilton, backed by the provincial government, will seek a new deal in housing from the Dominion Government.

Representatives of the two cities conferred Thursday with provincial officials and drafted a plan that—if approved by the Dominion — would relieve the municipalities of the cost of subsidizing rental housing.

The premier said the proposal calls for the Dominion to pay the cost of the land and to share equally with the province the cost of providing essential services, such as sewers and roads.

The municipalities under that plan would collect normal taxes instead of the flat $75 per house they now receive in lieu of taxes. The federal housing authority now pays the rate.

At present the municipalities provide the land and pay the larger share of services on rental housing projects financed by the Dominion government.

Saturation Point

Premier Frost said the municipalities have reached the saturation point in the payment of housing subsidies and must be relieved of the burden or essential services will suffer.

Toronto and Hamilton have spent more than $1,000,000 each on rental housing projects, he said, and are losing large amounts annually as a result of the flat rate principle.

Hint Espionage In Uranium Loss

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep. Iowa) saw "the possibility of espionage" today in the atomic energy commission's loss of four grams of uranium 235, but Senator Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) questioned that.

McMahon heads the Congressional atomic energy committee, which is in the midst of an intensive inquiry into the management of the atomic agency under Chairman David E Lilienthal.

Hickenlooper, the top committee Republican who instigated the probe, insisted that spy work must be considered as a possible factor as long as atomic material still is missing. Of the ounce of enriched uranium originally lost, all but one-eighth has been recovered.

"That's 4,000 times the amount of material involved in the Canadian spy case," Hickenlooper said. "Therefore, the possibility of espionage cannot be discounted."

Berlin Talks Still Secret

PARIS, June 4 (AP)—Russia and the west were both behind a curtain today, continuing efforts in secret session to find a way of co-existence in Berlin.

Behind a news blackout, the diplomats of the Big Four Foreign Ministers conference face more than mere restoration of harmony in the German capital. Both sides believe—with apparent sincerity—that a way of life can be worked out.

With their experts—all pledged to secrecy—the foreign ministers will begin today's talks in the Pink Palace at 3 p.m.

After a secret session Friday the only encouraging sign was the announcement the ministers would meet again today.

Neither Russia nor the Western Powers had rejected their rival plans for making Berlin a single city.

Brains, Not Money Sandhurst Test

LONDON, June 4 (CP)—Britons and their sons are discovering career opportunities in their country's post-war army. There's no drain on the family purse now when junior sets out to become an army officer.

The Royal Military Academy at Sandhurst was an expensive proposition before the war. Besides outfitting their sons, parents had to pay £100 ($400) a term. Candidates, in consequence, usually came only from wealthy families.

Today tuition is free, entrance is by examination and equipment is provided. Training is of university calibre and if continued at the Royal College of Military Science or Cambridge can lead to a degree. The new basis has opened officer careers in the regular army to all British youths.

Criticized before the war as an institution that "knocked the nonsense out of the novice and with it a great deal that was valuable and urgent," Sandhurst no longer is "training sergeant majors or golf club secretaries."

It teaches leadership, discipline and military arts.

Woman 65, Enjoys Writing Mysteries

NEW YORK, June 4 (CP) — Elizabeth Daly, a shy, retiring woman who admits to being more than 65 years old, started writing mystery novels after she was 50.

"I suppose it's simply awful for a little old lady to go around bopping people off, so to speak," she says of the murder and mayhem that is woven into her books. "But I do so enjoy this type of writing."

During the last 15 years Miss Daly has turned out a similar number of books and the 16th now is taking form on her typewriter. Asked why she waited so long before launching on what has turned out to be a successful career, she says simply:

"I never had the time before."

Formerly an English and dramatics teacher at Bryn Mawr College, she later was busy for many years coaching and producing amateur plays. Then along came the depression.

Raps Margarine Subsidizing At Farmers' Conference

GUELPH, June 4 (CP) — A Danish delegate to the International Federation of Agriculture told the International Farmers' meeting here Friday that governments should stop subsidizing margarine unless they are prepared to give the same preference to butter.

A. Hogsbro Holm told a subcommittee that any government which allows free entry of vegetable oils "produced by cheap labor in other countries" is indirectly subsidizing margarine.

He asked for an investigation by the IFA and the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization, and suggested that findings be presented to the International Dairy Federation meeting in Sweden next August.

Today the delegates from 23 nations are touring farms in the vicinity of the Ontario Agricultural College here, where they have been meeting since May 31. The conference ends June 11.

The Danish proposal for an investigation of margarine "subsidies" was endorsed by R. W. Morrison of Long Branch, Ont., president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. He said in an interview that "free entry of vegetable oils to Canada forces farmers to compete with a standard of living that Canadians are not willing to accept."

Mr. Morrison said most industries in Canada are substantially protected by tariffs, but not the dairy industry.

He said the Canadian Federation of Agriculture is awaiting outcome of a request for right to appeal to the Privy Council the decision last year of the Canadian Supreme Court ruling manufacture and sale of margarine legal in Canada.

Plane Wheels Jam RCAF Pilot Lands Jet

WINNIPEG, June 4 (CP) — Sqdn. Ldr. T. G. Anderson crash-landed an RCAF Vampire jet plane at a speed of 110 miles an hour near the Winnipeg Flying Club Friday and walked away unhurt.

The nose wheels of the jet was torn off by the impact of the belly-flog landing but otherwise the machine was not badly damaged after skidding along a 200 yard stretch of turf.

Anderson was forced to make the crash-landing when a tire blew on his take-off jamming the landing mechanism.

The lean, near six-foot veteran airman circled the city for nearly half an hour, trying to shake loose the landing gear. Standing by was an RCAF crash truck and an ambulance, dispatched to the scene after Anderson radioed the airport control tower about his trouble.

Rooney Has Wedding Jitters As Jinx Dogs Arrangements

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 4—(AP)—Mickey Rooney married Martha Vickers Friday and commented on his third marriage: "if this one doesn't work, there must be something wrong with me."

The wedding ended a hectic day for the onetime Andy Hardy of the screen. The couple appeared at the Glendale marriage licence bureau and were told they would have to wait. The attendant was out to lunch.

Then the actress had difficulty proving she was of age. She is 24.

Rooney encountered trouble finding a church for the ceremony. After being turned down by two churches because of the couple's divorces, he was accepted by the Christ Memorial Unity Church in North Hollywood.

Rooney, 28, paced nervously before the church while waiting for his tardy bride. She finally drove up a few minutes after the scheduled wedding time at 5 p.m.

The wedding party, a handful of relatives and Rooney's movie partners, met in the vestibule for signing of papers and then walked into the little, unadorned church. The vows were read by pastor Herbert J. Schneider.

The bride wore a cocoa lace cocktail dress, the bridegroom a blue gabardine suit.

Charges Dismissed Against Horse Owner

THESSALON, June 3—(CP)—Charges against Rosario Tessier of ill-treating horses at a northwestern Ontario logging camp, were dismissed Friday night by Magistrate H. Peterson because of insufficient evidence.

In dismissing the case, Magistrate Peterson recommended that in future the Humane Society would be well advised to consider inspection of horses when they arrive in camps. He recommended periodic inspection of the animals.

Gerard Joncas, manager of the Mantane Timber Company, testified that 50 per cent of the horses which Tessier rented to the company were not suitable for the work.

Kennedy Reports Drought Costing $5,000,000 Day Across Western Ontario

Fear Half Hay Crop Has Been Destroyed As Drenching Rains Needed, Eastern, Northern Areas In Fair Shape

TORONTO, June 4—(CP)—A lack of rainfall in central Ontario threatens farmers with a drought which Agriculture Minister Kennedy says is costing upwards of $5,000,000 a day. Weather forecasts offered no hope of immediate relief for the parched area, stretching west from Toronto to Hamilton and north to Georgian Bay, an area of roughly 4,000 square miles.

Eastern Ontario and northern areas haven't suffered badly so far.

"The situation is desperately serious," the Agriculture Minister said. "One week of this will cost us $45,000,000. We'll lose half our hay crop—$20,000,000; $10,000,000 on wheat and another $15,000,000 on oats."

Drenching rains are needed over the area. Mr. Kennedy said three days of rain immediately would help, but that nothing now would produce bumper crops like last years.

Little Relief

Today's forecast was for clear, warm weather over most of the affected areas, with scattered thunderstorms tonight. It offered little relief to the present dry spell. The temperature was expected to reach 80 degrees in most places, with the weather a little cooler Sunday.

Tank trucks hauled water to drought-stricken Toronto suburbs.

All but the Lakeshore districts started to enforce by-laws prohibiting use of hose and sprinklers in certain hours.

J. E. Whitelock, provincial agricultural representative for Halton County, said "our 1949 hay crop may be down to 25 per cent. The corn crop is dormant with no moisture to germinate. The hay crop is only five inches above ground."

Municipal water supplies were said fairly adequate around London, but rain is badly needed there for the corn crop.

Liberals Dislike Idea Of Rail Amalgamation

(By The Canadian Press

Railway amalgamation, a long-standing general election issue, was tossed back into the campaign for Canada's June 27 national vote Friday night by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

He chose Stratford, an Ontario rail centre, as the place to touch on Liberal policy on the amalgamation question, and said the Liberals want neither the sort of railway union advocated by the CCF nor the kind the Progressive Conservatives "secretly" want.

Those who believe in the future of Canada, he added, believe the railways and other transportation facilities should be maintained and improved "for the benefit of the country and our people."

As the prime minister moved deep into his Ontario campaign, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, carried his campaign eastward across the prairies, speaking in Alberta. M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, stepped into the west with a speech at Flin Flon, Man.

Mr. St. Laurent didnt elaborate on what he thought the CCF and Progressive Conservative amalgamation policies were. But he did say he thought it "happy" for Canada that the railways weren't amalgamated 'in line with the views of pre-war prophets of doom.'"

Limited Public Ownership

The Liberal party felt there were certain great undertakings with "monopoly" characteristics which should come under public ownership. But it didn't favor public ownership of business as a matter of principle. It believed in giving the greatest possible opportunity for genuine private and free enterprise.

He assailed the Progressive Conservative party for "systematic attacks" on the CBC and Trans-Canada Air lines.

He said: "I don't believe the majority of people want to give the Tory party a chance to deal with the CBC and TCA in the way the Bennett government dealt with the CNR between 1930 and 1935."

Conservative hostility to the CNR had not disappeared, he added. The railway was created because private enterprise either was unwilling or unable to give the public effective service.

Canadians generally wanted the CBC publicly-owned so radio and the country itself could be truly Canadian. They felt that general control of Canada's right to international wave lengths as well as air lines should be in the final analysis retained in the name of the people.

The Progressive Conservatives also were carrying on an "indirect undermining attack" aimed at wiping out private radio licence fees, but there was no full agreement in their ranks.

Raps CBC Policy

George Drew charged that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation now does not even trust the people to decide what they want to listen to on the radio.

"They say: 'You will listen to nothing but what we are putting out,'" said Mr. Drew.

He made the statement after saying that the broadcast at his rally here was cut off the air for 15 minutes because of "another idiotic regulation of the CBC."

The party, which had arranged for the broadcast of the meeting over station CHAT, Medicine Hat, four weeks ago, was informed shortly before the start of the meeting that the 15-minute cut-off would be made.

The reason given was that a free-time political broadcast was being carried over another station in the area by the CBC during the 15-minute cut-off, which came before Mr. Drew went on the air.

"They don't trust the people to decide for themselves what they want to hear," said Mr. Drew, who spoke at Cardston, Alta., in the morning and Lethbridge in the afternoon. Both the Lethbridge and Medicine Hat seats were held in the last House by members of the Social Credit party.

Mr. Drew said Canada is almost completely dependent on private stations for radio service, yet the CBC collects $2.50 a year on every receiving set.

At Cardston he charged that Agriculture Minister Gardiner is "becoming infected with the germ of regimentation. He insists on running the agriculture policies of the country without informing parliament or the people of what is being done," said Mr. Drew.

Mr. Coldwell said Friday there are increasing signs that the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives will eventually join forces to become one party.

Mr. Coldwell said Canada is returning to the two-party system "even more rapidly" than he had anticipated and that the CCF would be one of the parties. He predicted the forthcoming federal election would virtually complete this process.

He considered it only a matter of time until there will be only one "old" party in all the provinces, he said in an election campaign address in this Manitoba mining community.

Mr. Coldwell, in a deviation from his prepared address, termed the Canadian Senate an "old folks' home for aged politicians," and expressed the opinion that in its present form it is out-of-date and should be abolished.

He criticized both "old parties" for their election promises and said the Liberal government had removed price ceilings at a time when it was "most urgent" to keep down the cost of living. At one time or another, he said, the Progressive Conservatives had "opposed every bit of social legislation proposed."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, June 4—(CP). — Trading stagnated during most of the session Friday in the coarse grains futures market on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, indicating Eastern shippers and feed consumers had withdrawn from the market pending more definite details concerning the Federal Government's marketing plans.

Indications also were that future contracts had been liquidated through reselling of commitments already made. Prices moved narrowly during trading and small shipper demand appeared mostly in oats. Prices maintained a fairly steady stand, however, reflecting rallying in American grain prices.

No export business was reported.

Norwood Doctor Goes To Calgary

NORWOOD, June 4 (ENS). — Dr. Allan F. McRoberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McRoberts of this town, has left for Calgary, Alberta; to become resident surgeon of the Colonel Belcher Hospital in that city. Dr. McRoberts received his degree in medicine from Queen's University, Kingston, and has spent the past two years in post-graduate study in surgery, in London and Edinburgh. On his return from England last January he was appointed to the Orthopedic branch of the Surgery Department at Sunnybrook Veterans' Hospital, Toronto.

After interning for one year in Vancouver General Hospital, Dr. McRoberts joined the Royal Canadian Navy. He served one year in the Pacific and was transferred to the Royal Navy in which he served in the North Sea and British East Africa until the last year of the war, leaving the service with the rank of Surgeon-Lieutenant-Commander.

OBITUARIES

MARY JANE TRIPP

After a lingering illness, Mrs. John Tripp died at her home in North Monaghan Friday. She was born at Hastings, Mary Jane Preston, daughter of the late John Preston and his wife, Harriette Hutchison. The family has been in Monaghan ten years, coming from Dummer.

Mrs. Tripp leaves her husband two daughters, Mrs. W. Wildman of Peterborough and Miss Edna Tripp at home; six sons: Harvey of Dummer, Willis of Cobourg; Angus of Peterborough; Roy, Ray and Grant at home; two sisters: Mrs. H. Stark and Mrs. P. Beavis of Hastings; and brothers: William Preston of Trent Bridge; Albert of Hastings and Willis of Norwood.

Mrs. Tripp was a member of Springville United Church. The funeral will be Monday at 2 p.m. from the Comstock funeral home Water St., to Trent Valley Cemetery at Hastings. Rev. Dr. C. Reddick will conduct the service.

WILLIAM McKie

HASTINGS, June 4 (ENS). — The sad news came to many friends in Hastings of the sudden death of William McKie of Trenton. Mr. and Mrs. McKie have spent their holidays in Hastings for nine years, staying at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Preston, during which time each year they celebrated their wedding anniversary and Mrs. McKie's birthday.

Several friends from Hastings attended the funeral services in Trenton on Tuesday, May 31. Burial was in Toronto.

THOMAS ARTHUR RUSSELL

Thomas Arthur Russell, 52, of Havelock died Friday in Belleville General Hospital following a short illness. He was born in Havelock, son of the late George Russell and Lydia Greenley, and has lived in the village all his life.

He leaves his wife, the former Ada Williams and two daughters, Mrs Gray Kemp (Edythe) of Quebec City and Mrs. Donald Clarke (Muriel) and one sister, Mrs. Rae Williams, both of Havelock. He was a member of the United Church.

Funeral service will be from the family residence on Monday at 2 p.m. The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh will officiate and burial will be at Maple Grove Cemetery.

DAVID BUCHANAN

NORWOOD, June 4 (ENS) — David Buchanan of the 10th concession of Dummer died at home this morning after a short illness. His age was 85. He was born in Belmont township, and lived there until 35 years ago when he moved to Dummer. His wife was the late Minnie Allice Sedgewick.

Mr. Buchanan leaves three daughters, of Norwood, Mrs. Roy (Violet) Scott; Mrs. Roy (Myrtle) Brown; Mrs. Stanley (Jean) McMillan; and one son Clayton, at home.

The funeral will be Monday, June 6 at 2 p.m. from the family residence in Dummer to Norwood cemetery. The service will be conducted by Rev. R. D. Duncanson of Norwood Presbyterian Church of which Mr. Buchanan was a member. Pall bearers will be: Walter Sloan, David Vixon, Ernest Baptie, William Ferguson, Frank Jenkins, Bert McNeely.

$1,416 For Good Ideas Given CGE Workers

Jack Playford of the industrial control division of C.G.E. works recently received a cheque for $225 from the company for a suggestion relating to purchase of certain type of rivet used in his department. He received the largest sum of the total of $1416 shared by 75 employees for their accepted ideas. Six of the wards ranged from $100 to $225.

Other recipient employees were D. P. Millar of small motor winding department $195; Ken Mills of switchgear $150; E. R. Kemp of refrigerator division $150; H. A. Lemmings, carpenter shop, $120; Rowen O'Brien of small motor winding, $100 Lloyd James, of small motor winding $75.

Feeding Of

the great Teacher. He remembers every act. The multiplication of the loaves and fishes are unseen; yet the multitude is fed. This is a creative act on the Lord, as Archbishop Temple impresses upon us. This is only possible if He is indeed the Incarnate Son of God, Who has come down from heaven for our salvation. This is the fundamental truth of this miracle.

This took place ninteen hundred years ago. Can it happen today. Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and for ever. His ears are open to the cries of the hungering multitude. He cannot help them without our aid. It is His law: "Give ye them to eat". His Voice whispers in your ear: "What can you do?" He takes your little; He blesses and gives and the people are fed through your gift, faith and obedience.

The following illustration from "Forward Day by Day" is true:

"Yuan lives in Manila. For years he wanted a bicycle and worked to earn it. He saved $13 for it. Then the thought came to him that many children were starving in China. Being just a chid Yuan took direct action. He went to the bakery and bought $13 worth of bread. Then he took itto the committee room for the fund. The people in charge thanked him and gave him a receipt. They wondered what they could do with the bread. They took it to the Chinese schools and sold it for "patriotic bread." The people bought it eagerly. By nightfall Yuan's $13 brought in over $50. They used the $50 and bought more bread. In a few days they had $1,500 to send to China in the boy's name. Today Yuan's bicycle supports an orphan boys' home for 50 lads." "But what are they among so many."

Nimbus Takes

Drake was second and Swallow Tail third.

It was the first photo finish in the history of the race over Epsom Downs' rolling course with a gruelling uphill grade at the finish.

The race was over a distance of 1½ miles.

Nimbus, owned by Mrs. M. Glenisteg and ridden by Charlie Elliott thus took down a record first money of £14,170 ($56,680).

Nimbus squeezed home by a head in the most thrilling Derby finish in living memory.

Armour Drake, leading French challenger owned by Leon Volterra was coming up fast at the finish, with Swallow Tail just a head behind, but Nimbus held off the challenger.

Betting was 7 to 1 against Nimbus, 10 to one against Amour Drake and 100 to 8 against Swallow Tail.

It was another bitter disappaintment for Gordon Richards, champion British jockey who never has won the coveted Derby.

He was aboard the favored Royal Forest in a field reduced by a late scratch to 32 three-year-olds. J. F. Emery's Ugongo appeared to be lame and was withdrawn just before the horses came under the starter's orders.

Arrest 16 In Plot

PARIS, June 4 (AP)—French police Friday arrested 16 persons identified as anti-Communist plotters and seized a quantity of arms and ammunition. Charges of conspiracy to demoralize the army were placed against five of those held. Some of those held were identified as followers of Gen Charles De Gaulle. A De Gaulle spokesman said the General's Rassemblement du Peuple Francais had warned De Gaullists in the anti-Communist group to leave it and also had tipped off police on the band's activities.

Fog Machine Demonstrated

Sanitary Inspector Ronald MacPherson and R. A. Kelly, MOH, were in a fog on Friday. The Spramotor Company of London was demonstrating its Insecticide Fog Applicator. In the morning a demonstration was put on in Jackson's Park. For three hours part of the park was fogged along with two stagnant ponds. The fog kills the insects on the wing and the larva of the mosquitoes after it settles.

In the afternoon the home of F. R. J. MacPherson was fogged, making the house insectless for the summer. A hose was attached to the fog machine, directing the fog into a cellar window. In a minute the kitchen was filled with a dense fog forcing the spectators to view the demonstration from the outside. In two to three minutes the fog was seen escaping from every crack in the house. Then the large holes were blocked in the house to prevent the fog from escaping. The house was left sealed for two hours, allowing the fog to settle in every crack and crevice.

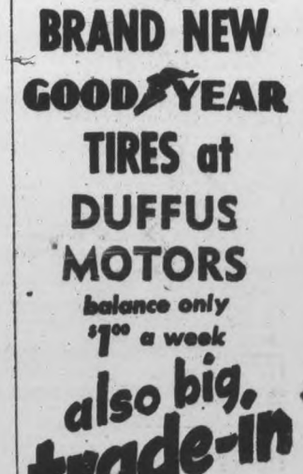
The demonstration were for the Peterborough Health Department who have been thinking of purchasing such a machine. With this machine they will be able to spray dumps, stables, the city streets and private homes. A house can be fogged in two to five minutes, depending on its size. The cost would be from $4 to $6.

Using a solution of five per cent of DDT there is no stain or odor left. The company advises that dairy products be removed prior to fogging.

Woman Missing Off Ship, Question Crew

PORT COLBORNE, June 4 — (CP)—Captain and crew of the freighter Renvoyle were questioned Friday night by a provincial police officer in connection with the disappearance of the ship's cook, 27-year-old Mrs. Cora Dawes.

Mrs. Dawes was reported missing from the Canada Steamship Lines vessel early Wednesday morning, when the vessel was downbound in Lake Superior.



Cpl. E. A. Hoath interrogated Captain Alfred Francis of Toronto, master of the vessel, and other officers, and crew members including William Dawes, second cook, husband of the missing woman.

Capt. Francis said that Mrs. Dawes was reported missing about 3.10 a.m. and that a search of the ship was carried out immediately with no results. The freighter Wahcondah, about 15 miles astern, was notified to keep a lookout. The Renvoyle put about and retraced her course for some 30 miles.

The woman's disappearance was reported to authorities when the ship arrived at Sault Ste. Marie and the vessel was allowed to proceed here with her grain cargo.

Capt. Francis said that he had talked with Mrs. Dawes about 9.45 p.m. Tuesday when she seemed in good health. The skipper said Dawes told him his wife was in her bunk, fully clothed and reading, when he fell asleep about 10.45 p.m. The husband told Capt. Francis that he awoke at 12.45 and found his wife missing.

Hockey Moguls Out To Combat Bad Publicity

By JACK SULLIVAN.

NEW YORK, June 4 (CP) — Amateur and professional hockey officials plainly worried at adverse criticism directed their way in recent months, have combined to present a solid front with one objective in mind: sell their position to the North American public, with special attention paid to Canadians.

The executives got together Friday, and although the atmosphere was a bit strained, they were unanimous on the point that hockey received a bad name in Canada due to charges of alleged exploitation of young players by organized hockey and the now-famous National Hockey League's C form.

A committee of three was formed to plan the publicity campaign—a move that highlighted a day of private and open meetings from early morning until long after midnight. One closed session dealt with the European trip last winter of Sudbury Wolves and an informed source said verbal punches were tossed by coach Max Silverman of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association who organized a series of exhibition games in Britain and Europe for the Canadians.

Present Cases

The principals are expected to present their cases to a full meeting of the CAHA today. Cause of the dispute is believed to be over finances and the over-all operations of the three-month tour.

The five-day convention marking the 32nd annual meeting of the CAHA and the 12th annual session of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States, ends Monday.

The publicity committee will be made up of the presidents of the NHL, CAHA and the North American president, or direct representative, of the International Ice Hockey Federation, governing body of amateur sport in the world. Its aims are to "plan and develop a positive statement of hockey objectives for a vigorous presentation to the public" and "to tell the people of Canada how and why these organizations exist and how the development of youth is made through sport."

Concerned at Publicity

Officials were concerned over publicity given charges last April by Dr. G. E. Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, that boys of 12 and 14 years of age were listed by pro clubs without their knowledge and were thus prevented from playing with any other teams.

At a general meeting of the CAHA last night secretary-manager George Dudley of Midland, Ont., said he had written Dr. Hall for the names of players referred to in his Toronto address and the names of clubs exploiting them.

"I'm still waiting for that information," he added. "It seems we are getting plenty of criticism but no co-operation."

Dudley suggested the NHL "would be well advised, in the case of students given tryouts with big-league clubs, to turn them out of training camps in the fall as soon as possible so that the clubs would not be criticized for keeping them out of school over a long period."

Leafs Take 2 Games From Buffalo

By The Associated Press

Emory (Rubber) Church, youthful righthander of the Toronto Maple Leafs, is a happy gent today. His mates finally are getting him some runs.

Church has dropped four games this season all by one run margins during which the Leafs scored a total of eight runs.

Friday night Church had his first easy game of the year, breezing to a 9-2 triumph over Buffalo Bisons in the second game of an International League doubleheader. The Leafs also took the opener, 4-3.

The triumph was Church's fourth of the campaign, one less than he recorded last season.

Toronto gave Church a four-run lead in the first inning. Two of the runs came on Ed Sanicki's 14th homer of the season. Church allowed eight hits, three of them to Marty Tabacheck.

Home runs by Lou Heyman and Mike Goliat enabled the Leafs to cop the opener. Ed Wright, with help from Jocko Thompson gained credit for his sixty victory.

Third-place Tie

The triumph pulled the Leafs into a virtual third-place tie with Montreal Royals and prevented the Bisons from moving within a half game of the leading Jersey City Giants.

Montreal dropped a 5-4 decision to Rochester Red Wings and the Giants bowed 8-5 to the Baltimore Orioles.

Rookie righthander Tom Poholsky socked a grand-slam homer with two down in the second inning to feature the Red Wing triumph. However, Poholsky was knocked out in the fifth when the Royals scored three runs and reliefer Ed Blake was awarded the victory.

The Orioles piled up a 6-0 lead in three innings against the Giants scoring five runs in the third to clinch the game. Hank Arft homered with one on in the ninth.

The last-place Syracuse Chiefs crushed Newark Bears 9-4. John Pramesa and Eddie Shokes led Syracuse's 17-hit attack against a trio of Newark pitchers with four hits each. One of Pramesa's safeties was a homer in the second inning. Carden Gillenwater also homered for the Chiefs and Bud Heslet blasted a three-run circuit drive for the Bears in the ninth.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

There was a small crowd out Friday night for the first weekend tournament of the season. Maybe it is too early—maybe the boys have not hit their stride. It might be much better next Friday evening.

To-night promises to be fine, and it should be just right for bowling. A big crowd is expected, so telephone your name in early. The "family hour" tournaments were most popular last season—7:30 o'clock is the hour.

Everybody welcome, ladies and gents.

Isis Captures Woodbine Race

TORONTO, June 4 (CP) — Western Canada turf invaders, increasingly prominent in eastern meets, had a heart-warming victory to cheer about today.

It wasn't much of a race, and it wasn't much of a horse, but when the two-year-old filly Isis won the first race at Woodbine Friday it was the first victory for her owner and breeder, Dr. J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Manitoba.

Dr. Evans has sent a few thoroughbreds east in former years but he never won a race here until Isis beat 11 others in the four and a half furlong dash that opened Friday's card. Isis paid off at $19.45 for a $2 winning ticket.

So far as is known, it's the first time a provincial racing supervisor has had the pleasure of recording his own horse's victory. Racing in Manitoba, as in other provinces is supervised by the Agriculture Department, and Dr. Evans as Deputy Minister long has been guarding racing in Manitoba.

Bell Gets Victory

Bell Telephone nudged out a 6-4 nod over Kesco Electric in their softball tussle last evening. The losers counted two in the first frame but were held then to singles in the fifth and sixth as Bell shoved over two in the second stanza, one in the fourth, another brace in the sixth and one in the seventh. Both sides turned in a snappy effort in all departments. Teams:

Bell: Conway, Greatrix, James, Ackford, Harrison, Boyce, Giardino, Bond, Gillespie.

Kesco: Craig, Russell, Byers, Dracup, Berchenau, Riches, Gauthier, Little, Alberico.

Cocolalla Valley, northern Idaho, is only one mile wide and has a solid rock floor.

Sensationalism And Bias In The Press

The Incorporated Synod of the Diocese of Toronto met during the latter part of May, and discussed the freedom of the press, among other things. This Anglican body considered a statement which was recently published by the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association on the freedom of the press, and then passed a resolution, which has since been sent to all members of the C.D.N.A. We reprint the relevant part of it, thus:

AND THAT WHEREAS the presentation of sensational and sordid material in the press has a demoralizing effect upon the minds of the readers and appeals to their emotions and their morbid curiosity rather than to their reasoning:

THEREFORE be it resolved that this Synod of the Diocese of Toronto, while expressing approval of the increased presentation of features encouraging religious life and interest, expresses its disapproval of the lower features referred to above and appeals to the press to adhere more closely to the principles laid down in its own statement and avoid sensationalism in its presentation of news and bias in its reports on social and moral issues, and present such matters to its readers in a manner that will help them give these problems the clear thinking and serious consideration they so justly merit."

* * *

This appeal interests us keenly, for we know how reluctant Canadian newspapers are to deal in sensationalism. However, in reports of crime trials there is often important evidence which, if omitted from newspaper reports, may give a wrong impression of the trial and the subsequent sentence; such evidence is often of a character which might provide food for a mind already in search of salacious material, but in the judgement of the newspaper it is not salacious. Our courts may be relied upon not to bring out details in evidence which are merely salacious or horrifying in character. Newspapers are written and edited for the normal and healthy-minded citizen, and the number of papers in Canada which seek sensational material for its own sake could be easily numbered on the fingers of one hand.

* * *

As for the bias "on social and moral issues" of which the Synod complains, we suspect that the Synod does not really want the press to avoid bias; it wants the press to adopt the bias of the Synod itself, and other bodies congenial to it.

* * *

This is beyond the power of the newspapers to achieve. In references to divorce, for instance, should the newspapers adopt the tone of the United Church, which recognizes it, of the Roman Catholic Church which does not recognize it, or of the Church of England, which can't make up its mind about it? In matters regarding liquor are the newspapers to take the stand of the United Church which is officially against it, or the stand of the Anglican and Catholic churches which find no fault with liquor moderately used? In reports on archeological matters are we to adopt the bias of the many fundamentalist sects which accept the Bible as literally true, or the bias of more liberal Protestant churches who tacitly assume that the writer of Genesis was not the final authority on the creation? And on a score of other matters are we to accept the bias of the religious pioneers and reformers, who are few, or that of the religious stand-patters and play-safers, who are many?

* * *

Before sending its resolution to the newspapers we think that the Synod should have given it some of the "clear thinking and serious consideration" which it enjoins upon the press. Its desire to appear before the world as a busily reforming body has outrun its prudence.

First Canadians

Warm June days cause some people to become lyrical about roses; we prosaically think of Eskimos and Indians, whose tolerance to the vagaries of the Canadian climate is attested by their racial longevity. They are to the Canadian weather manners born, and have had a few thousand years to acclimatize themselves. All whites are immigrants; Indians and Eskimos are the first Canadians, descendants of aboriginal tribes which crossed the Behring Strait from Asia an era long past.

There are 125,000 Indians and more than 8,000 Eskimos in Canadian territory today. Contrary to uninformed opinion, their numbers are growing, slowly and steadily. Contrary, too, to such opinion, they are not degenerating any faster than their white cousins and fellow-Canadians, though they have suffered from the encroachment of industry and white people. Even the Eskimos are surviving the buffeting as well as any primitive group of people in, say, Bohemia have survived Standard Oil, soft drinks and Autobahns. For instance, the Eskimo is very proficient at handling and repairing marine engines, but there are not many opportunities in the north to practise this craft. Our Canadian Indians have been recognized as among the most efficient steel construction workers in the world. They helped erect such buildings as the Empire State and Singer in New York, the Quebec and San Francisco bridges, and the Peace Tower in Ottawa. They seem to be as sure-footed on narrow trestles high above ground as they are on forest paths.

Our native populations have been generally reluctant to give up their traditional occupations of trapping, hunting and fishing. This is well, so long as there is enough space for them to gain a livelihood in these ways. There are modern modifications of them. Indians act as guides for tourists, provide native colour for the curious, serve government exploratory and conservation agencies, seek out rare flesh and furs for export to urban markets, and fish commercially for export. The Eskimo's main commercial contact with the rest of Canada is through the pelt of the Arctic fox. This white fox pelt is practically the sole medium of exchange in the eastern Arctic. Money is of course useful. It is perhaps significant of the way an Eskimo can adapt himself to the white man's world that the Eskimo population immediately expanded by 20 to 25 per cent. when family allowances were made available to them by the Canadian government.

The right to vote has not been extended to Eskimos.

Whitsuntide

Tomorrow is Pentecost or Whitsunday, one of the principal feasts of the Christian Church and celebrated on the fiftieth day after Easter to commemorate the descent of the Holy Spirit on the disciples. In England where Whit-Monday is a Bank Holiday, the weekend has become a trippers' holiday. All the English world goes off to play at the seaside or to roam through down and dell. It is the great summer festival and the name White Sunday attributed to the White garments formerly worn by candidates for baptism (Whitsun having been one of three baptismal seasons) is apposite to the fragrant, blossoming countryside.

Whitsuntide is not a general secular holiday in Canada. The season is too close to the 24th of May, and we have our First of July on which to greet the summer. This year, by coincidence, lucky people in banks, schools and government offices are having a free Whit-Monday because June 6th has been proclaimed a holiday in honour of the King's birthday—which falls on December 6th. But these first June days have been so sweet and balmy that we can all celebrate Whitsunday with glad hearts, and extol June's sunshine and flowers and visionary hours.

Defence Of Hong Kong

Hong Kong is a British Crown Colony, and an important outpost for Commonwealth shipping and diplomacy. It is an island off south China's mainland, and 91 miles south-east of Canton. It used to be considered an important military bastion. It is in this regard that Canadians have most recent and poignant memories of it. Eight and a half years after its fall before the Japs, again comes the cry to defend Hong Kong. The British garrison has a strength of 4,000. It is being reinforced by 8,000 additional men now on the way. Should the civil war in China spread from the mainland, Britain intends to defend the Colony—to defend it against Chinese Communists. However, this time there is no demand from Canadian militarists and the Conservative press to send Canadians. Not yet. They have thus far limited themselves to last year's insistent pleas to send Canadian airmen to Berlin.

Federal Capitals

FROM time immemorial the culture and wealth of nations, their power and political genius, have been reflected in their capitals, and the capitals have shared the nations' fortunes in history. Every age and all the arts have made their contributions to these monuments to national pride and progress; for a capital is more than a city and a seat of government. It is the symbol of a country's strength and unity, the spiritual home of its nationhood, and the face it shows the world.

❖ ❖ ❖

IN planning the National Capital of the Dominion the methods and experiences of other countries were studied, and desirable features, including extension of the planning area into the region surrounding the Capital, were adapted to Canada's requirements. The capitals of six other countries constituted on the federal principle provide an interesting basis of comparison.

❖ ❖ ❖

WASHINGTON: The National Capital of the United States was built on territory ceded to the newly founded Federal Government by the States of Virginia and Maryland, and named the District of Columbia. The site, in the political center of the original thirteen states, was selected by George Washington in 1790, and the new Capital was planned on a large scale by Major Pierre L'Enfant, a French engineer officer who served in the Revolutionary War. The Capital is administered by a board of three commissioners appointed by the President. The residents have no vote and no direct participation in civic management.

With a population of 850,000 Washington has outgrown the limits of the 69-square-mile District of Columbia. It has not been considered practical to enlarge the Federal Region, and planning for the overflow beyond its boundaries now has to be done in co-operation with the neighbouring states.

CANBERRA: The Constitution of the Commonwealth of Australia of 1900 provided for the establishment of a new capital in a large federal region. A site was found in New South Wales and in 1909 an area of 930 square miles was proclaimed Federal Capital Territory. As the capital was to be laid out on open ground, as a completely new creation, an international competition for the city plan was held. Construction of the new capital began in 1913.

Even more than Washington, Canberra is a state undertaking. The whole cost of development is borne by the government, though it is expected to be recovered through rentals, and municipal services are provided and managed by the state. Land is leased for building purposes but not sold outright. The total cost of development so far is about $50,000,000. Like Canada's Capital, Canberra's development has been retarded by wars. Large scale construction was resumed in 1947, however, when the Australian government launched a 7-year $56,000,000 building program.

CARACAS: Venezuela adopted the capital region system in 1925 with the establishment of a Federal District on the same basis as the other states of the Union. With an area of 745 square miles, it consists of the historic city of Caracas and its neighbouring parishes. Venezuela's high national income from the country's natural resources is distributed equally between the Capital District, and the States, and, while the Capital as such receives no special assistance, the revenues are sufficient for the proper development of the city and its national institutions. In population it is about the same as Ottawa.

BUENOS AIRES: Buenos Aires became the National Capital of the Argentine Republic in 1880. Situated in a Federal Capital District of 92 square miles and with a population of close to 2,500,000 the city is the largest in the Southern Hemisphere and second only to Paris among Latin cities of the world.

Under the Constitution, administration and development of the District is divided between the Federal Government and local municipal authorities. The state exercises jurisdiction over matters of a national character and is largely responsible for making Buenos Aires one of the most beautiful of world capitals.

❖ ❖ ❖

RIO DE JANEIRO: Located on Rio Bay in the spectacular setting of its sugarloaf mountains, Rio de Janeiro, National Capital of the United States of Brazil, is one of the most beautiful cities in the world today. The city, which was chosen to be the Capital in 1891, occupies the southeast corner of a 532-square-mile Federal District. The population is about 1,400,000. The residents have no vote. Municipal costs of a local nature are met by normal civic taxation, but lavish expenditures have been made by the state for the improvement and beautification of the Capital.

MEXICO CITY: The Capital District of Mexico City was created in 1903, ending the four century old municipal corporation administration established by Cortez in 1522. The powers of government were lodged with three federally appointed officials. The city elects a Board of Aldermen, but its powers are restricted to advice and supervision.

The Capital District, which is 57.6 square miles in area, includes a number of towns and villages in addition to Mexico City, and the total population is close to 2,000,000. Revenues are derived from normal civic taxation, with state assistance in national undertakings.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE varying degrees of state control exercised over their National Capitals suit the needs and circumstances of the six countries whose chief cities are established on the Federal District Plan. Canada's method is different in that, with government jurisdiction over the Capital and its region not contemplated, the National Capital planning and development program is based on Federal-Provincial-Municipal co-operation. The undertaking was put on a firm foundation this year with the establishment of the National Capital Fund, with an initial grant by Parliament of $2,500,000. Use of the fund is contingent upon the co-operation of the municipalities and the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec in carrying out the comprehensive, long-range master plan for Ottawa and Hull and the towns and villages in the 900-square-mile National Capital Region defined by the Federal Government.

THE CAPITAL'S BEAUTIFUL DRIVEWAY SYSTEM—Since the beginning of the century the Federal District Commission has constructed some 22 miles of scenic driveways throughout the Capital and further extensions are planned. A section of the Driveway near Bank street bridge is seen above, with the 117 year old Rideau Canal on the right.

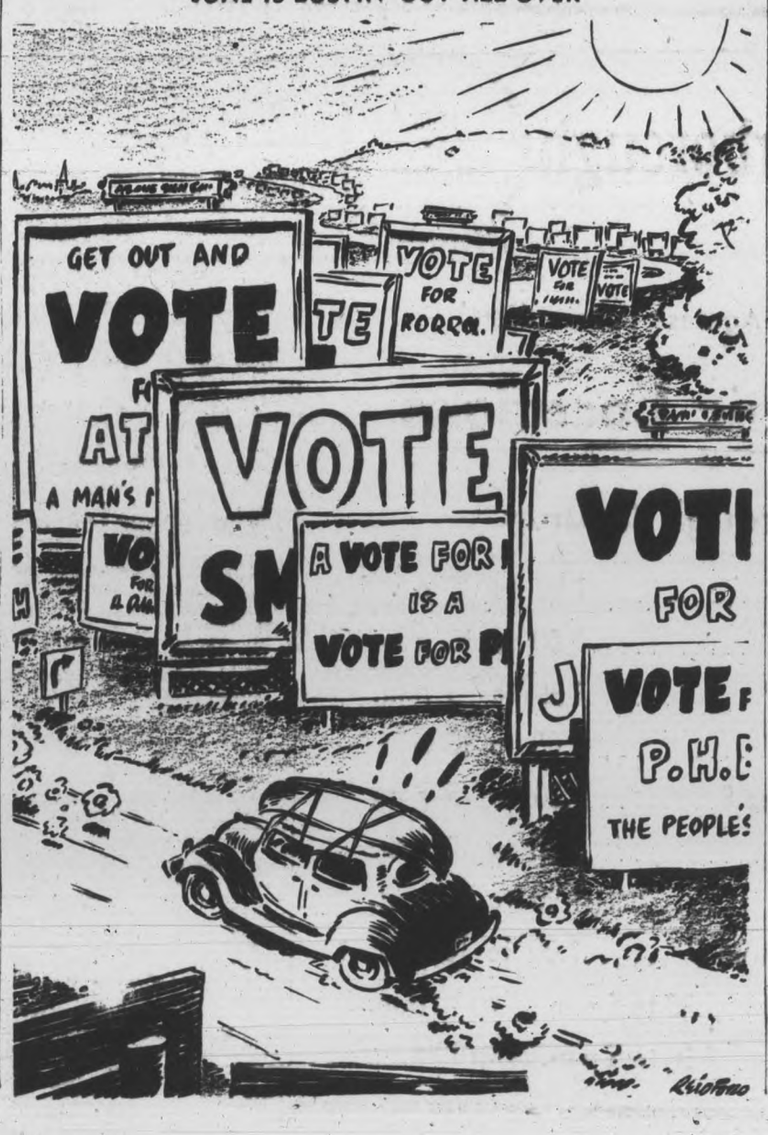
A Strike That No One Won

(NEW YORK TIMES)

THE strike of 106,000 workers in the Ford Motor Company, in progress for twenty-four days, has now finally been terminated.

Was the company the victor? It was certainly not victorious in a material sense, for the shut-down has cost it an estimated output of 80,000 cars and trucks, valued at more than $160,000,000. Some of this production will no doubt be made up in future. In cases where would-be purchasers have switched to other makes of cars, however, the loss could be compounded under the industry's own proverb that "a sale today means a possible resale tomorrow." Nor is there, of course, any way by which the company can recover the $20,000,000 that it has spent over the past three weeks on the maintenance of its fifty-one plants, white-collar payrolls and other non-productive expenditures.

Was labour, then, the winner in this twenty-four-day endurance test? The answer here is an even more unequivocal no. It is estimated that each of the 106,000 Ford production workers will have lost an average of better than $200 in pay by the time the country-wide Ford system is again back fully in operation. That means a total financial loss of $20,000,000. Moreover, by the terms under which the workers have agreed to return to their jobs, the union appears to have lost on nearly every major point.



But even that is not the full extent of the cost to the union. This walkout could prove a body blow to the latter's strategy with respect to the vastly more important matter of its "fourth-round" demands. Is contract with Ford expires July 15. Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile workers, had hoped to signalize that occasion by achieving one of his major ambitions, an old-age pension plan. His timetable called for an opening drive against Ford, to be followed by similar campaigns, later and separately, with General Motors and Chrysler. Ford was regarded as the logical starting point because that company, as the union saw it, had more or less committed itself to the pension principle at the time of the "second round," in 1947. At that time it offered 8 cents an hour for a pension fund, but the proposal was rejected by the workers in favour of a straight pay increase.

That was the situation when the recent issue of an alleged "speed-up" in the Ford plant arose. There seems to be good reason to believe that most of the agitation over this question, and the demand for a walk-out, came from a minority left-wing group in the union. Mr. Reuther, according to reports, did his utmost to avert the strike until forced to go along against his better judgement in the interest of union harmony. And now, in consequence, he and his followers find themselves facing the important "fourth-round" battle with their strongest weapon—the strike weapon—blunted by four wageless weeks on the picket line. It stands to reason that it isn't going to be easy to work up enthusiasm for another strike in the weeks immediately ahead among these 100,000 workers who were persuaded to walk out so recently over an issue which involved only 3,000 of their members directly and which was the product of the demands of a minority, many of whom were motivated by considerations of union politics.

AT the present time the nation is in the descending phase of the post-war business boom. We are backing away from the inflation which until recently was the chief threat to economic stability. There is reason to hope, as Dr. Nourse, the President's chief economic adviser notes, that this retreat can be carried out in an orderly fashion. But orderly disinflation is a delicate operation at best. From our experience in 1946 and 1947 we know what chaos widespread labour disturbances can create when inflation is in the air. It should not be necessary to point out that such disturbances could be counted upon to accelerate the pace and add to the disorder of disinflation just as seriously. This places a heavy responsibility on both labour and management to keep the peace in the months ahead. Certainly it should be obvious that this is no time for a repetition of such unnecessary and pointless instances of disemployment and crippled production as we have just witnessed in the case of the Ford strike.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing....

But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight....

His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: but by what means he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself....

Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise; we know that this man is a sinner. He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see....

If this man were not of God, he could do nothing. (John 9: 1-7, 18, 20, 21, 24, 25, 33.)

Letter To The Editor

FOR BETTER GARBAGE COLLECTION

Sir: In regards to your article in tonight's paper re the disposal of garbage in our city, you state that Brantford is the only city in Ontario where garbage is taken out from the house, placed in front for pick up and then the empty containers returned to their respective places. I just wanted to point out to you that this is also done in London, Ontario, and has been done that way ever since I can remember, and has worked out very well that way. The City Works could take heed of this and benefit from London's experience by doing the same.

Also in the matter of putting a cover on the garbage, I did this myself at first as a convenience to the garbage department and also to myself from keeping dogs from throwing it all over the yard but by someone's carelessness the lid got thrown into the gutter and a truck or car made scrap out of it, so that I had to buy a complete new can just to get a new lid. The garbage collectors could use better care with other people's property. Yours truly,

YOURS FOR A CLEANER CITY.

Pigeons On The Loose

This pigeon squabble in town is confusing people more than the pigeons themselves.

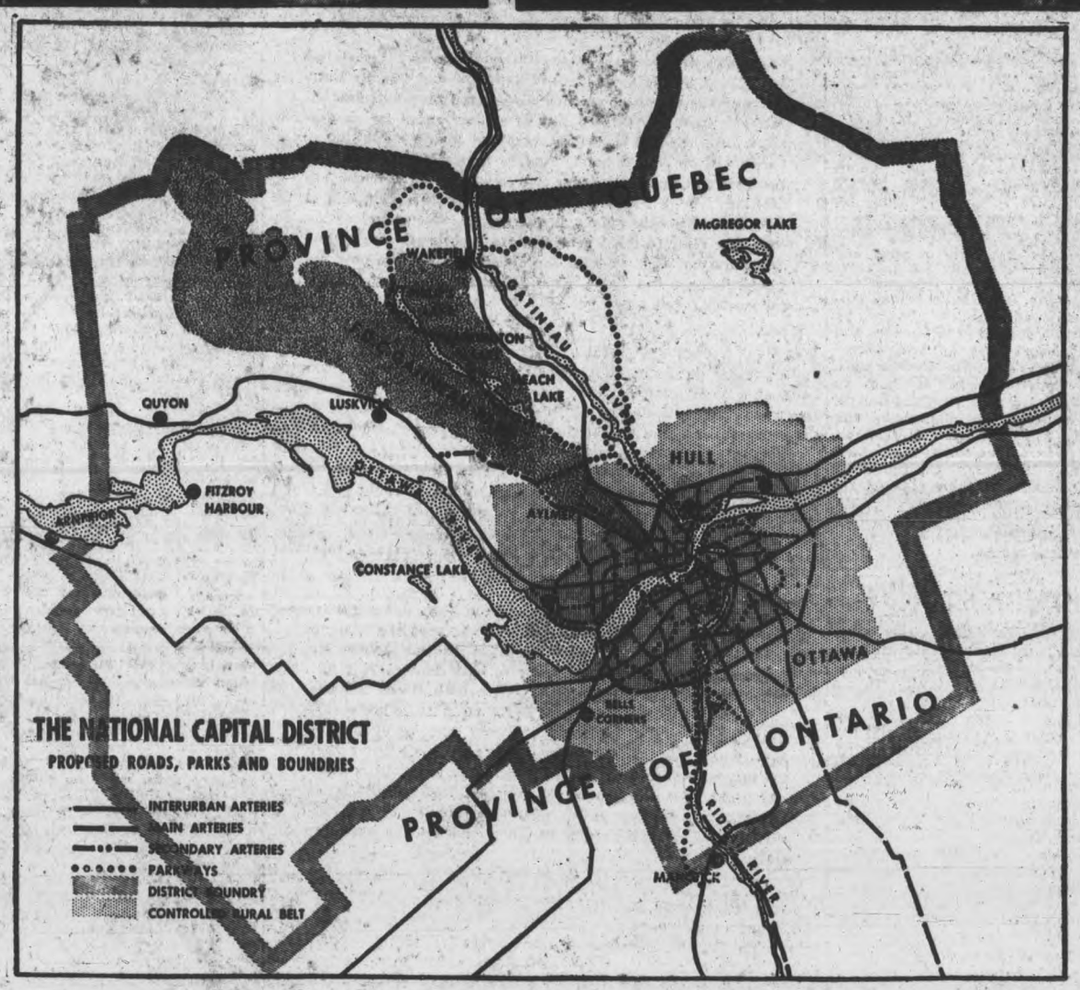
It is now caught up in a web of bylaws and buck-passing that doesn't make any sense at all. Last year it had to be decided whether the pigeon was a "wild-native bird", and if it was then by legislative decree it could not be trapped nor killed. After the provincial law containing this prohibition was repealed, there was enough leeway technically to give the Medical Health Officer in Hamilton some authority. He could grant permission to residents to trap pigeons and send them to the city pound; that for protection of the property owner.

There is no doubt they are creating a genuine downtown nuisance, and if there is to be a policy about alleviating it, then it should be clear-cut.—Hamilton Spectator.

50-YEAR PLANS FOR CAPITAL WORTHY OF CANADA'S NATIONHOOD

THE HEART OF THE CAPITAL TODAY—The above photo looks north towards the Parliament Buildings and the city of Hull across the Ottawa River in Quebec. The circular plaza in the centre is Confederation Square with the National War Memorial. This square, and the boulevarding of Elgin Street, running off left centre were prepared at a cost of four million dollars (three paid by the Government, one by the city of Ottawa) for the Royal Visit in 1939. Left of Parliament Hill are the serried Rideau Canal locks. Across from them is the Chateau Laurier, famed CNR hotel. In front of the Chateau are the Union Station and yards. The blob of buildings at the lower left of the photo is temporary wartime buildings of the Department of National Defence. —(RCAF Photo.)

Federal District Plan Will Guard Natural Beauty



With the beauties of the Gatineau Hills and the Ottawa and Rideau River areas preserved in their natural state and made more accessible by an improved system of roads and scenic driveways, the 900-square mile National Capital District will become one of the most attractive tourist and recreational centers on the continent.

Proposals for zoning and developing the region as part of the planning of the Capital include a recommendation by Jacques Greber that the boundaries be extended in some places to follow more easily defined geographical lines and to take in some desirable localities.

The present boundaries were set by the Privy Council in 1945 following a recommendation by a joint committee of the Senate and House of Commons. About two fifths of the district, 364 square miles, is in the Province of Ontario and the remaining 536 lies in Quebec. It comprises 19 square miles of built up areas, including Ottawa, Hull and 28 other towns, villages and rural municipalities: 479 square miles of farmlands, 332 square miles of woodlands and 70 square miles of rivers and lakes.

Unlike Washington, Canberra and other national capitals set in state controlled and administered capital districts, Ottawa and the other municipalities in Canada's capital district retain their provincial rights and municipal autonomy. The proposed development of the district must therefore be carried out in full federal-municipal-provincial co-operation

From the first settlement in 1800, Ottawa, Hull and their suburbs have grown to a present joint population of about 250,000. In 1845 the population was 11,800; in 1935, eight years after Ottawa was chosen to be the Capital, it was 27,500. Four years after Confederation it was 40,000. It had risen to about 124,000 in 1915, the year the Holt Report, first major plan for the development of the Capital, predicted that by 1950 the population would reach 250,000. It is approximately that now, and the estimated growth by the end of the century is upwards of 400,000.

PROPOSED CONFEDERATION PARK OF THE FUTURE —Here is the heart of the capital as it is planned to be—new bridges, enlarged park, parkways, and new federal and municipal buildings. The Union Station and yards which now mar the city's centre will be removed, but this will be one of the later steps taken to complete the National Capital Plan which has recently been decided upon. One of the first steps to improve the heart of the capital will be the construction of a new bridge over the Rideau canal between the present Plaza Bridge and Laurier Avenue Bridge (top and bottom) to relieve congestion at the Plaza. The bridge will be a joint federal-municipal project, the city providing the approaches and the government the bridge. Funds are available in Parliament's initial $2,500,000 grant to the National Capital Fund last year. Note the new types of proposed buildings.—(Model by National Film Board.)

Greater Ottawa Of Future To Be Proud and Gracious

An ultimate maximum population of half a million people within a radius of five miles of Parliament Hill is provided for in the Master Plan for the National Capital of the future. The present population is about 250,000 and trends indicate it will double by the end of the century. The plan takes advantage of the Capital's beautiful site to locate future government buildings and national institutions in attractive surroundings and proposes restoration of many natural beauty spots which have been blighted by uncontrolled industrial development.

A green belt, varying in depth from two to four miles, surrounds the proposed limits of the future built-up areas of Ottawa and Hull and their suburbs. This is described by Planning Consultant Jacques Greber as "the country frame necessary to the life of the city", and the land within it will be permanent open space or, where suitable, restricted to farming and market gardening use. This will prevent ribbon housing development along highways. Present traffic congestion will disappear when a new road system, utilizing abandoned railway rights of way within the city, is built up as the plans to relocate the railways in a belt south and east of the Capital gradually are carried out.

The plan itself is described as a chart to guide the development of the Capital for the next half century and a framework within which to set the detailed town plans of the municipalities within the Capital Region. These detailed plans are yet to be made by Ottawa and Hull, but the master plan provides for self-contained neighborhoods and communities within the city framework to stop the Capital's present unplanned and uneconomic growth.

While on the map Ottawa and Hull appear to be single cities, actually they are not. Greater Ottawa is divided into five separate municipalities, the Capital itself, the townships of Nepean and Gloucester, the town of Eastview and the village of Rockcliffe Park. The Ottawa Planning Area Board has recommended union of the five municipalities and the amalgamation of Ottawa and the urban part of Nepean, mainly Westboro and Britannia, already has been approved. Hull in Quebec also is bordered by separate municipalities. For planning purposes the area is considered to be one social and economic whole.

Commission For Plans

The history of the Federal District Commission and its predecessor, the Ottawa Improvement Commission, is the story of Canada's contribution to the improvement and beautification of the Capital over the past 50 years.

The original commission consisted of four members and was established to co-operate with the city to develop the capital beyond the needs and resources or an ordinary municipality. It was given authority and funds to "purchase, acquire and hold real estate in the City of Ottawa and the vicinity thereof for the purpose of public parks or squares, streets, avenues, drives or thoroughfares, and for their maintenance."

Since 1899 the Commission has expended some $15,000,000 on its work of constructing and maintaining about 900 acres of parks, 22 miles of beautiful scenic driveways, and boulevarded streets, bridges and traffic circles.

In 1903, the Federal District Commission Act was amended by Parliament to include the additional responsibility of carrying ou the National Capital Plan being prepared by Jacques Greber. The commission's powers were increased to give it the necessary authority to control any new work or building on government owned land.

At the same time, in recognition of its new responsibilities, the authorized membership, which had grown to ten, was increased to 19 to permit the addition of a member from each of the provinces.

Prominent Canadians in the business, professional and industrial life of Canada and the Capital who have made outstanding contribution to the nation in a wide variety of fields, have served on the Commission since its inception.

Membership is honorary, the commissioners serving without remuneration for a five-year term.

JACQUES GREBER, S.A.D.G., S.C., S.E.U., M.E.I.C., HON. F.R.A.I.C, Paris, consultant to Canadian government on planning of the National Capital, whose preliminary report has been presented to Parliament. A city planner of international repute, Mr. Greber was retained by the government in 1937 to replan the center section of the Capital, but the outbreak of war in 1939 prevented completion of the work. In 1945 it was decided to plan the capital on a comprehensive scale, and Mr. Greber was named consultant to the National Capital Planning Committee. At the time of his appointment he was inspector general of town planning for the war-damaged cities of Northeast France and in charge of the replanning of Rouyn, Abbeville, St. Omer, and the cities and regions of Lille and Calais. He was also professor of town planning at the University of Paris.

Mr. Greber's chief planning assistants are J. M. Kitchen, M.B.E., M.R.A.I.C., Ottawa, and Edouard Fiset, M.R.A.I.C., D.P.L.G.F., Quebec.

Tired Rookie Leads Nats To 12-3 Win Over Browns

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thanks to Paul Calvert, a shopworn "rookie" who bought his own minor league release for $1,500, Washington Senators are in second place only 5½ games behind the American league-leading New York Yankees.

Calvert, a French-Canadian fastballer from Montreal, deserves a large share of the credit because he leads the pitching staff with six victories when he was supposed to be only bullpen insurance. No. 6 was a 12-3 romp over the wobbly St. Louis Browns Friday night.

Papa Joe Cambria, a Washington scout, saw Calvert pitching in the Cuban league last winter. He told boss Clark Griffith that the lean righthander with the specs and the sinker ball could help his ball club. At the time, anything would help the Washington team.

Calvert was a free agent, having purchased his release from Toronto of the International League after slaving in the Cleveland chain.

This season, Calvert, willing and ready, drew a surprise starting assignment in New York. He was beaten 3-0 but he showed he had the stuff to stay up.

Can't Get Going

In his latest start Friday night Calvert allowed five hits in subjecting the Brownies to their ninth straight loss and 13th in their last 14 games. St. Louis has yet to down Washington in eight starts. They also have failed to defeat Chicago and New York. No wonder they're last, 19½ games back.

Homers by Stan Spence and Dick Kokos robbed Calvert of a shutout as the Senators combined 14 hits with five St. Louis errors to ease his job.

Eddie Yost, who hit a total of two homers in four previous big league seasons, hit his third homer in three days.

The Yanks protected their lead by outlasting the Chicago White Sox, 9-7, in a three hour and 28 minute marathon. Two errors by Luke Appling helped the leaders cash five unearned runs.

Cleveland, looking more like the champs of '48 with every start, manhandled the Red Sox, 8-1. A six-run first inning enabled Early Wynn to coast to his third straight victory.

Wynn had help from his old Washington mate, first baseman Mickey Vernon who hit a homer after Al Rosen smashed a three-run double in the first. Joe Dobson was the victim.

Edge Philadelphia

Detroit swept the three-game series from the slumping Philadelphia Athletics on Hal Newhouser's 4-3 decision. Homers by Sam Chapman and Eddie Joose accounted for all Philadelphia runs while Bob Swift led the Tiger attack with a double and two singles. It was Newhouser's fifth victory and Alex Kellner's third setback. The A's southpaw had won five in a row.

Brooklyn and New York cut the idle Boston Braves' lead to 1½ games in the most important national League action.

The Dodgers came from behind to salvage the final of their series with the St. Louis Cards on a four-run rally in the seventh for a 5-2 victory.

Nippy Jones' homer off Joe Hatten with a man on gave St. Louis an early working margin but Gil Hodges' two-run homer off Gerry Staley tied it in the seventh. Carl Furillo's triple, a walk and singles by Paul Minner and Peewee Reese sent the Brooks out front to stay.

The Giants wore out Bob Chipman and Cal McLish in routing the Chicago Cubs, 15-5. Blanked on three hits by Dutch Leonard Thursday, the Giants Friday collected 14 hits including homers by Sid Gordon, Bob Thomson and Jack Lohrke. Gordon and Whitey Lockman each drove in four runs.

Philadelphia Phillies had to settle for a split with Cincinnati. After losing the opener to the Reds, 3-2 on Lloyd Merriman's triple and Danny Litwhiler's outfield fly in the ninth, the Phils came back to take the second game, 3-1.

Boston and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Young Petes Get Win Over Lindsay

By FRED MAYBEE.

Young Petes defeated Lindsay Merchants 2-1 in a thrilling Lakeshore League baseball game last evening at Lindsay as Lorne Corkery twirled superbly to best Loucks in a neat duel. Pagett handled 11 chances without an error, to star at short while Curry and Stewart led at bat with three and two hits respectively. Pagett's fumbled bunt to Loucks in the seventh scored Floyd with the winner in a photo finish. Thomson caught a fine game with the team as a whole lot better than ever, before a large crowd who thrilled to the great play of both teams from start to finish.

A feminine voice via the phone informs us that cheques have been received by local trundlers who made a showing in the big CBA tourney a month or so back in Toronto. Best showing here was by Towne Togs in the ladies' section, these lasses being second among out-of-town teams with a 3143 total to win $35, and Aggie Anderson getting a fiver for being 17th with 714. Doug Abraham got eight smackers, being 52nd among men, and Bill Lewis seven bucks for being 63rd. Their counts were 807 and 796. Riley's team total of 3434 put them in 42nd spot for $12. The tourney draws top talent from all over the province. And the outing is always enjoyable, too!

Speaking of the Foresters Softball League—well, why not start, then?—the COF and the A & P teams went to a 13-all draw the other eve with Phillips and O'Toole twirling. Then A & P lost to Post Office 26-11 as Huard, O'Toole and Wallwork saw slab action. Now that leaves the standing with the COF-ers atop the heap with five wins, a tie and a loss in seven, while A & P has won four and died one, Post Office has three wins and four reverses in seven, and the Canoe Co. are still running into rough water after six starts. On Monday, COF plays the Canoemen, Wednesday sees Post Office go against A & P, and next night has Foresters fighting the Posties. That's all we know at present of this circuit.

No Depression As Yet

A Toronto report says that, while Leafs aren't burning up the International Baseball League, they're well up at the box office. They've drawn 107,832 fans so far, an increase of some 35 per cent over the same period a year ago. Last year, the club drew 292,000 but Manager Joe Ziegler predicts a new record in '49. It would indicate that money for sports' events is pretty free yet and bears out our prediction that it will be no sooner than the summer of 1950 when any marked recession may be noted in athletics as far as the cash registers go. Perhaps the peak of our boom is past but that shouldn't be noticed to any extent for another year, we feel.

Prexy Jim McLeod of the Ontario Lacrosse Association has named Ed McDermott, Fred Sandford and Charlie Rowan as a sub-committee for this season, and they will deal directly with senior OLA points of contention as far as possible. Mimico and Hamilton are billed for an exhibition in Cincinnati on July 2, and Weston may fill in a date with Brampton at that time. The Soo is asking for a senior exhibition, too. St. Kitts handed Brampton their first loss of the season the other night so the Saints and Mimico are crowding close to the league leaders, while Owen Sound aren't too far back. Looks like a fight for a while now between Weston and Petes for the final playoff spot, though the season is but a pup yet.

Played Below Form

Certainly the Petes didn't look their best last p.m. as Brampton hung up a 22-8 victory at their expense. Dootch Vitarelli was back and went okay, and George Sinfield of Cornwall — a newcomer — showed promise. The rest of them worked hard but didn't seem to be clicking in top form or showing the old driving-in spirit that swept 'em to two senior "B" titles. Yes, we know senior "A" is tougher, and the Excelsiors really looked smart out there last night. But we think the Petes will do better shortly and pull the odd upset here and there. A big crowd saw the game and they'll be back—knowing that it takes time to really roll after stepping into stiffer competition.

Over at the Bowl yester warm e'en, a goodly gallery saw two fine femmes' softball frays. It kept the Marines hustling to garner a 7-5 win o'er the improved Lock Co. lasses, whilst Lindsay were lucky to beat Ashby's 10-9 in a nifty number. Nothing much wrong with those contests, and it looks like Bill Bennett is really right as he keeps saying the loop is well balanced. Anyway, they're dishing up keen competition and running their games off faster than the men's loop, so they rate support. Next twin bill is Monday night. Standing shows Ashby's, CGE and Westclox on top with two and one each, as Marines, Woollens and Lindsay are tied right behind them, and Lock Co. occupy the cellar.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Officials of the eastern division of the Canadian Canoe Association said Friday at Montreal they are optimistic over the coming season and predicted one of the toughest competitive years among the paddlers. Commodore Howard Radford of the CCA said a shipment of 12 new craft will arrive from Peterborough, this week and all clubs in the division except Three Rivers will get at least one. The new craft are single and tandem boats which will allow for increased entries in these specialties. The Cartierville Boating Club also has some double-blade equipment on hand from Sweden.

Lachine paddlers have been testing their craft on Lake St. Louis waters and the Excel Club of Longueuil has had its stalwarts out for brief runs over the St. Lawrence course.

Canada's young track and field hopefuls will take over Molson Stadium today by the hundreds for the fifth annual inter-scholastic Dominion and Provincial championship. The entry list Friday night stood at 650, representing 59 schools from Winnipeg to Halifax. Points represented include Sudbury.

Henry J. Kaiser's bid to beat the world speed boat record of 141.47 miles an hour will be challenged by Donald Campbell, 28-year-old son of the late Sir Malcolm Campbell, the man who established it. Campbell will take his father's old speedboat, Bluebird II, to Lake Coniston in Northern England this summer for trials.

Charlie Ward, British Ryder Cup professional, Friday won the Spalding 72-hole tournament at Worthing, England, with a score of 273. Ward picked up first prize of £300 ($1,200). He had a shot to spare over fellow Ryder cupper Jimmy Adams whose aggregate was 274 on the 6,353-yard layout.

Jack Kramer and Bobby Riggs teamed up at London Friday night to win the world professional tennis doubles title. It took the two Los Angeles swingers five sets, however, before they licked Pancho Segura of Ecuador and Dinny Pails of Australia, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1. Tonight Riggs and Kramer will face each other to decide the single championship.

Edward Benyon, 69, veteran driver, trainer and owner of harness racing horses, who competed against the famous pacer, Dan Patch, and driver E. F. (Pop) Geers, died Friday at Los Angeles.

Because the horse he bet on bolted and lost the race, John Staskiewicz is suing Ak-Sar-Ben race track at Omaha, Neb., for recovery of $3,500. In his suit Staskiewicz alleges the horse, Wongerra, lost the seventh race at Ak-Sar-Ben because of "wilful and neglectful acts" on the part of track officials. The petition said the horse became nervous at the thin beam of light laid across the finish line for the electric camera.

Monte Irvin, Jersey City's negro rightfielder, has taken over the individual batting leadership in the International League with a .375 average. Idvin replaces Rochester's Ed Kierkowicz, last week's leader.

Close Contests A Feature In Girls' Loop

Two neat Girls Softball League games were served up to a good-sized crowd at the Bowl last night with Marines edging Lock Co. 7-5 and Lindsay yanking out a 10-9 verdict over Ashby's. Westclox, CGE and Ashby's are now tied for first place with two wins and a loss each, while Lindsay and Marnies have two and two apiece, Woollens have won and lost one game and Lock Co. have dropped three. The girls play again Monday night.

V. Mitchell was outstanding for Marines in their win, as Lock Co. showed much improved to make it a real battle against stiff opposition. It was a snappy scrap lasting an hour. M. Stewart went well for the losers. The winners used two twirlers and there were few strikeouts. M. Behan led the winners at bat with two doubles topped the other side with four hits. D. Westlake hit a homer and two singles, and R. Roberts got three singles. Teams:

Lock Co.—L. Beiza, lf; J. McIntyre, lf; M. Stewart, cf; B. McMahon, 1b; D. Westlake, c; P. Williams, p; E. Simmonds, 3b; D. Jackson, ss; R. Roberts, 2b; C. Michard, rf.

Tight Fit

The other game was a tight fit as Ashby's scored two runs in the ninth on an error and R. Gilmour's homer to almost sew it up. Lindsay played heads-up ball to earn the narrow nod. D. Hunter hit a triple and two doubles, as H. Deyell got a homer and single, as well as starring in the field with D. Dawkins.

D. Callan and L. Jordan looked good defensively for Ashby's in the tight tussle. L. Jordan led them at bat with a homer and two singles in five tries. Five of the losers went down on strikes to four of the Lindsay squad, and the latter had more hits, but also more errors. Teams:

Lindsay—H. Deyell, 2b; P. Graham, 1b; D. Dawkins, lf; D. Hunter, c; M. Chase, ss; D. Wood, cf; D. Madill, 3b; K. Green, rf; M. Owens, p.

Ashby's—E. McFadden, 2b; J. Reynolds, c; J. Dunk, 3b; L. Jordan, ss; M. Freeman, 1b; D. Callan, cf; R. Gilmour, lf; J. Williams, rf; B. Callan, rf; D. McFadden, p.

Brampton Beats The Petes To Stay Atop Senior Group

Brampton Excelsiors showed the Petes why they are leading the OLA senior "A" race when they romped to a 22-8 victory here last night before some 2,000 fans in Miller Bowl. It was a good game the first half but developed into a one-sided fray the last part, especially in the fourth quarter. The score was 2-2 in the first, 8-3 for Brampton at the half and 14-6 going into the fourth. Goalie Bun Hill gave way at halftime to Coach Red Creighton in the nets, but it made no difference.

Play was fairly fast and generally clean, with the Petes drawing but five of the 13 penalties, though one was a major. The Petes had Dootch Vitarelli in harness for the first time this season and one newcomers—George Sinfield of Cornwall — but the Brampton squad proved too experienced and classy for them in this encounter. Their strong finish piled up the count.

Lou Vitarelli and Leo Teatero led the local snipers with two goals apiece, as Arn Dugan and Jack Foote each dented the twine once. Al Garbutt stood out for the visitors as he netted five and aided on a few more, with Hillson, Graham and Browning scoring three apiece, and Crawford two. Singles were counted by Steele, Raine, Evans, Cruickshank and the Madgett brothers. There were a few brief displays of temper but it was kept under control generally.

Brampton: Goal, Arthurs; defence, Sheppard and Garbutt; centre, Graham; Wings, C. Madgett and H. Madgett; rover, Browning, alternates, Crawford, Ashbee, Hillson, Raine, Steele, Cruikshank, Evans and Etough.

Petes: Goals, Hill; Defence, Howes and Magee; defence, Creighton; wings, Foote and R. Breakspear; rover, L. Vitarelli; alternates, Horton, Teatero J. Breakspear, McNutly, D. Vitarelli, Dugan, Sinfield and R. Creighton.

Referees, D. Wilson and J. Murphy.

Jesus And Cup Of Sacrifice

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The cup, that in Gethsemane Jesus prayed so earnestly might pass, did not pass. We know how He drank it, and drank it to the very lees of sacrifice and suffering. It is the mystery of God and the universe that the life-giving powers, alike of nature and of grace, are intimately bound up with suffering and death.

Jesus emphasized this very strongly in His conversation with "certain Greeks", recorded in John 12:23-25. "Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die," He said, "it abideth alone; but if it die it beareth much fruit." And He proceeded to apply this to human life, with undoubtedly prophetic reference to Himself; "He that loveth his life loseth it."

In Gethsemane it was the humanity of Jesus, struggling in the last dark hour against all that He had set forth to saddened disciples in preceding days recorded in the conversations and discourses of the chapters in John's Gospel. Was this not, also, an expression of His humanity, sharing with us an experience that is common, and never so much emphasized as in recent years when so many reluctant, peaceable young men, hating war, have nevertheless had to make the supreme sacrifice?

It is one thing to recognize a general law of sacrifice, but how different when we are faced with a real, insistent danger, or demand for sacrifice ourselves? Then comes a real testing. Many find the faith and power to face it; others fail.

Out of Gethsemane the Master came with the serenity of a profound faith in the destiny that the Father had for Him, and with a quiet, sublime courage, that could endure alike the buffetings of His aggressors, the taunts of the cowardly, and the cynical contempt of the worldly-minded Pilate. It was the proud, self-confident Roman who cringed in that interview before the uncrowned King, who was yet to wear the crown of thorns.

Were trial and death ever so dominated by a courage and composure, both of inward peace, and a consciousness of spiritual presence and power? How often has that peace of God that made the Master strong upheld His followers in persecution and peril!

From Gethesmane to Calvary! We must go with Jesus all the way if we would get the inspiration of that divine tragedy and its fulfillment of blessing for mankind. Here, again, we may speak of 'mankind", but, as we may have to face danger and sacrifice not in general but in a very real and personal way, so the message of that divine tragedy comes to each of us personally, pointing the way to triumph and glory. It is the way of prayer, in discovering and obeying the will of God, and in finding the strength that God supplies.

Feeding Of The Multitude

By REV. E. R. JAMES

Andrew saith unto Jesus: There is a lad here which hath five barley loaves and two fishes: but what are they among so many.—St. John 6:9.

A lad here, how near the words bring this miracle to you and me. A generous hearted mother had packed that lunch—a little extra for some other boy. She never could have imagined how it was to be shared. To the boy's intense surprise he is brought into the very presence of the Teacher Himself. He looks into the eyes of the Pure One, Who asks him for his little lunch. With a boy's instinct for hero worship he gladly offers Him all; he keeps nothing back. What an example for us grown-up children.

The Master has been preaching the word of God and the people have been drinking it in. Surely there is the same hunger in the hearts of the multitude today, when the Truth drops from lips set on fire by the inward flame; the Divine Fire. That is why this miracle is recorded by the four Evangelists.

Today as in the past the Master says: "Give ye them to eat." Like the Apostles you are horrified by the duty and you exclaim; as you look at your knowledge of the Truth: "What are they among so many". With trembling hands you offer Him your little gift—"barley loaves"—He accepts them, as in the days of old. He gives God thanks. He blesses, He breaks and gives to His disciples and the miracle is repeated. It has been many times in the history of the mission work through the centuries. You will marvel and with deep truthfulness you will cry: "It is the Lord's doing and it is marvellous in our eyes."

For a moment let us go back to the lad. His eyes are fixed upon

By HAZEL PAULL

Although this section of Ontario has a relatively short history from the time of the first settlers some 150 years ago, already certain aspects of this vicinity in the early days are disappearing into oblivion. It is still possible to learn a great deal of local history from a number of elderly people whose parents or grandparents migrated from Britain, but quest for information on any particular aspect of Peterborough and district 100 years ago often develops into a long and arduous task.

There is a small plot of land on Highway 28, six miles north of Peterborough the township of Smith which, because of its importance as a cemetery in the 19th century, has aroused curiosity in recent times. Many living in Peterborough have passed this cemetery when travelling to Lakefield by car or bus, but how many know that this was one of the first burial grounds in this area?

Overgrown With Sumac

Fallen into disuse more than half a century ago, this cemetery is mostly overgrown by sumac bushes and few traces are left of the 35 or 40 graves.

If only the pioneers could rise as did the ghosts in Walt Disney's interpretation of Missourgsky's Night on a Bare Mountain, what a vivid picture we might have of the first settlements here.

A drive of only 10 or 20 miles from the city never fails to arouse the feeling of living immediately after an era of immense tasks and great physical achievements. Is it possible to visualise today, how the first lonely settlers lived, with only their day to day progress to spur them on?

In the farm house near the cemetery there lives Earl Rosborough, who bought the property five years ago. It had belonged to the father of Ed. Bickell, the Peterborough plumber, who still recalls trimming the grass around the graves when a small boy.

Last Burial 50 Years Ago

The last burial at the cemetery Mr. Bickell can remember was of his father's sister some 50 years ago. For 60 years it was known as Bickell's cemetery — Mr. Bickell's uncle was an undertaker—and as far as Mr. Bickell can recall, it was previously owned by a family named Johnston.

John Stuart of Division St., whose grandfather was buried in the Bickell cemetery 112 years ago, recalls that it was once known as Cochrane's cemetery, but the exact sequence of ownership appears to be unknown today

MAIN ST. TOPICS

CLOSED

All members of the administrative and training staff at the armouries are now stationed at Picton for the summer camps. They are taking refresher courses and also doing some instruction.

HOLIDAY ON MONDAY

Schools, banks and government offices will be closed on Monday, the King's birthday The bankers and the government men will enjoy it, but it's a drop in the bucket for the students. Examinations are on, and a day off just isn't the same.

BLONDIN IN THIRD PLACE

Competing in the Ontario weight-lifting championships last night in Toronto, Ab Blondin of this city placed third in the lightweight class. Stan McBride and Harry O'Rourke of the local YMCA acted as official at the meet.

GRADUATE IN MEDICINE

Three Peterborough district men will graduate today as doctors of medicine at Queen's convocation, Kingston. They are Norman Andrew Scott and William Charles Wedlock, BA, both of this city, and Herbert Garfield Parkin, Norwood. Of the 43 students, only two are women.

FLOOR MAT BURNS

A sedan car driven by K. Montgomery of Lakefield pulled to a stop in front of the Fire Hall shortly before 9 p.m Friday night with the floor mat smouldering. A cigarette butt had dropped into it causing a small fire. It was extinguished with a hand pump. There was no other damage.

DR. WORTON SUCCESSFUL

The many friends of Dr. Harold Worton are congratulating him on his success in obtaining the Diploma in Veterinary Public Health at the University of Toronto. Since the middle of May he has resumed his work with the Board of Health under Dr. R. A. Kelly, M.O.H., on the full time basis. It will be recalled that the Board and the council gave him leave of absence to take the University course for the degree in Veterinary Public Health.

PRIZE WINNER

Miss Isla Grainger, 179 Adaline St., was a prize winner in the dental nursing course graduation exercises at the University of Toronto Friday. She won the Christine Arkle Memorial Prize for high standing in dental anatomy. There were 24 students registered in the one-year diploma course. Miss Grainger plans to work on a dental survey covering Peel county and Northern Ontario through Brampton, Schreiber, Manitoulin Island and Parry Sound.

Poison Spray Is Used On Caterpillars

By DAVE WHITE

Summer cottagers and residents in the McCracken's Landing area are in the midst of a strange battle that has human ingenuity and science pitted against a wave of unidentified caterpillars. The hungry insects have stripped the foliage from trees in vast irregular patches over an estimated 10,000 acres of Peterborough County with the focal point Stony Lake.

In an effort to stem the progress of the caterpillars Lorne Morrison, proprietor of the general store at McCracken's Landing, C. Cherry of Wantassa Inn, and William Hamilton, owner of Birch Cliff cottages, pooled resources to bring in an exterminator company from Toronto.

The mobile exterminator unit, a jeep that sprayed a vapor cloud of DDT, attacked the infected trees and bushes on Thursday night in the wooded area near the built-up section of the summer resort community.

The slim larvae run to as much as an inch and a half in length. After gorging themselves on the foliage (basswood and ash are favorites though oak and maple are also acceptable) they fall off the shredded leaves which are no longer able to bear their weight. Then they crawl along the ground looking for food.

Instinct seems to tell them to travel up any obstacle. Tree trunks, the walls of cottages and sheds, and even the vertical face of rocks take on a velvety appearance as countless thousands of the grubs continue their search for foliage.

A constant patter of falling caterpillars hitting the dried leaves below resounds through the woods like a shower of rain. The ground is a seething mass of larvae.

Caterpillars — even those on the branches of the tallest trees — dropped to the ground in millions after catching a dose of the poisonous spray. The dose, however, did not kill them immediately and it was estimated that a three-day period must elapse before the success or failure of the experiment could be determined.

The cottagers as they drop into the general store for mail report to Mr. Morrison on how the battle is going in their vicinity and enquire about other "fronts". Mr. and Mrs. Morrison are particularly concerned because the caterpillars might get into their stock and ruin it.

I visited the community on Friday afternoon and saw thousands of caterpillars crawling up the walls of several summer cottages a few hundred yards to the northeast.

Mrs. N. Hutchison of Peterborough, a cottager, told The Examiner she had sprayed DDT on some of them with handpump until they turned white. For a while they curled up but later were able to move away.

Must Spray Foliage

Effective use of DDT depends on spraying the foliage so they will receive the dose internally, experts point out. And several days must pass before the effectiveness is revealed.

Vacationists regard the caterpillars as a nuisance and they have been kept busy brushing them off walls, burning them, and generally ensuring they do not get indoors.

The situation was reported to Frank Paterson, Provincial Agricultural Representative, Tuesday and the situation has been investigated by John Bell of the Department of Lands and Forests and W. A. Anderson, inspector of reforestation.

Mr. Anderson said he had never seen anything like it, but recalled that shortly after the turn of the century caterpillars stripped the maple trees of Otonabee. Some of the first trees to be stricken have already begun to sprout new foliage and unless the process is repeated there is unlikely to permanent damage, he stated.

Some sections of the woods through which the grubs have passed give the appearance of early Spring. There is only a shred of green foliage and the trunks of the trees stand out like so many bare poles.

As soon as the larvae reach the pupa stage their destructive work amid the bush will cease, Departmental officials say.

FIRST PRIZE IN THE ROCK GARDENS competition of the Horticultural Society was awarded to Mr. Ray Stabler, 541 Bethune St. Blending of colors and the trim arrangement of the pool were aspects which strongly appealed to the judges, J. S. Mason and Clarence H. Bacon. Second award went to Mr. L. Titterington, 207 King St.; and third to Mrs. S. O. Shields, 9 Anne St.

Minister From Scotland Comes To St. Paul's Church

Rev. W. A. Smellie, minister of St. John's Kirk, Perth, Scotland, arrived with his wife and two children Wednesday night to minister to St. Paul's Presbyterian congregation, Peterborough, until July 17, while Rev. C. S. Boyd takes over Mr. Smellie's church in Scotland for the summer.

While his family is living in the St. Paul's manse, Mr. Smellie will travel to Detroit, New York, Baltimore and smaller American centres to preach services in the last half of July and August.

Selected Peterborough

The exchange was arranged after Mr. Smellie had advertised in a church paper. From several answers to his advertisement, Mr. Smellie picked Peterborough.

His American engagements were arranged through the British Council of Churches and the Federal Council of Churches of America.

The Smellie's two children are enthusiastic about Canada. Alasdair, 11, has bought a large quantity of comic books and has spent much of his time so far absorbing them. Daughter Elspeth is 10. Her name is the Gaelic equivalent of Elizabeth.

The Scottish minister said he thought conditions in Scotland were not as bad as most Canadians seemed to think. The Scots have been deeply touched by the number of parcels sent from Canada during and after the war. however Mr. Smellie pointed out that children in the United Kingdom are healthier than they have ever been. The reason is there has been a better distribution of food under the rationing system.

A strong national feeling has grown up in Scotland in the past 20 years. This national group has wanted a greater amount of self-government, but the tendency under all government parties has been toward greater centralization.

Mr. Smellie reported that, although housing was still a great problem in the whole United Kingdom, the government has done a good job. He said Perth especially has had many new houses built.

Mr. and Mrs. Smellie have been greatly impressed by the "extreme kindliness" they have received from Canadians since they arrived. Mr. Smellie has travelled considerably. As a student he visited South America and many countries in Europe.

One of Scotland's Oldest

St. John's Kirk is one of Scotland's oldest. It was built in 1156 and consecrated in 1243. During the Reformation John Knox spoke frequently in the kirk as he sought to forward the Protestant movement. St. John's thus became one of the cradles of the Reformation. The kirk has 35 bells in its tower which were presented by Melville Gray, brother-in-law of John Ruskin, famous 19th century writer and art critic.

Perthshire and the city were little affected by bombing during the war. However, the 51st Highland Regiment which was almost completely captured in France in 1940 was recruited mostly in Perthshire. As a result many of the shire's men spent five and six years prisoners of war in Europe

Mr. Smellie wouldn't hazard a guess about the outcome of the next election in the United Kingdom but expected a hot campaign.

ST. PAUL'S MINISTER: Rev. W. A. Smellie of St. John's Kirk, Perth, Scotland who will be minister at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church during the summer months.

Barrie Woman Hurt When Cars Collide

Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald of 54 Elizabeth St. Barrie suffered a broken nose and cut right elbow as a result of a car collision on Friday afternoon at Reid and Stewart Sts.

The car was being driven south on No. 7 Highway by her husband, Edward Fitzgerald, and when it reached the Y turn it collided with the northbound car of Wm. Steenburgh of Omemee. The Fitzgerald vehicle was struck on the right front door and body.

Mr. Fitzgerald told police that being a stranger in town he was unaware of the turn into Reid St. at that point, and had intended continuing south

P. C. Gordon Trennum investigated.

SMOKE BUT NO FIRE

A neighbor seeing smoke coming from the residence of A. Hann, Water St. phoned the Fire Department on Friday night. Some paper had been left to burn in the stove after the family went out for the evening and a considerable quantity of smoke filled the house. There was no outbreak and the firemen returned to the Fire Hall after a checkup.

No 5-Day Week In Offices Of Utilities Staff

The staff of the Utilities Commission will continue their service of convenience to the public on Saturday mornings, the members of the Commission decided Friday.

Civic employees are now working the five-day week through the summer. Beginning today, the city hall offices are closed and the board of works, parks and sanitary departments also have Saturday mornings to themselves.

G. S. Matthews, chairman, asked his associates, G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hills, whether they considered advisable the adoption of the five-day week for the commission's employees.

The opinion of the Commission was to the effect that the office staff was closer to the public than were the employees of the council, and that the established practice should not be changed.

Left To Future

Many of the citizens it was said pay their utilities bills Saturday mornings, a convenience which was manifestly appreciated. Some change was suggested at a rather vaguely distant time when the Commission has its own office on Aylmer St., and collection arrangement may be made with the banks. But even that was a dubious change, because, it was said the banks close at 11 a.m. Saturdays, and from all appearances they have their hands full.

The men of the Utilities staff are engaged on work that is urgently needed, it was said, and for those reasons the Commissions concluded that it was inadvisable to make any Saturday change.

Another consideration regarding the office service was that the public pay their Utilities bills more frequently than their municipal tax bills, and besides, many service enquiries were made at the office on Saturday mornings.

Bill In Wrong File Discount Refused

Utilities Commission declined Friday to make an exception of one of the city's industries for discount of $68.50 on an overdue bill "that got into the wrong file."

Similar applications were received from other companies in the past, but the Commission then wished to avoid setting a precedent, and that policy is being maintained. Payment in the present instance was two weeks overdue due to inadvertently wrong filing.

Two Areas Are Proposed As Location For 100 Homes

Location of the 100 houses for veterans to be built by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation was reduced to two proposed areas in Ashburnham and the south end of the city at a meeting of the council's special housing committee Friday.

Ald. A. B. Burrows was chairman, and those present were: Mayor Swanston and Ald. Gillespie; W. W. Scott of Toronto, and Jack Raine, representing Central Mortgage; K. S. Wightman for the Board of Education; R. L. Dobbin representing the Utilities Commission and City Engineer Chalmers.

Mr. Dobbin said the Utilities Commission hoped the council could allocate the houses to streets already supplied with the light and water. During the years since the war, the Commission has expended close to $500,000 on new work and house connections, apart from the major works that have been planned, and wished to avoid any further expenditure that was not necessary.

School Problem

Mr. Wightman as superintendent of schools said the Board of Education was faced with a problem of additional accommodation in nearly all sections of the city. Opening of basement classrooms is being considered at several of the schools. Conditions of space were more favorable at Grove and Confederation schools.

"For every 100 of those houses that are built and occupied we have found that their average number of children at the beginning is 60, and later increases," Mr. Wightman said.

The Burrows committee was instructed to survey several sections of the city for properties lending themselves to group building, providing a factor of economy affecting the tenders of contractors.

Denies Contractor Called At Office

Mr. Walter Blackwell of the firm of architects in charge of the building of the new Civic Hospital told The Examiner today that Mr. A. Blake Robertson of Robertson Engineering and Construction Co., Niagara Falls, did not call three times at the Blackwell-Craig offices as reported from the meeting at the city hall Thursday.

"There must be some misunderstanding about it. If Mr. Robertson had made even one call, I'd say so, but he did not make any call, that we know of."

Mr. Blackwell was referring to the remark of Mayor Swanston that Mr. Robertson said he was three times at the architect's office, and also that the council should have been provided with more information about the Robertson Company.

"I have spoken to Mayor Swanston about it," Mr. Blackwell said, "and he says he was misquoted. We should like to have it clearly understood that Mr. Robertson did not call at our office, and also that we did obtain all the information we could get within ethical bounds. The Examiner was present at the meeting last Monday night and heard the reports which we submitted, including a bank statement on the Robertson Company. Our feeling was that we went out of our way to get information that would be of help to the council."

Mr. Blackwell said he wished to set the matter right before the council and the public, and to emphasize particularly that there must be something misunderstood about the remark attributed to Mr. Robertson that he had three times called at the architects' office.

Lost Fishermen Led From Woods

HASTINGS, June 4 (ENS) —A party of men from Hastings went into the North Central Drummer region of the Big Ouse River on Wednesday to fish for trout.

After fishing all day with indifferent success they started for home in the late evening and were unable to locate the trail by which they had gone in.

Some of the men started contemplating spending the night in the bush which they did not relish.

Among the party was H. E. Chaubin of Windsor, U.S.A., an experienced woodsman and guide who finally led the party out of the dense bush to safety. The men all speak highly of Mr. Chaubin's leadership.

13 Hurt In Bus Crash

FORT FRANCES, Ont., June 4 (CP)—At least 13 persons were injured three of them severely when a bus loaded with workers of the Arctic Peat Moss Corporation and a car collided Friday eight miles west of here. The bus turned on its side after striking the car, throwing the workers through the roof.

Attempting To Pass Two Cars Damaged

Slight damage was caused to both vehicles when a car driven by Frank Stockdale of RR 7 Peterborough collided with the parked car of Frank Montgomery, 701 Stewart St. Friday noon when the former attempted to pass.

Montgomery was parked on the north side of Hunter St. bridge and as the westbound car of Stockdale swung out to pass two eastbound vehicles approached. One of them started to pass the other and to make room Stockdale pulled well over to the north side of the road.

His right rear fender caught the front bumper of Montgomery's car. The fender was torn in two and the bumper was torn off the other vehicle.

Drivers of the eastbound cars are not known. P.C. Claire McGillen investigated.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Look Critical At Arrangements

When the homemaker looks at a new home she will naturally visualize the family living in it. It will be comparatively easy to figure out whether the rooms are large enough and provide adequate space for all activities, but more difficult to see whether it will afford the necessary privacy, ease, comfort and convenience for the family's needs. Thus, it is necessary to look critically at the room arrangement and consider many items such as the ease of circulating through the house, getting from one room to another. The homemaker must visualize how the furniture pieces will fit into the rooms and how they can be arranged for comfortable family living for all members.

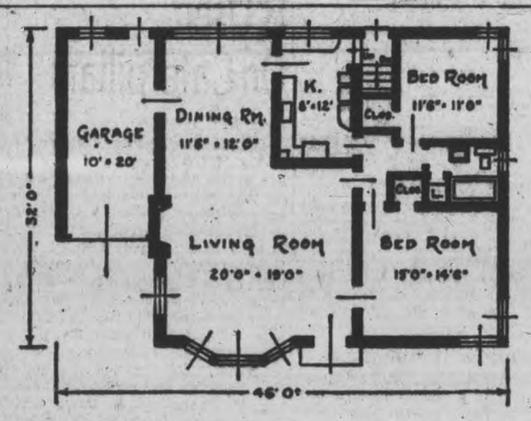
To discover after moving that furniture does not fit, that there is no unbroken space for a chesterfield, or that a bed must protrude beyond an opening is, to say the least, disturbing. The stairway and hall likewise may have that delightful welcoming atmosphere the housewife has always dreamed about, but when it is necessary to get the bed springs and mattresses up to the second floor, the stairs might well be marked "no trespassing." Which all goes to point out the necessity for careful study before deciding "that's the house for me."

A house may have lots of closet space, yet unless suited in size and shape for articles to be stored, and in areas convenient for use, may not meet the family's need adequately. Clothes closets in each bedroom, towel storage in the bathroom, linen storage in the upstairs hall, food and equipment storage in the kitchen are provided in most houses. However, other types of needed storage are too often omitted.

Most families regard the first floor coat closet as a "must" yet many homes still fail to provide such accommodation. If the closet is provided, it is too often tucked away in some inconvenient spot, far from the outside entrance. Wet coats and muddy dripping rubbers should not need to be dragged half-way across the house for proper storage.

Cleaning equipment should be stored in a central location for first floor rooms and near the stairs, handy for second floor cleaning. Spaces must be designed to readily accommodate the vacuum cleaner, mops, pails, and other housecleaning articles. The shallow closet designed to allow the independent removal of each article without reaching behind or having to shift others has very real disadvantages.

Rooms may be conveniently located in relationship to household activities and with easy circulation, but when the homemaker attempts to place furniture and equipment in the rooms, she finds that some desirable arrangements are impossible because of the swing doors, location of openings and traffic paths through the rooms. The kitchen must be studied carefully to determine whether range and refrigerator can be located efficiently. Doors must be located in such a manner as not to provide a much-travelled passage through the working area of the kitchen. The location of the range, if it is gas, under a window, may prove dangerous because of drafts. Manufacturers of kitchen equipment have many splendid booklets yours for the asking on efficient kitchen planning. . . you'll do well to study them. Preparation of 1,000 meals a year is a chore that warrants extra care in obtaining an efficient kitchen arrangement.



Vestibules should be regarded as a necessity in most parts of Canada. By all means avoid a plan where the main entrance opens directly into the living room requiring a diagonal pathway across to the kitchen or living room. Location of the fireplace should be given careful consideration. Traffic brought directly into the fireplace end of a room may seriously interfere with any satisfactory furniture grouping around the fireplace.

Whether you plan to build your own home . . . or buy one already completed . . . the homemaker will find it well worth while to study the planning suggestions available in today's many building publications and books. She'll want to be sure that not only will the house fit the site, the pocketbook and the furniture, but also that above all, it will fit the family.

Birds rarely are sighted by airplane pilots flying at an altitude of 3,000 feet or more.

HOUSE No. 126—This trim five room home is right up-to-the-minute in design. Even astute lovers of the more conventional Colonial home will admire the gracious lines of this design. Most striking is the wide expanse of window area—just think how cheery and bright the large living room will be. Not only the living room, but dining room and other rooms as well—all come in for more than usual window area. Although there is no provision for an entrance vestibule, the plan follows along more conventional lines. The small hall provides convenience out of all proportion to the small area involved. Kitchen layout is admirable and offers every convenience in working arrangement. Landscaping has not been overdone, low planting, appears a wise choice in keeping with general height of roof lines. Movie History Details Found Scarce

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 4 (AP) — "Little trace of the American motion picture industry has come down to us," Dr. Adam Fission told a historians' meeting at Uranium University in the year 2049.

"And much that remains is confusing," he added.

"For instance, motion pictures appear to have been popular, with millions watching the flickering screens every night. And yet, judging from the printed records of the critics of the time, the quality of entertainment was very poor.

Much Confusion

"There is also confusion about the so-called stars—the men and women who took leading roles in the photoplays. We have unearthed records from the studio files and 'fan' magazines, all of which indicate the stars were paragons of virtue.

"There is conflicting evidence from microfilms of the era's newspapers."

"Unlike the solar system," Dr. Fission said with a smile, "the motion picture industry seems to have revolved around the stars. They were public heroes. Each time they got married, which was often, the wedding appeared to have been a kind of national festival.

"The stars earned fantastic salaries, even more than interplanetary pilots do today. In fact," he added with irony, "more in a week than a college professor makes in a year."

"They appear to have been too busy to erect monuments for the future," he said.

Major Details of

The Progressive Conservative Party's Declaration of Policy— Drafted and Approved by Canadians from every Province— Representing Every walk of Life

George Drew

I have now visited all ten provinces since Parliament was dissolved. In one thing there is widespread agreement throughout the whole of Canada: it is time for a change. The important thing for all Canadians to decide between now and June 27th is what that change will be. On earlier occasions over the radio I have put forward some of the reasons why a change is so necessary if we are to restore Parliament to the people and lift the burden of taxation and arbitrary controls from the shoulders of those who are doing the work of the nation in all their many daily tasks. At this time, with the election four weeks away, I would like to review some of the major details of the Declaration of Policy which was drafted and unanimously approved by the delegates of our Party from every constituency in Canada and representing every occupation. I have already referred at different times to many of its details. This is no hastily-drafted election manifesto. It is not my statement of policy, or statement prepared by any group or committee. It expressed the unanimous opinion of delegates from every province who met in Ottawa from September 30th to October 2nd last year.

Details are embraced by the three words which interpret the purpose of the undertaking we give to Canadians: Opportunity, Security, Freedom. Those words constitute no meaningless, time-worn slogan. They represent the broad purpose of a dynamic and progressive plan of action which we have placed before you as a convincing reason why you should support the Progressive Conservative candidate in your own constituency, no matter what party you have supported in the past.

May I quote the very first words contained in that Declaration of Policy: "Freedom is one and indivisible. If economic freedom is lost, political freedom will be lost. Economic freedom is the essence of competitive enterprise, and competitive enterprise is the foundation of our democratic system. All history shows that competitive enterprise provides the maximum of production and therefore the maximum of social security. For those reasons we affirm our belief in the principle of economic freedom. Economic freedom will promote thrift, foster and encourage the qualities of self-reliance, industry, and initiative which have brought this nation to its present enviable position. It will preserve and improve our standard of living."

With that statement, and believing in freedom as we do, we have also undertaken to make the necessary amendments in our Criminal Code to deal effectively with those who are working to establish a Communist dictatorship here in Canada. In the name of freedom we do not intend to permit treacherous, anti-Christian agents of that evil tyranny to destroy the freedom for which Canadians paid so great a price. We also believe that our constitution must be respected and observed to preserve national unity and also to make secure our own freedom by those wise balances of authority between the dominion and the provincial governments which were devised as a check on the concentration of power in the hands of the national government. Believing that the strongest basis of freedom is the encouragement offered free people to better their own condition by saving from what they earn and building a home as the centre of the family life, we are opposed to a system of taxation which makes it difficult to save even with the present relatively high earnings.

I take this opportunity to review some of the major features of our policy with particular reference to three words: opportunity, security and freedom.

OPPORTUNITY

First let me refer to the word 'opportunity'. The Progressive Conservative Party will assure opportunity to all our people by:

A bold and progressive national development programme

Canada is on the threshold of her greatest period of development, if a vigorous government, with faith in the future is given the opportunity to bring into production the immense resources which we possess in every part of Canada. While the vast areas of the North challenge our vision and our courage, there is no part of Canada where there are not new opportunities of development if we provide the electric energy and other sources of power which will encourage new industries and new types of agricultural production which can make every part of Canada more productive in the years ahead.

Our national development programme will cover the development of power, oil, coal, mineral resources and the transportation facilities necessary for their full use. In particular we will establish (a) a National Development Advisory Council in co-operation with the provinces; (b) establish a National Power Authority to co-operate with the provinces in the technical examination of possible power development and in the actual development of electric power at cost; (c) undertake the commencement of a joint conservation, irrigation and power project on the Saskatchewan River; (d) encourage the development of power in the Maritime Provinces from coal as well as by other means; (e) promote the development of the great iron ore resources of our country and the establishment of greatly expanded steel industry within Canada; (f) stimulate the development of petroleum and other mineral resources in co-operation with the provinces by taxation and fiscal policies which will encourage the investment of risk capital; (g) institute a vigorous programme of water conservation, reforestation, flood control, irrigation and drainage schemes throughout the whole of Canada for the reclamation of unproductive land and the preservation of our soil, and along with other similar activities in co-operation with the provincial governments; (h) establish a positive programme of marshland reclamation and development; (i) take effective steps at the earliest possible date to co-operate with the provincial governments in building the Trans-Canada Highway and feeder roads, which will not only greatly increase our transportation facilities, but also help to open out the vast possibilities of the tourist business in every part of Canada; (j) remove the discrimination in freight rates between the several geographical areas of Canada so that all sections of our country may receive the full benefit from the development of our great resources; (k) deal effectively with the special transportation problem of Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, Cape Breton and Vancouver Island; (l) take the necessary steps to proceed with the development of the power and waterways project on the St. Lawerence River.

Expansion of trade

The ultimate value of all our development depends upon the distribution and sale of what we produce. Because of our tremendous producing capacity we are one of the world's great exporters. The external markets for our surplus products contribute very largely to the pay envelopes which buy the food, clothing and other necessities in every Canadian home. Look around you in your own home now. The things you have depend upon that overseas trade, no matter what your occupation may be. Overseas markets have been lost, and our trade is dangerously threatened by the government's foolish trade and monetary policy. As our trade with Britain and other overseas markets are lost, Canadians are being reassured by the volume of our exports to the United States. We believe in increasing our exports to the United States to the highest possible level. We believe that all Canada's exports can be, and should be, tremendously increased. We know, however, that disastrous results would follow any attempt to depend exclusively upon exports to one nation no matter how friendly that nation may be. The loss of our trade in wheat, lumber, fish, apples, dairy products and the other things that we have been shipping overseas means more than a mere question of dollars and cents. It means a loss of business on the railways, in the seaports, and on the ships which have been carrying this trade to the world. It would dislocate our whole internal trading organization and force serious readjustments of employment with our railways and other transportation services. The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to adopt every practical means to expand our internal trade with the United States and with all other nations where we can sell what we produce. By reciprocal trade agreements we will promote and expand our trade overseas and also with the United States. Particularly we will (a) remove all abnormal trade barriers imposed by way of license, quota, or embargo; (b) remove the arbitrary provisions of the Foreign Exchange Control Act; (c) re-value the Canadian dollar within the limits permitted by the Bretton Woods agreement and seek such modification of those agreements as are necessary to permit our dollar to assist our external trade in the normal way; (d) open negotiations immediately for the purpose of making the dollar and pound convertible, so that we may open and expand our lost overseas markets in the sterling area.

Reduction of Taxes

The greatest encouragement to work, production and trade is the opportunity to receive a fair return from which money can be saved for our families, our homes and provision for the future. Even with high earnings today, our present tax system is making it difficult to save and is greatly increasing the cost of everything we buy. Reduction of taxes and sweeping reforms in our system of taxation are necessary to encourage initiative and reward hard work. With that in mind, the Progressive Conservative Party has undertaken to: (a) increase the personal income tax exemption to at least $2,500 for a married person, and to at least $1,250 for single persons; (b) increase the exemption for dependent children by $200; (c) lower the general rate of personal income tax; (d) allow deductions to farmers for work done by members of the family who share the work of the farm; (e) end the persecution of our people by tax-collectors acting under arbitrary power; (f) encourage development and improvement of small businesses operated by the owner by allowing proper exemption for money which is put into the improvement of the business and not paid out in profits; (g) provide for a graduated reduction in taxes on other small businesses upon the portion of the income left in the business for further development and consequently for the increase of employment; (h) abolish nuisance taxes and make substantial reductions in general sales and excise taxes on necessities.

SECURITY

The Progressive Conservative Party assures security to all Canadians by the following Declaration of Policy:

Security of Employment

We believe that the greatest assurance of employment in Canada is based upon the fullest development of our resources which will create new employment across the whole country and increase the domestic markets for all that we produce. In addition to the discovery and employment of new resources, the remarkable scientific developments of the past few years have greatly widened the use we can make of all the resources we possess. In co-operation with the various provincial governments we will explore every possibility of expanding the opportunities for work by encouraging new types of production.

Contributory Social Security Programme

The Progressive Conservative Party puts forward a contributory social security programme providing the following benefits amongst others:

1. Believing that provision for our senior citizens at a level of payment which will give them a feeling of independence in their retiring years is essential, we have stated that we do not believe that old-age pensions should be regarded as a favour, but should be a right and that no charge should be made on such property as has been saved during their working years, nor should there be any enquiry as to whether some money is being earned by the person receiving the pension. We believe that the laws of the country should not discourage saving during the working years and such work as our people wish to do in their old age. For that reason we provide for old-age pensions at 65 without a Means Test.

2. Unemployment Insurance benefits will be extended to include payments for time lost due to accident or sickness.

3. Adequate medical and hospital care will be provided for our people under a national health programme which will also include the most extensive preventative health services.

4. The same family allowance will be paid for every child, no matter how many children are in the family, and the nutritional and other services for our children will be greatly improved.

These, and other provisions included in our programme, will be worked out in co-operation with the provinces, so that the highly-skilled and experienced public welfare services of the provincial governments will be available.

An Effective Programme for the Construction of Homes

1. Loans and priorities will be made available to those who desire to build their own homes. 2. Low-cost housing can, and will be provided under plans approved by the dominion, provincial and municipal governments which will be administered by the municipalities. 3. The cost of building homes can be reduced by encouraging new types of construction. What is causing so much concern to our people at present is not only the shortage of housing accommodation, but also the excessive cost of small homes, particularly those required by our young people starting out in life. In this respect I might point out that while I was Premier of Ontario we introduced a Housing Act in regard to which the official publication of the Canadian Legion had the following to say and I quote from their editorial: "Veterans everywhere will acclaim the new housing legislation recently enacted in the province of Ontario. In this new housing legislation the Ontario government is blazing new trails, out of which might materialize the long-awaited, over-all plan for the successful solution of the housing problem in every part of the dominion, which the Legion has been pressing for so hard ever since the war ended." The effect and application of this Act was necessarily limited by the overriding authority of the dominion government, which restricted supplies for building homes by their restrictive regulations. We will remove those restrictions and the principles of that Act to which I have referred can be made effective in the wider field by constitutional agreement between the dominion, provincial and municipal authorities who must all play their part in solving this very urgent problem.

Security for our Farmers

Our programme sets out a very complete statement of policy in regard to stability of income for our farmers. I will refer to some of the more important provisions: 1. We undertake to enact floor-price legislation based on the following principles: (a) A definite formula in the Farm Prices Support Act for arriving at floor prices. (b) This formula will allow for variation in production and demand for individual products. (c) Floor prices will be announced well in advance of the production period. (d) The floor price will be arrived at in consultation with representative producers.

We favour the restoration of the Canadian Wheat Board Act of 1935 to serve as a marketing agency for wheat producers. We are in favour of coarse grains as well as wheat being handled on a voluntary basis by the Wheat Board. We assure that producers themselves will decide the method by which their wheat will be handled and sold. This statement of policy, and it is an emphatic statement of policy, is based upon our belief that marketing boards, representative of producer organizations should, and will, determine their own method of marketing. The Wheat Board and all similar producers' boards, will be made up of producers themselves and not be mere agencies of some department of government.

3. We will establish a board of livestock commissioners.

4. We will extend the activities of the Federal Farm Loan Board so that farmers may take advantage of long-term, low-interest rates in the purchase and development of their farms.

5. We will increase the facilities for agricultural research to explore new uses of agricultural products for industrial purposes and in co-operation with provincial Departments of Agriculture conduct thorough studies of contagious animal and plant diseases to reduce the heavy annual loss from this cause.

6. In determining agricultural policy, we will enlist the co-operation of farmers' organizations throughout Canada and those specializing in particular types of production, so that all administrative as well as advisory boards will have representation of those with expert knowledge of the subject upon which they will be asked to deal. These and the other provisions in our agricultural programme are all based upon the belief that the best interests of agriculture throughout Canada can be served under the guidance of those with practical knowledge of each agricultural activity.

Security for Labour

(a) Our national development programme, our proposed tax reform and our plans for the expansion of trade offer the assurance of expanding employment in the years ahead. Good working conditions and satisfactory terms of employment can be assured best by effective laws governing labour relations. In the field of national jurisdiction, the Progressive Conservative Party puts forward a policy based upon the belief that good working conditions for our people and friendly relations between workers and management are not only in the best interests of our workers, but also in the best interests of every Canadian. We believe that the position of labour must be constantly improved and that the security and happiness of all our workers must be protected by legislation which will provide for effective collective bargaining, determination of the mutual rights of workers and management, as well as the conciliation and settlement of difficulties which may arise. With this object in view, we will establish a National Labour Council which will have equal numbers of representatives of labour and management. This council will examine and consider the causes of labour disputes and propose satisfactory solutions for such problems. It will also conduct research into the ways in which labour relations can constantly be improved.

(b) We will provide for greater representation of labour on government boards, commissions, and agencies.

(c) We will encourage profit-sharing plans for the sharing of profits of workers by such adjustment in taxation and otherwise as will encourage plans of this kind.

(d) We will constantly improve the legislation providing for compulsory collective bargaining, certification of labour organizations after a majority vote, machinery for conciliation of disputes, fair and adequate wages, standard hours of work having regard to the nature of the industry concerned, and holidays with pay.

We have also an excellent programme for Security for Veterans

We believe that the government of Canada has no greater responsibility than to make adequate provision for the young men and women who served Canada in two world wars. Our Party has at all times insisted that the promises made during the war to those in service should be carried out in the spirit as well as the letter of the assurances which were given. Our programme therefore gives the following undertakings to our veterans:

(a) To establish a standing committee of the House of Commons on Veterans' Affairs which will regularly review all veterans' problems;

(b) to retain and constantly improve all existing veteran legislation;

(c) to eliminate all unnecessary delays in dealing with veterans and to simplify procedure;

(d) to extend pension benefits to the members of the merchant navy;

(e) to accept as the basis for all decisions the medical category recorded on enlistment and to regard physical condition below that standard during service as the actual result of military service;

(f) to stabilize the pensions of veterans of the First World War, providing for upward revision where the disability has increased;

(g) to increase and extend the provision of war veterans' allowances with an increase in the amount that a veteran may earn over and above the allowance paid.

FREEDOM

Our constitutional freedom is based upon the democratic principle that the people's chosen representatives in Parliament are supreme, and have the final responsibility for all laws which affect the rights of our people. This principle is the corner-stone of all our freedom. The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to put and end to statism in Canada and terminate bureaucratic action by government order-in-council, ministerial proclamation, and departmental regulation. We will restore responsible government answerable to the elected representatives of the people. We believe in the widest possible measure of personal liberty consistent with law, order and the general national welfare. We are opposed to all powers which invest in the government arbitrary control over the rights of the individual. We pledge ourselves to restore the full supremacy of the law and the equality of every citizen under the law. We believe that the closer government is to the people, the better government always is. We are determined to conserve the authority of the provincial and municipal governments over those local affairs which can best be dealt with by men and women who are in intimate contact with them. We are strongly opposed to centralization of legislative and administrative power over local affairs, and to any breach of the constitutional authority of any of the provinces under the British North America Act which made us one nation. On assuming office we will arrange for a dominion-provincial conference to consider all aspects of dominion-provincial relations and establish an effective basis for close and continuing co-operation between all the governments of Canada. We believe that national unity depends upon respect for our federal constitution and the clear definition of the responsibility of the dominion and provincial governments, with assurance of adequate financial resources to carry out those responsibilities and with adequate financial resources to the municipalities to carry out their many very important responsibilities. In preserving our freedom it is essential that freedom of speech be fully protected. For that reason, it must be a matter of concern to all Canadians that the government-owned radio system which plays such an important role in the exchange of ideas should have become a propaganda agency of the government. May I emphasize that in my belief the staff and technical experts of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation are trying to do a good job under utterly impossible conditions. As you know, any attempt on the part of the employees of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to improve the organization only results in immediate disciplinary action. The summary dismissal, for instance, of Mr. Joel Aldred, one of the best known broadcasters of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation just the day before Parliament dissolved, because he had publicly suggested improvements within that organization, is merely an indication of the extent to which free speech is being restrained by the present government. We undertake to restore freedom of speech over the radio as well as otherwise, and to place the supervision of all broadcasting in Canada under an independent administrative body. We further undertake to abolish the license fee on radio receiving sets. We do this because this license fee, which is supposed to be for the services given by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, is unjustified because there are many parts of Canada where our people receive no services from the publicly-owned stations. All our freedom and all our security depend upon our national security and independence. For that reason, one of the first resolutions adopted unanimously by our delegates from every province last October, was an expression of unqualified support for the establishment of a defensive union of the Western Powers, which has since taken form in the North Atlantic Security Pact. Our support of that policy has at all times been stated in the same words and with the same emphasis in every part of Canada. The collective preservation of peace and the combined strength of the free nations now gives increased importance to national defence and the efficiency of our defence forces. We undertake to set up a standing committee on national defence which will keep Parliament and the people informed regarding the state of our defences and will also assure the most effective use of the money we spend for the purpose of providing defence forces.

The points I have covered in these remarks are only some of the progressive, practical and constructive policies which will be put into effect by a Progressive Conservative government. I believe this statement will provide convincing reasons why you should cast your ballot on June 27th for the Progressive Conservative candidate in your own constituency so that the public business of this great country will be handled by a strong, vigorous and progressive government in the years ahead.

Knox WMS Hosts For Lawn Picnic

WMS of Knox Church met in the ladies' parlor with president Mrs. E. Mesley in the chair. The meeting opened with quiet music and prayer Mrs. H. Lewis was pianist. Miss S. Summers reported 29 home and hospital calls. Mrs. McCurdy, the oldest member of the WMS, thanked the ladies for a lovely African violet and card presented on the occasion of her birthday by Mrs. F. Milburn.

Temperance secretary, Mrs. J. Gerard, conducted the worship service assisted by Mrs. R. Hanscom. Mrs. J. Gerard, Mrs. D. Gourley, Mrs. R. Laing, Mrs. H. Lewis, Mrs. Madge Lindsay, Mrs. G. Piper, Miss S. Summers, Mrs Mary Sanderson and Mrs. Sedgwick read famous words about abstinence. A dialogue based on abstinence was presented by Mrs. Gerard and Mrs. Gourley. Literary secretary, Mrs. H. Clegg, led in prayer.

After the meeting the WMS entertained 57 members of the Nettie McKenzie Mission Band at their annual picnic. Mrs. Keith Fairbairn, superintendent, introduced Mrs. W. F. Donaldson, secretary for Mission Bands in Peterborough Presbyterial. Mrs. Donaldson told the children an interesting story of "The Good Shepherd." President of the Band, Dorothy Ann Johnston, moved a vote of thanks for the supper which was served on the church lawn.

The band met in the primary room for a brief service. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by David Ross. Joan Dunn gave a financial statement. Thirty-two members brought gift boxes totaling $12.54. Ronald Sinclair gave a reading "I'm Saving Something." Dennis McDonald recited a poem "Life's Reading." Christine Carol Douglas took up the offering which was dedicated with prayer. Margaret Johnston and June Drummond led in games.

C. G. I. T. Doing's

ST. PAUL'S

The girls, at this their last meeting of the season, reaffiliated with the Woman's Missionary Society.

Mrs. D. T. Diplock and Mrs. C. A. Sollitt, representing the Woman's Missionary Society, and Mrs. W. A. Hinds, representing the Peterborough Girls' Work Board, were present and took part in the service.

Gwen Brown, Jean Smith, Joan Chamberlain, Marion Jones and Norma Bell from the C.G.I.T. each read a portion of the service which was concluded by a very impressive candle lighting ceremony. After Mary Irwin read the Scripture, Mrs. Sollitt presented the members of the group with World Friendship badges as evidence of their association with the WMS.

The president, Grace Hudson, presided during the business when the time was taken up largely with discussion of the breakfast party being held following the Sunrise Service on June 12th when the members of Murray St. CGIT will be their guests. Norma Ball was named convener of the committee to plan this project and she will be assisted by Josephine McMeekin, Jean Smith, Gwen Brown and Mary Hunter.

TRINITY

The President, Joan White, was in the chair for the regular meeting of Trinity CGIT. The worship was taken by Catherine Hodgens who gave a brief talk on prayer.

The girls were pleased to learn that Miss Phyllis Moore is to be the speaker at the annual CGIT Sunrise service being held on Armour Hill, June 12th.

The following girls were named as a committee to make plans for the week-end camp being held June 25th and 26th at the Edmondson cottage, Joan White, Joan Krogh, Joan Hastje, Betty Crowe, Anne Gordon and Marie Woodgate.

After dividing into groups, the Intermediates continued working on their cord belts while the seniors decided to spend $18.00 of their funds towards the expenses of those girls attending Camp Kawartha.

Amundsen-Downes Nuptials At All Saints' Church Today

A lovely wedding took place today in All Saints' Anglican Church, uniting Ruby Constance Downes and Owen Jennings Amundsen. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Downes of Peterborough, and the groom a son of Mr. A. Amundsen and the late Mrs. Amundsen of Claresholm, Alberta.

The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite performed the ceremony. Mrs. A. Logan played the wedding music and Mrs. J. Morley was soloist. Before the ceremony she sang "O Perfect Love" and at the signing of the register, "My World."

The bride's gown was of traditional white satin with lace trimming the yoke and peplum, and had a short train. The fitted bodice had a round neckline, long sleeves coming to points over the wrists and was fastened at the back with small covered buttons. Her veil was of white net with satin trim and fell to train length from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Mr. Downes gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Iris Amundsen of Toronto, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Miss Jean McIntyre was bridesmaid. They were frocked in blue and mauve taffeta and wore bands of flowers in their hair, matching short lace gloves, and carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Mr. Donald Bishop was groomsman. Ushers were Stanley and Walter Downes, brothers of the bride.

The reception following was at the bride's home. Her mother received in a gown of grey crepe with hat of grey straw and corsage of pink carnations.

Later the couple left on a wedding trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls. For travelling the bride wore a blue flowered silk dress in two-piece style, with navy and white accessories and carried a navy topcoat.

British Jail Has Garden For Young Women

By DON GILBERT
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

ASKHAM RICHARD, Yorkshire, England, June 4 — (CP)— A curly-headed youngster sleeps peacefully on the porch of a country house set in 10 acres of landscaped gardens.

On the neatly-clipped lawns, young women read the Sunday papers or chat and smoke. The BBC news can be heard coming from a radio inside.

It could be a summer camp or a girls' recreation centre. But in truth it is a jail with a new look.

Britain's Prison Commissioners decided on a new approach to the problem of rehabilitating girl offenders. They bought Askham Grange, whose 100 oak-panelled rooms had often rung to the gaiety of hunt balls.

They named Mary Size to run the place and told her to make it like no other jail. And Miss Size, warm-hearted although long a prisoner governor, did just that.

Redecorated House

First she had the house done over. Rooms were painted bright Devonshire cream color. Vases of flowers from the gardens were brought in. Sleeping rooms, arranged to accommodate from two to seven girls apiece, were made homelike with personal snapshots. Tables for eight were set up in the dining-room.

Gradually the prison population was built up to 66, all first offenders. Two brought babies with them to the prison. Miss Size called them "a great joy."

The seven matrons call the prisoners by their first names. Makeup is allowed. The girls can buy cigarettes from their prison earnings and newspapers are provided. Card games and ping-pong are among recreation-room diversions and an occasional dance is arranged.

The girls are on a 38-hour work week. They are taught cookery, sewing, housecraft, decorating, laundry work, handicrafts and home nursing. And, of course, they keep the house shipshape.

Although there are no bars and no walls at Askham Grange, there have been no attempted escapes. The girls know they would get no chance to return if caught again. They would go back behind regular prison bars.

And of the 143 women who have graduated from Askham, only two have got into trouble again.

British Uneasy Over Economy

LONDON, June 4 (CP) — Is Britain heading toward an economic decline?

The Labor government says no —that there will be no devaluation of the pound sterling and that the current slackening in British export shipments was expected and can be overcome. But uneasiness persists over both these critical factors in the country's economy.

The pound at present is set at a value of $4.03. The government's decision it should stay there is backed by most newspapers though the Times of London and the Manchester Guardian both have warned that devaluation may be forced unless the price of export goods can be reduced.

Sales to Canada have been increasing, but there have been indications that the export drive is losing its momentum. The Board of Trade, British equivalent of Canada's Trade and Commerce Department, says that can be offset if manufacturers will reduce prices and go after foreign markets more aggressively.

There has been widespread belief that Sir Stafford Cripps, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, has been under United States pressure to reduce the value of the pound and that belief probably fed Thursday's rumor that Sir Stafford was resigning. For him, devaluation would be a personal defeat. However, the rumor was emphatically denied at the Treasury.

WELCOME WCEU HEAD

TORONTO, June 4 (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario will welcome Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, to the Province June 7, it was announced Friday. DOROTHY DIX

Wives Have Perfect Right To Know Husband's Finances

DEAR MISS DIX Wouldn't a man be a sucker to tell a woman how much money he makes and how much he has in the bank? I have been married twice. My first wife took all of my money and ran around with another man. She even bought him a car with my money. I do not approve of a man letting his wife know how much money he makes until they have been married several years. By that time he will have found out if she is honest and can be trusted.

Dorothy Dix

I have never told my second wife how I stand financially, for I don't trust any woman with my secrets. A wife asking her husband questions about his business will break up a love affair, because it makes the husband wonder if she is just a gold-digger. There are many angles to the husband's side of the money problem.

W. R. M.

ANSWER: I don't think a man is a sucker to make a confidante of his wife. I think he is a sucker to marry a woman who has so little brains and so little honor and honesty that he can't trust her to play fair with him. Undeniably there are women who are petty thieves who go through their husbands' pockets at night, who pad the grocery bills and even rob the baby's piggy bank to get money for their own devises.

Also, there are wives who blab all the family secrets and to whom a husband cannot tell anything about his affairs without having it spread all over the neighborhood. But when a man gets this sort of wife he has brought his misfortune down on his own head. He should have done some investigating before marriage and found out how trustworthy Pretty Face was.

Many Angles

You are quite right in saying there are many angles to the husband's side of the money problem, and the most acute one of them all, and the angle on which many wives are impaled, is the strange belief that so many men have that wives have no right to the money they earn by their hard labor. Housewives with children are the only laborers who have a 24-hour working day, with no Sundays or holidays off.

Also, men are sold to the belief that wives have no shame in having to panhandle their husbands for every penny and being compelled to tell what they did with that quarter that they were given week before last. Of course, in the end a man's family does get most of what he earns, but a lot of wives have to sweat blood to get it.

Maybe the reason that so many wives are naggy is because their husbands don't trust them with their secrets, or their pocketbooks

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Do you think it possible for a girl to fall truly in love with a man who is twice her age? The girl is settled in her ways and has never cared for young men. The man is a widower with married children. This man and girl have spent two years in happy companionship and are most congenial.

What is you advice, to marry or not?

HELEN H.

ANSWER: As a general thing it is a mistake for a girl to marry a man who is that much older than she is, because while he may seem in the prime of life when they marry, he is an old man by the time she reaches the prime of life.

But you cannot always go by calendar age. It is just as much a matter of the spirit as of years. A quiet, settled, sedate girl is middle-aged in her mind in her twenties, and an older man is a more suitable mate for her than a boy of her own age would be.

Therefore, in this particular case, I think the girl will be quite safe in marrying the man, and that they will be happy and congenial mates.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you think of the anonymous, mean letter-writer?

ONE WHO HAS BEEN HURT

ANSWER: The anonymous letter-writer is a cowardly assassin who, under cover of the darkness and the certainty of being undiscovered, stabs his victim in the back. I think there are no more contemptible creatures than those wielders of the poisoned pen who attack from ambush, who write the scurrilous things to which they are ashamed to sign their names, who disseminate scandals that they are too craven to be responsible for, and who make infamous charges that they have not the courage to back up.

The anonymous letter is invariably venomous. It is conceived in envy and born to malignity, and it finds its only happiness in wrecking the happiness of others. May God show mercy on the Judgment Day to all such despicable creatures as the anonymous letter-writers.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Miss Ruby Downes Much Honored

Many friends have entertained for Miss Ruby Downes in honor of her marriage to Mr. Owen Amundsen which took place today.

Miss Peggy Houghton and her sister, Mrs. Thos. Rosbush were joint hostesses at the former's home, 545 Murray St., for a miscellaneous shower. A prettily decorated umbrella was over the bride's chair with all the gifts attached. Miss Jean McIntyre, 535 Sherbrooke St., gave a shower, and Miss Gladys Langton, 323 Simcoe St., was hostess for another shower at which she was assisted by Misses Shirley Potts, Joyce Langton and Rachael Duchaine.

The bride and groom were guests of honor at a dinner party at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Wm. Jones, Cambridge St. Very lovely gifts were presented by the friends present, among them Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fleming and son Billie of Williams Lake, Pontiac, Michigan, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cweikel and sons Wilfred and Teddy of Milford, Mich.

Knox Church Young People's Association honored the couple with presentation of a coffee table which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Chartren, Sherbrooke St. W.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You know one couple you like very much but who are always late, even for dinner invitations.

WRONG WAY: Don't invite them to your house when you have other guests.

RIGHT WAY: Since you do like them there is no reason to stop inviting them to your home. Either invite them to come earlier than the other guests, or plan a meal that won't be spoiled if it has to be held for a while.

Stark-Logan Union At Janetville

A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday, June 1st, at Janetville United Church parsonage by the Rev. G. Julian, when Dorothy E., elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Logan, Manvers, was united in marriage with John B. Stark, younger son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Stark of Newtonville.

The bride was attired in a navy afternoon dress with navy and grey accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses and white snapdragon.

Attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Joyce Logan, dressed in light blue with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and snapdragon, and the groom's brother, Mr. Jim Stark of Newtonville.

Following the ceremony, 36 guests attended a reception at Hoopers' Palm Rooms, Peterborough. The bride's mother received wearing a gown of grey jersey with matching accessories. She was assisted by the groom's sister, Mrs. Gordon Power of Orono, wearing a gown of navy crepe with matching accessories. They both wore corsages of pink carnations and snapdragon.

The bride and groom left by motor for Gananoque and from there are taking a boat trip through the Thousand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark will reside at Newtonville.

Bridal Shower

Mrs. Carlyle Murray, Miss June Clark and Mrs. Neis Foster were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the latter's home, 581 Arndon Ave., given for Miss Audry Clark, whose marriage to Mr. Cameron Bothwell takes place on June 11. Gifts were presented in a prettily decorated basket. Those present were Mesdames Earl Clark, Ed. Ballantyne, Bernard Preston, Harry Bothwell, Wm. White, James Clark, Joe. Sexsmith, Milton D. Clements, F. Ainsley, McMann and Walker Fair. Misses Audry Sargent, Marjorie Clark, Dorothy Roberts, Betty LeVaoie, and Grace Stewart. Those unable to attend who sent gifts were Mesdames J. Preston, O. Monson, Waite, O. Kidd, O. Murray and Miss Helen Waite.

MR. PETER THOMAS, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas of 137 Lake St., and Miss Hazel Billing, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Billing of Redruth, Cornwall, England, whose engagement is announced. Miss Billing was elected Carnival Queen of Redruth in August last year and was runner-up for the crown in the county of Cornwall.

Election June 27

LIBERALS

HERE ARE SOME OF THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT'S "ACHIEVEMENTS"

- Soaring prices
- No low rent housing program
- No health insurance
- No plans to meet mass unemployment
- Loss of our best farm markets
- No national labour code

CONSERVATIVES

THE CONSERVATIVES AT OTTAWA VOTED AGAINST:

- Health Insurance (March 9, 1949)
- Subsidized low rental housing (May 20, 1948)
- Price controls (March 4, 1948)
- Orderly marketing of farm products (Mar. 9, 1949)
- Rent controls (March 16, 1949)
- Marketing to Great Britain under contract (March 25, 1949)

CCF

The CCF, like the British Labour Party, keeps its promises.
Within three years of taking office in Saskatchewan
the CCF introduced a province-wide health plan for all its people, the best labour laws in Canada and low-cost automobile insurance.
The CCF national program provides for low-cost housing, national health insurance and a national labour code.
Only the CCF is a people's party. LABOUR WILL VOTE CCF.

Award Tenders To Drive Pupils

LAKEFIELD, June 4 (ENS)—Main item of interest at the Lakefield District High School Board meeting this week was the receiving of tenders for transporting the students from outlying districts to school. Six applications were received, with the following offers accepted unanimously by the Board: From the Nepheline Mine to the school, Frank Coyle was given the contract at a cost of $22.50 per school day. Lakehurst, Buckhorn via Selwyn, with feeder lines from Rockcroft and the Oregon Trail, Sherman Pearson, at $24 per school day. Apsley to Lakefield, Roy Brown at cost of 55 cents per pupil, minimum of 42 pupils, maximum of 45, or $23.10 per school day.

Principal R. E. Sutton reported attendance fo r May at the High School 131, average 95.8 per cent.

The erection of a temporary class room was discussed, with F. L. Erskine and Mr. Sutton reporting on their visit to the temporary rooms at Peterborough Collegiate.

Boy's Leg Fractured When Hit By Car

Harold Scott, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott, residents of R.R. 3, Peterborough (Warsaw Road), is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a fractured leg and a cut on the forehead, sustained when he was struck by a car in front of his home at 9.45 p.m. on Friday.

Investigation by Provincial Constable H. Cooke revealed that the boy dashed out in front of the car without looking to see if there were any cars coming. The driver of the car was John Ainsworth, 2247 Dundas St. W., Toronto. He stopped his car within eight feet, but was unable to avoid striking the child. Mr. Ainsworth rushed the boy to hospital, with the lad's father accompanying them. Constable Cooke said no blame could be attached to the driver for the accident.

Dr. Robert Young, attending physician, stated that the boy's condition was satisfactory, but that it would be necessary to operate on the leg on Monday to set it, as there were two broken bones between knee and ankle. A metal plate would have to be inserted, the doctor said.

Big Bell In Chimes Did Flip Over

Richard Ford was ringing the bells at St. John's Church this morning, but it was for an altogether different reason than usual. During the winter the great ringing bell, weighing over 2 tons, flipped over and hung down. Its normal position is inverted like a cup, but the cold of a Peterbougn winter tightened the rope, the grease, and the bell itself, causing it to fall from its normal resting position.

Mr. Ford had three husky men, his son Fred, Ed Pinn and Jim Brown, help him, but they could not get the bell back. The bell's position makes it almost impossible to get a tone out of it, and since it is hard work to ring the bells at any time, this only makes it worse.

Marketing Scheme

TORONTO, June 4 (CP) —Proposal for a marketing scheme to handle Ontario fall wheat has been endorsed by the Ontario Agricultural Council. The suggestion was advanced by the Kent County Federation of Agriculture. Arthur Wilson of Chatham and Deputy-Reeve Edgard Martin of Painscourt said that the move would be advantageous because Ontario wheat does not come under the Canadian wheat board and does not have a floor price.

Need Place For Religion

TORONTO, June 4 (CP) —Rev. Allan Ferry said Friday that a temple of religion should be erected at the Canadian National Exhibition, to be open at all times to all denominations at the time of the exhibition. In his address at the Toronto Conference of the United Church of Canada, he said "There is everything at the CNE from hula dancers and fat ladies — but there is no place for religion."

Liberals Follow Middle Course Says Pearson

CAMPBELLFORD, June 4 — (ENS)—"The Liberal government does not deal with extremists on its right or left but steers a straight course right down the centre; Hon. Lester B. Pearson, Minister of External Affairs, said at an enthusiastic Liberal rally in the Masonic Temple Friday night.

He said that the foreign policies of the Liberal party should be allowed to continue because our relations with other countries were never better than at present. "Our leader," he declared, "does not claim to be the architect of the Atlantic Pact, but he did more than any other man to bring it into being."

War Danger Lessened

The Minister stated that last autumn the situation in Europe was very inflammable. Things had eased, he said, because the Atlantic Pact had demonstrated to Communistic countries the determination of Democratic states to preserve their liberties.

Only through a Liberal administration can national unity be preserved, the Minister declared. "Unless there is mutual respect between our two races the future destiny of our country will be undermined," he said.

We are expending our trade with the United States," he declared, "and have signed advantageous agreements with other countries. Problems of trade at the present time are difficult to solve but we effectively deal with them before they become too serious."

"What has the opposition to offer?" the Minister asked. "Drew argues that foreign markets can be secured through the free exchange of the dollar and pound. This is unworkable at the present time because European countries do not export enough goods to be able to extensively import from abroad," he said.

Praises Leader

Mr. Pearson paid a glowing tribute to the Liberal leader. He said that he had served under the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent as his deputy and had found him a man of great distinction both in private and public life. "I would rather serve under a leader," the minister said, "than under a man who sought the job."

The candidate, Dr. Fred Robertson of Cobourg, briefly addressed the meeting. He said that he believed in the social security measures of the Liberal party and pledged himself to do all he could for the veterans of the two world wars.

"I am a friend of labor," he stated, "and believe that working men should be given fair wages, have the right to form unions and to bargain collectively with their employers."

W. A. Fraser, ex-M.P., Trenton, spoke at some length on Liberal policies. Hon. Mr. Pearson was introduced by W. A. Fraser and the candidate by chairman W. A. Hogle.

Gets 10-Year Term

MONTREAL, June 4 (CP) — Jean Marie (the Cat) Beaudin who robbed 19 Montreal homes before police caught up with him, Friday was sentenced to a total of 410 years in penitentiary—but he will only serve 10. Beaudin, nicknamed "the Cat" by police because he eluded them so often, pleaded guilty to 41 charges of burglary, theft and receiving and was given 10-year concurrent sentences on each count.

Abused His Horse

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP) — Rodeo producer Herman Linder Friday was found guilty of "unnecessary abuse" to a horse and was fined $100 or 30 days. The cruelty charge, second in two days against Linder, arose from the spurring and injury to the shoulder of a horse during a bronc busting contest. The court Thursday dismissed a charge of cruelty to a calf.

Falls Off Ladder

WARKWORTH, June 4—(ENS)—Whil repairing the roof of his sisters' home here Frank Gallagher, who was visiting them, received a broken wrist and injured his face and hip when he fell off the ladder.

Mr. Gallagher was trying to take another ladder up with him to slide over the roof when he felt the ladder he was standing on, slipping. Immediately, he let go the extra ladder and jumped and landed on the ground on his face and side.

Doctors F. B. Brintnell and R. F. Jolliffe were summoned and administered first aid and the next day he was taken to Belleville General Hospital where he received further treatment.

Lakefield's Streets Free Of Accidents

Until Sunday, when a seven-year-old child was knocked down by a car and suffered a fractured leg, Lakefield streets had been free from accidents since the beginning of the year.

By the time June 1 arrives each year damage caused by traffic accidents in the village usually amounts to at least $2,000, says Chief Constable Garnet Samis. This year, total damage to vehicles driven in the village amounts to no more than $30. There were three minor incidents between January 1 and June 1 resulting in nothing more serious than scratched fenders.

This time last year $4,000 of damage had been caused on Lakefield streets.

The incident which spoilt the village's record occurred Sunday morning when Donna Farrow, daughter of Roy Farrow of Lakefield, ran across the street in front of a car, as she was on her way home from Sunday School. Walking home with her father and two other children, she ran on a short distance ahead and darted into the road without warning. Now she is in a hospital in Peterborough.

Farmer In Hospital Neighbors All Help

The old spirit of the Cavan Blazers in days gone by of helping needy farmers and windows was re-enacted this week in Cavan township when farmers held a bee on the farm of Harry Magee just east of Ida. Both Mr. and Mrs. Magee are in hospital so the neighbors banded together and went to work with a will. In the barnyard was a great pile of manure waiting to be spread on the land so a loader was moved in and five farmers arrived with their spreaders. In three days time they had the yard cleaned up. It was Harry Magee's loader that was used and those helping were Harry Magee, son of the owner, Maurice Magee, another son who lives on another farm, Donald McIndoo, Arthur Bryans and Russell Earle.

29 Of Crew Aboard

HALIFAX, June 4 (CP) —A 29-man Seafarers' International Union (AFL) crew Friday boarded the freighter St. Malo in Halifax harbor after she had been moved into the stream by ship's officers. The freighter was the last vessel tied up here by the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) strike, called March 31 against east coast deep-sea shipping operators.

Blames Vein Infection

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 4 (AP) — A New York doctor claimed Friday that many diseases whose causes are considered obscure can be cured or prevented by removal of infections from veins. Among the diseases he listed apoplexy, arthritis, sinusitis rheumatism, glaucoma, (hardening of the eyeball) phlebitis in the leg and thromboses (disease caused by blood clots getting into vital organs.) This report was made by D. Otta Meyer, vein specialist, who said he finds the principal infections in jugular veins.

Anglicans Plan Special Week

The annual visitation of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, MA, DD, to the Deanery of Peterborough, will be held during the coming week. Bishop Beverley will be assisted by the Rt. Rev. G. A. Wells, DD, CMG, VD, one-time Bishop of Cariboo and principal Protestant Chaplain during the last war. Their program will be as follows:

The Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley will be on Sunday, June 5—11 a.m. at St. Luke's, Peterborough, 7 p.m. at St. John's, Peterborough; Monday, June 6—8 p.m. at St. George's, Peterborough; Tuesday, June 7—6:30 p.m., supper meeting for the clergy and laymen from the Deanery to be held in All Saints' Parish Hall, Peterborough. The Venerable F. J. Sawers, DD, Director of Church Extension, will also be present from Toronto. And on Wednesday, June 8—at St. Aidan's, Young's Point.

The Rt. Rev. G. A. Wells will be on Sunday, June 5—11 a.m. at All Saints', Peterborough, 7 p.m. at Christ Church, Campbellford; Monday, June 6—8 p.m. at Christ Church, Norwood; Friday, June 10—2 p.m. at Grove School, Lakefield; and 8 p.m. at St. John the Baptist, Lakefield.

Need Food Knowledge

TORONTO, June 4 (CP) —The Ontario Interdepartmental Nutrition Committee doesn't think parents, especially fathers, know enough about feeding children. At a meeting here Thursday the committee mapped its campaign to distribute literature on nutrition activities to 30 organizations representing medical, dental, welfare and women's groups.

ASTHMA
NEW TREATMENT
YES
a new treatment which you should try for yourself. Mr. Walter Cross, of Vancouver writes, "If there is a better respiratory remedy in the world to-day, I have yet to discover it and in my search for relief, I have tried just about everything possible. Just one trial size of ten Respatone tablets gave me infinite relief from difficult breathing and it should be brought to the notice of all sufferers just how good these little tablets are!" Respatone tablets will help cut short the worst spasmodic attack in 30 seconds and restore easy breathing in 15 to 30 minutes and most probably give you immunity from further attacks for extensive periods. Also recommended for bronchial asthma, nigh coughing, chest tightness, wheeziness. Try Respatone to-day. Your druggist should have his supplies by now but in case of difficulty write to Spa... wood Pharmaceuticals Ltd., Dept P... P.O. Box 116, Victoria, B.C. Economy size 100 tablets $5.00, bottle 30 tablets $1.75, trial size $ .75

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Important Lesson To Farmers In The International Conference At Guelph — Millbrook Fair Wednesday, June 10 — Ayrshire Breeders' Meeting Attended By 150 — First Report Of TB Infection In Second General Test.

The international conference of representatives of agricultural producers at the OAC in Guelph this week presents a colorful and impressive lesson for every farmer in the possibilities of unity and organization.

Whatever may be the practical and concrete accomplishments of the sessions, the fact that more than a score of nations have sent delegates to Canada is a development that was not foreseen when the basis of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture was being laid slightly more than a decade ago.

Peterborough farmers were among the first in Ontario to organize a county branch. Those who attended the initial meeting at the Court House will remember the simple circumstances of their coming together in the general hope of bringing into that body of farmers which gradually emerged into the Canadian Federation, and its powerful constituent the Ontario Federation.

The salient lesson from that recollection is simply another illustration of the counsel of faith and effort that it can be done. Few of the farmers of the county branches will make the trip to Guelph, but the general membership will understand that they are not needed there. This is a meeting of delegates, and the Canadian farmers have their own deputies, including the president of the national Federation, Herb H. Hannam, to whose prudent and persevering leadership much of the credit of the international conference is due.

It is to be hoped that the farmers of this country who helped create the Federation will not lose sight of themselves as an essential part of the international organization. They should find a great stimulus of support of their local group from this conclave of agriculturists representing millions of farmers like themselves with similar ideals and desires and hopes.

150 MEMBERS IN KCMS

Kawartha Co-operative Medical Services has increased to approximately 150, Mr. John Edmison reported this week.

A member's admission to a hospital of his choice requires only the presentation of his membership card. That is how simple it is.

The requirement is set out as follows: "The member or dependent shall present his membership card when applying to any hospital for hospitalization, and as soon thereafter as possible shall notify the Co-operative of his admission to the hospital."

KCMS fees are: for standard ward—$9 for a single person, and $18 for a family group; semi-private ward: $12 for a single person and $24 for a family

Here is another regulation: "The number of days hospitalization to which the member or a dependent shall be entitled during the first year the contract is in force shall be 51 days; and during the second and succeeding years shall be 60 days plus 10 additional days for each full year the contract has been in force up to a maximum of 210 days in any one year, etc. . . ."

Benefits are all explained in the contract. They include bed, board and routine nursing services in a semi-private room for the number of days provided at a rate not exceeding $6.50 a day; use of operating room, anesthesia equipment and materials, oxygen therapy, dressing and plaster cast materials, and various other services.

The member always has the choice of any hospital in the province.

A condition of membership requires a group of not less than ten persons, such, for example, as persons and families in a school section; Women's Institute, Farm Forum, and so on. Mr. Edmison said he was available to any groups in the county considering membership.

Present membership includes three school sections in Otonabee, and three others in Smith, and a Springville group in North Monaghan.

For their own benefit and protection farmers are urged to take advantage of this co-operative plan of medical services. The sponsorship came from the Federation of Agriculture, and follows the adoption of this sharing of hospital costs in many other counties of Ontario.

AYRSHIRE BREEDERS MEET

The nine calves sold at the district Ayrshire breeders' twilight meeting Wednesday at the farm of Earl Rosborough in Smith, averaged $122.50, ranging from $85 to the peak of $150.

Nearly 150 people attended this second annual evening program. Everything about the premises of the Rosborough farm was decidedly attractive and in fine condition, earning many compliments for Mr. and Mrs. Rosborough. The program included a judging competition in two classes of cows and heifers.

R. S. Meiklejohn of Smith was the buyer of "Green Rock Columbine" at $150 from the herd of Charles Naylor of Hampton. W. J. Peoples of Havelock paid $135 for the heifer calf "Cathie M," bred and consigned by W. Clarence Mann of Smith.

Earl Rosborough's calf "Hylandrose Willus" went to Harry Jackson of Omemee for $130. Two of the sale entries sold for $125 each, and there were several others at $122.50 and $120.

FIELD DAY AT MAPLE

Maple Cattle Breeders field day will be June 14, at the association's grounds. Byron Jenvey of Ingersoll will be the main speaker in the afternoon program. His subject "Planned Breeding," has been presented at other meetings, and was included by request in this field day proceedings.

The Maple Association is now the largest artificial breeding unit in Canada, embracing the counties of Dufferin, Halton, Peel, Simcoe, York, Ontario, Victoria and Peterborough. One of the latest purchases was "Montvic Rag Apple Paragon", sire of a world's record heifer, recently bought by Mrs. E. J. Meagher's Graymar Farms at Oakville for a sum "well up in four figures."

The officers of the association will be present, including the new chief technician, Dr. J. T. Doyle. More than 600 farmers attended the field day last year during the Toronto Exhibition.

THAT CORNELL TRIP

Bus accommodation for the Junior Farmers' three-day trip to Cornell University, June 17, 18, 19, is provided for 37 persons. Miss Evelyn Scott of the local office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, reports 28 applications from young men and women who intend going. Some have been by telephone, but all the others were made personally and with the cash on the line. Evidently, bus space will soon be entirely taken.

MILLBROOK FAIR, JUNE 8

As a member of the Peterborough agricultural family, in spite of municipal boundary lines, the directors of Millbrook Agricultural Society are expecting a crowd of folks from the city and adjoining townships at their livestock show Wednesday, June 8.

This is the centennial of the society's annual fair which is to be marked in a special way by the unveiling of a decorative pylon commemorating the 100 years' history and service of this farm organization. Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare in the provincial government, will formally open the fair and unveil the pylon, the cost of which has been largely borne by a grant from the government for rural fairs that round out a century.

This livestock show features a wide range of horses in the Clydesdale, Percheron and heavy harness classes; also thoroughbred, standard bred and hackneys, saddle horses, ponies and light harness classes.

Peterborough District Jersey Breeders make a field day of the Millbrook Fair, and have the dairy section to themselves. The beef classes comprise Shorthorns, Herefords and Aberdeen Angus, and the Quinte-Kawartha Yorkshire Breeders' Club take charge of the swine section.

Gordon Staples is president of the fair; Bruce Sargent, secretary-manager, and Percy Bentley is treasurer. With good weather there should be a big attendance.

SEVERAL T.B. REACTORS

First T.B. reactors are reported this week in the second general test of the herds of Peterborough county. Inspection up to June 1 extended over 86 herds totalling 1,326 head. One herd has been found infected, with two reactors.

In Victoria county 11 herds of 364 cattle have been inspected, disclosing one reactor in one infected herd.

NEED ADEQUATE INCOME

Lord John Boyd-Orr of Great Britain said at an Ottawa luncheon that prices had been the main problem of agriculture, and only in wartime did producers receive something near a fair return for their labors. Even then, the returns of agriculture did not rise to proper levels.

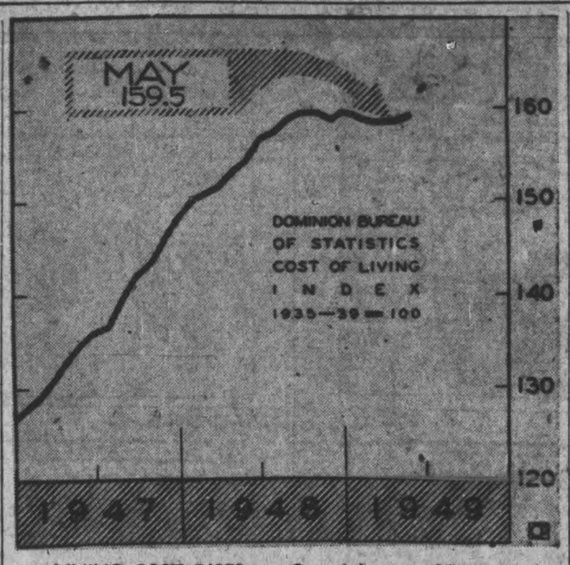
"All the farmer can do in a slump is to extend his production in an attempt to earn more and thus make the position worse, or he can throw up the sponge and go out altogether. Agriculture provides industry with its big market, and yet when a slump comes agriculture takes the knock first. In the United States soya beans and corn prices are down 40 per cent from last year, but the reduction in cost to the farmer, of things he has to buy, is only two per cent.

We can't go back to another slump in agricultural prices. The world will not stand for another economic crisis like that the Communists hope for. The only way to fight it is to maintain prices for agricultural products and keep the plow going"

At London, Ont., Sir James Turner of Britain, president and one of the founders of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, suggested that if world problems were left to farmers they might be brought to effectual solution.

"There is a common basic philosophy among farmers that the land shall be used for the well-being of the people at large; that we shall use it and improve and leave it better than it was when we got it."

+ + +



A select group of men are hard at work devising methods of putting more money in the farmer's pocket by salvaging farm waste and surpluses. Very little is heard of them for the science they are engaged in is virtually unknown. It is called "chemurgy"—that branch of applied chemistry devoted to industrial utilization of organic materials, especially farm products.

The accomplishments of chemurgic chemists are making history. Take straw for example. Millions of tons are set afire annually by prairie farmers because they could find little use for it. Recently, two scientists in Peoria, Illinois, developed a new method of processing wheat straw into high grade paper and pulp board. This will place insulating board from straw in a position to compete with similar material made from wood.

Another chemist, Carl Miner, sought to find out how waste corncobs and oat hulls could contribute to better living. After years of experimental work he discovered a chemical from these called "furfural" which has become an important ingredient in the manufacture of petroleum, nylon, synthetic resins and antiseptics.

In Idaho, a potato growing community is richer by $5,000,000 each year because of a new industry which manufactures white starch from culled potatoes. In Canada the national chemurgic committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is knee deep in chemurgic research with the National Research Council. A recent project involved the use of excess wheat in the manufacture of starch and dried gluten.

While the above are only a few examples of chemurgic research they are enough to indicate the continuing importance of farming to the national economy.

LIVING COST RISES — Canada's cost-of-living index continuing its upward trend of the last two months climbed another fifth of a point during April to reach 159.5 as of May 1. It rose one-tenth of a point during March to reach 159.3. The increase in April was attributed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics to seasonal rises in the cost of foods.

Aircraft Carrier Strikes Rock Off Halifax, Free Magnificent In 4 Hours

Navy Planning To Hold Official Inquiry Into Ship's Grounding, Fear Out Of Commission For Whole Summer

By GORD PEPPER

HALIFAX, June 6—(CP)—The navy will hold an official inquiry "in the near future" into the grounding Saturday night of the aircraft carrier Magnificent off Nova Scotia's south shore. Findings will be made public. The 14,000-ton carrier was freed with the help of the destroyer Nootka four hours after running aground at 8 p.m. 150 yards off White Point Beach, 70 miles southwest of Halifax. None of the 1,100-man crew was hurt.

The navy released no details of the clear-weather mishap. An officer aboard the carrier said Canada's capital ship ran aground on "submerged uncharted rock." She was travelling at about 12 knots toward night anchorage off the coast.

Magnificent limped into Halifax Sunday. Extent of the damage was not known but some of the ship's compartments were flooded and an officer said "it looks as if we'll be in drydock all summer."

Avoid Collision

Magnificent and the destroyers Nootka and Haida, on exercises off the Nova Scotia coast for a week, were moving in line astern when the carrier hit. Nootka and Haida had to veer sharply port and starboard to avoid a collision.

Commodore G. R. Miles of Rothesay, N. B., Magnificent's captain, had the carrier's load shifted aft. The ship rocked back and forth in the heavy swell.

Haida broke a cable trying to pull Magnificent free but Nootka had better luck.

Hundreds of persons lined the shore road to watch the operation.

The 690-foot-long carrier was built in Belfast in 1944 and was commissioned in the Canadian Navy two years ago.

Canada Trades Right With U.S. In Air Agreement

OTTAWA, June 6—(CP)—Canada and the United States have traded concessions for each other's commercial airlines in a near air agreement.

The dominion got three new air routes across U.S. territory—two of them to overseas points. In return, she gave the U.S. new traffic rights at Edmonton and in Newfoundland and two new routes into Canada.

The pact, signed here Saturday, becomes effective at once for an unstated length of time.

For Canadian air lines, it opens up a new route to Australasia — now being flown experimentally by Canadian Pacific Air Lines — and gives Trans-Canada Air Lines permission to take on and discharge passengers and cargo in Florida on its flights to the Caribbean. It also gives TCA a new Montreal-New York flight, previously flown only by Colonial Airlines, A U.S. Company.

Talks Open In April

It culminated from negotiations which began last April, after Newfoundland joined confederation. The union put U.S. traffic rights at Gander and two U.S. military bases — Argentina and Stephenville — under Canadian jurisdiction.

Canada gets:

1. Traffic rights at Tampa, Fla., on flights to the Caribbean.
2. Traffic rights at Honolulu on flights to Australia and New Zealand.

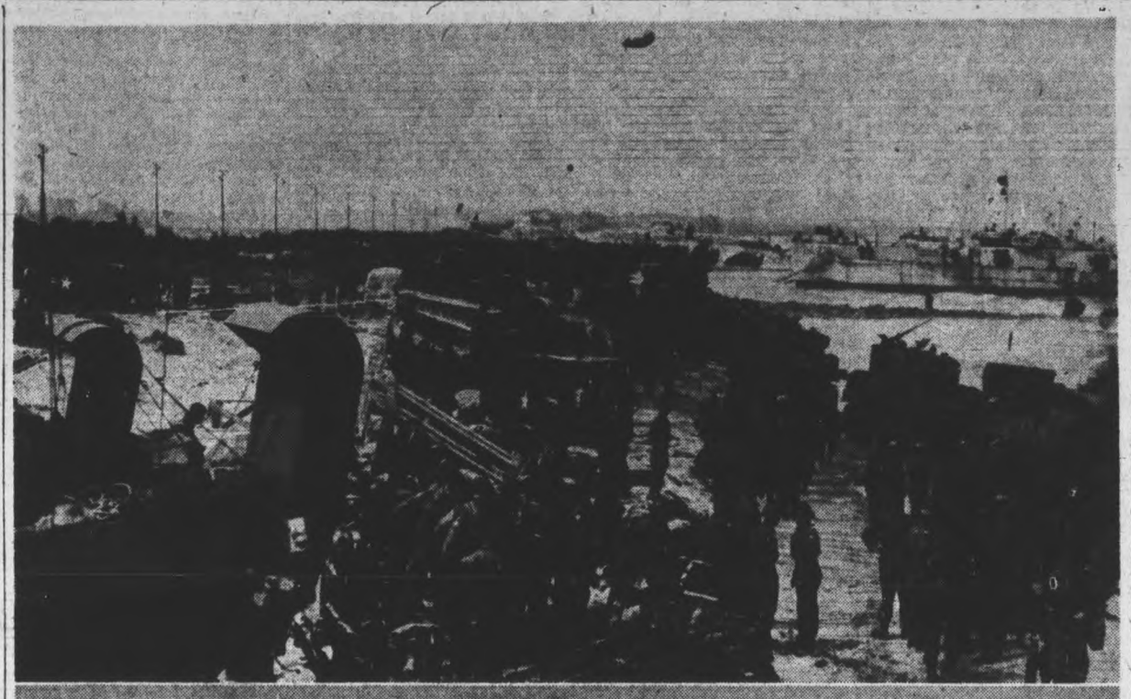
King's Birthday Quiet Holiday

By The Canadian Press.

Minus pomp and fanfare, Canadians today officially celebrated the birthday of the King. They did it quietly.

Although the King's birthday is December 14, the celebration date was set back as customary until a more timely day.

Governor General Alexander sent a message of good wishes from Canada to His Majesty. Closing of schools, government offices and banks generally coincided throughout the Dominion but most other businesses were open.



In Ottawa civil servants swarmed into the Gatineau Hills and the Ottawa Valley for a day of fishing, opening of summer cottages or just relaxing.

Grill Captain, Crew Of Polish Vessel

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—The Polish luxury liner Batory, on which Communist Gerhart Eisler fled the United States, was scheduled to sail today as United States officials concluded questioning of the captain and crew.

Of the 683 passengers who arrived on the Batory Saturday, 111 remained in custody of immigration officials pending further investigation.

Four crew members were taken off the ship under armed guard Sunday. They and Captain Jan Cwiklinski were grilled for several hours at the United States immigration offices but were returned to the liner late Sunday night.

D-DAY ANNIVERSARY—June 6, 1944 is a day that will linger long in the memory of the Canadian troops who took part in the invasion of Normandy. The ABOVE photos give a graphic illustration of the change which has taken place on the invasion beaches across which so many gallant Canadians fought their way to victory. Bus Turns Over West Of Madoc

BELLEVILLE, June 6—(CP)—Twenty-eight passengers of a Toronto-bound Hollinger lines chartered bus escaped serious injury Sunday night when the vehicle swerved to avoid a car and turned over in the ditch five miles west of Madoc. The bus slid along the ditch on its side.

Injured are Leonard Thompson, sprained ankle and bruised shoulder; T. Freeman, and F. Newman, scalp cuts, all of Toronto; and G. Hanson, Westhill, glass cuts in his left arm.

Passengers of the bus were members of a Toronto Crusaders Club which had sepnt the weekend at an Ottawa river resort in the Renfrew District.

Driver of the bus, H. Woolley of Toronto, said he had been forced to swerve the bus to avoid hitting a car which drove onto the highway from the sideroad. Police said the driver of the car was Charles Whytock of Madoc.

Rule Rationing System Illegal In Australia

CANBERRA, June 6 (Reuters)—A high court ruling today declared Australia's gasoline rationing system illegal and cast doubts on the validity of controls on butter and tea.

The court found that some of the powers of the federal government under wartime defence regulations had lapsed and also ruled invalid regulations on the employment of women and housing rights of ex-servicemen.

Private motorists are facing chaos. A government spokesman declared the government now had no way of ensuring fair distribution, while some Melbourne filling stations began to supply gasoline without coupons.

The legality of the rationing scheme was tested in a court case in which a Queensland man, charged with obtaining 112 gallons of gasoline outside the rationing regulations, had his case dismissed.

Pearson Says UN Showing Growing World Influence

SYRACUSE, N.Y., June 6 (CP)—Canada's External Affairs Minister, L. B. Pearson, said today the United Nations "though it may have little power" has a growing influence in world affairs.

No one could pretend that the United Nations, at the present time, could stop a big power determined to go to war.

But the organization is constantly exerting its influence on world affairs and should be used so that "even with its limited resources it can serve the high purpose for which it was founded," he said in an address prepared for delivery before a Syracuse university convocation. He received an honorary degree from the university.

He said it was obvious the U.N. does not fulfill its primary purpose—"to guarantee the security of its members."

The U.N.'s difficulties were objectives different from ours, caused because the "U.S.S.R. has and because they have methods with which we are not familiar . . ."

In spite of this, he said, the experiment must be continued because an international organization without all of the great powers "will inevitably be unreal and impractical."

By realizing its limitations, it was able to "perform certain impeace which have been assigned portant tasks of maintaining to it, even though at present it formant said Molotov was given lacks the power to impose its decisions."

The work of the U.N. in Indonesia, Palestine and Kashmir had "not been very dramatic or spectacular" but it had prevented major conflicts. Three principles emerged from mediation in these disputes which showed how the U.N. could function.

Lift Import Ban to Aid Britain

OTTAWA, June 6—(CP)—In a move expected to increase British sales to Canada by nearly $1,500,000 a year, the Finance Department Sunday night announced removal of import restrictions on a range of secondary items. The controls come off July 1. It is believed their removal was designed principally to help the United Kingdom's campaign to boost exports to dollar areas.

The items include such things as perfumes, flatware, small household appliances and electrical goods, vases, desk sets and paper products. It is understood British officials asked Trade Minister Howe for removal on controls on many of the articles during his recent trip overseas.

Department officials said the lifting of controls will not mean greater expenditures of United States dollars. Importers from dollar areas must import the commodities under their present quotas. But the move will give importers a wider variety of items from which to choose.

Also included are jewelry, cigaret lighters, ash trays, public-address systems, electric razors, beverage dispensing and mixing equipment, stationery, electric fans and electric heating pads, paper hats and paper party equipment and decorations, fountain pens and water heaters.

Non-dollar areas which will be allowed to ship to Canada under open general permit include all countries but: Cuba, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti, Panama, El Salvador, Switzerland, Russia, Venezuela and the United States.

Montreal Architect Denies Aiding Russian Spy In US

WASHINGTON, June 6—(CP)—Hazen Sise, Montreal architect, was named Sunday by Elizabeth T. Bentley as a member of a team which supplied information to the Russian government during the war. The charges levelled by the former Russian Courier, were denied by Sise who said he could not recall ever having met Miss Bentley.

The 43-year-old Sise said in a telephone interview from his home outside Montreal, that his wartime employment in Washington concerned only the distribution of films for Canada's National Film Board.

Miss Bentley sent Sise's name along with those of six employees of the United States government, and others outside the government, to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

She said the government employees supplied information for the Soviet Government and that the others were among those passing information to the Russians.

eManwhile, investigators for the House of Representatives said to-day there are signs that two of the government's highest officials prevented the arrest of a Soviet spy on the grounds a diplomatic riot would result.

It was uncertain whether or not the House Un-American Activities Committee would bring evidence along that line into a hearing to-day on Russian espionage at the Bell Aircraft plant at Buffalo, NY.

But committee officials said they were ready to product definite evidence that a Soviet official in charge of wartime purchases of Bell Airacobra.

Girl 8, Partners Loot Piggy Banks

ST. CATHARINES, June 6. —(CP)—A thriving business of relieving piggy banks of their contents came to an abrupt end for an eight-year-old girl and her three smaller partners in crime in Grantham township during the week-end.

For the last two Saturdays, Mr. and Mrs. A. James noticed sums of money missing from the piggy banks in their house. The first time they didn't bother to report it, but last Saturday when they discovered that nearly $13 had disappeared, they decided it was time for action.

Chief Norman Fach and Constable John Mitchell investigated and found little footmarks on polished tables. These clues finally led to the enterprising eight-year-old and her male "stooges," two of them seven and one only six years old. Restitution was made by the children's parents, and the culprits got off with a severe reprimand from Chief Fach.

Police Allege Son Strangles Ailing Mother, Find Body In Arctic Igloo

Use Plane And Dog Sled To Get Their Man Second Youth Being Held, Murder Reported By White Trapper On Trip

OTTAWA, June 6—(CP)—Government officials today said the R.C.M.P. are holding two Eskimo youths at their Northwest Territories detachment at Cambridge Bay in the Arctic Circle on a charge of strangling the 44-year-old mother of one of the accused. An R.C.A.F. plane and dog sleds were used by the R.C.M.P. in one of their longest and toughest Arctic patrols to bring back the accused and the body of the victim. One officer completed a dog-sled patrol of about 1,000 miles over frozen wastes.

The victim, known as Nakashook, was the mother of Eerkiyoot, 20. Officials said they believed Eerkiyoot, assisted by his companion, Ishakak, 15, strangled the woman more than six months ago at a native settlement near Thom Bay on the east side of Boothia Peninsula, about 1,000 miles north of Churchill, Man.

Police were advised of the strangulation by a white trapper, Ernie Lyall, who worked his way from Thom Bay to Fort Ross, about 115 miles north, and passed along word from there, to Cambridge Bay, more than 500 miles west.

Tracked Down

Two RCMP officers—Constables Dick Mead and J. Wilbert—were flown by RCAF plane to Fort Ross. Eerkiyoot was found living nearby. Constable Wilbert flew back with him to Cambridge Bay.

Travelling by dog sled, Constable Mead headed south to Thom Bay where the frozen corpse of Nakashook was found in an abandoned igloo.

Officials said he picked up the other accused, Ishakak, on King William Island, about 330 miles west of Spence Bay, between Boothia Peninsula and Cambridge Bay.

Constable Mead brought both the corpse and Ishakak back to Cambridge Bay after a dog-sled journey of about 1,000 miles—mostly over frozen arctic wastes.

Officials said that from past experiences with Eskimos, the strangulation may have been "assisted suicide." Eskimos have been known to request their families when they were suffering from disease or pain. Officials said in this case reports were that the victim was suffering from tuberculosis.

Broadcaster Jim Hunter Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, June 6—(CP)—Jim Hunter, known to countless thousands of Ontario radio listeners as "your talking reporter" died today.

The veteran newscaster had been ill for some time and occasionally was not able to give his regular broadcasts over CFRB, the Toronto station he had been connected with since 1932.

Listeners tuned into the broadcasts to the strains of "A-Hunting We Will Go" and were greeted by Hunter's vibrant voice: "Good Wednesday evening—everybody."

Mr. Hunter, 48, started his radio career with Station WBBM in Chicago in 1929. In 1931 he moved to Kitchener, and after a brief period switched to CFRB. In his early years he worked as a reporter for the Toronto Telegram.

Hunter was once quoted as saying "Through my newscasts I feel I am able to make some small contribution to the harmony of our nation."

"I have no patience with anyone who sows the seeds of discrimination, and I'm going to continue to work towards the downfall of bigotry and intolerance."

He broadcast his 10,000th program two years ago.

Born in Aberdeen, Scotland he moved to Simcoe, Ont., with his parents when he was four. He was educated in Simcoe, Woodstock and Goderich.

His widow and two daughters survive.

Hunter considered his "biggest" story was the Moose River Mine Disaster in 1936 when he broadcast every 20 minutes for 129 straight hours and scores a nine-minute world beat on the story.

Says Molotov Handles Policy For China

PARIS, June 6 (AP)—A responsible European diplomat said today Vyacheslav M. Molotov, deputy prime minister of Russia, has been placed in charge of Russia's policies in China and elsewhere in the Orient.

The informant forecast an early change in Russia's attitude of diplomatic aloofness toward the Chinese Communists. The informant said Molotov was given the task of shaping and carrying out a Soviet "big brother" attitude toward the emerging Red Chinese regime.

In effect, the move could mean the Kremlin has initiated a policy of giving all possible help in political and economic fields to the Chinese Communists in an effort to turn industrially poor, sprawling China into a modern state.

Fear Crop Loss $100,000,000

TORONTO, June 6—(CP)—Another forecast of "clear and warm" weather today brought no cheer to farmers in central Ontario, where the rainless spell entered its 12th day with heavy damage feared to crops.

Charles Hooper, president of the York County branch of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, estimated at the week-end crop losses shortly might amount to as much as $100,000,000.

Mr. Hooper said the hay crop loss has reached 70 per cent and the fall wheat loss is probably 50 per cent. Root crops have been badly affected.

Mt. Pleasant Family Flees Flaming House

Garage And Car Lost Too As $10,000 Fire Rages Unchecked

MT. PLEASANT, June 6 (ENS)—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Eric McLean, one mile north of Mt. Pleasant early to-day. The family of four boys and Mrs. McLean's aged father escaped by the front stairs, in their night clothes. Almost nothing was saved. The damage is estimated at about $10,000.

First warning of the fire came from Mrs. McLean, who awoke to loud crackling of the flames and roused the famiy. The fire appeared to have started at the rear of the house, probably in the woodshed.

One of the boys, Robert, was suffering from tonsilitis and had to be carried down the stairs and taken almost a quarter of a mile to the home of Gordon McLean, brother of Eric McLean.

The direction of the wind prevented the fire from spreading to the barn and the surrounding buidings. A garage, 50 feet back of the house caught fire. When it was discovered, the door was a mass of flames and nothing could save the car inside.

About 100 neighbors rushed to help after hearing the telephone alarm, but the fire had gone too far for them to do anything with their buckets. Only a section of wall was left standing among the smouldering ruins.

It is believed the fire started about 1:30 a.m., but the family is unable to tell how it began. There is no stove in the wood-house where they suspect the baze originated.

Neighbors were able to drag only a few pieces of furniture from the front of the house before being forced to retreat before the advancing flames.

The four boys range in ages from 4 to 16 years. The house was a well-known landmark in the district, and Mr. McLean was one of the most successful farmers in the area.

BrowningOfExcelsiors Suspended One Game

TORONTO, June 6—(CP.—The Ontario Lacrosse Association today announced a one-game suspension on Archie Browning, former New Westminster Adanacs forward who came east this season to join Brampton Excelsiors in the O. L. A. Senior series.

The association said that the suspension was for an attempt to ridicule referee Max Peart in Saturday night's game between Mimico and Brampton which the Excelsiors won, 15-9. The announcement said that Browning received a minor cut in a play which neither Peart nor his fellow-referee saw. Browning wiped blood off the cut on Peart's jersey. The referee imposed a minor penalty and Browning repeated the blood-wiping and Peart gave him a match misconduct penalty.

Seeks New Deal For Women WorkingOnFarm

GUELPH, June 6 (CP) — A motherly woman with graying hair said today she seeks a "new deal" for farm women.

Mrs. Raymond Sayre, of Ackworth, Iowa, president of the Associated Countrymen of the World, said in an interview that in many countries women bear the burden of agricultural labor. Her Association would improve their position through taking an active part in international policy-making.

Mrs. Sayre is a delegate to the third annual conference of the International Federation of Agriculture Producers, meeting here until June 10. The delegates from 23 countries are considering, among other matters, ways of feeding the hungry nations with supplies which build up occasionally in other countries.

Mrs. Sayer said the Associated Countrymen of the World embraces organizations of rural women with about 5,500,000 members in 25 nations.

She said her organization has been granted consultative status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council and thus has moved into the field of international policy making.

"Few realize it, but women voters outnumber men voters in every country in the world except Australia. Women can wield a great deal of influence in solving economic and political problems.

"The immediate concern of the Associated Countrymen of the World is improving the lot of rural women — their working conditions, living conditions, opportunities for health and education. We also want to become a recognized voice for farm women in international affairs, particularly in the matter of speaking for the ways of peace."

Marmora Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

MARMORA, June 6—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Campion were 'at home' on Sunday to relatives and friends to mark the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. It was on June 7, 1899 that marriage vows of Harry German Campion, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Campion of Marmora township and Melissa Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kerr of Madoc, were pledged at the Presbyterian Manse, Madoc, before Rev. Ed. Machoy. The witnesses were G. A. Kerr, brother of the bride and Mrs. Carrie V. Kerr, sister of the groom. That same day the bride's brother, John Kerr, was married in Trenton to Lena Nelson of that town, making it a double ceremony.

Mr. Campion retired from farming and came to reside in Marmora 7 years ago. He is now 75 years old. Mrs. Campion also has reached her seventy-fifth birthday. She is one of seven children born to her parents; there are four sons and three daughters—all living today with ages ranging from 65 to 80.

Last Survivor

On the other hand, Mr. Campion is the last surviving child of his parents. Seven children offered felicitations to their parents, namely, Clare, Marmora Township; Mrs. Wallace Lawrence (Luta), Marmora; Mrs. Goldie McInroy (Stella), West Huntingdon; Albert, Marmora Township; Arthur, Deloro; Mrs. Douglas Jones (Myrtle,) Marmora township and Charles, Marmora. Mr. and Mrs. Campion have seven grandchildren.

They are members of St. Andrew's United Church. Both have full use of their faculties. Mrs Campion is treasurer of St. Andrew's Glee Club, founded a few years ago.

Planning To Search Area Around Pond For Youngster

EASTMAN, Que., June 6—(CP)—The search for six-year-old Michel Fontaine, missing for seven days, centred today around Trouserleg Pond, 1½ miles through the deep bush from his father's farmhouse. There was little hope the frail lad, suffering from asthma and no bigger than a normal four-year-old, was still alive.

One search party of 50 men Sunday indicated they might have struck the area where Michel wandered when he failed to return home from a trip to fetch his father's cows. Burly Glenn Brown, a teacher and former Montreal football player who knows these woods well reported three footprints made by a child.

Sunday night, when even Police Chief Edmond Rioux of Eastman gave up hope of the boy still being alive, the search committee under Warwick Fox decided to keep searchers out of the woods during the night and send them out again at 9 a.m.

Only Tangible Clue

The report from Brown and Capt. Patch was the only tangible thing turned up in a day which saw close to 2,500 men combing back and forth through the dense forest and muskeg which covers the mountain area around the Fontaine Farm, 70 miles east of Montreal.

But for those who held to the slender hope that Michel might still live there was this ominous note from Brown:

"I've been in the woods off and on for years and we had able woodsmen with us this time too. We are all agreed that other tracks near those made by the child were the tracks of a bear."

The footprints report ended a day filled with wild rumors of the boy having been seen; but nobody was said to have had more than a glimpse of him as he reportedly scampered wildly away from search parties. One rumor after another was run down lucklessly.

Students Plan To Picket School

FLINTON, June 6 — Things were quiet in this little village to-day, but the 50 students of the Flinton Continuation School were preparing to start the week with picketing of their school in demand for reinstatement of Principal Keith MacEwan.

Picketing by the striking students started on Friday, and the student body also placed a large "For Rent" sign in front of the building. Flinton is about four miles from Northbrook, north of Belleville. The 50 striking students make up the entire student body of the Continuation School.

Chairman Stafford Yanch and the other two members of the School Board recently requested Mr. MacEwan's resignation on the grounds of lack of co-operation with the rest of the staff. The school's staff consists of Mr. MacEwan and Emma Lattes.

Since their action students have demanded the principal be reinstated and launched their strike. Mr. Yanch, with John Davidson and Mrs. W. Cox, the other members of the Board, stood firm and have announced that if the strike continues, the matter would be taken up with the Ontario Teachers' Federation and the Ontario Department of Education.

Notice of the students' strike has already been sent to the teachers' group and Education Minister Dana Porter by ratepayers asking for support of Mr. MacEwan. Students and parents have signed petitions on his behalf, and the students have refused to attend classes.

CGE Installing Two Generators

The expenditure by Canadian General Electric Company, mentioned in the city's building permits for May, provides for an increase in their auxiliary of electric power in the event of an emergency. The company is installing two diesel generator units each of 1,000 kilowatts, augmenting their steam turbine power plant.

This increase in the CGE power source recalls the fact that in the local shortage of power last fall the company used their turbine equipment for their own needs, and thereby reduced their demand on the Utilities Commission for power supplied by the Hydro-Electric Commission. It was an advantage to the city as a whole, and was helpful factor in avoiding local suspension of industrial employment.

Sentence Upheld

Conviction and sentence to two years at Kingston Penitentiary for Donald Lloyd, one time car dealer in Lakefield, has been upheld by the Ontario Supreme Court of Appeal.

Lloyd was convicted by Judge S. L. Smoke in Peterborough County Court January and February of this year on two charges of being in possession of three stolen outboard motors last July.

Chief Constable Garnet Samis of Lakefield and Cpl. L. A. McClure of the Provincial Police arrested Lloyd last August in Toronto with the aid of Toronto Police.

Uphold Rights Of Labor Act Collectively

By The Canadian Press.

With the Federal election just three weeks away, Prime Minister St. Laurent is back in his native Quebec Province while Progressive Conservative leader Drew and other party leaders are campaigning through the West.

Leaders of all four major parties —including M. J. Coldwell of the CCF and Solon Low of the Social Credit party—delivered campaign speeches Saturday.

Mr. St. Laurent swung through Western Ontario before heading back to Quebec. In his major speech at Hamilton Saturday night he stressed labor topics, upholding the right of labor to organize and act collectively. But he maintained that labor "can have no greater self-interest than to place first the interests of all citizens."

Claiming that the Liberal party leads in labor legislation, Mr. St. Laurent said: "I believe that the greater freedom labor has to organize and act collectively through trade unions, the greater in the long run will be the sense of responsibility of labor to the whole community. Only through this freedom could labor be on a free and equal basis with management and investment."

Mr. St. Laurent told his St Apolinnaire audience which waited out a thunder-storm to hear him that he was playing a political role to make a contribution to national unity.

He criticized Progressive Conservative party advertising in French-language newspapers in Quebec which tended to "foment disunion" and was "neither advantageous nor dignified and not a way to win confidence."

Oppose Race Appeals

The Liberal party was opposed to appeals of race, language and religion.

"If we can't convince our citizens that we can render real services and contribute to the progress of the country, let us be replaced by others," he said. "We will be happy to return to our former occupations."

Mr St. Laurent noted the Progressive Conservative party slogan, "LOL—liberate Ottawa from the Liberals," and said smiling that in Ontario the initials stand for "Loyal Orange Lodge."

He referred to the Progressive Conservative party as "our party and of the CCF after mentioning the CCF. Mr. St. Laurent said: "There are not many Socialists among the Canadian population."

In No Danger

Mr. Drew told a political rally Saturday that publicly-owned enterprises such as the Canadian National Railways, the CBC and Trans-Canada Air Lines are in no danger under a government his party would form.

"Our aim is to make them more efficient," Mr. Drew said.

He devoted much of his address to replying to statements made in Stratford, Friday by Prime Minister St. Laurent, and said he would have to "forgive" the Prime Minister because he had no experience in public life until a few years ago.

Mr. St. Laurent had expressed concern over the fate of the CNR, the CBC and TCA should a Progressive Conservative government take office.

Mr. Drew said a Conservative government passed legislation in 1920 which led to the formation of the CNR and established the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

In addition, a Conservative government had laid plans for the establishment of a transcontinental air service, and had proceeded to build emergency airfields for its use.

Pressure Counts

Mr. Coldwell credits pressure exerted by his party and by farm organizations with forcing the Federal Government to remove coarse grains from the speculative market.

The government announcement that starting Aug. 1 oats and barley will be marketed through the Canadian Wheat Board, rather than through the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, has sounded the death knell of the Exchange Mr. Coldwell said Saturday night in addressing an election campaign meeting in this farming community 22 miles north of Winnipeg.

The CCF opposed the marketing of coarse grains through the exchange on the ground that it fostered a system where sepculators force prices down in the fall when the farmers must sell and then push prices up after the grain has left the farmers' hands.

The CCF, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the prairie wheat pools all objected to the continuance of the exchange system of marketing. After Aug 1, only rye and flax will be marketed through it. Mr. Coldwell predicted it wouldn't be long before the exchange closed entirely for lack of business. He gave it three to six months of life.

Did You Place A Coin In Parking Meter?

Mr. Motorist, if you're feeling sore because you found a parking ticket on the windshield of your car today, just pause to think again and ask yourself, have I done anything wrong? Today is a holiday, proclaimed by the Governor-General of Canada as the day for celebration of the King's birthday. As the notice on the parking meters declares, you are not obliged to pay for parking the car on a holiday.

When Emmett Sheehy, Peterborough lawyer, appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC at city police court, May 25, for not putting a parking fee in the meter when he left his car on the street on a Wednesday afternoon, the magistrate ruled that Wednesday was not a holiday within the meaning of the Interpretation Act of Ontario and the lawyer was accordingly fined $2 with $1 costs.

But today, June 6, has been proclaimed a holiday by the Governor General and is, therefore, a public holiday recognized by the Interpretation Act.

By 1 o'clock today three people had already paid fines of $1 each at the City Clerk's office after receiving parking tickets.

Edwin I. Toms Dies At Age Of 82

A veteran of World War I, in which his son was killed in action, Edwin Isaac Toms, a retired employee of the C.P.R., died suddenly Saturday at his home, 133 Rubidge St.

Mr. Toms was born in England, 82 years ago, son of William Toms and his wife, Ellen Ford. He was six years old when his parents came out to Canada and settled as farmers in the Havelock vicinity. That was before the Canadian Pacific Railway was projected easterly from Toronto to Ottawa.

A resident of Peterborough about 35 years, he enlisted in the 93rd Battalion which was recruited in Peterborough during the first Great War, and was injured in the April 9th battle of Vimy Ridge. His son, William Albert Toms, had joined the 4th C.M.R. and was transferred to the 43rd Battalion. He was killed in 1916. He had previously met his father in France, taking his own leave for that reunion. The father had been transferred from the 93rd to the 21st Battalion. He was years over age when he joined up.

Mr. Toms leaves his wife, who was Annette Sexsmith; one son. James H. Toms of Toronto; and his sister, Mrs. A. Marshall of Havelock.

The body is resting at A. Comstock & Sons funeral home where the service will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. by Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints' Church, of which Mr. Toms was a member. Burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Cattle Rustler Sentenced To Year In Jail

COBOURG, Jnue 6 (ENS). — Pleading guilty to two cattle rustling charges, Ernest A. Allen of Orono was sentenced on Friday to 12 months definite and six months indefinite, concurrent, on each charge. The accused stole one cow from his brother Harold, and six from Oliver Knapp, both of Clarke Township. He has an extensive redord.

Harvey Sylvester, aged 30, of Peterborough, was remanded in custody for a week when he pleaded guilty to theft of a suit, the property of Sidney Langley of Port Hope. Police said that Langley gave Sylvester a job in his restaurant and while he was away in Toronto on May 30 he returned to discover that a suit of clothes and $21 were missing. Sylvester was wearing the stolen suit in court.

"I think we should get this man in some kind of a home, as he apparently can't look after himself and keep out of trouble," observed Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

Accused of Wire Theft

Robert Spry of Cobourg was remanded until June 21 on a charge of theft. No plea was taken. He is charged with theft of two rolls of wire, the property of Jack Allen of Cobourg.

Charged with theft of scrap metal, Fred Moore of Toronto was remanded until June 10. The alleged offence took place in Clarke Township on May 12.

Robbins Bros. Circus Coming Next Monday

The circus is coming to town. Children in school have a week to think up a good excuse for staying away from school next Monday. Children who left school years ago will have to find some way of escaping work to see it.

Two performances will be given Exhibition park. The show will include all the thrills of the big top with American and European performers risking their necks for the pleasure it gives—to the audience.

The Robbins Bros. Circus is one of the oldest of the major circuses on the continent and this it is advertised bigger and better than ever.

Plan Repairs To Grandstand

ROSENEATH, June 6 (ENS)—Roseneath Agricultural Society held their first meeting of the summer months in the township hall, with the president, Fred J. Slade, presiding.

Several matters were discussed pertaining to Roseneath Fair to be held Friday, October 14.

After a lengthy discussion regarding raising the admission fee for adults, it was decided to have the admission 35c, the same as in previous years.

Monthly meetings will be held on the last Tuesday of each month.

Canvassers were appointed to solicit special prizes from neighboring towns and communities.

To Raffle Car

The Colborne Canadian Legion branch were given exclusive rights to sell tickets on a car on the grounds. The lucky draw will be made at Roseneath Fair.

Repair work will soon begin on the grandstand, also in improvement of racetrack.

It was decided to carry the usual broadcast over the Peterborough, Belleville and Oshawa stations, a few days previous to the fair.

Next meeting will be held on June 28. An invitation has been extended to F. M. Rutherford, Campbellford, district director of District No. 3, to be guest speaker.

Board Approves Town Rink Grant

COBOURG, June 6 (ENS). — The consent of the Municipal Board for the $50,000 town grant to the new Recreational Centre was obtained as a result of a visit made on Friday by Mayor Joe Smith and a committee to Toronto. The Recreational Centre committee will launch a campaign which is expected to raise the balance needed within a period of two weeks.

Total cost of the rink, including the $36,000 artificial ice plant, is $150,000. Taking into consideration the $50,000 grant, there has been collected all but $13,000 of the $95,631 required to put up the building alone. Another $54,639 will cover the balance needed to erect rink plus artificial ice plant.

Police Co-Operate

LONDON, Ont., June 6 (CP)—Three police departments cooperated Saturday in providing escorts to speed a baby 50 miles from Petrolia to War Memorial Children's Hospital here. The baby, Deryl Arnold, seven months, was reported improved Sunday night after treatment for a severe infection. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Arnold. Police said that the baby's twin sister died three days earlier from an infection.

95th Anniversary Marked By Campbellford Church

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6. — (ENS).—The congregation of Christ church observed its 95th anniversary on Sunday. The rector Rev. W. J. Lennox, conducted the morning service and the evening service was in charge of Rt. Rev. G. A. Little, D.D., assistant bishop of Toronto.

The earliest known account of religious services in Seymour was in 1835, when Jacob Mountain, Bishop of the Anglican Church, sent travelling missionaries to visit the scattered flocks in the unorganized districts. Prior to this date Capt. M. S. Cassan was often called upon to bury the dead and perform the services of a doctor.

In 1854 Christ church was built during the incumbency of Rev. John Samuel Clark. It was to be of stone and would cost between four and five hundred pounds. George Ranney donated the lumber and Mrs. Carlow the timber.

There were no pews, the congregation sitting on pine boards resting on blocks of wood, and the clergyman preached from a rough board standing on two stilts. Later when the church received pews, Thos. Rendle made and presented a pulpit of butternut.

The present rector, Rev. W. J. Lennox, a native of Ireland, took charge in 1943. Since that time the mortgage on the parish hall has been paid and the church repaired and redecorated.

Character is Basis

Bishop Wells told the congregation that the greatness of a nation does not depend upon the size of the country or the fertility of the soil, but upon the character of its people. "The greatness of Canada today," he said, was due to the industry, stability and character of the courageous men and women who laid the foundations.

"Our schools," he stated, "teach children the same way of going through life without effort. This is a false philosophy," he declared. "Achieving greatness through hard work and industry brings the greatest amount of happiness," he said.

A keredos, the gift of the Baker family, was dedicated by the Bishop in memory of their parents. Candidate, including Barbara Braham, Donna Chapman, Isabel and Edna Bolton, Shirley Simpson, Gladys Hardy, Dorothy Mills, James Baker, Cecil Bolton, David Bull, Alan Jones, Robert Poulton and William Wilks were presented for confirmation.

3 Die In Flames

ST. AMADEE, Que., June 6 — (CP)—Three small children were burned to death and their 71-year-old grandmother sent to hospital, seriously burned, when fire raced through a farm house near this tiny Quebec village Friday night. Dead are the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belanger: Andre, seven, Fleurette, five, and Claude, two. The grandmother, Mrs. Edmund Belanger, is in critical condition with severe burns to her legs, hands, face and back.

Co-Op Store Entered

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6 — The Co-Operative store was entere through a rear window Wednesday night. A pane of glass was removed from a door leading to the main store where the cupboards and drawers were ransacked, the safe and cash register near the front window were untouched. The management reports that nothing was taken.

2 Students Drown

SASKATOON, June 6 (CP) — Two students of the University of Saskatchewan were drowned and a companion escaped injury Saturday when the motor-powered boat in which they were riding crashed over a dam in the South Saskatchewan river. The dead: Stanley Robinson, 22, of Regina and Milton Ganton, 20, of Omegma, Sask.

QUITS USING LAXATIVES

Man now regular as day with famous cereal

Sick of dosing yourself for constipation? Tired of feeling sluggish? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"For years, constipation was my bogey and harsh laxatives made things worse. Since eating ALL-BRAN every day I have been regular, more alert in my work as draughtsman. Publish this letter, it may help others." A. Mc. C. Little, 114 Sixth St., Midland, Ontario.

Constipated due to lack of bulk in your diet? You may find natural relief without strong remedies. Try eating an ounce (bowlful) of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water. If you do this every day, you may be regular all your life. ALL-BRAN is a delicious regulating food, either as a crisp cereal or in muffins. If not benefited after using one package, get double your money back as guaranteed on box. Made by Kellogg's, London, Ontario.

...under LIBERAL government

THERE ARE just no two ways about it — farmers are always better off with Liberal governments at Ottawa. Look back over the years. From 1896 to 1911 under Laurier... from 1926-29 under King... and again from 1936-48... Liberal governments have given Canadian farmers good times. And always, under Tory governments, the farmer has seen prices tumble and markets fade away to nothing — like after the First Great War under Borden... and during the early 30's under Bennett.

There are many reasons why farmers prosper under Liberalism, but the two most important ones are:

(1) The Liberals believe in two-way trade with the world, creating export markets for Canadian farm products;

(2) The Liberals believe in building high purchasing power for labour, creating greater home markets for farm products, at good competitive prices.

These fundamental Liberal policies pulled farmers out of the hopeless bog they were mired in during Tory "protection" and low wages in the 30's.

Throughout the war, Liberal subsidies, bonuses and premiums encouraged farmers to tremendously increased production and profit. The Liberals promised that when the war ended they would not allow high production, speculation and deflation to knock the bottom out of farm prices.

And they kept that promise! The Tories and the Socialists scoffed, but in 1945 the Liberals courageously established the Agricultural Prices Support Act. A floor has been set under prices of potatoes, apples, beans, honey, dairy products and other farm produce... protecting farmers against profitless toil.

Meanwhile, Liberal policies have spread prosperity over the land. Employment is high... industrial wages are at record levels... Family Allowances put extra millions into circulation every month. With this record purchasing power, Canadians are buying more of everything that stems from the soil. No wonder gross farm cash income is four times what it was ten years ago!

Truly, Liberalism has led Canadian farmers to prosperity and security. Now Mr. Drew says: "It's time for a change." A change to what? Back to conditions that existed under past Tory governments? Farmers will say: "No sir — never again!" They will look to Liberalism... in the future as in the past... to give them constantly increasing prosperity and security.

KEEP GOING FORWARD WITH LIBERALISM

Election of Roosevelt, Jr., Raises Old Question

When Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., was elected to the U.S. Congress by a large majority, there was immediate speculation as to whether he would follow in the foosteps of his famous father and seek the Presidency. And since the United States has been described, by many of its own commentators and writers, as "a nation of lawyers", it was not surprising that such speculation quickly brought forth the opinion that young Mr. Roosevelt was barred from that office because he was born in Canada, on Campobello Island, New Brunswick.

• • •

No one knows whether the young man will ever seek that office, of course, but reports from Washington indicate that if he did, he would not be debarred because he was born in Canada. It is true that the U.S. Constitution declares that a person must be thirty-five years of age, must have lived fourteen years or more in that country, and must be a "natural-born citizen". It does not, however, explain what "natural-born" means, and the Supreme Court of the United States has never handed down a decision on the point as it relates to the Presidency.

• • •

The general belief which has prevailed for so many years is that the term includes children of United States parents who are born on foreign soil. That belief seems soundly supported by a decision of Supreme Court Justice Horace Gray, in 1898, which noted that three distinct nationality laws declare that foreign-born children of U.S. parents "shall be considered as natural-born children". There is further support in a 1940 ruling of a Maryland court that there are only two classes of citizens—native-born and naturalized. Since children of U.S. parents born abroad are in no sense naturalized, they must therefore be considered native-born, the court concluded.

• • •

We do not know whether the successful entry of young Mr. Roosevelt into U.S. politics will lead to examination of the point by the Supreme Court. We think it quite safe, however, to predict that if he should ever seek the Presidency, he will be classified as a "natural-born" citizen.

Uniforms In Public Schools

The Kingston Board of Education has been giving some thought to the question of uniforms for some of the public schools under its care. Our contemporary the Kingston Whig-Standard has come out vigorously against uniforms, and in part we agree with that attitude. There is enough uniformity among young Canadians and it may be a pity to impose uniformity of dress upon them. But there is another side to the uniform question which we should like to discuss.

Private schools for girls and boys have insisted upon uniform dress for almost a century for the excellent reason that where all are dressed alike there can be no distinction of wealth. Contrary to a widespread belief, not all pupils at private schools have well-to-do parents; if they all dress alike the daughter of the millionaire and the daughter of the poor clergyman meet on a more equal footing than could otherwise be the case.

We think that there may be some room for an argument along these lines in favour of uniform dress in our public schools and more particularly in our high schools. Girls who have reached the age where fashion means a great deal to them often go to school very expensively clothed; other girls cannot afford to compete with them in this respect, and it is not desirable that they should do so. And it might also be said that many boys go to high school clothed (not from necessity but from choice) in a manner which is an insult to an institution of learning.

School uniforms for girls are not expensive; they usually consist of a tunic and a white shirt. School uniforms for boys usually mean dark suits, and a necktie in the school colours. The uniforms mean that all boys and girls are clothed in a fashion which suits their chief purpose—the pursuit of learning. We do not think that it would be a hardship for girls to dress soberly for school, or for boys to dress neatly and for school authorities to have the power to insist on a proper dress for attendance at classes. Neither slovenliness nor ostentation have any place in school.

Choke On Your Cone

Robinson's Industries in Hamilton make ice cream cones. Some of its workers are on strike. They seek recognition of their union and wage increases. They also seek the sympathy of the school children in the district. Tuesday morning strikers formed a picket line around a school in the hope of influencing the pupils not to buy ice cream cones manufactured by the firm. We would have thought that the Principal of the school would have asked for an injunction against the picketing because of the emotional tension it would cause his pupils.

Is it fair to demand of a young one with a five-cent piece that he curb his appetite and not buy a craved ice cream cone? And what digestive dislocation would be caused if he succumbed to appetite, bought the cone, and had to stomach it in face of a picketer's sign: "Unfair cones". If a pupil has the cheek to gorge has he the gall to swallow amidst cries of "Choke, Scab!"?

Perhaps we worry unnecessarily about this matter. We have noticed that a child's appetites are bigger than his sympathies, or at least more dominant. And perhaps some of the picketers assured the pupils that it would be quite all right if they took their ice cream in a carton, or in the paw, without cone casing.

Bossie Have A Whiff On Me

The Dairy Research Institute of England has discovered a drug which, when given to cows, increases their yield of milk by nearly five pints a day. It is called Thyroxine. We feel that this marks a trend to debauch cows in the interests of the human race. We read not three months ago about a champion milker who was given two pails of beer a day in order to keep up her production.

That cows should become dope-fiends in order to produce more milk seems too bad, to us. However, we are willing to go along with science, and are ready even to contribute the following verse to its cause, to be sung to the tune of a well known popular song:

There's five more pints of milk and cream
In a daily snuffle of Thyroxine,
So Bossie have a whiff, have a whiff on me,
Oh Bossie have a whiff on me.

Lonely Lighthouse Vigil To End?

"The Light must not fail" has been a theme popular with romancers for centuries. There may be, however, no more Inchcape Rock stories, or the theme will have to be given a scientific twist, if a new lighthouse outside Los Angeles harbour proves itself. People in this Kawartha Lake district are familiar with the automatic lights in the Trent Waterway, the "Occulting Navigation Lights," equipped with acetylene accumulators and valves which make the lights flash. These require no "keeper", and attention only about twice a year. But big lighthouses along the world's seaways have still their lonely keepers. The new Los Angeles light may make their occupation archaic.

The lighthouse four miles outside Los Angeles harbour has the familiar flashing light, a foghorn and a radio beacon that ships may follow by radio direction finders. The installation is automatic and requires attention only about once a month. The house itself is a three-storey structure designed to withstand earthquakes, wind and waves. The light is very powerful; a 36-inch airway beacon-type lantern of 140,000 candlepower, flashing its warning around the horizon every five seconds. The United States Coast Guard are observing its efficiency and reliability, and their later report on it, if favourable, may put an end to lightkeepers' lonely vigils—and to the stories of heroism and romance which have for so many years been woven about the Lights.

We see that ladies attending the King's Plate races at Woodbine in the cold of Saturday wore luxurious furs. Apparently hot tips were not warm enough this year, though some must have paid off last year.

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

NOW that Canada has its own award for outstanding contributions to the motion picture industry, it is worth recalling how the "Oscar" got its name. One story, current in the film world, is that the secretary of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts, Mrs. Margaret Herrick, once said of the coveted little statue, "It's like my Uncle Oscar."

Another explanation of the name of the award links it with that of the author of Dorian Gray. When Oscar Wilde arrived in America for a lecture tour, it is related, he was asked by an interviewer if it was true that he had won the "Newdigate," (Oxford's famous literary prize) and he replied, "Yes, but while many people have won the 'Newdigate', it is seldom that the 'Newdigate' gets an 'Oscar'."

When Helen Hayes was presented with the statutette, her husband, Charles MacArthur, exclaimed, "Ah, I see you've got an Oscar," and the name stuck.

❖ ❖ ❖

WILDE'S skill in retort is well illustrated by this yarn. A London column of gossip once printed the following: James Whistler and Oscar Wilde were seen yesterday at Brighton, talking as usual about themselves." Whistler sent the paragraph to Wilde with a note saying: "I wish these reporters would be accurate. If you remember, Oscar, we were talking about me."

Wilde's characteristic reply was: "It is true, Jimmie, we were talking about you, but I was thinking of myself!"

One evening a condescending young lord, seated by Whistler at dinner, stared solemnly at the painter and, adjusting his monocle, said:

"Aw, y'know, Mr. Whistler," he drawled, "I passed your house this morning."

"Thank you," said Whistler, "thank you very much."

BEFORE Gandhi all were equal: There's the story of the time the famous Indian was staying in London. Ramsay MacDonald arrived for an urgent consultation, but a postman had walked all the way from Bow to Knightsbridge, because he wanted to pay his respect. 'I'll see the man of letters first," Gandhi said decisively. And then he explained to a friend: "You see, a statesman can wait, for that is his job: he is always waiting till circumstances force him to move."

THE theory that Robert Louis Stevenson took the names of Jekyll and Hyde from the list of members of the Society of Telegraph Engineers is supported by a paragraph in the January issue of the Journal of the Institution of Electrical Engineers. Both names, says this paper, appeared in this society's list first published in the 1870's. They were next to each other. (By a coincidence the same 'Stevenson' was on the list, also!)

❖ ❖ ❖

MINE Host London by Will Kent describes how London has looked down the centuries through foreign spectacles. The hospitality extended to distinguished visitors in the good old days would seem to leave them no cause for complaint, judging from some of Kent's stories.

When the famous Erasmus visited London in 1499 he was struck by an unusual aspects of hospitality: "To mention but a single attraction" he wrote, "the English girls are divinely pretty, soft, pleasant, gentle and charming as to the Muses. They have one custom which cannot be too much admired. When you go anywhere on a visit the girls all kiss you. They kiss you when you arrive. They kiss you when you go away and they kiss you again when you return. Go where you will, it is all kisses; and my dear Faustus, if you had once tasted how soft and fragrant those lips are, you would wish to spend your life there!"

Nor were these tender greetings reserved only for foreigners, according to Kent, who mentions a notation in the diary of the native Samuel Pepys, following a visit to Westminster Abbey in 1669 when he was received rahter warmly, it seems, by Queen Catherine of Valois: "—and I did kiss her mouth, reflecting upon it that I did kiss a queen, and this was my birthday, thirty-six years old, that I did first kiss a queen."

❖ ❖ ❖

THIS custom was still prevalent in the early 18th Century. A Swiss visitor, Cesar de Saussure, who stayed in London from 1725 to 1728, wrote of a visit to St. James's Palace: "The King went to the end of the room and talked with foreign ministers for a few minutes. Three ladies were then presented to His Majesty: he kissed them all affectionately on the lips, and I remarked that he seemed to take most pleasure in kissing the prettiest of the three. Let not this mode of greeting scandalize you; it is the custom of this country, and many ladies would be displeased should you fail to salute them thus; still some of the ladies who have travelled in foreign countries now offer cheeks instead of their lips."

HARD WORK

"Have you ever done a lick of work?" demanded the angry housekeeper of the tramp.

"Lady," he retorted, "if you think asking dames like you for a bite to eat ain't work you's don't know what work is."

Letters To The Editor

SAY FREE SPEECH ATTACKED

Sir: Steward's Council meeting of Local 524, UE-CIO strongly protests your lack of journalistic ethics in turning a news story into an editorial as a means of inciting interference in the rightful affairs of the organized workers of C.G.E.

Your story purports to interpret the law and virtually calls upon the authorities to step in and prevent Union Officers from reporting to their members on the progress of negotiations in anything like a full manner.

Wittingly or not, your release has the effect of aiding the G.E. in keeping pertinent facts from the union members and further gives support to the company's issuance of many misleading and distorted facts concerning the company and the negotiations.

For your information, we point out that we have repeatedly requested of this company that the full transcript of negotiations be made available to the workers as the Union has nothing to hide re its arguments and logic. The company has chosen to consistently refuse this request and in its stead regularly circularizes its employees with false and misleading reports.

Such facts and positive exposure of company falsehoods re negotiating progress were given at the noon hour meeting covered by your paper. We did not not see any of the facts reported in your article.

Those facts constitute news which concern your readers and which they are entitled to receive as straight forward journalistic reporting.

Your article constitutes an attack on free speech.

THE REGULAR SUMMER SEWAGE PROBLEM

Sir: This is my first letter to you and I hope you will give it space.

I wish to quote Ald. Grant Miller in Friday's paper: "while the city is rapidly expanding westerly, no provision has been made for a park on that side". What he should have said was the city is rapidly expanding, and so is its sewage but no move has been taken to dispose of it.

A $40,000 park isn't what the city needs right now. The south end needs gas masks for each citizen in order to breathe about 4 or 5 hours each day and night.

The word disposal is very wrongly used in connection with the sewage plant. If the sanitary inspector wants to inspect something just as injurious to health as the backs of restaurants and butcher shops, let him take a cruise down the Otonabee below Park St. and inspect what he sees floating on the water. He'll see what I mean by non-disposal of sewage.

The city takes pride in what the tourists have to say as they arrive at George St. wharf in their yachts. It has been fortunate that those obsolete motors at the plant were not stirring up their odor, or their rudder not been entangled in some of the long strips of paper or sewage I have seen floating, or they probably would never have arrived in our fair city.

I believe the more parks a city has the better, but I also believe that first it should be a clean and healthy city, and if there is $40,000 floating around wanting a place to land let it roost on an adequate disposal plant and not on a park at least until we get the filth cleaned up. The disposal plant hasn't been able to carry its load for many years yet not one thing has been done about it.

Thank you for the privilege of expressing my thoughts.

Yours truly,
A SOUTHENDER.

Wakened By An Elephant

When Charlie the elephant from Cody's Circus at Perth was being taken for a limber-up near the South Inch, he suddenly decided to investigate the contents of a nearby pram, in which an infant was sleeping peacefully. Before anyone could stop him, he had coiled his trunk 'round the hood, and playfully crumpled it into a shapeless mess.

Amidst all the excitement, and before two circus attendants managed to lure Charlie away from the pram, Baby woke up, looked him over, and dropped off to sleep again—quite unimpressed!—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength. (Isa. 26: 4.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.... Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me. O Lord: let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me. (Ps. 40: 5, 11.)

❖ ❖ ❖

And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?....Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

If then God so clothe the grass, which is today in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you. O ye of little faith? And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. (Luke 12: 22-24, 27-32.)

Earl To Sell Treasures

Just over 140 years ago wealthy Lord Stuart de Rothesay, British Ambassador in Paris, art connoiseur and admirer of French taste in architecture and furnishing, conceived the idea of building in England a stately home which would remind him of the life he had enjoyed in France.

From 1815 onwards he collected the best of the French furniture of the time.

As the years went by he added to his collection almost priceless French tapestries. And then, in the early 1820's he looked around for a fitting place to house his treasures.

He found it in the beautiful 16th-century chateau of Le Manoir des Andelys, near Rouen. Lord Stuart bought this on the spot, engaged contractors to pull it down arranged shipment down the Seine and across the Channel, and had it rebuilt by 1830 at Highcliffe on the Hampshire coast near Christchurch.

As Highcliffe Castle it has since housed the great collection of Lord Stuart.

And now the present owner, the Earl of Abingdon, has announced that because of high taxation and the difficulties of finding staff to maintain the 30-roomed mansion he is to sell thousands of pounds' worth of the Lord Stuart collection and move into a wing of the building.—London Daily Mail.

Want To Make Million In A Hurry? Try Gold Business In Siam

By MILTON MARMOR

BANGKOK, June 5.—(AP)—All you need to start in the gold business in Siam is $1,000,000, a membership in a world-wide syndicate with the right connections, sharp business brains and a world of nerve.

The business goes something like this:

You get the best offers from brokers or the owners of gold in varied parts of the world. You ship the gold more than half way around the world and in two weeks you realize a profit that barely runs more than two per cent on the $1,000,000 investment.

How do you get into this business?

You're born into it.

There is a group of agents of these gold merchants in Bangkok. Some came about two years ago. Others were established before the Second World War.

Stand at the bar of the modernistic night club called Chez Eve in Bangkok and sooner or later yiu will meet some of these bullion agents.

Nothing Dishonest

There is nothing dishonest about it. But there is the question of what happens to the gold once it reaches the free market on the Portuguese island of Macao off the China coast.

It's no secret that those who buy the gold in Macao smuggle it into China and other parts of the world for resale at big profits to wealthy merchants who prefer bullion to their own shaky paper currency.

But all this is not the responsibility of the gold merchants.

Bangkok, together with Saigon is an important link in the world-wide set-up because it is the permissible trans-shipment point from airliners to smaller flying boats that must make the six-hour hop to Macao. China is the biggest market for gold. If a bigger market was elsewhere the gold would flow the other way.

The business operates something like this:

From the headquarters of the firm a request goes out to get the best price for the purchase of $1,000,000 worth of gold.

The best price is $46 an ounce in a South American capital. The headquarters accepts and instructs the agent to ship it to Bangkok. When it reaches Bangkok the principals in Macao have to make a decision. What's the price at the moment in the free market?

The gold, they figure, now has cost $47.70 an ounce because of the cost of insurance, storage, entry fees in Macao and the usual squeeze by Macao banks that hold a sort of monopoly on incoming gold licenses.

The price offered in Macao is $48.50. Sell!

That 80 cents an ounce is about 1½ per cent. That's all the syndicate wants.

If the price is under $48.50 then the agents look up the international price of the metal and decide whether it would be better to take a small loss or to hold and gamble on the price going up.

TLC Delegates Rap Labor Act

TORONTO, June 6 (CP) — Delegattes to special session here of the Provincial Federation of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada Sunday heard denunciations of the Ontario Labor Relations Act.

The delegates voted to carry the fight for reform of the act to the home constituencies of all members of the Ontario Legislature.

The provincial executive will seek an audience with the Ontario Cabinet to urge changes in the Act, passed in 1948. In the meantime, a special committee will work on a model labor code including provisions the membership claim are lacking present legislation.

Chief complaint against the present act is that it gives the Ontario Labor Minister the power to grant conciliation. Union delegates contended this power should be vested in the Ontario Labor Relations Board.

Times Raises Prices

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—The New York Times Friday announced the price for its Sunday edition will be raised to 20 cents in the area outside of a 50-mile radius of New York. The change is effective Sunday. The 15-cent price remains in effect in the city and inside the 50-mile zone.

Ex-Moderator Dr. Munroe Dies

NEW GLASGOW, NS, June 6—(CP)—Rev. Dr. Hugh Munroe, 76, former moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada, died here Saturday.

Dr. Munroe was chosen moderator in 1937 while minister of Westminster Presbyterian Church here. He had been in ill health several months and his retirement was to have taken effect at the close of the Presbyterian General Assembly, now meeting at Kitchener.

Born in West Zorro, Ont., he was educated at Woodstock Collegiate, University of Toronto and Knox College, Toronto. He was ordained in 1907.

Dr. Munroe held posts in Winnipeg, Bowmanville, Toronto and Cornwall. He came to New Glasgow in 1928.

Among survivors are his widow and a daughter.

More Housing Help

LONDON, Ont., June 6 (CP) — Mayor Ray Dennis said Saturday he will urge increased government assistance for rental housing projects at the annual conference of the Association of Mayors and Municipalities in Quebec City next week. He said that to provide 50 low-rental homes under existing government housing machinery would cost London the "ridiculous" sum of $168,000 in straight subsidization.

Sabbath Observance WMS Meeting Theme

WARSAW, June 6—(ENS)—Mrs. Franklin Sidey entertained the Women's Missionary Society meeting Friday afternoon. Mrs. Wm. Darling, 1st vice-president presided. The theme of the meeting was "Keeping the Sabbath Day". Those reading scripture passages were Mrs. Gordon Payne, Mrs. A. Edwards, Mrs. Harold Payne, Mrs. J. Crowe and Mrs. Roland Payne.

Miss Clara McCracken gave a paper on "How We Keep The Sabbath." Mrs. Geo. Taylor and Mrs. Hawthorne gave a duet "The Way of the Cross Leads Home." Sentence prayers were given by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Darling. Miss Irene Sidey gave an instrumental number. Mrs. Harold Payne conducted a contest "Exploring in the Bible through the Alphabet."

Tea was served by Mrs. Sidey, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. J. Crowe and Mrs. Arthur Payne.

Sugar Bad For Teeth

SASKATOON, June 6—(CP)—The Canadian Dental Association Saturday issued a warning that the eating of sugar is the prime factor in the cause of teeth decay. They said in a statement from their annual meeting that no matter what tooth paste or powder is used, healthy teeth depend on the food you eat

Mission Concluded In Marmora Church

MARMORA, June 6—(ENS)—The eight days mission held in Sacred Heart Church by Rev. Father J. Hardy, CM, of the Vincentian Mission House, Toronto, closed on Sunday.

High mass was celebrated at 9.30 a.m. by Rev. Father H. J. Farrell, with the sermon given by Father Hardy. At 4 p.m. the missioner blessed the babies of the parish, which was followed by benediction by Rev. Father Farrell.

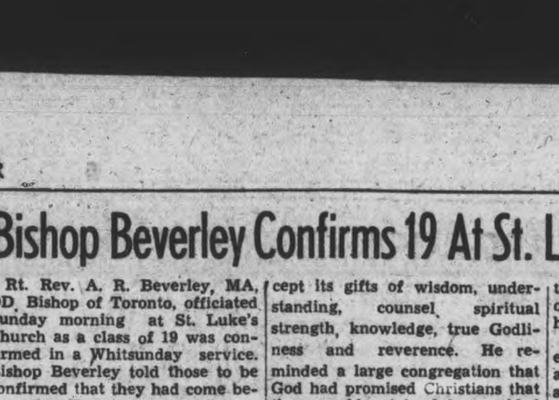
In the evening the missioner preached the closing sermon followed by benediction by Father Farrell, the renewal of baptismal vows and investiture of the scapular.

Gets Honorary Degree

LONDON, Ont., June 6—(CP)—William R. Meek, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Saturday was presented an honorary doctor of laws degree at the spring convocation of the University of Western Ontario. He was presented with the honorary degree in recognition of "almost 40 years devoted to the promotion of the agricultural interests of this country."

Bishop Beverley Confirms 19 At St. Luke's

Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, MA, DD, Bishop of Toronto, officiated Sunday morning at St. Luke's Church as a class of 19 was confirmed in a Whitsunday service. Bishop Beverley told those to be confirmed that they had come before the Church in a public renewal of their baptismal vows, to become faithful soldiers and servants of Jesus Christ.



Stressing that "Always the church has been on trial but never more so than today," Bishop Beverley urged the new members of the Church to take the spirit of God into their hearts, and to accept its gifts of wisdom, understanding, counsel, spiritual strength, knowledge, true Godliness and reverence. He reminded a large congregation that God had promised Christians that they would not be left unguided and alone, and followed the promise with the gift of the Holy Spirit.

Bishop Beverley asked the confirmees to regularly attend their Church and to cultivate the habit of daily prayer and reading of the Scriptures to remain faithful to God. He said that this daily contact with God was necessary in order to receive His guidance and help.

During the sermon, Bishop Beverley stressed that if the Spirit is accepted it will manifest itself in a heart of compassion with the extension of goodwill and kindness towards all men, in humility and the possession of truth, in forbearance and forgiveness and in Christian love.

The speaker asked the congregation to pray for the confirmees, that they might receive the spirit of God and thus lighten their minds and quicken their zeal.

MAN SAVES FELLOW-WORKER FROM DROWNING IN HARBOUR

WINS DOW AWARD

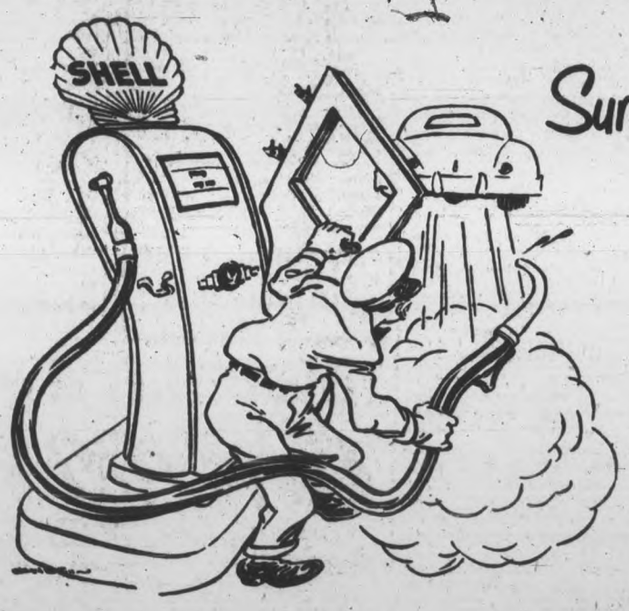
MARVIN ORR
of St. Thomas, Ont.,
dives from dock to make dramatic rescue

Working on a dredge in Port Stanley harbour, Clarence Caughell was on a scaffold 25 feet up the side of one of the "spuds" which support the dredge. Losing his balance, he fell into the cold harbour waters. Seeing his comrade dazed and floundering, Marvin Orr leaped from the upper deck and swam to the rescue. Both wore overalls and work boots, but Orr succeeded in getting a grip on his friend and both were hauled to safety.

We are proud to present Marvin Orr with The Dow Award.

2. A non-swimmer, Caughell fell from a scaffold strung on ropes about 25 feet up the side of one of the towering "spuds" supporting the dredge.

2. Both men wore heavy work clothing and the 130-lb. Orr had no easy time keeping Caughell, who weighs 190, from drowning.



3. A rope was thrown to the two men and soon they were being hauled up to the deck of the dredge. A near tragedy had been averted.

The Way to Better Living

Behind the machines and workers that produce the things we use—is money. Money that has been saved by many people.

Savings have helped to build Canada. They have purchased the machines and tools to multiply the results of human energy, increase production, and so make possible a high standard of living.

Back of these Savings which supply capital, additional money is required. Money to buy materials from which the things we use are fabricated or processed. Money to extend credit in promoting markets. Money to meet payrolls. Money for many uses in supplementing working capital.

Through the services of The Bank of Toronto this money is made available. It provides jobs and contributes to better living for more people. It is one of this bank's services to the community and the individual. N5-49

Oshawa Takes Top Place With 7-2 Win Over Petes

Oshawa Merchants moved into first place in the COBL when they took a 7-2 win over the Petes here Saturday. With Bill Gingerich hurling six-hit ball and whiffing nine, the Merchants played errorless ball afield and hit in timely fashion as well as cashing in on loose local play to earn the verdict. Lefty Dadson gave way to Gunner Whitehill on the home mound in the seventh, neither getting the best of support.

Ticcony, Gingerich and Kitchen led the visitors at bat, while Dalton and Menzies topped the Murphyites, with Whitehill, Gingerich and Ticcony hitting triples. Each side reeled off a double-play, and smart catches were pulled by McMullen, Dell and Mackness. There was an argument over a possible balk in the sixth by Gergerich, and an Oshawa run scored on interference at third. Howie Dalton collided in the eighth with Bidgood at first and had to retire later with a sore neck.

Hits by Cook and Jubenville along with a walk and an error gave Oshawa two runs in the first, and Ticcony's triple with interference at third added one in the third. They got four more in the seventh on singles by Gingerich, Kitchen and Ticcony, with two miscues and Dell's double. The Petes got their two in the eighth on a walk, Whitehill's triple and an infield single by Dalton.

Cosmos Hand A Reverse To Jewellers

Cosmos clouted out a 17-4 victory over Jewellers at the Bowl on Saturday night to stay atop the standing, half a game over Knights. Bigford limited the losers to seven hits and had good backing afield and at bat, while Woods gave way in the seventh to Sanderson, their support being wobbly at times. The victors hammered out homers by Crowe, Robson, Hawkes and Stewart besides two triples by Pryde and two doubles by Thomson. Condon got the only extra base blow for the losers as Pagett led them with two singles. Hawkes and Crowe led the winners with the willow. Crowe had a good pickup, while neat catches were pulled by Lewis and Pryde.

Toronto Cricketers Unable To Play Here

The local cricketers were considerably disappointed on Saturday by the last-minute default of the Toronto Grace Church "B" team, this match being scheduled to open the cricket council schedule here. Special arrangements had been made to start off the season with a welcome planned for the visitors.

At seven p.m. Friday, the local secretary received a phone message that the Grace Church club could not raise a team to fulfil the engagement. It is not certain that the council will rule this a default or as a postponement. Players here prefer to settle decisions on the field and they intend to keep all their engagements. They play Dovercourt in Toronto next Saturday, with Parkdale "B" team coming here June 18.

Edmonton Grads, queens of basketball for 18 years, disbanded at a banquet in Edmonton nine years ago to-night. Thirteen triumphs in their last season brought Grads' all-time record to 530 victories and 24 defeats, including the Canadian championship every year they competed since 1922, North American except 1933, and 24 straight game victories at four successive Olypic Games.

Knights Take A 10-8 Win Over Outlaws

Knights took a firmer grip in the City Softball League on Saturday at the Bowl when they pulled out a 10-8 win over Outlaws. Hinton threw seven-hit ball and fanned seven in the tight tilt, while Gordon also threw fairly steady ball as the fielding was about even. Reg. Leither paced Knights at bat with a homer and three singles in five, Legrow getting three hits, Conlin a homer and double and Woods two singles. None of the losers got n ore than one single, but Taylor hit a four-bagger. An O'Heron-Evans double play for the winners was a fielding feature.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Six jockeys escaped death in a bad spill in the running of the feature race at Thorneliffe race track Saturday. One horse died and another was destroyed.

Jockey Paul Bailey injured a thumb. Robert Merchant suffered torn knee ligaments; Bobby Fisher strained a shoulder and Victor Polk bruised a knee. The two other jockeys who went down David Prater and Charlie Ulrich, were unhurt.

The race, the Bryan and O'Hara Memorial Handicap at 1 1-16 miles carrying $5,000 added, was won by Exploiter, with Joey Bomber second and Brown Hostess third. Only seven horses finished out of 13 starters.

The trouble started when Red Jerry, running third as the field rounded the paddock turn, staggered and dropped dead. Five other horses fell over him. Halchess, owned by Mrs. Tom Stevenson, of Hamilton, suffered a broken leg and was destroyed.

St. Catharines Collegiate Saturday took top honors in the National events of the fourth annual Canadian Secondary School-Boys' Rowing Association Regatta at St. Catharines.

Formation of the Ontario Umpires Association, a body that will control and direct all arbiters in the province, was carried out at Hamilton Sunday.

The organization, officials said, has been assured the full co-operation of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association. One of its first moves will be to seek from the OASA a ruling that none but the association's member umpires be used in Ontario play-off games.

Two members of Quebec Junior Hockey Association revealed Saturday they are seeking extension of the junior hockey-age-limit from 20 to 21.

Frank Byrne of Quebec Citadels and Jack Toupin of Three Rivers Junior Hockey Club announced they have sent a telegram to A. L. Pickard, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, in connection with their proposal. The telegram said they are circulating a petition among Canadian Junior Hockey Clubs and asked Pickard if the CAHA would agree to raise the age limit if a majority of teams sign their petition.

Ponder returned to his Kentucky Derby form Saturday and rambled home in a furious stretch drive to capture the $18,450 Peter Pan Handicap. Trailing in a dusty eighth place in the early part of the 1⅛-mile gallop at New York's Belmont Park, Ponder got up steam in the stretch run and ripped under the wire a three-fourths of a length winner over Colonel Mike. Capot, the Preakness winner, folded up in the late going and wound up seventh.

At Arcadia, Calif., June Bride, a fancy filly owned by C. H. Jones and sons of Los Angeles, won the $25,000 Hollywood Oaks Handicap at Hollywood-at-Santa Anita Park before a crowd of 32,000 Saturday. Just Why, owned by Clarence Burnett and coupled with June Bride in the betting—both are trained by Willie Molter—finished second and Cosmopolite came in third.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

There's a pro mat card at the Brock Arena this Wednesday night and it may be the last of the season — depending on the turnout. They've lined up another team match for the main go with that popular pair of Whipper Bill Watson and Pat Flanagan in against those villains, Sandy O'Donnell and Wee Willie Davis. We trust no more irate fans get in front of Willie as he's tough on the customers and has 280 pounds to back it up. Semi-final has Tug Carlsen battling one Jack Lovelock, a newcomer to these parts, while the prelim sees Al Korman in against Art Brady. Quite a grapple program.

We're asked to mention the fact that the Church Loop softball seniors have a brief round-robin go ere top two teams hit into playoffs. Tonight has Sally Ann against St. James, whilst the latter are at home again tomorrow to George St. Next night sees Salvation Army playing Knox, whilst Knox goes 'gainst George St. on Friday, June 13 calls for St. James to play Knox with George St. meeting Sally Ann on June 15 to wind it up. Other sections are about set for playoffs, too, and arrangements should be made any day. We'll let you know.

Games Just So-So

Men's softball executive meets in the "Y" tonight. Prexy Pat Calladine expects to call off the twin bill this Sat'day eve as the senior ballsters go that night. Stew Richardson will request a night open later for a benefit game for Jaquith and also Ike Cleary—who had both wrists fractured in that collision in centre last Sat'day. Knights edged Outlaws 10-8 whilst Cosmos rolled to a 17-4 triumph o'er Jewellers as a fair gallery gazed at the doings. Some good and bad ball. Another twin bill by the male softballers there on the morrow.

In Riverside on the aft, Oshawa Merchants took over top spot in the COBL with their 7-2 win over the Petes. And they earned it all the way. Got good pitching from Gingerich—pronounced something like gin-rickey, or is that wishful thinking?—as well as timely hitting and perfect fielding. The locals, on the other mitt, weren't too spry defensively and they didn't clout with ducks on the pond. Except when Gunner Whitehill, who relieved Dadson late, banged a triple in the eighth. Dalton was hurt in a collision at first and had to retire. Not a bad ball game, mind you, but the loop champs weren't at their best, whilst the Merchants were.

Pulled The Old Fake

A few interesting points to the senior ball struggle Saturday. Howie Dalton pulled one of George Hawkes' specialties in the eighth when he faked a throw to first on a grounder and then tagged out the runner coming toward third from second. Last half of the same frame saw Howie collide in a close play at first with outsized Fred Bidgood and Dalton was still in a semi-daze that evening and unable to play softball. There was some dispute once, too, on a balk by Gingerich, but apparently the twirler had asked for time to be called so the balk was washed out. Oshawa goes to Batawa this Saturday and Brockville plays the Petes here twice this week-end.

Members of the Peterborough-Whitaker cricket club were quite disappointed when word was received Friday evening that the Toronto Grace Church "B" team couldn't get enough players to open the council schedule at the Oval on Saturday. Ald. Herb Young was to have extended a welcome to the visitors and special plans had been made to open the season. Whether this goes as a default or postponement isn't certain, but the local club prefers to win or lose on the field and not in the committee room. And the P-W team intends fulfilling its schedule of five matches on the road, the trips running into 850 travelling miles. They play Dovercourt in Toronto this Saturday.

Giants Win Twin Bill From Orioles

By the Associated Press.

George Bamberger, young righthander of Jersey City Giants appears headed for his best season in the game.

The 23-year-old pitcher, who has never won more than 13 games in his pro career since 1946 already has won six games for the International League Giants.

He turned in his sixth triumph as against only one setback Saturday as the league-leading Giants swept a doubleheader from Baltimore Orioles 6-5 and 3-0. Bamberger blanked the Orioles on five singles.

Brilliant relief pitching on the part of another young righthander, 20-year-old Bob Hansen, helped the Giants take the opener. Hansen relieved Andy Tomasic after the big righthander tossed up a pair of two-run homers to Al Cihocki and Frank Mancuso in the second inning.

The victories enabled the Giants to move three games ahead of the runner-up Buffalo Bisons who split a twin bill with Rochester Red Wings.

Buffalo took the opened 6-5 scoring twice in the ninth to win. Frank Trechock belted a three-run homer for the Bisons and George Byam one with the bases empty. Catcher Jim Bucha slammed a two-run homer in the second inning of the nightcap.

Take Double Header

The third-place Montreal Royals climbed to within a game of Buffalo by taking a doubleheader from last-place Syracuse Chiefs 4-3 and 5-4.

Sam Jethroe socked a two-run circuit drive in the seventh to sew the first game up. In the nightcap the Royals finally won out in the seventh on a walk, error and wild pitch.

Toronto Maple Leafs also won a bargain bill to remain within one-half game of the Royals. The Leafs downed the Newark Bears 4-1 and 11-2. Home runs by Al Garbowski and Lew Heyman feaured the opening game triumph. Jocko Thompson, with help from Ed Wright, picked up his third straight win.

Oscar Judd from Ingersoll, Ont., coasted home in the finale. The Leafs clinched the game with six runs in the seventh and final inning. One of the runs came on Garbowski's second homer of the day.

Hold Garrison Parade

TORONTO, June 6 (CP) —Accompanied by 25 bands, 2,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen Sunday marched in the first garrison church parade here since 1939, honoring casualties of the Second World War. Ambulances were kept busy during the ceremonies as several soldiers, marching in heavy battle-dress in temperatures that reached 79 degrees, fainted from the heat.

WINS $20,000 — Nels MacFarland, storekeeper in Toronto's suburban Long Branch was one of two Canadian winners of prizes in the Irish Sweepstakes. Holding a ticket on Swallow Tail which finished third in the Derby, he will collect approximately $20,000. Here he is shown with his wife and four-year-old son, Lance.

Hastings Midgets Feted For Taking Championship

HASTINGS, June (ENS) — Hastings Memorial Community Arena was the scene of a banquet on Wednesday evening tendered to the Ontario Midget D hockey champions, their parents, members of the Hastings Municipal Council, Community Centre officials, and all those who assisted in hockey management during the past season.

Seated at the head table were: Reeve Arthur Orr, chairman; Rev. Father J. J. Garney, Rev. Canon Spencer, Harold Cotton, former professional hockey player; A. E. Hicks of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association; Mr. McEachnie, Toronto Telegram; members of the midget hockey team, Lynn Hill, coach; and H. G. Faiman, manager.

Reeve Orr emphasized to the boys that the erection of the new arena had made it possible for them to win their championship.

Rev. Father Garney and Rev. Canon Spencer lauded the team members for the honor they had brought to the village in winning the championship.

Urges Respect

Guest speaker was Harold Cotton, who also complimented the boys highly on winning the title. He urged them to always respect their managers and coaches, as well as all others who make it possible for them to reach the height of glory in their hockey playing. Mr. Cotton proposed a toast to the boys, which was responded to by Paul Stevenson.

A. E. Hicks, O.M.H.A. executive member, presented the A. P. McAvoy trophy, emblematic of Ontario Minor Midget D hockey championship, to James Marrow, captain of the winning team. H. G. Fairman, manager of the team, presented to each of his players a group picture of themselves and to James Marrow a silver cup for being the most valuable player to his team during the season. Mr. Fairman remarked that "under the scrutiny of opposing managers, referees, officials and spectators, we were congratulated upon having the most mannerly and sporting group of boys, on the ice or in the dressing rooms, they had ever witnessed."

On behalf of the village of Hastings, Joseph Mulholland and Arthur Warrington, councillors, presented each player, mascot, coach and manager with leather jackets.

Present Billfolds

Master Douglas Montgomery and Archie West, on behalf of the team, presented their coach and manager with leather billfolds.

Stanley Stevenson proposed a toast to the ladies who had assisted in arranging the banquet.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The schedule calls for bowling each night this week and also on the afternoons.

Monday night, Tuesday night and Thursday night, schedule games, ladies and gents.

Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock the ladies are having a "draw from the board" tournament. They expect a good turnout.

Wednesday at 1:30 o'clock we have the annual men's rinks open tournament for the Stratton Trophy.

And on Friday and Saturday evenings we have the usual week-end tournaments. It sure does add up to a lot of activity.

Tonight groups 2, 3, and 4 continue with the schedule.

The popularity of the "Family Hour" tournament was clearly demonstrated on Saturday evening when 14 mixed rinks came out to the greens and enjoyed about three hours of bowling.

Winners:

First—Mrs. F. Hall, Miss E. Murphy, Robert Hendry, skip.

Second—Mrs. A. Leach, F. Woods, Mrs. W. Petrie, R. F. Downey, skip.

Third—Mrs. R. Burns, Mrs. Cameron, J. Cullen, skip.

Campbellford Wins

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6 — (ENS)—The home team defeated Wooler in a TVL softball game to the tune of 19-9 here Thursday. It was Campbellford's third consecutive win and the good pitching of McComb, a homer by Bibby and a triple by Blake carried the locals to victory. The visitors garnered in two homers by Austin and McKee.

Teams:

Wooler — Austin 1b, Radcliffe c, McKee 3b, Stacey cf, Richards ss, Scott lf, Brown 2b, Leavitt rf, Rosenplott p.

Campbellford—D. Holmes 1b, L. Holmes cf, Robertson ss, McComb p, Saunders rf, G. Holmes c, Robinson 2b, Bibby 3b, Blake lf.

Umpires—Don Funnell and Owen Hendy.

Industrial Softball

The Industrial Softball League commences play for the season on two fronts tomorrow night: Raybestos vs. Quakers at Quaker diamond, and Westclox vs. Woollens at Brinton Field. On June 9, Quakers play Westclox at Quaker, while Raybestos meets Woollens at Brinton. Further schedule will be announced shortly.

Horace Fisher checked with Bunny Morganson in Toronto and was advised that there are not set rules for fastball, but loops could make up their own. A meeting of the league will be held tonight at eight on the Quaker diamond to discuss this matter.

Whip And Pat In Team Match

The recent victory of that team of wrestling villains, Wee Willie Davis and Sandy O'Donnell, over the popular combination of Pat Flanagan and Sliding Billy Hanson, may be cause for very brief celebration on their part.

Art Brady

Reason for this observation is that the same pair of grappling roughians will be back in the main event at the Brock Arena Wednesday, but this their opposition will be bolstered by the opposition of Whipper Billy Watson, who will team up with Pat Flanagan in an attempt to give the ring renegades the trouncing the fans are waiting for.

A strong supporting card has Tug Carlsen meeting Al Lovelock in the semi-final, and Art Brady taking on Al Korman in the opener. Lovelock is highly rated in mat circles and Art Brady made a good impression in his match with Villmer here two weeks ago.

Cards Dump Boston 8-1 Pirates Eke Out 5-4 Win

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The home-run socking New York Giants today lead the pack League pennant race. But the team everybody is watching are those old stretch runners — St. Louis Cardinals.

Not given too much of a chance because of their veterans and lack of reserves, the Redbirds have been a surprise by picking up steam at a time nearly everyone believed they'd wilt.

Two weeks ago they were in seventh place. Today, they are in fourth place, only 1½ games behind the pace-setting Giants.

The Cards made it two in a row over Boston Sunday, defeating the Braves 8-1 and dumping them into second place, one-half game behind the winning Giants.

The two-run first inning homer by Sid Gordon, followed by Walker Cooper's four-bagger with two on, was more than Larry Jansen needed to subdue the Cincinnati Reds 6-1. The tall righthander allowed four hits, but lost his shutout in the fifth when Johnny Wyrostek banged him for a solo round tripper.

Drop Brooklyn

The cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh Pirates dropped Brooklyn into third place, a full game from the top, defeating the Dodgers in a 10-inning tussle 5-4. Ralph Kerr's 13th homer of the season broke up the overtime battle. Rex Barney, who had relieved in the eighth inning when Pittsburgh tied the score at 4-4, was the victim. Murry Dickson was the winner.

Philadelphia and Chicago divided a doubleheader, the Phils winning the opener 7-2 and the Cubs coming back to eke out an 8-7 triumph in the nightcap. Righthander Hank Borowy pitched a five hitter in the first game. Del Ennis and Willie Jones backed him with home runs.

The Cubs blew a 6-0 lead in the second game, but won in the ninth when Harry Walker, ex-Phil scored.

The American league-leading New York Yankees split a doubleheader with the Browns in St. Louis. The Yankees made it four in a row winning the opener, 6-4 but the Brownies ended an 11-game streak winning the second 7-6.

A five-run seventh, highlighted by Billy Johnson's three-run homer off Bill Kennedy, enabled the Yankees to overcome a 3-1 deficit. Vic Raschi won his eighth game against one defeat with a seven hitter.

Slams Homer

Dick Kokos slammed a homer with two on to feature a six-run fifth-inning attack against Yankee loser Fred Sandford and Joe Page in the second game.

The Tigers earned a split with Boston Red Sox, coming back to win the second game 11-5 after Boston copped the opener 5-3. Homers by Ted Williams and Matt Batts, each with one on, helped Joe Dobson win over Virgil Trucks.

A crowd of 55,857—biggest of the season—saw Vic Wertz clout a pair of homers and two singles to lead the Tigers to their second-game win.

Cleveland Indians lost both ends of a doubleheader to Philadelphia Athletics 3-0 and 4-2. The A's had some sensational relief pitching by Bobby Shantz and Charley Harris. Shantz pitched one-hit shoutout ball after relieving starter Bill McCahan in the third inning of the opener. Harris, entering the nightcap with the bases loaded in the third, allowed the Indians only three hits and no runs.

Eddie Joost, homered in each game, his 11th and 12th of the year. His 11th came in the third inning off Bobby Feller, who lost his fifth game against one victory. The double loss dropped the Indians into seventh place.

Washington and Chicago White Sox split one-run decisions, the Senators winning the opener 7-6 and the White Sox taking the second 5-4. Capped by a home run by Cass Michaels, the White Sox rallied to overcome a 4-1 deficit in the nightcap.

Will Collaborate With Drew Gov't

AMQUI, Que., June 6 (CP) — Provincial Treasurer Onesime Gagnon Sunday told a Progressive Conservative rally here in this Matapedia-Matane riding town that "the Quebec Provincial government has a program of close collaboration with the Drew government when it comes to power."

The senior minister in the cabinet of Premier Duplessis, and acting Prime Minister since Premier Duplessis went on vacation a few weeks ago, made the statement at a rally for Adelard Fortin, official Progressive Conservative candidate in the June 27 election here in this Gaspe Peninsula riding.

With Provincial Treasurer Gagnon on the platform was Provincial Minister of Fish and Game, Dr. Camille Pouliot, and Donald Fleming, Progressive Conservative member for Toronto-Eglington.

Mr. Gagnon told the meeting that George Drew had been "a faithful ally" of Premier Duplessis in the defence of provincial autonomy and that the present federal election was a continuation of "the same battle."

Beatrice Lillie Escapes Fire

CHICAGO, June 6—(CP)—Vivacious Beatrice Lillie, star of the musical show 'Inside U.S.A.' Sunday escaped injury when fire developed in her Ambassador East hotel apartment. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

James Hart, hotel manager, said the Toronto-born Miss Lillie herself reported the fire at 6:45 a.m. CST. She was treated at Henrotin Hospital for shock and spent the day resting.

Although the fire department was summoned, a house detective and a bellhop extinguished the blaze before the firemen arrived. Damage, confined to the living room of the 11th-floor suite, was estimated at $5,000. Hotel officials "guessed" the fire started in an overstuffed armchair and smoldered several hours before breaking out.

The comedienne, in private life Lady Peel, was not injured. Sam Stratton, her press representative said: "It's nothing serious."

Monty Pledges Britain To Fight With France

HERMANVILLE, France, June 5 (Reuters)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Europe's Western Union military chief, Sunday pledged Britain to fight with France again in the event of another war.

He told an Anglo-French gathering in a street of this Normandy village at a ceremony commemorating the Allied invasion in 1944:

I want to tell you that you can regard it as certain that the forces of Britain will fight side by side with the forces of France should aggression come."

"That fact can not be too widely known."

"And I want to tell you I myself will fight with them and if I have to die in battle I will die fighting in France and be buried in France."

Percy WI Prepares For District Annual

WARKWORTH, June 6 (ENS) —The Percy Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Cornelius for their May Meeting. Donations were sent to the following: Stone's Cemetery $10.00; Salvation Army, Campbellford, $10, Cancer Fund, $5.

The district annual meeting is to be held in Wooler June 8. Mrs. M. W. Woods will give an address and delegates will be Mrs. Wm. Shaw, Mrs. N. McCubbin and Mrs. Wm. Craighead. The institute's short course will be modern dress-making, 2nd choice, braided rugs.

The "Sunshine" convener and visiting committee reported 14 cards and 2 letters sent and 4 phone calls made.

Citizenship convener, Mrs. Gummer, took charge of the following program: Motto, "What our world needs to-day is more friendship and less warships" by Mrs. Craighead. Reading, "Keeping our boys and girls on the farm and country life as we find it," Mrs. G. McCubbin.

The members exchanged bulbs, roots and slips. The new programs for 1949 and 1950 were distributed.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

TWO SMALL FIRES

Two small fires were reported to the Fire Department over the week-end. On Sunday afternoon a grass fire broke out on the Canal Rd., and later burning rubbish was reported at the rear of the Canadian Canoe Co.

SEWER GAS ESCAPES

Firemen were summoned to 283½ George St. shortly after midnight when escaping sewer gas was reported at the store and residence of Harry Zacks. The premises was aired and firemen investigated.

BIG CLASS CONFIRMED

A class of more than 100 boys and girls of St. Peter's and St. Mary's Schools, with a small number of adults, was confirmed in St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday afternoon by the Most Reverend Gerald Berry, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough.

TO REVIEW PROGRESS

Members of the executive of the Kawartha Conservative Association will meet tonight at 7.30 in the Chamber of Commerce offices to review progress made to date on plans to set up a public recreational area on some Crown land on Little Lake.

SELECT SUDBURY

Sudbury will be host to the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters at the 1950 convention. At the semi-annual meeting during the week-end, at Orillia, delegates voted to hold the convention next Jan. 30-31. Vic Sutton of Windsor presided over the meeting.

ANNOUNCER TO SPEAK

Gordon K. Fraser, Progressive Conservative candidate for Peterborough West in the Dominion election of June 27, announced at a party rally Saturday night that next Saturday night, June 11, a further rally at party headquarters would be addressed by Joel Aldred, former national network announcer of the CBC, Toronto. John Corkery, president of the Young Progressive Conservatives announced that there would be a general meeting for young people at headquarters on June 15 and a rally and dance at Brock Street Summer Gardens on June 21.

Whose Wash Tub?

How is the lady who lost her wash tub on Rubidge St. last week coping with the family washing without it. That is the question City Police are asking today after having picked up the stray tub from the roadway of Rubidge St.

Police took the tub to the police station after seeing it in the road last week. An old fashioned wooden tub, complete with hand turned wringer, it is now lodged in the police headquarters garage awaiting recovery. — H. M. P.

New Bandstand Dedicated At Nicholls Oval

Peterborough Citizens' Band attracted a big crowd to Nicholls Oval for the first concert of the season Sunday night. The occasion was also the opening and dedication of the new band stand.

Col. R. J. Bolton, president of the Recreation Commission, was chairman, and with him on the platform were Ald. Hurrell Dodds, chairman of the board of works; Ald. Herbert Young, chairman of the parks committee; Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, Gerald Routly, director of the Salvation Army Band; Wm. R. Graff, president of the Peterborough Film Board.

At the intermission, Ald. Brooks representing Mayor Swanston, transferred the new stand from the board of works which had built it to the property committee represented by Ald. Herbert Young.

"It has been said that music is the soul of the nation," said Ald. Dodds. "We in Peterborough have established our citizens' band with traditions equally by very few of the bands of this country. We are fortunate in having also the Salvation Army band, one of the best on the continent; also the CGE pipe band, the Canadian Legion pipe band and our school and service clubs band. They are all assets to our city, are greatly appreciated by the people, and we sincerely trust that they will all prosper.

"I should like to mention one salient feature in connection with the building of this bandstand, because it was of great importance to us. This stand was made possible through the sympathetic co-operation of the City Trust Commission of which Vincent Eastwood is chairman."

Ald. Herbert Young formally accepted the new stand for the parks committee which will have charge of its maintenance as an improvement in the city's public park property, and a brief dedication prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Gordon.

Captain W. H. Peryer included in his opening program of the summer the Myddleton number "Down South" mentioned as an American sketch, and long popular with concert bands and their audiences. The English song "Cruising Down the River," and the cornet solo by Earl Johns, "Columbia," and a symposium of selections from classics were other numbers that rounded out a fine program.

Churches Cancel Inter Faith Week

A series of inter-faith mission services planned for June 12-19 in five Peterborough churches of different denominations has been cancelled.

The inter-faith mission was to have been led by Dr. A. E. Cliffe of Montreal, who will be unable to come to the city because of injuries received in a motor accident at Conwall at the week-end.

Holy Communion at St. John's Anglican church Sunday morning was to have opened the series the week at St. John's, Murray St. with evening meetings throughout Baptist, George St. United, All Saints' Anglican and St. Paul's Presbyterian churches.

TREE SLOWS TRAFFIC

Provincial police received a report Sunday afternoon at 4:00 that a large tree had been blown down on Highway 28 at Kendry station, blocking traffic in one direction. Arrangements were made with the Department of Highways for its removal and the road was soon cleared.

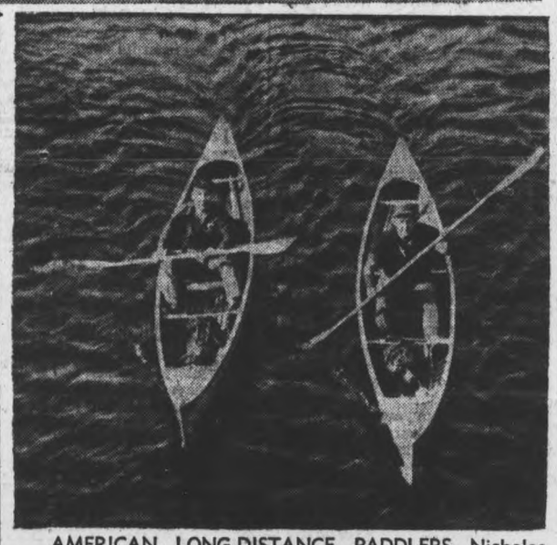
Canoeists Start Paddle To New York City

Two boys from the Bronx, NY, got off the train on Friday noon with a welter of canoe and camping gear. In red and black shirts bearing emblems of the American Canoe Association, Nicholas Power, number 10962 of the Atlantic Division and Sidney Picker, number 11111, sorted their baggage and found it correct. There were double paddles, box seats, portage yokes and packsacks containing a tent, sleeping bags, air mattresses, a primus stove and food.

It did not take them long to locate sales manager Frank Clancey at the Peterborough Canoe Company to claim two cedar strip canoes which they had ordered in March. The craft were delivered to George St. Wharf and were soon filled with camping duffle. Obviously they were going on a canoe trip and certainly one that had never been undertaken by members of the Association for 28 years. The route they had planned for themselves was from Peterborough to New York City and they would paddle every mile of the way, except for crossing Lake Ontario's 60 miles from Cobourg to Rochester by ferry. They said that three ACA members, Carl Schwartz, Bill Weingardt and Sam Baer had taken a similar trip in 1921. They expected to reach home in 20 to 21 days.

Not Amateurs

These Bronx boys are no canoeing greenhorns by any means. Power's longest trip in the past was from New York City to Crown Point on Lake Champlain and numerous other shorter trips in New England. He got around too during the Second World War and going to do his stint on the Continent for seven months did some rigorous training with the American Army at Fort Churchill. He is a refrigeration mechanic by trade.



Sid Picker is more of a roamer than his pal Nick. He was in the US Army for a total of eight years and before the war did stints as "lease lend," as he puts it, in the West Indies and Brazil. Coming up the ranks to Master Gunner during the war he was in North Africa, Sicily and Italy where he was wounded. After convalescing back home he rejoined and did a considerable spell in the Phillipines, Guam, Okinawa and Japan. His canoe trips in peace time have followed similar water trails to his pal's.

Unusual Route

The pushed down Little Lake at 5.30 p.m. Friday on their long road home with double-bladed paddles flashing in the sun. Their route is an unusual one, as they have planned it on paper. After reaching Rice Lake they intend to turn west to Bewdley and portage over to the north branch of the Ganaraska River to Port Hope. They will reach Cobourg by Monday noon to catch the ferry.

From Rochester they will go along the southern coast of Lake Ontario to Oswego, down the Oswegan and Erie Canals and turn into the Hudson at Troy, NY. The secret of how they managed these long canoe trips together each vacation time was simple. Neither one is married and their only immediate problems were those of the open water roads. It is a safe bet that these two veteran canoeists will reach home as per schedule and they will have had a lot of fun on the way.

Mayor Clears Up Robertson Issue

"I never said that Blake Robertson called at the office of Blackwell and Craig two or three times about the nurses residence of Civic Hospital," Mayor Swanston told the Examiner this morning. "I did say that I was informed from several sources that Mr. Robertson was in Peterborough two or three times, but I did not say that he actually called at the architect's office, and I don't know whether he did or not."

Mayor Swanston said that if there was an inference of Mr. Robertson having called at the office of Blackwell and Craig it was made by the Examiner's reporter. He was referring to the statement Saturday of Mr. Walter Blackwell to the effect that Mr. Robertson, whose firm was awarded on Thursday the contract for the nurses residence, was reported to have come to Peterborough "to interview the architects".

Mr. Blackwell said that Mr. Robertson had not called at the office of his firm. That point was made clear. His Worship adds the further fact that from several sources he learned that Mr. Robertson had been in Peterborough and that was the extent of his information to the council.

Social Welfare Legislation Of Drew Praised

"More new social welfare legislation was enacted in Ontario under George Drew's premiership in the years 1943 to 1948 than was ever passed before by any province of Canada since Confederation. This fact alone eminently qualifies Mr. Drew to assume the larger mantle of Prime Minister of Canada."

This was the keynote of an address delivered by Frederick G. Gardiner, K.C., reeve of Forest Hill Village, Toronto, at a rally held Saturday night at Peterborough West Progressive Conservative headquarters, George St., in support of Gordon K. Fraser, the party's candidate in this riding in the Dominion election of June 27.

Mr. Gardiner said that in the past year or two, a three-fold "blueprint for victory" of the Progressive-Conservatives had been fashioned comprising three main elements.

The first of these was the selection as party leader of "that most commanding and outstanding citizen of Canada, George Drew;" secondly, the drafting of the present party platform, "not one word of criticism of which has been heard from either the Liberal or CCF parties in the past five months;" third element in the victory pattern was the selection of candidates right across Canada possessed of "equalities infinitely superior to those possessed by candidates of any other party." This last factor, Mr. Gardiner said, was "well demonstrated here in Peterborough." Mr. Fraser, he declared, has been "one of the most energetic members of the party in all Canada, and has done a great deal for the people, regardless of their political allegiance."

Ontario First

Mr. Gardiner reminded his audience that Ontario was the first province to start paying Old Age Pensions at the rate of $40 per month, following passage of legislation. "We are ahead even of the socialistic CCF government in this respect," he said. "This is the best answer to those who say that the Progressive-Conservative Party is not interested in the social welfare of the people." The whole attitude of the Drew government was that the province should assume a greater share of the responsibility of supplying social service to the people. No other government has as good a record in this sphere as Mr. Drew's, said Mr. Gardiner.

Mr. Fraser in a brief address directed strong criticism against excess of governing by order-in-council at Ottawa, inefficient administration of Veterans' Land Act, the government's poor handling of the housing problem, and "politics in the CBC."

Mr. Fraser declared that many orders-in-council had been passed with only two or three members of the cabinet present. In some cases they had even been enacted without the presence of the minister whose department was directly affected. He said that he knew of veterans whose applications under the Veterans' Land Act had been in since last March and who were still "awaiting the go ahead signal."

Close Too Early

He said also that many people were being hampered in solving their housing problems because the local office of Central Mortgage and Housing closed daily at 5 p.m. and was not open at all on Saturdays. "What chance has a factory worker got under these office hours?" he asked. Mr. Fraser asserted that the "CBC has been playing politics for a long time." In support of this contention, he said that the script of a certain CBC play had been placed on the table of the house at his request to prove to the members that it contained material "belittling our party."

The meeting was presided over by James Juby, president of the riding's party organization, and Mr. Gardiner was introduced by Hon. Harold Scott, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, who also declared that the impressive record of social legislation passed by the Ontario government of Canada. Mr. Gardiner was thanked by Mrs. J. Cridland, president of the Peterborough Women's Progressive Association. John Corkery, president of the Young Progressive - Conservative Association, also spoke briefly.

Father Frees His Two Tots From Flaming Home

When he put his bare foot through the front window to allow his two children to escape fire and possible suffocation on Saturday afternoon, Albert Gilpin of 691 New Romaine St., received several deep cuts. He was given first aid by a neighbor, William Carter of Romaine St., and later was treated by Dr. Herbert Young for a cut on his right heel and others on both arms.

The fire was reported to have done heavy damage to the kitchen and other damage due to the heat of the blaze and the smoke. A money valuation of the loss has not yet been made.

Mr. Gilpin was alone in the house with his two children, George, age three years, and Marie, five. He had undressed and was lying down in the front room of the house asleep when he was awakened by the frightened children.

They had turned on a two-plate electric burner while playing in the kitchen, and one of them had then thrown a towel across it. The towel immediately ignited and started a fire accompanied by heavy smoke.

Uses Bare Foot

By the time Mr. Gilpin was awakened the house was filled with smoke and the flames had secured a firm hold. With his bare foot he knocked a hole in the front room window and put the children outside and then he climbed outside himself. While doing so he received cuts from the jagged glass.

A neighbor, William Carter phoned the Fire Department, and being an ex-auxiliary fireman with a thorough knowledge of first aid, he tended to Mr. Gilpin with the Department's emergency kit.

A booster line and one large hoseline were used to extinguish the blaze.

Fire Chief George Smith said if Mr. Gilpin had been upstairs instead of down when the outbreak occurred there was a strong possibility the children would have suffocated before their plight was realized.

Trophy Play Results In Tie

Ray Logan and Don Johnson of Haliburton tied with a 79 each for the Examiner Trophy at the second annual golf tourney staged Sunday on the Haliburton course. The tricky course was in good condition but a high wind called for control on every shot. The tourney was 18 holes of medal play, and the top two tied, deciding then to settle it for the trophy at a later date.

Two Peterborough men, Errol Hanbidge and Al Clark, competed among the 15 golfers of that district. The first 10 scores were: Ray Logan 79, Don Johnson 79, Claire Roberts 82, Errol Hanbidge 83, Al Clark 84, Frank Anderson 88, Harry MacDonald 91, Dennis Griffin 93, Mark Scheffe 94, Mervyn Roberts 96. Bobby Nichol was the winner last year.

Two Accidents 4 Men Injured 2 In Hospital

Four persons were injured in two highway accidents which were investigated by Provincial Police over the weekend. As the result of one of them a man was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital with a broken arm. In the other accident three men were hurt, but only one was injured badly enough to be admitted to hospital.

In the first accident, Clifford Sutton, 418 Sheridan St., driver for a bus company received a compound fracture of the left arm and a lacerated head at about 11.00 Saturday night when, while driving his own car, he was in collision with another car on No. 28 Highway 1½ miles south of Young's Point. The other car was driven by Thomas VanGorder of Toronto, who was unhurt. Sutton's car was a complete wreck and VanGorder's car badly smashed in on one side.

Investigation conducted by Provincial Constables H. Cooke and A. F. Grayling revealed that the accident occurred when Sutton's car got out of control after it touched a soft spot in the shoulder of the road. Sutton told police his vision had been interfered with by bright lights of a car coming up behind him.

Strikes Tree

The other accident occurred at 1.00 a.m. Sunday on the 2nd Line of Smith, about seven miles northwest of No. 28 Highway, when a car, driven by Cecil Bowes, 127 Rubidge St., left the road and struck a tree stump, causing about $250 damage to the car. Others in the car with hime were Philip Gravelle of Bridgenorth and Roy Cox, Aylmer St., Peterborough. Gravelle and Cox suffered only minor cuts and bruises, but Bowes had to be taken to Civic Hospital, where full extent of his injuries was unknown pending result of X-ray examination. Provincial Constables G. Henderson and Coffey investigated.

The congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held a reception following the Sunday evening service at which they became acquainted with their minister for the next five weeks and his family. The Rev. W. A. Smellie, Mrs. Smellie, son Alasdair and daughter Elspeth arrived from Perth, Scotland, last week. Mr. John Anderson, a native of Scotland, was chairman. Mrs. L. R. Mitchell entertained with two beautiful solos and Mr. Christopher Gledhill, church organist, played a pleasing piano selection. Mr. Smellie expressed appreciation of the kindness shown him, and spoke of the different customs in use in Scotland. Mrs. Smellie also spoke briefly making reference to the great kindnesses shown by Dr. D. W. Clark since their arrival. Refreshments were served by members of the Ladies' Aid.

Bride and Groom Feted

Before her marriage to Mr. Wm. Given on Saturday, Miss Miriam Butcher was honored by a wide circle of friends in the city. Girls at the Western Clock Company gave her a pantry shower, and ladies of the Salvation Army gave a miscellaneous shower. Mrs. K. Shadgett and Miss Jean Shadgett were hosteses for a pantry shower. Mrs. R. F. Routly, Mrs. W. Lowell and Mrs. R. G. Routley entertained the bride and groom at a party with 12 couples in attendance. The groom was presented with an end table by fellow-employees in the refrigeration department, CGE, and the bride received a Duncan Fyffe coffee table from associates at Western Clock Company.

Miriam Butcher, Wm. Given Married in Temple Setting

Peonies and snapdragon formed a lovely background for the wedding ceremony in the Salvation Army Temple Saturday afternoon which united Miriam Butcher and Mr. F. William Given. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Butcher, 583 Walnut St., and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Given of Windsor.

Major Charles Watt officiated and wedding music was played by Mrs. A. B. Smith. The soloist was Mrs. Murray Thomas who sang "The Lord's Prayer," and during the signing of the register, "O Perfect Love."

The bride's gown was of heavy ivory satin styled with sweetheart neckline, form fitted to the waist and full flowing skirt and train. Her veil of fine net fell into a long train, held in place with a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mr. Butcher gave his daughter in marriage.

Bridesmaids were Miss Doris Hendry and Miss Margaret Isle wearing full-skirted frocks with bustles of mauve and green taffeta, and junior bridesmaids Marion Routley and Donna Hayes, cousin of the bride from Omemee were in yellow taffeta frocks. Each wore a hat and gloves of the same material as her dress and they carried nosegays of roses and sweet peas.

The groom was attended by Mr. Wm. Smith of Windsor. Ushers were Mr. K. Bolam and Mr. M. Thomas.

A reception was held afterward in the Sunday School hall. Mrs. Butcher received with the wedding party, wearing a gown of aqua mist crepe, hat of natural straw, and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted, and was wearing navy with white accessories and corsage of red roses.

For their honeymoon the bridal couple flew to Buffalo. Mrs. Given was wearing a pale blue dress with navy accessories and corsage of deep red roses. On return they will live on Rogers St.

Forbes-Munro Trophy Goes to London

Duet swimming competitions held in West End YMCA, Toronto, Saturday for the Forbes-Munro trophy, offered by Mrs. James Forbes and Mrs. N. C. Munro of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club for Canadian National competition. Seven teams from Canada were entered.

Isabel Crary and June Storey of the local club came in second place, beaten by June and Gail Taylor of Western University, and Jill Groombridge and Norma Gant were in third place.

The trophy was presented to the winners from London, Ontario, by Miss Norma Gant, president of the Peterborough Ornamental Club after an address was made by Mr. Munro.

The Peterborough girls received silver and bronze medals.

Margaret Abbott is Bride of Mr. John Stodgell, Windsor

A largely attended wedding in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon was that of Margaret Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbott of Peterborough, and Mr. John Coatsworth Stodgell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon John Stodgell of Walkerville.

White snapdragon and spirea with fern and palms decorated the church. The nuptial vows were solemnized by the Rev. William A. Smellie. The music was by Mr. Christopher Gledhill, organist, and Mrs. William Brown sang "O Perfect Love" at the signing of the register.

The bride wore an original gown of blush ivory satin, styled with slim moulded basque and long tight sleeves. The wide-open portrait neckline was framed by a collar of heirloom Honiton lace which formed a deep point in front. Tiered satin flanges curved across the hipline of the graceful panelled skirt which swept to a billowing cathedral train. She wore a bonnet brim of Honiton lace which held her mother's bridal veil of illusion tulle appliqued in lace motifs. Her bouquet of white gardenias, calla lilies, and stephanitis had touches of pink in tiny roses. Mr. Abbott gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Jane Abbott was maid of honour for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Pickup of Toronto, Mrs. John Annesley of Victoria, B.C., and Mrs. William Livingston of Toronto. They chose gowns of aqua foam tulle over taffeta, fashioned with decollete bodice caught with shoestring straps and enhanced by frothy shoulder capes of accordion pleated tulle. The princess line skirts featured set-in circular panels at each side which gave a bouffant effect. They wore matching tulle mitts and period bonnets of accordion pleated tulle. The bouquets were multi-colored, made up of roses, pansies, carnations and sweet peas.

The groomsman was Mr. James N Bartlet of Walkerville. Messrs. Robert Daniels, John R. Sale, John Wigle Jr., Gordon Dewar Jr., John Dewar and Douglas Hendry ushered.

The reception took place under marquees on the lawn at the Abbott home, 754 Water St. The bride's mother received, wearing an orchid gown with matching hat and corsage of green gardenias and pink roses. Also the groom's mother, dressed in beige and wearing a corsage of green orchids.

The bride and groom left later on a motor trip to Stockbridge, Mass. and will visit in New York city. Mrs. Stodgell went away wearing a turquoise blue suit and matching hat, and had brown snakeskin shoes and handbag. Her sorsage was of white gardenias.

The couple will live in Windsor.

Banana Split Sundae (see notes)

Iced Coffee

Directions — The charm of a cold plate is in its variety—not in its quantity. Reducers have to be pampered and this is a very pleasant way of doing it. I think the mayonnaise should be mixed into the beet salad with a little extra lemon juice—but don't be liberal with it—it is packed with calories.

Curried veal or rice need only be stewed with as little or as much curry powder as you like. The fried rice part is what I want to describe. Add 1 cup washed and dried rice to 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine in hot frying pan. Stir until rice is golden and white looking. Then add ½ cup salted water and simmer covered until rice takes up water. If it is not yet tender add a little more water and let simmer until tender. Serve on hot platter and pour stewed veal or lamb over and garnish with parsley.

A banana split sundae in our family consists of 1 scoop of ice cream, 1 banana split flanking it, and a large spoonful of some fruit such as crushed canned pineapple or fresh strawberries or raspberries. My youngsters think I am a wonderful cook when I serve this—and usually it is done at the last moment when I haven't time to make up anything else! I can count on a fast and willing trip from one of them, at the last moment, to the corner drug store for that ice cream too.

Murray St. Ladies Hold Dinner Party

Ladies of the Young Married Couples Group of Murray St. Baptist Church held their annual banquet in the Kawartha Room, Empress Hotel, Friday evening. Twenty-eight were present. Vice president Mrs. Max Middleton presided at the head table. Mrs. Ivan Morgan said the grace.

Others at head table were Mrs. Vern Wilkinson, president, Mrs. Donald Harwood, secretary, Mrs. Clare Boorman, Mrs. Clayton Ruth, Mrs. Ted Naish, Mrs. Tom Smoothy, Mrs. Herb. Tranter and Mrs. Jack Hayward.

Entertainment was by the "kitchen quartette" with Mrs. Hayward conductor at the piano, Mrs. Tranter, Mrs. Boorman, Mrs. Smoothy and Mrs. Allan Wilson on the combs. They gave numbers both hot and sweet.

After dinner the ladies separated into small groups to attend the movie of their choice.

Conflicts and Frustration In Unhappiest Age of All

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 14 and I do not get along well with my parents. They said I could go out with boys when I was 14 if they went along. No boy wants to go out with a girl who has to drag her Papa and Mama along. Why can't I go out with boys alone? Because they say I can't take care of myself. If I can't take care of myself now, when can I?

Dorothy Dix

Mother is afraid to admit that I am growing up because it makes her appear older. Dad is the same way. He is mother's yes-man. I know I am not very respectful, but they haven't given me any reason to respect them. They have only given me a reason to hate them.

My grandfather lives with us and he is trying to rear me. He did a very poor job on his own daughter. None of the kids I go with like him and I don't blame them.

Please excuse the typing of this letter, but I am so mad I don't care where the keys are. It would help me a lot if you would answer this and tell me what to do.

TEEN-AGER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: One of the beautiful fictions to which we give lip service when we are 40 years old is that youth is the happiest time of life, when everything is rose-colored, when we have no cares, and when we go about singing merry roundelays. Nothing is less true. Childhood is a time of stress and strain and friction and frustration and grinding tyrannies in which one is made to go to bed when one isn't sleepy; to eat when one isn't hungry; to do things one doesn't want to do and leave undone things one is dying to do. And if anybody thinks it is fun to be a kid, they should turn back the clock about 20 years.

Parents Can's Help

It is the struggle of youth to get out of the hobbledehoy period, when they are neither babes nor grownups, that causes so many parents to beat on their breasts and tear their hair over what they call the ingratitude of their children. "And there is nothing that we can do to help them," mourn the bewildered fathers and mothers, "for when we try to protect them they think we are persecuting them, and when we attempt to teach them high ideals, they call us old-fashioned and scorn our opinions."

Of course, it is a shocking thing when parents realize that their 13 or 14 year olders regard them as fussbudget old creatures who haven't kept up with the times. But that's the way it is, and that is why so many children have neither respect nor affection for their fathers and mothers.

It is only after children grow up and have youngsters of their own that they appreciate Mom and Pop.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for 13 years and love my wife very much, but she doesn't believe that I do because she says that I do not do anything to show her that I care for her. For instance, she would like me to watch our little girl while she goes to the movies, and I won't do it. I tell her that she should take the child along with her whenever she goes away from home.

She also asks me where I have been when I come home at two and three o'clock in the morning. What can I do to assure her that I love her?

ANDY.

ANSWER: Well, Andy, you know the old proverb about the proof of the pudding being in the eating, and inasmuch as you do nothing to make your wife's pleasanter and easier, you couldn't prove to a jury, still less to your wife, that you have any regard for her.

Take the two small favors she asks of you. Housework is a dull and unexciting proposition, yet when your wife asks you to keep an eye on your little daughter, you refuse to do it. Likewise you demand that your wife take the child with her whenever she leaves the house, when everybody knows it is no recreation to drag a kid around with you when you step out for a little diversion.

And, furthermore, you resent your wife asking where you have been when you have been playing around until three o'clock in the morning, which doesn't indicate that you have gone to any trouble to give her a pleasant evening. Men who love their wives don't treat them the way you do yours

Helen E. Scriver Is Bride Of S. R. Martin

In the Pentecostal Church, Water street, Saturday afternoon, the marriage took place of Helen Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Scriver, 244 Wolfe St., and Sherwood Reginald Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Martin of Musclow, Ontario. The Rev. W. B. Greenwood performed the ceremony and Mrs. Greenwood played the wedding music.

The bride was in a gown of white slipper satin made with sweetheart neckline buttoned to the waist, with covered buttons, and with a full skirt trimmed with inserts of white lace. Her veil of embroidered silk net was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of American beauty roses.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by her youngest sister, Miss Jean Scriver. She was frocked in pale pink embroidered nylon and wore a headdress of pink net and roses. Her bouquet was of pink carnations.

Groomsman was Mr. Edwin Martin, brother of the groom. Ushers were Gordon Scriver, brother of the bride, and Ronald Pomeroy.

The reception was held in the YWCA Green Room. The bride's mother was gowned in blue crepe and wore a hat of blue straw and corsage of pink roses. Assisting her to receive was the groom's mother, wearing green with black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride's going-away outfit was a pale blue taffeta dress and navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin will live at 201 Stewart St.

Elinor Somerville Wed in Toronto

Grace Church-on-the-Hill was the setting for a ceremony of interest here on Saturday, when the marriage took place of Elinor Jane, daughter of Mrs. Somerville and the late George Arthur Somerville to Mr. Samuel Macdonald Irwin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Irwin. Rev. G. Hasted Dowker officiated, assisted by the Rev. H. B. Hendershot, and Mr. Hodgins at the organ accompanied the choir boys, who sang the wedding music.

Mr. Frank M. Somerville gave his sister in marriage. Her original gown of white satin brocade, embroidered with crystals and seed pearls had an embroidered train. She wore her mother's veil of rose pointed lace, held with a band of real orange blossoms, and carried a crescent of all-white roses and lily of the valley. Miss Joan Somerville, in lime green taffeta was maid of honor for her sister; and the bridesmaids, Misses Nathalie Allin, Ann Young, of Peterborough, and Jane Macklin and Marilyn Irwin, junior bridesmaid, chose pale blue. The frocks were in off-shoulder style, with elbow-length capes. They wore off the face crescent shaped hats of matching material, trimmed with lily of the valley, and carried crescents of Talisman roses, sweet peas and lily of the valley. The junior bridesmaid chose a nosegay of the same flowers. Mr. Arnold B. Irwin was groomsman and the ushers were Messrs. David Holtby, Donald Crawford, Ian Flemming, John Wallace, John Shortley and Jim Fisher.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother. After a motor trip to New York and Virginia Beach, the bride and groom will live in Toronto.

QUESTION: I have been going to write to you for a long time for your kindness in sending me two cook books...., also for some clippings of the paper. As I lost mine when my baby was born, they were burnt in mistake and I felt so terrible. Would I be asking too much if you have any more that you could spare out of the paper? Also you said you would send me some more cook books, but you were out of stock of that at present. Did you get them yet?

I am wondering if I have missed your page in the paper. Could you tell me when it is in?

Also would you please send me recipes for these? I have seven children, age 7 months to 11 years and I am very busy as I have had so much sickness that is why I have really not answered your letter sooner. For tapioca pudding, that is the whole tapioca. My puddings curdles so bad; and do you soak it overnight. Also how to prepare spaghetti like the spaghetti you can in a can. I find it too expensive to buy ready-made. Do you know if we can get back issues of the paper?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your letter is precious to me. If I can be of practical help to a conscientious mother of seven children, who is making the effort that you are to manage well, it is gratifying.

I will send you several back issues of the cookery columns and some other cook books I have on hand at present.

Tapioca Cream Pudding

One-half cup pearl tapioca, 1 quart milk, 1 teaspoon melted butter, ½ to ¾ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup dried fruit may be added.

Soak tapioca overnight or for 4 hours; drain; add milk and butter and cook in double boiler (be sure to cook it in double boiler) until tapioca is transparent. Add sugar and salt to the beaten eggs, and pour the hot mixture over them stirring. Return to double boiler and cook for about 5 minutes. Add flavouring and serve hot or cold. If desired skim milk may be used. If you use it, soak the tapioca in it overnight and do not drain. It must be soaked in cool place thorough.

Tapioca Pudding Variations

Soak overnight ½ cup pearl tapioca in 3 cups water containing a pinch of salt and cinnamon or nutmeg. Then add 1 cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla and bake in slow oven 2½ to 3 hours. A double boiler may be used for this. To make apple tapioca pour the above mixture over pared and cored apples in greased baking dish, before baking. This is good served with hard sauce. A good hard sauce can be made from ½ cup margarine, 1½ cups icing sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, nutmeg or mace. Beat all until very light and airy.

Those canned sphaghetis with tomato sauce are made with tomato paste which may be purchased at Italian grocery stores or large groceterias.

Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce

For nine people boil one pound spaghetti in plenty of salt water until tender. Meanwhile melt ½ cup bacon or other drippings in frying pan. Add two ground or finely chopped onions, 1 cup very finely chopped outer celery stalks and tops and saute until transparent—not brown. Add 1 can tomato paste—about 10 ounces, 2 teaspoons salt (and if desired some leftover meat or hamburg, ½ teaspoon pepper and paprika, and about 2 to 3 cups boiling water. Pour this over spaghetti in large (or 2 small) casseroles, sprinkle top with cheese if desired, and bake in slow oven 1½ hours.

Isabel Jackson is Married At Parents Home, Bethany

A lovely June wedding took place on Saturday at the home of the bride's parents in Bethany, when Joyce Isabel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jackson, was united in marriage to Norman W. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson of Yelverton. The Rev. W. Crandall of the United Church performed the ceremony which took place on the lawn under a trellised archway decorated with pink and white streamers and bells, and flanked on either sides with tall baskets of lilacs and tulips.

Mrs. Ross Carr played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Ross Hall of Whitby, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Through The Years" during the signing of the register.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an afternoon dress of smoke blue crepe with white halo hat trimmed with multi colored flowers, white lace mittens and shoes and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Carl Smith was her sister's matron of honor, wearing a white flowered silk jersey dress with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Carolyn Smith, niece of the bride was the tiny flower girl, frocked in pink flowered organdy and carrying pink sweet peas and lily of the valley.

Mr. Jack Wilson was his brother's groomsman.

Mrs. Jackson received her guests in a gown of figured mauve silk, with black accessories, and wore a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a dressmaker suit of steel grey with black accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

For their wedding trip through Northern Ontario, the bride donned a navy suit, pink hat, navy accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

They will reside at the groom farm, RR 2, Janetville.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You receive a dinner invitation and do not know if your child is included in the invitation.

WRONG WAY: Ask your hostess if she means for you to bring your child.

RIGHT WAY: Find it out indirectly, perhaps by saying, "We'd love to come if I can find a baby-sitter for Susan, May I call you back?" If the hostess meant to include the child in the invitation she can say so.

6—In Memoriams

BELL—In loving memory of my dear father Mr. Percy Bell, who passed away June 8, 1947.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
— Ever remembered by daughter Wiline, husband and family.
11

JOHNSON— In loving memory of Pearl Johnson who passed away one year to-day.
You left me beautiful memories,
Orten secret tears.
But you will always be with me
As I journey through the years.
You are always in my mind dear
No matter what I do,
All the time within my heart
There is a thought of you.
—Fondly remembered by her sister Lottie.

JOHNSON— In loving memory of Pearl Johnson who passed away one year to-day.
To-day recalls sad memories,
Of a dear daughter gone to rest.
And the one's who think of her to-day
Is the one's who loved her best.
—Lovingly remembered by mother and Dad.

7—Cards of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the doctors and nurses and sisters of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto for their kind attention, and also friends and neighbours, members of the Rebekah Lodge No. 340 and No. 83, Toronto and relatives, for flowers, cards and gifts sent to me during my recent illness. —Mrs Anne Carveth, Lakefield.

The family of the late Mrs. Sarah A. Ridyard wish to thank their friends and neighbours for expressions of sympathy and condolence and beautiful floral tributes extended to them in the loss of their mother; especially thanking nurses and doctors of Civic Hospital for their kindness during their recent bereavement.

The Martha Club of St. Alphonsus Parish wish to thank Canadian Department Store, Kresge's, Zeller's, Woolworth's and Stedman's for their generous donations of dishes to their newly formed club.

Sinatra Marks 10 Years In Show Work

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 6 (AP) — Frank Sinatra will mark his 10th anniversary in show business during a concert engagement June 25 at Atlantic City's steel pier.

He has asked his fan clubbers all over the world to send him post cards depicting their home towns. After he reads them, the cards will be sent to children's wards in hospitals.

Now a $1,000,000 industry, Sinatra has come a long way since he decided to abandon sports writing for singing 10 years ago.

Gregory Peck has been reading "The Glass Menagerie" script and he may do the film after "12 o'Clock High." That would add up to a high-voltage cast. Already set are Jane Wyman as the daughter and Jack Carson as the caller. Helen Hayes and Tallulah Bankhead are being sought for the mother role.

Canadian-born Carson is warring with Warners. He objects to being the studio's utility man while other male stars gets the acting plums. Carson, a native of Carman, Man., would like to do one high comedy, one low comely and one drama a year. But he hasn't been given a drama since "Mildred Pierce."

Tough Guy

Ray Milland, who has the fishing bug, takes off soon for Balboa and ocean fishing and then East Yellowstone and trout. Ray asked for some photos of his action scenes in "Copper Canyon." It seems his son is a Gary Cooper fan and Ray wanted to prove he can be as rugged.

MacDonald Carey has penned a movie script filled with gore. It's not surprising, since he got his acting start on Arch Oboler's air thriller, "Light's Out." He says they used to rehearse the show in a huge room with only one candle burning.

Sam Goldwyn may shelve his "Earth and High Heaven," for which he paid a heavy sum. He can't get a workable script, and there have been too many other films on intolerance. The book, a best-seller, was by Gwethalyn Graham of Montreal.

The dodo, an extinct bird allied to the pigeon, was last known in its living state in 1681.

Baptist Leader Gives Creed For Test Times

Warning that Communism cannot be stopped by War was given the congregation of Murray St. Baptist Church Sunday morning. The guest speaker was Dr. J. Wilbert Brien of Windsor, formerly of Fenelon Falls. Dr. Brien is president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec this year.

"We are living in a precarious world. Testing days are ahead." Dr. Brien said. "Atheism associated with Communism is one of the most powerful organizations on earth. Communism cannot be destroyed by war."

Dr. Brien quoted Lord Halifax who said that in order to defeat Communism the faith of the other peoples of the world must be as strong as theirs.

"Although war has generally ceased," Dr. Brien continued, "peace in the world is far from being a reality. We must be willing to provide money as freely for the preservation of peace as we did for the destruction of war."

60th Jubilee Convention

Dr. Brien spoke about the Diamond Jubilee program for the convention of Ontario and Quebec. He explained that the program would be developed along three lines: Evangelism, Lay Leadership and Leadership Training and Stewardship.

Under Evangelism Dr. Brien said there were two main objectives: to reclaim the inactive drifting church members, and to bring the unsaved to the knowledge of Jesus Christ as their Saviour and Redeemer. Dr. Brien dealt briefly with the Lay Leadership and Leadership Training giving some of the necessary reasons for strong leaders in the church.

"Christian Stewardship has a three-fold reference, our time, our talents and our possessions," Dr. Brien explained.

He advised the congregation not to say "I have not time to do it" as that is merely an excuse in the majority of cases. He said the true answer should be "I have not the desire, I don't want to." Dr. Brien suggested that they make time to do the things they want to do, thus being good stewards of their time.

The Use Of Money

Reminding the congregation that all people have talents he said these talents should be placed at the service of God.

"Our use of money which represents our material possession is probably the best evidence of the genuinness of the stewardship of our time and talents. Money is power. Through work we have converted our energy into money. Money placed at the service of God can provide building, equipment and education to carry on God's work." He remarked that, "we can multiply our interests and work in a variety of ways by our contributions to worthy causes. 'Where our treasure is, there will our hearts be also' ".

Gifts Presented To Bride-Elect

HAVELOCK, June 6 (ENS)—Miss Joan Dooley was hostess on Wednesday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Gloria Patterson, whose marriage to Ronald William Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henry, RR 1, Whitby, will take place in Knox Presbyterian Church here on June 18.

Miss Muriel Smith read the address and Misses Helen Robinson and Edith Thompson presented the gifts.

The evening was spent in games and contests, the winners being Misses Edith Thompson, Betty Brown, Barbara Gerow, Beverley Bennett, Muriel Smith, Helen Hayes and Beulah Chase.

Others present were: Misses Hazel Ellis, Brenda Lucas, Kae Agnew and Mrs. Dorothy Burridge.

Masons Of Marmora Hold Church Service

MARMORA, June 6—(ENS)—Marmora Lodge, AF & AM No. 222 paraded to St. Andrew's United Church Sunday afternoon where a special service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. George D. Young, who spoke from the text "If we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another."

The singing of the hymns was led by a men's choir, who rendered the anthem "God reveals His presence." The Scripture reading was taken by worshipful Brother C. Watson, Master of the Lodge.

Infant Hit By Car

COBOURG, June 6 (ENS)—Struck on Friday by a car which was backing out of a driveway, 15-months-old Laurie Gummer received head injuries which resulted in her removal to Toronto General Hospital. The car was driven by Morley Macklin.

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Gummer, had been fastened to a tether, but the knot taking up the slack became loosened and the youngster wandered out into the driveway. Mr. Macklin didn't see the child as he was backing out. Chief W. J. Carey investigated.

Nova Scotians Go To Polls Twice In June

By The Canadian Press.

HALIFAX, June 6 (CP)—With but three days to go, Nova Scotia's June 9 provincial election campaign has hit the homestretch.

As such, it now hits the fore after taking a back seat to vote-hunting hours staged in the Maritimes by Federal party leaders.

Shortly after the date for the Provincial contest was announced, the Federal battle was set for June 27.

With two, and sometimes three Federal leaders in the province at one time, the Provincial contest was overshadowed. But since the Ottawa chieftains have departed, the provincial campaign really hit stride.

Liberals in power in Nova Scotia since 1933 went to the people mainly on their government record. To back up Premier Angus L. Macdonald they used the slogan "All's well with Angus L."

The 1945 election saw Mr. Macdonald reenter provincial politics after a wartime tour of duty as Navy Minister and the Liberals at that time used the slogan "Angus L. is back."

The Progressive Conservatives did not win aseat in the 30-member Legislature in the 1945 election.

The CCF formed the two-man opposition to the 28 Liberals in the last House.

Contest 37 Seats.

A total of 37 seats will be contested Thursday. Seven seats were added under a redistribution passed at the 1948 Legislature and proclaimed on dissolution of the House April 27.

During the campaigning, Robert L. Stanfield, fighting his first election as Progressive Conservative leader, has consistently attacked the Liberal record on such points as liquor policy, industrial development and financial arrangements with the municipalities.

In a speech at New Glasgow last Thursday, Premier Macdonald said the Liberal Government has a record of "promises kept." He offered a five-year $100,000,000 public works program, including contributions to construction costs of Canso and Halifax harbor bridges.

Rev. W. Smellie Welcomed To St. Paul's

The congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sunday welcomed the Rev. W. A. Smellie of St. John's Kirk, Perth, Scotland. Now living with his family at St. Paul's manse Mr. Smellie has exchanged pulpits with the Rev. C. G. Boyd until July 17.

After the evening service the Ladies' Aid Society held a reception for the new minister, his wife, son Alasdair and daughter Elspeth.

"What does it mean that the Spirit of God has been poured out upon and into all flesh"? asked Mr. Smellie in his morning address. He took as his text Acts II, verse 17: "And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my spirit upon all flesh."

"That means, for our day, from every member according to his talent and ability, vigorous and untiring social action to the end that in the organized relationships of men, unceasing homage and obedience will be paid to the fact that Christ . . . thought every man, woman and child that ever was, infinitely worth dying for."

"How else in such a time as ours can we with any seriousness begin to translate into actuality the hope that the world will be filled with the knowledge of the Lord." declared the speaker. "And how else can we make such a hope anything but wishful thinking."

A religion of wishful thinking is not wanted, he said, and would only add to the "monstrous errors and death-dealing illusions of our time."

Many civilizations have been built up on the premise that if you give men and women plenty of bread and circuses you can do what you like with them, stated Mr. Smellie. Both the Roman and Nazi civilizations were founded on this notion.

Why do we think there is anything wrong with that, he queried. And it is apparent we do think there is something wrong with it since men are ready to kill and be killed rather than give in to that sore of way of life.

"Where have we got hold of the notion that men and women are born for something much better than that, of the notion that there's something immeasurably precious about every living soul"?

The fact of the matter is . . . we get hold of it in the manger at Bethlehem," he said. In the child born there, as he grows up into youth and manhood we see what men were born to be. In him you see perfect human life. . . ."

". . . On a cross He let the world see that He thought every man, woman and child that ever was to be infinitely worth dying for. Because He did that, and also because, somehow or other, once you have seen that that was what He said, that that was what He lived, that that was how He died, it is impossible, even after 2,000 years to put it out of your remembrance."

"He haunt the human heart forever."

Bees Snag Traffic

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6 (ENS)—When a new queen bee is about to be born the old queen moves her household to new quarters. Such was the case at 4.30 p.m. Thursday when a swarm belonging to Arthur Redden, Water Work's superintendent, deserted to brother Harry, who lives over the post office.

Landing in a small tree near the east entrance, the queen's snipers stopped all traffic entering or leaving the building. Mrs. Harry Redden notified the owner and apiarian Arthur in gown and veil soon had them safely tucked away in a hive.

Roseneath WI To Hold Bazaar

ROSENEATH, June 6 (ENS)—Planning of a mid-summer bazaar, making an application for a short course, reading of a biography of the late Sir Harry Oakes, and showing of three films from the National Film Board by Jack Buttars, Plainville, were the highlights of a Roseneath Women's Institute meeting held on Thursday in the township hall.

Committees were appointed for the different tables for a bazaar to be held on Saturday, July 2. The folowing conveners were appointed: sewing table, Mrs. Geo. Mouncey; home cooking table, Mrs. J. W. Pacey; fish pond, Miss Jessie Johnston; posters, Mrs. Charlton Grigg.

It was decided to apply for a short course "A time saving kitchen," to be held in November.

Reads Biography

A biography of Sir Harry Oakes, given by Miss Jessie Johnston, described him as the man who discovered Canada's richest gold mine.

Films shown by Mr. Buttars were "Designing Women," "Rocky Mountain Trout" and "Science Helps Agriculture."

The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bart Thackeray, presented the financial statement showing a balance on hand of $74.01.

It was reported that a large bale of used clothing, footwear and quilts had been sent to the United Emergency Fund for Britain.

Make Choices

It was decided that first choice for a district project would be, "Personality and Dress," 2nd choice "Citizenship."

Used Christmas cards were brought by members to be packed. It was decided to send 10 lbs. of cards to British West Indies and 10 lbs. to the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

Plans were made for delegates and members to attend the 49th District Annual Meeting to be held in Harwood June 7.

Mrs. J. W. Pacey and Mrs. Robt. Linton were appointed a committee to arrange to have sign posts at the edge of the village on highway 45, repaired.

MASTER OF MYSTERY

The late E. Phillips Oppenheim wrote more than 150 novels of detection and intrigue.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

YOUTH DEPENDS ON YOU FOR GUIDANCE

Today's youngsters are tomorrow's leaders. Canada's future depends on them. Anything you can do . . . by personal example or by directing youthful enthusiasm along useful channels . . . is a service to our country. Perhaps you can give some of your time to coaching a neighborhood hockey or baseball club—or to organizing a hobby group. You'll get a real kick out of this good work and genuine appreciation from the young people themselves. In addition, you'll be teaching them "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Glittering Hong Kong Takes Menace In Stride

By TOM LAMBERT

HONG KONG, June 6—(AP)—Amid the disorder, poverty and darkness of Asia, Hong Kong looms up like a million-candlepower beacon. To anyone arriving from Shanghai, Seoul or Tokyo, Hong Kong seems unreal in its order, its apparently unlimited stocks of goods, and its wealth.

This British colony is a little worried now. The Chinese Communists are headed in this general direction, and they may decide they want the island that Britain acquired more than 100 years ago.

Hong Kong is not too worried, however. Only a handful of its men have answered a call to enlist in volunteer defence corps.

The Conservative Daily Telegraph puts Hong Kong's position this way:

"Communism is the foe of democracy, but there is no reason why Hong Kong "should not also display a willingness to win and hold their (the Reds') confidence."

There should be "no appeasement or supplication," The Telegraph hastens to add, but:

"Overtures based on traditional friendship between Hong Kong and China and recognition of their mutual interests may do much more than a display of bristling bayonets in winning from the Communists their respect and their willingness to live in peace with this colony."

This sort of talk contrasts with the cry to defend Hong Kong and with the well-advertised assignment of more British ships, planes and men to the defence forces, which are stronger in prestige than in numbers.

May Think Twice

Although the Reds showed no hesitancy in shooting up Royal Navy ships on the Yangtze River in April, they may think twice before tangling with Britain over Hong Kong.

To a new arrival, however, this colony's wealth and its law and order are more impressive than talk about defence.

This glittering spot also is the East's greatest displaced-persons centre. Here one may meet a Latvian newspaper man from Peiping, a French engineer from Tientsin, a Chinese Nationalist official from Nanking, a White Russian from Shanghai, and the countless others, including many wealthy Chinese refugees from Communist-occupied areas.

The Communists are here too. They even throw an occasional cocktail party in a plush hotel.

Yes, Hong Kong is "different" as it sits and trades and watches the war and hopes for the best.

Communism Gaining Ground With Arab Refugees In Israel

By JAMES M. LONG

NAZARETH, June 5—(AP)—The Arab refugee from Israel has practically nothing left here to which he can return—whatever the outcome of world discussions as to his fate. There is no tendency to belittle the humanitarian problem of the several hundred thousand Arab displaced persons, victims of the war in Palestine. But neither is there any serious belief in Israel that the answer to that problem will be found inside the new Jewish state.

There are three reasons apparent here for that: one is theoretical, one practical, and one political.

The purpose to which this new nation is straining every effort is to create a Jewish homeland, not a minority state. There is no intention to bar Arabs, nor treat unjustly the 75,0000 already here.

But they do not constitute the chief problem. That is how to absorb Jewish immigrants at a rate that would double the 800,000 Jewish population in Israel in five years.

The second is even clearer. The stone or mud plaster home the Arab once had here is not just standing empty, awaiting his return. In many cases, it either has been demolished, or it is occupied now by new Jewish immigrants.

One of the few large Arab refugee concentrations inside Israel is this largely Christian Arab city of the Well of Mary and the Grotto of the Annunciation.

It is here that the third, political factor is seen. For this all-Arab city that was once the home of Jesus is turning to Communism.

With refugee Arabs packed into every possible living space, Nazareth is swollen from its normal population of 7,000 to more than 20,000.

Although the Communist party polled less than three per cent of the total popular vote in Israel's legislative elections, the Communist vote in Arab Nazareth was 50.8 per cent.

Communism in Nazareth is not strongly ideological or actively pro-Russian. But members of the party parade the bustling little market streets under the red flag with the hammer and sickle.

There are questions as yet unanswered: if a 100,000 more refugees came back to Israel from their camps of misery and discontent, how much would they strengthen the Communist vote in the next elections?

Mrs. A. Rutherford [illegible] At Omemee

OMEMEE, June 6 — (CP) — The June meeting of the WMS of Trinity United Church was held at the home of Miss Jessie Lamb. The president, Mrs. H. Graham, conducted the meeting. Highlight of the session came when Mrs. A. Rutherford was made a life member of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada by her daughter, Mrs. B. Finlay.

The group discussed the theme for the day, "Keeping the Lord's Day" and followed the discussion with a social half hour.

Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Thompson. Theme for the June meeting was "Keeping the Lord's Day", and the programme was conducted by Mrs. Aubrey Wood.

A social hour followed. The July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Sargent.

Sir Andrew Jones Tours Canada Looking For Bacon

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA, June 6—(CP)—Sir Andrew Jones moves quietly around Canada these days looking for more bacon to ship to the United Kingdom.

He's also watching the movement of canned salmon, cheese, eggs and wheat and looking over the bills—totalling more than $380,000,000 this year— the British Food Ministry owes Canada.

Sir Andrew, 59, likes his work. He also likes Canada—although perhaps not as much as South Africa—and gets along very well with high-level government officers who help move the Canadian food supplies overseas.

Being negotiator and administrator of Anglo-Canadian food contracts is a comparatively new job for Sir Andrew. Most of his career in the British Civil Service has been spent under the hot African sun, as administrator, and later as co-ordinator of colonial activities in the Second World War.

There's a difference, he finds, working in Johannesburg and Ottawa. In Ottawa he'd rather have winter than summer. This capital's summer is laden with humidity and hotter than African deserts where the humidity is relatively low.

Part Welsh and part Irish, Sir Andrew is an Oxford graduate who heads the United Kingdom food mission to Canada. During four years in Ottawa he's negotiated $2,000,000,000 worth of food for his country.

Sir Andrew has seen a good deal of Canada. Just say he hasn't and he'll tell you gruffly: "I've travelled more in Canada than most people."

During the first and second world wars he was shoulder-deep in British administration work in South Africa. He was Knighted in 1943 at the age of 53—"an average age if you're going to b knighted at all."

Cripps Carries Labor Party On Holding Wages At Existing Standards

Warns Country Not Yet Reached Top In Difficult Economic Struggle, Britain Must Make Four-Year Plan Work

BLACKPOOL, England, June 7.—(CP). — Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, today won backing from the Labor party for his policy of holding wages at existing levels. Sir Stafford defended his policy of high taxes and no increases in wages before the party's annual convention.

After he spoke, the conference rejected by an overwhelming majority a resolution by the Constructional Engineering Union asking the government to remove restrictions on wage boosts.

Sir Stafford, who has been called the "Iron Chancellor" because of his stern economic policies, said:

"Let us face the situation, not as we should like it to be, but as it is. You cannot possibly find any solution to our present problems by juggling with money, incomes or finances or fiscal measures.

"We need, and must have, more and more efficient production if we are to solve our difficulties without loss of standards."

Sir Stafford said the Conservatives on one side and the Communists on the other are spreading propaganda in an effort to convince Britons that the United Kingdom is a suffering and decadent country on the verge of collapse.

"It is wholly false. We are the most virile democracy in the world."

Sir Stafford's speech followed a plea by Lord Strabolgi for an autumn general election on the grounds that it would be better to get it over before the coming "economic blizzard" breaks.

Sir Stafford was more optimistic. But he said the country has not yet reached the top in its uphill economic struggle.

"Somehow or other — if we are even to maintain our present standards — we must balance our dollar trade within the next three years, because we cannot manage without the dollar imports . . .

"Under our four-year plan, we hope to reach a balance by the middle of 1952, when Marshall aid will stop. We shall, indeed, have our work cut out to do it."

Congress Unhappy

The powerful Trades Union Congress, which with its 8,000,000 members is one of the mainstays of the Labor party, has been unhappy with Sir Stafford for refusing to lower the stiff retail purchase taxes in his 1949-50 budget. The taxes range as high as 100 per cent on some items.

Drought Loss Mounting Across Ontario

TORONTO, June 7 (CP) — Cooler air moved over Southern sections of Ontario today but no rain was forecast to dampen parched grain and pasture land throughout the area.

Although some sectors have not been severely affected by the drought, authorities estimate that the dry spell is costing Ontario's agricultural industry $5,000,000 a day.

Officials said crops were standing up well in Dufferin County and can probably hold out for a few more days. Reports from southwestern Ontario said that section has just started to feel the effects of the hot, dry weather, bu damage is not extensive.

Elsewhere in Ontario, however, the heat and drought have combined to shrivel berries, slow progress of spring grains and wither pasture lands.

In the London area, officials said lack of moisture was beginning to tell on winter wheat and alfalfa crops. Rain within a few days would save the crops, they said.

In the more central and eastern sections, hay is drying up and farmers have forecast a short crop. The straw crop may be sparse also because of the slowing effects of the drought on growth of the grain.

Beans, peas and similar crops were badly in need of moisture in all sections. Drying pastures threatened milk production.

Lawyer Drops Dennis' Case

WHITE PLAINS, NY, June 7—(AP). — Gerard Graham Dennis, accused society burglar, Monday was ordered to trial June 20 after his lawyer withdrew from the case.

Denis, a native of St. Catharines, and still dapper despite weeks in jail, was brought into court and his lawyer, Joseph F. Gagliardi, asked for an adjournment until after noon.

When the case was called in the afternoon before County Judge Elbert T. Tallagher, Gagliardi announced he had withdrawn from the case "because of things that have arisen."

He did not explain his reason further, but apologized to the court and the prosecutor for any delay his action might cause.

Part Of Bank Loot Discovered In Field

FIELD, Ont., Jnue 7 — (CP)— Mortgages, deeds and other legal documents identified as part of the loot taken by thieves who broke into La Caisse Populaire, a Co-operative Credit Union Bank here, last May 10, were discovered Monday night scattered in a field, a half-mile north of Crystal Falls.

The find was made by Rudolphe Sequin who picked up a pile of chattel mortgages, wills, deeds, and other papers used as security on loans made by the bank.

A few days ago three children picking berries north of Sturgeon Falls found $800 in bonds under a pile of leaves. The youngsters, daughters of Arthur Kierstead, told police they located the bonds about 2½ miles north of Sturgeon Falls near Highway 64.

Control Forest Fire

TORONTO, June 7.—Lands Minister Scott warned today that although the forest fire situation in Ontario is well under control, the danger of new outbreaks remains high because of the continuing drought. Thirty eight fires were brought under control during the last four days and the acreage burned over was comparatively small.

Icing Blamed For Crash Of Dow Plane

OTTAWA, June 7 (CP)—Icing was responsible for the crash of a private United States plane in which Dr. Willard H. Dow, president of the Dow Chemical Company, his wife and three others were killed near London Ont., last March 31.

This was the finding of a board of inquiry consisting of S. T. Grant, civil aviation inspector, and H. Batt, aircraft inspector, both of the Transport Department's Air Services Branch, which were made public today.

The primary cause was given as icing on the wings, but the Board said the major contributing factor appeared to be poor judgment on the part of the pilot in attempting the flight in view of weather reports available and in continuing it after it became apparent that icing conditions existed.

The crash killed Dr. and Mrs. Dow, Mrs. C. Campbell, A. J. Bowie pilot and F. Clements, co-pilot. The party was on a flight from the Tri-City Airport at Saginaw, Mich., to Buffalo, Sole survivor was C. Campbell, whose condition as a result of shock prevented members of the board from interviewing him until recently.

Parcel Breaks Contains Loot

LONDON, Ont., June 7.—(CP).—Police revealed today that a parcel that broke open in the post office here Sunday has provided the best lead in the theft of about $3,100 in cash, bonds and jewels from the Petrolia home of Mrs. Thomas Polley, 65-year-old widow. They were her life savings.

The parcel of thin wrapping paper contained $1,250 in bills, a ring, a broach and a "knuckle duster."

The ring and the broach, police said, had been identified as belonging to Mrs. Polley. Police said she also identified the "knuckle duster" which her husband had kept for years as a souvenir.

Mrs. Polley reported the theft on Saturday.

Bevan Tops Poll

BLACKPOOL, England, June 7 (CP) — Health Minister Aneurin Bevan today topped the poll in the election of members of the Labor party's national executive. He obtained 756,000 of the votes cast. Election is by majority out of the total party membership. Philip Noel-Baker, commonwealth relations secretary, and Richard Crossman, a member of the House of Commons who often has criticized the government's foreign policy, failed in their bids for election to the executive.

Chinese Communists Criticize Hong Kong

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7 (AP) The Chinese Communist radio Monday broadcast a bitter attack on the government of Hong Kong.

It accused British authorities of following an anti-Chinese policy constituting "a challenge to the Chinese people who are on the road to victory."

"This challenge," it declared, "is very adventurous and will certainly lead to grave consequences."

The Communists heretofore have kept silent about Hong Kong.

Pupils Won't Go To School Till Principal Reinstated

FLINTON, Ont., June 7 (CP)—Spokesmen for the 50 striking pupils at the continuation school here said today they will not return to classes until the principal, Keith MacEwan, is reinstated, although it may mean losing credit for the school year. Flinton is 50 miles northwest of Kingston.

They said they will try to finish their education elsewhere if the three-member Kaladar township school board won't reconsider its dismissal of the principal.

MacEwan said today: "The children know what is right and are doing it. They are sensible, intelligent boys and girls. They know an injustice when they see it."

He said he had placed his case in the hands of the Ontario Men Teachers' Federation and has been told by lawyers "that the board isn't legally constituted." He quoted lawyers as saying the board must represent the township although "all members of this board are from Flinton."

Rev. Stephen May of St. Paul's Church said he supported the pupils because "there must be an injustice or the students wouldn't be striking."

Board members, who are meeting tonight, have said MacEwan was dismissed on the recommendation of their school inspector. They were critical of discipline in the school, of MacEwan's teaching methods and of his alleged lack of co-operation with other teachers.

3,000 Cords Threatened By Flames

50 Men Fight Fire, Gain Control After Battling Hour

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7 — (ENS)—Fire which threatened 3,000 cords of wood was brought under control about one hour after it had started today at 12.20 at the Gair Company of Canada Pulp Mill, about one mile south of here and east of the Trent Canal.

The Campbellford fire engine, pumping water through two hoses and the pulp mill hose finally beat back the fire after it had threatened to blaze out of control. It was thought at one time Peterborough fire engines would have to be called.

It is believed the blaze was started by a spark from a nearby incinerator. About 50 men tore down the piles of pulp wood so that firemen could get at the burning 600 cords of well-dried spruce and balsam logs. The burning area covered about 2,000 square feet.

At its height smoke was rising 100 feet into the air with flames leaping 20 feet. A north west wind was blowing the flames into the stock pile. Firemen will continue to pour water into the steaming pile all day and perhaps during most of the night.

The alarm was turned in by workers at the mill. A similar fire broke out in the stock pile two months ago.

Rob Merchant As Scores Pass

HAMILTON, June 7 (CP)—A youthful gunman and his masked accomplice, who forced their way through the rear door of a fruit store Monday night, escaped with a bag containing $600 and $200 from the proprietor's pockets.

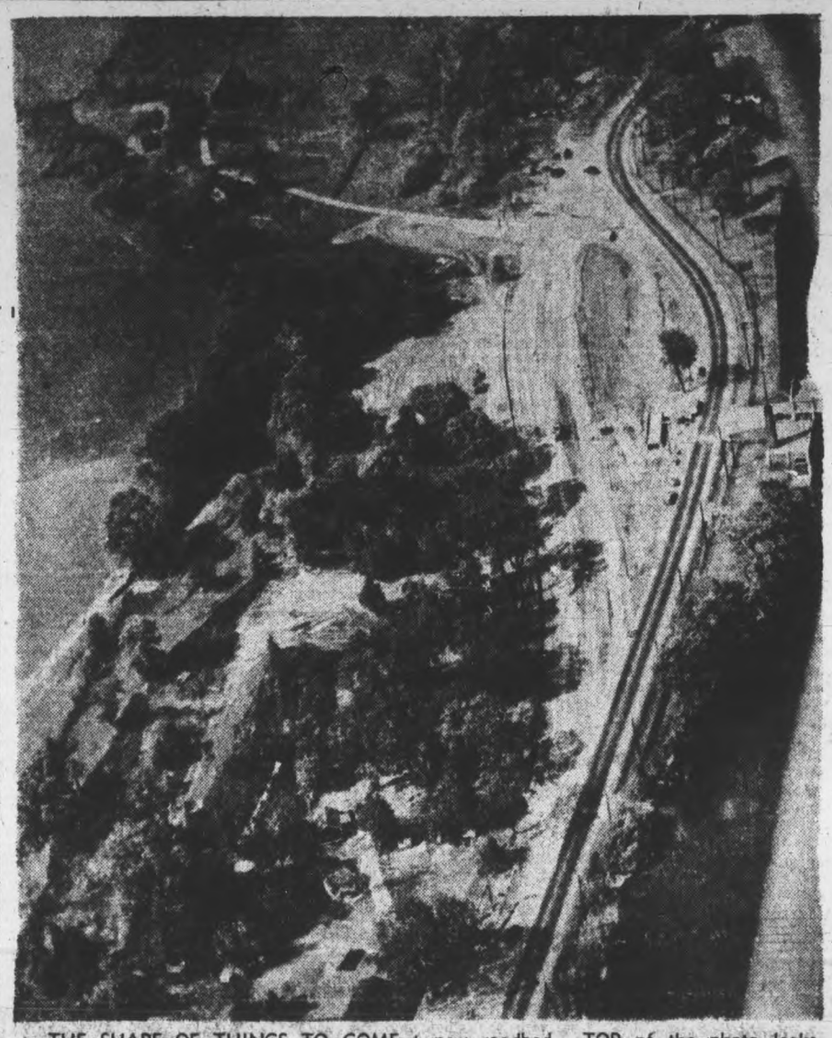
Victim of the robbery was John Bolus. Scores of persons passed along the street while the robbery was in progress.

Police said Bolus was setting garbage outside the rear door of the shop at 11.55 p.m., when one man walked up to him with a revolver, and a masked companion accompanied him into the store.

Bolus was directed to get behind the meat counter at the front of the store and to "stand still and you won't be hurt."

While the gunman trained the weapon on Bolus, the masked man probed about the store. Mr. Bolus turned over a paper bag containing $600, and the masked man insisted "you have more money than that."

Mr. Bolus was then directed to turn out his pockets which netted the pair another $200.



They warned him not to move and left by the rear door, escaping through a dark alley.

Mayors Seeking Gas, Car Taxes

QUEBEC, June 7 (CP) — Mayor E. A. Bourque of Ottawa said today that Provincial governments should aid Canadian municipalities by a "fair and equitable allotment" of the gasoline and automobile taxes, and a share of other taxes.

"Municipalities contribute extensively towards roadways that link highways and in many other ways . . and it seems reasonable that the province should pay a fair share," he said in a paper prepared for a panel discussion on municipal finance at the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

"The question. . . is how and where can we find new sources of revenue to keep up with increasing expenditures?" he said. ". . . . Our citizens are becoming more exacting. They expect more services and better services and, in the case of certain municipalities, the demand for improvements and services has risen beyond all expectations with a resultant increase of property tax to an all-time peak."

Lost In Woods Searcher Found

EASTMAN, Que., June 7 (CP) —Paul Bedard of Granby, who became lost in dense woods on Monday while searching for six-year-old Michel Fontaine, was found safe to-day.

Bedard was found about five miles from the farm home of Charles Fontaine, where searchers by the hundreds for a week have sought trace of Michel.

Bedard had wandered about since Monday. His absence was noted when he failed to return with a group of searchers. His coat was found about 3 p.m. and a search renewed to-day, continued until 3 a.m.

Following his discovery, Bedard said all he wanted was a cigarette.

Police Chief Edmond Rioux of Eastman said there were about 1000 persons on hand for to-day's search for little Michel and the Chief appealed for 1,000 more.

The chief said there were about 1,000 persons ready to continue the search for Michel today and he appealed for an extra 1,000.

Small footprints were found in the bush late Monday. They appeared comparatively fresh, said the chief, and it is not believed any other children could have been in the area.

Despite finding of the footprints, there was practically no hope the youngster could have lived the whole week even if he had eaten bits of grass and leaves, as some persons have speculated.

18 Volunteer Firemen Injured In Blast

ST. FERDINAND, Que., June 7 (CP)—Three men suffered serious injuries and 15 others were treated for cuts and bruises Monday in an explosion which rocked this Eastern Townships village.

The blast, believed to have been caused by dynamite came during a fire in the large frame dwelling of Théode Tanguay, 55. The 18 casualties reported were volunteer firefighters, all injured by flying debris. Some also were treated for shock from the explosion.

Cullen a baker who helped fight the blaze, said Tanguay had stored a case of dynamite in the basement of his home. There was no one in the house at the time, Tanguay's wife and children being outdoors.

Big 4 Deadlocked Again On German Unity Problem

PARIS, June 7.—(AP).—The Big Four today resume open sessions on the Berlin deadlock after secret meetings in which they failed to agree on re-uniting the splintered former German capital. It is expected the ministers will explain the positions on Berlin which they set forth in the three secret sessions.

Since Monday each delegation has been studying two rival projects for restoring unity to Berlin. One was submitted by State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, the other by Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russian foreign minister. Britain and France support the American proposal.

Informed sources said the four ministers bogged down during Friday's secret talks over the use of the veto in any four-power supervision of Berlin's city government.

These sources said the Russians want to restore the Allied Kommandatura, as it existed before the blockade.

This would mean wide Kommandatura powers and the veto right for each of the four occupying nations on all of that body's decisions.

The west wants to hand over more authority to the German administration and limit the veto to essential matters involving security or changes in the city charter.

Failing to agree to Berlin the ministers will turn next to the German treaty and the Austrian Pact, the remaining item on their agenda.

Some sources feel, however, that the ministers will take advantage of the remaining time to establish a deputies commission for Germany to continue the machinery of the Foreign Ministers Council.

Shot At Policeman

BROOKLIN, Ont., June 7.—Police converged on this area late Monday night after several shots were fired at Provincial Constable Roy Bone when he attempted to stop an automobile near here. Police believe there were three men in the late-model car. Bone tried to overtake the car when he noticed it carried no rear license plate.

Study 3 Company Proposals To Begin Work At Asbestos

QUEBEC, June 7 (CP) —Jean Marchand, secretary of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, said today the Confederation is studying proposals by three Asbestos Companies at Thetford Mines, Que., for resumption of work by their employees.

Marchand said he had conferred with representatives of Asbestos Corporation, Johnson Mines and Flintkote, Limited, Monday when the proposals were made.

The secretary of the CCCL, with which Catholic Syndicates of Asbestos Workers are affiliated, said the proposals will be laid before a workers' meeting at Thetford Mines Wednesday night. More than 2,000 Asbestos workers at Thetford Mines have been on strike since mid-February.

Earlier Marchand announced that work had been resumed by 125 employees of Nicolet Asbestos Mines, Limited, at St. Remi de Tinggick.

He said the workers at a meeting Monday accepted a settlement of the strike which tied up the mine since March 2.

The settlement was accepted by the company and the CCCL during the week-end. It calls for a 10-cent-an-hour increase in pay over the present basic rate of 85 cents, retroactice to last Jan. 1.

The agreement contains a "non discrimination clause" and a re-certification of the Syndicate. Under the formula points still in discussion will be placed before a private arbitration board.

The St. Remi workers were part of a general Asbestos' Workers walkout of 5,000 men which has tied up mines in the "Serpentine Belt" since Feb. 13 over virtually the same demands.

Brazil Plane Strikes Mountainside, Report 26 Aboard Die

By The Associated Press

Seven-three people were reported killed today in two plane crashes in Puerto Rico and Brazil, it has been announced.

A plane jammed with Puerto Rican men, women and children bound for the United States crashed in the Atlantic early today and 47 persons are missing and feared dead it was reported from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Officials said 75 persons, including a crew of five Americans, were aboard the two-motored C-46 plane. The United States Coast Guard reported 28 known survivors.

Nineteen of the passengers were small children or infants, and 19 were women.

Strikes Mountain

Reports from Florianopolis said 266 persons were killed Monday when a Brazilian army transport plane crashed into a mountain soon after taking off.

The air ministry here said wreckage of the plane, a C-47, was located near Cambirelas Peak and rescue parties were rushed to the scene.

The plane was on normal transport service, carrying both army personnel and civilians between Rio de Janeiro and the State of Rio Grande do Sul.

Florianopolis, a coast city, is 480 miles southwest of Rio de Janeiro.

Help In Search

All available United States coast guard, air force, army and navy planes and ships in the vicinity were called into the search for possible survivors, bodies and the exact location of the sunken plane.

Large surface craft could not get in among the dangerous rocks and reefs that dot the sea.

Four Injured In Car Crash

NIAGARA FALS, Ont., June 7 —(CP). — Four Toronto persons were seriously injured early today when their automobile went off the highway and crashed near here.

The crash occurred on the Dorchester Road traffic circle as the group were returning to their homes in Toronto after a week-end trip to the United States. A child and her father, the driver of the car, were still unconscious several hours after the accident, and their condition is listed as critical.

The injured are: Herry Wall 35, unconscious with possible head injuries, condition critical; his daughter Carol, six, unconscious with undetermined injuries, condition critical; son George eight, bruises, abrasions and listed as not seriously hurt; and Jack Wall, 24, back injuries. Mrs. Wall 31, and Mrs. Norton Wall, 27, and her infant child escaped injury.

Priest Finds Israel Hostile To Church

NEW YORK, June 7—(CP)—A Franciscan father has charged the Israeli government with having carried out a policy hostile to the interests of the Roman Catholic church in Palestine, the New York Times says today in a dispatch from Rome.

The dispatch says the charge by Rev. Alberto Gori, who has the official title of "Custodian of the Holy Land," is contained in a report released Monday.

It adds that Father Gori reported the freedom of movement of members of religious orders has been prevented by the Israeli government. The Franciscan fathers in Galilee and Judea are said in the report to have been isolated since the start of the war in Palestine in May, 1948, and "are still isolated."

Cottager Dies In Motorboat At Jack's Lake

APSLEY, June7 —(ENS)—Alfred William Bullock, of 18 Maria Ave., Scarboro Junction Toronto, died sudenly of a heart attack at 11.45 a.m. on Saturday while enrote from Toronto to his summer cottage on Jack's Lake, a few miles east of here, to spend the weekend.

Mr. Bullock was stricken while travelling across the lake in a motorboat just 200 yards short of his cottage. He was accompanied by his son Robert, 14, and his brother Walter. When Mr. Bullock slumped down in the boat, his brother was forced to shut off the motor, as he could not look after Mr. Bullock and operate the at the same time. The result of this was that the boat started to drift down the lake away from the cottage.

Goes To Rescue

The plight of the boats occupants was soon noticed by another cottage owner on shore, George Baker, who immediately put out in his boat and towed the Bullock craft to shore. The ailing man was carried into his cottage and both his brother and Mr. Baker applied artificial respiration for some time in a fruitless effort to revive him.

Dr. Herbert Young, district coroner, Peterborough, was called and on arrivel pronounced death due to heart failure. He said no inquest would be necessary.

The body was taken in to Comstock's Funeral Home, Peterborough, from where it was forwarded to Toronto by motor hearse. Constable B. Howden, Apsley detachment, Provincial police, investigated.

Army Best Propaganda of Chinese Reds

Civilians In Shanghai Impressed By Good Behaviour, No Looting

SHANGHAI, June 7 (AP)—The Chinese Communist Army seems to be a well-oiled, smooth-working military machine.

The troops far overshadow Nationalist soldiers in discipline and ability. In fact, the Communists appear to be an army in the Western sense. The Nationalists, on the other hand, were unruly, unreliable and given to looting.

When the Nationalists prepared to defend Shanghai they ripped up one of the city's best districts—Hungjao. They said it was to clear the field of fire. Yet when the Reds showed up practically no defense was made in the wrecked district.

In the other hand, the Reds met Nationalist fire in downtown Shanghai buildings without resorting to damaging heavy artillery. They wanted to preserve the property.

Civilians in Shanghai have been impressed by the conduct of the Red soldiers. The Communist soldiers in some ways are the best propaganda the Reds have. They stand as proof the Chinese soldier can be well-trained and well-behaved. Civilians here were beginning to doubt such could happen.

Careful Attitude

The Communists seem to lean over backwards to keep from infringing on the rights of civilians. There was military justification for them to conscript vehicles in Shanghai during the fighting. They not only did not do so, but returned to owners the conscripted vehicles which the Nationalists had taken.

The Reds proved to be excellent fighters. A former United States marine who saw the fighting along Soochow Creek said the Communists knew their weapons and used them smartly.

Communist officials are unwilling to discuss the manner in which their army was assembled and trained. Military officers reluctant to discuss it, too.

From one foot soldier it was learned political training came first. Emphasis was placed on making the soldiers understand why they were in the army and why they were fighting. Another soldier said they received ample food and clothing.

Want to Know Why Spy Free

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP).—Representative Harold Velde (Rep. Ill.) said today President Truman "owes it to the American people" to explain why Russian agent Andrei 'chevchenko was allowed to skip the United States without prosecution. Velde is a member of the House of Represenatives Un-American Activities committee.

The committee Monday heard testimony that:

In 1944 and 1045, Schevchenko tried to get wartime secrets of jet propulsion and plane design by birbing employees of the Bell Aircraft Company at Buffalo, N.Y.

No Arrest Attempted

The employees fed him with doctored information under the eyes of the F.B.I., with payoffs in cash.

The Russian left the country early in 1946. No attempt was made to arrest him.

The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Franey of Niagara Falls, NY, and Loren G. Haas of Buffalo.

It was Velde who popped a question that brought from Jet Engineer Haas a statement that he helped the FBI build an "airtight case" against Schevchenko but his efforts were "passed off" with word that "Mr. Byrnes at the State Department says he can't touch him."

He said he got that information from FBI agents whose names he cannot now recall.

At the time of which Haas spoke, in 1945, James F. Byrnes was Secretary of State. He now is in a Washington law firm. To a reporter who asked him about Haas' testimony, Byrnes said:

"Never did I tell any official of the government not to arrest anyone. That is not a matter for the Secretary of State, but one for the Department of Justice and the FBI."

Two or three bodies had been found shortly after dawn, Capt Dexter said.

Three coast guard ships and two navy ships were in the immediate vicinity, at that time

The plane which left San Juan a few minutes after midnight two minutes later radioed back requesting permission to make an emergency landing. Then nothing more was heard from it. Officials said apparently it had trouble gaining altitude because of an adverse wind.

The coast guard announcement said 28 of those aboard had been rescued by 7 a.m. EDT—almost six hours after the crash. The bodies of two adults and a child were recovered.

Attaches at the airport said it was raining hard when the plane took off.

Although there were 73 persons aboard the craft, 15 of them were children, and this may have made the total weight within the 10,000 pounds cargo capacity of these planes.

One of the passengers, Juan Rivera Leon, 31, gave this account of the crash:

People Nervous

"The people were nervous, due to the great number aboard, even from the start. As soon as the plane crashed I started passing life jackets around. There were more than 60 available plus five life rafts. However, no rafts could be inflated in time so none was used. I passed around only 17 jackets."

He said many of the passengers were afraid to leave the plane and go into the water.

"I stayed till the water was to my knees then dived," he said, adding that at that time over half the passengers still were aboard.

The plane sank within six minutes after the crash. Salvage operations are expected to begin later today.

Capt. D. H. Dexter, in charge of the Coast Guard here, said he did not believe more than the 28 known survivors would be found alive.

Press Search

Search by air and sea craft was pressed.

Twenty-six of the survivors swam to small islands and reefs, and crews of rescue craft braved death in the churning and treacherous seas to pick them off and carry them to the mainland.

Two were plucked from the water.

The known survivors included both adults and children.

The plane, en route to Newark, N. J., via Miami, was operated by Strato Freight, Incorporated, a charter service with headquarters at Bradley Field, near Windsor Locks, Conn.

Capt. Dexter said the plane was unable to return to San Juan airport when the engine trouble developed, and it crash-landed 150 yards off Point Salinas. The point is four miles west of here, on the north coast of Puerto Rico.

Fair To Observe Centenary Year

Bruce Sargent said today he was willing to swap the chances of Millbrook's spring fair Wednesday for a 12-hour warm rain.

This is his first year as secretary-manager, succeeding Sam Staples, and he has everything ready for the big show, except that all the neighbors are worrying about the weather.

This is the 100 year celebration of the Cavan-Millbrook fair. Commemorating it, the agricultural society of which Gordon Staples is president is unveiling an imposing pylon, a tribute to the past and the pioneers of the Cavan district.

But, for all that, Mr. Sargent said, he's willing to settle for a soaking rain. If that is what Providence sends on Wednesday, the manager is going to regard it as an answer to the hopes and prayers of a lot of people who see the season's crops and the winter's storage of hay in the balance.

Construction Firms Short Of Workers

A probable shortage of construction workers, bricklayers and men in other building trades in the near future was predicted by Wm. Mellis, manager of the National Employment Service in Peterborough.

The nurses' residence at the new Civic Hospital and the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital will require more workers than are now in the city.

Mr. Mellis said bricklayers will probably have to be imported from Toronto as they were last summer.

Men for construction work are still drifting in from Nova Scotia and British Columbia and some of them will find work here at 75 to 90 cents an hour, depending on how good they are.

Motorcycle Club Visits Buffalo

Members of the Kawartha Motocycle Club attended the annual blessing of motorcyclists on the week-end at St. Christopher's shrine, near Buffalo. Twelve hundred motorcyclists from Canada and the United States took part in a parade along Niagara Falls Blvd. to the shrine. The parade was led by 25 members of the Buffalo city motorcycle police.

After the service at the shrine a field day was held at the Erie County Riders Club. Here the cyclists participated in show races, motorcycle tug-of-war, combat races and a pie-eating contest while riding the bikes. Most active participants in the field day were the police cyclists.

Arndon Motorcycle Club won the prize for travelling the greatest distance, one member representing the club travelling 265 miles. The Kawartha Club was second with a mileage of 205. Prizes for the best dressed clubs went to the Hamilton Black Hawks and the Hamilton Red Devils. Mary Heard of the local club won the combat race trophy.

Newsboy Notes Signs Of Ransackers' Work

Jack Pearson, an Examiner delivery boy, discovered Monday evening that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Montgomery's home at 701 Stewart St. has been broken into. On opening the main door he saw two holes drilled in the wooden part of the screen door.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery left their home Friday for Ottawa and Montreal and are expected to return today.

Jack notified City Police and when Constable Douglas Farthing went to the house he found a small tin in the kitchen which had been ransacked, one of the bedrooms was in disorder and the intruders had also been to a cabinet in the drawing room.

Sergeant Detective John Stevenson and Identification Officer Bill Aggas searched the house for clues.

Given Five Days

Raymond Wilde, 236 Burnham St., was sent to jail for five days by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court today when he pleaded guilty to stealing a Ronson cigarette lighter from the Uptown tobacco store.

First pleading not guilty, Wilde changed his plea after a week's remand had been suggested by Crown Attorney John Bradshaw.

Wilde told the magistrate that he had put the lighter in his pocket for his friend, who said he was buying it. He did not know his friend was not intending to pay for it.

X-Ray Survey In Rural Areas

Mobile chest X-ray clinic operations were started Monday afternoon in the Peterborough County area. First rural clinic to be set up by the Peterborough Tuberculosis X-Ray Council was at Ennismore, and the turnout of rural residents indicates a great interest in the free chest X-ray survey program.

Rural clinics have been scheduled for afternoon and evening operation. Ten clinics have been located in the County area. Work at the Ennismore and Selwyn clinic locations was completed Monday, and the mobile clinic will proceed on Tuesday to Lakehurst and Buckhorn. On Wednesday the unit is at Young's Point and Douro; Warsaw and South Dummer, Thursday; Westwood, Friday; and Keene Saturday.

Two Women In Court

Rose Spears, 747 Chamberlain St., was today fined $10 with $2.50 costs when found guilty of drinking while on the interdicted list. She pleaded not guilty before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court.

Two cases against Mary Beach of the same address, charged with being drunk on May 21 and 26 were adjourned to June 28.

Constable Andy Dalton said that when he went to the house on May 21 the front door was open and a heated argument going on inside could be heard across the street. He said Mrs. Spears had been in a "very intoxicated condition."

Mrs. Spears said she was not drunk but did "take a little drink with the others."

Robert Rex, 193 Rubidge St., was fined $10 with $2.50 costs for drunkenness.

Fine Vacation IN FRONTENAC COUNTY

Midway between Toronto and Montreal, where Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River merge, Frontenac County takes in some fine vacation land. If you're historically inclined, you'll enjoy visiting old Fort Henry at Kingston—said to be the greatest colonial restoration on the continent. Then, too, you may like to visit Queen's University and see the Royal Military College—one of Canada's two great service colleges. Plans Drafted To Raise Funds For New Arena

COBOURG, June 7.—(ENS).—Members of the finance commttee of the recreational centre fund met on Monday to prepare for the campaign to raise the balance of the needed funds. The drive will start within a few days.

It is hoped to have the opening ceremonies on July 1, which will start the construction of the building. Cost of the building is $95,316.00, plus a small charge for widening the auditorium by four feet in order to conform to the requirements of the Dept. of Agriculture to obtain their $10,000 grant.

Plan Ice Plant

The equipment for artificial ice is to cost around $36,000 and the building should be ready to operate by November 15 at the latest. In May of next year the terrazo flooring will go in and the building will be available for year around use. The cost of this floor ranges from $6,000 to $10,000 and is not to installed until after the first winter's operation of ice skating in order that the piping can be checked for leaks.

Of the amount needed for the building alone, the total collected to date, including the $50,000 town debentures and the Agricultural Dept. grant is $82,000. During this week a special names committee is getting into action so that the $95,000 needed will be on hand when the contract is signed with N. Hipel. While the building is being constructed, which will take about three months, the balance of the money for the artificial ice plan will be being raised. Total amount is $150,000. When complete the building will become the property of the town of Cobourg and will be operated under a Community Centre Commission appointed by the town council and Recreational Centre committee.

As it is a community centre, it will be operated so that the public will not be charged on a basis of making a big profit.

Take Money, Gas In 2 Break-ins

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7 — Entry was made through an upstairs rear door of James Heathcote's implement shop during the weekend and a small amount of cash taken. To reach the front office from upstairs the thieves broke through an unused door and slid down a plan. The break-in was discovered by Mr. Heathcote on Monday.

The CNR tool house and oil shed, near the station, was also entered and a quantity of gas stolen. CNR Police Constable George Foster of Belleville and Chief Constable George H. Hardy of Campbellford are investigating.

Wartime Opposition Backs Drew-Charge

BELLEVILLE, June 7 (CP). — Health Minister Martin Tuesday accused George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, of drawing suport in Quebec from men he criticized during the war. Addressing a political rally, he said Hon. Antonio Barrette, the Quebec Labor Minister, and Hon. Onesime Gagnon, Quebec Provincial Treasurer, had mounted the public platform on behalf of a man who had vigorously attacked their opposition to Canada's war effort.

Campbellford Town Council To Instal Parking Meters

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7 — (ENS)—Jack Cameron, representing the Micro-Meter Co. of Canada, Montreal, addressed the Town Council regarding the installation of parking meters at its regular meeting Monday night.

Letters from Cobourg and Lindsay informed the Council that parking meters would solve or relieve traffic problems and were sources of revenue.

Mr. Cameron said that the cost of each meter was $69.50 with an extra charge of $5.00 for installing. During the first year 75 per cent of the revenue would be turned over to the company and the municipality would keep 25 per cent for operational costs. Beginning with the second year, the company would charge $3.00 per meter per month until the system was paid for.

The company gives a trial period of one year.

Can Be Withdrawn

If at the end of that time, the Council is dissatisfied with the system it can be dispensed with at company expense. About 100 meters would be needed for the test period.

W. A. Kingston, addressing the Council said that the merchants were opposed to the installation of meters and that the citizens should be given a chance to express themselves on the issue. He stated there was no traffic problem in Campbellford and that meters wouldn't solve parallel parking.

Mayor H. M. Donald voiced his approval and thought that the merchants who left their cars parked all day in front of their places of business were the chief offenders of traffic regulations.

A resolution, moved by Councillor Kelly and seconded by Councillor Wilson, that parking meters be installed, was carried.

A motion by Councillor Wilson, empowering the Mayor to sign an agreement, approved by the town solicitor, with the Micro-Meter Co. of Canada authorizing them to install 100 meters more or less, employing their own engineers and marking off the parking spaces according to the survey submitted to the Council at this meeting, was carried. The resolution was seconded by Councillor Davidson.

New Parking Hours

The parking hours are to be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily and from 9 a.m to 11 p.m. on Tuesdays and Saturdays. There are no restrictions on Sundays and holidays.

The Kinsmen's Club request to hold a carnival on Bridge St. in July was granted. The Canadian Legion handed in the name of David Ness as their representative on the Board of Directors of the Community Centre.

Survives Burial

CROWN POINT, NY, June 7—(AP)—A three-year-old boy yesterday was buried under three feet of sand for 20 minutes and survived. Harold Woods was unconscious when he was dug out of a sand-pit after a bank gave way. Artificial respiration was administered for 15 minutes before he was revived. His condition was reported "good."

Approve Grants For Hospitals

COBOURG, June 7.—(ENS).—Hospital grants for the bulk of the sums voted at the June session of Northumberland and Durham Counties Council last week. The sum of $1,500 went to each of the hospitals of Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg, Campbellford and Peterborough Civic plus building grants of $1,500 to Trenton Hospital and $5,000 to Campbellford Hospital. The grant to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind was increased from $500 to $750 and the grant to the Family Court was boosted from $2,500 to $4,000.

The Legislative and Bylaws committee endorsed a resolution from Middlesex county regarding the re-instatement of the one mill subsidy to local municipalities.

Also endorsed was a County of Lincoln resolution that the province increase its aid to hospitals in connection with indigent patients' care.

The reforestation committee reported that 300,000 trees had been planted in Northumberland and Durham this year.

Canada's great Leader

LOUIS ST. LAURENT, Prime Minister of Canada

At the polls on June 27 the voter must ask himself, ahead of anything else, who should be head of the government.

In Louis St. Laurent, Canada has a great national leader.

That he had high abilities of the mind was proved by his career in law. That he had wisdom in cabinet, unique gifts in parliamentary debate and a quick grasp of large affairs became clear as soon as he entered the Government. In international affairs, as one of the original advocates of the Atlantic Pact, he made himself a world figure who spoke out as no Canadian before him, in the councils of the nations.

He also revealed an understanding of ordinary people, because he is one of them.

This warm and essentially simple human being is the real St. Laurent, the product of the small town, of humble beginnings, hard work, a big family and the friendliness of country neighbors.

In blood, language and instinct he combines the qualities of two great races.

To the voter it is equally important that St. Laurent is the leader of a truly national party, with proved strength from coast to coast, the only party which can hope to form a stable government after the election. His character, his ability and his achievements have made him the leader of all the Canadian people.

Mr. Wilson's Canadian Survey

The President of the British Board of Trade, Mr. Harold Wilson, has returned to England after a three-weeks' trip through Canada. He flew 15,000 miles during that time, investigating the possibilities of increasing British sales in Canada. An increase would be of very great value to both Britain and Canada. It would result in a mutual increase in export business. Britain is now limited in the amount of Canadian goods she can buy because she has not the Canadian dollars to pay for them. Canada cannot afford further great loans. The only way, therefore, by which Britain can buy more here is for her to sell more here, to get the dollars.

* * *

Mr. Wilson reported optimistically on his Canadian trip. He believes British exporters should make themselves more familiar with the Canadian market and Canadian needs and likes. And he also reported to his home people that prices had to be offered on the keenest competitive basis even if that meant foregoing higher profit that could be obtained in other markets. Canadians are interested in this point. For one reason or another, many British goods are more expensive than we choose to afford. They are often more expensive than American goods of the same type. It is remarkable that some British goods (cars, for instance) can be had in the United States for less than in Canada.

* * *

One interesting observation made by Mr. Wilson was that the western Canadian market was particularly good for British goods. There are two reasons. Western farmers sell most of their wheat to Britain. They know that unless Canada buys British goods, Britain will not be able to continue to buy all the wheat that they want to sell. The second reason is that British exporters to B.C. and Alberta can ship their goods through the Panama Canal, and more cheaply than eastern Canadian manufacturers can ship overland by train. Hence the market for British cars in B.C. is now more vigorous than for Canadian cars.

Is German Guilt Forgotten?

On May 25 a reception was given in Vienna for Thomas Mann and his daughter Erika; Mann is the most distinguished of living German writers, and Erika Mann has a great reputation of her own; both of them are exiles whose home is now in the U.S.A., and both of them are visiting their homeland for the first time in many years.

Dr. Mann took the opportunity afforded by a reception in the Wiener Library to make some remarks about Germany which we feel deserve the widest publicity. The Wiener Library specializes in the collection of books on National Socialism and Fascism, and as Dr. Mann spoke he was surrounded with the literature of the philosophy which drove him, and so many other Germans of the highest type, from their own country. Germany would do well, he said, to begin producing books that would replace those in that chamber of horrors. The Germans of today, said he, were only too ready to forget their sins.

We of the western world are also too ready to forget the sins of Germany. We are so intent upon our disagreements with Russia that we have come to regard the Germans almost as friends, and reports from Berlin dwell upon the anti-Russian feeling of some of its citizens almost as though this aversion wiped out their former servile acceptance of Hitlerism.

After the First Great War Germany did a magnificent job of representing herself as an injured nation; a whole generation of young men and women whose hearts were more active than their heads were deceived by that nonsense. Unless we are on our guard we shall fall victim to our own stupidity again. Dr. Mann, himself a German, shows us what our attitude toward Germany should be. Let her reform herself before we talk of friendship.

New Deal For Farm Women

Mrs. Raymond Sayre, a woman from the state of Iowa, who is also President of the "Associated Countrymen of the World" and a delegate to the International Federation of Agriculture Producers now meeting in Guelph, states that she is seeking a 'new deal" for farm women. She wants both better home and labour conditions for women on farms, and a greater voice in political affairs for them. It seems to us her desires have already been pretty well filled, at least on this continent. Her new deal is here.

As she herself said, enfranchised women outnumber men in every political democracy except Australia. In Canada and the States they have equal voting rights with men. Perhaps it is easier to lead a horse to water than to make a woman vote. Perhaps many feel that they do not need to vote, since their influence over their husband's decisions may be sufficiently strong.

Women on farms today have far more conveniences and do much less actual farm work than their mothers and grandmothers. Many farms have electricity and the mechanical domestic devices that are powered by electricity; some have indoor plumbing. The hot kitchen stove and the little outhouse by the woodpile are disappearing with the woodpile. The improvement of conditions of living on the farm is one of the more remarkable and gratifying aspects of the post-depression years. It stems from the general prosperity of the nation, the extension of Hydro, and the energy, skill and progressive methods of the better farmers, aided by their good wives. A higher standard of education among farm people has also contributed to the improvement of rural life.

May the process continue. Women on farms have as much right to ease as their city sisters; or, conversely, the city women have as much right to labour as the farmer's daughters and wife. People used to say as they passed by a farm, "It's easy to see who rules the roost on this farm," their supposition being that if the barns were good, the man was dominant; if the house, that the woman ruled. We like to see the farm home as well as the barns and land in a state of excellence, and to be able to say, inclusively, "A good farm, that."

It is passing strange that this Iowan woman is head of the "Countrymen of the World." She even claims that 5,500,000 rural women belong to this nominally male organization. A new deal for farm women? Well, if what Mrs. Raymond Sayre says about the "Countrymen of the World" is true, farm women already have the cards in their hands, and the deal is theirs.

The Disappearing Little, Red Schoolhouse

Red brick one-room rural schools have been honoured not for themselves and their appointments but for the teaching and study done in them and their place in the life of the community. That these little brick buildings are being replaced because of a community's growing needs or their dilapidation need not be regretted too much. Let us be honest and say that these buildings were ugly outside and ill-lit, smelly and dingy within. Pupils got along in them despite, not because of what the buildings had to offer. Many of them still exist and not all are as unsightly outside and as stale within as once they were; but their day is done, as the day is done for S.S. 5, Smith.

Because the school population served by School Section 5 has outgrown the one room and the trustees do not consider the schoolhouse worthy of an addition, Smith Township will have a new school. It will be built at an estimated cost of $45,000. We have seen many new rural schools in southern Ontario which convince us that the passing of the old red schoolhouse is not to be lamented. For instance, the Stittsville Public School on the highway between Carleton Place and Ottawa is a very pleasing two-room structure with wide windows, basement and good proportions. Such a school in the Selwyn district of Smith would be healthy and practical for the children and an ornament to the community. The new S.S. 5 will have a basement suitable for use as a community hall. The good work of the red schoolhouses can be bettered in the new ones.

In Shakespeare's Countryside

By W. H. OVENS

VISITORS attending this year's Shakespeare Festival at Stratford-upon-Avon should take the opportunity to explore the picturesque Warwickshire countryside that lies round about. Within a few miles of the town are many beauty spots which were familiar to the poet in his youth, or with which legend has associated him.

Shottery with Anne Hathaway's Cottage is almost a part of Stratford nowadays, and is certainly as well known. But a less frequented village is Wilmcote where Mary Arden, the mother of Shakespeare, was born. The beautiful timbered farmhouse of Tudor date which belonged to Richard Arden and his wife still stands, together with the farm buildings and a medieval dovecote. Here may be seen a rare collection of old-style farming implements, such as were used in the Ardens' time.

* * *

A MILE or two from Wilmcote is the hamlet of Snitterfield, where the poet's paternal ancestors lived. A small half-timbered cottage is said to have been the home of Richard Shakespeare, his grandfather. Just a year after his son John was married to Mary Arden, the couple moved to the famous house in Henley Street, Stratford, where, of course, William was born on April 23, 1564.

Folowing the River Avon about four miles east of the town, one reaches beautiful Charlecote and its wooded deer park where the youthful Shakespeare was caught in the act of poaching. Sir Thomas Lucy, lord of the manor, became the "Justice Shallow" of the plays. The stately Elizabethan mansion only recently passed from the ownership of the Lucy's into the safe keeping of Britain's National Trust, and is one of the finest examples of period architecture in the Midlands.

* * *

JUST to the west of Stratford lie the group of delightful Shakespeare Villages, so called because they are all mentioned in an old doggerel verse attributed somewhat doubtfully to the poet himself:—

"Piping Pebworth, Dancing Marston,
Haunted Hillborough, Hungry Grafton,
Dodging Exhall, Papist Wixford,
Beggarly Broom and Drunken Bidford."

All these villages are beauty spots well worth seeing, and most of them have changed but little in the last three hundred years.

Bidford-on-Avon probably has the closest associations with Shakespeare. The story goes that he often took part in the merry-makings of the Society of Topers, a local drinking club of his day whose headquarters were at the old "Falcon Inn." Maps of the district still mark as "Shakespeare's Crab" the former crab-apple tree under which the poet slept on more than one lively occasion with the Topers. Although the tree crashed in a storm over a century ago, part of the decayed trunk is still carefully preserved in the village as a relic of history.

* * *

SOME of the fairest countryside in England follows the peaceful Avon as it winds a south-westerly course towards the orchards of the Vale of Evesham. The most picturesque riverside village, perhaps, is Welford, with a fine array of old thatched and timbered cottages and one of the few surviving English maypoles on its green.

While the pole itself has been renewed in recent years, the stone platform that gives it support is most probably the one around which the local inhabitants used to celebrate May Day and other festive occasions in the Elizabethan age.

* * *

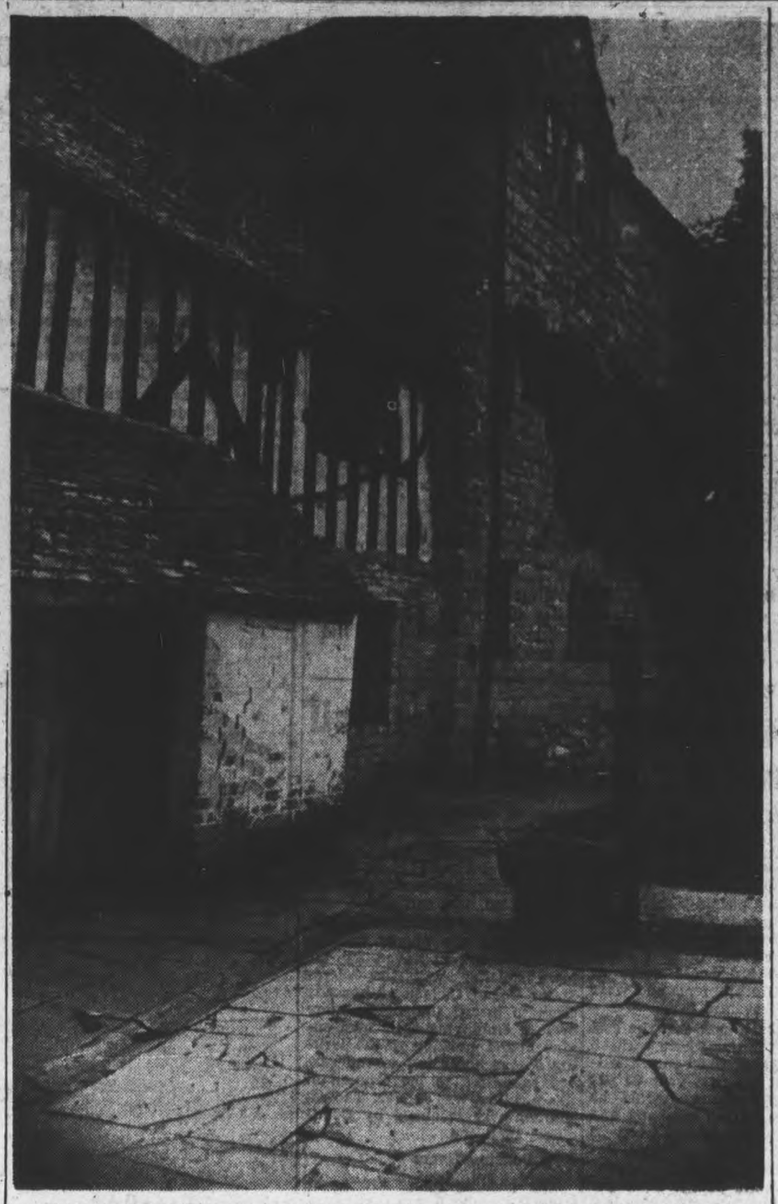
LONG MARSTON (the "Dancing" Marston of the rhyme) lies south from Bidford and has been celebrated for centuries as a centre of the English Morris Dancers. The local manor house known as the King's Lodge, is where Charles II is said to have hid disguised as a kitchen servant after the Battle of Worcester. Equally charming is the nearby village of Pebworth, built of Cotswold stone, which was famous in Shakespeare's day for its company of pipe and tabor players. Hence the prefix "piping"!

The great Forest of Arden covered much of the county of Warwickshire when the poet found inspiration among its deep glades for scenes in "As You Like It". Today very little of this romantic woodland is left though the name is perpetuated in Henley-in-Arden, an old-fashioned market town on the Birmingham Road north of Stratford. Here at the "White Swan," a venerable coaching hostelry, one finds memories not of Shakespeare but of the humbler eighteenth-century poet, William Shenstone. The house is claimed as the original of that praised in his well-known verses, "To An Inn."

Castle Ashby

Castle Ashby, Lord Northampton's place, just added to the list of famous houses made available to the public, was finished in 1622 and is counted one of the finest remaining specimens of Jacobean architecture. The entrance porch or portico was designed by Inigo Jones himself.

Lord Ronald Gower remarked that the house was saved from the "sombre interior character which so many of the houses of the early part of the seventeenth century had by the large mullioned bay windows extending from the ground to the roof on the south front". But he found the interior somewhat disappointing after the effect of the noble exterior.



Castle Ashby was one of a number of eighteenth-century victims of the ruinous cost of elections; the owner of the period had to leave England and live abroad and the place was allowed to fall almost to ruins, but it was restored in the nineteenth century. It has some fine portraits.

THE MANOR HOUSE, at Hillborough, described at "Haunted Hillborough" in today's article in our Third Column, is a fine surviving example of Tudor architecture, and particularly of the 'black-and-white" building in which a wooden skeleton is filled in with white plaster.

Letters To The Editor

SUGGEST LONG TERM METERS

Sir: With reference to your editorial remarks on the question of installing parking meters in the market square I question whether some important factors have been taken into consideration.

The present street meters give one the privilege of parking only one hour and there are many occasions when much more than one hour is required to transact matters of business—getting a car license for instance. It has not been my good fortune to be able to find a place on the market square for such long-time occasion under the present free parking. The condition is similar to that which existed on the streets before parking meters were installed as regards finding a place to leave a car. It is generally agreed that the parking meters have made short time parking spaces on the streets much more readily found and it is reasonable to expect that meters suitable for say two hours on the market square will yield similar benefits.

I notice that the merchants association has objected to metering the market square on the grounds that tourists would be deprived of suitable parking facilities to enable them to do local trading. It would appear that if a place were available to park two or three hours without unlawfully feeding the street meters at the end of an hour tourists would be encouraged to spend more time in the down town stores.

Very respectfully,
B. L. BARNES.

COMPLAINS OF POLICE ACTION

Sir: During the last few years I have resided in a number of cities, both in Canada and the United States, and I must say that in all my travels I have never come across a police force comparable to that of our fair city.

I shouldn't criticize the entire force simply for the actions of a small number of jokers, paid by our taxes, to play Dick Tracy. I will admit that we have a few good policemen on the local force. But when it comes to the point where a wedding party, double park in front of a photographers and receive a parking ticket, simply because some policemen don't have the common sense to keep such parking lanes clear, then it is very hard for one to remember that their are a few decent, helpful men on the local force.

In my opinion, and there are many that agree with me, the sooner the taxpayers of this city do something about the way a number of policemen are playing Sam Spade, then the better off we'll all be.

A DISGUSTED CITIZEN.

WISE PRICE CONTROL

Sir: The Royal Commission on Prices Report suggested that the food contracts with Britain helped to keep the whole Canadian price structure at a low level during the post-war period. Many people, including some not generally interested in the farmer's welfare, deplore the loss of millions of dollars by the farmers in selling the wheat under the world price.

Supposing the price had been allowed to rise another $1.25 to the U.S. peak, the farmer would have benefitted, but wouldn't the speculators have received much of the initial gain? And Canadian wages would have been driven closer to the higher U.S. level. The tremendous post-war expansion of industry, hydro electric power extensions, new homes, etc. would have cost more, adding overhead charges that could not be reduced with falling farm prices—which everybody considered inevitable. And as for industrial labour and freight rates receding with declining farm income, well, I wonder?

I think farmers who still have to work for a living should consider themselves fortunate and be thankful for those contracts. They received good prices for their produce in relation to the rest of our economy, and there was virtue in keeping down the cost of living in Canada and in treating Britons (our first line defenders) as ourselves. There'll always be an England and we'll always need a market for our wheat.

Yours very truly,
JOHN W. GILBERT.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight. Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found grace in thy sight, shew me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight: and consider that this nation is thy people.

And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest. (Ex. 33: 12-14.)

Preserve me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust....

I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. (Ps. 16: 1, 8.)

* * *

I will bless the Lord at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth....

O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together....

The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34: 1, 3, 7.)

Beautiful Crabapple Bloom

The rosy-bloom crabapple trees at the Central Experimental Farm are in full flower, and those who have seen Washington's famous cherry trees in the spring say these humble crabapples match them for beauty.

These trees are in several varieties and are named for Canadian lakes—a deep red is the Makamik, a deep rose is the Rosseau, a lighter rose the Temiskaming. They are hybrids produced at the Farm from an ancestor which had good flowers but a misshapen trunk. From it, and other varieties with good trunks but indifferent flowers, the Farm experts have developed these graceful and gorgeous specimens.

Church Worried About Losing Its Teen-Agers

KITCHENER, June 7 (CP) — The problem of young people who drift away from the church about the time they become high school seniors is causing concern to officials of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The question was raised Monday night at the church's 75th General Assembly by Rev. J. S. Clarke of Toronto, who said he placed the responsibility for the situation upon the entire membership of the church. Too few church members have a sense of responsibility for teaching, he said.

Mr. Clarke, the Church's general secretary of the Board of Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies, said the duty of providing children with religious education often is left almost entirely to a few Sunday School teachers. The result of that policy could be seen in the loss of the teen-aged groups from the church.

"At a time when they are called upon to make great decisions, they are leaving the church," he said. "Some of the causes lie beyond the sphere of the church, but there are factors and causes within the church which are partly responsible for it.

"We try to teach too much of the moral life and Christian character and not enough of Jesus Christ. When children are brought to church for Baptism, it isn't only the parents who take vows to bring the child up in the admonition and nurture of the Lord. Vows are taken at the same time by the church members, who are the household of faith and the family of God."

Pinard And Richard To Contest Same Seat

OTTAWA, June 7 (CP) —J. A. Pinard, Liberal member of Parliament for Ottawa East from 1940 to 1945, Monday announced he intends to contest the same seat against J. T. Richard, official Liberal candidate.

Mr Pinard, defeated by Mr. Richard in the last Federal election by a substantial majority, said he will place his name before a Liberal convention here Tuesday night. He charged that Mr. Richard had not been chosen at an open convention.

If nominated, Mr. Pinard said, he will run as a straight Liberal candidate as he did in 1945.

Headquarters of the National Liberal Federation said that as far as they are concerned, the Liberal candidate is Mr. Richard, who has held the seat since the last election.

In 1945, Mr. Richard polled 15,014 votes compared with 6,285 votes for Mr. Pinard.

Find Old Water Main

LONDON, Ont., June 7 (CP)— A timber aqueduct, or water main, with parts in nearly a perfect state of preservation after an estimated 300 years, has been discovered on the old Fort Ste. Marie site near Midland. The find was made by an excavating party of the University of Western Ontario as it resumed investigation of the historic area this spring.

New Staff Officer

OTTAWA, June 7 (CP)—Cmdr. James Plomer, 37, of Saint John, N. B., and Winnipeg, who won the Distnguished Service Cross and Bar for his part in sinking three Nazi U-boats in the Second World War, has assumed the duties of staff officer to the Senior RCN Officer in Newfoundland.

Bargaining Agent

HAMILTON, June 7 (CP) —The Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO) has been certified by the Ontario Labor Relations Board as the bargaining agent for employees of the Galt Knitting Co., Galt, union sources said Monday. There are 130 employees in the mill.

No Harsh Laxatives in Two Years!

Man Finds Relief With Famous Cereal

If you are nagged by constipation worries, read this unsolicited letter:

"Constipation cost me plenty of money for strong remedies! But since I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly over two years ago, I haven't had to take any laxative. Doing fine, feeling fine! Wish everyone troubled as I was by constipation would try it." W. J. Riley, Molson, Manitoba.

Constipated due to lack of bulk in your diet? You may find relief from sluggishness and taking harsh laxatives. For natural results, try eating an ounce (bowlful) of crisp, tasty ALL-BRAN every day, drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is a delicious regulating food, not a purgative. Try one package and if it doesn't help you, you can get double your money back. Simply return empty box to Kellogg's, London, Ont.

Phone Operator Saves Building From Flames

HASTINGS, June 7—(ENS)—At 2:55 a.m. on Saturday Mrs. Fred Morrow, night operator for the Bell Telephone Co., heard the breaking of glass in the adjoining restaurant. Thinking that some one was trying to gain entrance, she telephoned F. Parker, the proprietor, who lives in an apartment above his restaurant, located in the Fleming block, and informed him of her suspicions.

On coming out his apartment Mr. Parker smelt smoke and heard the crackling of flames so he turned in the fire alarm from the nearest fire alarm box. He then ran into the restaurant and played an extinguisher on the blaze till the Hastings volunteer fire department arrived. The fire was soon under control, but if it hadn't been for the alertness of Mrs. Morrow it might have been serious.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a cigarette butt thrown into the garbage box.

Gunman Gives Up In Nebraska

WEST POINT, Neb., June 7—Carl H. Bistrom, 27, one of three gunmen sought in a hide-and-seek manhunt, gave himself up Monday.

The State Safety Patrol said the report came by radio from a patrolman who accompanied Sheriff Carl Sass of Cuming County to a farm 14 miles from here. The farmer, Fred Hatterman, had phoned the sheriff that one of the trio of gunmen had walked into the farm and given himself up.

The other two men were reported to be travelling toward Sioux City, Iowa. Though they had been carrying hostages throughout most of the chase with officers, they were now believed to be travelling alone.

Besides Bistrom, a former convict, the other two men were identified as Arthur E. Bistrom, brother of Carl, 37, and Allen G. Hartman, 20.

Canada Likely To Send Club For Hockey Tilt

NEW YORK, June 7 — (CP) — One of the safest bets in hockey today is that Canada will send a club to the world amateur championships at London next winter.

It is up to the discretion of executive officers of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to settle the question and there's little doubt among officials that a Canadian team will answer the roll call when the championships start. "It's practically a cinch we'll be there," an informed source said.

The issue was one of the big subjects of debate at final sesions of the C. A. H. A.'s 32nd annual meeting Monday, prompted by a resolution that the Edmonton Waterloo Mercury Club, Western Canada Intermediate Champion, should be considered a candidate.

No Definite Decision

No definite decision was reached, and nothing is expected until August when the association executive meets. Delegates, emphatic on the point Canada "would lose prestige" if she by-passed the tournament, weren't in a hurry to climb out on a limb for the Edmonton outfit.

The January session probably will be about Memorial Cup playoffs and will deal with a written request from Frank Selke, General Manager of Canadiens, that the best-of-seven Memorial Cup final games be split between rinks in eastern and western Canada, instead of playing all games in the west one year and in the east the next.

Delegates said they would give "utmost consideration" to Selke's bid.

Report on the Allan and Memorial Cup championships showed that the four clubs reaching the finals received a total of $35,625 from the C. A. H. A. for expenses. Payments were made on a basis of $625 a game, largest ever given.

Warehouse Fire

ARNPRIOR, June 27 (CP)—Damage was estimated at more than $30,000 following a fire that gutted the new warehouse and office of the C. D. Cole Electric Company here Monday night. Firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to an adjacent lumber yard.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

It was just a little on the cool side for comfortable bowling last night. The boys and girls started out all right, but by 10 o'clock it was a differe t story. They were glad when the games were over, win or lose. Let us hope it is a little warmer this evening.

The notice on the announcement board reads: Stratton Trophy, Wednesday, June 8, 2 p.m.

Keep Friday night and Saturday night open. Information later.

Electrics Take A 12-4 Win Over Lock Co.

CGE copped a 12-4 Girls' Softball League victory over the Lock Co. Crew in a good game last evening at the East City Bowl before a good-sized gallery of fans. The improving Lock lasses made it a game, but CGE had a margin on play to earn the decision. J. Stewart pitched nice ball and deserved better luck as she struck out seven and walked but one. R. Boyce threw neat ball for the Electrics to whiff seven, also, and give but nine hits, though she had a few brief wild streaks. The fielding was pretty even.

J. Stewart and D. Westlake went best in the field for the losers, while R. Boyce and M. Batley stood out for the victors, the latter being exceptionally solid defensively. She also got four singles in six to top her team mates at bat. D. Westlake had a triple, double and single for Lock Co., and B. McMahon came through with three singles.

CAHA To Give 2 Scholarships

NEW YORK, June 7 (CP). — The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association mas gone highbrow.

Delegates to the 32nd annual meeting, at the concluding session Monday, passed a resolution which established two scholarships to be known as the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association Cultural Scholarships in Music, Painting and Drama.

Each is worth $2,000 and may be taken in Britain, Europe or the United States starting next September.

It is open to Canadian citizens over 18 and under 30 years of age —one from the East and the other from Western Canada.

Candidates must be "students of such outstanding calibre in either music, painting, or drama that they will be able to take full advantage of opportunities offered by the scholarship."

They must also be in "such financial circumstances that they definitely require financial assistance enabling them to continue their studies in their particular field."

Dr. George Hardy, Professor of Science at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, and a life member of the CAHA, introduced the resolution. He said it is his belief that "furthering of Canadian culture in these fields should be the concern of every Canadian."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A young chap named Jim Flowers is making a big try to revive track and field competitions here. He hopes to see a team of 10 Peterborough junior athletes in the Canadian junior track and field championships in Toronto Varsity Stadium on July 8-9, if it can be financed. There are some real good junior sprinters and jumpers in this borough and the long-range view is to ready them up for Olympic trials within the next few years. They train two nights weekly at the Ex. under competent coaching, and more are urged to go in for track and field. Lloyd Percival of Sports College and his North Toronto track club is sponsoring the meet and it should be a good one.

* * * * * *

Entry forms for the British Empire trials may be had from Mrs. Mary Foot, 64 Marlow Ave., Toronto 6—they are July 15-16—and forms for the junior championships from R. J. Somers, 36 Servington Crescent, Toronto 12. Ages are: Junior, under 20; juvenile, under 18; and midget under 16, all by July 7. Meets are under the AAU of C and open to all amateur athletes of those ages. There are sprints, distance runs, hurdles, jumps, pole vault, shot put, javelin and discus throw. We'll gladly supply any further info to young athletes interested.

Difference Of Opinion

Some dissatisfaction has been expressed by the Young Petes over their tie-up with the seniors, as they claim they often lose services of two or three players of junior age when senior games are on, and they also pay their own way on out-of-town trips. Art Pagett and his aides are thinking of taking over the junior club themselves and seeking other sponsorship. Ed Murphy of the Petes says it is quite okay with him—that the Petes just started the juniors off, when no one else would, and have given them uniforms and some equipment. And he states the seniors will help them as much as possible, but so far have had small gates and just haven't any more to spare. "Whatever they wish to do, I'll be satisfied," Murphy told us yesterday.

* * * * * *

As far as we're concerned, there's something to be said for both sides. The juniors want to field as good a team as possible and make a real showing in the Lakeshore League. The seniors want to do likewise in the COBL and they claim Lefty Dadson as their own—though willing to loan him back. They also feel that if boys like Al Menzies and Cack Pagett are good enough to play senior they shouldn't be held back. "Minor players expect far too much today," the Petes' manager remarked; "when I was a junior we used a few old balls and bats and paid our own shot everywhere." Well, we hope they work it out satisfactorily to both squads.

In Colleens' Circuit

Two pretty fair tussles over at the Bowl last gloaming in the lasses' softball circuit, and a good gallery on deck. Westclox romped to a 13-5 triumph o'er Woollens, whilst CGE carried home a 12-4 victory against Lock Co. Both the losing teams are coming along but were in against stiff opposition, you might say of senior calibre. Some good fielding shown by J. Stewart, D. Westlake, M. Batley, R. Boyce, R. McInroy, E. Humphries, M. Selkirk and M. Hawthorne in the double-header. Pitching generally good and defensive work so-so. Also some consistent clouting by the winners. Two more tussles there tomorrow night.

Local senior "A" lacrossers are off to Brampton on the morrow and they entertain Owen Sound here Friday. With a heavy list coming up for next week, to. Petes took a 21-7 beating in Hamilton last evening, with Jack Dorney running wild to tally 10 goals for the Dominion champs. It took the visitors two periods to get untracked and they made it a game then, but 'twas much too late as Hamilton had rolled up the count. Just one of those games. It was rugged enough but the refs were looking the other way most of the evening. Tigers are plenty tough once more and sure pack a scoring punch. St. Kitts and Weston went to a 7-all overtime draw in the only other game played.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Jockey Joe Molbert, 29, of New Iberia, La., was killed Monday when his mount, Carolina Star, stumbled leaving the starting gate in the seventh race at Suffolk Downs and stepped on his chest.

Officials at the track said it was the first fatal accident on a New England racing strip in 16 years that horse racing has been a legal sport in the area.

The touring Scottish International soccer team, third of four old country clubs billed to play here this season, arrived at Toronto Monday. They will play an Ontario league all-star squad Wednesday.

The team is made up of most of the squad which defeated England 3-1 in the deciding game for the international title several weeks ago. Members of the team will be guests of the city of Toronto at a civic luncheon today.

Belting Normie Thompson of Brockville, fought to a five-round draw decision against Toronto's Alan McFater in the main event of an amateur boxing card at Toronto.

Thompson, who decisioned McFater once in their four meetings, started out carefully but in the second round fired some effective left jabs that had McFater Stymined. However, McFater rallied in the third and fourth before both boys slugged it out in the last round.

Willie Pep, world's featherweight champ, easily outpunched Luis Ramos of Puerto Rico in a 10-round non-title bout at New Haven. The titleholder, looking fast and shifty, emerged unscratched in his first test since he regained the crown from Sandy Saddler last February. Pep, weighing 131, scored consistently with sharp punches to win every round. Ramos, 128, proved an elusive target.

A heart attack killed Red Jerry the horse which dropped dead Saturday during a race at Thorncliffe Park.

Dr. J. B. Chassels announced at Toronto Monday that an autopsy revealed the heart condition in the horse P. E. Albert bought for $10,000.

The fall of Red Jerry at a turn of the $5,000 Bryan and O'Hara Handicap, sixth and featured race of Saturday's opening card, at Thorncliffe was so badly injured that she had to be destroyed. Four riders suffered minor bruises and two others escaped injury.

Hamilton Gets Senior Tilt Against Petes

Husky Jack Dorney and his Hamilton Tigers showed plenty of power at home last night as they trimmed the Armstrong Petes by a 21-7 score in their OLA senior "A" meeting. Dorney sparked the attack for the Tigers, last year's Dominion senior champions, with no less than 10 goals in a great showing on the attack. Dorney was ably assisted by his teammates from the goalie out in a fairly fast and rugged joust in which the referees took a lenient view of things.

Hamilton ran up their big margin the first half, being held better by the tired visitors in the last two quarters, the Petes playing on even terms in the fourth frame. Shorthanded a few players, the Creighton crew fought hard but were off the beam the first two quarters and the Tigers rolled fast and early to put it on ice by the half. The Petes go away again Wednesday and are at home on Friday.

The teams:

Hamilton: Goal, Flavelle; defence, MacKenzie and Boland, centre, Gair; wings, McDonald and Doyle; rover, Masters; alternates, Grossi, Edmunds, Jamieson, Lee, Dorney, Welsh and Sullivan.

Petes: Goal, Hill; defence, Magee and Horton; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Dugan and Foote; rover, L. Vitarelli; alternates, R. Breakspear D. Vitarelli, McNulty, Teatero, Smith, Howes and Warren.

Referees, Peart and Fitzgerald.

Church And Civic Leagues In Action

Four softball games were staged last night in the Civic and Church Softball Leagues on several fronts. All Saints bantams yanked out a 23-22 verdict over George St. to open their best-of-three playoff series, next one being Tuesday and third on Thursday if necessary. St. James' seniors took a 19-13 victory over Salvation Army in their clash, starting and finishing strong after being held down in the middle innings.

In the Civic Loop, Bell Telephone won 14-7 from the Firemen, the latter being held in check in the late frames, In another joust, the Police trimmed J. K. Hughes by an 18-11 count with the latter team driving late for six in the fifth and three in the sixth, one a homer by Dummitt. The Police were solid at bat and cashed in on walks, too.

Parison Disqualified

FAIRMOUNT PARK, Ill., June 7 — (AP). — Parison finished first in the one-mile trot, fourth race of last night's Grand Circuit card, but was qualified for blocking in the back stretch and placed last by the judges. It was the first such incident of the meet. Parison, driven by Jake Foster, ran too close to Wilson's Sailor Boy, causing the latter to break. This caused the disqualification, and placed Mary C. Song in the winner's position after having finished second. She paid $4.40 for $2.

Giants Down Buffalo In 10-6 Victory

By The Associated Press

Charlie Keller, erstwhile slugger of the New York Yankees, has begun the long climb which he hopes will land him back in the major leagues

The convalescing outfielder, who was optioned to Newark of the International League three weeks ago, made his first appearance in a Bears' lineup since 1938 last night, and didn't fare badly at all.

Keller played the whole game in left field and cracked out a single in two official times at bat. He grounded out to first and walked on another occasion. He had no chances in the field.

Keller had no direct part in the Bears' 2-1 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs. The hitting laurels went to young Hank Workman, who blasted his sixth home run with one aboard in the sixth to account for all Newark's runs off Nick Strincevich. In the meantime, Duane Pillette held the Leafs to five hits including a home run by Skippy Roberge.

Break s Record

Wes Westrum, husky Jersey City catcher, broke the league record for home runs with the bases full in a season when he crashed his fourth grand-slammer of the campaign to lead the Giants to a 10-6 victory over Buffalo. The triumph increased the Giants' first place margin over the Bisons to four full games.

Baltimore's Al Widmar won his eighth game as the Orioles defeated Rochester, 8-6. He allowed eight hits as the Orioles got 11 off four Redwing hurlers.

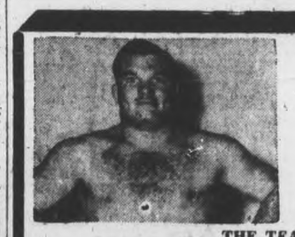
John Hetki held Montreal Royals to seven hits in hurling Syracuse Chiefs to a 5-3 victory. Dan Bankhead, who started for the Royals, was the loser. Ed Shokes drove in the winning runs for the Chiefs with a pair of singles.

Westclox Grab A Victory Over Woollens

Westclox won a 13-5 Girls' Softball League fixture from Dominion Woollens at the Bowl last evening in a fair fray. M. Laing pitched pretty good ball for the losers but errors hurt her cause and the Clockers also clouted hard and timely in two heats. The winners had the experience on the other squad. Marg Selkirk threw nine-hit ball and whiffed 12 in a neat mound showing as the victors rarely fanned but drew quite a few walks.

M. Selkirk and M. Hawthorne were the pick of the Westclox girls defensively, with R. McInroy and E. Humphries best for the Woollens. J. Walling, C. Ferguson and R. McInroy each had two safe hits for the losers. J. Hardy got four singles for Woollens, with M. Selkirk and M. Miles each clicking for three for the other team.

The teams:



Woollens—R. McInroy 2b, J. Walling ss, M. Laing p, S. Wakeford c, C. Ferguson lf, S. Harris 1b, E. Humphries cf, S. Johnson rf.

A TEAM MATCH
THE TEAM OF WATSON & FLANAGAN versus
O'DONNELL & DAVIS
TUG CARLSEN vs. AL LOVELOCK
ART BRADY vs. AL KORMAN
WEDNESDAY – BROCK ARENA 8:45 PM

Watson May Be Deciding Factor In Team Match Win

Another of those team bout wrestling explosions is in store for wrestling fans when the popular pairing of Whipper Billy Watson and Pat Flanagan combines their forces against the gruesome twosome of Wee Willie Davis and Sandy O'Donnell in the feature grappling bout at Brock Arena on Wednesday night.

Tug Carlsen

Whipper Watson has come to the aid of Pat Flanagan after the rough-house team gained the deciding fall over Flan's partner of last week. Sliding Billy Hanson. Whipper is greatly incensed over the unsportsmanlike treatment he heard Hanson received at the hands of the villains and has been working out with Pat to perfect a plan of campaign that will mean curtains for the hated side. Last week's team match was just about the roughest ever witnessed here as Davis and O'Donnell cut loose with a smashing attack Hanson was on the receiving end of most of it. It should be a different story with Watson in there.

In the semi-final Tug Carlsen, the fast, colorful California will test Al Lovelock, a highly-rated matman. Art Brady, nicknamed the Van Johnson of wrestling, will tackle Al Krusher Korman in the opener.

Dodgers Deadlocked At Top Trounce Pittsburgh 5-1

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This tightest of all National League pennant races has everybody going around in circles. Even Ford Frick, optimistic president of the circuit, never dreamt it would be like this.

With one-third of the season almost out of the way, a mere half-game separates the first four clubs.

At the moment, Brooklyn and New York Giants share first place. St. Louis and Boston are only a half-game behind, with the Cards holding third-place by .002 percentage points over the Braves.

The Dodgers took advantage of defeats by New York and Boston Monday with a 5-1 night-game triumph over Pittsburgh to deadlock the Giants for the top rung. Don Newcombe, recently brought up from their Montreal farm, pitched the Brooks into a deadlock.

The big negro righthander, making his fourth big league start, hurled a four-hitter against the Bucs. He struck out 11, high for the league this season. A wild pitch in the eighth cost him shutout. In the meantime, the Dodgers collected eight hits off loser Bob Chesnes, including a home run by Duke Snider a triple by Gene Hermanski and doubles by Hermanski and Newcombe himself. A three-run fifth inning featured by Gil Hodges' bases-loaded single, broke up a scoreless pitching duel.

Down Giants

Howie Fox pitched and batted Cincinnati to a 4-3 victory over the Giants. He not only scattered eight hits for his second triumph over the New Yorkers, but singled in what proved to be the winning run in the sixth. Johnny Wyrostek had provided him with a 3-0 lead in the third with his sixth home run behind two runners. Sheldon Jones was the loser.

The high-flying Cards made it five victories in their last six road games and 12 out of their last 14 starts by thumping the Braves, 7-3. Two three-run innings—sixth and ninth—did the trick. Enos Slaughter's sixth home run helped. Red Munger, who needed help from Ted Wilks in the eighth, was credited with his third victory. The loss was charged to Warren Spahn.

The Tigers were nosed out, 10-9, by the Boston Red Sox, who overcame a 5-2 deficit with flurries of three runs in the seventh and five in the eighth. At that, the Tigers almost caught them with three in their half of the eighth and one in the ninth.

Only a superb relief job by Ellis Kinder saved the game for Boston. He relieved winner Tex Hughson in the ninth with the Tigers one run behind, men on second and third and nobody out. Kinder walked Johnny Groth purposely to load the bases, and retired the next three batters without allowing a further score.

Vern Stephens' 14th home run of the season, tying him with teammate Ted Williams for the league lead, was the big blow for the winners. It came with two on in the seventh. George Vico also hit a three-run homer, his coming in the eighth for the Tigers. The loss dropped the Tigers into a second place tie with idle Washington.

The Indians, with Manager Lou Boudreau playing third base for the first time since his minor league days, exploded for nine runs in the eighth inning to come from behind and defeat the Philadelphia Athletics 11-5. A home run by Joe Gordon, four singles and five bases an balls comprised the big inning.

To Buy Dishes For Church Hall

SELWYN, June 7 (ENS). — Selwyn United Church WA held their May meeting on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Reginald McConkey. A visitor to the meeting, Miss Opal Preston, presented the topic and the scripture reading was given by Mrs. Jim McConkey.

A report on the convention held at Norwood was given by the secretary, Mrs. Reginald Bell.

June 28 was the date set for the strawberry festival to be held in the Church Hall.

The ladies also decided to buy more dishes for the hall before the festival.

Next meeting will be held September 1, at Mrs. Wilfred Nichol's cottage.

Personals

Mrs. Clayton Fitzgerald visited her father, Andrew Wilson, who is ill in Toronto General Hospital, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welsh of Peterborough were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bell on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garbutt and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Davis and son left on Wednesday for an extended motor trip throughout western and northern Ontario. En route they will visit Mrs. Garbutt's aunt, Mrs. Ross Allen in Windsor.

EXPLORER'S BURIAL PLACE — This cathedral in St. Malo, France, with its steeple shot away by the Nazis in the Second World War, is believed to be the resting place of Jacques Cartier, 16th Century discoverer of Canada. The grave was uncovered in the chapel at the extreme right of the cathedral.

Driver Gets $38,655 Hard To Convince

MONTREAL, June 7 (CP)—The Saturday story of fortunes won in the sweepstake on the Epsom Derby carried a punch line for Florian Deneault,, 32-year-old laundry-wagon driver who will reap a harvest of $38,655.

Denault was notified earlier in the week by the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association of Canada that he had drawn a ticket on Moondust, a non-starter in the Derby and worth only $400.

What he didn't know was that the Association was trying to notify him that there has been a error and he actually held a ticket on Nimbus, winner of the English classic.

He was out on his laundry route when the radio and newspapers announced he had won top prize. He told reporters that it was all an error, that he actually held a ticket on a scratched horse and remarked "better $400 than nothing; but there is quite a difference."

There were no reporters around when he received the confirmation of his winnings.

SWEEPS WINNER — Alex McKee of Toronto, holding a ticket on Amour Drake, second place winner in the Derby Saturday, will collect $40,000 from the Irish Sweepstakes. He was the largest Canadian money winner identified immediately after the race was run. He is shown here with Myrtle Hebert, also of Toronto, who won $23,193 from the Army and Navy Sweepstakes based on the same race. Miss Hebert credits her rabbit's foot with the win.

Roseneath News

Mrs. Percy Macklin, Fenella, was a recent guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Macklin.

Miss Sherry Faith, Pontypool, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Webb.

Mrs. Wilbert Smith and son Ronald of Bailieboro were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown.

Miss Leila Taylor, Reg.N., of Oshawa, spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Beavis and family of Hastings were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pringle.

Mrs. John Blodgett of Toronto is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Douglas Coyle, Mr. Coyle and Mrs. Thomas Coyle.

Week-end guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Lovelace were: Miss Bertha Lovelace and Miss Alliene Crozier of Brockville; Miss Marion Lovelace, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bagshaw and children of Sunderland.

The marriage was solemnized in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Fort William, on Saturday, June 3, of Miss Frances Mary Michels and Tuffield John Morin, M.D.

Dr. Morin is a former Roseneath physician, having practised medicine here from 1936-1939.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Macklin are visiting friends and relatives in Port Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ferguson, Baltimore, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown.

Miss Shirley White of Harwood spent the week-end with her cousin, Nelda Brown.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, nasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Asked Twice To Resign

Plymouth Picks New Market Site

By STUART UNDERHILL

PLYMOUTH, England, June 7 (CP).—Plymouth's historic Market escaped the rain of wartime bombs but not the tide of reconstruction that is changing the city's face.

Planning authorities have decided on a new site for the trading centre that is as much a landmark of this ancient seaport as Plymouth Hoe, where Sir Francis Drake played bowls while awaiting the approach of the Spanish Armada.

Now 50,000 to 60,000 persons shop there each week. Almost anything can be bought, for the market-place's traditional stallholders were joined during the war by merchants of all sorts who were bombed out of their own premises.

It covers about three acres. The market proper is approached by "Tin Pan Alley," where scores of small traders have set up stalls that deal in everything from toys to household equipment.

VOL. XCVIII, No. 132 — TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1949

Boy, 9, Rescued At Inverlea From Drowning

A speedy rescue and prompt application of artificial respiration by Bill Stewart, 15, of Water Street, on Monday afternoon saved nine-year-old Arthur Shofly of St. Vincent's Orphanage from drowning.

With some schoolmates the boy had taken advantage of the holiday to go bathing at Inverlea. Just how he got into difficulties is not known, but he was seen floating face downward in about four feet of water near the first arch of the bridge.

Several young boys shouted a warning and an unidentified woman on the bank raised the alarm. Stewart jumped into the water fully dressed and found the boy almost submerged and doubled up in a cramped position about 10 feet from shore.

Firemen Were Called

He seized the unconscious boy and carried him to the river bank and began artificial respiration. Firemen were called and an inhalator crew consisting of Captain George Gimblett, Bill Torrance, and Tom Nice responded. They continued the artificial respiration and used the inhalator.

Shofly began to revive soon after Stewart started working on him, and firemen needed to continue the treatment for another four minutes only. Then he was able to be moved to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Excellent Swimmer

After rescuing the boy and seeing everything going smoothly, Stewart, a PCVS student, went home for a change of clothes. Then he went downtown on an errand as nonchalantly as though such feats were an everyday occurrence.

Stewart is an excellent swimmer, formerly a member of the YMCA Swimming Club. He learned his artificial respiration while a Scout.

There is no provision for safety buoys and supervised swimming areas until July 1. Jack Dane, director of recreation, told the Examiner to-day.

Jas. Marshall Heads Lions Club For 1949

Peterborough Lion's Club elected officers Monday night, Jas. Marshall succeeds Sim Gledhill as president of the club. Other officers elected were Bert Sisson, vice-president; James McCulloch, 2nd vice-president; Tom Doughty 3rd vice-president; Al Cameron treasurer; Ron MacGee, Lion Tamer, and William Bennett, Tail Twister.

Directors for the coming year will be Joseph Brown, Geddes Harper and Bud LaBranche. Bob Gibbons remains as a director for another year. Mr. Brown was elected for one year term, and Mr. Harper and Mr. LaBranche for two year terms.

West End House Proposed For Area Centre

The antique driveshed and loft, two-storey building with what looks like a mansard roof front, on the Hatton property, possibly might be converted into a community centre on the west side of the city.

That was a suggestion of the recreation commission in a memorandum to the council last night. They report a five-acre tract of land with 500 feet frontage on Albertus Ave. as "ideally located in the centre of a neighborhood close to wartime housing. A playground located here would service the west end of the city between Charlotte St. and Park Hill Road which now must depend on Queen Mary School."

John Dane, writing for the Commission said the school grounds were greatly inadequate. The commission recommends that the Hatton property be acquired, and that its building be remodelled for use as a community centre.

Service Clubs Must Maintain Own Projects In City Parks

As a policy relating to service club projects in city parks, the committee of the whole council Monday night recommended that their maintenance must be assumed by the contributing and, thereby, investing clubs.

This decision in a motion by Ald. Herbert Young and Ald. Grant Miller, was evoked by a letter to the recreation commission, from J. N. Perry, chairman of the Kinsmen Youth Training committee. It definitely enunciated the position which the council has been taking in particular instances, notably with the Lion Club gift of swimming and wading pools at Riverside Park, and is now established as a general condition. The council declines to become involved in the cost of carrying on recreational affairs which service clubs undertake to provide.

Incidentally Mr. Perry's letter presented a discouraging aspect of some of the experience of the Kinsmen Club at Inverlea Park. His letter was dated May 30.

"I recently visited Inverlea Park to ascertain the state of repair of playground and swimming area equipment placed there by the Kinsmen Club. My findings were, to say the least, very disheartening."

Things Messed Up

"There were 55 slats torn off the Tot Lot fence, many asphalt shingles mutilated on the playhouses and, at the time of visiting, the grass had not been cut. The hard surface track will require a treatment to prevent disintegration, and the fence painted

"The floats built last year for the swimming area had been dragged up onto the bank, most of the one-inch rope destroyed, the anchor weights lost, and leaves piled on one float and burned. In general, the area presented an appearance of desolation and vandalism.

"'It must be kept uppermost in mind that a Service Club is only the custodian of public money. The club must, therefore, be most careful to initiate new ideas into public activities only where the need is apparent. The treatment afforded Inverlea is most indicative of the lack of public and civic appreciation.

I am given to understand that a large hard surface area is believed essential to establish Inverlea as a somewhat complete recreational park. It is the humble opinion of the writer that the civic authorities must create a comprehensive policy with the Service Clubs for establishing the need for developing recreational facilities in this city, and the responsibility for their maintenance. It is readily apparent to all who understand the organization and function of a Service Club that enthusiasm is lost if its role is to be one of maintenance, not new and interesting fields to develop.

This is presented in the manner of constructive criticism with the hope that such a policy can be formulated."

Sentiment of the Council was that it could not give assent to the proposal of Mr. Perry that maintenance of park facilities provided by service clubs should become a liability of the taxpayers. The motion affirmed that if a service club is to receive any use of a park involving the element of maintenance, the council must be assured that it is not being saddled with the uncertain costs of future maintenance.

Civic Arena Committee Appointed By Council

Committee of management of Civic Arena for the year including the next season of ice affairs was appointed by the council Monday night in a motion by Ald. Adam Sands, seconded by Ald. Grant Miller.

The members are Mayor Swanston, Aldermen H. Dodds and J. E. Gillespie, Geddes Harper, Cecil L. Upper, Stan McBride and Percy Killingbeck.

Tenders Called For 2 Rooms To City School

A recommendation from the Accommodations Committee that plans for the proposed two-room addition to Park Hill Road School be approved was accepted on Monday night by the Board of Education. Included in the motion was a provision that tenders be called for immediately.

There will be several new faces on the Public School staff next term. New teachers approved by the board are Miss Florence Newman, Miss Agnes Chalk, and Miss Agnes McNabb. Mrs. Edna Brickman, a teacher with four years' experience, has been hired for one year to teach the Kindergarten class.

Leaving for various reasons are Miss Shirley Boyce, Miss Ruth Henderson and Miss Lena Dewart whose resignations were accepted on Monday night.

The appointment of two new janitors was approved. From a list of applications the names of Joseph Sexsmith and Russell Little were chosen to fill two of the vacancies, and they will start at $1,800 a year.

Two other vacancies will be filled at the discretion of W. E. Bannon, chairman of the Property Committee, and Superintendent of Schools K. S. Wightman.

Dr. R. M. Matthews, in the absence of committee chairman Dr. R. C. Honey, reported that leather writing cases have been purchased for the two championship PCVS teams. Each case has the recipient's name and the name of the team stamped on it.

Presentation will be made on a suitable occasion.

Two teachers from the Vocational School were permitted to attend a refresher course held at Balsam Lake sometime late in June. Mr. Wightman recommended that J. Rutherford and G. Cornell be sent this year with the addition of B. W. Switzer if he finds it possible. Costs will be met by the Board.

The Board has authorized these courses for several years in the belief it helps to bring in new ideas on vocational education.

A new chemistry text will be used next term in Grade 13. It will be "A Laboratory Manual of General Chemistry" by Herron-Maddesford.

Peanut Vendor Said Obsolete

"The peanut vendor is as obsolete as the cigar store Indian. We ought to try to keep up with the times," was the comment of Ald. Grant Miller, seconding the motion of Ald. J. E. Gillespie Monday night as the council by a vote of 6-4 finally proscribed the street push cart.

"I moved in committee that this request for a permit be not granted," said Ald. Gillespie, repeating his reasons that it was something of traffic impediment and also that "the Chief Constable recommended that it be not granted."

Mr. A. E. McDougall, appearing for the Greek applicant for a license to sell peanuts and popcorn at curb spots around town, said the council had been in favor of transferring the license as requested by the man who had acquired the cart and equipment at a cost of around $400.

He said that he had read the report of a recent meeting of the board of works rejecting the application. "The present owner bought the cart from the holder of the license, and there was no intimation to him that he would be refused the license which was in effect. I don't think he would make a nuisance of himself to the public."

That clause in the board of works was withheld for consideration in general business, and the council, with all the members present divided 6-4, silencing the liquid whistle with its warm and cheery sound of a November day.

UNHURT IN COLLISION

Drivers of two cars escaped injury when they collided at 11.50 p.m. Monday one mile south of Young's Point. The vehicles were driven by Frank Blair, 1 Vinette St., Peterborough; and H. G. Ionson, 34 Mattice Ave., Toronto. Mr. Blair's car sustained damage of $50 and the Toronto car damage of around $100. The accident occurred on a curve in the road and was investigated by Provincial Constable W. K. O'Shaughnessy.

Swimming Pool Ready August 1

Lions Club expect to have their swimming pool at Riverside Park in use by August 1, according to a letter from Douglas A. Anderson to the council Monday night.

They propose the southeast corner of the lower expanse of the park for the wading pool for children, and they also enquired about several details of the main pool in regard to the entrance sidewalk and sewerage connection. The small pool is to be 40 ft. by 90 ft.

"I have had no information from the club about the wading pool side," Ald. Herbert Young said. "I didn't know they were going ahead with it now. Of course, this letter does not say they are going ahead now."

Placement of the wading pool is to be opposite the gate into the main ball park, as suggested by the Lions.

Suggest Committee

"I don't think half the members of the council are certain about where it would go," said Ald. Sands. "This is something that could be left to a committee to decide in the next few days."

Ald. Gillespie said the club should be asked whether they intended to build the wading pool this year or next.

"They have plans for this pool," said Ald. Dodds, "but the location is being changed from where it was originally intended to go."

Ald. Sands motion named Aldermen Young, Dodds, Gillespie and Mayor Swanston to meet representatives of the Lions Club with power to act.

MUNICIPAL SCHOOL

Hon. George Dunbar, Minister of Municipal Affairs, has arranged a one-day school at the Court House, Wed. June 8, for the municipal officials of this county. There will be lectures on the functions of the department, the principles and practice of assessment and other kindred subjects.

ALDERMAN ON CRUTCHES

"We are all glad to have you back with us again, Adam," said Mayor Swanston in welcoming Ald. Sands who attended the meeting of the council Monday night on crutches. "And, I'm glad to be back, Mr. Mayor" was the Sands reply. The fractured leg has fully healed, but it may be some time yet before it will permit abandoning of the helpful props.

EIGHT NEW MEMBERS

Eight travellers joined the Associated Commercial Travellers Club Saturday at the monthly meeting. The new members are Richard Habgood, Edward Simmons, Floyd Abrams, Robert Cunningham, Kenneth Doughty, William Jones, Bertrand Luckhurst and George Mountford. Percy Dallin, Peterborough's club delegate to the Dominion Council meeting in Calgary in May, gave a report of that meeting.

GOOD NIGHT'S REST.

The condition early today of Arthur Shofly, 9, of St. Vincent's Orphanage who narrowly escaped drowning at Inverlea Park Monday was described as "quite satisfactory." He was reported to have had a good night's sleep. After rescue by Bill Stewart of Water St. and after artificial respiration and inhalator treatment were given the boy was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

CREEK QUITE LOW

An indication of the prolonged dry spell which has been gripping Central Ontario for the past two weeks or more can be seen in the water level of the Jackson Park Creek. While walking down Hunter St. this morning on his way to work an Examiner reporter noticed that the bed of the creek was dry for half its width, with water only flowing down the right side.

RINK'S RECEIPTS $32,761.

Gross receipts from the ice division of Lindsay's Arena last winter was $32,761. Estimated net is $8,000 after paying $16,650 for promotion expenses. Biggest "take" of the season was $1,700 for the final senior "B" game. Lorne Wakelin, manager, reported 75,000 people used the rink; $5,379 paid admission to junior hockey; 17,173 to the senior games and 19,564 skated. Skating produced the biggest item in the revenue $5,629.

Park Your Hour Then Move On Chief Adjures

Chief Constable John Thompson has received so many complaints about double parking on the city streets that he has instructed all city constables to enforce parking regulations more strictly.

To make more room for parking at meters, the police are checking up on overtime parking and enforcing the one hour limit.

Many motorists, and particularly traders, put a nickel in the meter and then run out to put another nickel in when the hour is up, the Chief told the Examiner. That practice is a contravention of the city bylaw, he says.

Sign posts can be seen throughout the city stating that parking time is limited to one hour. When the hour has expired, the vehicle must be moved, he says. Any car or truck seen by the police to be parked in the same spot for more than an hour, even if the second nickel has been inserted in the meter, will have a parking ticket, the Chief warns.

Another Petition Against Paving

All but one of the property owners on Romaine St. between Park St. and Monaghan Road have signed a petition to the Ontario Municipal Board objecting to the paving of that bus-route street on the local improvement plan.

This information was received from Garfield Bryant, 560 Romaine St., by the council last night, heading a copy of the petition that has gone to the Municipal Board.

"We would like to see the road paved and kept in good condition," Mr. Bryant wrote, "but some of the people feel that they cannot carry the burden of the added cost. They feel that the cost should be borne by the general property owners."

A similar protest against the frontage charge has been sent on to the Board by Burnham St. residents.

In a beautiful setting of tulips, iris, lily of the valley and branches of spirea at the altar in Lakefield United Church Saturday afternoon, rings and vows were exchanged as Mabel Vivaline Mae Hockaday became the bride of Morris Harold Telford. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. Stanley Hockaday, Lakefield, and the late Mrs. Hockaday, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gratton Telford, RR 1, Peterborough.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. F. Kelly, assisted by Rev. L. S. Haverstock. The wedding music was by Mrs. G. F. Kelly who also accompanied the soloist, Miss Elsie Crawford. Before the bride entered the church Miss Crawford sang "The Lord's Prayer" and while the register was being signed "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride's gown and long flowing train was fashioned of ivory satin. An inserted yoke of net was edged with Brussels lace which extended over the shoulders and the neckline was trimmed with pearls. She wore a circular veil, falling to shoulder length and held in place with seed pearls, and she carried red roses with lily of the valley. Mr. Hockaday gave his daughter in marriage.

Maid of honor was Miss Lorene Hockaday. Bridesmaids were Miss Evelyn Garrett and Miss Gwen Sanderson and Dianne Northey was flower girl. Miss Hockaday was in a bouffant gown of lilac taffeta styled with a full bustle back, low round neckline and soft puffs on the shoulders. The bridesmaids' frocks were of green taffeta made with full skirts, and portrait necklines, filled with a transparent net yoke. Each wore a scalloped half-hat and gloves of the same material as her dress. The flower girl's dress was of yellow taffeta and she wore a band of flowers in hair. Each attendant carried a nosegay of yellow roses and sweet peas.

Groomsman was Mr. Elmer Telford, and the ushers were LaVerne Lanc, cousing the bride, and Gordon Stockdale.

The reception was held at the Empress Hotel, Peterborough. The bride's aunt, Mrs. H. Garrett of Lakefield, received in a dress of pale blue mesh with accessories of navy and white and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother also received, wearing grey figured crepe, navy accessories and pink roses.

For going-away the bride chose a suit of loganberry charmeen and grey accessories and she wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Telford will live on a farm on the Chemong Road.

Helen Hickey in Pink Satin Weds Edward Gerald Hiland

The marriage took place in St. Peter's Cathedral on Monday of Helen Marie Hickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas Hickey to Edward Gerald, son of Mrs. Josephine Hiland and the late Edward Hiland, all of Peterborough. The Rev. P. P. Butler performed the marriage ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. Mrs. Robert Aman was at the organ and Miss Geraldine Collins sang Panis Angelicus and Ave Maria.

The bride was given in marraige by her father and she wore a gown of petal pink satin, fashioned with long tight sleeves, the neckline framed by a draped shawl collar caught at one side with a twisted knot The moulded waistline fanned into a princess line skirt which swept to a circular train. A Juliet cap of pink tulle sprinkled with pearls held her veil of tulle illusion. She carried a bonquet of pale pink roses and lily of the valley.

Her attendants Miss Barbara Hickey and Miss Maureen Hickey chose gowns of dawn pink marquisette over taffeta styled with fitted basques, the neckline offset by deep cape collars caughts at one side by large butterfly bows. A fine cording of material trimmed the pointed waistline from which the bouffant skirts fell in fine gathers. They wore small tight-fitting caps of pink marquisette and carried bouquets of pink roses and Esther Reed daisies.

The groomsman was Mr. Joseph Hiland and the ushers were John Hickey, William Hickey, James Dunn and Vernon Mulhall of Toronto.

A reception was held at the Kawartha Country Club where the bride's mother received the guests, wearing a gown of taupe crepe and hat of navy lace. She wore a corsage of Sweetheart roses. The groom's mother also received, wearing a gown of honey coloured crepe with matching hat and a corsage of pink roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a motor trip, the bride travelling in a tailored grey suit, panama hat and brown accessories. On their return they will live in Peterborough.

Edwards-Garrett

The marriage took place Saturday afternoon at Havelock United Church parsonage of Hazel Marie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Garrett, Hastings, and Gerald W. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards, Hall's Glen. The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh performed the ceremony.

The bride wore white brocaded satin with long sleeves coming to points over the wrists and inset of net at the neckline. Her fingertip veil of rayon net with draped edge was caught to her head with pearls. Her bouquet was of pink roses and lily of the valley. The groom's sister, Miss Mary Edwards was bridesmaid in a frock of heavenly blue with net skirt and jersey top. She wore a matching headdress and carried yellow roses and fern.

Groomsman was Mr. Hilliard Garrett, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony there was a reception at the bride's home, and the couple left later on a trip to points east.

Di Pirro-Cupoli

At St. Peter's Cathedral Saturday morning the marriage was solemnized of Pasqualine (Patsy) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cupoli, 548 Elm St., and John Di Pirro of Detroit, Michigan, son of Mrs. Di Pirro and the late Mr. Joseph Di Pirro. The Rev. P. P. Butler officiated.

Tulips and mixed spring flowers were on the altar table. Wedding music was by Mrs. R. G. Aman and Mrs. D. Campanaro sang during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attired in a suit of grey gabardine with matching hat, navy accessories and a corsage of mauve orchids. Her bridesmaid, Miss Bernadette Meagher, wore a turquoise suit, navy accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Paul De Stefino of Detroit.

A reception followed at the bride's home where her mother received, attired in black and wearing a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother in black with grey accessories and wearing roses at her shoulder.

The couple left by motor for London, Ont., and took a plane there for New York City where they will spend two weeks. They will live in Detroit.

Many Entertain Bride

Honoring Miss Jean Graham before her marriage Saturday to Mr. Reginald Seabrook, girls of the Instrument Laboratory Department, CGE, gave a dinner at the Empress Hotel and made presentation of an electric kettle. Her Sunday School class gave a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. E. J. Whan, Westcott St. Mrs. Ada Curtis entertained her friends at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. Aubrook, Rubidge St. Miss Dolly Lewis and Miss Norma Graham were joint hostesses for a linen and china shower at the home of Mrs. Jay, Wolfe St. The groom's mother, Mrs. B. Seabrook, Lansdowne St., gave a shower at her home. Misses Phyllis Robinson and Betty Dorsett, cousins of the bride, gave a shower jointly at the former's home on Aylmer St. Presentation to the couple from fellow employees at the CGE were an electric toaster and grill and electric coffee maker and stove.

MR. REGINALD J. SEABROOK with his bride, the former Jean Graham, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Graham, following their marriage at Park St. Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Seabrook, all of Peterborough.—(Duke Studio Photo)

Seabrook-Graham Wedding

A double ring wedding in Park St. Baptist Church Saturday afternoon united Jean Harriet, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Graham, and Reginald Joseph Seabrook, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Seabrook, all of Peterborough. The Rev. E. J. Whan officiated as they exchanged rings and vows.

Floral setting for the ceremony was of pink and white snapdragon, carnations and roses, banked with fern. Mr. Adam Hawley, organist, played the wedding music. Before the bride entered Mrs. George Batley sang "The Lord's Prayer" and at the signing of the register, she sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown and sweeping train was of traditional white satin and had a deep peplum of silk embroidered lace at the waist, and the long pointed sleeves were trimmed at the wrist with tiny covered buttons. Her train-length veil of tulle illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and bouvardia, showered with white satin ribbon.

Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Miss Norma Graham of Buckhorn, who was frocked in buttercup yellow taffeta, made with a deep peplum, similar in style to the bride's gown. Her headdress was a halo of the same material with matching leaf design at one side, and she carried Serenade roses and sweet peas. Miss Dolly Lewis of Lindsay as bridsmaid was similarly dressed in Nile green and carried Talisman roses and sweet peas. Junior bridesmaids Linda Thompson and Anne Collins were identically frocked in mauve taffeta and wore matching flower headdresses and carried bouquets of yellow roses and sweet peas. Each of the attendants wore mittens to match her dress.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Gerald Seabrook. Ushers were the bride's brother Douglas Graham, and Raymond Seabrook, cousin of the groom.

The reception following was in the church parlors. The bride's mother received with the bridal party, dressed in powder blue silk with hat of pink lacy straw and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother received in beige nylon sheer with beige felt hat and wore red roses.

For their plane trip to New York city, the bride wore a beige gabardine suit and hat to match with cocoa brown accessories and carried a topcoat of dusty rose flannel. When going-away she wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

After July 1 Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook will live at 73 Lansdowne St.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Reader Asks If Women Or Men More Sentimental

DEAR MISS DIX: Will you please settle a controversy by answering the following question: which marry more for love, men or women?

B. S.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: That is a $64 question that not even Solomon could answer, because people marry for such a variety of reasons, and after the honeymoon is over a large percentage of them spend the balance of their lives wondering why they picked out the one they did for a mate. Of course, traditionally, all marriages are love marriages, but, in reality, such is far from being the case. Men and women marry for a hundred different reasons other than being victims of the grand passion.

They marry because they are lonesome. Or they marry for money. Or they marry to keep from being old maids or old bachelors. Or they marry because their mothers have picked out some particular girl or boy as a wife or a husband for them. Or they marry because they want a home and home cooking. Or they marry because some matchmaker has chased them to the altar. The marriage of convenience is a recognized institution in other countries. It is only in this land of the free, and easy divorce, that we pretend that every marriage is a love match.

This makes it impossible to decide definitely which of the sexes is the more sentimental and whether more men or more women marry for love. On the face of the matter, it would seem that women are the great lovers, for they are the ones who are supposed to have broken hearts and pine away with a green and yellow melancholy if anything untoward happens to their love lives; while jilted sweethearts and husbands are believed to take their bad luck philosophically and turn their affections to other charmers.

Nobody Knows

Maybe this is true. Maybe not. Certainly women get the most divorces, and whether this proves that wives love their husbands more, or less, than their husbands love them, nobody knows. How much husbands and wives love each other is a secret that only God and the divorce courts know.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife and I disagree when I say that if a woman takes care of her children and does all of the housework, without expensive electric appliances, that she will be so tired at night that she will sleep straight through until morning and not stay awake to ask questions as to where her husband has been, and why he stayed out so late.

But my wife claims that a woman should go out with her husband some evenings. Will you please tell me where a real he-man can take a woman so they both could enjoy themselves? Also, how can a man with an adult mind enjoy playing with children, or an evening at home with a woman who can't talk politics, or sports, or even play cards intelligently?

If a woman is a real woman, she gets her enjoyment out of doing housework and taking care of her children and seeing to it that her husband is happy and contented. This is the way Nature intended it to be.

CHARLES.

ANSWER: Well, if Nature intended intelligent, educated women to be nothing but slaves to overbearing, tyrannical, conceited men, then we have improved a lot on the original human pattern. For the species to which you seem to belong has long ago passed into the discard and are only interesting now as museum pieces.

Your ideas about how to treat a wife are so antiquated that they sound as if you were spoofing, but just in case you really mean what you say, it would be interesting to know why you married a woman for whom you had neither respect nor affection and whom you only wanted as a cook and babytender. Of course, it may come a little cheaper to have a wife who needs no good clothes, because she never goes anywhere, but isn't that offset by her being so stupid she doesn't know how to talk or even play a simple game of cards?

Your prehistoric ideas about wives are very interesting, but they won't get you anywhere except to the divorce court nowadays.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a wife and the mother of two small children and I have just found out that for three years my husband has had a mistress. Recently the lady love has married, but she still keeps up her relationship with my husband.

My husband claims that he still loves me and does not want to break up our home. The woman says that she doesn't want to break up her home, but she doesn't want to give up my husband, either. Don't you think that the proper thing for us to do would be for the three of us to get together and try to straighten out the mess?

BEWILDERED WIFE

ANSWER: Maybe so, though I can't see how any wife who loved her husband would be willing to settle for a half-time interest in him. When a wife ceases to monopolize her husband's interest and affection, she is bankrupt. She hasn't even a good trading interest in him left.

But, as Brother Jasper used to say, "the world sho'ly do move," when a husband and a wife and the Other Woman can sit down together and calmly settle their love affairs. No doubt it is the sensible thing to do, but it is the death of romance.

Dorothy Dix cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Millbrook Ladies Guests at Legion

Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion met Monday evening in the Legion Hall. Mrs. A. Mason, president, was in the chair, and 60 members were present. Members of the Millbrook Auxiliary were guests for the evening.

A hand-made centrepiece donated by Mrs. J. Sanderson was raffled and the winner was Mrs. Blair of Millbrook.

Mrs. Mason was appointed to attend the welfare meetings at the Canadian Legion with the Men's Branch. Final arrangements were made for the picnic being held at Mrs. H. Dodd's residence on June 15. It was decided that meetings would not be held during the summer months.

Mrs. T. Sarginson, visiting convener, reported ten cards, one lot of flowers and 36 calls made during the month. Mrs. A. Gynane gave interesting report of Local Council of Women.

A social half-hour followed the meeting with Mrs. George Dormer in charge of refreshments.

CWL Essay Contest Winners Decided

Annual essay contest sponsored by the Catholic Women's League met with general approval and response from pupils in the schools of Peterborough Diocese judging from the number of splendid essays submitted to Mrs. Gus Torpey, Convenor of Education.

Upon careful reading and consideration it was decided by the judges that the prizes should be awarded as follows: first prize in Grade IX to Mary Collins of Hastings; second prize in the same grade to Betty Szammers of St. Peter's School.

First prize in Grade VIII was awarded to Lewis Le Barr of Immaculate Conception School; second prize in the same grade to Margaret O'Keefe of St. Mary's School, Peterborough.

The prize winning pupils are invited to the C. W. L. Convention which is being held in Campbellford June 15. There, they will read their essays and receive the awards.

6—In Memoriams

DRUMMOND — In memory of Pte. Fred Drummond, who gave his life for his country June 7, 1944.
I often sit and think of him when I am all alone.
For memory is the only thing that grief can call its own
Like ivy on withered oak
When all other things decay
My love for him will still keep green
And never fade away.
—Ever remembered by mother Mrs John Phillips, Apsley, Ont.

FENN—In loving memory of ouf dear mother, who passed away June 7, 1945.
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear mother, how we think of you
Friends are friends if they are true
We lost our best friend when we lost you.
—Always remembered by daughter Margaret and son-in-law Lawrence Selli.

RONCO—In loving memory of a dear father, Joseph Ronco, who passed away June 7, 1931.
We cannot clasp your hand, father dear;
Your face we cannot see;
But let this little token
Tell that we still remember thee.
— Ever remembered by daughter Lucy and son-in-law George.

ROWNTREE—In loving memory of our dear son Charles Rowntree, who passed away June 7, 1939.
Oh, what would I give to clasp your hand,
Your dear kind face to see
Your loving smile, your welcome voice
That meant so much to me.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have such
Can tell of the grief that borne in silence
For the one I love so well.
